THEIR EXCELLENCIES,

The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, in buying bicycles for their private use, selected the superb Red Bird in preference to all other makes of Canadian or American wheels offered. The Red Bird's beautiful rich color; its excellent finish; its wonderfully easy running qualities and its being of purely Canadian manufacture were all points in its favor. The Red Bird is high grade even to the smallest details, and is the wheel that runs easiest and lasts longest with the smallest outlay for repairs. A post card, giving your address, will bring our handsome '97 Catalogue.

HOW SOME OF THE NEWSPAPER SLEUTHS MAKE A PAPER.

"Copy" Which Is Not Marred by the Drawing of the Veil of Humanity—How the Weakness of Human Nature Furnishes "Good Readin'."

The father died when the three daughters were twelve, fourteen, and sixteen years of age. The neighbors all bemoaned the fact that at least one of the daughters had not been a son. When one had the temerity to suggest this to the widow, she rose in wrath. Any one of her girls was worth two boys. She'd seen enough of mothers left with boys. Girls were good enough for her; and, anyway, she hoped she was Christian enough to bow to the will of God. The father had been a day-laborer, honest, industrious and sober. Bride and groom, they had come seventeen years before into those rooms, furnished by the savings of the bride—she had been a cook for several years—and the same rooms witnessed the funeral of the husband and father, a middle-aged man, quiet, with no cronies and few friends. The wife and mother was stunned by the blow. She had managed to live on her husband's earnings, but there were no savings. She must begin to work herself. The oldest daughter resented this. She would not have her mother work. She was a favorite in the shop where she had been employed for two years. She asked for a place for her sister, and got it. In a month's time there was an increase in her own wages, and the first ray of light came into the darkened home. The wages of the two girls would keep the home. The black dresses would last some time.

At the end of two years the elder daughter was made forewoman at $10 a week, and her first thought was to keep her younger sister in school another year. She was a member of a working-girls' club, and she had learned much of the value of education in the business world, as well as of its pleasures.

The mother's head was held high as she told of her daughter's advance, and increase of wages. There was a fine scorn in her voice as she asked her neighbors to show her a son in the neighborhood earning $10 a week steady at twenty. The forewoman felt her superiority, and the young men, who were free and careless with the other girls, soon learned that they were objects of interest to this, to them, "new woman." This atmosphere of superiority seemed to envelop the whole family, and they were thought proud. The "little one," as she was called, was kept at the Sisters' school, and proved a bright, attractive pupil. Stern were the older sisters if she did not give her evenings to "her books." The mother, to whom she was always a baby, gave her liberties the older ones never had, and this was the bone of contention. The "little one" grew restless. One by one the girls she knew had gone to work, and were independent. "Katy had no education, and still she was earning $10 a week," was the "little one's" argument against education. The "little one" at last did not appear one afternoon after school. At half-past six she appeared and announced that she had a place at $3 a week. The defiant toss of her head, the light of rebellion in her eyes, told Katy that her ideal for this young sister would never be realized. The "little one" was the product of her environment. She had got her "place" through a neighbor's daughter, and it was about as good as a girl of her age could expect to get. When the busy season began, Katy would get a place for the "little one" with her, and the three could go to and from work together. The "little one" refused to leave her place when the busy season with Katy began. "Katy bossed her too much," was the reason she gave her mother, and the tears in the "little one's" eyes brought the mother to her side. Two years went by. The "little one" had engagements for nearly every evening. She was clever with her fingers, and the hats and waists she made were marvels to her mates. Her laugh was the gayest, and the home was a meeting-place for the "little one's" friends; they were always welcome. But suddenly a frightened look crept into the "little one's" eyes. She never laughed, and when she smiled it went to her mother's heart like a knife, there was such sadness in the smile.

It was late November. The older girls were at home. The table was ready, but the "little one," who was always home first, did not come. Katy put on her hat and went to the neighbor's whose daughter was the "little one's" chum. She was too clever to ask about the "little one." There had been a dread in her heart for weeks. She made her call, and was met by the question, "What's the matter with the "little one"? Why is she not at work?" Katy never knew how she got out; she only knew she had not betrayed the "little one." She looked the door when she got home. That night three ashen faced women sat beside the stove. The light was put out at the usual time. They were very shrewd. Sunday, the next day, they went to early mass, meeting questions about the "little one" by answering that she was better. Monday morning glaring headlines faced Katy as she purchased her usual penny paper at the ferry. A young girl, who refused to give her name, had died, at one of the hospitals. No means of identification. Her hair had recently been cut off close. The body was at the morgue. Yes, Katy worked all day. Her sister had been left at home to protect the mother from visitors. To the neighbors the "little one" was ill with a cold.

That night two young women, closely veiled, went to the morgue to see the body of the unknown girl. They knew her, for one of them cried out when she saw the body. The two stood a short time, and then went out to confer. One of them came back to say they knew the girl, and wanted "to bury her decent." An undertaker would come in the morning and take charge of the body. They would not come. Into the night went the two sisters. It was after midnight when they opened the door of their home. A broken-down old woman, with gray hair hanging down her face, met them. Her hands were raised in protest against the story she saw in their faces. They knelt beside her, and in whispers broken by sobs the story was told. The "little one" was dead, and who destroyed her would never be known. She had tried to hide it, and died. Yes, her hair was gone. Probably she sold it to help herself in her trouble. How secretive and shrewd did this group of innocent women become! Their lives had been as open as the day, but they could lie without changing color to protect the family name. The question as to how they should explain the "little one's" continued absence did not occur to them. They thought only of to day. The mother, in her simple black bonnet and shawl wrapped about her shoulders, sat holding fast to the rocker in the early gray dawn. Her eyes were fixed on the gray sky. She was glad the sun would not shine that cruel day. Katy, with her gay Sunday hat, and the sister, dressed as if for an outing, knocked at the neighbor's door and announced that the "little one" was sleeping. They were going out to get mother a cloak; would the neighbor listen if the "little one" called?—and then they looked the door lest the neighbor should be moved to enter without being called. The three women took the car that went to the shopping district; they changed, and took the car to the suburbs. At the gate of the cemetery stood an empty carriage. Stumbling and moaning, the old mother was helped in. She realized at last what had come to the "little one." They sat an hour with the curtains drawn. In the warm office stood a young man, very wide-awake and energetic. He was well booted and gloved, and bore the evidences of refinement.

At last there appeared a hearse without any carriages. Katy saw it, got out, and motioned to the man on the box. There was a heartrending groan as the door of the carriage was closed and it followed after the hearse. Slowly the little procession wended its way to the place where the cheapest graves are. Not far behind walked the alert young man, with an expression of triumph, success, in his face. The hearse stopped near an open grave. Two girls helped out a heart-broken mother, and they stood while the grave was filled. The young man stood not far away on a knoll. He had a very good position for his purpose. He could see every movement and hear every sob. The three entered the carriage, left it at the entrance, and returned by the street cars to their home. The alert young man sat in the same car, changed when the mother and sisters did. When they entered their home he followed, lest he should make a mistake in the number of flights of stairs they lived above the street. As he left the house he carefully noted the number. The woman who kept the grocery store next door, in great innocence, gave him the name of the family on the fourth floor, and wondered who the fine young man was who asked so many questions. "Shure, was Katy to be given a bigger job? She deserved it. She's a fine girl."

The evening edition came out in triumph:

THE UNKNOWN GIRL FULLY IDENTIFIED.

Followed to the Grave by Her Mother and Sisters.

Great is the triumph of modern journalism! The neighbors came, white of face and gentle of manner. "God comfort you." The blow has fallen. They had not saved the "little one's" name. A week later the home of twenty years was empty. They would hide their shame among strangers. Katy and her sister were crucified daily. The looks of pity, the whisperings among the girls, they could not endure. They gave up their work. For weeks they walked the streets. The three rooms were given up, and they moved into one. Even this they could not support. The mother began to wash for her neighbors. Katy walked with bowed head, all the old pride and fire of ambition quenched; and the family that represented the aristocracy of the poor sank to the level of the poor's poor.

Never mind; the blackened record of their family life had filled half a page in a penny journal, developed by the civilization of the nineteenth century.—Newspaperdom.

An Essential to Success for Eggs.

Green bones are rich in nitrogen and serve as food. When a bone contains a large share of adhering meat it is all the more valuable. Bones serve several purposes when used for poultry. Being phosphate of lime, they are capable of being digested, which is not the case with oyster shells and grit; and they supply the birds with elements that may be lacking in the food. They also assist in grinding the food, taking the place of grit, and are readily accepted by all classes of poultry. In fact, it is safe to claim that there is nothing that can be used as egg-producing food which serves the purpose so well as green bone, its combination of qualities, nitrogen, lime for egg-shells, cost and adaptation to all fowls and all ages—give it a place even higher than meat, which contains nitrogen, but no lime or other mineral matter.

Teasing Young Animals.

Do not allow the boys to tease the young animals on the farm. It is very funny to see the "babies" strike with their front feet or playfully butt with their tender horns, but this habit once learned means a love for it. Soon the animal learns its own strength and then some day there is a tragedy on the farm. Once let the teasing start and the boys will not be disposed to stop.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

CHIEF NEWS OF THE DAY IN BRIEF FORM.

Summary of Important Happenings Throughout the World.

Sir William Van Horne has learned to ride the bicycle.

Senator Berchard died in Montreal of a complication of diseases.

W. J. Reid & Co.'s Crystal Hall at London was partly burned. The loss is heavy.

Sarah Johns Young-Morrison was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at London for bigamy.

Mr. Geo. Hume's safe was blown open by cracksmen at Milton. The night watchman exchanged shots with one of the unwelcome visitors.

The spinners at the Canadian Coloured Cotton Mills at Cornwall struck against a reduction of wages, and the mills were closed, throwing 700 or 800 hands out of work.

For Colchester county, N. S., yesterday, Mr. Firman McClure, Liberal, and Dr. D. H. Muir, Conservative, were nominated for the House of Commons.

Mr. Davin proposes, when the Franchise bill reaches the committee stage, to move an amendment that will within certain limits confer the franchise upon women.

An elderly couple named Sivois, hailing from Cornwall, were both asphyxiated by gas at 220 Parliament street, Toronto, yesterday. There is little hope for their recovery.

Diplomatic notes are passing between London and Washington with reference to the Behring's sea fisheries, and a difficulty is threatening as serious as the Venezuelan affair.

Owing to the absence of Sir Donald Smith from London, Mr. Joseph C. Colmer yesterday read the High Commissioner's paper on Western Canada before the Royal Colonial Institute.

Mr. Charles R. Devlin, the newly appointed immigration agent to Ireland, has returned to Ottawa, from his trip to the Pacific coast, and left yesterday for the Old Country.

Out of the 85 applications for private bills before the Dominion House of Commons, there have so far been only 50 in the form of petitions, so the time for presenting the same has been extended to the 22rd inst.

It is probable that the Dominion Government will shortly give instructions to its agents in England to see that the children sent out to this country are not the dregs of the criminal classes or otherwise undesirable.

A cablegram from London states that while Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick suffered a slight relapse since his departure from Brighton, he has since improved, and it is his intention to return home by the White Star Line steamer Majestic.

It is stated that the powers are suggesting the simultaneous evacuation of Crete by the Turks and Greeks, and autonomy for the island, and permission to elect their own governor. It is feared that affairs have reached such a stage that the suggestion comes too late.

The United States Senate has confirmed the nominations of Fred. F. Buck, of Georgia, to be Minister to Japan, and James Boyle, of Ohio, to be Consul at Liverpool.

The report of the penitentiary investigating commission has been transmitted to the Minister of Justice. It is stated that one result of the investigation will be a thorough shaking up of the staff.

It is semi-officially stated that all coercion of Greece upon the part of the powers will cease so soon as war is declared, because otherwise it would bear the character of pro-Turkish intervention.

A deputation waited yesterday upon Premier Laurier and the Minister of Justice, asking them to amend the Criminal Code so as to raise the age of consent from sixteen to eighteen years, and that the exemption age of the seducer be reduced from twenty-one to eighteen years.

The Ontario Legislature prorogued yesterday afternoon. Sir Casimir Gzowski, Acting Administrator, in the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, officiated. In the speech from the throne reference was made to the loyal and patriotic resolution recently passed by the House in connection with the approaching celebration of the long reign of her Majesty the Queen.

Mr. Wallace Thayer, of Buffalo, has consented to the extradition of Mrs. Sternaman, charged with poisoning her husband, if her trial is set down for the May Assizes. Mr. Cartwright, Deputy Minister of Justice, says that he will endeavour to have the trial take place at the next assizes; but he thinks that, following the ruling of Judge Ferguson in the Hyams case, a United States counsel will not be allowed to appear in the Canadian court.

Mr. Lount, M. P., has received a letter from Sir Oliver Mowat stating that his application for the suppression of the Massachusetts Benefit Insurance Association cannot be granted under the law as it exists.

Truth says:—"It is doubtful if Lord Salisbury's health will permit him to retain the posts of Premier and Secretary of State for Foreign affairs. Under these circumstances many Unionists are suggesting Lord Rosebery as Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs."

The question of military representation at the Diamond Jubilee celebration in London was discussed in the House of Commons, and Sir Richard Cartwright intimated that the Government would provide for a suitable force being sent over. Until the negotiations with the Imperial authorities are completed it is impossible to say what number of men will be sent.

OUR TRADE IN TELEGRAPH POLES.

The New Dingley Tariff Will Kill Lucrative Industry.

There is reason to fear that the 20 per cent. duty imposed on telegraph poles by the new Dingley tariff will deprive the people of this district, and of the whole north country of a very lucrative industry.

H. D. McCaffrey, & Co., of Oswego, N.Y., have for years purchased large quantities of poles in Peterborough, Victoria, Hastings, Haliburton, Muskoka and Parry Sound districts, to fill his American contracts, and the number exported has ranged from 50,000 to as high as 80,000 yearly, at an average cost of $3 each.

It it needless to dwell upon the value of such an industry to our settlers—its loss would prove a serious blow, as hundreds of men are employed getting out the poles during the winter months, in this district alone.

Mr. McCaffrey visited Orillia last week and discussed the situation with several of his agents. He informed them that he contemplated retaining his stock of poles in Michigan hereafter, and they are to be in readiness to remove there on short notice. Mr. McCaffrey was lately given a contract to supply the poles and equipment for a section of the Erie canal trolley system at $225,000, and was also the successful tenderer for the work of deepening the locks in the city of Oswego, at the figure of $425,000, the State having set apart $9,000,000 to deepen the entire Erie canal.

Nervous

People find just the help they so much need, in Hood's Sarsaparilla. It furnishes the desired strength by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood, and thus builds up the nerves, tones the stomach and regulates the whole system. Read this:

"I want to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health ran down, and I had the grip. After that, my heart and nervous system were badly affected, so that I could not do my own work. Our physician gave me some help, but did not cure. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon I could do all my own housework. I have taken Hood's Pills with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and they have done me much good. I will not be without them. I have taken 12 bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and through the blessing of God, it has cured me. I worked as hard as ever the past summer, and I am thankful to say I am well. Hood's Pills when taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla help very much." MRS. M. M. MESSENGER, Freehold, Penn.

Cured

THE VETERANS OF 1866.

A Plea for Recognition of Their Services.

The Globe of Tuesday says:

The approaching jubilee of her Majesty, which coincides with the completion of the thirtieth year of Canadian Confederation, is marked by the survivors of a noteworthy and creditable episode in Canadian history by a request for a measure of recognition and justice. The veterans of '66 are asking that the services they rendered with toil and shedding of blood to the welding of the Canadian colonies into a Canadian Dominion should, after years of silence, be rewarded by some measure of public recognition tangibly expressed.

The services of these men are well worth the graceful recognition of a medal. The gallantry of our citizen soldiery in the sixties is deserving of greater attention than has yet been vouchsafed it. In the long years of profound peace which proceeded the Crimean war the militia decayed; for a utilitarian people thought there was no use for a force which would never be needed; and those were the days of high hopes of universal peace, and they had small desire for fine uniforms and fine feathers. But when the complexion of international politics grew dark the readiness to prepare for trouble grew with the danger of it, and when a war cloud of most ominous proportions threatened our borders a peace-loving but high-spirited people rushed to arms—rather punning by their zeal the old-line professional soldiers who were responsible for the defence of the country. And when in 1866 the country was actually invaded by a force composed of veterans of the civil war of the United States, the townsmen of Toronto and Hamilton, badly handled from a strategical standpoint by the professional soldiers who commanded them, and thrown into action under inexperienced leadership, yet fought with a disciplined regularity which caused the Fenians to mistake them for British regulars, and retreated only when definitely ordered so to do. Canadians have no reason to be ashamed of these men, who rushed with splendid readiness to the front, and demeaned themselves well on the field.

It would be a graceful act to grant to the survivors of that time, as well as of the creditable and hard-working Red River expedition and the abortive Fenian raid of 1870, some public recognition of their services. It would well mark a definite period in the history of Canada, and would befit the character of the Imperial festival which we soon will be celebrating.

[It is often lost sight of that the Fenian invasion was a hostile protest against the act of Confederation, which, even by the enemies of Great Britain, was recognized as a closening of the relations and a strengthening of the ties that bound the great colony of Canada to the Empire. But for the splendid alacrity with which the volunteers took the field, and put a quietus to the invasion, that invasion might have had more serious consequences—a little encouragement at the outset instead of a repulse, would have encouraged the filibusters—a filibustering parody of Falstaff's ragged regiment—might have been followed by an organized army, and in all probability we should not, as we shall do next Dominion Day, have been celebrating the thirtieth birthday of our Dominion. A recognition, such as the Globe pleads for, is not only well deserved, but it will also serve to revive recollections of the magnificent manner in which the whole volunteer force practically sprang to arms. Within a dozen hours of the news of the shooting of the enemy at Fort Erie in June, 1866, thousands of our volunteers were ready to go to the front, and could have been sent if their services had been required. A member of the local Veterans' association remembers an incident illustrative of the spirit of the members of the class in the military school, Toronto held at that time on the grounds of the present vice regal residence. The class of some fifty was paraded in single file, and the officer in charge asked all who were willing to go to the front to take one pace forward. The whole of the "thin red line" advanced as one. This illustrates the spirit that animated the whole of the volunteer force, and while those who were so fortunate as to be called upon for active service deserve specific recognition, yet it is grateful to remember that those who were not called upon to go to the field were as willing as those who went—their feeling was one of excusable envy of the good luck of their comrades who were selected to meet the enemy. Of all the skilled arms and forces that guard the integrity of the Empire, none are more willing or more efficient and reliable than the volunteers of Canada. And we feel sure that the claims of the veterans to formal recognition have only to be brought to the attention of the Canadian military authorities and of her Majesty to be promptly acknowledged.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE monument to Mackenzie is, says the Montreal Star, a late recognition of one of Canada's greatest men.

YESTERDAY was nomination day in the Nova Scotia general provincial elections. Polling takes place a week from that date, April 20th. It is probable that the Liberal party will be successful. Mr. Stairs is the new leader of the Opposition, appointed by Sir Charles Tupper to bring Nova Scotia back to the fold of Conservatism. But his chances of success in the pending contest are exceedingly problematic.

COMPLAINTS are frequently made of the expensive character of our public school instruction. These complaints, it would seem, are made for political purposes, chiefly, because they are not justified by facts. The cost of education per pupil in the city of Toronto is far less than any city of the United States of the same size. The cost per pupil per head in Toronto is $12.62, and the average in twenty-one cities of the United States is over $20.

RENEWED HEALTH.

EASILY OBTAINED BY THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Grateful Letters from all Parts of the Dominion Testify to their Wonderful Power—As a Spring Medicine they Surpass all Others.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done more to alleviate suffering than any other medicine yet discovered. They have effected cures in hundreds of cases pronounced incurable by physicians, and they have brought rejoicing into the homes of thousands throughout the Dominion. Among those who speak of this wonderful medicine in terms of gratitude is Mr. Lemuel McCready of Shannon, N. B. He says: "A year ago I was taken with a pain in my hip, which gradually worked down to my knee where it settled. At first I thought it an attack of rheumatism and treated it with the medicine ordinarily used for that trouble, but with no benefit. The knee began to swell and the pain became excruciating. I wasted away to a mere shadow, and was no better than a cripple. I then consulted a physician, but got no relief. Then I went to an hospital at St. John. The physician who examined me there said my trouble was consumption of the blood, and that it might be necessary to amputate my leg. Thoroughly disgusted, I returned home. Then my mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using two or three boxes I found the pain greatly diminishing, and by the time I had taken seven boxes, the limb had regained its normal condition, the pain had all disappeared, I had gained greatly in flesh and was as well as ever I had been in my life. I feel very grateful for I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved me from a life of helplessness.

It is such wonderful cures as Mr. McCready's that has given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills their great reputation and made them the favourite medicine in thousands of families throughout the land. They are especially intended for purifying the blood and strengthening the nerves, and at this season of the year, when most people are feeling languid as the result of close confinement during the winter months, a couple of boxes of Pink Pills will give renewed life and energy. Do not be persuaded to take any of the numerous pink coloured imitations, which some dealers, whose only thought is their own profit, try to impose upon the public. If your dealer will not give you the genuine Dr. Williams Pink Pills they will be sent post paid at 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. As a spring medicine a half dozen boxes will serve a whole family.

LET'S LIVE LONGER!

Why Die a Lingering Death of Direful Diabetes?

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE IT

Other Medicines Never Touch it—But Dodd's Pills Infallibly Cure—Expelling Poison and Pain—Preserving Sugar and Strength—Don't Die; Get Well.

Who would not live longer if he could? Many men shorten their lives by overindulgence in food and drink than ever die from starvation. Health can be maintained by eating and drinking just what is good for us—no more or less.

But most of us don't do that.

In health the body expels what it doesn't require, and retains what it needs. In disease either the body doesn't expel the poison or it does not retain what is needed to nourish it. In the disease called Diabetes the kidneys expel sugar. Its presence can be detected in the urine. The body needs sugar. In DIABETES the sufferer dies a lingering death.

Until recently DIABETES was supposed to be incurable. The science of to-day says that DIABETES may be cured. The kidneys may be restored to healthy action. Sugar may be retained in the system. Instead of filtering out the good that is in the food the kidneys may be made to filter out the poison.

With Poison goes Pain. With Sugar stays Strength.

DIABETES disappears like magic before DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. Other medicines never touch it. That's the difference. If you have DIABETES get cured quickly. Don't bother with medicines that do not cure. Many will stand up to be counted among those who have been cured of DIABETES by taking DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Fred Stokes, Barrie, Ont., says:—"I have been promptly restored to health by a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Diabetes had reduced my weight forty-five pounds, which I have regained."

Mr. D. Roblin, Bandmaster, Allandale, Ont., says:—"Could for years get no relief for Diabetes, which it seemed would end my days. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney have cured me."

Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Port Hope, Ont., says:—For ten years a victim of Diabetes. Suffered fearfully, especially in passing water. My cure has resulted from taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. James K. Nesbitt, county constable, Stayner, Ont., says:—Becoming aware of the fact that I was a victim of Diabetes, I resorted to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I commenced to get well with the first box and am perfectly cured."

Doan's! Doan's! Doan's!

Doan's Kidney Pills cure headache, weak back, rheumatism, diabetes, Bright's disease, dizziness, sleeplessness and all kidney, bladder and urinary difficulties. Price 50c. per box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price by T. Milburn & Co., Toronto.

Mrs. T S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 289 George Street.

SILKS WILL PREVAIL.

THE SHIMMERING DISPLAY THAT IS TO BE MADE THIS SPRING.

The Effects in Fancy Weaves and a Multitudinous Variety in Colors That Will be Chosen From—Edgings and Laces For Silks.

(Special Correspondence.)

Toronto, (Special).—This spring is to be a distinctive season of silks—so says fashion.

The shops are full of shimmering silken fabrics of wonderful weaves and brilliant hues, which are soon to be so alluringly displayed as to tempt the most conservative possessor of purse-strings. The feminine phrase, "perfectly lovely," will be inadequate to express the admiring emotions of the fair purchaser when she goes shopping this season.

"Since the great horse show in New York city, which shapes the fashions in America, as the Grand Prix of Paris does in Europe," said a silk importer, "it is a settled fact that silks of all sorts will reign supreme this spring and summer."

NEW TRANSPARENT SILK EFFECT.

The silk designer of to-day is a real genius. Sometimes he toils ceaselessly for months to secure a new and unique pattern to please the fancy of the fair connoisseur of silks. The silken threads are ingeniously woven to secure a delicate shading, an effective contrast of color, or a gorgeous design, with the painstaking inspiration that a painter bestows on his masterpiece. The resulting fabric is a piece of genuine art, considered from the highest point of view.

This peculiarly attractive artistic effect will predominate this season in silks. This week rare and original pieces, perfected at foreign looms by master workmen, will be exhibited for the first time in this city.

There are three "high novelties," so-called. The lace effect given to the silks is the distinctive feature. One is a fancy figured taffeta, with a net surface so woven as to give the desired effect of black La Tosca net over a silk ground. There is nothing so elegant as the handsome laces made up over brilliant silks, but, unfortunately, the average woman cannot afford the necessary expenditure for two rich materials for one gown. However, a silk designer after three months' work has discovered how to give the effect of lace over silk in one fabric.

This same scheme is variously carried out, one being called the "land-and-water" effect. One piece, for instance, has the pieces of fine net so woven with colored blue taffeta as to give an elaborate brocade design. The net pieces which can be raised by the finger from the under surface of silk, are called "water," and the silk ground is the "land." Another variety of this effect is a flower figure of black net over the surface of pale-green silk.

For the ultra-fashionable with full purses comes an alluring array of transparencies to be made up over the separate silk lining. One of these novelties is the soufflche mousseline de soie, which is a fine black silk muslin with an exquisite tracery of corded silk, giving an elaborate embroidered effect.

In these soft effects there are innumerable black grenadines with open work and many colored figures, to be used for the most part over changeable taffetas in brilliant colors. For the same purpose plain taffetas and soft satins are in great demand as linings. Plain black grenadines are also to be used extensively over the bright silks.

There are many varieties of these lace-like grenadines. One in white with pale blue silk stripe, suitable for opera wear, is comparatively cheap. The grenadine glaces in green, navy blue, brown and black, are lace-like imitations of the moire velours. The pompador grenadines have the large, bright-colored figures in relief.

The woman who can afford only one silk gown and who wishes it to serve several purposes is sure to get a moire velour. This is the new fabric which has suddenly sprung into popular favor. It is entirely different from the moire or moire antique of former seasons, because of the distinct velvet effect given to the watered surface. The moire velour effects are endlessly used in silken fabrics from ribbons to goods for gowns. The plain effects are preferable for general wear, but the material comes in matted effects and even in checks. It also comes in delicate and gorgeous colorings.

It is extremely interesting to know how moire velour chanced to be "discovered." Not many months ago in a large silk manufactory a quantity of bengaline was being made into moire antique. This process requires dampening and then scraping. The goods had been dampened and stored in a basement when the floor above gave way, precipitating an enormous weight on the partially prepared moire antique. This great pressure gave to the goods that peculiar mirror effect of the moire velour in a crude form. Subsequent experiments evolved the velvety moire velour which every woman desires.

"Yes," answered a silk expert when asked if the tendency was not toward plain effects, "the plain peau de soie and grosgrains will be popular. The small figures over changeable grounds will be desirable for church wear. The more elaborate brocades in large figures are to be used mostly for elegant indoor wear.

"Stripes? They will be used, but are not as good as figures this season. Plaids and checks are always 'in,' particularly for summer shirt waists."

The colors this spring are gorgeous enough to satisfy the woman with a penchant for rare Oriental effects. There are three color families to predominate. One includes that series of shadings from dahlia to heliotrope of which the petunia shades are extremely fashionable. The greens come in soft and exquisite coloring. The last "family" includes the vivid geranium shades. At the same time black will hold its own, with its rich trimmings. Blues are strong in certain gray shades with greenish tinge.

After the more gorgeous Easter gown has had its day, then the shopper will turn her attention to China silks for the warm weather. The China silks are sensible and economical, and this season they promise to be more popular than ever. The new shades of groundwork, with figures in relief, will make up the novelties in this line. Printed foulards and pongees of all sorts will have a large following later in the season.

The trimmings for these beautiful fabrics form an interesting chapter. Most desirable for the full effects in front are the soft silken materials. The lace-like grenadines, previously described for entire gowns over a silk foundations, will be used widely as trimming on waists. The spangled nets, with scintillating colors, will continue to be popular. Beautiful embroidered mousseline also comes in brilliant effects for the same purpose.

Ribbons will be used both on skirts and waists. They are simply gorgeous in design and coloring this season. Everything conceivable in stripes, checks, mottled effects and geometric figures may be found on the ribbon counters.

The edgings for silk gowns are various. For grenadines there are narrow appliques in silk, which come in black, cream or mixed colors. They are suitable to finish the fashionable bolero, or to give prominence to some artistic outline. There are also narrow bands of bright jet more suitable for the soft mousselines.

As baldness makes one look prematurely old, so a full head of hair gives to mature life the appearance of youth. To secure this and prevent the former, Ayer's Hair Vigor is confidently recommended. Both ladies and gentlemen prefer it to any other dressing.

Live Stock Pointers.

A small amount of the right kind of food is better than too much inferior stuff.

The best means of obtaining a profit with any class of stock is to keep the best and keep it well.

If the farmer cannot afford to breed and raise pure-bred stock he can at least breed and raise good grades.

In order to push growths it is quite an item to teach the lambs to eat as early as possible and then feed them well.

The best feeding at all times is that which gives to each animal just what its system can best assimilate and make use of.

Clean up the hog pens, the horse and cattle stables and disinfect thoroughly with carbolic acid before the spring opens.

Pointers for Profit.

The cheapest feed is not that which costs the least, but rather that which in proportion to its cost gives the best results.

Early maturity is one of the best ways of lessening the cost of raising stock, and good feeding is an essential to early maturity.—Farmers' Union.

Caused a Sensation.

London, April 12.—The speech of the First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. Geo. J. Goschen, at the farewell banquet tendered on Saturday to Sir Alfred Milner, the newly-appointed High Commissioner of Great Britain in South Africa, has produced a great sensation and the imminence of war between Great Britain and the Transvaal is the common talk of the street.

Referring to the presence of British blue jackets and marines in South Africa, Mr. Goschen said: "They are there to represent to Sir Alfred Milner British power in South Africa. They are the guarantee to him and to our colonists, to the loyal men who support British rule, that this country is determined to maintain its supremacy in those quarters, and that it will back its High Commissioner with the power of the British Empire."

A despatch from Cape Town to-day confirms the report, apparently, of the despatch of a British war vessel to Delagoa Bay. The British warship Racoon sailed to-day from Cape Town under sealed orders. The officials there refuse to divulge her destination; but it is rumored she is bound for Delagoa Bay, and the report is generally believed.

It was semi-officially announced this afternoon that the British troops going to South Africa are merely intended to relieve the regiments already there, which are bound for home at the expiration of their terms of foreign service.

A Claim AND . . . . An Offer

WE CLAIM there is only one preparation in Canada to-day that is guaranteed to cure BRONCHITIS, and that is DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE. It is MOTHER'S cure for her child when it is all stuffed up with CROUP and coughing its little lungs out with WHOOPING COUGH. One small dose immediately stops that cough. By loosening the phlegm, puts the little one to sleep and rest. Dr. Chase compounded this valuable syrup so as to take away the unpleasant taste of turpentine and linseed. WE OFFER to refund the price if Dr. Chase's Syrup will not do all that it is claimed to do.

Easter Cards and Souvenirs.

Don't miss seeing the charming selections of Easter Cards, Booklets and Souvenirs at the Peterborough Bookstore—many things not to be found elsewhere. Easter books suitable for presentations in pretty and appropriate bindings. Glad to have you inspect all our Easter novelties.

A. H. STRATTON & Co.

"Twixt Love and Duty."

The Wilson Dramatic Company gave a fine presentation of "Twixt Love and Duty" at the Opera House last evening. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the audience was not as large as it would otherwise have been, but the manner in which the company presents the different plays on its repetoire is an advertisement which will doubtless pack the house to the doors during the rest of the week.

Rev. Father McColl's Lecture.

On Easter Monday evening, April 19th, the Catholic Association will hold an entertainment in their rooms, when Rev. Father McColl, of Eastmore, will deliver an address. An excellent musical programme will also be presented. Admission 10 cents. Chair to be taken at 8 o'clock by Mr. Daniel O'Connell, B.A.

A Successful Platform Orator.

Rev. J. J. Rae was in Belleville Monday, and delivered his popular lecture on "Mind your own business. The Belleville Intelligencer in commenting says: "The Peterborough divine has all the attributes necessary for a successful platform orator, being gifted with magnetism and a pleasing address. He has an apparently inexhaustible fund of anecdote, and moves his audience almost at will." The Sun comments thus: "Judging by the great attention with which the large number of citizens heard the lecture on "Mind your own business" by Rev. J. J. Rae, in Halloway street church last night, that gentleman is eminently a success as a public speaker. Although the subject was a rather difficult one, he showed himself to have fully mastered it, and presented his views with rare eloquence and skill."

Military Entertainment.

The military entertainment which will be held in the Opera House on Easter Monday evening, promises to be the most novel and interesting affair that will take place in the opera house this season. Sergt.-Major Morgans, of Kingston, will give exercises in swordmanship and fencing, together with his companion-in-arms, Sergt.-Major Boutellier, and a picked squad from the Battalion have prepared some interesting manoeuvres. An excellent musical programme will also be presented. The plan of seats will be open at Ormond & Walsh's drug store on Thursday morning.

Watkin Mills.

The Toledo Sunday Morning Courier of April 4th last says of Mr. Mills' singing at Westminster church: "In Oratorio, and a wonderful field it is, Watkin Mills is at his very best, and is par excellence an exponent of that peculiar school. The programme was by no means too long with Watkin Mills as singer. He is a great singer, thoroughly at home with his audience—the English baritone is a delightful entertainer, and the evening all was too short. Mr. Mills sings in Peterborough on the 21st inst. The subscription list is rapidly filling. The plan will be open to subscribers only at Ormond & Walsh's drug store on Monday, April 19th, at 10 o'clock, and on Tuesday to the public. Get your name now on the list and claim a good seat. Prices—50 and 75c.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S MUSEUM.

The Contribution of Mr. J. M. Irwin—An Example to Others.

J. M. Irwin, Esq., C.E., the well-known lumberman, who has left town to take up his residence at Rat Portage, has left a substantial remembrance of his long residence among us, at the Museum of the Historical Society, Inverlea. It is in the shape of a fine cabinet containing a large collection of specimens from the mineral world, which he has taken years to accumulate, together with pieces of Indian pottery, beads, etc., a collection of curious wood growths, a Japanese pipe, a stuffed eagle and deer's head and a fine ship's barometer and thermometer, which give a good start to the Museum, and furnishes an example which we trust will be followed in both a greater and lesser degree by those having articles of curiosity or historic interest.

A meeting of a committee of the Historical Society to arrange re Art Loan Exhibition will be held at the Huffman House to-night.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Both From the Same Township.

North Monaghan may not be a land flowing with milk and honey, but it is mighty in big beef. A paragraph appeared in the papers recording the fact that Mr. Geo. Webber had a big cow weighing 1,580 pounds, weighed on the market scales. This corpulent cow does not occupy her throne long. Mr. Jos. Barnard, of North Monaghan, trots out a cow that tips the scales at 1,700 pounds, sold to Mr. Conroy, town, showing that local butchers appreciate good beef.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. Wm. Hayden is around to-day saying good bye to the many friends which he has made during his residence in Peterborough. He leaves to-morrow to assume charge of the Grand Trunk depot at Waubashene, and says that the latch string will always be on the outside for his Peterborough friends. Mr. Frank Sandy, the new agent, took charge at the local station this morning.

Mr. Geo. Adam, of the Peterborough and Lakefield branch, spent Sunday in Lindsay, and attended a meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at which several matters of importance were discussed.

Mr. John O'Keefe, of the local night staff, says the Lindsay Post, went to Peterborough on Saturday, where he will fill the position of bridge-tender of the G.T.R. swing bridge over the Otonabee river.

Parliament will be asked to extend the time for the commencement and completion of the Lindsay, Haliburton and Mattawa R. R.

An equalization of power is being made on the G.T.R. All the heavy locomotives are being sent to run between here and York, where the grades are the heaviest. The lighter engines will run east of here. By this means a great deal of shunting will be avoided and much time saved.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Father McColl, of Douro, passed through yesterday on his way to Trenton, where his brother is seriously ill.

Dr. Kempt has returned home from New York, where he was undergoing a special treatment for his eyes. It is understood that he is considerably improved.

—The Rev. Mr. Backus, of Worth Co., Missouri, is willing to meet and discuss with anybody the question whether the world is round or flat, Mr. Backus taking the flat side.

—Tom Hooper makes a fine exhibition of the newest novelties in Easter confectionery. The designs of Easter eggs are very pretty, numerous and decidedly novel. See his catchy window display and bring the children with you.

—The English Canoe Company are loaded to the water-line with business at present. They have now over fifty orders ahead for canoes of various kinds, including large sizes of their celebrated war canoes. Put a spurt on, boys, and keep it going.

—They are looking for your spring millinery order at TURNBULL'S. They have all the latest shapes, abundance of trimmings and their hats are put together in the most artistic style.

—The Lindsay Post says: The Messrs. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, have nearly 300 million feet of lumber piled in their yards at Bobcaygeon. The $2 per 1,000 feet duty imposed by the United States therefore means a loss of almost $600,000 to the firm.

MR. A. W. PATTERSON CALLED AND PRESENTED WITH AN ADDRESS.

He is not Allowed to Leave Town Without Receiving Souvenirs of his Residence in Peterborough.

Mr. A. W. Patterson, Chief Inspector of the Canadian General Electric Works, who is about leaving town, was genuinely surprised last evening when waited upon at his residence by a deputation from the employees of the local works, and also by one from Court Langton, Canadian Order of Foresters, of which he was a member.

Mr. J. W. Kennedy read the following address from the employees:

Mr. A. W. Patterson,

Dear Sir and Fellow Employee.—It is with much regret that we have learned of your intended departure from among us. We feel that we sustain a very great loss because of the peculiar position you occupied in relation to each employee from the least to the greatest.

We understand in some small degree the difficult and tiring position of inspector-in-chief, and while you had the company's interests at heart, we have always felt that you were so ruled by every true man's rule of life—"do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

We have entertained no anxious fears as to your future welfare, but feel quite confident that your gentlemanly manner and rare mechanical capabilities assure you a brilliant future.

We ask you to accept this cane as a token of our very best wishes and our heartfelt appreciation of your genial disposition and manly dealing.

Signed on behalf of the employees,

D. N. Monroe,	E. Good,
C. B. Robertson,	Geo. Tovey,
L. E. Layfield,	W. S. Robinson,
W. H. Smith,	J. Reed,
A. J. Hamilton,	J. W. Kennedy,
	W. A. Brundett.

Mr. E. Good then stepped forward and presented Mr. Patterson with a handsome gold-headed cane.

Before the recipient had time to recover from his surprise, Mr. C. B. Robertson, voicing the sentiments of Court Langton, read another address from that body as appended:

A. W. Patterson, P.C.R.

Dear Sir and Brother.—On the occasion of your leaving Peterborough to seek your future amongst strangers, whom we hope you will find friends, we deem it a great pleasure to have an opportunity to show our appreciation of your efforts and help to us in the past years that you have been connected with Court Langton, No. 344 C.O.F.

It is, no doubt, needless to remind you that you are one of our charter members, and moreover have been elected to every office from junior beadle to chief ranger, and also have been our representative to the high court, and in all offices or positions of trust you have held, you have acted in a manly straightforward manner and have been to us a brother in the fullest possible sense of the word.

Brother, it is with great sorrow and pain that we say farewell to you, but we all feel we shall meet again, if not in our court, in the court above.

In conclusion, dear brother, we beg that you will accept this Past Chief Ranger's jewel. May you live long to wear this emblem of our noble order, and when you are many miles away, on two Tuesdays of the month it will remind you of your brethren assembled together in Liberty, Benevolence and Concord in Court Langton.

Signed on behalf of the members of Court Langton, No. 344.

John Sawyers, P.C.R.

H. E. Evans, P.C.R., Treas.
W. H. Leasor, P.C.R., J.B.
R. R. Hall, P.C.R.
A. H. Stratton, P.C.R.

W. H. Smith, S.R.
Dr. Greer, Phys.
A. J. Watt, P.C.
A. T. Dugan, T.P.C.
E. A. Kemp, D.D.H.C.R.

Mr. Patterson was then presented with a beautifully engraved Past Chief Ranger's jewel.

Mr. Patterson was completely taken by surprise and had great difficulty in finding words to express his thanks. He hinted in a good natured way that it was hard enough to part the pleasant associations he had formed without the "last straw" implied in the visit of the evening. Still he appreciated the spirit and said if he, like St. Paul, had "the tongue of men and angels" he could not adequately express his thanks.

After thanking the donors of the gift, Mr. Patterson pressed those present to remain and spend the evening, and several hours were passed very enjoyably, refreshments being served at the close.

Mr. Patterson has been a resident of Peterborough since the Electric Works were first erected, having been brought here from Sherbrooke, Que., at that time. His departure is sincerely regretted by the many friends whom he has formed.

The presents mentioned above were furnished by or through Mr. F. S. Schneider, jeweller.

Wedding Bells.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Last Wednesday night the residence of Mr. Christopher Coben was the scene of an interesting matrimonial event, when Mr. T. Petrie, of Otonabee was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Coben, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coben. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. McEwen, of Kinmount, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride. The bride was charmingly attired, wearing a long veil over a cream pongee silk, trimmed with ribbon and lace, and carried a bouquet of flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Emma Hendren, of Lakefield, was also becomingly dressed for the occasion. The groom was ably supported by Mr. H. Coben, brother of the bride. It may be stated here that both possess talents for music more than the ordinary, as Miss Coben very creditably performed the duties of organist for over three years in the Presbyterian church, Kinmount, while Mr. Petrie takes a leading part in St. Andrew's choir, Peterborough. After the ceremony the guests partook of an elaborate wedding breakfast. The bride was the recipient of a number of unusually beautiful and costly presents. The happy couple, who received the good wishes of a large circle of friends, left on the morning train for Peterborough. After taking dinner at the Huffman House, they proceeded to their residence in Otonabee. Mr. C. Crozier, of Otonabee, had the pleasure of being present on the occasion of the wedding of his neice, Miss L. Coben.

THE LATE GEORGE FITZGERALD.

Sad Death of a Son of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, C.E.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, C.E., this morning received the sad news of the death, at Hamilton, Montana, of his youngest son, Mr. George Fitzgerald, who passed away this morning in the twenty-third year of his age. The deceased, who went to the West four years ago, was a trusted employee in the Rivall Bank, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the proprietors to an unusual degree. His last illness was from inflammation of the lungs, and the disease did its deadly work in the space of six days. Dr. Geo. McGrath, a brother of Dr. McGrath, town, who is a practicing physician in Hamilton, faithfully attended Mr. Fitzgerald in his illness. The two were very intimate, having gone away from Peterborough together on May 2nd, 1896. Yesterday Dr. McGrath sent a telegram to Mr. Fitzgerald, apprising him of the extreme gravity of his companion's illness. Therefore the sad news of the death was not expected. The remains of the young man are to be brought to Peterborough for interment, but it is expected that it will be Saturday, or even Monday, before they arrive. Mr. Fitzgerald has the general sympathy of the public in the sad bereavement implied in the death of his son in the first flush of manhood, and with so prosperous and honoured a career before him.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1897.

A CLOSE CORPORATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR, — The admirable frankness of Juvenis is refreshing — without the signature one would know it was the complaint of a very young person, but from the boldness with which he claims the right to blow his whistle at nights after nine p. m., one would hardly think he went to the lake as one "worn to a shadow"—else he would, like the cottagers, appreciate his night's rest. He claims to be fond of music and he reminds us of the delightsomeness of music on the water at night—ah, me, that music on the water! The wild cry of the loon at night suggests the hopeless cry of a lost soul—but that music!—horns. Juvenis' whistles, screams and the din of irresponsible youths away from home and "dull routine"—these suggest the baying of the hounds of hell after that lost soul. No, the music Juvenis wants to render is not pleasant, and that is the music that is objected to.

My dear boy the lake is the Queen's highway and no one can prevent you or anyone else coming to it. It is indeed too beautiful a place to become private property. Come and bring your friends—and if you can arrange to bring with you some mature person to chaperon you, you will be more gratefully received—and if you can manage to beat your tom-toms in your mother's yard before coming, she can deal with you properly, and quieted, you will sleep more and feel more flesh on that poor shadow-worn body.

SENEX.

"JUVENIS" AND STONY LAKE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR,—If "Juvenis" is one of those who, according to his own choice way of putting it, knows no better than to expectorate on a gentleman's carpet, he may think it an "impertinence" for that gentleman to tell him not to enter the house again. If he is one of the friends whose idea of fun is to sleep during the day and to go about the lake after midnight, blowing horns and firing guns and screeching, he may think it an "impertinence" on the part of those whom he is insulting and annoying to try to put a stop to his "fun," he is welcome to his opinion.

If he is not a member of either of these two classes, what does he think he is writing about anyway?

THE NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION MEETS.

PAPERS CONTRIBUTED BY J. H. BURNHAM AND MR. SORSOLEIL.

Instructive Papers on "The Dawn of Life" and The "Otonabee Snake Mound" as Investigated by Mr. David Boyle Last Summer.

The members of the Natural Science Association had the pleasure last evening of listening to two deeply interesting papers, as read by Mr. J. H. Burnham and Mr. Sorsoleil. Mr. Burnham's paper was as appended:

The establishment of the Eozoon Canadense as the representave up to the present of the dawn-era of animal life has not been accomplished without much scientific and other controversy, nor has any single incident tended more to the development of the natural sciences, excepting chemistry, during the last half century. When you asked me, therefore, to contribute to your programme I could not think of any subject with which I was at all acquainted, more discussed, and more open to discussion, than the position in the material world of this relic of geologic time. That this fossil should have been found in Canada, and by the scientists of Canada first placed in its true light before the world, is to Canadians not an uninteresting feature of its history.

The oldest strata are known as Laurentian and are so known from the fact that Sir William Logan applied that name to them. He borrowed it from the name of the mountain ridge called the Laurentides which lies northward from the St. Lawrence river, and in which there are various outcrops of this ancient formation. The shrinkage or folding of the earth's surface, has brought these lower strata to the top, where they have burst into view, and thus we find exposed what otherwise would have remained an impenetrable secret beneath the earth's crust. The Laurentian formation in Canada extends northward from the St. Lawrence into Labrador, and thence across to Hudson's Bay, and on up to the Arctic regions. The highland surface, except in spots, is covered by immense forests. Along the river bottoms there is a fertile soil. "All the conditions of the Laurentian series are in that state known to geologists," says Sir William Dawson, "as metamorphic. They were once sandstones, clays and limestones, such as the sea now deposits, or such as form the common plebeian rocks of everyday plains and hills and coast sections. Being extremely old, however, they have been buried deep in the under the newer deposits are hardened by the action of pressure and of heat and heated water." There is some doubt as to the degree of heat referred to as the researches of chemico geologists show that many of the changes undergone did not require very great heat. Then on the other hand it is difficult to say how much of this early formation and exposure is due purely to volcanic action. It is known, however, from observations that are quite within the limits of scientific accuracy that the Laurentian formation of which we are speaking is the most ancient of deposits. At the time of the depositing of the Laurentian sediment the conditions of temperature and change were such as to lead scientists to suppose that no living thing existed. But the fact that part of the composition of the Laurentian formation is limestone, led some scientists to expect that it would contain some trace of animal remains, if any then existed. Then again the fixing of carbon, showed the presence of vegetation. The science of sea-shells had in the meantime so greatly advanced that the coming discovery of eozoon was well provided for. Otherwise the first specimen of the eozoon would have passed unnoticed. This first specimen was found at Burgess in Ontario, by Dr. Wilson, of Perth, who sent it to Sir Wm. Logan as a mineral specimen. This was in the 50's. "Their chief interest," as Sir Wm. Dawson says, "lay in the fact that certain laminae of a dark green mineral present in the specimens were found on analysis to be composed of a new hydrous silicate." The organic origin was not suspected. Then specimens differently mineralised were found in the limestone at Calumet, on the Ottawa. "These," says Sir Wm. D, "seem to have once struck Sir Wm. L. as resembling the silurian fossils known as stomatopora." Now it will be observed that these two different specimens (Burgess and Calumet) were alike in form but mineralised in a different way. Hence they could hardly be mineral throughout. The microscope however revealed no recognizable organic structure, though it gave rise to suspicions. At this time Sir Wm. Dawson suggested that though in the slices before examined no structure was apparent still, his impression was that the calcareous matter was the fossil and the serpentine or loganite the filling.

NEW AND BETTER SPECIMENS

were procured, and Sir Wm. D. put them under the microscope. "I was delighted," he says, "to find in one of the first specimens examined a beautiful group of tubuli penetrating one of the calcite layers. Here was evidence not only that the calcite layers represented the true skeleton of the fossil, but also its affinities with the foraminifera. The next step was to get specimens of Primordial or Silurian limestone and of Serpentine marbles. These were examined in all kinds of light, and the chemical investigation carried on by Dr. Sterry Hunt, the well-known chemist of Montreal. The result was a firm conviction of the organic nature of the Eozoon, and that the supposed Azoic rocks had once contained life.

Leaving the strictly zoological part of the work to Dr. Dawson, Dr. Hunt dealt with the chemical and mineralogical objections to the correctness of the organic contention. The chief objection to the view that the find was a foraminiferal organism, having a calcareous skeleton with serpentine alleged to have taken the place of the sarcode, is not any such filling in, but is due to the "eroslon and incomplete waste of the serpentine, the definite shapes being residual portions of the solid that have not completely disappeared." Then further the skeleton itself is called a pseudo-morphic replacement of calcite taking the place of the wasted and eroded serpentine. One can hardly realise that this was the most formidable of the objections raised to Dr. Dawson's find, but so it was. But the uniformity of organic appearance is too great in different specimens to admit of the pseudo-morphic theory. The skeleton bears all the traces of a true skeleton. It is, of course, a scientific fact that carbonate of lime exists independently of animal life, and not as the necessary result of it; but that does not interfere with the plain incident to the Eozoic specimens. Then again it must be taken into account that vast beds of crushed and broken skeletons have been found with no such infiltrated preservative as serpentine, simply because the Eozoon had builded where no serpentine was.

This removed, then, the beginning of animal life immeasurably far back. The advocates of Eozoon did not, however, rest here. Further specimens were found in dark micaceous limestone. Additional evidence of a cognate kind effectually disposed of the supposed Azoic nature of the Laurentian formation. Other fragments of a foraminiferal character, worm-burrows and the above-mentioned accumulations of carbon united in strong testimony. Thus the possible antiquity of the primordial age is proved to be vastly greater than supposed. The structure of this membe of the Protozoa is as follows:—The skeleton is represented by white crystalline marble and the cavities of the cells by green serpentine: "The lowest layer of serpetine represents the first gelatinous coat of animal matter," which grew upon the sea-bottom, resembling in its slimy nature the ordinary amoebic forms but, extending apparently to an indefinite size. "On this primary layer grew a delicate calcareous shell" full of small tululi and large pores. This shell was supported by small pillars. Upon this was built up another layer of skeleton but of closer formation, with numerous internal canals for the dissemination of sarcode. Sometimes as many as a hundred of these layers were formed, until the top layer became very thin and full of chambers. From these chambers reproductive material emitted and gave birth to new Eozoa. "Such creatures," Dawson says, "may be regarded as the simplest and most ready media for the conversion of vegetable matter and their functions are almost entirely limited to those of nutrition." It will be noticed from the description of the structure and development that the Eozoon differs from the coral in that the latter rises indefinitely upon its own dead forms, whilst the Eozoon has a limited growth, both, however, performing analagous offices. One of the objections to the organic nature of this Eozoic creature still remaining was the idea that organisms cannot be preserved in metamorphic rocks. This objection, however, is easily disposed of from observations which show that organic structures are preservable under severe chemical changes. Without the Eozoic foraminifer life must have been introduced on the earth already in a somewhat complex form, but with it the graduation which we have seen in later periods is preserved down to the beginning. The lamination of Eozoon is unlike that of rock formation anywhere, and is strictly analogous to Stromotopora. The system of canals is very apparent and of all mineralogical in character. One point of stratic character considered by many scientists as fatal to objections to the organic nature of the Eozoon is that on a crystalline basis it it is impossible to account for the alternating layers of carbonate of lime and other minerals. Then, again, the concrete nature of minerals built up as they are by mere additions is quite different from that of the Eozoon. It may be explained that many of the objectors were not skilled microscopists, and at first did not see all that Dawson saw. Subsequent discoveries of the same kind were made in the same formation of the Adirondacks. The latest objection that I have seen is in Nature of May 23rd, 1895, and made by Dr. Gregory and Prof. Davis, who deal with ejected blocks of Eozoonal structure from Mount Somma. To this statement, Dawson replies that these finds resemble in no respect, either in association or mode of occurrence, the Eozoon found in the Laurentian limestone of Canada. The weight of authority seems to be largely in favour of the organic character of the find.

Mr. Sorsoleil's paper was on the subject of the Otonabee Snake Mound, being an interesting digest of the result of Mr. David Boyle's researches along the shores of Rice Lake.

HARVEY

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Owing to bad roads Rev. Mr. McKnight, who has been giving very acceptable ministerial services in the school house at Nogie's creek, has not been able to continue them. But when settled weather comes services will be resumed and regularly conducted.

There will be a tea meeting held in the Nogies' creek Methodist church on Thursday evening for the purpose of raising money for cleansing and lighting fires. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

Mr. Jas. Richmond has completed assessing the township.

Reeve Shearer and County Councillor Shew have returned from Ottawa, and report success in their efforts for another appropriation for Trent Valley Canal extension.

Your correspondent, whilst passing through Lakefield, noticed that the contractors had resumed work on the canal with a small force of men cleaning up. Next week they will put on a full force, when they start to blast again.

Mr. Thos. Gordon is slowly recovering from his illness. We all hope that he may soon be fully restored to health.

Dundas & Flavelle, of Lindsay, have a gang of men down on Squaw river taking out their drives. This, with the Rathbun drive, will make considerable work for those who follow driving.

We have this week to chronicle the death of one of our old neighbours at Lakefield, Mr. W. Crowe. He has been ailing for some years, and passed quietly away at his residence at Lakefield. The funeral took place on Friday to the Lakefield cemetery. Mrs. Crowe has the sincere sympathy of all her old friends in her severe trial.

How many people are ashamed to go into company on account of their foul-smelling breath, caused from catarrh or cold in the head? If they would study their own interests they would soon have sweet breath like their neighbors. There is one sure cure for catarrh and that is Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. Give one blow through the blower and you get relief immediately. Price, including blower, 75 cents.

House-Cleaning Time

Is fast approaching; old furniture will be discarded and replaced by new; here and there new pieces will be added. Where will you buy your new furniture? The judicious and money-saving buyer will go straight to CLEGG'S. Every line from the kitchen chair to the parlour suite is being sold at reduced prices and every article is of the best manufacture guaranteed. Carpet laying and repairing promptly attended to. THE CENTRAL PARK.

Thirty-five years ago this place had some interest, for there were a few head stones and graves that at least excited a little curiosity—then the remains of many of the dead were removed to the new cemetery and the Agricultural Society fenced it in with a very high fence and used it as a show ground for their cattle. After this the town got it with intent to improve it—and the measure of improvement is to be seen. Peterborough boasts of her parks—let her not boast about the Central; its condition is a disgrace. The walks in it are ditches through which the people splash. How long is this to continued? Stuff enough is yearly scraped off the street to cover the entire park with a couple of feet of soil and by watching chances for getting good soil where cellars are dug it could, after a while, be brought into decent shape.

The condition of the walks is a disgrace, and only an utter defiance of public opinion can explain the state in which they are left. Let the councillor who has shined his boots—if any councillor ever does such a thing—walk across the present trail and he will understand the feelings of the lawyer and banker to whose door this trail leads. But enough, 'tis hopeless to expect the desired improvement for no councillor shines his boots.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 37 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $30,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents. It afterwards advanced two cents or $10 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 80 or $3,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 35 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. Blind-fold.

A woman has no right to "go it blind" in matters of life and health. She has no right to shut her eyes to the plain facts of her physical being and the consequences of neglect. She has no right to be wretched and ill when she might be happy and free from pain.

Women who drag through life weighed down by some torturing, dragging weakness or disease of their sex are not doing their full duty to themselves. They are not taking the means which enlightened science affords them of being well and strong and capable.

These special complaints from which so many women suffer are not necessary. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription positively cures even the most severe and obstinate cases.

It is not a haphazard medicine. It is not a "cure-all." It is a scientific remedy devised by an educated and experienced specialist for the one purpose of curing the special diseases of women.

Tens of thousands of women have been restored to perfect health by this wonderful "Prescription." In many instances they were actually given up as hopeless by physicians and family doctors.

"I have taken both your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' for chronic inflammation of the uterus and bladder," writes Mrs. M. A. Scott, of Park Rapids, Hubbard Co. Minn. "I also had stomach trouble which was terribly distressing. I have been cured of all. I had suffered untold misery for four years previous to taking your treatment, but began to feel the good effect at once."

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains information of priceless value to women. A paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. SWEET PEA CULTURE.

RADICAL CHANGE OF METHOD SUGGESTED BY A SPECIALIST.

Something of the Astounding Evolution of the Sweet Pea Flower—What Observation and Experiment Have Led Rev. Mr. Hutchins to Declare.

If there is any class of flowers in which there has been made greater and more astonishing progress within recent years than in sweet peas, it has escaped our notice, says The American Agriculturist The small, insignificant, modest sweet pea of former years, which had nothing to recommend it but its fragrance, has, as if by magic, evolved into entirely new forms and shapes of its flowers, greatly enlarged the size and developed variety and richness of shades and colors almost incredible.

The list of named and well defined varieties runs already up into the hundreds, and the novelties of each succeeding season eclipse those of the preceding. One firm alone introduces this season seven new and striking varieties, most of which are catalogued by seedsmen generally. One of the most remarkable of these novelties is Aurora, a life-size illustration of which is presented herewith. A first-class certificate was awarded to it by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society last year. Its flowers are of gigantic size, of rich, salmon pink stripe on a rich ground. The vines are vigorous in growth, and bloom profusely.

THE NEW SWEET PEA AURORA.

But great and astounding as has been the evolution of the sweet pea flower, from the specialist florist's standpoint of view, this is not of nearly the importance to the amateur gardener as are the new methods of cultivation. "Plant deep"—certainly not less than six inches—was the inexorable law laid down by all authorities of high and low degree; and those of us who followed the advice and yet failed to secure success attributed our failures to every imaginable cause except the real one—too deep planting. But now hope springs up in the heart of many a disappointed and discouraged flower lover, when so skillful and experienced a specialist as the Rev. W. T. Hutchins boldly announces: "We must abandon the trench method of planting sweet peas. The trench method was used to secure deep planting, and the substitute for deep planting is firming the soil. Since the trench method apparently causes the blight, we must stop it. Sweet peas do best in a heavy soil, and you can get very nearly the same effect, if your soil is light, by firming it. Plant if possible, in your vegetable garden, where the soil has been deepened and enriched in past seasons. And if where your row comes it has been newly spaded, tread it down considerably before planting. This treading will hollow out the place for your row about right—and it will thus collect moisture, and by its compactness will hold it. In this hollow, scratch the lines for your seed. When the seeds come up, do not fill in any earth about them, at least for six weeks. Every time you hoe, firm the ground compactly about them, and don't let manures loosen it up. Vines that come up in the well-trod path do not have the blight. This method applies in light soil, in which the blight is troublesome. In the case of heavy soil it settles soon of itself, and the surface of it must be kept of course from baking. In either case, after the buds begin to appear, put on a light mulching to shade the ground."

Such a radical reversion of all previous practices, as recommended by Rev. Hutchins, has rarely been attempted in any line of horticulture, yet when we recall to mind some of our own experiences with sweet peas, we feel convinced that the method recommended is the only true and rational one.

A Handy Garden Manure Cart.

While on a recent trip through a portion of our county I saw a contrivance that struck me as a good thing. While nearing the home of a farmer I saw in the road the marks of mowing machine wheels, and as they were so far apart I could not conceive of them as belonging to a mower—especially at this time of year—so I concluded to investigate it if I could succeed in tracing the tracks to the hiding place of the object in question.

On arriving in sight of the barn, I found the object of my search. It proved to be a cart placed on an old pair of mowing machine wheels. And the farmer at that moment had it backed up to the stable door and was loading it with manure. Every few mornings when the box was full he hitched his team to the cart and drove to the field to unload.

The rough pen sketch accompanying this will show its construction. In size the box is about six feet long and five feet wide and two feet deep.—C. L. Reamer, in Ohio Farmer.

Milk Testing and Its Application.

This subject was discussed by J. W. Mitchell at the recent Cheese and Buttermakers' convention, who referred to the Babcock tester and the lactometer as having superseded all other means of testing milk. These instruments are not being sufficiently used. They have three important functions: (1st) To detect adulteration; (2nd) to indicate the value of milk for cheese and buttermaking; and (3rd) to test the milk of cows to learn whether or not they are profitable. The necessity of guarding against adulteration or skimming is evident. The second use of the tester, that of paying for milk by the percent. of fat, is altogether too little appreciated. The objections raised—trouble and expense—are very much overestimated. Except milk is paid for in that way it gives a premium to poor milk. A composite test is very easily and cheaply made. The cost amounts to about one quarter of a cent per test, or twenty cents for each time in the ordinary factory. This is from one and one-half to three cents per month to each patron for chemicals. The test need only be necessary for a half day. Painting the labels on each man's bottles with shellac will prevent them washing off. A strong solution of lye was recommended as a good cleanser of the bottles. In making tests a uniform temperature is very important. Often in composite testing the samples will burn with the ordinary amount of acid, by reason of the effect of the preserving chemical. In such cases less sulphuric acid should be used. The milk should be about 70 degrees when the acid is added and the water at 140 degrees. It was estimated that the cheesemaker could test the patron's cows at ten cents per cow. If such were general, many poor, unprofitable cows would be weeded out. Two hundred and fifty pounds of butter or 600 pounds of cheese should be the minimum product of a dairy cow.—London Farmer's Advocate.

Cure for Sore-Mouthed Horses.

Many horses, especially during the first year of their working period, are constantly in possession of a sore mouth. This, if continued for several months, is liable to leave the animal with a chronic habit, such as throwing the head while hitching or unhitching. The most effective plan of cure which we have ever tried consists of winding any ordinary bit at the corners and down on the same for about one inch, with tanned sheepskin (which can be procured at any harness store), being sure that it is not too thick and heavy. With this well wound on have a cup of sulphur, and each time as the bit is placed in the horse's mouth moisten the leather and rub on a little of the pulverised article. It is well also to lengthen the bridle as much as possible during the time and not drive with a tight checking rein.—C. H. Whitcomb, in National Stockman.

The Children's Enemy.

Scrofula often shows itself in early life and is characterized by swellings, abscesses, hip diseases, etc. Consumption is scrofula of the lungs. In this class of diseases Scott's Emulsion is unquestionably the most reliable medicine.

Relief in 20 Minutes.

The most pronounced symptoms of heart disease are palpitation, or fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, smothering spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pain or spells of hunger or exhaustion. The brain may be congested, causing headaches, dizziness or vertigo. In short, whenever the heart flutters, or tires out easily, skips or palpitates, it is diseased and treatment is imperative. Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure has saved thousands of lives. It absolutely never fails to give perfect relief in 20 minutes, and to cure radically. Sold by H. S. MacDonald.

A splendid Medicine.

DEAR SIRS,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

Conservatives Will Support the Patron in Macdonald—No Definite Choice Yet in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, April 12.—(Special.)—The Conservatives of Macdonald constituency met this morning and definitely decided to throw their support to Kenneth McKenzie, the Patron candidate, and not put up a Conservative candidate. McKenzie will fight out the battle with Dr. Rutherford, the Government nominee.

In Winnipeg two gentlemen have signified their willingness to accept nomination at the hands of the combined prohibition and labor people. These are E. L. Taylor, barrister, and William Small, a well-known labor leader. A mass meeting has been called for Tuesday night, when a choice between the two will be made. Mr. Taylor is the most likely man, and can get the Conservative support. Friends of ex-Mayor Jameson, the Government nominee, profess the utmost confidence.

Capitalist William McKenzie of Toronto, who owns the biggest part of the Winnipeg Gas Company, is here to ask the City Council for an extension of the gas franchise for twenty-five years.

The ice is moving out of Red River here, and it is now believed there is scarcely any danger of a flood.

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

PRIDE OF A VILLAGE.

Mrs. Silvester Dean Leveen was polishing her brass knocker. Her long, thin hands rubbed and rubbed till the little white curls on her forehead danced like street children. Yet the labor had no perceptible effect. The metal shone like light, but so it did when she began to clean it. It had shone like that yesterday and the day before, and, indeed, every day for 60 years. There was a smooth circle all around the knocker where her delicate hands had worn into the hard, black wood of the door. Nevertheless the old lady rubbed away just as she had done every morning since the spring of 1833, when she was brought, a bride, into the house. She was the pride of Greenwich village then, and she meant to be still.

On this particular frosty morning Mrs. Leveen tarried longer than usual at her task. After the lion's head was satisfactory even to her sharp eyes, she worked on. But it was evident in the glances she shot across Bank street that her attention was not given wholly to the work of her hands. Neither was it diverted to her customary inspection of the neighbor's knockers. Theirs glistened like hers, and, besides, every time she looked up her eyes turned to but one door, that of the house in front of which stood two sturdy horses and a truck.

Pretty soon the door opened and a young man in a carter's blouse came out. He saw the old lady across the street, though he pretended not to. He busied himself ostentatiously about the horses' heads for a moment and then turned back to the truck. Mrs. Leveen had seen him. She bent herself earnestly to the knocker and in a few strokes finished it off. Then she faced towards the street and fixed the truckman with her eyes till he had to look up.

"Good morning, Aunt Martha," he said, as he doffed his cap.

She beckoned to him to come to her.

"Good morning, Percy," she answered pleasantly, as he approached her, cap in hand. "Come in a moment. I wish to speak with you."

The interview he had dreaded for weeks was upon him now. He knew from the first it was inevitable, but day after day he had put it off, omitting his usual calls on his aunt, and avoiding her sight and summons. Now that she had caught him he was glad. As he followed the old lady into her prim, comfortable sitting-room he made a pitiful figure of humility, but in the meekness of his soul there was the cheerfulness of finality.

"Sit down, Percy," she said, in the sweet-toned voice he loved.

He took the chair she indicated, and she seated herself in her old rocker.

"Percy, dear," she began, "is it true that I hear; you mean to marry this girl?"

"Yes, Aunt Martha. I was going to tell you, but knowing as you were agin it—knowing that you would not like to have me do so—I was afraid to come to you about it."

"Don't twirl your cap, my dear; gentlemen don't do that, you know."

"I am sorry, Percy, you felt that way. It is my intention always to be kind and sympathetic. You should have been quite sure I would have heard your story through with understanding. Now, tell me everything. She is the daughter, I am told, of a German in Hudson street."

"That's right, aunt. Her father has the biggest corner grocery over there, and he has made his pile—I mean has made money since he's been there."

"How long has he been here?"

"Going on 25 years. He's almost an old Ninth-warder now. He's some in politics, and his family is right in it."

"Percy! I never knew them."

"I know, but you wouldn't. It ain't my fault. I wanted to have them all over to mother's so as you could be introduced to them."

The old lady looked as though she would answer this, but she did not. She was silent a moment before she proceeded.

"So her father is a grocer?"

"Yes; like Mr. Jamison, who you like well enough."

"Mr. Jamison is a gentleman, my dear. The misfortunes of his family can never alter that. The Jamisons are of the oldest Greenwich families on both sides. He is a grocer by necessity. This person of whom we are speaking is one by choice."

"Well, Aunt Martha, it's as good as being a truckman, and better."

Mrs. Leveen winced.

"You might have been a judge, like your father, or a senator, like your grandfather. I wanted you to enter political life."

"Politics is pretty low down these days," Percy remarked. "It ain't what it was. Besides, I tried to get an office from Mike McNamara, but he said I wouldn't do in any where the pay was as much as the trucking pays. And I guess that's about so."

The last sentence was cheerfully spoken. Mrs. Leveen looked at her nephew's ruddy cheeks and sighed.

"I do wish, Percy," she said, gently, "that you could have found some one in Greenwich. That part of Hudson street where these people live is way beyond the outskirts of the old village, out where the hog fields were till the immigrants began to settle around us."

"But what's the difference, Aunt Martha? It's all one now. There ain't no Greenwich any more. It's all just New York City, so what's the use of pretending?"

The impatience in the young man's tone amazed his aunt almost as much as the sentiment he uttered. Never before had he failed to show her respect. On the contrary, the humbleness of his demeanor had been a grievance to her; it did not become one of her own blood to manifest the same awe before her that an ordinary Ninth-warder did.

The old lady straightend in her chair, the lines about her mouth stiffened and her eyes glistened like her knocker as she answered:

"Percy Dean! You forget to whom you are speaking. You forget yourself, sir, and your good breeding is evidently suffering from the associations you permit yourself."

Percy was frightened. The last time he had been rebuked in this temper by his aunt was when he was a boy. He meant no offense.

"I beg your pardon, Aunt Martha," he murmured.

Mrs. Leveen took her knitting from the table and worked busily at it till she was quite calm. She looked up after every few thrusts of her needle, indignantly at first, then coldly, and finally the habitual expression of kindness returned to her face.

"I dare say you are in a hurry to go to town, Percy, and I shall not detain you much longer. You may tell me something about this young—this girl. How old is she?"

"She is going on 19, Aunt Martha."

"Is she cultivated, educated? Come, Percy, tell me all about her."

"She went through the grammar school, I think, but she had to work after that. So she can't play the piano or sing, but she is a nice girl and can tend the house and cook, now that her mother is dead."

"That's right; she ought to be able to manage her husband's household. But tell me more about her. Is her voice soft, are her manners gentle, is she modest? Describe her to me, my dear. Is she pretty?"

Percy was encouraged by the few words of approval he had won.

"Aunt, she's a beaut', that's—"

"What do you say, a what?"

"I mean, she's a beauty. She's got blue eyes and blonde hair and the nicest, biggest, reddest cheeks. She ain't what you would call quiet; she's more lively-like. You ought to hear her laugh when we're down on the docks nights with the rest of the crowd. I'll bet you could hear her across the river in Hoboken. And jolly? If she gets a mug as is too fresh she can jolly him along to beat the band. But she's on the level, too. She does the square thing with her old man every clip. The housework has to be done before she's in for the game. And she slaves for her little sisters and brothers—just slaves for them, and yet she does it as willing. But then she's good to everybody; always ready to help out with work when neighbors are behind or sick or have company, and she sticks up for horses and cats and all like that. You wouldn't believe she was that way, though, to see her at a ball or dancing on excursion boats up the river. She's a good looker and a good dresser, and when she's out in full rig—well, say, she's a sight. The other fellows don't do nothing when we're out—"

Percy stopped short. Mrs. Leveen had risen suddenly, and she stood erect before him, tall and white and proud.

"Why, Aunt Martha!" he exclaimed.

"That's enough, Percy. Thank you. I see I have been wrong, all wrong, in this matter from the first. You shall have your way, for it is right. I consent."

"Oh, Aunt Martha," he cried, springing up and seizing her hand to kiss. "I am so glad. But I knew you would after hearing about her. And say, aunt, you ought to see her once. You couldn't help but like her and admire her. Everybody in the ward does. Why, do you know what they call her, the men down at the Grapevine? The way you looked then made me think of it. They call her the Pride of Greenwich Village."—New York Post.

A GLUE POT.

How Any Farmer's Boy May Make This Indispensable Article.

When a farmer's boy has in his toolkit a hammer, a saw, a plane and a jack knife, all he needs is a glue pot.

For some reason boys seem to think that a glue-pot is hard to make and hard to handle, but this is far from being the truth. Three things are necessary to do successful gluing; first, a pot in which the glue may be melted without burning; second, hot glue; third, clamps or weights to hold the pieces together until the glue is thoroughly dry. By observing these rules a boy can make all sorts of delicate objects and find no end of pleasure in fastening the parts together with glue.

A simple and very excellent glue pot may be made of two empty baking powder cans. Take a half-pound can and cut a round hole in the cover (a in the picture) large enough to admit a quarter-pound can. Next turn the upper edge of the quarter-pound can (b) so that there will be a flange a half inch or more in width. This may be done by cutting four or five slits a half inch deep in the edge of the can, and then turning the pieces down with light taps from the hammer. This will now fit into the large can (c), the flange preventing it from going clear through, and holding it suspended. A handle of wire may be made and fastened to each side of the larger can by means of small holes punched with a nail. The larger can is partly filled with water and the smaller one with glue and water. When the water in the large can boils the glue melts up, and is soon ready to use. In this way every boy can make his own glue pot.

The men who stands idly by and sees the life fading out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in the perfect enjoyment of vigorous, useful health,, is either less than a man or else does not know of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength. Perhaps her husband cannot persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable "examinations" and "local treatments." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use and tested every day for thirty years. It isn't no experiment, there are no chances about it. It is a certain cure for all derangements, weaknesses, irregularities and displacements of internal organs peculiar to women.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. You know felt is either wool or fur. It's made by applying heat, moisture and pressure to the mass of fibres which "felt" together by the interlocking of the miscroscopic serrations which cover the fibre. The fineness of the fibre and the character of the serrations determine the quality of the felt. The quality ranges from the finest to the coarse sort used for covering steam boilers. The boller cover sort sometimes does duty as a Hat at 25 odd cents. We make a specialty of one grade—it's the High Grade—usually sold for $3.00 to $3.50. Our price is $2.50. Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

THE WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Subject for April—"For Unsaved Relatives and Friends." Pray that the members of our own families may be won for Christ, and that Christians may be faithful in witnessing to to them for the Master. Pray for the unsaved friends and relatives of others.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The arrangements are now fully completed. Nothing but poor weather and lack of interest will prevent this being a bright convention. The new features on the programme should prove interesting. The first is the social half hour at the close of morning session. This will enable the county Endeavourers to get better acquainted. The second is the denominational gatherings at the close of afternoon session. This takes the place of Junior rally, held at previous conventions. These rallies should prove helpful to the denominational unions. The third is the social hour to be held at the Y.M.C.A. hall between six and seven o'clock. Music and refreshments will be the order of the hour. This social is for all delegates and visiting Endeavourers, but desire all delegates representing the town societies to be present.

Every Endeavourer will be glad to hear that Mr. Colville, secretary of the Toronto West End Y. M. C. A., will conduct the consecration service. Mr. Colville is so well known throughout the country that no further introduction is needed. Then we have all our local ministers taking part. Rev. J. J. Rae takes the evening topic, while we have two names on our programme for the first time, that of Mr. Potter and Mr. Dykeman. Both these gentlemen are popular among the young people.

By the returns of delegates who are appointed by the different societies throughout the country we feel that this will be the best convention yet held. Delegates will come direct to church and register, when those who desire billets will be given the address of their Peterborough home. No delegate should start out without the report from their society as presented on programme previously supplied.

THE LOCAL UNION

Held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening last at close of prayer meetings in Y. M. C. A. hall. The attendance was large and a lot of business was transacted. The arrangements to entertain county delegates on Easter Monday were completed, and committee were appointed for every conceivable duty.

The following officers were nominated to represent the Union for the ensuing year:
Hon. President—Rev. Mr. Dykeman.
President—Mr. T. H. Martin.
Vice-President—Mr. A. L. Grover.
Treasurer—Mr. B. Anderson.
Secretary—Miss M. Sherlock.

The election will take place at the next regular rally to be held on the first Monday in May at the Charlotte street church. The matter of furnishing the Y.M.C.A. hall was left over until next meeting of executive.

MARK STREET SOCIETY

Though not largely attended, yet our last meeting was a very profitable one. It being a missionary topic, the paper and addresses were all on that theme. They were given by the Misses Taylor and Hooper and Messrs. Jas. Reid and M. W. Matchett. The delegates chosen to represent the society at the County Convention were Miss M. Hamilton and Miss L. Beer, who are to report the convention at the last meeting in this month.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

The Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society sent a representative to our meeting on Monday night, and it certainly was a successful meeting, the subject being "Foreign Missions." Excellent papers, filled with interesting thoughts, were read by Mrs. A. E. Leach, Mrs. Sheriff Hall, Mrs. J. A. Fife and Miss Dickson. The subjects were: "Zenana Work," "Work of Medical Missions," "Educational Work" and "Work Still to be Done." Miss McNabb rendered a solo in a very pleasing manner. Taken altogether the meeting was a profitable one. Another very notable feature was the artistic blackboard sketch by Mr. A. McCallum, which called forth the vigourous praise of all who were present. Rev. Dr. Torrance presided and at the close of the meeting tendered the hearty vote of thanks of the Endeavour Society to the ladies who had so well filled the program, and to Mr. McCallum for his blackboard work.

BETHEL—KEENE CIRCUIT.

March 31st. The meeting this evening was opened by the president. The attendance was good. We were pleased to have with us Mr. R. N. Weir, who conducted the topic in an able manner telling us "What Christian heroism is and does." Master Albert Nelson led the prayer meeting. We also held our monthly business meeting, satisfactory reports were read from convenors of different committees showing that good work indeed had been accomplished during the month. Miss Nettie Shearer and Mr. Morley Nelson were appointed as delegates to attend the county convention to be held in Peterborough on Easter Monday. It was moved and carried that we hold our meeting at eight o'clock instead of half past seven.

KEENE.

On Tuesday evening, April 6th, we held our monthly business meeting, Mrs. Harrison in the chair. David Edwards read a paper on the topic; and it was with pleasure and profit that we listened to the remarks of Rev. W. C. Clarke, who was present with us. Wilson Avison conducted a short prayer meeting. Encouraging reports were read by the convenors of the different committees, but we would especially mention the work of the missionary committee. They have nearly completed a missionary quilt. It is very pretty, and although not quite finished they have already realised $8. The following officers were then elected for the next six months.

President—Mr. E. Porter.
Vice-Presidents—Miss A. Kirby and David Edwards.
Rec. Secretary—Emma C. McCamus.
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. Harrison.
Organists—Misses Maud Eson and Martha Edwards.

CONVENERS OF COMMITTEES.

P. M.—Mrs. Harrison.
Lookout—Miss A. Eson.
Missionary—Miss Emma Porter.
Social—Wilson Avison.
Flower and Visiting—Thomas McIntyre.
Temperance—William Chapman.
Music—Miss Eson.

We had a very good attendance and a number of very bright, cheery little reports from the Juniors on last Thursday evening, and the Sunshine Committee had an exhibition two scrap-books that they have just finished and made ready to send away.

The following officers were installed:—
President—Mabel Harrison.
Vice-President—Roy Liddy.
Secretary—Jennie McGregor.
Treasurer—Nellie McGregor.

CONVENERS OF COMMITTEES.

P. M.—Roy Liddy.
Lookout—Irene Shaw.
Sunshine—Etta Edwards.
Literature—Charles Stewart.
Book—Glen Liddy.
Birthday—Mary Wedlock.

THE HARVEY SCHOOL QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—The Harvey School Question does not seem to be settled so easily as the Manitoba School Question, and bobs up again serenely.

Allow me space to refer to a letter in your last week's issue in regard to an imaginary wood contract scandal in connection with No. 2 school, Harvey, which has been the subject of so much correspondence in the past. One would think from the tone of lofty indignation in which the letter was written, that it was a case of high treason, like stealing the crown, jewels or great seal. I will not attempt to reply to this letter, but will content myself with stating that the insinuations are utterly groundless, and as far removed from the truth as Nogie's Creek is from being the Atlantic Ocean. This remark applies to the statement about the "culpability" of the trustees. I know the facts, and know that the trustees are not culpable in the sense hinted by "J.B." I do not think that North Harvey will have the "gullibility" to be gulled by such unwarranted statements. This school and the trustees will, I think, manage to live somehow, even under the shadow of the "mighty" displeasure of "J. B."—he, she or it, whoever it may be. I have nothing more to say. Truth is mighty and will prevail.

Yours, etc.,
JUSTICE.

A TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Her Face Covered with Scales. Could Not Leave Home. Had to Sacrifice Hair.

Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Improvement in Three Weeks. Six Weeks Complete Cure.

Four years ago Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form. I was attended by two physicians, but notwithstanding their treatment it continued spreading, until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid, loathsome sight. For three months I did not leave the house. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one of them recommended CUTICURA SOAP. I used three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), one half dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and in three weeks from the time I began, the scales had left my face and the skin lost its florid hue. In six weeks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer than it had ever been before. MARION A. SMITH, Sunbury, Pa.

SHORT CUTICURA TREATMENT.—Warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, full doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and mild doses of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure, and mild doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humour cures.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Fast Atlantic Line Again Brought Up.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER FINDS FAULT

Because the Government Did Not Endorse the Allan Contract - Sir Richard Cartwright Shows That They Made a Better Bargain—House Adjourned Over Easter.

Ottawa, April 14.—(Special.)—In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir Charles Tupper said he desired to bring before the House the present position of the fast Atlantic steamship question. He complained of repeated discourtesy of the Government in withholding important information regarding public affairs of which Parliament should be cognizant. He thought that it was not proper for members of Parliament to have to go to The London Times or other newspapers for information which should be in possession of the House. Sir Charles then at some length recited the circumstances which led up to the contemplated action of the late Government to close a contract with the Allans for a 20-knot service for a subsidy of $750,000, to which the Imperial Government would add $225,000. He said that upon leaving office he wrote his successor, pointing out that by promptly closing the contract a year would be saved in the establishment of the service. Messrs. Allan were the pioneers of the Canadian steamship service, and were amply capable of carrying out the new contract. The only reason Mr. Laurier could give for delay was that he wished to look further into the matter and ascertain what could be done in the way of securing larger freight accommodation, but evidently his followers placed obstacles in the way which prevented this contract being closed. To show what could be done when the Canadian service was on a par with that to and from New York, he mentioned that some years ago the Allans booked transatlantic passengers from the Western States via Montreal to the amount of $27,000 per month. As to the provisional contract with Messrs. Peterson, Tait & Company, it was disappointing to learn that the final negotiations were entrusted to Mr. Dobell, who had been so hostile to the project. Again, the company did not appear to be one of much standing, and it was to be feared that the Dominion Government was making a mistake in dealing with these people. He thought the House should be made acquainted with the terms of the contract.

Sir Richard Cartwright said the Government had been accused of discourtesy in not giving information regarding uncompleted negotiations, but he thought the hon. gentleman had been equally discourteous in not apprising the Government that he had intended springing this matter on the House. The pith of the hon. gentleman's remarks seemed to be summed up in his contention against the people of Canada getting a contract for less than a million and a quarter, which he was prepared to pay for it. Personally he (Sir Richard) did not consider the tenders put in by Mr. Huddart or the Allans as proper tenders. One wanted four months and the other six months in which to say whether they would go on. In the case of the Allans also there were a number of other stipulations by which it was not known whether Canada was to get a 20, 18 or 15-knot service. The conditions and qualifications which the Allans sought to impose made their tender a wholly one-sided affair. The Opposition evidently were not in a desperate hurry now. Seven or eight years ago the ex-Finance Minister declared his Government to be a 20-knot Government, and that that was to be their future policy. In calling for tenders, they only allowed five weeks for them to be prepared and all arrangements made.

Sir Charles Tupper: That was represented to be absolutely necessary if the service was to be ready within two years from May.

Sir Richard said that plans must be prepared and financial arrangements made, and this would require a longer time than five or six weeks. Tenders submitted under these conditions were not at all likely to afford to the people of Canada adequate protection or assurance that they would get a fair tender for the service. This was a matter in which the British Government had a great deal to say, and as the Parliament of Canada would have to approve any agreement, there was no discourtesy to the House in waiting to see what the Imperial Government were going to do. The Government found that an advantageous proposition to the people of Canada had been submitted, a proposition which would give better service, better rates and better accommodations, and for two-thirds of the money. Was it not proper, under these circumstances, to communicate with the Imperial Government to see whether they would co-operate? Last year the Imperial Government suggested that tenders should be called for, but circumstances were different to-day. The object of tendering was to get a fair price, and this offer was evidently a fair one. Messrs. Peterson, Tait & Company did not propose to construct the ships in their own yards. As far as the Government could learn they were a firm to be relied upon; they were willing to make any reasonable deposit, and assurances had been received of their solvency and high financial standing from the best sources. Sir Charles' action in bringing the matter up would only serve to block the negotiations, but he trusted such would not be the case. In conclusion, he stated that the Government did not feel disposed to depart from the arrangement that Quebec should be the terminus of the line in summer and Halifax in winter. He hoped that he would be in a position to give full particulars to the House shortly.

Mr. Haggart pointed out that Sir Richard had wholly failed to meet the complaint of Sir Charles Tupper, to the effect that information as to the Government's policy on this, as on all other subjects, invariably came to the House indirectly through newspaper or other channels. The House was to-day without the slightest knowledge as to the character of the proposed service, no tenders being called for, and the contract being let to a firm that nobody ever heard of before. What the people of Canada wanted, and what the late Government had secured through bona fide tender and contract, was a service equal to the best in the world. Who knew the day that pressure might not be exercised to induce the Imperial Government to modify the requirements of the service?

Mr. Davies explained that the contract was a provisional one, and that Messrs. Peterson and Tait were of the highest financial standing.

The motion of Sir Charles Tupper to adjourn was negatived by consent.

The remaining private bills on order paper, four in number, were given their second reading and referred to the Railway Committee.

Mr. Laurier, answering Mr. LaRivière regarding the Manitoba school negotiations, said they were conducted by the Government themselves. No authority was delegated to anyone.

Mr. Tarte informed Mr. Choquette that in the recent fire of the Western Block the Department of Public Works lost correspondence received from 1880 to 1892 with the exception of the correspondence relating to matters still pending. No books of reference were lost. All contracts, deeds, etc., as well as plans in the Chief Engineer's and Architect's offices were saved. Vouchers in the Accountant's office up to 1890 were destroyed. In the Marine Department files containing letters and reports from 1867 to 1879, and also register books from 1867 to 1882, were destroyed. Most of the letters received by the Fisheries Department from 1867 to 1888 were lost. The Mounted Police branch lost nearly everything. The Customs Department lost nothing. The Mounted Police Department lost its correspondence from 1877 to 1887, and registers from 1892 to 1895; a large number of letter books, ledgers, returns, etc., prior to 1894, and all vouchers prior to 1893. The Trade and Commerce Department lost nothing, neither did the Militia Department, except that a few documents were damaged by water.

Mr. Davies informed Mr. McMullen that the Government had under consideration the request of the Canadian Underwriters to have all barges known as pinplates not to be classed as standard barges.

Hon. Mr. Sifton laid on the table the report of Hon. T. M. Daly on immigration from Europe.

Mr. Charlton called attention to a despatch which appeared in The Toronto World of Feb. 12, alleging that he had delivered a lecture in Tonawanda, New York, a few evenings before, at which he had advocated the annexation of Canada to the United States. This despatch was on a par with many which had appeared in Conservative newspapers about him.

Mr. Davin: Where is Tonawanda? [Laughter.]

Mr. Charlton: It is the second lumber centre in the United States. Continuing, he read a letter from the pastor of the church in which he lectured, in which that gentleman denied that Mr. Charlton had advocated annexation. On the contrary, the clergyman said, the lecture was distinctly Canadian in tone and sentiment.

Then, on the motion to adjourn, Mr. McNeill arose and drew attention to a cable despatch in the morning papers stating that the War and Colonial Offices were considering the offer of General Gascoigne to send a Canadian regiment of 600 men to take part in Jubilee demonstration, and that, while the offer was appreciated, it was unacceptable, because it would disturb the proportion of representation allotted to the several colonies. Mr. McNeill availed himself of the occasion to impress upon the Government the necessity of disabusing the Imperial official mind of the impression that Canada was to be rated with the several Australasian colonies, simply because she had so far progressed as to be a confederation.

Sir Richard Cartwright made the characteristic reply that, while he had noted the disposition referred to by the hon. member, he could assure the House there were certain occasions upon which the Australasian colonies themselves were rather prone to admit Canada's priority, and that was when it came to a question of contribution, say for a Pacific cable project. In that case the Australians were quite ready to admit that Canada, by reason of population and commerce, should contribute four times the amount levied upon themselves.

Sir Charles Tupper asked if the report that Gen. Gascoigne had offered to send a regiment of 600 men to represent Canada were true.

To this Sir Richard, as acting Minister of Militia, replied in the negative, adding that, being guests of the Imperial Government in a measure, Canada could not very well dictate to the Mother Country how many guests she should invite.

Mr. Foster renewed his enquiry for information concerning temporary loans. He was informed that there were temporary loans outstanding to the amount of £1,000,000. Of this £400,000 had been borrowed to meet liabilities of the late Government, maturing Jan. 1, 1897, borrowed from the National Provincial Bank of England at 3 per cent. Then there was £600,000 borrowed from the Bank of Montreal by the present Government at 3 1-2 per cent. and maturing July 1, 1897.

The House shortly before 6 o'clock adjourned until next Tuesday.

A LARGE WAR CREDIT ASKED FOR

Premier Delyannis Says Greece is Not Responsible for the Trouble on the Frontier, and Still Hopes the Powers Will Arrange for a Settlement.

Athens, April 14.—On the re-assembling of the Boule to-day, M. Delyannis, the Premier, introduced, in the presence of a crowded chamber, a bill granting the Government a credit of 23,000,000 drachmas for the Ministers of War and Marine.

The Premier, dealing with the development of the foreign situation, declared that the powers had taken their stand on the principle of the integrity of Turkey, but up to the present had not expressed an opinion with regard to the proposals Greece had made for a pacific solution of the difficulty. After dwelling upon the right of the Cretans to settle their own destinies, he declared that, despite all which had happened, Greece still hoped the powers would agree to a peaceful settlement. The situation on the frontier was not, he said, created by Greece, but by the strange policy of a state which, by precipitate armament, had compelled Greece to assemble an army capable of coping with all eventualities and of defending the interests and honor of the country. [Sensation.]

In concluding, M. Delyannis said the Greek Government was doing its utmost to repair the imperfections inseparable from an army so hastily collected, and he hoped that in the course of a few days an army would be concentrated abundantly capable of doing its full duty to the country. [Loud cheers.]

Turks Strong at Grevena.

Elassona, April 14.—The Turkish troops are now centered in very strong force at Grevena, and the insurgents have little chance of advancing further. Seyfoullah Bey, the officer who was sent by Edhem Pasha to Krania with instructions to ascertain the exact situation in that locality, is an extattache of the Turkish embassy at Athens. He declares that he recognized among the insurgents near Krania and between that town and the border several Greek officers, whom he had met personally at Athens. He also asserts that the Greek troops on the frontier made no attempt whatever to prevent incursions upon Turkish territory.

The Turks complain that the Greek troops are trying to provoke an attack. Yesterday a detachment crossed the frontier and for a brief period occupied the monastery near Damasi, subsequently retiring. A communication has been sent by Edhem Pasha to the Greek commander, informing him that these tactics will be stopped by force, if necessary.

THEY'RE MILLIONAIRES NOW.

The Kluges Went to New York Poor Seven Years Ago and Made Money by Their "Experience."

New York, April 14.—The special agents of the Treasury Department have unearthed a system of smuggling which has in the last five years practically driven a large class of importers and manufacturers out of business. They say this state of affairs was disclosed through the arrest yesterday of Adolf Kluge, President of the German Artistic Weaving Company. Kluge was held by United States Commissioner Alexander in $3,500 bail, which was furnished. Special Agents Cross and Cummings, who have charge of the case, tell this story:

"Charles Shorey is a member of a big firm of clothiers in Montreal. Mr. Shorey went to the Grand Trunk Railway officials in Montreal and told them that his wife was spending a month at Lakewood, N.J., and he desired to send her two trunks full of wearing apparel, for which she had written. The railroad officials said he would have to get the consent of the United States Customs officials and have the trunks examined by them before the railroad could undertake to check them direct to Lakewood. Mr. Shorey made the necessary application to the American officials stationed at Montreal. The trunks were opened. The perfunctory examinations revealed only a woman's gown and Mr. Shorey took his trunks away.

"After he had gone, the Customs officials became suspicious and followed the trunks to the depot, only to find that they had been checked to New York and not to Lakewood. A telegram was sent to Special Agent Cummings and a customs officer took the next train for this city."

The trunks arrived at the Grand Central Depot at 6.45 a.m., April 7, and were stored in the baggage room. Special Agent Cummings stationed a watch over them. They were not called for until late Saturday, when a man, whose name the officials will not divulge, presented the checks and loaded them on an express wagon.

Special Agent Cummings followed the trunks to the offices of the German Artistic Weaving Company (Adolf and Emile Kluge, proprietors), where he seized and opened them. He found concealed under two or three dresses about 500,000 embroidered labels, such as tailors use under the collarbands of coats. These are worth about $7 per 1000. The arrest of Adolf Kluge occurred on Tuesday. According to the customs officer there were many prosperous importers and manufacturers of these embroidered labels in New York until five years ago, when they discovered that they could not compete with the Kluges, who were able to undersell them. The Kluges' secret remained a mystery, notwithstanding that the Textile Fabric Association has made many efforts to fathom it.

The Kluges came to New York about seven years ago without money. They are said to be millionaires now. Emile Kluge, the customs officers say, has not been arrested, because he is traveling somewhere "in the West," and they do not know his present address.

The Sons of Scotland must be well pleased with the prompt manner in which the claims of the late Mr. James Preston was paid by the Grand Camp of the Sons of Scotland Benevolent Association. The claim papers were made out on the 2rd of April, and the cheque for the amount of his insurance issued on the 6th. This should be a great incentive to Scotchmen and the descendants of Scotchmen, who are not already members, to unite with them. Munro Camp, No. 150, holds its meetings regularly on the second Thursday in each month, in the Sons of England Hall, on the corner of Queen and Albert streets. Any of the officers or members will be pleased to receive applications, and the initiation fee has been placed at a very low figure for a limited period. At the last meeting of the Camp the following resolution was passed:

Lakefield, April 8th, 1897.

Mrs. James Preston:

Dear Madame,—We the officers and members of Munro Camp, No. 150, Sons of Scotland, beg to express our deepest regret with you and your family at the great loss you have sustained by the sudden death of your beloved husband, our late brother, James Preston.

While words fail to convey the heartfelt sympathy we feel for you and your little ones, we would pray that the Almighty, who doeth all things well, will give you His comfort and support in your hours of trial.

Signed on behalf of the members of Munro Camp, No. 150.

(Signed) J. E. Richardson, Chief.
George Battis, Rec. Sec.,

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Officers and Members of Munro Camp, No. 150, Sons of Scotland, Lakefield:

Gentlemen,—I beg to acknowledge at your hands a cheque from the Grand Camp for one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) insurance in your Order, on the life of my late husband, James Preston.

Accept my thanks for your kindness during my trouble, and for the prompt payment of the claim, the cheque being in my hands just one week from my husband's death.

With best wishes for the future success of your noble Order, I am,

Yours, etc.,
Mary Ann Preston.

A DECIDED CHANGE.

FOR THE BETTER FOLLOWS THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Health and Strength the Certain Outcome—They are Unrivalled as a Spring Medicine and Give Feeling of Renewed Freshness and Vigor.

Among the remarkable cures which have followed the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that of Mrs. Geo. N. Godsoe, a well known resident of Assagance Station, N.B. Mrs. Godsoe says: "For five years I was a sufferer from a most peculiar trouble, which seemed to baffle the skill of several physicians. The first symptom of my trouble I cannot characterize better than by calling them blind spells, as my head would get so bad that I could not see and a blindness would come over me. Then I would grow faint and dizzy and could not walk about. My hands and arms would become perfectly numb and would sometimes remain in this condition for days. Latterly the attacks grew more frequent and more severe. I became so nervous and run down that life was indeed a burden to me. My appetite was very poor and I was pale and emaciated. As regular medical treatment made no improvement in my condition, some of my friends strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and at last I consented to do so. I had only been taking them for a short time when there was a decided change for the better in my condition. I continued their use and every day my nerves seemed to grow stronger. I gained in flesh and felt like a new woman. I know the load of misery from which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have relieved me and I am more than grateful and will never lose an opportunity of saying a good word for this grand medicine.

Any who are suffering from diseases of the blood and nerves may, like Mrs. Godsoe, find a cure if they will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. As a spring medicine there is nothing else can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They drive the seeds of disease from the system and give those who use them a feeling of freshness and vigour. Do not be persuaded to take any pink coloured preparation, or something else alleged to be "just as good." Insist upon getting the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and if your dealer does not have them in stock they will be sent postpaid at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Leggatt, Traveller for McCormack & Co., London, says: "Miller's Compound Iron Pills restored me to health after a month of prostration from nervous shock and loss of blood." He says: "Their effect on me was simply marvellous; people say they never saw me looking so well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

A SHORT CUT TO RELIEF

FROM THE ITCHING AND BURNING OF ECZEMA.

What is Eczema, anyway? Let him who has been afflicted answer.

It is an itching and burning of the skin almost beyond endurance.

It is thousands of little vesicles filled with an irritant fluid, which burst and flow over the raw surface of the denuded skin, causing more torture than all other skin diseases combined.

It comes on almost any part of the body and is no respecter of age, as old people as well as tender infants are the subjects of its attack.

What about the cure? Physicians seem prone to regard it as almost beyond their reach.

What about Kootenay Cure? Why, it's the very remedy wherever there is any deterioration of the blood.

In the case of Mr. G. W. Dawson, Fulton P. O., Ont., stated under oath, it simply worked marvels. He had Eczema for five years, was treated by many physicians in Canada and the United States, but got so bad at last with the frightful itching and burning that he thought he would go insane. Six bottles of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure cured him.

Mr. William Marcham, an Engineer, living at 242 Catherine Street North, Hamilton, makes a sworn statement that he suffered intensely with Eczema which covered his whole body. He was in the City Hospital for six weeks and was discharged at the end of that time as incurable. Four bottles of Kootenay entirely cured his Eczema.

Other proofs of the remarkable efficacy of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure may be had by addressing the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

Hundreds of people testify under oath.

The New Ingredient used in Kootenay Cure will revolutionize medical science.

One bottle lasts over a month.

THE TEAM FOR BISLEY

Will be Commanded by Major Mason.

THAT WAS SETTLED YESTERDAY

At the Annual Meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association at Ottawa—Major Dunbar of Quebec is Second in Command—The Other Business Transacted.

Ottawa, April 14.—(Special.)—Major "Johnnie" Mason of the 13th was today confirmed in his appointment as commandant of this year's Bisley team. There was some little doubt among the Executive of the D.R.A. to-day as to the identity of the gentleman who came from Hamilton claiming to be Major Mason. It was simply a temporary misapprehension, however, due to the disappearance of Major Mason's beautiful mutton-chop whiskers, which have been the delight of military meetings and Masonic gatherings for years past.

Major Dunbar of the Royal Rifles, Quebec, was to-night notified of his appointment as adjutant of the team.

It has been settled that the team shall sail for England by the Parisian on June 19th, one week earlier than usual. This will be a beneficial change, as it will enable the men to get more practice with the Lee-Enfield rifle. These matters were settled at the meeting of the council of the D.R.A. this afternoon, at which Col. Massey was elected chairman and Col. TEten chairman of the Executive.

Col. Bacon, who has long and worthily acted as secretary, retired from the position, Lieut.-Col. W. E. Hodgins of the Ottawa Guards succeeding him. Col. MacPherson was re-elected President.

The annual matches at Ottawa will commence this year on Monday, Aug. 30.

The meeting of the association held during the morning was well attended and very successful.

It was hoped that by holding the meeting during the session a big attendance would be ensured, and this proved to be the case. Lieut.-Col. J. M. Gibson presided. Among the visiting officers were Lieut.-Col. J. M. Gibson, Capt. Kirkpatrick, Capt. A. D Cartwright, Major Bruce, Lieut.-Col. Massey, Major J. J. Mason, Lieut.-Col. Otter and Lieut.-Col. Stark.

Col. J. M. Gibson congratulated the D.R.A. on the increased interest being taken in the association and heartily thanked the Governor-General for consenting to attend the meeting. Amid great applause Col. Gibson told of the credit brought to Canada by the carrying off of the Kolapore Cup at Bisley, and the fine showing of Canada's team on that occasion. The Colonel, while regretting the illness of Dr. Borden, gracefully alluded to the presence of Sir Richard Cartwright at this meeting.

The use of the new rifle, declared the Colonel, made it necessary that more caution should be taken on the ranges. The great distance which the new rifle carried made it imperative that this should be done. All would rejoice, said he, at the removal of ranges and the voting of supplies for those ranges. As to quarters for the Canadian team at Bisley he would say that quarters creditable to Canada were in course of erection, and would be occupied by the team next July. The site was unusually good and in a short time the highest flag pole in England would be planted there. The Ontario Government had contributed $500 for those new quarters, and he hoped other provinces would do the same.

Lieut.-Col. Burland seconded the motion for the adoption of the report, and spoke hopefully of the results expected from the use of the new rifle. A motion of thanks was moved by Lieut. Col. Henshaw to the Governor-General for the active interest he had taken in the association, and for his subscription of $500. This Major Sam Hughes supported, and the motion carried amidst applause.

His Excellency the Earl of Aberdeen peculiarly made reference to the vote of thanks. He was glad, he said, to be able to further the interests of the Canadian militia. He told of the qualities which went to make up a good rifle shot, and paid a fitting compliment to Canada's last year's Bisley team, and hoped that again in 1897 they would return with flying colors.

Major-General Gascoigne expressed regret at Dr. Borden's illness, which he said, accounted for the inability of the department to say exactly where the shooting should be done in August, and he thought that the Rideau ranges must be again used this year, but in 1898 he predicted new and better ranges.

The interests of the militia, said he, were furthered by this association. He himself had been much pleased with the work of officers and men. Discipline was an absolute necessity, and without it good results could not be obtained. Some remarks the Major-General made about the uniform of certain corps, which, he said in no way reflected credit on Canada's militia. All this he said as commander of the Dominion's forces.

Lieut.-Col. Massey thanked the Government for its assistance to the association, which had materially helped the militia.

The present Government was especially entitled to thanks for aiding in the erection of suitable quarters at Bisley.

Sir Richard Cartwright spoke of Dr. Borden as not only officially, but personally interested in our militia. He himself could not speak with authority of the Minister of Militia. The good old times of shoulder to shoulder and "charge bayonets," said Sir Richard, had gone forever. The infantry of the present time should be schooled in the art of skirmishing and sharpshooting. A large regular force could not be maintained in Canada, but a force made up of good rifle shots, with some outside contributions, could be kept up. Though it was not probable Canada's militia would be called on to fight on their own soil, they might find it necessary to show their loyalty to the Empire by taking up arms to fight abroad. Instruction in shooting was far more than pastime. Bodies of skilled riflemen had on many occasions put to rout well-disciplined troops, which, but for this skill in rifle shooting, would be far superior in force. Partisanship, he declared, had never been allowed to affect the militia, and such would still be the case.

Col. Prior had much to say in praise of Dr. Borden, for whom he moved a motion of sympathy.

Major Mason moved a vote of thanks to the Government for issuing free ammunition for Dominion rifle matches, and this Capt. Cartwright seconded.

Sir Donald Smith briefly responded. A new impetus, said he, would be given to the association and the militia as a whole to go on doing creditable work. He thought it right that a cup should be offered by Canada's representatives in England, for which reason he had decided to follow such a course.

Motions of thanks were made to those contributing funds to the association, to the Canada Club in England for offering a cup to the person making the highest aggregate score at Bisley, and the Metropolitan Rifle Club of England.

On motion of Sir Donald Smith, Hon. J. M. Gibson was unanimously re elected president of the association.

For the Province of Ontario Major Sam Hughes was re-elected vice-president; for Quebec, Robert Hamilton; New Brunswick, Lieut.-Col. Edwin B. Beer; Nova Scotia, Lieut.-Col. C. J. McDonald; Manitoba, Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald; British Columbia, Lieut.-Col. E. G. Prior; Prince Edward Island, Hon. A. A. McDonald

There was notice of motion given that at next meeting all ex-presidents and Ministers of Militia shall be made ex-officio members of council Few changes were made in the council.

At a meeting of the council, held immediately after, Lieut.-Col. Massey was elected chairman, in place of Lieut.-Col. Henshaw.

More Than They Can Accommodate.

Canada's request to be represented at the Queen's Jubilee by a regiment 600 strong cannot be entertained. The Colonial Secretary sent the following message to-day to the Governor-General:

Referring to your telegram of 11th April, I fear there would be serious if not insuperable difficulties in the way of providing accommodation for more than 200 troops from Canada While most anxious that the Dominion should be fully represented as a federation, I feel that this has been accomplished by raising her contingent to 200, as against from 20 to 100, which will be sent from other colonies. At the same time Her Majesty's Government most cordially recognize and appreciate the loyal and generous feeling which has prompted the offer of a large additional contingent, and only regret that circumstances do not admit of its being accepted. They are confident, moreover, that these sentiments will be shared by the entire British nation.

The report of Hon. T. M. Daly on immigration from Europe, presented to the House to-day, goes thoroughly into the subject. He recommends especial assistance to immigrants to reach this country and the loan to suitable settlers of a sufficient sum to give them a start in farming in the West. Mr. Daly thinks no loss could come from this plan, as the advance could be made a first lien on the land and belongings of the settler.

The Department of Justice has refused to cancel the Canadian license of the Massachusetts Benefit Assurance Association, against which a number of Canadian members protested.

From present appearances there is ample justification for Sir Oliver Mowat's measure authorizing compulsory retirement of judges. A correspondent, referring to the proposed age limit of 70, says: What about those who are below the 60's, and who are infirm and completely blind? Will they be left to adorn the sacred precincts of justice and administer the law to an enlightened community because they have not attained the number of years required by the projected act? I am told of a petition, influentially signed, forwarded lately to the Minister of Justice, complaining of an honorable gentleman, completely blind, who, notwithstanding such affliction, persists in presiding over courts of law in two important districts in the vicinity of the Capital. His pretext for holding the fort is that there is no provision in the law which can force him to resign. A few weeks since this learned luminary was holding court in some remote part of the country, when, to the melancholy diversion of those present, there sat on the bench a blind judge, and below the bench a deaf clerk, so that when the blind was speaking to the deaf the deaf could not hear him, and when the deaf showed the docket to the blind the blind could not see it. Only one thing was wanted to complete the farce—a dumb lawyer. Complaints have been repeatedly made, but apparently in vain.

The Government is pressing the County of Ottawa for the sum of $1682 the amount of the costs in connection with the calling out of the militia in aid of the civil power when the disturbance took place in the Township of Lowe in November, 1896. Mr. Power, for the Deputy Minister of Justice, has written the County Council, stating: "I am to add that unless this matter is arranged at once legal proceedings will be taken to enforce the claim, though the Crown would be unwilling to put the municipality to any unnecessary expense for costs. (Signed) A. Power."

Twelve members of the Council of the D. R. A. visited the suggested site of the new rifle range at Hull for Dominion matches, and unanimously condemned it, owing to its bad approaches, unattractive surroundings and unsuitable character for properly carrying on the work of the association. A communication embodying this view will be sent to the Minister of Militia.

SATOLLI FOR LEO'S SEAT.

The Cardinal Planning to be the Next Occupant of the Vatican—Pope Growing Weak.

Rome, April 14.—A meeting of Cardinals, convened by Mgr. Satolli, has just been held here. Its object is unknown, but it is common knowledge that Satolli wishes to be a candidate for the Papal chair when it is vacant. Leo's health is seriously weakening.

As baldness makes one look prematurely old, so a full head of hair gives to mature life the appearance of youth. To secure this and prevent the former, Ayer's Hair Vigor is confidently recommended. Both ladies and gentlemen prefer it to any other dressing.

A YANKEE LAWYER NABBED.

He is Charged With Having Secured Money by False Pretences.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 13.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Young arrested a United States lawyer named Campbell, who resides across the river, this afternoon. Campbell is charged with getting money under false pretences. William Behrens of the Rosli Hotel is the alleged victim. He cashed a cheque for Campbell for $20, and on presenting it at the bank found there was no money. This was several months ago, and since that time the police have been on the lookout for him. He was captured to-day just as he stepped off the bridge. It is thought Campbell is wanted in Welland for a similar offence.

DROPPED DEAD.

Dougall McGillivray Fell Down and Expired in a Collingwood Hotel.

Collingwood, April 14.—Dougall McGillivray of the 10th concession of Nottawasaga, a pioneer farmer, came to town to-day, and shortly after his arrival droped dead in the Arlington Hotel. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. He was 81 years of age and was well known throughout this district.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Ball, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

What all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure the worst chronic sold 25 cents.

Greatest in the World.

Loran E. Adams, Deep Brook, N. S., says, "I have taken Norway Pine Syrup with grand results. I had a very bad cough for five weeks and could get no relief, but after taking one box of Norway Pine Syrup I was entirely cured. It is the greatest cough medicine in the world."

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 359 George Street.

The best cough cure is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures coughs and colds

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. POLICE COURT.

A Batch of Cases Which Occupied the Attention of the Magistrate.

The police court was unusually busy this morning, and the cases were hustled through in short order.

The first disposed of was that of young Cresswell who was brought back yesterday by the Chief of Police from Niagara Falls. He has been wanted here for some time on a charge of stealing some clothing from Mr. James McGill, at the Huffman House. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

The next was a charge of being disorderly on the street, preferred against Dave Fleming. The evidence in this case was so contradictory that the magistrate adjourned it till to-morrow morning in order that further evidence may be adduced.

The case of Frank Tully was the last one. It seems that Tully had permission of John Douglass to exercise a horse last Friday afternoon, and after getting tired driving he thought he would see if he could sell the horse for Douglass, as the latter wanted to dispose of it. A buyer was found in the person of Hotelkeeper Rountree, who gave $5 for the animal. This Douglas failed to receive and he was not satisfied with the sale, so he asked the Chief's assistance to gain possession of the horse. This the chief tried to do. This morning after giving evidence Douglas stated that he felt himself satisfied with the deal, so Tully was discharged.

ART LOAN EXHIBITION.

The Residents of the Town and County to be Appealed to For the Loan of Historic Articles.

The proposed Loan Exhibition to be held by the local Historical Society in June is gradually taking shape.

The collections loaned permanently, as well as the articles loaned for the purpose of this exhibition, are coming in at a gratifying rate.

It is the intention of the society to appeal by circular to the residents of the town and country for the loan of articles of interest, where the interest arises from their age and relation to events of importance in either local or foreign history.

An Important Decision.

In a recent decision brought against a druggist in Lindsay for breach of the license act, the magistrate held that in order to enable a patient to obtain liquor a doctor's certificate must state the "name of the patient for whose use the liquor is obtained," and also that the liquor is for "medicinal purposes." These two points must appear on the face of the certificate, and as they did not so appear in the case in question the magistrate had to decide against the druggist, but as it was on a technical point, and the liquor was found to have been given in good faith, no fine was inflicted. In future doctors and druggists will be expects to observe the above requirements.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Sabin-Wolstenholme Nuptials Last Evening.

The wedding took place last evening of Miss Rose Sabin, daughter of Mr. J. J. Sabin, No. 26 Chamberlain street, to Mr. R. J. Wolstenholm.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father by Rev. W. J. Armitage, of St. John's church, in the presence of the near relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride wore a handsome travelling suit of navy blue, with garniture of pearls. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Julia Sabin, who wore a gown of navy blue, trimmed with velvet.

The groomsman was Mr. James Wolstenholm, brother of the groom.

During the evening a most inviting wedding dejeuner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Wolstenholm left later on for a bridal trip to the west.

IN THE INTERESTS OF LABOUR.

Mr. J. P. Loughrin, General Labour Organizer For the Dominion, to Discuss the Pulp Wood and Incidental Paper Industry in the Interests of Labour—To-morrow Night in the Council Chamber.

Mr. J. P. Loughrin, General Labour Organizer of the Dominion, is in town today and will to-morrow evening, at 7.30 o'clock, in the Council Chamber, discuss the importance of the pulp wood question in its relation to the employment of labour. His mission is a very important one and he is especially fitted for the discharge of it by special knowledge derived from personal experience. He was engaged for fourteen years in bush and forest ranging and has been all over the forest country from the Saugenay in the east to the Hudson Bay in the west and the head of Lake Superior—on snowshoes or on foot and he is, therefore, well qualified to know the pulp wood resources of Canada, which consists of spruce and poplar woods, extending in a broad belt, 500 miles wide, a distance of 2,000 miles. That is, our pulp wood area in one million square miles or sixty four millions of square acres. This immense spread of forest wealth if developed under proper conditions, so that Canadian labour shall get the full benefit of the development of such an industry, will yield a magnificent result. The capabilities of the development of the pulp wood industry and the allied industry of paper making are immense. The United States, it is claimed by Mr. Loughrin, expend much over one hundred million dollars a year for pulp alone, and the labour in connection equals thirty-eight millions and over a year.

Mr. Loughrin will, at the meeting to-morrow night, set forth these facts and amplify them in a manner to demonstrate most emphatically the necessity of taking action to secure to Canadian workingmen the advantages that will accrue by the development of the pulp wood industry.

A day or two ago the EXAMINER gave some prominence to the views of the citizens of Thessalon, Algoma district, in opposition to an export duty. With Mr. Loughrin's statement, both sides of the question will have been presented. In such a matter it is well to be in possession of all the aspects of the question in order to form a proper judgment.

There should be a large attendance at the meeting in the council chamber to-morrow night. Mr. Loughrin is full of his subject, and there will not be many important facts in connection with the pulp wood and pulp industry in relation to Canadian workingmen that will not be brought out. Let there be a large attendance.

THE CENTRAL PARK.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A correspondent in yesterday's issue calls attention to the disgraceful condition of Central Park. What about that monument, erroneously called a drinking fountain, on the east side? That monument has been there for thirteen years; as a tribute to one who fell in the Northwest Rebellion, it may answer a purpose, but its capabilities as a source of aqua pura are yet to be tested. But then, perhaps, our councillors never drink—water.

Some of these gentlemen have given a lame excuse in the past that there was no way to carry off the surplus water. That excuse will hold no longer, with a sewer directly in front.

A Bit of Good Advice.

The cry of dull times will never stop an up-to-date merchant from advertising. It shows him more the importance of advertising. He knows that the duller the times the more hustling, one way and another he must do to keep up his sales. He marks some goods lower—he keeps his store more attractive—he watches his customers closer—he keeps his clerks busier—his eye is on every part of his business—he is thoroughly wide awake and makes every effort in the direction to get the dollars that must be spent in stores somewhere, hence he advertises. This is one way, and the best way to attract the people to his store, he can do business, if he has the right goods at the right prices.

JUMPING ON JUVENIS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I deem it necessary to reply to the letter which appeared in Tuesday's EXAMINER, signed Juvenis. Doubtless the writer requires instruction yet and must be excused for the want of knowledge. Referring to his question, who or what is this Stony Lake Cottagers' Association anyway? Allow me to state that this association is comprised of highly respected citizens of the town of Peterborough who are anxious as cottage owners to protect those who really spend their holidays at Stony Lake for the benefit of their health against those who disturb the peace. Juvenis states that through work he is worn to a shadow and I think all our medical advisers would join with me in advising this young man to get all the sleep possible and less fun during night hours while he is spending his short vacation at Stony lake and do as the crusty cottagers (as he termed it) go in his manner like a dog with one eye open, but Juvenis had better close both eyes as he requires more rest than those who keep reasonable hours and are able to judge between right and wrong.

I am amused of the ignorance of "Juvenis" calling himself a musician and fond of musical enjoyment. Imagine being disturbed between one and two o'clock in the morning by blowing a hideous dinner horn under your bedroom window and at such an hour, and the shouting of young hoodlums besides. This is the delightful music "Juvenis" enjoys so much on the water at night.

This night prowling has caused many parents to regret that they gave their young people such liberties as to be out at all hours at night, and many respectable families have been disgraced through it, only to regret it when too late and doubtless would rather see those who were so fond of this so-called fun in the "cemetery" than in the penitentiary. The Cottagers' Association can congratulate themselves in having such an able president and one who takes a great interest in the welfare and protection of cottage owners at Stony Lake.

Yours, etc.,
CAMPER.

JUBILEE DEMONSTRATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Unless some members of the Jubilee Committee develope a streak of inventive genius the demonstration proposed for that day promises to die a natural death through inanition.

The citizens who were most anxious to have the demonstration carried out as a "citizens' celebration" have not attended any of the committee meetings since the one at which they succeeded in freezing the Canadian Foresters out of the field. At this meeting the enthusiasm appeared magnetic and "loyalty" speeches came from every quarter. As soon, however, as active committee work was shown to be essential to success the ardor suddenly cooled of those who were most anxious to have the citizens carry out the demonstration, and now, out of a committee of almost a hundred (with power to add to their numbers) a quorum of ten cannot be persuaded to assemble.

The Foresters when contemplating the celebration of the day, arranged for an afternoon on the Driving Park grounds. This, of course, was cancelled when the "Citizens" at a public meeting declared themselves desirous to arranging the programme for the day themselves. But the "citizens" apparently were not quite as level-headed as the Foresters, as they neglected entirely to make any arrangement for the grounds, and the announcement is now made that a race meet will be held here by the horsemen of the town.

Such a statement will naturally so complicate the plans of the Citizens' Committee that a meeting should be at once called to deal with the matter as it now stands. Arrangements should either be made at once for other grounds or the matter of an afternoon's sport dropped and the demonstration take the form of a parade of the military, civic bodies and societies.

Yours truly,
NIX.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

A Young Man From Hastings is the Victim.

On Monday, March, 22nd, Mr. Harry Bailey, son of Mr. J. J. Bailey, of Evart, Mich, and formerly of Hastings, was killed by lightning at Sandusky, Ohio.

He had only been eleven days from home when the sad news of his death came to his parents. He was but a child when he left here. He grew up to be much respected and was a member of M.E. church, treasurer of Evert Epworth League and secretary of the Sabbath school.

Expressions of the highest esteem in which he was held were many.

The church was beautifully decorated and the floral display was grand. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have the sympathy of many friends in the vicinity of Hastings, some of whom have gone through similar experiences and understand their sorrow.

A BICYCLE AND FISH STORY.

The Splendid Resources of the Rice Lake Fishing Grounds.

The following yarn comes from Rice Lake: A 'cyclist was wheeling one day along the shore of the lake in search of a place to fish, for he had heard that there had been some immense catches made there. Well, he was proceeding, when suddenly he felt the wind go from one of his tires, followed by a ripping sound and a pull which brought him to a standstill so suddenly as to almost throw him over the handle bars. Upon examination he found that the tire had caught in a rib projecting from what eventually proved to be the skeleton of a bass. Many attempts to repair the tire proved useless, being ripped half way round. Then the cyclist thought he would have a change. He brought out his line and tackle and tho' irritated began to fish in the lake with some success. After a time he was fortunate to catch an extra long but rather spare eel. A happy idea struck him. He set to work and carefully peeled the skin from his slippery captive, without making a puncture. He found it to fit the rim of the disabled wheel capitally. With the aid of a little cement he soon had an eel-skin tire rigged out which held wind admirably. The cyclist then sat down, contentedly lit his pipe, threw in his line and after catching a 50 pound maskinonge, wheeled to his home, 10 miles distant. The veracity of the yarn we will not vouch for, as the day in question was very dry.

STARTING THE "DRIVER."

The Rathbun Company are this season driving all of Gilmour & Co's timber on the Trent water and its tributaries to Trenton. There men are now at work driving on Squaw River, Deer River and Beaver Creek of the Trent waters, and on the Madawaska River and its tributaries, where a large contingent of men are employed, and Superintendent Thomas Callahan of Campbellford is kept busy.—Herald.

The Company's agents are this week settling with jobbers at Oce Hill, and from thence the go to Ormsby, Gilmour and Marmora. Next week they commence at Bancroft and proceed eastward.

The season's cust in the different places has not yet been computed but the output will be large.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

They are Meeting With Great Success in the Charlotte Street Church.

A large congregation availed themselves of the opportunity afforded them to hear Evangelist A. H. Ranton deliver his second lecture in the Charlotte street Methodist church last evening. The church was filled and a large number of draw-seats were appropriated for use. Mr. Ranton took the 13th chapter of St. Luke and 24th verse for his text: "Strive to enter in at the straight gate, for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter and shall not be able." Some people will say that it is so very difficult for one to enter in at the straight gate, said Mr. Ranton. Well, I answer it is, in one sense of the word, difficult, and in another sense of the word it is not difficult. "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life." We see by this verse that there is ample provision made on God's part. There are difficulties however, real and imaginative, which stand in the way of the sinner, who ought to turn to Christ.

Some persons say the straight gate is the golden rule, "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." You will remember when Nicodemus, mentioned in the 3rd chapter of John, came to Jesus by night and said "Rabbi we know that Thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him." "Jesus answered and said unto him, verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God," and again Christ told the rich young man to "sell all that thou hast and give it to the poor, and come and follow me." and when He was asked, "Lord, are there few that be saved," He answered in the words of the text.

In every kingdom above us, said Mr. Ranton, one has to strive to enter in the straight gate. Take for instance the kingdoms of music, painting, education and learning. To enter into any of these kingdoms one has to enter in at the the "straight gate" of close attention to study and application. The first difficulty a Christian has to face in giving himself to Christ is, the seeming destructive element in the claims of Christ. They say they are forced to give up things they enjoy in order to accept Christ. Christ wants to save everybody from things which are dangerous. When Christ told the young man to give all to the poor and follow him, he said, "Lord, I will follow Thee, but." That little word "but" made all the difference in the world. God's claims are supreme, and all others should be secondary. Peter gave his all and followed Christ. God says that to come to him you must leave the things which stand between you and Christ. He will reward you a hundred fold more in this world and ten thousand more in the next.

The second difficulty is the seeming unreality of spiritual things. There are things in the Bible, which because you do not understand you will not believe. We are told in the Bible that "if we confess our sins he is ready and willing to forgive us our sins." Too many of us look on religion as a matter of form. There are so many church members who have not the experience of their sins forgiven. If we recognise only two things—first, that there is a God, and secondly, that there is a principle of right and wrong, and pray to God to save us He will do it. Horace Buchnell recognised only these two things, and prayed to God to save Him, with the result that he was gloriously saved. Be downright in earnest with God.

The third difficulty which the would-be Christian had to encounter was the question, "How may I enter in at the strait gate?" The word of confession is only the work of a moment, but the work of building up a good Christian character is the work of a lifetime. Why not come to Him now? Upon Mr. Ranton asking this question quite a large number answered the qestion by going forward.

Mr. Ranton speaks on "Bible Views of Heaven," to-night.

And they crucified Him and parted His garments, casting lots. And, sitting down, they watched Him there and set up over His head His accusation: This is Jesus the King of the Jews. There were two thieves crucified with Him, one on the right and one on the left. And Jesus, when he had cried with a loud voice, yielded up the Ghost, and behold the veil of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake and the rocks rent, and the graves were opened, and many bodies of the saints which slept, arose and came out of their graves after His resurrection, and went into the holy city and appeared unto many.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....
Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 25 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors reated on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.
A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 90 cts., it has since sold at 86 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $8. CONDEMNED.

When an innocent man is condemned for any crime he doesn't lose hope. His lawyers appeal from one court to another. They are bound to save him, if he can be saved. It is the same way with a good doctor when his patient seems condemned to death by disease.

But doctors make mistakes sometimes; they lose heart too soon. After they have tried everything they know and the patient is no better, they think there is nothing more to be done. They don't always get at the root of the disease. They frequently give a patient up to die of consumption, and are afterwards surprised to see him get strong and well again.

Mrs. W. B. Duncan, of Arlington, Phelps Co. Mo., writes: "My husband took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when he was (as he thought) almost into consumption, and we were very thankful that such a medicine could be found. I wish all persons troubled with cough would take it. Long may the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' be made. I shall always recommend and praise these medicines."

All lung and bronchial diseases are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because it supplies the system with healthy blood. It puts the vital forces into action and fills the circulation with the life-giving red corpuscles which builds up solid, muscular flesh and healthy nerve-force.

As a medical author, Dr. Pierce holds an eminent place in his profession. His great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" is one of the standard medical works of the English language. Nearly 700,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. A paper-bound copy will be sent for the cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

MURDERED AND BURNED.

Edward Reynolds and His Family Perished in the Ruins of Their Home.

Pascoag, R. I., April 14.—The community about this place was greatly startled early this morning when news was received of what is believed to be a tragedy at Oakland, a small farming village a few miles from here, where, at about 3 o'clock this morning, the farm buildings occupied by Edward Reynolds and family were burned, and in the ruins of which at least two bodies are thought to be buried. Evidences which lead to the supposition that the fire was the result of arson after murder had been committed were also discovered, and Mrs. Reynolds' body, mutilated and blood-stained, was taken from her bed by those who discovered the fire and were the first to enter the house. They found copious blood stains, and what is believed to be traces of kerosene about the bedroom. They were prevented from making a thorough search of the premises by the heat and smoke. A 20-year-old daughter of Reynolds, Reynolds himself and Martin Morey, who boarded with the family, are missing. The buildings were totally destroyed, entailing a loss of about $2000. At an early hour this morning the ruins had not cooled sufficiently to permit a search among them for the missing persons, but this will be begun as soon as possible.

Later.—Martin Mowry, the boarder who was missing from the scene of the Reynolds tragedy, was found hiding in a barn near Harrisville this forenoon, and was at once placed under arrest on suspicion of having been involved in the affair.

It was several hours before those who were at the scene could continue their search. At daylight a body was seen lying near the centre of the ruins, and as soon as possible it was removed. It was that of Sylvina Reynolds, the 20-year-old daughter of the family. A short time later Reynolds' body was also recovered.

APPROACHING A CRISIS.

British Marine and Shipbuilding Engineers Cannot Get Things Settled.

London, April 14.—The dispute between the British marine and shipbuilding engineers and their employers is rapidly approaching a crisis. A conference was held at the Westminster Palace Hotel to-day at which an attempt was made to reconcile the disputes relating to working machines, payment for trial trips and the appointment of a local committee for the settlement of disputes.

The employers rejected the proposals of the engineers in regard to working machines, and a great strike, which will affect the Glasgow, Belfast, Manchester and Newcastle districts, now seems inevitable.

JERSEYS IN AMERICA.

COL. L. S. HARDIN WRITES OF HIS FAVORITE CATTLE.

How the Lawn Pet of English Cattle Has Developed Into a Money-Making Breed in This Country—The World's Fair Tests Recalled.

When the Jersey was first brought to this country, some fifty years ago, she came in her English character of a lawn pet. For many years she existed only in small herds and was prized only for the abundant yellow cream she gave for household purposes. After a number of wealthy gentlemen had gathered small herds on their country places, a few of them associated together and formed the American Jersey Cattle Club, and as time went by they met each other in friendly rivalry in all the fair rings of the country. From beautiful appearance they began a boast of performance, which led them to test their cows with the churn as butter makers. The reported performances of old Niobe, Belle of Scituate and others startled the credulity of those who owned Jerseys, but also led them to test their favorites, with similarly astonishing results. It was soon found that a good Jersey cow, if properly and abundantly fed, would greatly surpass the limit ordinarily set for the cow's butter production.

These facts aroused the ambition of the wealthy Jersey breeders and they set their managers to work to study up the art of formulating rations and pushing cows with great quantities of food, until they produced records that are the marvel and in some instances the subject of reasonable doubt—even to this day. The fame of these records and the efforts of owners of other breeds of dairy cattle to equal them, culminated in one grand trial of strength, or "battle of the breeds," during the World's Fair at Chicago.

The story of that ninety-day struggle has now passed into history as by far the most elaborate, complete, exhaustive an dexpensive cow test that has ever been known. Everything was in the hands of men scientifically equipped, and the work was done with the utmost fairness. The Jerseys won, with a good margin to spare, in every trial, whether it was for the economical and greatest quantity of milk, butter or cheese, and that without regard to her smaller size. She did the work and the only point her rivals could claim was that they put on more flesh during the trial than she did. Under the most enlightened teachings of modern dairy science, this last fact is an additional feather in her cap, for the experiment stations have proven over and over again that cows diverting food to putting fat on theid bodies are not as economical milk makers as those that only carry enough flesh to keep in good working form.

JERSEY BULL, ST. LAMBERT OF PROSPECT, 43211.

The only men who still doubt the economy of Jersey blood for milk production are those who sell milk. They advocate the cow for quantity without regard to quality. The system of selling milk in glass bottles is now so rapidly superseding the old tin cans in cities, and the quality is so easily detected by the bulk of cream in those bottles, that the "skim milk cow" is surely doomed. The glass bottle and the Babcock test are the Jersey's friends.

In the accompanying beautiful portrait, engraved from a photograph, we present to our readers a noble specimen of the Jersey breed: St. Lambert of Prospect, 43211. He was bred by William Rolph. His sire was One Hundred Per Cent., and his dam Cheerful of St. Lambert II. As the property of Messrs. Miller and Sibley, he has had a brilliant career in the show ring for so young a bull, rising two years of age, and is destined to stand at the head of their famous herd.—Col. L. S. Hardin, in Orange Judd Farmer.

A Successful Ontario Dairyman.

The number of my cows for the year 1896 was 12. I made cheese during the summer months and butter in the winter. My cows gave for the summer months 58,800 pounds of milk, being 4900 pounds per cow, and during winter 37,200 pounds of milk, being 3100 pounds per cow, a total of 96,000 pounds for the year, and 8000 per cow, which gave me, after deducting all the cost of grain feed for the year, the sum of $58.59 per cow. The cheese was sold at 8.36c per pound and the butter at 20c per pound. Twelve cows was the average number of the year. They all dried off and came fresh into milk during the year, the average length of the milking season 10 1-2 months. I have increased my number to 18, and I am now making a pound of butter at a cost of 6 3-4c per pound, and I am selling the same at 20c, which leaves a good margin for profit.—William Parkinson, Jarvis, Ont., in Harold's Dairyman.

Mares vs. Geldings.

Are you working geldings in your farm teams? Try mares in their place and see how much better they will do. Mares are quicker, with much more endurance, and properly handled can raise a colt every year. In this time of cheap mares and expensive carriage horses, it will pay farmers to buy good mares and breed them to good stallions. Be sure to use a good stallion, for then you are fairly certain, with a good mare, to have a colt that will bring in good money.—American Agriculturist.

A splendid Medicine.

DEAR SIRS,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

Some Points in Feeding

The four factors that make success in the dairy are the feed, the cow, the methods and the man. All these have changed in the past few decades, and for the better. With the exception of ensilage, no great additions have been made to the list of feeding stuffs, but a knowledge of the exact use of each single material is much more widely disseminated than ever before. Notwithstanding all that may be justly said against the book farmer, we must acknowledge that whatever advances we have made in breeding rest largely upon the results obtained in the laboratory. We have learned that the fat in the milk is as certainly derived from the starch, sugar and fat, as from protein, and we no longer furnish protein in excess of the amount required to maintain the vital functions, and to supply the casein of the milk. The aim of the feeder should be to feed as much of the carbo-hydrates, in addition, as the cow can be made to eat. The quantity of protein a food contains may be taken largely as a measure of its food value. The quantity of fat and carbo-hydrates that it contains may be said to measure its heat value. As far as keeping the body warm is concerned, the value of food may be determined by burning it and measuring the heat. As a unit of measure for this purpose, the amount of heat required to raise a pound of water 4 degrees is taken. This is called a calory.—Prof. Smith, in Country Gentleman.

The latest results of pharmaceutical science and the best modern appliances are availed of in compounding Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Hence, though half-a-century in existence as a medicine, it is fully abreast of the age in that goes to make it the standard blood-purifier.

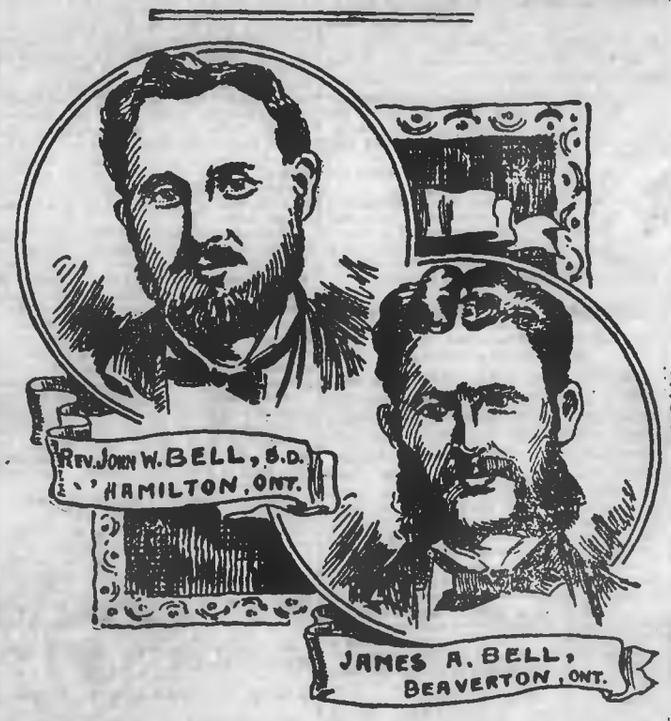
BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.



James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognised by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

BORN OF THE NEW ERA

AN ACTUALITY WHICH IS APT TO BECOME LARGELY DUPLICATED.

How a College-Made Farmer Went to Work to Build an Up-to-Date Barn—The Materials He Required and His Plans in Detail.

G. F. D. of Ogdensburg thus writes in Hoard's Dairyman: I was brought up on a farm and took a course in an agricultural college with the full intention of becoming a farmer, but circumstances rather changed my bent and I took a college course and afterwards went into the newspaper and printing business, in which I have continued twenty years.

Last year the old farm of 340 acres came into my hands. I thought I would sell it, as it is 150 miles away from my present home and I could not give it required personal attention. It was situated in the southern part of Madison County, New York, in an excellent dairy district. I offered it together with twenty-five head of choice milch cows for $5000 and afterwards for $4500. There was no waste land. On the farm was fifty acres of good timber. It was a mile and a half from any railroad station where milk is now shipped to New York. Under the old pasturage-hay system, it has kept fifty cows besides horses and young stock. But the buildings were in bad condition and I could not get an offer. One would think that land in a fine section of New York would readily sell for that figure, without an animal or a building upon it; but you can judge of the depression that exists in the industry by my failure to dispose of the place.

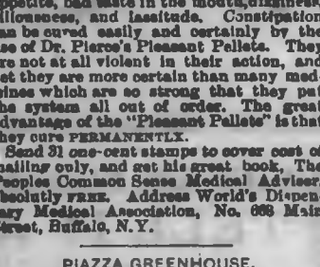
I concluded to keep it, rather than give it away, as I had a good tenant, so I laid out plans for new buildings this season. The old buildings were not convenient even if it had been possible to repair them, so a new site was selected, and a warm, comfortable, roomy house was built and a barn 36x100 feet. The lower storey of the barn is laid out for fifty cows, allowing three feet for each. A drive way of eleven feet is allowed for cleaning the stable. The cows head out and are fastened by the swinging chain stanchion. Cows are separated from each other by partition from front of manger running half way, but each cow has separate manger and side of barn. The wall runs down below frost and laid in mortar a foot above ground. Earth is filled in to top of wall inside of barn and the floor planked. The side of stable is of two thicknesses of matched pine with paper between. The height of the stable is eight feet and the floor above is laid with matched boards. In one corner is a silo 14x17 feet, 26 feet deep. On the other side from silo is a stable for four horses, separated from cow stable by sliding door. The cow stable is lighted by ten windows two by four. Water from a spring is brought to tank inside of barn, but not taken to mangers. The sides of stable are supported by 2x7 inch studding. The posts to barn are 6x6 inches, 16 feet long, commencing on second floor. This is the largest timber in the barn, except the girders above stable, which are 8x12. The sills are two pieces 2x7 and the plates of stable and at eaves are two pieces 2x6 spiked together. The bents are framed as follows:

The braces a a, are 4x6, and b b are 2x8. Of the latter there are two on each side of bent, on both sides of posts and girders. All braces are well spiked, except at c, where bolts hold the braces to the posts. My contractor expressed doubts about a barn standing with such light timber and with such frame, but after it was completed and passed through a great gale, he admitted that it was the stiffest frame barn he ever saw, and there was not a tremble to it. The plan allows a clear space throughout the length of barn without a beam. There are two driveways to the upper storey. It is sided with matched pine. I have never believed that it was necessary to put so large nor so many timbers in a barn. This barn was shingled with the best cedar shingles, costing $3 per thousand by the carload. The total cost of structure, painted with one coat, hiring everything done and buying every foot of lumber, was less than $1300.

The cows, taken from a damp, dark underground, cold stable, plainly show their delight in getting into such light, airy, and comfortable quarters. I am convinced that I will make big interest on my money in the saving of feed alone. I do not see why I cannot make good interest on the farm as it would properly be valued. I think if many business men would invest their surplus in home farms instead of western mortgages, they would be better off. They would certainly be safer.



I believe that more money can be made in buying eastern farms at present prices than in anything else. At any rate I am going to hang on to the old farm for a while and take my chances.

Hoard's, in commenting on the above, says: If we are not much mistaken this barn will be many times duplicated during the next few years, with the possible exception that the centre driveway may be narrowed to eight feet and the feeding alleys widened.

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

PIAZZA GREENHOUSE.

How to Utilize Porches for Both Pleasure and Profit.

Thousands of farm houses have piazzas upon the sunny side that might be utilized for both pleasure and profit in the winter. Such utilization, moreover, would entail no great expense outside of the small amount of home carpentering that would be required. There are two or three points to be considered when making a plant room of a piazza. First, as to floors. The ordinary piazza has no tight underpinning to keep out the cold. Usually it has only lattice work, while the floor, also, is usually more or less open. It would be no great trouble to lay a new matched floor over the few feet of space to be occupied by the plant room. Then cover the lattice work around the base of the piazza with heavy, resin-sized or tarred building paper, tacking it tightly and bank with evergreen brush. Now, as to the outer walls. The greater part must of course, be of glass, but it is not advisable to have the sash extend to the floor. From the piazza rail down let the wall be of matched boarding. Along the front this should be screwed to the inside of the rail. Sash to fit any opening can now be bought very cheap. It is desirable that communication with this plant room be from a living room rather than by a hall door, so it may be found desirable to cut down a window and make a door of it. This will obviate the necessity of having a door in the outside temporary petitions.

The heating of such a plant room can be done in a number of ways, but the simplest and most satisfactory for the average farmhouse will probably be by the use of an oil stove. These little sitting room oil heaters have been so greatly improved and made so reasonable in price that they will be found wonderfully convenient for just such use as this. Care should be taken, however, to get a make in which the flame will not "crawl up" and smoke, if left by itself. The accompanying illustration gives a suggestion as to the making of a plant room upon a piazza. Of course, piazzas differ in shape, but the same principle of treatment will apply to nearly all cases. Make all as tight as possible, then an oil stove will give sufficient heat to keep the plants in health.—American Agriculturist.

A STOCK BARN.

A Canadian One That Is Very Inexpensive to Build.

The stock barn illustrated is situated on the farm of Lewis T. Page, in the County of York, Ont., says The London Farmer's Advocate. The barn proper, which is 53 feet by 77 feet, contains two drive floors, two granaries, and three mows, the large center one being filled half from each floor. The two silos, 10x12 and 10x15 feet, take up a portion of the small mow. The chutes, marked in Fig. I, are for feeding the horse and putting down straw, etc. The horses' racks are perpendicular, which prevents dirt falling into their manes. T D in Fig. I, represent trap doors to root house and stable beneath.

The walls of the basement are eight feet high, built of concrete made of one part Queenston cement to six of gravel. A quantity of field stone was also worked into the center of the wall.

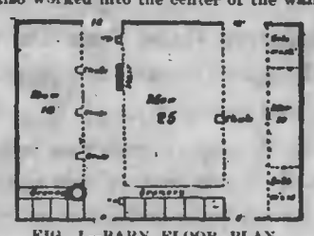

FIG. I.—BARN FLOOR PLAN.

The silos, cistern, water tank, troughs for watering cows and horses, and floors are all made of cement. The work was done by Mr. Page and his help. There is a large cistern beneath the approach to the barn, with a pipe in the bottom connecting it with a tank in the basement which is two feet deep, two feet wide, and twelve feet long. A gas pipe connects this with a cement trough in front of the cows. This is built in connection with the bottom of the feed box. The top of the trough is on a level with the bottom of the box. The plank that forms the side of the feed manger next the cows extends over the trough, and a board leading from the top of this to the outer edge of trough encloses it all in except a small opening at the side of stall for each cow to drink out of. The troughs of the different stables are connected with gas pipe. The inflow of water through a fine wire screen is regulated by a float in tank marked F in cut. This tank extends into a small concrete milk room marked M R in cut. The milk is kept in this room in summer. The first cost of this milk room and water supply was very little, and it runs itself now and gives perfect satisfaction. The silos extend to the roof. About one-third of their cost was saved by using the walls of the basement on two sides as part of silo walls. The total cost of the whole structure in which cement was used was $275, less the gravel and stone, which were found on the farm.

The horse stalls are five feet wide and eight feet long. The mangers consist of boxes, which pull out into the feed room to receive the oats and chaff. All the hay and straw is fed from the floor above. The horse water trough marked W T is supplied from a spring well just outside the wall.

The cow stalls are double, seven feet wide and five feet four inches long from manger. The gutters behind the cattle are fourteen inches wide and seven inches deep. A three-foot pas-age connects the different stables.

There are four square ten-inch ventilators reaching from basement to roof, one at each side and each end. There are also a number of two-inch tile passing through the wall near the top, and also near the bottom, about fifteen feet apart. The ventilation system is very satisfactory, as Mr. Page claims that he has not had a sick horse or cow during the two years he has used this barn. He considers the cement floors as being far ahead of any other sort he has ever seen.

"Worth Makes the Bicycle; Want of it, the Scrap Heap."

With some the Bicycle is a luxury—With others it has become a necessity—With thousands the buying of a wheel means careful economy to gather the money—With all the investment is worth being careful about. Some wheels cost too much—many to little. It may be guaranteed—but guarantees are easily evaded, and after all the wheel is made for use—not to be continually sent in for repairs. In opening up a Bicycle department we made a very careful survey of the market, taking the advice of old riders, etc. Finally we Selected Those From the Oldest Bicycle Manufacturing Concerns in the World—those that had passed the experimental stage of construction years ago—those whose wearing qualities had been fully tested by actual experience. We found the names and makes of wheels this season, legion—many concerns that used metal, be it boiler plate or type,—every little concern that could scrape together enough money to buy a brazer and a bit of tubing, were foisting on the market a brand new wheel—guaranteed for one year—nicely enameled and plated—that was to revolutionize the wheel trade because some carpenter, stone mason or farmer (who had never learned the first principals of mechanism) had struck a "brilliant" idea which was going to change the laws of propulson and friction—never knowing that men of 20 and 30 years experience in bicycle construction had tried the same thing years before. and discarded it as useless. Bicycle buyers considering their own interests should give such concerns a very wide berth. In selecting wheels from "long time" makers there is a solidity about their guarantee that covers not only one year's wear but many, and satisfies every right thinking man.

We Give the People of Peterborough a Choice of Wheels From $45.00 to $125.00

Made by the Oldest and Most Reliable Bicycle Makers in the World.

"BEESTON HUMBER" Made in Beeston, Notts, Eng. — 30 years manufacturing. Won 29 Gold Medals. Admittedly the best product in Cycle construction which inventive genius, precise methods, skilled mechanics and unlimited facilities have produced—Not Cheap, but Good.

"ROYAL ENFIELD" — Made by the Royal Enfield Arms Co'y., Redditch, England. 23 years manufacturing bicycles. Best nichel steel tubing, patented hardened balls and fittings, that files can make no impression on. Of thorough finish and graceful lines. The most easy running wheel in the world.

"SKYLARK" — Hand-made throughout by the Dunlop Cycle Co., of Coventry, England, patentees of the famous Dunlop tires. If any specified part of this wheel is broken by accident or design it will be re-placed Free of Cost.

"MONARCH" — Made by the Monarch Cycle Co'y., of Chicago, has all the qualities of any of the high-grade American wheels, and has some splendid points of superiority. Dust-proof, self-lubricating and ball-retaining patent hub. Not a bolt or nut in it to work loose. Flush joints. Tubing made in Birmingham, England, to the company's order.

"NIGHT HAWK" — A strictly high-grade English wheel made on American lines. Ball-retaining patent barrel hub, with a three-point contact bearing—very strong. The strongest wheel in the market for $75 cash which it is possible to get. Made by the Griffith's Cycle Corporation, Headquarters, Coventry, England.

"LEADER" — Warranted English Wheel, made after the Humber patterns, all the latest improvements. Very strong and easy running Price $70.00.

"COLUMBUS" — A special wheel made of English steel tubing. Very strong and very neat, flush reinforced joints throughout, fitted with any tire or any saddle you need. Adjustable handle bars of steel or wood, etc. Cash price $58. This is undoubtedly the best wheel to be bought anywhere for the price. Was made to sell for $100.00.

"DUKE" — A splendid English Wheel, made by the Griffiith's Corporation, of Coventry. Very strong and a wheel that is bound to give good wear. Price $50.00.

"DEFIANCE" — A High Grade American Wheel, made by the Monarch Bicycle Co'y., of Chicago. Up-to-date in every respect. Last year this wheel sold for $85, we offer this season's make for $60.00.

"FAY" — Latest improved Boys' and Girl's Wheel. Adjustable handle bars, large tubing, barrel hubs, etc., made strong for boys and girls to rough it with. $40 and $45.

TO DIVERT THE ROUTE.

Port Hope Wants the T.V.O. to Pass Through That Town.

Port Hope is now completely wedded to the scheme of diverting the proposed route of the Trent Valley Canal in order that it may enter Lake Ontario at that point. A citizens' committee has already been formed for the purpose of forwarding the scheme and T. Dixon Craig, M.P., will arrange for them to interview the Government.

The extent to which the residents of that town are interested in the idea is seen by a perusal of the appended letter to Mr. Stanley Patterson, of Port Hope, from a former resident of that town:

DEAR MR. PATTERSON,—I observe that at the last meeting of your town council a deputation was named to wait upon the Government and lay before them the advisability of having a survey made and report upon the possibility of diverting the Trent Valley Canal from the present intended route to Trenton and the Bay of Quinte, to Lake Ontario via Bewdley and Port Hope.

Now, if this scheme is at all feasible, and I think it is, it is a most important matter for Port Hope, and not a stone should be left unturned to accomplish it. The Government may, on the ground of economy, decline to have a survey and report made. If so it would be well for Port Hope and other localities interested to be in a position to offer to have an independent survey made, and if favourable get the Government pledged to at least consider it. This will be a point gained and will give time to work the matter up. If, however, anything is to be accomplished politics and all those little petty jealousies which have been a curse to the town up to the present, must be thrown to the winds,and a united and vigorous effort made to carry the scheme to a successful issue.

If this scheme could be accomplished, and you could in some way get a connection with the C. P. R. as some point to compete with the G.T.R., you would have a live city instead of our quiet, old town. The harbor, which is now practically a dead letter as far as revenue is concerned, would within a short time be a valuable asset, and within a few years would pay off the town debt. There is no town in Canada more favourably situated. You have the finest harbour on the north shore, and if once you could divert a portion of the North and Northwest trade to the town, and make it a railroad competing point the story would be told and things would boom. The stake is large and well worth an effort to secure, so I trust you will one and all buckle in with a will and try, at least, what a united effort will do.

Very truly yours,

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Two new freight circulars have been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway. The first states that grain, flour, meal, millfeed, peas, beans, hay and straw in carloads may be consigned to Toronto or Montreal for inspection or change of destination, or for orders, and may be reshipped without breaking bulk at the through rate from the original shipping point to destination, plus one cent per hundred pounds, provided the stop-over stations are on the direct route between the original point of shipment and the final destination in Ontario, Quebec, or the Maritime Provinces. Forty-eight hours will be allowed at the stop-over point for the placing of orders, after which one dollar per car per day will be charged for car storage. Grain for milling purposes, carried at the special milling tariff rates, will not be entitled to the stop-over privilege. Grain though way-billed for export or consigned through to United States points, which may be stopped at Toronto or Montreal for the purpose of inspection only, will not be subject to the stop-over charge. Commencing to-day, freight agents of the Grand Trunk are authorized to accept freight, except perishable, for Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, and Lakes Huron and Superior. The first boat is expected to leave Montreal about the 24th inst. Last year's rates will apply this year.

CHATHAM IN A WALK

Brantford and London Beaten Out of Sight.

A PLURALITY OF NEARLY 4000

George H Orr Elected President and T. A. Beamant of Ottawa Captures the Chairmanship of Racing Board—Peterboro and Winnipeg After the Meet for '98.

Toronto, April 17.

The C.W.A. meet controversy is over for the year, and Chatham gets the plum in the easiest sort of fashion. The Maple City surprised themselves and rolled up a plurality of nearly 4000 votes. Brantford's orator created a laugh when he declared that London was not seriously in it, and later on the ballots proved that Brantford was hardly in the running..

The contest was conducted in a most fair manner, and the true sporting spirit of the wheelmen was displayed when Brantford and London made the vote unanimous. The winners are truly grateful for the prize, as the following note from Meet Secretary J. F. Cairns to the Sporting Editor shows:

"Permit me through your columns to thank publicly on behalf of the Chatham Cycle Club all our friends who stood by us so nobly in the recent contest. Coming as comparative strangers, we made many most pleasing acquaintances among the members of the C.W.A., and formed many friendships, which we will be sure in time to come to renew with the greatest pleasure. As regards the outcome of the contest, I may say that, while we never figured ourselves out of the running, we scarcely had the assurance to look for such an overwhelming victory. We were agreeably surprised as to the size of the majority, and can only thank most heartily the kind friends who helped us, and assure them that, on the occasion of their visit next July, we will do our level best to prove ourselves worthy of the confidence thus placed in us."

T. A. Beamant of Ottawa was chosen chairman of the Racing Board. A. E. Walton ran a good second, and was afterwards elected as a member of that committee.

The vice-presidency resulted in favor of Mr. Wells of Waterloo, who justly earned the position.

Provincial race championships were instituted, but they would have none of the gold brick scheme.

The meeting of delegates was called for 9 a.m., in the Toronto Athletic Club gymnasium, but it was after 10 before the Credential Committee made their report. Then President Robertson called the meeting to order.

Mr. Donley explained that owing to some club oversight the Wanderers' vote was tabled as 85 members, when their correct representation should be 97, and it was accordingly placed at that figure.

The Executive Committee's report was amended on motion of Messrs. A. F. Webster and G H Orr to the effect that hereafter the C.W.A. take 10 per cent. of the gross receipts as its share of the annual race meet.

Mr. Ryckman supplemented his splendid rights and privileges report with an eloquent plea for the active support of cyclists everywhere for the furtherance of their rights.

President Robertson referred to his own report as a gem, and it was well taken. The Hamilton man made a model chairman, and kept good order throughout.

On being declared president for the next year, George H. Orr returned modest thanks. He did not want to say much now, but hoped they would hear from him during the current twelve months. He promised to serve the wheelmen to the best of his ability.

The different C.W.A. district consuls and representatives were declared selected, as follows:

Huron District: Chief Consul, H G Rothwell, Walkerville; R P Cory, Petrolea; A E Horn, Chatham; H C McBride, London; J D Lamont, Chatham; G S Heyward, Chatham; D Mackenzie, Sarnia; R H McConnell, St. Thomas; W M McVicar, Goderich; G H Hinch, Aylmer; F Rosser, Alisa Craig; W J Perkins, Ridgetown; R W Evans, London Meteors; C W Ellis, Forest City; W Climie Listowel.

Sherbroke District: Chief Consul, T L Baldwin, Costicook; T T Cartwright.

On motion of Messrs. E. B. Ryckman and H. B. Donly, it was adopted that, having regard to the long and glorious reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, and the desirability of preserving as a holiday May 24, the Canadian Wheelmen's Association desire to place on record their hearty approval of the measure now before the Dominion Parliament, proposing to make May 24 a perpetual holiday in honor of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, and that copies of this be sent to Hon. Senator Macdonald, the promoter of the bill, and to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Ryckman's motion supporting Mr. Casey's bicycle barrage bill, was also unanimously adopted.

President Robertson decided to allow only one speaker from each place, each to have a 10 minutes' talk. The three gentlemen entrusted to the task all acquitted themselves creditably, and it is not the fault of Messrs. Walker and Davis that they lost the races. They all promised pretty girls and good beer for the boys, and each was cheered to the echo by his partisans.

FIGHTING IN THE EAST

Greek Irregulars and the Turkish Forces.

MANY OF THE LATTER WERE KILLED

The National League Has Ordered a Retreat Unless Assistance Comes From the Grecian Regulars—War Predicted in Three Days—Mr. Gladstone Writes Another Letter.

Larissa (headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly), April 16.—Severe fighting has occurred in Macedonia between the Greek irregulars and the Turkish forces. The column of irregulars sent to the right from Pigavitza, after having invested and captured Sitevon, continued its advance towards Kritudes. Plinia and Kourduzi, with orders to hold Kourduzi at all costs, as it commands the right approach to Grevena, the objective point. This column, commanded by chiefs Zermos and Luzzo, attacked Kritudes on Tuesday. The place was defended by two companies of Turks. After a severe fight, during which 80 Turks were killed and 25 were taken prisoners, the position was captured by the Greeks, who also obtained possession of 150 rifles and a quantity of cartridges.

The insurgents, however, have suffered a severe check in another direction. A strong force of Turkish troops, from Mecovon, with a number of mountain guns, advanced on Krania, which had previously been captured by the Greeks, and attacked the 400 irregulars of Greece, who occupied an entrenched position. It is reported that the fighting was ferocious on both sides. The insurgents, eventually, were compelled to retreat north to the mountains. Some of them, however, succeeded in breaking through the Turkish lines and escaped to Baltino, the town just across the frontier, in Macedonia, first captured by the Greek irregulars, and used by them as a depot for provisions and ammunition.

The accounts given by the refugees of the Turkish losses are believed to be exaggerated. They say that 265 Turks were killed, while the irregulars only had eight men killed and 17 wounded. The leader of the Greeks operating in that direction, Chief Milonas, was among the wounded and returned later into Greek territory with a number of the refugees. One of the latter says that a portion of the Turkish force was composed of irregulars, whose dress resembles that of the Greek insurgents. This, it appears, enabled the Turkish force to execute a flank movement unheeded by the leaders of the Greeks. The refugee referred to blames the Greek leaders for badly handling their men.

All the refugees bore traces of having experienced great fatigue and it is reported that the Ethnike Hetairia, or National League, has ordered the Greek irregulars to retreat into Greek territory, regarding further bloodshed as useless, unless the regular army of Greece supports the irregulars.

The Crown Princess has arrived here to take part in the work of the ambulance corps.

It is thought probable that Prince Constantine, the Crown Prince, and commander in chief of the Greek forces, will shortly move his headquarters to a more central position near Zarkos.

There is a feeling of great satisfaction here at the declarations made by Premier Delyannis in the Greek Chamber of Deputies.

Three hundred Hungarian horses, intended for cavalry remounts, were landed at Volo yesterday and are being forwarded to Trikhala.

FROM TURKISH HEADQUARTERS.

The Belief is That the Greek Irregulars are in League With the Government.

Elassona, (headquarters of the Turkish army in Macedonia), Thursday evening, April 15 (delayed in transmission.)—The representative of the Associated Press at the Turkish headquarters has just seen a prisoner who was captured by the Turks during the fighting which has taken place with the Greek irregulars. The man was dirty, wore tattered clothes, and had on his head a helmet upon which was the badge of the Ethnike Hetairia, the national league of Greece. He declared he belonged to a band of irregulars which left Trikhala after receiving an ovation from the inhabitants of that place, under the command of a captain and two lieutenants, of the Greek regular army, and was accompanied by a medical officer, who was wounded. This expedition, the prisoner added, was organized by officers of the Greek regular army, and was openly ordered to invade Turkey, not to harm the villagers, and to fight the Turkish troops only.

After these statements it is difficult to deny that the Greek irregulars were organized with the knowledge of the Greek authorities. This confirms the enquiries made on this subject by Seyfoulah Bey, an officer on the staff of Edham Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, formerly an attache of the Turkish Legation at Athens, and consequently familiar with the personal appearance of many Greek officers, some of whom he recognized among the insurgents.

The whole matter appears to form the basis for a grave accusation against Greek good faith.

The representative of the Associated Press has visited the greater part of the frontier line in this district, and after inspecting all the passes is convinced the Turks hold such strong positions that the Greeks will never be able to enter Turkish territory in force. In fact, the correspondent cannot even imagine the Greeks will make an attempt to do so, while, on the other hand, the Turkish commander-in-chief could send a mass of troops into Greece by several routes and easily capture Larissa.

No Turkish War Party.

London, April 16.—The Times' correspondent at Constantinople denies that there is any effective Turkish war party. He says that the Sultan, the Seraskierat (Ministry of War) and some of the other ministers are strongly opposed to active hostilities with Greece.

THE ENGLEDUE AGREEMENT.

Much ado has been made—for political effect—over the agreement of the Ontario Government with the Engledue Company, of British capitalists, by which 49,000 acres, not 64,000 as incorrectly stated, are conceded to the company for exploration purposes of a mineral character. In Northern Ontario there are thirty-five million acres of mineral lands, of which twenty millions are yet unexplored. The object of the concession, as stated, is to procure systematic exploration of our mineral lands, in order to attract attention to our mineral wealth and consequently to attract British capital for its development. The plan thus adopted by the Government has been employed in several other countries with good results. In these countries much larger tracts than that conceded to the Engledue Company have been appropriated for exploration purposes. The effect of this deal will be to attract the attention of British capital and if our mineral lands are as rich as we are led to believe, large sums of British capital that is likely to otherwise find its way to South Africa will be diverted to the mineral fields of new Ontario. Not only is the agreement correct in principle but it is timely. The disturbed state of South Africa at present will naturally make capital shy and, with the opportunity presented by the explorations of the Engledue syndicate, it will naturally be attracted our way. We in Canada have in one sense a better claim to British capital than, especially, the United States, where no small amount of it is invested already and likely to find its way hereafter, if not directed to Ontario's mineral fields.

CHANGES IN THE MUNICIPAL LAW.

Important Amendments Made at the Last Session of the Legislature.

The following are some of the new provisions made by the municipal amendment act, 1897, and by the Attorney-General's bill relating to miscellaneous municipal matters, which was consolidated therewith. It is a bill of 85 sections, and among the provisions which are of greater or less public interest will be found the following:

Towns and cities may acquire water privileges and create therefrom water power, and may lease or sell power with the consent of the ratepayers.

Market fees have been reduced in all cities and towns to 10 and 5 cents.

Cities and towns may establish a telephone service.

Every municipality may expend a fixed sum for advertising information as to the advantages of the municipality as a manufacturing, business, educational or residential centre. Cities and towns of over 5,000 population, $500; other municipalities, not exceeding $100.

Municipalities may set aside a portion of the highway as a bicycle path, and any person driving on or along the same with horses or vehicle renders himself liable to a fine.

Cities with a population of 100,000 or more may expend $5,000 in the jubilee celebration; cities of 30,000, $3,000, and other cities, $1,500.

Municipalities in Haliburton are authorized to grant a bonus or subscribe for stock not exceeding $3,000 for the purpose of erecting grist mills.

The council of any municipality may assist the Victorian Order of Nurses by a grant of money.

Where a county council in the district of Muskoka consists of less than half of the whole council shall elect one of their own number to fill the office during the remainder of the year; or in case of a temporary absence of the head of the council from illness or other cause, the council may appoint one of the members to fill the vacancy, and he shall have all the powers of the head of the council.

If any member of the council or any auditor makes an untrue financial statement, or knowingly omits from the statement to be issued on the 15th day of December in every year, he shall be liable to a fine of $40 and costs.

The debenture registration act is repealed, and new provisions in the municipal act are substituted therefor.

Councils are prohibited from borrowing more than 80 per cent. of the amount to be collected as taxes in any year.

Councils liable for the maintenance of a boundary line or highway may agree as to what part of such boundary line or highway each shall maintain, and shall be liable for accidents only on the part to be maintained by them respectively.

Councils may grant bonuses for the erection of grain elevators.

A member of the Municipal Council may may become a candidate for election as a county councillor without resigning his office as municipal councillor, but he may not sit in the county council while continuing to be a member of a municipal council.

Wardens are to hold office for but one year.

Aldermen are no longer to sit as members of the Court of Revision in cities. The court shall in cities other than Toronto hereafter be composed of one member chosen by the council, one by the mayor, and one by the sheriff of the county. In cities of 30,000 and less than 100,000 the members of the court may be paid a sum not exceeding $300, and in cities with a less population any sum which the council may by bylaw direct.

An appeal may be made from the decision of the three County County Court Judges sitting as a Court of Revision in appeal in all cases, and from a single Judge in cases where the assessment is $10,000 or over.

County County councils may divide the county into districts, and may direct that sales for taxes may be held in the districts respectively instead of wholly in the county towns.

An appeal from the engineer's report on toll roads shall now be to the Provincial Instructor on Roadmaking, instead of to the County Judge as heretofore.

The act does not come into force until the 1st of July next, except section 24, authorising municipalities in Haliburton to aid in establishing grist mills, which comes into force immediately.

There are in the new act, besides the foregoing, many other minor amendments.

GREEK WAR OF INDEPENDENCE.

How the Greeks got their Present Status.

Although the declaration of Greek independence was made April 6, 1821, it was not until many years after that that independence was secured. The first uprising against the Turks was speedily repressed, and the war proceeded with varying fortunes until 1824, 1825 and 1826, when the Egyptian allies of the Sultan, under Ibrahim, stepson of Mehemet Ali, the pasha, swept the peninsula, and recovered most of the lost places.

It is interesting to note that the European Governments of that day acted much as they are acting now. They were so thoroughly pledged to the Holy Alliance and so terrified at the remembrance of the French Revolution that they shrank at the word "liberty." But then, as now, the people were with the Greeks, and many volunteers from Western Europe, of whom Lord Byron was the most celebrated, flocked to their standard.

The commander of the Greek land forces was Sir Richard Church, and the commander of the naval forces was Lord Cochrane, one of the most remarkable figures in history. Cochrane had performed prodigies of valor during the Napoleonic wars and during the struggles for independence in South America, where he had led the Chilian forces against the Spaniards and the Brazilian forces against the Portuguese. His genius for naval operations large and small, his courage and resourcefulness, were almost superhuman.

In spite of outside assistance, however, Athens was captured by the Turks, June 3, 1827. A recent biographer of Lord Cochrane lays the defeat to the cowardice, dishonesty, and treachery of the Greeks themselves, though there are many stories of their heroism and self-sacrifice. The truth appears to be that they acted well, considering their immediate antecedents and surroundings.

Shortly after the fall of Athens, the fleets of England, France and Russia, while patrolling the coasts, were fired upon by a Turkish fleet, which they immediately proceeded to annihilate. By that time the governments of Europe had been coerced by their peoples into making some sort of protest against Turkish atrocities. The French drove the sultan's troops out of the Morea and a president was elected. The spirit of faction was still rife, however, and brief reign of anarchy ensued until, in 1833, a monarchy was established with Otho and Bavaria at its head. From that year to the present the country has existed as an independent kingdom.

PROBABLY A WALK-OVER.

Indications are That the Winnipeg Seat Will Go to Mr. Jameson—Still Danger of Floods in the Prairie City.

Winnipeg, April 14.—(Special.)—Indications are that the Government candidate, will cation s are now that ex-Mayor Jame have practically a walk-over in Winnipeg. His opponent is E. L. Taylor, a lawyer, unknown in politics, who was selected at a gathering said to represent the labor and temperance organizations. However, he was not the man wanted by the laborers, and they declare they will not support a lawyer. As far as the temperance organizations are concerned their chief officers happen to be Hon. J. W. Sifton, father of the Minister of Interior: Dr. M. Arthur and other prominent Liberal politicians, and they have quickly come forward to deny officially that Taylor is their candidate. Conservatives are taking no part in the contest. As Jameson has promised fair treatment for Conservative civil servants, he will get many Conservative votes.

Winnipeg may yet be flooded, for the water in Red River is now rapidly rising, and is from 18 to 20 feet above the ordinary low water mark. Merchants are moving goods out of basements and taking all precautions for an overflow, which, however, is unlikely.

SAFE CURE

The Old Reliable.

For the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs.

THERE is only one way by which any disease can be cured, and that is by removing the cause, whatever it may be. The great medical authorities of the day declare that nearly every disease is caused by deranged Kidneys or Liver. To restore these, therefore, is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where

CHATHAM IN A WALK.

Matthew Wilson, Q.C., made an eloquent appeal on behalf of Chatham. Brantford reminded him of the Indians and Premier Hardy. London of elections, while the Maple City was synonymous with cricket, cycling and all sorts of good athletes. In Brantford they produced wheels, and in Chatham wheelmen. They had good roads, and a good track, and he pledged the meeting that a suitable stand would be built without expense to the C.W.A.

Mr. Bruce Walker presented Brantford's claim with a Scotch accent. He was anecdotal in his narrative. Brantford came to the C.W.A.'s aid 10 years ago. They were glad to meet the young girl then, and why should anyone try to stop them from embracing the buxom maid now. If it was their desire? He roasted Chatham for advertising a trip to Detroit as a side attraction.

Dr. George C. Davis, ex-Mayor of London, presented his city's claim in oratorical style. He had spoken often before in Toronto, and never was beaten in his desire. The brewery would be thrown open and a novel attraction was a field of typewriters, who would be at the disposal of the cyclists—whatever he meant by that.

Delegates were required to deposit their meet ballots with the president, so there would be no mistakes. It took 30 minutes to count them, and when Chairman Irwin announced the result there was a deafening cheer, and Cairns was carried to the front. No one expected such a poll for the Maple City. Out of a vote of 7388, Chatham scored a majority over her rivals of 3788 votes.

Chatham	5687
Brantford	1439
London	460

On motion of Messrs. Walker of Brantford and Davis of London, the vote was made unanimous.

J. R. Stratton, M.L.A., pressed Peterboro's claims for the meet of '98. They were runner up for two years, and were also run down as many times. They retired this year because the meet belonged to the West, but they would again bob up serenely, and he felt that Peterboro' would follow with the championship races a year from July.

A. W. Becton made an extensive claim for the '98 races for Winnipeg. He extolled the merits of the Prairie City and her athletes. They were the best in the world, and were royal entertainers. The feeling seemed to favor Winnipeg for '98.

A. W. Campbell, M.P., of Chatham, Provincial Good Roads Inspector, spoke a few good-natured words on his favorite topic. He was well received, and congratulated everyone on the fair feeling displayed.

The amendment of Messrs. A. F. Webster and George H. Orr that the C.W.A. take 10 per cent. of the gross gate receipts of the July races carried unanimously, and hereafter the association will know their financial connection with the meet holders.

Hereafter all past presidents of the association in good standing shall be members of the Dominion Board.

The board meeting convened after luncheon, with President-elect Orr in the chair. They lost little time in electing the different committees.

The chairmanship of the Racing Board resulted in a surprise to some members of the board, Mr. Beamant, the Ottawa candidate, had a good majority over Messrs. Walton and Hurst, who finished in the order named. Mr. Beamant made a manly address in reply to the demand for a speech. He had canvassed for no votes and had only those to thank who helped him in. He would use every effort for the furtherance of bicycle racing in the Dominion. According to the constitution the two chief offices are filled by the representatives. Mr.

MACNAUGHTON FROM QUEBEC.

Orr, being elected by acclamation, left only a contest for the vice-presidency, Mr. Wells of Waterloo securing the place after a contest. Of course, Hal B. Daly has a permanency of the secretary-treasurership, and thus the list of officers for the coming year will be as follows:

President—George H Orr, Toronto Wanderers.
Vice-President—Clayton Wells, Waterloo.
Racing Board—J A Beamant, Ottawa, chairman; Bliss P Corey, Petrolea; J G Gauld, Hamilton; W G McClelland, Toronto; A E Walton, B.C.B.C.
Transportation Committee—A F Webster, chairman; D J Watson, Montreal; E J Wilson, Kingston.
Rules and Regulations—W A Irwin, chairman; membership of two left to the president.
Rights and Privileges—E B Ryckman, chairman; membership left to the president.

Several amendments to the association by-laws had been handed in. Some were important and others not.

Vice-President Wells' amendment, asking for Provincial championship meets, created a lengthy discussion. Messrs. Beaton, Dr. Balfour, Hill, Beamant, Cartwright and Secretary Donly favored the innovation, while ex-President Robertson, Ryckman, McNaughton and Rubenstein opposed the amendment, which was finally carried, and next year each of the Provinces is entitled to championship races.

The appointment of chairmen and members of district racing boards shall be left to the Dominion Racing Board chairman and none of these shall be connected with the bicycle trade.

The gold brick proposition was bowled over. After appointing Dr. Doolittle, the C.W.A. delegate to the National Cyclists'

HIS NEURALGIA TORMENTS.

Thousands Could Tell the Same Story of Misery That William Davidson Tells, and Thousands Have To-day the Same Song of Rejoicing—Cured by South American Nervine

"I suffered untold misery for over three months from neuralgia of the stomach. Physicians did their best to help me, but all attempts were baffled. I saw South American Nervine advertised and resolved to try it. The first bottle gave me great relief, and after I had used six bottles I was completely cured of this dreadful disease." When You Are Crippled and Disabled by Rheumatism Use Paine's Celery Compound.

IT CURES PERFECTLY AND PERMANENTLY.

"Save me from my sufferings and excruciating agonies!" Thousands of helpless and suffering ones utter this cry daily.

A kind Providence has permitted the afflicted ones to see the glorious spring time with its joyous singing birds and budding flowers, but they cannot enjoy the beauties of nature; they are martyrs to rheumatism and sciatica, and can think of nothing but their own pitiful condition.

Sufferers, you are completely hedged in by dangers, and the sooner you escape from them the better. A little longer putting off—another weeks procrastination, and death may receive you in its cold embrace.

Do not longer remain inactive or go on experimenting with medicines that cannot cure you. Paine's Celery Compound, that banisher of rheumatism, in a scientific way removes the cause, and permanently cures.

Your muscles, joints and limbs that have become stiffened and contracted will become limber after Paine's Celery Compound has been used for a time, and soon, —very soon—you will walk as spry as any youth.

Thousands have forever banished their rheumatism by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and have given the most decided and convincing testimony. Try its virtues, poor sufferer, this very day! No one ever failed to find health and strength who faithfully used nature's true remedy —Paine's Celery Compound.

UNITED PRESBYTERIANISM.

The Object of the Gathering of Ministers Now Being Held in Chicago.

Chicago, April 16.—Many distinguished Presbyterian ministers are in session in Chicago to-day to consider methods of bringing the various Presbyterian church organizations of the world into closer harmony. These men are members of the western section of the executive commission of the Alliance of Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system. They come from many sections of the United States and canada and represent a variety of Presbyterian churches. Their sessions will not be open to the public. The western section of the commission has 56 members. Rev. William Caven, principal of Knox College, Toronto is the chairman. Rev. W. H. Roberts, clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, is the American secretary.

COL. HAY SAILS.

The New U. S. Ambassador to the Court of St. James Starts for His Post in London.

New York, April 14.—Col. John Hay, United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James, sailed for England to-day on the American Line steamship St. Paul. Col. Hay was accompanied by his wife and eldest daughter. His other three children will remain in this country, for the present at least.

Col. Hay said that he would go to London at once and assume the duties of his new post as soon as possible. He refused to discuss diplomatic matters on the ground that it would be indelicate. A large number of his friends went to the pier to see him off. The departing diplomat was the recipient of many floral pieces, which completely filled his suite of rooms.

Ex-Representative Perry Belmont was also among the passengers. He is going abroad for a stay of several months. Almost his last words were that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for Mayor of Greater New York.

IN BED FOR WEEKS,

And Every Breath She Drew Was an Excruciating Pain—Rheumatism had Fastened His Talons on His Prey—South American Rheumatic Cure Snatched Her From His Grasp.

"For fifteen years I had been troubled with rheumatism. It had settled in my back. At times the pain was so severe as to entirely lay me up for weeks at a time. I was just about discouraged and had given up hope when I was recommended to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I did so. The first bottle enabled me to leave my bed, and in one week from the time I commenced its use I was completely cured. It is undoubtedly the best remedy in the world for rheumatism. LOCAL NEWS.

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.
His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
And the angel answered and said unto the woman, fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified;
He is not here; for he is risen.—St. Matthew xxviii, 1-6.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

"Out of the Mire Into the Choir" Was Last Night's Subject.

Rev. A. H. Ranton spoke to a large congregation in the Charlotte street church last evening. His subject was "Out of the Mire into the Choir," the text being Psalms xl, 2, 3:

"He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock and established my goings.
"And he put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God. Many shall see it and fear and shall trust in the Lord."

As an illustration, mention was made of the custom in the East of confining prisoners in a deep pit where they could easily be watched by a couple of sentinels. In this miry hole many died, but by a great effort escape was possible.

The miry pits of this life included unbelief, drunkenness and worldliness. Rescue was only possible from one source, the power divine.

During the evening Miss Headren sang a solo, and Misses Hall and Stevens contributed a duet. Both numbers were most appropriate. There will be no service this evening.

NEWS NUGGETS.

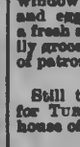
Give one blow through the blower and you get relief immediately. Price, including blower, 25 cents.

Plan for the Mills Recital.

The plan for the grand recital to be given by Mr. Watkin-Mills and Mr. Geo. Fox in Headburn's Opera House Wednesday evening, April 21st, will be opened to subscribers Monday morning, April 19th, at 10 o'clock, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. All persons who have subscribed for seats will kindly have them marked on Monday, as the plan will be opened to the public on Tuesday. The tickets can be had at the same place. Come early and secure good seats.

A New York Favourite.



The Scottish American speaks of Miss Ramsay, who will appear in St. Andrews School room, on Tuesday evening the 20th inst., as follows:—"Miss Alexandrina Ramsay another New York favorite, achieved a distinct success both as an elocutionist and a singer. Her sympathetic voice was found to be peculiarly suited to 'The Beanie Brier Bush,' and she also sang very pathetically 'Fhir a Bhata' in Gaelic." Miss Ramsay will give her favorite pieces in Peterborough and no doubt will have a full house on her first appearance in town. Admission, 25c, children under 15 years, 10c.

House-Cleaning Time

Is fast approaching; old furniture will be discarded and replaced by new; here and there new pieces will be added. Where will you buy your new furniture? CLEMES'S Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George Street.

AN ANSWER TO "INQUIRER."

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The paragraph in your issue of Monday demanding an inquiry into the death of a child belonging to one of our Christian teachers in this town, has caused me much painful and anxious thought. It cannot be denied that it was shamefully cruel to let the child suffer and die as she did; but the saddest part of all is that this man, as a minister of the Gospel, has put himself in a position which cannot fail to do an immense amount of harm to the cause of Christ. We all know that it is very unfair to judge a person's character by one single act. I have reason to know that in his own home this man is a kind, tender husband and father, and therefore feel certain that he has been led into his present position simply by a wrong belief, carried to a most fanatical extreme. Towards this belief I would direct the attention of the public generally, but more especially the ministers of the Gospel in our community, as I think we should not longer tolerate in our midst, either in preaching or practice, what has been so wickedly named Divine Healing. Just think for a moment of such acts of cruelty being perpetrated in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ! I have no doubt whatever that this man has been in the past, what Mr. Ranton declares him to have been, a good and useful man. But being naturally of an unstable and changeable character—as his business career testifies—he has also been unstable in his religious belief, and easily caught by anything new, and so has fallen into this snare; having once committed himself by preaching this doctrine of Divine Healing he could not do otherwise than stand by it when sickness entered his own home. And he did so, even going so far as to bring the child out on the public platform, and thereby questioning her made her to say she was healed, and now the child is dead. And he knows that she was not healed. Yet he has declared his intention of preaching this more than ever. Now, I think the matter all rests upon whether he does so, or like an honest man confesses himself mistaken.

Yours respectfully,
AN INTERESTED ONE.

A REPLY TO REV. RANTON ON THE "MODERN DANCE."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you allow me, through the columns of the EXAMINER, to enter a protest against certain language used by Mr. Ranton in his address on "Modern Dancing," delivered in the George street Methodist church on Sunday last? I was not present to hear the address but I have read your lengthy report of it and have been given sundry vivid discriptions by persons who were present. The address has created quite a sensation and has been the chief topic of conversation at sundry gatherings as well as in numerous family circles where "Paterfamilias" has aired his indignation with considerable emphasis and found sympathetic audiences.

Admitting just ground for attack, the address may be considered a forcible one, many points being advanced which must recommend themselves to every right thinking person, and it is much to be regretted that Mr. Ranton did not content himself with advancing only those points which were likely to help the cause which he undertook to advocate. His descent to coarseness and vulgarity has checked the tendency towards good results which, otherwise, might have been expected; brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of innocent women, enlightened young men as to the opportunity which, Mr. Ranton says, the dance affords of accomplishing those very evils he seeks to avert, and offered gratuitous insult to every man in Peterborough. I know of one instance of a young woman who, in tears and emotions of shame, described to her mistress her experience at that address, whilst remarks overheard from young men as they passed out of the church that afternoon indicated that in future they would attend dances with very different purposes from those which have hitherto taken them to thes places.

Mr. Ranton claims "5 years' experience as a dancer" and "13 years' observation and study." The character of his address inclines one to speculate as to his social states during those 18 years to determine, if possible, the value of his "experiance and observations," and account for impressions which enable him to stigmatise as low every frequenter of the ball room. Report associates him with a class whose grading is recognised only to be avoided by respectable people, in which licentiousness is the chief characteristic and social morality an unknown quantity. His address tends to confirm the report, for only in such an hypothesis shall we find an explanation for such impressions. If this be true, I shall not blame him. I do not refer to the matter for the purpose of discrediting him in the eyes of the community—far from it. His condition was, doubtless, due to circumstances over which he had no control but from which he has been able to free himself. All honour then, to Mr. Ranton—all honour to any man who, through his own energy and ambition, will raise himself from obscurity to prominence, from being a power toward evil to being a greater power for good. But to prove the power for good which he appeared capable of being, he must learn to discriminate between one audience and another and adapt his language to the conditions before him. In great Gotham, or, in any large city, among the ultra rich and dissolute, or among the poor and depraved, he will find audiences composed of that "scum" to which he has been pleased to liken some of of the people of Peterborough, to whom such addresses might appropriately be given. But, in our Canadian towns, peopled almost entirely by that great middle class whose love of social purity, whose jealousy of the innocence of their homes, whose appreciation of that high self-respect which enables them to respect others, constituting a moral bulwark, which has long been acknowledged in every civilised country on the face of the earth, such addresses are not only out of place but are a gross insult. I believe in plain English—it is so easily understood. Mr. Ranton is a preacher of the Gospel of Christ. There is as much need of plain speaking now as there was nineteen hundred years ago, and if Mr. Ranton or any other Christian preacher, through false delicacy, or from fear of giving offence, fails to denounce evils which he knows exist, in language at least as plain as that used by the Divine Author of that Gospel, he fails in his duty. But his language must express the truth—not even an evangelist has license to malign either a man or a multitude. Mr. Ranton appears to think otherwise. "If a man tells me that he can dance a round dance with a woman without sensual emotions I say he is a consummate liar." Such is the language addressed to his audiance by the great evangelist on Sunday last. It is plain enough even to please me, and I should admire it if it were true. But "five years' experience in dancing," and thirty years' "observation and study" enable me to pronounce the language infamous. It is a specific charge and it is directly addressed to every man who refuses to be stigmatized a roue. At my time of life I may feel safe from such an imputation, but I have daughters, and if I sanction their dancing knowing—and I must know it if I am a "consummate liar" in denying it—that the young men they meet are an immoral set, then the language applies equally to me. I so regard it and resent it as an insult, and fling the foul slander back into the teeth of the Evangelist.

And what will be thought of Mr. Young in this connection? He has lived amongst us now for some time, has been well received and has won considerable esteem from many of the leading men in the town. Does his observation of the characters of these men enable him to applaud language which pronounces them a community of blackguards? This is not the inference he wishes to be drawn from his conduct, but it is the only one the circumstances permit.

I am sure, Sir, you will appreciate my difficulty in this unfortunate matter. We are both too fully in accord with Mr. Ranton in his desire to improve the moral and spiritual condition of the people, to find pleasure in wordy warfare over his mistakes. Mr. Ranton is doubtless sincere in his convictions respecting the moral tendency of dancing. It is unfortunate he should think it necessary to condemn the practice in language which must alienate the sympathy of so large a portion of the community and thus lessen the sphere of his influence.

Yours truly,
MODERATION.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

A Summary of Receipts and Expenditures as Supplied the Department —Furnished by the Hospital Authorities.

The EXAMINER has been furnished with the following report of St. Joseph's Hospital from October 1st, 1895, to Sept. 30th, 1896. The report published in the Government "blue" book does not contain all the items. In publishing the annual report, the Government does not include in the current expenses the amount expended in ordinary repairs. Though giving full credit for improvements, and encouraging the same, its report aims only to give the ordinary running expenses of the institution and the cost per day of each inmate, hence the omission of the considerable sum of $1,000 in the departmental report:

THE ISSUE OF LICENSES UNDER THE AMENDED ACT.

The General Provisions and Their Effect on Peterborough Licenses.

Next Wednesday the License Commissioners of the license district of West Peterborough will meet to consider the granting of licenses under the amended license law as passed last session.

Among the new provisions is one that prevents druggists from selling liquor in any quantity without the authority of a regularly licensed physician for "medicinal purposes."

It is contrary to law for any licensed hotel to sell liquor to anyone apparently under the age of 21 years.

Shops may not sell liquor in quantities less than one half pint.

By the clause relating to the proportion of licenses to the population, seven licenses will be cut off in Peterborough, a reduction of four to take effect in May, 1898, and three in the following year.

The hours of closing in rural municipalities has been placed at 10 o'clock.

It is currently reported that it is the intention of the commissioners to reduce the number of licenses in Peterborough this year by two, and by two next year, instead of waiting till May, 1898, to cut off four licenses.

EAST PETERBOROUGH LICENSES.

The License Commissioners for East Peterborough met to-day and granted the following licenses for the ensuing year:—

Fred. Morgan—Warsaw.

John Morgan (six months)—McCracken's Landing.

Annie Holmes—Burleigh Falls.

Charles Armstrong (six months)—Julian's Landing.

Wm. Dineen—Havelock.

John Doherty—Westwood.

Margaret Clancy—Norwood.

M. P. Doherty—Norwood.

Margaret McGregor—Norwood.

C. H. Webster—Apsley.

D. Flynn—Havelock.

P. Fletcher—Keene

James Graham—Havelock.

Mr. B. F. Wood of Easton, Pa., was a great sufferer from organic heart disease. He never expected to be well again, but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart was his good angel, and he lives to-day to tell it to others; hear him:—"I was for 15 years a great sufferer from heart disease, had smothering spells, palpitation, pain in left side and swelled ankles. Twenty physicians treated me but I got no relief. I used Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One dose relieved me inside of 30 minutes. Several bottles cured me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 48 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufacture; before big advances and declines. He discounted the future. He operated his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold as $1 or $2,500 on 10,000 bushels. Now I advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. Railroad stocks and bonds bought on the New York Stock Exchange for investment or on liberal margins. Call me up on long distance 'phone and I can execute your order while you wait in New York, Boston or Chicago.

The mystery of womanhood is full of deep unanswerable enigmas. Why should women be compelled to suffer simply because they are women? Why is it that the source of their highest joys is at the same time the cause of their greatest wretchedness? The very attributes which make it possible for women to be happy wives and mothers also render them liable to the utmost physical misery and pain.

The sufferings of body and mind caused by some weakness of the distinctly feminine organs are so almost universal among women that the question might well be asked: "Is this Nature's punishment for the crime of being a woman?"

The true answer is No! These sufferings are neither natural nor necessary. They would not exist if the organism was healthy. No woman ought to endure such troubles. There is no need of it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a perfect and positive cure for feminine weakness and disease.

It gives health and strength to the special organs and nerve-centres; heals inflammation; stops weakening drains; promotes functional regularity, and restores the normal, vigorous and painless condition which Nature intended.

It is the only medicine of its kind invented by an educated and experienced physician. It is the only medicine which makes baby's coming safe and comparatively painless.

Any woman who would like to know more about this medicine and about her own physical make-up should send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of customs and mailing only on an absolutely free copy of his thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser;" or, 50 stamps for cloth covered.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

LET'S LIVE LONGER!

Why Die a Lingering Death of Direful Diabetes?

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE IT

Other Medicines Never Touch it—But Dodd's Pills Infallibly Cure—Expelling Poison and Pain—Preserving Sugar and Strength—Don't Die; Get Well.

Who would not live longer if he could?

More men shorten their lives by overindulgence in food and drink than ever die from starvation. Health can be maintained by eating and drinking just what is good for us—no more or less.

But most of us don't do that.

In health the body expels what it doesn't require, and retains what it needs. In disease either the body doesn't expel the poison or it does not retain what is needed to nourish it. In the disease called Diabetes the kidneys expel sugar. Its presence can be detected in the urine. The body needs sugar. In DIABETES the sufferer dies a lingering death.

Until recently DIABETES was supposed to be incurable. The science of to-day says that DIABETES may be cured. The kidneys may be restored to healthy action. Sugar may be retained in the system. Instead of filtering out the good that is in the food the kidneys may be made to filter out the poison.

With Poison goes Pain. With Sugar stays Strength.

DIABETES disappears like magic before DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. Other medicines never touch it. That's the difference. If you have DIABETES get cured quickly. Don't bother with medicines that do not cure. Many will stand up to be counted among those who have been cured of DIABETES by taking DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Fred Stokes, Barrie, Ont., says:—"I have been promptly restored to health by a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Diabetes had reduced my weight forty-five pounds, which I have regained."

Mr. D. Robbin, Bandmaster, Allandale, On., says:—"Could for years get no relief for Diabetes, which it seemed would end my days. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney have cured me."

Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Port Hope, Ont., says:—For ten years a victim of Diabetes. Suffered fearfully, especially in passing water. My cure has resulted from taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. James K. Nesbitt, county constable, Stayner, Ont., says:—Becoming aware of the fact that I was a victim of Diabetes, I resorted to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I commenced to get well with the first box and am perfectly cured."

HER PHOTOGRAPH.

"Watch for the bird!" the artist cries
With lifted, waiting finger;
But, heedless of the mirthful call,
Upon the camera's mystic pall
Her serious glances linger.

"Too grave!" Her mother takes the word:
"Think, darling, for one minute,
What can it be papa will say,
Opening his letter far away,
To find your picture in it?"

A look of love and rapture blent
The baby-features put on,
From parted lips to rounded cheek
Swift dimples played at hide-and-seek—
The artist touched the button.

Ah, sunbeam, knewest thou how she Would leave the world so lonely,
Thus holding fast, in deathless grace,
The smile that on her rosebud face
Bloomed for her father only?
—MARY A. P. STANSBURY.

A Point To Remember

If you wish to purify your blood you should take a medicine which cures blood diseases. The record of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this is the best medicine for the blood ever produced. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the most stubborn cases and it is the medicine for you to take if your blood is impure.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

FIGHTING IN THE EAST.

er, Captain Dampas, in which he says: "Under the present deplorable scheme all the British Government has the right to do, seemingly, is to plead its opinions before a tribunal of two youthful despots, the Emperors of Germany and Russia, and to abide by their help to execute their final determination.

"Our disgraceful office seems to be to place ships, guns, soldiers and sailors at their disposal for the purpose of keeping down the movement for the liberty of Crete and of securing to these young despots, who have in no wise earned the confidence of Europe, the power of deciding questions which rightfully belong to the Cretans."

War in Three Days.

London, April 16.—The Larissa correspondent of The Times will say tomorrow: Everyone here continues to declare that an outbreak of war is inevitable within the next two or three days, especially as it is now known that in high quarters at Athens a peaceful solution of the difficulty is regarded as almost hopeless. The authorities here are seriously counting the cost of embarking in such a struggle, but other influences are urging them on. Meanwhile it is perfectly certain that the irregulars, unless restrained, will again invade Macedonia in order to compel the Porte to declare war.

Dangers of the Situation.

The Athens correspondent of The Times says: There is little doubt that the Athenians are fully awake to the great dangers of the situation. There is a pessimistic feeling in the air. If Greece now goes to war, it will not be with a light heart. The desire for war is not abated; on the contrary, immediate hostilities are wished for, but it is now realised that the impending conflict will entail enormous sacrifices and possibly a crushing disaster. The Greek nation may be compared to a man who feels bound to fight a duel in order to save his reputation.

A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Kutsufliani says that the Turks have re-occupied Baltino and other stations. Their sentinels fire on everyone trying to cross the frontier.

The Rome correspondent of The Standard says it is stated there that Admiral Canevaro, commanding the international fleets in Cretan waters, has received notice from the American Government that the United States does not recognize the existence of a blockade of Crete.

Another Engagement.

Athens, April 16.—A despatch from Larissa, the headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly, received at 11.30 p.m., says that an engagement has taken place near Nosoros, on the frontier, in which artillery participated. The despatch gives no details of the fighting.

THE TROUBLE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Grievances of the Uitlanders in the South African Republic Discussed in the Cape Colony H. of A.

Cape Town, April 16.—In the House of Assembly to-day a motion was introduced, dilating upon the disastrous and lasting effects which hostilities among the Europeans in Africa would produce, and inviting the House to adopt a policy of moderation and conciliation in the settlement of differences in the interpretation of treaties and conventions. Mr. J. Rose Innes Under Secretary for Native Affairs, moved an amendment to the effect that the ends desired would be best attained by a strict observance of the convention and the redress of the genuine grievances of the Uitlanders. During the courre of his remarks in support of this amendment, Mr. Rose Innes said the situation was too acute to be remedied by pious aspirations, and adding that he did not believe President Kruger, who himself urged a maintenance of the convention, would resent Cape Colony expressing its opinion. In conclusion, Mr. Rose Innes remarked that Great Britain could not interfere in the Transvaal unless she had some locus standi and could justify her conduct before all the world.

WHAT IS BRITAIN'S AIM?

Seven Warships Turn Up Unexpectedly at Durban, Natal—All are Under Sealed Orders.

Durban, Natal, April 16.—The British cruiser Raccoon, which left Cape Town on Feb. 12, under sealed orders, arrived here unexpectedly during the night with six other British warships. Two more war vessels of the British fleet are expected here to-night. The object of this naval demonstration is not known here.

HAMMOND IN LONDON.

The Ex-Transvaal Prisoner Arrives There and Expresses His Views.

London, April 16.—Mr. John Hays Hammond, the American engineer and former member of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, arrived here from South Africa to-day. He says that affairs at Johannesburg are very unsettled, which precluded discussing Transvaal politics. But Mr. Hammond did not think an outbreak of war between Great Britain and the Transvaal was likely to occur in the immediate future.

INSULTING THE WOMEN.

Cuban Ladies Subjected to Indignity and Thrown Into Prison by the Spaniards.

New York, April 14.—Specials from Havana say that 16 Cuban women from the town of San Francisco de Paul, in Havana Province, have been thrust into the house of detention for disreputable women in Havana. They all belong to families of the highest respectability. On their way to the prison they were insulted by the soldiers, and one of them, Aurora Veiga, who attempted to protest, was knocked down by a blow with a knife.

In Guanabacoa, women of prominent Cuban families have also been arrested on the charge of being abettors of the insurgents.

The police enter houses after midnight and arrest the women without giving them time even to dress. The town is terrorized again, as in the days when Col. Fondeviela was its mayor.

THE TAIL WAGS THE DOG.

Alaska Commercial Company is the Tail and the United States the Dog.

London, April 14.—Henry White, the American Charge d'Affaires, on Saturday delivered to Sir Thomas Sanderson, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, a despatch from the American Secretary of the Foreign Office couched in decided tones, urging that the indiscriminate butchery of seals in Alaskan waters should be stopped immediately, and quoting the opinions of American and British experts who examined into the question last year. The despatch asks the British Government to arrange an international conference on the question of Alaskan sealing.

TEN YEARS IN THE TOILS.

South American Kidney Cure Loosed the Bonds and Freed the Prisoner—It Relieves in Six Hours.

"This is to certify that after taking six bottles of South American Kidney Cure I am completely cured of stricture and gravel, having suffered from these complaints for over ten years. I felt relief almost immediately, and after taking three bottles felt greatly improved. I continued its use until I was satisfied that I was perfectly cured." Willie Goff, Chippewa, Ont. Sold by H. A French Vegetable Soup.

Cut a large onion into thin slices and put them in a pan with three tablespoonfuls of butter; let them simmer together half an hour and add two quarts of water. Have prepared one pint of white turnips cut into cubes, the same amount of potatoes, half a pint of carrots, half a pint of the white part of the leek cut into thin slices, add one clove of garlic, one eschalot, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-third of a teaspoonful of pepper and salt, and cook slowly one hour, adding some chopped parsley fifteen minutes before the soup is removed from the fire. This soup may also be used for a vegetable puree by pressing it through a coarse sieve and to a pint of thick soup add a pint of boiling milk.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WHITTEIN, Byron, Ill.

MRS. W. J. BRYAN

Writes of Helping a Husband to Run for President.

There is an excellent reason which keeps me from giving a detailed account of journeys made during the last campaign. To rise with the lark, and sometimes even earlier; to eat meals upon the instalment plan; to receive local committees, and in turn be received by several thousand people daily, and to retire late, do not leave a great deal of time for meditation or for the keeping of a diary. I cannot, then, speak in detail, because I do not remember the campaign in that way.

It takes no acute observation to find that certain elements in all crowds are the same. We came to expect these types in every gathering and were not disappointed. They grew to be old friends. The man who has not voted for twenty years; the man who has vowed that he will shake the candidate's hand, and who does it at all hazards; the man who voted for Jackson; the man who exhorts the speaker to "hit 'em again," and the man who voted for Lincoln, but is "going to scratch his ticket this year," are some of the faithful.

But the greatest of these, the same in all climates and sections, in city and in country, untiring, energetic and omnipresent, is the American small boy. So much has been written of him that it seems folly to add my words of praise, but no record of the last campaign would be complete without some mention of him. He was first to greet us at every station, running far down the track to meet the train, and whether his mission was to shout for the nominee, or to inform him that he was "in the soup" and "no good," the work was always done with neatness and dispatch. From freight cars and engines, from roofs or depots, from trees and fences, his shrill little voice could be distinguished through any din. If the candidate failed to appear as soon as the train stopped, pushing and scrambling went on outside. Strong little hands clutched the window frames and dirty faces peered in. "Why don't he come out?" "Say, I played hooky to see him;" "Which is him?" "Where is he at?" "I say, there, come out," were some of the phrases belonging to such occasions.

But with all his apparent loyalty to principle, I discovered that this youth is full of guile. I have seen him more than once slip off his yellow badge and hide it in order to get a button from my hand. At other times he has shouted long and loud for "honest money," and fought the next minute to secure a flower from my bouquet.

But with all these little tricks peculiar to boyhood, he was a pleasing factor in the campaign. Faithful to the last, he ran after the train until he was exhausted. I found great amusement in dropping apples of discord, looking strangely like campaign buttons, along the track and watching the exciting contests which followed. More than once did I fervently wish that all this wealth of energy and push may be directed in paths of sobriety and good citizenship. Our country needs no other safeguard.

To my mind, night meetings rank first in point of effectiveness. The small space saved from the grasp of darkness by blazing torches, the sharp outlines, the ghost-like flutter of banners in the twilight rim of the crowd, the intensity of sound which comes with the night, combine to make an impressive scene. I recall with especial pleasure one picture in our reception at Cleveland, Ohio. The time of our coming was particularly opportune, namely, at the early twilight. Before us rose a massive arch, seemingly a bit of ancient Rome transplanted for our pleasure. This effect was heightened by the soldiers' monument at our right, whose tall shaft in the uncertain light did duty as the column of Trajan. Crowded upon its pedestal and at its base, filling streets, windows and even trees, was a multitude of cheering people, while thousands of flags waved us a gentle welcome. I cite this one of many instances, to show that the artistic sense may find gratification even in a campaign.

The pathetic side of life was very much in evidence. One saw an earnestness and depth of feeling which seemed to belong rather to religion than to politics. I will not quote the words of loyalty and benediction which were daily spoken, but these evidences of genuine good-will can never be forgotten.

Among the more unusual features may be mentioned the interest taken by women. This activity was not confined to any one party, but was found everywhere. Personally, I am glad the women were aroused. This movement does not involve the question of woman suffrage. For several years I have felt that home is the place to make good citizens. When the women of our land have a knowledge of the way our Government is administered, and can give the child an intelligent answer to his questions, the child will take an interest and pride in his future citizenship. When husband and wife discuss at home the acts of our Legislatures and the effect of laws upon the people, there will be less of successful lobbying by corporations and railroads. When families look into the advantages of municipal ownership of lighting and water plants; when they study the practical workings of these reforms as seen in European cities, there will be changes in municipal government. A knowledge along these lines makes a woman a better wife and mother and trains young people to prize our institutions.

AT A NIGHT MEETING.

As the athletic girl has superseded the timid weakling of a few years ago, is it too much to hope that a thorough knowledge of our Government may soon be considered an essential as any branch of her education?

MARY BAIRD BRYAN.

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

QUEEN STELLA.

The Gypsy Queen Who Is the Successor of Ward McAllister.

Harry Germaine writes from New York that it is not to be expected that the fad will be a permanent one, but just now its existence cannot be denied.

Yes, New York society is under the rule of a gypsy queen. She is at every function. Her words are listened to with attention. Admirers surround her three deep. Her wishes are law, and her lightest utterances are treasured. Ward McAllister never, at his height, was held in such esteem.

Society's unquestioned leader at present is Stella, queen of the Gonzales tribe of gypsies. Her claims to leadership are that she is of royal blood and should sit upon the throne of the Moors.

She is magnificently educated, knowing more of Arabian literature than any living person.

She is beautiful. Her soft, brown eyes are mesmeric and her voice is music. Her laugh is a killer of the blues.

She is young, immensely talented and the wife of an American, a physician, whom she met in Pennsylvania when she first came to this country.

She is a good entertainer and prolific writer. And society wants her.

Like McAllister, she is a firm believer in the virtues of the stomach, and gives fine dinners, all of fruits and vegetables—for the new leader is a faddist.

She believes in dress, and wears many jewels. Her most priceless possession—for she has many that cannot be bought—is a necklace of pink pearls that was given by Mary Queen of Scots to Stella's ancestors for telling her fortune correctly.

Like all the new leaders, Stella is accomplished in odd ways. palmistry and fortunetelling being open arts to her.

Every afternoon you see in front of her home a long line of carriages. Upstairs there is laughter and perfume, fluttering gowns and rustling silks. The guests are from every city in the world. For every visitor in New York stops to see Queen Stella.

Stella is the forerunner of the Gonzales. There are sixty of them, and she is preparing to get them to this country.

She has been entertained at every large club in the United States and her table is stacked with invitations. At these she sings, tells fortunes, and reads palms. She has read the hands of Calve, the De Reszke brothers, and Mme. Eames, of Henry Irving, the Prince of Wales, and Chauncey M. Depew, and she has a story to tell of each, but not of what she has read in the hand.

How long the "Queen Stella" fad will last no one knows. It is undoubtedly the age of the eccentric in the social world. The set forms of entertainment have palled upon the intellectual palate, and society wants to be amused. The Bradleys Martin ball, where all were requested to appear in costumes of the Mary Stuart period, and the success of the evening proves this. The Seeley dinner, at which dancers were called in to be bizarre as possible, is only another instance.

When Stella's sun sets she must retire, as McAllister did. Now it is at its zenith. Her talents are taxed to their utmost. She is dramatizing one of Amelia Barr's books. She has written a society play and is rehearsing for it. She is lecturing for Cuba—since Spain robbed the Moors of the Alhambra—and she is busy giving advice to applicants. The engagements, the marriages, the journeys, and the social events of this year are inspired by her soft Eastern tongue. And society finds her an agreeable guide.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. Our stock of New Styles in Soft and Stiff Felt Hats of English and American makes is most complete.

You know felt is either wool or fur. It's made by applying heat, moisture and pressure to the mass of fibres which "felt" together by the interlocking of the miscroscopic serrations which cover the fibre. The fineness of the fibre and the character of the serrations determine the quality of the felt. The quality ranges from the finest to the coarse sort used for covering steam boilers. The boiler cover sort sometimes does duty as a Hat at 25 odd cents. We make a specialty of one grade—it's the High Grade—usually sold for $3.00 to $3.50. Our price is $2.50. We might say how much it is worth, but we know it is worth $2.50. It's by buying for Cash and selling for Cash we can offer such values.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XCVI.

A Christian Socialist's Creed.

A little book bearing the above title was sent to me last week from England by a friend, and although the Christian Socialist's creed is something too lengthy to be published in its entirety in the Fortnightly Club column, I think some extracts from it will not be uninteresting to our readers nor unsuited to this holy season.

The word "Socialism" is still by many regarded as indicative of either a dangerous and malignant theory, the offspring of discontent and covetousness, or as a harmless fad of cobweb-spinning theorists. The creed of the Christian Socialist, however, is not to be identified with that of Karl Mark or of Ferdinand Lasalle, and it is in some respects unfortunate that some other term than Christian Socialism could not be employed. For it is almost impossible not to suppose that just as Socialism is an economic theory which a man may embrace as tending to 'the greatest good of the greatest number,' or reject as subversive of law, order and progress, so Christian Socialism is a theory which Christian men and women may likewise accept or reject.

But, as a matter of fact, Christian Socialism simply means the Christian doctrine of society. Christianity is not only "the plan of salvation" for any number of individuals, it is the progressive realisation of the kingdom of God upon earth.

"Thy kingdom come,
Thy will be done on EARTH," is the Christian's prayer. To say these words on Sunday and then during the balance of the week to seek solely the accomplishment of our own will, is, if we only thought about it, as hideous a mockery of God as we can well imagine.

"A Christain Socialist's Creed" is written by a Dean, and the Dean of one of the statliest of English Cathedrals, situated not in the heart of a great city, but in the quiet little English town of Ely in the free country. The ordinary idea of a Dean, is one who having laboriously compiled a Greek dictionary, or edited some ancient classics, or in some other way conferred the distinction of scholarship upon his church, is rewarded with the headship of a cathedral chapter, a comfortable house and income to match, surrounded by the most conservative and aristocratic society, "Far from the madning crowd's ignoble strife."

But the present Dean of Ely is profoundly interested in the not ignoble social strife of to-day, nor has he allowed the responsibilities of his high position to quench his ardour for the cause of the Kingdom of Christ, rather has he nobly used it as all privileges should be used, to augment his influence, and to support more obscure labourers with the prestige of his name and title. When an English clergyman, a scholar and a gentleman, who has written books bearing such titles as "Christ and Democracy," "Village Politics," "The Land and the Labourers," "Christ and Economics," is raised by the Prime Minister to one of the foremost positions in the Church, and from that position utters no uncertain sound, but boldly proclaims the creed of Christian Socialists, many blind eyes are opened and many deaf ears are unstopped, to seek to hear the new-old Gospel.

The prime article in the creed of Christian Socialism is the SUPREMACY OF CHRIST in every sphere and every interest of life. "We believe that Jesus Christ by his incarnation exalted human nature, consecrated all human relations, claimed supremacy over all realms of human thought and action."

Flowing naturally out of this article comes the expression of faith in the CHURCH, not as to-day it is too generally regarded as merely an organization for Christian worship, but as the divinely ordained society for the realization of Christ's supremacy. "We believe that Jesus Christ founded not merely a world-wide philosophy, or even an universal religion, but a church, a society, an ideal kingdom, with ordinances, rules and administration, to be a storehouse of redemption forever. We believe, therefore, that the Christian Church in the idea of its Founder had for its object the reorganization and restitution of society, no less than the salvation and deliverance of the individual. We believe therefore that there is one order of society that is the best; that towards this order the world is gradually moving according to a definite divine plan.

The Christian socialist recognizes the hand of God in the events of history, in the honest setting forth of truth everywhere. "We believe in the Bible of God's continuous revelation, whose chapters are history, politics and science, as well as that other revelation of spiritual truth which we rightly reverence as the very Word of God." The Christian socialist places the following interpretation upon the old "battle cry of revolution, liberty equality and fraternity." "We believe in liberty—freedom—not to do what one likes, but to do what one ought, and that, therefore, respect for individual rights must never blind us to the higher reverence we owe to social duty. "We believe in fraternity,—that we are all 'one man in Christ Jesus'; but that no man can say sincerely 'our brothers who are on earth' who has not previously learned to say 'Our Father, which art in heaven.'" "We believe in equality—equality, that is to say, not of condition, but equality of consideration, and we express it in the maxim that everybody is to count for one and nobody for more than one."

The Christian Socialist has of course, something to say about trade. "We believe that in Christ's kingdom, the law of life is service, not competition, and that no [illegible] is legitimately earned which is not an exchange value for actual services rendered—services which minister to life and help in the common good, and consequently no wealth is honest wealth which is accumulated by taking advantage of the weakness or the ignorance of our neighbours, and tendering them no equivalent in rest-proral service."

In regard to the difficult subject of speculation, the Christian Socialist says that the investor "is bound not only to ask whether the business is safe to pay, but whether the business deserves to pay."

The principle of "the living wage" is asserted to mean that "the worker is not only to be able to maintain his own working powers in the highest state of efficiency, but also to enable himself and family to live a decent, a joyous and a reasonable life, according to the standard of life of his class." "The living wage must be the bed-rock of price, the first charge on the product of work, and that, therefore, some way must be found in a Christian system of trade for prices to follow wages, not wages to follow prices."

Our space forbids further quotation this week, but we propose to continue the subject next week. In the meantime we beg to remind our readers that the subject matter of the F.C.C. is always open to discussion.

AN AWFUL SORE

A Babe's Untold Suffering And Mother's Many Sleepless Nights.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS.

I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering, and myself many sleepless nights.

My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. Every one called it a boil, and, now it had broken, would soon heal, but that was only the beginning of the trouble. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of but nothing seemed to help, in fact it grew worse, her hair fell out where the sore was and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me "to get CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA ointment right away." To please him I did so, and to my surprise, by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore.

CUTICURA soothes and allays all itching and burning that cause a child to fret and the mother to worry, and gives rest and comfort both to parent and child.

MRS. WM. RYER, Elk River, Minn.

SLEEP FOR SKIN-TORTURED BABIES and REST FOR TIRED MOTHERS is a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), greatest of emollients and skin cures.

This treatment will give instant relief, permit rest for parent and sleep for child, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humours with loss of hair, when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Props., Boston.

WAS SLOWLY DYING.

THE RESULT OF AN ATTACK OF LA GRIPPE AND PNEUMONIA.

The Strange Case of Mr. James Owen, of Johnville—Doctors Told Him His Lungs were Affected and He Could Not Recover—Now in Good Health.

From the Sherbrooke Gazette.

When a man faces what medical authorities tell him is certain death, and regains health and strength, he is naturally grateful to the medicine that has restored him. Such a man is Mr. James Owen, one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of Johnville, Que. Mr. Owen tells his story of shattered health and renewed strength as follows:—"On the 17th of December, 1894, I was attacked with la grippe. A week later the trouble developed into pneumonia in its worst form, and I did not leave my bed until the first of March, 1895, and then I was so weak that I was unable to walk alone. All winter long my life hung in the balance. Summer came and I gained a little strength. I had however, but very little power in my legs, and I could not ride a mile in a buggy owing to to the pain they caused me. My lungs also troubled me, and I raised a great deal of matter. I then consulted the best doctor we have in this section of the province. He told me candidly that I was past medical help. He said that my left lung was in a state of collapse, and that my right lung was also affected. This was in July, 1895. For the next three months every day seemed to draw me nearer and nearer the end. I was so pressed for breath at times that I could not walk any distance without stopping to regain it. In the month of November I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was certainly a forlorn hope, and I admit I did not expect much benefit from them, but took them rather to please a friend who urged me to do so. I believe I was surprised when I found they were helping me, for I thought I was beyond the aid of medicine, but help me they did, and I gladly continued their use. The result is they have made a well man of me. I have not a pain about me, my breath comes as freely as it ever did, and I am strong and vigourous. My case can be briefly summed up in a few words. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given me a new lease of life and I am glad to let everybody know it.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

BICYCLES AS BAGGAGE.

The town wheelmen should send a deputation to Messrs. Lang and Kendry to ask the members to support in Parliament Mr. Casey's bill requiring the railways to carry bicycles as personal baggage.

The railways have one excuse, or had one, for discriminating against bicycles—namely that they are inconvenient to pack in a baggage car.

That excuse is being removed by the use of arrangements to suspend bicycles from the roofs of cars.

The Pennsylvania railroad system, one of the most important in the United States, has this week announced that it will carry bicycles free. There is no good reason why all railways should not do so. Mr. Casey's bill in Parliament should pass, and now is the chance of the town bicyclists to help it.

RUIN, LOSS AND TROUBLE

When Common Dyes Are Used.

Of all the preparations sold by druggists and general dealers in Canada for domestic use, certain package dyes for home dyeing give more trouble and cause more loss of time and money than all the other articles sold.

The reason, and the only reason that can be given, is that there are so many imitations of the celebrated Diamond Dyes now on the market, some of these worthless dyes being home-made and some foreign. These common dyes are sold by some retailers for the sake of the large profit they bring.

If perfect dyeing work is looked for in the home, the ladies are always protected when they buy the Diamond Dyes. No other dyes have such a record for good work; no other dyes are so pure, strong, fast and brilliant.

Avoid imitation and worthless dyes if you would keep trouble and loss from your door. See that the name "Diamond" is on every package of dye that your dealer supplies you with.

THE WORD IS "WAR"

Turkey and Greece Now in Deadly Embrace.

FIERCE FIGHTING ALL SUNDAY.

Fifty Thousand Men Engaged—Turks are Brave Fighters and Seemed to Have Fared Well — Greeks Stand Together in Their Hour of Trial —Will the Powers Interfere?

BULLETIN.

Constantinople, April 17.—War with Greece has been declared.

Constantinople, April 17.—Following the news of the incursion by the Greeks on Turkish territory the Council of Ministers at the palace to-day recalled the general assembly, gave passports to Prince Maurocordato, the Greek Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, and ordered Edhem Pasha, the Turkish military commander, to take the offensive. No actual declaration of war has been made.

A detailed circular sent this evening to the Turkish representatives abroad recalls the week's invasions and states that the newest incursion was participated in by the Greek troops, which, therefore, establishes war, which has broken out.

The circular expresses the hope that the powers, in a spirit of justice, will agree that the entire responsibility for the war falls on Greece. Turkey has no idea of conquest, and, as a fresh proof of pacific sentiments, offers to retire the Turkish troops on the frontier if Greece will retire hers from the frontier and from Crete.

The Situation Explained.

London, April 18.—The Greco-Turkish situation is understood here to be substantially as follows: War has not officially been declared between Turkey and Greece, but it has been declared officially to have "broken out." The Turkish Cabinet has decided to sever diplomatic relations with Greece, and has ordered Edhem Pasha, the commander of the Turkish forces, to take the offensive. It is considered in London that war between Turkey and Greece has actually begun, the Turkish declaration that war has "broken out" being merely for the purpose of diplomatically putting the onus of the war upon the Kingdom of Greece.

Firing on Saturday.

Athens, April 17, midnight.—In spite of the fact that the official reports indicate that firing on the frontier ceased at midday a telegram from Larissa at 7 o'clock in the evening says that firing continued past 4 o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon. The line of fire extended from Mount Analipsis post to Klephtika Gentokia, a distance equal to 90 minutes' march. The Turks, falling back, abandoned several stations, which the Greeks promptly occupied. The Greeks cannonaded the Turks from the Greek position at Tsamtoja, in the rear. The cannonading caused much excitement at other points. Since noon strong bodies of Turks have concentrated in the direction of Mount Analipsis. At 5 o'clock the firing slackened. It is expected the Turks will attempt a night attack upon Analipsis, which was the central point of the battle. Greek reinforcements have arrived and there is a general movement of troops towards the frontier. Reinforcements are being hurried towards the frontier from all directions.

A Night Attack.

Athens, April 18, 1 a.m.—An official despatch from Larissa, dated at 9 o'clock last (Saturday) night, says that the Turks, under cover of darkness, are assaulting the Greek forces at Mount Analipsis with great fierceness. The Greeks' resistance, so far, has been magnificent. The Greeks maintain their positions. The firing begun at Gritsovali. The fighting at Gritsovali commenced in an attempt of the Turks to occupy a strategic portion of the neutral zone. The Turks continue to abandon their advance posts, a general movement apparently taking place. Firing is reported from Moluna. From Larissa the flashing of guns can be seen. In yesterday's fight at Mount Analipsis the Greeks lost 40 wounded and 3 killed.

Greece Enters a Protest.

Athens, April 18, 1.30 a.m.—The Cabinet has decided to protest to the powers against the aggressive action of Turkey. An invasion by Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander, is expected, and the Greek army has taken up positions for the purpose of being in readiness to repel the advance.

All Along the Frontier.

Athens, April 18, 2.40 a.m.—Firing is reported along the whole line of the frontier in Thessaly.

THE FEELING AT ATHENS.

Sinking of a Greek Steamer Brings on Prevesa's Bombardment.

Athens, April 18, 11 a.m.—The Turkish batteries at Prevesa, on the north shore of the entrance of the Gulf of Arta, where, according to the treaty of Berlin, the Turks had no right to erect fortifications, fired on and sank a Greek steamer, the Macedonia, this morning while she was attempting to leave the Gulf of Ambracia. The crew of the steamer were saved by boats from the shore, but the captain of the Macedonia was severely wounded.

Upon receipt of this news, the Greek Government sent orders to the Greek fleet in the Gulf of Ambracia to bombard Prevesa. Consequently the bombardment of Prevesa commenced at 6 o'clock this morning and continues as this despatch is sent. Prevesa, which is in Epirus, and 18 miles from Arta, is strongly fortified.

The Turkish Minister here, Assim Bey, has asked for his passports. They have been handed to him and he has left Athens for Constantinople. The German Minister at Athens, Baron Von Plessen, has undertaken to protect Turkish interests in Greece during the severance of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The Greek Minister at Constantinople, Prince Mavrocordato, has been recalled.

Throughout the day there were scenes of extraordinary excitement here. The streets were crowded with people discussing the outbreak of war and its probable outcome. The general feeling was one of satisfaction at the relief from the irritating tension of the past few weeks, which had gradually become almost unendurable, and which is ended at last by overt acts, it is claimed here, upon the part of Turkey. The Greeks hold that it was an attempt upon the part of the Turkish forces to occupy a strategic position near Mount Analipsis, not far from Nezeros, in the neutral zone, which led to the encounter on Friday between the Greeks and the Turks. This, it is added, was used at Constantinople as a reason for ordering Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, to assume the offensive, and led to the rupture of diplomatic relations between the countries.

The so-called outrage off Prevesa this morning, when the Turkish batteries there sank the Greek steamer Macedonia, further justified Greece, in the minds of the Athenians, in waging war to the death against Turkey. The Greek Government, therefore, is warmly commended for recalling the Greek Minister at Constantinople, and not waiting, according to the Turkish version, until Prince Mavrocordato was handed his passports.

It is stated in some quarters that Assim Bey, the Turkish Minister to Greece, did not wait for his passports to be handed to him, but so soon as he received the sum of 5000 francs telegraphed to him from Constantinople through the Athenian Bank, for traveling expenses, etc., he hastily quitted this city.

Little news of a reliable nature has been received here or allowed to leak out, regarding what has really transpired on the frontier. It is known, however, that the whole frontier of Thessaly has been blazing with murderous firing since early this morning, and that the Greeks have captured a fortified position at Menexa in Macedonia.

According to the general understanding here, the Turkish plan of campaign is a concentration of the Turks near the important Greek frontier town of Tyrnavos, with a view of forcing the mountain passes leading towards Larissa. One report, which is generally credited, has it that Edhem Pasha, at the head of 12,000 men, has already begun this movement, and rumors in this respect are flying, the substance of them being that the battle which is expected to be fought at or near Tyrnavos has already commenced.

The Greek plan of campaign, so far as it is understood by the Athenians, is founded on the defence of Larissa in the first instance, an attack upon that place having been anticipated and prepared for by occupying and taking every possible advantage of all strategic points. The country there is admirably suited for defence, and while this defence is undertaken, the Greek fleet is relied on to destroy the coast ports of Epirus and Macedonia. The Greek belief in ultimate success is based on the expectation of a universal rising of the Macedonians and Epirotes, so soon as the Greeks succeed in winning a brilliant victory anywhere over the Turks.

FIGHTING ON THE FRONTIER.

Fierce Work at Karaya All Day Saturday—Turks Were Steady.

Headquarters of the Turkish Army in Macedonia, Elassona, April 17, 10 p.m. (delayed in transmission).—The correspondent of the Associated Press, at this hour, has just returned from Karaya, on the Greek frontier, north of Tyrnavos and three hours' ride from here. A fierce battle between the Turks and Greeks is now raging at Karaya. The fighting has been in progress all day. The correspondent left the Turkish headquarters here on horseback this morning and arrived at Karaya three hours later. The battle was then proceeding and the correspondent was enabled to watch the fighting from a point near the tent of Hamid Pasha, who is in command of the sixth army corps, the Turkish force there engaged. Hamid Pasha, surrounded by his staff, was watching the movements of the opposing forces. The combatants were posted on the faces of two hills overlooking a small valley at a distance of about a mile. It appeared that the Greek force, which was evidently composed of the regular troops of Greece, crossed the frontier at 8 o'clock yesterday evening and advanced upon the valley referred to at an early hour this morning. The Greeks later were engaged by four battalions of Turkish infantry, and after some sharp fighting were driven back towards the frontier.

The Greek forces, however, then took up a position on the crest of several hills, and the combatants resumed at 10 o'clock.

Among the invaders were considerable numbers of Sicilian volunteers. At intervals of about two hours the Greeks renewed their attacks upon the Turkish position. The Turks remained calm and stood on the defensive, though suffering considerable loss.

The number of killed and wounded among the Turks could not be ascertained at that time, but the correspondent saw 43 Turkish wounded brought to the rear with the five bodies of Turkish officers. Only two wounded Turks and the bodies of the officers were being brought from the front to the field hospitals, hence the number of men killed could not be gathered. The dead were left where they fell.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the correspondent left Karaya, more Turkish wounded were being carried in to camp. The Greeks appeared to be contenting themselves with occupying the position which they had taken upon the crest of the hills and maintaining a heavy fire from it without advancing, but at the same time preventing the Turkish troops from crossing the frontier. The Turks returned the fire of the Greeks with persistent spirit.

While the correspondent of the Associated Press was at Karaya, Hamdi Pasha, the Turkish commander, received a despatch from Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, saying that a general advance of the Turkish forces had been ordered for to-morrow, war between Turkey and Greece having been declared. This news was received by the Turks with enthusiastic shouts, meaning "Long live war." At the same time that Hamdi Pasha received the news of the declaration of war he received news of a fresh attack by a Greek force, in the direction of Eleuthochori, to the north and left of Zarkos.

During the correspondent's return journey here he heard further firing, both rifles and artillery. This was after nightfall, though a full moon was shining.

Edhem Pasha at this hour is holding a council of war and it is expected that a great battle will be fought to-morrow. The Turkish troops are most eager for a general engagement.

The weather continues very cold.

The Powers Notified.

Brussels, April 18.—The Independance Belge to-day announces that Turkey has officially declared war against Greece, and that a notification to this effect was sent to the powers this morning.

FORT AT ACTIUM DESTROYED

By the Turkish Fire Which Opened Hot at 5.30 a.m. Yesterday.

Athens, April 18, 7 p.m.—The Greek commander at Actium, opposite Prevosa, telegraphs that the Greek steamer Macedonia, which was fired upon this morning by the Turkish batteries, did not sink in deep water, but was able to run ashore near the entrance of the gulf.

It appears that the bombardment of Prevosa only began at 11.30 a.m., whereas the Turkish forts there opened a hot fire upon Actium at 5.30 a.m. Actium was formerly a telegraph station, but the building was converted into a fort and was garrisoned by 500 men. The Turkish fire completely destroyed it. Several of the garrison were killed and wounded, although the Turkish aim was often wide.

The Greek commander requested instructions by telegraph, and the Minister of War ordered him to bombard Prevosa immediately. At 10 a.m. the Safidaki fort fired a few shots on a Greek gunboat, which replied, effectually silencing the Turkish battery.

At 11 o'clock the Greeks began to attack the Turkish forts outside the entrance of the Gulf, partly to divert the enemy's attention and partly in order to prevent the massacre of the Greeks at Prevosa. The Greek ironclad Spetsai has arrived to assist in bombarding Prevosa and the gunboats continue to bombard from inside the Gulf.

According to the last telegrams from Actium, 2000 Greeks crossed the Gulf of Arta from Vonitsa to Salagora and are now marching on Prevosa. Various reports are current as to the landing of the insurgent bands on the Chalkis Peninsula. Bugles are sounding in various quarters of the city, soldiers are hastening to their barracks, and bodies of troops, hurriedly equipped, are being despatched to the front amid enthusiastic ovations from the crowds that fill the streets. Numerous conferences have taken place to-day between the King and the Cabinet and, as a result of them, the two last classes of 1886 reserves have been called out.

GREEKS STAND TOGETHER.

Opposition Leader Backs Up the Premier's Patriotic Declarations.

Athens, April 18, 8 p.m.—A late special sitting of the Legislative Assembly was held to-day. The public galleries were crowded. Amid intense excitement M. Delyannis, the Premier, announced that the Turkish Government had to-day notified Greece of the rupture of diplomatic relations on the ground of the aggressive attitude of the Greek Government. In a cool but most deliberate speech he reviewed the recent events to show, on the contrary, that Turkey had been the aggressor, that her troops had attacked the Greeks and attempted to occupy the neutral positions and that her batteries at Prevosa, had sunk the Greek ship Macedonia. "Turkey," said M. Delyannis, "declares war against us. We accept it."

This statement was received with prolonged cheers from the galleries and the floor of the Chamber.

The Premier then read despatches reciting the events which had happened on the frontier, and with reference to the reported capture of Menexa he said that the batteries at that important position had been brought into action, but he knew nothing as to its alleged capture. He added that the Turks, after repeated attempts to force a passage at Reveni, which commands the road to Larissa, had been driven back. The leader of the Opposition, amid renewed cheers from all parts of the chamber and from the galleries, eloquently endorsed the patriotic declarations of the Premier.

Turkish Batteries Destroyed.

Athens, April 18, 9 p.m.—A despatch just received here says that the Skafidiki batteries, which were attacked by Greek warships shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon, have been completely destroyed. The Greek battery at Kesipanaghia co-operated effectively with the flotilla in the bombardment.

Turks in Full Retreat.

Larissa, April 18 (headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly).—The Greeks have captured the Turkish positions from Nezerostokoutra, and the Turks are in full retreat toward the interior.

THE LUMBER DUTIES.

There is considerable discussion over the imposition of export duties on pine logs and raw spruce sent to the United States, and no little difference of opinion exists as to the wisdom of the import. While one section of the lumbering interests of the United States—Michigan especially objects to the United States imposi of $2.00 per thousand on sawn lumber, fearing doubt, less the danger of a $2.00 export duty on Canadian saw logs. To show what this means to the Michigan lumbermen the Northeastern Lumberman says that "the exact number of Canadian logs imported from Georgian Bay to Michigan points last year was 274,398,634 feet, of which Bay City received 137,895,000 feet, Saginaw 29 602,208 feet, Detroit 20,289,000 feet, Tawas 18,680,000 feet, Alpena 27,473,446 feet and Cheboygan 40,000,000 feet." This journal is an extreamist and takes the extreme ground that the Dingley tariff should put an import duty on Canadian hemlock and and basswood as rigidly as spruce and pine. This is a strong position to take but it is a logical one, just what might be expected from the principle of protection applied fully. Canadians would have no reason to complain of more than temporary trouble over such a course. Such an action would not only rapidly deplete existing American forests of their white pine and pulp wood but would also give the American consumer considerably more than a taste of the high prices which such a comprehensive scheme of protection would provide.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Ottawa, April 17th—The opposition press are hard pressed to make adverse political capital out of the showing which the estimates for the ensuing year reveal. Those handed down to Parliament last week, were the first of the new administration. Last year the estimates of the outgoing government, as prepared by them for that year were accepted by the Liberal Government as a matter of necessity since, at the late date of their accession to office, they were for that reason precluded from investigating and revising them. But as time went on, the money voted under these estimates was not expended by them where the Government saw it was not actually required; and as a result, a considerable saving in expenditure was effected.

The estimates, just submitted to the House, are acknowledged by the more fair-minded of Tories, as appearing very favourable when scrutinised. They admit that it is everywhere apparent that the most rigid economy has been practised in making them up. The frequent complaint has been raised by the Tory press that superannuations and dismissals were a subterfuge, made simply to afford vacancies, in the civil service, of both inside and outside branches, for Government supporters. If that accusation bore on its face the essential element of truth then it would be difficult indeed for Liberals to deny the oft-repeated statement that the spoils system was being introduced into Canadian affairs by the present Government. But it so transpires, and all the facts which are brought out and those which remain to be produced plainly testify, that the offices vacated have been rendered vacant in the interests of economy—of Liberal politics. There have been 42 superannuations and 14 retiring gratuities made already with more to follow. The Finance Minister has figured the saving this course had effected a large saving to the country. And why? Because, although in a few instances these vacancies made by officials, who were superannuated on account of age or infirmity, had been filled, nevertheless the great majority of the offices so vacated were abolished. In the determination to economize without prejudicing the efficiency of the service, the Government have had to turn a deaf ear to the clamours of their friends for office, and resolutely close the seductive and well-beaten path travelled by their Tory predecessors when satisfying the demands of their followers. The country ought then to be seized with a feeling of comfortable assurance of the honest intentions of the new Government as indicated by the estimates just brought down to Parliament. As the matter now stands, the estimated cost of running the Government of the country for the next year is one and a half millions less than what the late Government required to do the work for the fiscal year now drawing to a close.

It seems somewhat singular that a covert threat is given out by the Opposition that by the aid of their friends in the Senate, they may make an attempt to defeat the endeavour of the Government to repeal the Franchise Act. All the more strange when it is considered what a great advantage this same Act gave them over the Liberals a few days gone by; and now that it has

of the Liberal majority, why they should wish their opponents to have and use this potent machinery, which would afford Liberals the same partizan advantage, is a matter to be wondered at. There is an overwhelming Conservative element in the members constituting the Senate. The figures are sixty-five Conservatives to sixteen Liberals. It is the aim of the Government to establish a franchise that will be fair and just to all, and one would naturally suppose that the party to be the most interested in the passage of such a law, ought surely to be the party that has lost control of the election machinery which so long furthered their schemes for retention of power. It seems evident that it would be a wild course to pursue in obstructing repeal, or in blocking the passage of a proper franchise bill in the Senate, yet if followed to that end the Tory party are deserving of a good dose of their own medicine at the hands of Liberal officials. It may be injudicious to adopt the various Provincial franchises as a basis of federal representation; but in the absence of any better method being submitted, the most feasible plan that recommends itself as a fair and economic one should be accepted.

It is understood that the Plebiscite Bill will soon be introduced by the Hon. Mr. Fisher into the House.

There are already certain vague rumours floating about as to the provisions contained in the measure. It is certain, however, that apart from enacting the necessary machinery for testing the sentiment of Canada upon the advisability of adopting it will be complete in all its parts and will give, if carried at the polls, the means to attain the desired end of the abolition of the liquor traffic. Looking to the future in the possibility of prohibition becoming an accomplished fact, some provision must be embodied in the bill to make up the direct loss to the Dominion exchequer of about $6,000,000 of revenue received yearly from liquor. It is no small problem to solve. Indirect taxation has been pushed to its last limit, and some other means must be looked to for supplying the deficit that would arise by the adoption of a prohibitory liquor law.

The poor man's necessaries of life will not suffer any greater exactions, and the rich man's luxuries already are burdened to an extent that smuggling is apparently on the increase. The plan of direct taxation, it is hinted, may have to be resorted to in the event of prohibition being an established fact, and in that case the direct tax would not fall far short of $1.50 per capita, or about $7.50 per family, annually, taking the average at five persons to the family. At present much of the current comment on the question is mere side speculation. Eventually the stern facts have got to be faced and thoroughly threshed out. It is to be hoped that, although the element of fanaticism will pervade the temperance ranks to a certain extent, the more level-headed, conservative temperance advocates will not permit in the heat of battle, sentiment to outweigh good judgment in dealing with this politico-moral and financial problem.

ENGLAND TO MAKE A SHOW

That Will Bring Old Grandpa Kruger to His Senses—Nine Warships at Durban—Cecil Rhodes' Popularity.

Cape Town, South Africa, April 17.—Cecil Rhodes is expected to arrive here next Tuesday. Great preparations are making for demonstrations in his honor and for public rejoicing over his return. He will take a seat in the Colonial Parliament again.

The British squadron, which is assembling at Durban, the chief town of the Colony of Natal, on the southeast coast, is under sealed orders, and nobody knows why it is called together or what it is to do. It is supposed to be going to Delagoa Bay to make a demonstration of British paramountcy in South Africa. Nine war vessels have arrived at Durban already, the first-class cruiser St. George, Admiral Bauson's flagship; the third-class battleship Monarch, the cruisers Fox, Racoon, Astraea, Scylla, Barak and Philomel and the gunboat Magpie. Three more men-of-war are expected, making a fleet of 12 formidable fighting ships.

EXCITEMENT OVER WHEAT.

Foreign Orders are Simply "Buy Wheat" and the Bulls in New York Run Up Into Millions on Sentences.

New York, April 17.—There was tremendous excitement in the wheat market today. Prices advanced 4 cents a bushel in little over two hours. Dealings ran up into the millions. Shorts were completely stampeded and their orders to buy flooded the market from start to finish. War news and foreign buying were the factors which occasioned the tumult. The latter was by far the heaviest seen here in a long time. No limit was set on the execution of the foreign orders. They simply said: "Buy wheat," and it was bought at any figure. During the regular morning session, May advanced from 72¾ to 78, and on the latter curb to 79¼. To the offset influences was added expert demand at the close. Europe took about 25 loads. The market was at fever heat all day and left off at its wildest point. Total sales were between six and seven million bushels.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE NOT INCURABLE

But There's Only One Cure in the World, and That we Have Named—Hundreds Testify to Cures—Never a Failure Recorded.

It used to be said, "If you have Bright's Disease, it won't be long before people are walking slow behind you."

Bright's Disease affects brainy men particularly. The brainier and more active a man, the more liable he is to Bright's Disease. Bright's Disease is a disease of the Kidneys. It is the name given to the fatty degeneration of those organs. It is caused by excessive use of alcoholic drinks. It is caused by excessive eating of rich food. It may be caused by exposure to cold and moisture. It may be caused by improper living.

But it's not with the CAUSE we have to deal. It is with the CURE.

It used to be thought that Bright's Disease was incurable. We know better now. Restore the Kidneys to health, and you may eat what you like, drink what you like, work as hard or be as active as you like, and bid defiance to death-dealing Bright's Disease.

But woe to the man who don't take care of his Kidneys! When they cease to filter the blood, the blood reeks with poison. Urine actually flows in the veins. You die a lingering death. The spine and extremities first; the brain last. Dying at the bottom while living at the top!

Bright's Disease may be cured by DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS, which restore the Kidneys, making them filter the blood properly. DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS are the only specific for Bright's Disease. They were compounded just for that purpose. They have cured hundreds of cases. They will cure your Kidneys. Try them. Fifty cents a box. For sale at all druggists.

THROWS IT ALL ON GREECE.

Turkish Government is Now Squaring Itself Before the World.

Constantinople, April 18.—An official communication to the newspapers states that the Imperial Government has spared no pains to preserve the peace, but that Greece, having sent troops to Crete in defiance of the wish of the powers, and having begun hostilities on the frontier, has compelled Turkey to defend her integrity and to retaliate by an act of war.

The Minister of War has given explicit orders to Edhem Pasha, in accordance with an Imperial irade, approving the decision of the council and adopting the plan of operations formulated by the military commission. The irade throws the entire responsibility for the war upon Greece.

Edhem Pasha is authorised to take immediate action, defensive or offensive, in accordance with this plan, and in the exercise of his best judgment.

The Porte has handed his passports to Prince Mavrocordato, the Greek Minister to Turkey, together with a note announcing the breaking of diplomatic relations between the two governments and the recall of Assim Bey, the Turkish Minister, and the Turkish consuls. It invites Prince Mavrocordato and all Greek consuls in Turkish territory to quit the confines of the empire, giving the Greek subjects 15 days' notice. Prince Mavrocordato will leave on Tuesday by the Austrian mail boat.

Greeks Driven Back.

Foot of Milouna Pass, April 18, 10 a.m.—A fierce battle raged in the pass all night long. The Greeks, who entered and descended toward the valley, encountered four battalions of Turks, who drove them back, and, at the point of the bayonet, rescued the force garrisoning the Turkish block house, which the Greeks had encircled before entering the pass.

Nerhad Pasha, commanding the fifth division, is occupying Mount Parna with a great force, while Hairi Pasha, commanding the sixth division, is prepared to enter the Tchaishan Pass, and Haidar Pasha, with the fourth division, occupied the Milouna Pass.

Before dawn Edhem Pasha rode out to direct the disposition of these divisions.

A general engagement ensued. The battle still continues along the entire pass, over 20,000 men being engaged. The combat turns on the possession of the Greek blockhouse, which was most obstinately defended. Several vigorous attacks were made by the Turks without success, but finally about 9 o'clock, by a magnificent dash, they took the blockhouse at the point of the bayonet.

The Greeks are still defending their positions on the summit of the hill. At the present moment four battalions of Mendukh Pasha's division are advancing to the frontier positions already taken. The Turks are fighting like lions, the Turkish artillery doing splendid execution under the command of Riza Pasha.

The correspondent of the Associated Press says: "I regret to have to announce the death of Hafis Pasha at Milouna. The battle is still undecided, but the Turks, without calling up the reserves, have taken almost the whole pass. It is impossible to give details as to the losses. I saw many groups of wounded men, but they were mostly on the heights. Ambulances have been sent to bring them in. I cannot say whether the Turks intend to advance on Larissa."

Fierce Work.

Athens, April 18, 9 p.m.—In the fighting on the frontier the Turks have occupied Ana and Milouna, but they have not succeeded in taking Kata.

The engagement at Milouna Pass was of the fiercest character, and the losses were heavy on both sides. The Turks destroyed two pieces of Greek artillery. The Greeks captured an entire battery from the Turks.

Three Greek officers of high rank were killed. A large body of Greeks is now marching against Menesse and brisk firing is going on along the whole line as far west as Arta.

At Turkish Headquarters.

Elassona, April 18, headquarters of the Turkish army in Macedonia.—The first division of the troops are at Domnik, the second at Elassona, the fifth at Skrompa and the sixth at Karaya (or Kastray). The last two are engaged in offensive operations. The Greeks who have invaded the district of Mount Gudoman have been repulsed. Battalions from the divisions at Aptum and Karahissar are arriving at Ismidt en route for Rodosto and Muratli, in order to reinforce the troops in that district.

To Cut Off a Railway Line.

Salonica, April 18.—Greek bands have landed at Eleveteheropoli, west of Kavala, and are marching on Goyara, distant about one kilometre from Demegatch. Their design is evidently to cut the railway line to Salonica. Turkish troops have been sent in pursuit and there has been fighting, but the result is not known here.

Will the Powers Interfere?

Paris, April 18.—The Temps calls upon the powers to intervene by force of arms to stop Turkey and Greece from further fighting.

Fifty Thousand Men Engaged.

Elassona, April 18.—The Greeks from all their positions in the Karaya district began the advance toward the frontier at 7 o'clock on Friday evening. The fighting lasted all that night and extended on Saturday to within ten miles of the frontier. It is estimated that 15,000 Greeks were engaged. The battle continued with great vigor throughout Saturday, when altogether 50,000 were engaged.

On Sunday morning the fire was concentrated toward the southeast of Milouna. About noon to-day (Sunday) the Greeks began to give way after the hottest fighting of the engagement. The Turks advanced only a little beyond the frontier into Greek territory. Considering the rapidity of the firing and the expenditure of ammunition, the number of killed is comparatively small, probably under 200. Altogether the behavior of the Turkish troops was better than that of the Greeks. Their officers remained cool and collected. The firing still continues, but it is expected to cease at nightfall, as the troops have been engaged for 30 hours without food or sleep.

May Break the Deadlock.

London, April 18.—A despatch to The Times from Constantinople says that the Greek subjects there will probably remain under the protection of Mr. Terrel, the American Minister. It is believed that the hostilities will break the deadlock and lead up to an arrangement between Greece and Turkey.

THE HOSPITAL AT ELASSONA

Visited by The Times Correspondent—A Distressing Scene of Agony.

London, April 18.—The Times' correspondent at Elassona says: "I visited the hospital to-day (Sunday) and found all admirably conducted. But the scene was most distressing, the wounded screaming in their agony and the feverish tearing the bedding in babbling delirium. On Saturday's hill fighting the Turks had the advantage. They were judiciously ambushed behind the rocks, and from their sheltered positions maintained an incessant fire.

"To-day's (Sunday) fighting at Milouna Pass took place around three outlying blockhouses, which were captured, then retaken, captured again and again retaken. The Greek positions suffered severely from the splendid shrapnel practice of the Turkish batteries at a range of 3800 metres. Columns of smoke could be seen rising in every direction from the Greek positions caused by the Turkish shell fire. The Greeks defended with the greatest courage, but were not able to stand against the slow but steady advance of the Turks.

"As evening came on three of the Greek outworks surrendered and asked the Turks to cease the shell fire. The latter now hold the advanced line except at one spot.

"The principal fighting done by the Turks' infantry was at Skumba and Dumenie, to the right of the Pass.

"The position of affairs seems to be that the Turkish move on Nezeros is a feint to draw attention from Milouna, where, it is evident, Edhem Pasha intends to advance in force on Larissa. This attempt will lead to severe fighting. The results of yesterday's fighting are indecisive. Accounts of it are biased according as they come from Greek or Turkish sources. It appears, however, pretty certain that the Turks had the advantage.

"The Greeks were partially successful in their movement at Karaya, which was aimed at cutting off the Turkish communications with Salonika, where the Greek fleet is expected almost immediately."

Machine Guns for the Sultan.

London, April 18.—A despatch to The Standard from Constantinople says that a battery of American machine guns of the latest pattern arrived here recently and was secretly conveyed to the Yildiz Kiosk, where it has been placed in position.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

JAPS AFTER HAWAII.

It Turns Out That the "Students" Landed at Honolulu are Simply Trained Soldiers in Disguise.

Honolulu, H. I., April 5.—The suspicious and somewhat alarming fact has come to light that the Japanese immigrants, who have been pouring into the Islands, and under the guise of "students" are, in reality, trained soldiers. Suspicion of this fact was first aroused by their soldierly bearing and their military gait and movements, especially when passing through the streets in groups. Yokohama having been declared by the Board of Health to be an infected port, the fumigating station at quarantine disclosed unquestioned confirmation of this suspicion. In almost every case their baggage contained the whole or a portion of a Japanese military uniform. It is the belief that these men have seen service in the recent Japan-China war, and are now sent to Hawaii for a purpose.

TORTURED AND ROBBED.

The Blakesley Family of Findlay, O., Visited by Masked Men, Who Steal $2000 in Money.

Findlay, Ohio, April 17.—The famous Blakesley family, living three miles from this city, were robbed and tortured last night by 12 masked robbers. The family consists of Mrs. Rebecca Blakesley, Elisabeth Blakesley, a daughter, and John and Smith Blakesley, sons. They are the possessors of valuable oil fields and are known as misers. By common report for years they have hoarded money in the house. The burglars broke into the bedroom, where all four people were sleeping, and a desperate fight ensued. John and Smith were beaten into insensibility, and Mrs. Blakesley and the daughter were bound hand and foot. Torches were applied to their feet to make them reveal the hiding place of the treasures without avail. One of the robbers meanwhile was ransacking the house and found in a bureau drawer $5000 in bills and three gold watches. Elisabeth was the first to release herself from bondage and summoned help from the city. John Blakesley is in a critical condition and it is feared he will die. Smith's head was cut open and the feet of both women are badly burned.

Spain Will Hold On.

Washington, April 17.—The Spanish Minister has received a telegram from the President of the Council of Ministers, Senor Canovas, saying that the report of the recall of 20,000 men from Cuba has no more foundation than the fact of its publication in an Opposition paper of Madrid. Minister De Lome says no soldiers will be withdrawn from Cuba. Captain-General Weyler has telegraphed that he does not need a single soldier more to terminate the war.

Health and vigor are essential for success. Therefore make yourself strong and healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

RED RIVER STILL RISING

If Things Get Worse the People of Winnipeg Will Have to Use Candles and Coal Oil Lamps.

Winnipeg, Man., April 18.—(Special.)—The water in the Red River at Winnipeg continues to rise gradually, and there can be no doubt that within a few days there will be exceptionally high water. Merchants have moved all goods out of basements, and all precautions are being taken. The town of Emerson is under several feet of water, and there is a tremendous volume of water to come down from there as well as from the Assiniboine.

Later.—Despatches from Emerson to-night state that the people there are in bad shape, the high winds prevailing to-day approaching the proportions of a hurricane. The water has undermined the foundations of many houses and the wind has played havoc with buildings, wrecking several residences and warehouses. The Massey-Harris and McCaul warehouses were among the wrecked buildings.

All the churches of the town are under water and no services could be held to-day.

The Northern Pacific Railway bridge at St. Norbert, a few miles from Winnipeg, has been washed away, and the Northern Pacific track is under several feet of water. A rise of a few more feet at Winnipeg will reach the power house and cut off the city lighting. With this prospect everybody is buying coal oil lamps. The highest water at Winnipeg may not be reached for several days yet.

STILL IN HIS PRIME.

North Hastings' Oldest Inhabitant Hale and Hearty.

Josias Moore, of Bancroft, Ont., one of the oldest and best-known residents of Hastings County, can boast of wonderful health and vigor for his age.

"Although I am over 84 years of age," he says, "I feel as young as ever I did."

Mr. Moore, however had a narrow escape from death about a year ago. "I was so bad with indigestion," he writes, "that the doctors gave me up. I tried various alleged remedies but found them no good. One day our popular druggist, F. C. Humphries, sent me a sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to try. The result was marvellous. After taking two I was able to get up. Then I sent for a box. I could soon eat anything. In a short time I was able to walk two miles, to Bancroft and back, with ease."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will, without fail, cure all kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles. For sale by all dealers. Price 25 cents. One pill a dose; one cent a dose. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto.

Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the latest discovery for coughs asthma and consumption. It is pleasant, quick and certain. 25 cents.

Solid Gold Bricks FOR Amateur Cyclists.

THE Red Bird's recognized superiority as a racing wheel makes it the popular mount of amateur riders, who have neither axes to grind nor masters to serve. As a further incentive, however, for honest amateurs to ride the staunch and speedy Red Bird, fitted with Pebbled Tread Electric Tires, and to keep this name plate to the front of the procession in all amateur races sanctioned by the C.W.A., we offer the following prizes:

A $500 Gold Brick to the Amateur who will win three out of five of the '97 Canadian Amateur Championships on a Red Bird fitted with Electric Tires.

A $500 Gold Brick to the rider of a Red Bird, fitted with Electric Tires, who wins the greatest number of amateur races sanctioned by the C.W.A.

A $250 Gold Brick to the rider of a Red Bird, fitted with Electric Tires, who wins the second largest number of amateur races sanctioned by the C.W.A.

This makes three gold bricks, the actual value of which is $1,250.

Proof of the Red Bird's Superiority is found..... in the notable successes of Red Bird riders in every Province of the Dominion last season: in Martin's and Kellow's recent phenomenal successions of brilliant wins in Australia, and in the fact that four out of five of the Class B. Championships of '95, and four out of five of the Professional Championships of '96 were won by Red Bird riders. All of which goes to prove our contention that when anything worth winning is won, the trick is generally accomplished on a Red Bird.

Wednesday Evening's Concert.

The plan for the grand recital to be given by Mr. Watkin Mills and Mr. Geo. Fox in Bradburn's Opera House, on Wednesday evening, April 21st, was opened at Ormond & Walsh's Drug store, this morning, when a large number of seats were marked off. There are still a few subscribers who have failed to have their seats marked. They would do well by having them secured at once before all the good ones are gone, as a large audience is sure to greet this wonderful baritone. To-morrow morning the plan will be opened to the public. The prices are 75c and $1a. This will be the best treat of the season.

Costumed Recital.

Miss Alexandria Ramsay, who is to be in St. Andrew's church school room to-morrow evening, is meeting with the greatest success in all the large cities of the United States and Canada. Of her recent appearance in Toronto the Globe has to say:—"The different numbers on the programme gave full scope to Miss Ramsay's varied ability, and were executed in a manner which gave evidence of a good dramatic training and pure sympathy with the characters represented. Miss Ramsay's stage presence is exceptional; besides being tall and handsome, she possesses a charm of manner and grace of movement and expression which are very attractive." Admission 25c.; children under 15 years, 10c. 1d

PERSONAL.

Mr. Wm. Bunting, of Hastings, spent Sunday in town.

Mr. Court King is home from McGill University for Easter.

Mr. George Dies, formerly of town, is here for the Easter vacation.

Mr. Sorsoliel, of the South Central School staff, is spending the Easter holidays in Cobourg.

Mr. George Frost of Cobourg, formerly of Peterborough, is in in town for a day or two.

Mr. Albert Bell of Toronto, an old Peterborough boy, is back again in town visiting friends.

Mr. Walter Davidson, who is studying law at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, is at home spending Easter.

Mr. Williamson, formerly a student at the Canadian General Electric Works, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy of Brechin, Ont., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Kylie, Ashburnham.

Miss Eva Dunne, who is taking a course at the Training School for Nurses in connection with the Kingston General Hospital, returned there to-day after a week's vacation at home.

Mr. Cavanagh, who was connected with the Collegiate Institute staff whilst Mr. M. O'Brien was attending the University in Kingston, and who has since been teaching in Port Hope, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. Henry Greene, traveller for J. J. Turner & Sons, arrived home on Saturday after an absence of two months travelling through the western and northern country. He left again this morning for another extended trip.

Mrs. W. Salisbury returned home from Ottawa yesterday, where she had gone to see her father, Mr. Gibbard, who is seriously ill in the hospital with a complication of diseases. His medical advisers are very doubtful of his recovery. Mr. Gibbard was in Ottawa attending the session of parliament when taken seriously ill.

Sergt.-Major Morgans, late of the Second Scotch Guards, and all-round fencing champion of America, and Sergeant Instructor Boutellier, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, are in town, registered at the Snowden House hotel. They will appear to-night at the grand military entertainment in the Opera House in their great feats of arms, and contribute a large share to the splendid programme that will be presented.

The Lacolle correspondent of the St. John's, P.Q., News and Advocate says:—"We were much surprised and grieved to hear that the Rev. G. H. H. Davis, of the Methodist church, and son of the late Rev. G. H. Davis, town, was to be transferred to the Bay of Quinte conference. During the past two years in which Mr. Davis has been amongst us he has endeared himself and family to the congregation and many outside, and the general wish is that he should be allowed to finish his three years here. However, the best wishes of his church will follow him."

RESPECTING REV. MR. RANTON.

A Series of Letter, Pro. and Con., on the Subject of the "Modern Dance."

THE MODERN DANCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I will concede that Rev. Mr. Ranton, the Evangelist, was sincere and aimed at good ends in his new well-known sermon on dancing. The good Book tells us that there is a "time to dance—to weep, to kill, etc.," and there is doubtless a time when it is the duty of the watchmen on the walls to cry out against the vices of modern society. There is not only a time, but there is a way how to do it. If Mr. Ranton selected the time correctly, he was certainly astray in the manner he adopted. Lord Byron was once with a party going through a gallery of statuary. In passing the well-known and often-reproduced nude figure of the "Dying Gladiator," a lady of the party, who was not a paragon of virtue, mawkishly remarked aloud: "How shockingly indelicate!" Lord Byron, who was not a paragon of perfection either, said, sotto voce, to the lady with him: "The indelicacy is not in the statue, but in the remark." By pointing out in improper manner, in improper surroundings and in improper language, the acknowledged evils of the dance, the evangelist, I honestly believe, has, by his sermon on the "Modern Dance," put more evil ideas, excited more evil trains of reflection, created more prurient topics of talk and done more to corrupt hitherto innocent minds than any other agency that has operated in Peterborough the last few years. I honestly believe Mr. Ranton meant well, but to his mistakes in method, he added the grave mistake of gauging the feelings of respectable citizens of the community, who engage in dancing, by the standard of those have participated in the lowest sort of "assemblies", and in indiscriminately attributing to respectable persons the foulness of soul of the dancing "dive" habitue. We are not justified in doing evil that good may come.

Yours truly,
FESTINA LENTE.

"MODERATION" ENDORSED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR,—I think that the thanks of this community are due to "Moderation," for his temperate and fair criticism of Mr. Ranton's sermon on dancing which appeared in last Saturday's EXAMINER.

While I am sure very many people in our Christian community approve of evangelists and temperance lecturers of the right stamp, is it not a fact that many people of this class with whom we meet, are noted for gross exaggeration, abuse of those who cannot accept their extreme views coarseness of language and unlimited cheek?

I have not danced for years, but from my experience in that line in the past I cannot endorse the extreme views set forth in Mr. Ranton's sermon on the subject yesterday week.

Yours truly,
TEMPERANCE.

"AN ANSWER TO MODERATION."

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your issue of Saturday a writer who signs himself "Moderation", in expressing his views on Mr. Ranton's sermon on "The Modern Dance" goes out of his way to make a personal attack on me as the pastor of the church where the sermon was preached. In reply allow me to say I refuse to be drawn into a controversy with any man who lacks the courage to sign his name to what he writes. When "Moderation" reveals his identity I will have no hesitation in discussing my relation to that service. Meanwhile I am content to allow the citizens of Peterborough to judge of my attitude on all questions bearing on the moral and spiritual welfare of the community.

W. R. YOUNG.

The Parsonage, April 19th.

THE DANCING SERMON.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—There seems to be a misunderstanding in many minds regarding the now famous address of the Rev. Mr. Ranton on "Dancing." He began his attack upon the modern dance by saying: (I am quoting from memory) "Do not understand me as condemning dancing, that is all dancing—the principle of dancing. I say if in your own homes brothers and sisters wish to dance with each other let them do so BY ALL MEANS, or if you have a party in your house of your own SELECTED friends I see no harm in it but I do condemn the public ball, the modern dance." Then Mr. Ranton went on to discuss the conditions as he averred usually existing at indiscriminate public balls that is at public balls in general, first expressly putting aside the private and properly conducted dance as unobjectionable and frankly admitting that young people must have entertainment. For one the only objection I saw to his remarks and it is a serious one is that such words as "lustfulness" and "licentiousness" fall indiscriminately on the ears of the innocent young girl and the hardened sinner. The Bible says that the heart is a fountain of guile, not specifying any exceptions in favour of the young or the old and I suppose Mr. Ranton would justify his remarks on that score. That society admits men of known bad morals to its arms must silence any furious criticism of his remarks. I have seen men whom it would be flattery to call "white" sepulchres" dancing with friends of mine. They were filthy brutes to my own knowledge. I trust this stirring up will not be an unmixed evil and will have some effect in teaching people that you cannot touch pitch and remain undefiled.

Yours, &c.,
COMMON SENSE.

WHY CONDEMN MR. RANTON?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Rev. Mr. Ranton's utterances on "The Modern Dance," seem to have created quite a sensation in our midst, and the reverend gentleman is condemned pretty severely in some quarters for being so outspoken in his condemnation of the supposed evils of the modern dance. He is accused by some of having severely shocked the modesty and innocence of those who heard him, and others even assert that his language was disgusting in its nature. He warned them, however, I understand, to be prepared for all this, as he intended to strike from the shoulder.

It is only a few years ago that that self-constituted champion (?) of Protestantism, Margaret L. Shepherd, made her appearance here, and for two or three days poured out her vile insinuations and slanders against the Roman Catholic Church—defaming her priesthood, but more especially her devoted and self-sacrificing Sisters of Charity.

This female possessed a foul tongue, and we all know she made good use of it. She gave lectures for "Men only," and for "Women only," and I am sorry to say that the fair sex tumbled over each other in their efforts to get a seat in the opera house, where she delivered harangues unfit for print. Hardly had this creature shaken the dust of the town from her feet than she appeared in a disgusting police court case in Toronto, as a witness, and under a severe cross-examination, showed to the world, and to her many dupes that she was not the medal of purity she appeared to be, but that she had a rather checkered career. Now, Mr. Editor, why was not "Margaret L." condemned by our "goody-goody people?" She not only brought the blush to the cheek of her fair hearers, but she tried her best to stir up strife and discord in our midst. And why is Mr. Ranton condemned for delivering such a sermon? Probably it would have been better if the congregation had been other than a mixed one, but "Margaret L" has been in our midst, and the majority of the evangelist's hearers flocked to hear her—therefore Mr. Ranton did not shock them—they had heard worse.

Yours, etc.,
CONSISTENCY.

DEATH OF DR. KEMPT.

Heart Failure was the Cause of his Sudden Demise This Morning.

The sudden death of Dr. Kempt occurred at about ten o'clock this morning at his residence, corner of George and Murray streets.

The deceased, accompanied by Mrs. Kempt, walked out into Smith to visit his sister, Mrs. Robert Fife, on the Chemong Road, on Sunday afternoon, after having attended church in the morning. Mrs. Kempt returned to town last evening, but the doctor remained until this morning.

The long walk in the high wind evidently proved very trying, as on reaching home he complained of feeling very much exhausted and had to be assisted to a sofa. The symptoms became so alarming that Dr. McCullough was summoned in a few minutes, but his efforts to revive the patient by means of a stimulant were unavailing, and ten minutes after entering his house, Dr. Kempt passed away.

The deceased moved to Peterborough last July from Lindsay, where he was one of the oldest and most respected residents, having practiced medicine there for many years. Shortly after taking up his residence here, his eyesight became so seriously affected that he went to New York to place himself under the care of a specialist in July and only returned to town last week. Though often complaining of heartburn it was not supposed that the heart was so seriously affected as to give any cause for anxiety.

A widow, two sons and four daughters survive the deceased. Two of the latter reside in New York, and one son also resides in the United States. The remainder of the family are at home and will have the deepest sympathy of their many friends. Dr. Kempt was a brother of the late Sheriff Kempt, of Lindsay, and was also a brother of Mrs. Dr. Pettigrew, Mrs. Burrows, Miss Kempt and Mr. Thomas Kempt, of Norwood, as well as of Mrs. Robert Fife, of Smith.

THE COUNTY RALLY.

The Endeavourers Held Three Sessions To-day.

The sixth annual convention of the County Christian Endeavour Union is in session to-day at the George street Methodist church. A full report of the rally will appear in to-morrow's issue of the EXAMINER.

This evening's session will open at 7.30 when a song service and devotional exercises conducted by the George street Methodist choir will be led by Rev. D. C. Elliott, of the Park street Baptist church. Rev. J. J. Rae, of the Charlotte street church will speak on the present needs of missions and the consecration service will be led by Mr. R. J. Colville, of the west end Y. M. C. A., Toronto, formerly of Peterborough.

REV. A. H. RANTON ON THE SIN IN CARDS.

A LARGE AUDIENCE ASSEMBLED IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

The Parlour Game of Cards is, he says, the Kindergarten to the Gambling Hell—"By Their Fruits ye Shall Know Them."

The announcement that Rev. A. H. Ranton, the evangelist, was to speak on the subject of card playing drew a big crowd to the Opera House yesterday afternoon.

The service was announced to begin at four o'clock, but by half past two several hundred were already waiting at the entrance for admission, and by three o'clock the crowd extended out into the street. When the doors were opened, the seats were quickly appropriated, and almost as many were turned away as gained admittance, there not being room sufficient for all who were eager to enter.

The revivalist took as his text the words "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them," and speaking on the evils of gambling, denounced card playing, as leading eventually to the gambling hell and the gallows.

He said that people had different ideas concerning amusement, and it was not his intention to enter on a wholesale condemnation of people because they turned a card or drank a glass of beer. He believed in condemning cards and dancing and the liquor traffic as institutions and not by the individual affects on those who indulged in these vices. The tree is antecedent to the fruit just as the heart is antecedent to a man's life. It is the results a thing brings forth that should commend or condemn it. A person who never gambled is better able to judge of its effect upon other people than one fascinated with the game. People outside can form a better idea of its effects upon society. In social life there are so many different substitutes for card games that it is difficult to draw the line.

Suppose we have here a wild mustard and a turnip seed, it would be impossible to tell which is the mustard and which the turnip. They are exactly alike in appearance. But plant them, and when they have matured, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

People might ask why they select the simple pack of cards and let the other games go? There is no more harm per se in the game of cards than in the game of authors, both are practically games of chance, and so far as they are concerned they are identically the same game. The only way to answer the question is by the text, "By their fruit ye shall know them." Those parlour games have not the history that card playing has. When they produce the same kind of fruit that card playing does then it is time to bring forth the axe and cut them down, "for every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit shall be cut down and cast into the fire."

The subject for this discussion concerns an institution of the social life, which has come to be regarded as almost essential to polite and cultured society.

I. THE CARD TABLE AS AN INSTITUTION OF MODERN SOCIETY.

A talented writer on such themes has said that "admission into society is a term almost synonymous with gaining entrance into some card club whose favour is thought to be the supreme attraction of social life."

The term "society" has almost come to designate the card playing portion of mankind; all others are regarded as not being "in it."

Society, properly defined, means the "concentrated embodiment of selfishness," for it matters not how much talent in other directions, how many other accomplishments, what range and versatility of powers, how much character one possesses if you cannot play cards and waste your time as the butterflies of society do you must be left to the tender mercies of those who are not society people.

It is only fair that the reasons given for card playing should be stated, and it is summed up briefly as follows:—"The need of recreation is universal, a demand of our nature; we are not conversationalists; the engrossing cares and duties of life do not permit us to keep abreast of the literary movements of the times, and we are not Socratic nor Shakespearian; we have had a surfeit of religious meetings, sermons, and the like; and concerts, lectures and church sociables are dry and dull. Cards, on the other hand, furnish a easy, and an easily accessible and entertaining means of passing a social hour or two, or an evening—indeed, what else can we engage in that will be of so little trouble, so universally acceptable, and so available for amusement as in games of cards! A game of cards is not so high as to bar off any one of even modern attainments, and it is not so low as to be objectionable to any whose opinions we care for. It provides a sufficient intellectual stimulus as not to appeal to a low motive or principle of recreation, and it is of such an interest as not to cloy to the taste, and, at the same time, it relieves from the engrossing cares and anxieties of life."

II. OVER AGAINST THIS PLEA FOR THE CARD TABLE WE PROPOSE TO STATE A FEW PROPOSITIONS.

1st. Card playing is condemned by the spirit of the Gospel.

"Love not the world." "Keep thyself unspotted from the world." "Keep them from the evils that are in the world," with many other Scriptures, teach us that Christian people are to live above anything that has a tendency to evil.

The word "world" in the Bible has three meanings. First it means the firmament; then it means society en masse; then it means things that have an ungodly bias or tendency. The Christian loves the world of beauty. The Christian loves the world of humanity, but the world that has an ungodly bias or tendency the Christian is to keep himself unspotted from that.

Now we do not need to argue that card playing has an evil tendency. No sane person will contradict this statement.

Dr. J. G. Holland says:

"I have all my days had a card playing community open to my observation, and I am yet to be made to believe that that which is the universal resort of the starved in soul and intellect, which has never in any way linked to itself tender, elevating, or beautiful associations—the tendency of that which is to unduly absorb the attention from more weighty matters—can recommend itself to the favour of Christ's disciples. The presence of culture and genius may embellish, but they can never dignify it. I have at this moment ringing in my ears the dying injunction of my father's early friend, 'Keep your son from cards, over them I have murdered time and lost heaven.'"

Bishop Vincent says:

"The fact is that the path to the innermost hell of gambling is through the clover-bloom of fashionable card playing. The victims in the gambling dens to-day were once votaries in the parlours of fashion where no (or only nominal) stakes were set up and where people were bent on nothing but 'fun,' or 'to pass the time,' or 'to be in style.'"

We are told that "Whatsoever we do, we are to do in the name of the Lord Jesus," and if we can play cards to His glory I would suggest to the ladies of the club and to the gentlemen of the various clubs in town; also, to all the hosts and hostesses of card parties, the following prayer—"Lord Jesus, many of us here present are Thy disciples; we have acknowledged Thy Lordship over us in all things; we have no other object in living, as supreme, than to glorify Thee! We are now about to enter upon this game, which we believe to be lawful and right, for Thy glory and to advance Thy kingdom through the help we hope to obtain by this recreation, from the burdens of our daily cares and arduous duties. Bless Thou this game of cards to our growth in grace, and hasten through it the universal dominion of the truth! Amen." The Christian can pray this prayer, with fitting modification, before entering upon any entertainment, amusement, literary or intellectual feast, appropriate for his participation. If he cannot pray this prayer before entering upon a game of cards, the game itself is incongruous to piety and spirituality.

2nd. Card playing has the appearance of evil.

There is no harm in the game per se, because it has no moral character, but it has the appearance of evil, and we are told to "abstain from all appearance of evil."

But some fond parent says: "Would it not be far better to allow card playing in the home than to drive the children to its clandestine enjoyment away from the home?"

This would be deemed a "heroic" method if applied to any other form of evil. Let Rev. P. W. Senks, of Ohio, to whom I am especially indebted for much valuable help, answer.

He says: "As a matter of fact, such a method has more frequently resulted in feeding a growing taste, than imparting a nausea for this sort of amusement. Such a theory of education would have us to expect results contrary to those which the means employed are adapted to produce. The legitimate and natural results of the "temp rate" use of wine is to develop and foster the love for strong drink, exceptional cases notwithstanding. All amusements are to be considered in the light of their common and legitimate tendencies and results, not in the light of fine-drawn theories and exceptional results. Dr. Hayda expresses the true estimate of such a theory of education when he says that he finds it impossible to have more respect for it than he could have for the practice which once prevailed among Scythian mothers of throwing infant children into a running stream of cold water, that only the sturdy—those able to survive the test—might remain on their hands to be reared and educated."

Cards are the recognised implements of gamblers, and when parents and friends play in the home they simply teach those present the art of gambling. To imagine men gambling over authors or parcheesi, or any other of the many similar games, would require, indeed, a vast stretch of imagination. But the deck of cards, from the day it was invented to amuse an idiotic king down to the present time, has been constantly used as the gambler's tool. In a gambling den the card deck can be seen on every stand and table, piles of chips and glittering coins on every side, mingling with the oaths and the clicking of glasses and the harsh laugh—that snapping of the pasteboards, the incessant snapping and rat-tat of the cards. With the exception of pool selling and the roulette wheel, nine-tenths of all the gambling done, at least off the race track, (if we except the stock exchange) is done with a deck of cards. The boy inveigled into a gambler's hell sees there first of all that harmless deck of cards that he has learned to handle in the home, and in spite of the rough oath, the flashing eye, the tobbaco fumes, the beer glasses and the piles of chips, in that card pack he is reminded of home; and we are told on good authority by those who have spent their lives searching this matter out—that nine-tenths of all the professional gamblers in this country learned to play cards at home, with mother, father, brother, sister or friend. I have watched it now for fifteen years, I may almost say twenty, and have rarely, if ever, found an exception to this rule.

John Philip Quin, the Chicago gambler, said in a recent address in Tremont Temple, Boston, that the parlour card table is the "Kindergarten of the gambling saloon."

Rev. Dr. Talmage says, "When I consider that cards have led to the eternal ruin of thousands of young men and others, I would as soon say, 'Let us go out into the graveyard and have a game of skulls.'"

III.—CARD PLAYING PRODUCES BAD FRUIT.

No individual, no home, no community has ever benefitted by card playing. We are not discussing the ideal card party, but card playing as we find it to day. On the branches of this social tree there may be found fruit of the following kinds:

(a) Waste of time.
(b) Selfish ambition.
(c) Hereditary infirmities and latent propensities to gambling upon posterity.
(d) Religious leanness.
(e) Dishonesty.
(f) Neglect of duties, personal and general, private and public.
(g) Jealousies, contentions, envy, strife and bickerings.

In cultured society these last five are seldom brought out where the public can gaze on them, but they exist nevertheless. But the most unpalatable fruit found on this social tree is—

(h) Incitement to gambling.

Mr. Ranton here described a visit to a London chamber of horrors, in which he studied the fall of a young man. He began in a beautiful home and ended on the gallows. His last words were—"Card playing has led to my ruin."

He also referred to the death of George Roberts in the Orillia House, Orillia, and quoted from a letter written to Mr. Haw, the proprietor, in which he said, "I began at the lowest round of the ladder, and few men stood the chances for success that I did, but the friendly game of cards has accomplished my ruin at last."

A Christian gentleman came from England to this country. He brought with him $70,000 in money. He proposed to invest the money. Part of it was his own; part of it was his mother's. He went into a Christian church; was coldly received, and said to himself, "Well, if that is the kind of Christian people they have in America, I don't want to associate with them much." So he joined a card-playing party. He went with them from time to time. He went a little further on, and after a while he was in a game of chance, and lost all of the $70 000. Worse than that, he lost all his good morals; and, on the night that he blew his brains out, he wrote to the lady to whom he was affianced an apology for the crime he was about to commit, and saying in so many words: "My first step to ruin was the joining of that card party."

III.—Allow me to suggest a remedy for this "Social Fad."

Christ is the solution to every difficult problem. Christ is the water of life to every thirsty soul. Christ is the lily of the valley to every believer, Christ is our all and in all.

Come to Him and you will be fully satisfied. Religion is no restraint, it is life.

Dr. Chalmers spoke of "The expulsive power of the new affection." That means everything. Fill your heart with a good thing and you get rid of a bad one. When Christ comes into the life he will settle the question of amusements. Ulysses filled his ears with wax and chained his crew to the mast as he passed the allaring haunts of the sorceresses, but Orpheus did something better; he provided such entrancing music that his attendants forgot all other fascinations.

"That is just what Christ will do for us if we heed his commands. Give us such an absorbing intense love for Him that we will forget all the allurements of sin."

You may get all your difficulties settled, as Garibaldi, the magnetic Italian, got his gardens made. When the war between Austria and Sardinia broke out, he was living at Caprera, a very rough and uncultured island home. But he went forth with his sword to achieve the liberation of Naples and Sicily, and gave nine million people free government under Victor Emanuel. Garibaldi, after being absent two years from Caprera, returned, and when he approached it, he found that his home had, by Victor Emanuel, as a surprise, been Edenized. Trimmed shrubbery had taken the place of thorny thickets, gardens the place of barrenness, and the old rookery in which he once lived had given way to a picturesque mansion, where he lived in comfort the rest of his days. And I tell you if you will come and enlist under the banner of our Victor Emanuel, and follow Him through thick and thin, and fight His battles, and endure His sacrifices, you will find after a while that He has changed your heart from a jungle of thorny skepticisms into a garden all bloom with luxuriant joy that you have never dreamed of; from a tangled Caprera of sadness into a paradise of God!

With earnest appeal and solemn warning Mr. Ranton concluded his address.

EASTER DAY DIVINE SERVICES.

A General Observance of This Great Church Festival.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

The religious services yesterday at St. Peter's Cathedral were of unusual excellence. In the morning three masses were celebrated at 6.30, 8 and 10.30, the last being pontifical high mass, at which His Lordship Bishop O'Connor pontificated, assisted by the Cathedral clergy. An eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by the Ven. Archdeacon Casey, and the Papal benediction was given by his Lordship. The musical portion of the service was of a very high order of excellence. The choir rendered Henry Farmers' Mass in such a manner as to reflect the highest credit not only on themselves but also their conductor. Mr. F. W. Miller. The soloists were: Soprano, Mrs. Geo. Ball, Misses M. Dunn, L. Hurley and K. Simons; tenor, Mr. Geo. Ball, alto, Mrs. J. J. Lynch and Miss K. Dunn; bass, Mr. T. Dunn. At the conclusion of the mass His Lordship addressed the people, making special reference to the great festival of the Resurrection.

In the evening solemn vespers was chanted by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick spoke with characteristic eloquence from the text "He is risen." The musical portion of this service was of an excellent order. Lambillotte's "Regina Coeli" was sung in an able manner by the full choir, and at benediction Mrs. Geo. Ball and Miss L. Hurley rendered very sweetly Dooley's "O Salutaris." An excellent arrangement of the "Tantum Ergo," by Lambillotte, was beautifully rendered by the full choir. An orchestra of three pieces—violin, cornet and flute—added greatly to the musical portion of the vesper service. The decorations of the sanctuary during the day was the subject of considerable comment, and at the evening service presented a beautiful appearance, the altar being one blaze of light.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's the services were of unusual interest, even for the great Easter festival. The beautiful interior of the church was not profusely, but very tastefully, decorated, the chief floral decoration, which was rich and chaste, being confined to the chancel, screen and pulpit. The bright and hearty services during the day were very largely attended. There were three celebrations of the Holy Communion—at 7 a.m., 8 a.m., and at the conclusion of the 11 o'clock morning service—at which over 300 persons communicated. At the service of morning prayer there was a large congregation present, and Rev. E. V. Stevenson preached and eloquent and timely sermon on the topic suggested by the great Festival. The special service for children at 3 o'clock was well attended. In the evening there was a very large congregation, at the close of which joyous carols were sung in addition to the special music. The music of the day deserves special mention. The anthem in the morning was "Barnby's Break Forth into Joy," and the evening anthem was by Foster, the hymns were of the joyous character in words and music befitting the day.

The special collection for the fund for restoring the school house amounted to $350.

Easter vestry meeting in the school house to-night.

ST. JOHN'S MISSION.

There were two largely-attended celebrations of the Holy Communion at large congregations at the morning and evening services. The chancel was beautifully brightened with flowers. The special collections in aid of the building fund amounted to between $70 and $75.

EASTER DAY AT ST. LUKE'S.

All the services at St. Luke's yesterday was very largely attended. At 8 a.m. and at the 11 o'clock service, the Rector was assisted by Rev. W. L. B. Read, and both the communicants and the offertory were in excess of any previous Easter. The sermon in the morning was from the texts—"I am the Life" and "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Hearty congregational singing and responding is always a feature of St. Luke's, but yesterday morning the congregation entered into the service with more than ordinary cheerfulness. In the anthem "Awake up my glory," one of Barnby's finest, all the parts were taken with precision and vigour. The children's service in the afternoon was attended by a full Sunday school, and the Rector delivered an address on "The Journey to Emmaus." The congregation was not quite so large in the evening. The morning anthem was repeated and Goss's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were well rendered. The rector preached from Rev. vi., 2:—"And he went forth conquering and to conquer." He said that although the book of Revelation was in many parts obscure, yet in its main outlines it was a more simple book than was generally supposed. It pourtrayed under the form of visions the great conflict between good and evil. In this conflict under various forms Jesus Christ was represented as the triumphant King of the forces of good. The connection of this subject with Easter-day was obvious, because in the Revelation our Lord is always represented as having won the victory through death. "I am He that liveth and was dead." There were two things that men ardently desired, viz., Immortality and Perfection. The message of Easter corresponded to these two longings. It brought life and immortality to light and it presented to us the type of the Perfect Man. From this flowed lessons of comfort, of encouragement, of hope, of perseverance.

The church was beautifully adorned with flowers, which was liberally contributed by members of the congregation and others. Mrs. Cooney sent a handsome contribution of palms, rubber tree and other plants.

The Easter vestry meeting will be held to-night in the school house, and to-morrow evening the second annual congregational reunion will be held.

ST. ANDREW'S.

In the morning at St. Andrew's the following double anthem was given (a) "Oh Death Where is Thy Sting," (b) "Christ is Risen." During the offertory a quartette composed of Mrs. Jones, Miss Fowler, Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Jones, sang "Hosannah," Mrs. Jones taking the solo parts. In the evening the anthem was "Sing and rejoice." During the collection Mrs. Jones, Miss Fowler, Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Jones sang "The Palms," Mr. Mulligan taking the solo.

ST. PAUL'S.

The anthems at St. Paul's church yesterday were well rendered by a large choir. Miss Vair took the solo in a choral arrangement of Rodney's beautiful song "Calvary," which constituted the morning anthem. In the evening Maker's "Awake Thou that Sleepest," a bright composition of this well known composer, was given.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Special Easter music was given at the George street Methodist church. In the morning the choir sang the anthem "Joyful Easter Tide," Mr. James Brown taking the solo. During the offertory Mrs. Seward sang the solo "Day of Days," being a companion piece to "Night of Nights." In the evening the anthem "Why seek ye the living amongst the dead"—(Clare), was given, Mr. John Miller taking the first solo and Miss Clara Belleghem the other two. "The open Tomb" was given as a chorus anthem as was also "I am He that Liveth." In the latter a unison chorus was noticeable.

Mr. W. H. Cobb kindly loaned a large number of most beautiful plants for the floral decorations of the church.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST.

In the morning Rev. A. T. Dykeman preached a sermon on the "Resurrection," and there was also a large congregation at the evening service.

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Recipe Book his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 45 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 80 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now I advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. Many a man who would be startled at the bare thought of sitting down and deliberately drinking a dose of poison, allows himself to be regularly and systematically poisoned day after day by accumulations of bile in the blood.

When the liver fails to do its regular work of filtering this bilious poison out of the circulation, it goes on poisoning the entire constitution just as surely as if a man was drinking prussic acid.

Every part of the body is polluted. The digestive juices are suppressed and weakened. The kidneys and skin are clogged with impurities and the lungs and bronchial tubes overloaded with morbid secretion which eat away the delicate tissue, and bring about bronchitis and consumption.

All the diseases caused by this subtle process of bilious poisoning are cured by the marvelous alterative action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It directly increases the liver's natural excretive and purifying powers; gives the digestive and blood-making organs power to manufacture an abundance of red, rich, healthy blood.

It drives out all impurities, and vitalizes the circulation with the life-giving elements which restore perfect nutrition, solid muscular power, and healthy nerve-force.

"In August 1895, I was taken down in bed with a burning and severe pains in my stomach and under my shoulders, and dizziness in my head," writes Ira D. Herring, Esq., of Needmore, Levy Co., Fla. "My home physician was called and he said my symptoms were more like consumption than anything else. I lingered in this way seven months trying different kinds of medicine. Nothing that I ate would digest, and I had great distress in my stomach. I was persuaded to try some of Dr. Pierce's remedies or to see what he thought of my case. I wrote him and received an answer stating that my suffering was from indigestion and torpid liver, and advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first bottle gave pleasing results. I have taken four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three small vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am able to do my work and eat what I could not before I took these medicines."

A HUMAN BICYCLE FLY.

A Woman Who Rides a Wheel Head Downwards.

A daring bicyclist, who rides head downward, suspended from the ceiling, is the latest freak of the magicians of wheeling. The management of a bicycle under the most advantageous circumstances is a feat in itself sufficient for most people, but when the natural order of things is reversed, and the wheelman, or rather the wheelwoman, chooses a ceiling seventy-five feet above the floor for a track, and calmly drives her wheel about, now here, now there, like a human fly, the performance becomes marvelous indeed.

Annette Paula is the name of this wonderful expert, who for a long time past has been noted as one of the most skilful trick riders in France. One day in a circus in Berlin she saw a young woman who called herself a "human fly" walking about, head downward, on the ceiling. "I will wager a new hat," she said, "that I can ride a bicycle on the ceiling."

On the night of the exhibition the circus was crowded with spectators, who gazed curiously at a huge circular disc which was firmly fixed to the roof of the building, seventy-five feet above the heads of the audience. Almost twenty-five feet above the floor was fixed a stout nut, to catch the rider should she fall. As seen from below, the huge disc high up against the roof appeared to be covered with rubber or some similar substance. Mlle. Paula appeared upon the small platform at the edge of the disc, dressed in racing costume, while an attendant carried her machine, an ordinary diamond frame model, with a steel wire and strap sort of harness arrangement firmly fixed to the saddle. This harness was so made that when the rider took her seat a belt of stout leather fastened around the waist, while two steel rods, well padded and reinforced with leather straps, passed over the shoulders and were securely fastened to the framework of the wheel.

Set about half an inch apart along the circumference of both tires were what appeared to be tiny cups of rubber. Fitted to each side of both wheels were supplementary wheels of most peculiar construction. The rims were made in sections each about four inches in length, and joined together on the inside by hinges. To the outside of each of these sections were firmly fixed two of the rubber cups.

When the bicycle was placed in position, with the wheels on the lower surface of the big disc and the saddle downward, the purpose of these little cups was evident. As each cup came in contact with the rubber flooring of the disc the air was forced out of it, and the suction which resulted held the machine in place and prevented its falling. At least two of the sections presented a flat surface to the surface of the disc at the same time. Mlle. Paula finally got herself into the saddle and harness, head downward, and then started the machine, riding slowly, but apparently without effort. After several trips around the disc she became venturesome and increased her speed. For ten minutes she scorched in the air, whirling about like a human top.

A TRIPLE MURDER.

Tragedy at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., Creates a Sensation—Two Women Dead in a Carriage.

Sackett's Harbor, N.Y., April 16.—A horrible crime was committed in the vicinity of Madison Barracks, where the 9th U.S. Infantry is stationed, some time last night. During the afternoon or evening, George Allen, a steward at the barracks, hired a horse and carriage and took two women out driving. One of his companions was a young lady, Miss Bailey, and the other a divorced woman, Mrs. Crouch. At 2.30 this morning, the horse came back to the livery stable, drawing the carriage, which first the liveryman believed was empty, but on going up to the rig he found the corpses of the two women in the bottom of it. He at once notified the authorities. About this time Allen came staggering into the barracks in a weakened condition and he, too, is expected to die. He has made an ante-mortem statement to the effect that Crouch, husband of the divorced woman, assaulted the whole party, murdered the two women and threw him (Allen) into a creek. Crouch is under arrest. Crouch formerly lived in Canada.

Allen Says Crouch Did It.

Watertown, N. Y., April 16.—As the day wore on suspicion pointed more and more toward Wilbur Crouch, as the murderer. Allen, the man who was with the two women, came back to the mess hall about 4.40, when he fainted, but not before saying: "Get the women out of the creek." He was wet from head to foot and showed signs of having been in the water. For some time it was impossible to get any statement from him, so low was his condition. Stimulants were given and, as soon as he was aroused, the following statement was given, but only in answer to questions, he saying that it hurt his throat to talk: "Crouch did it. It was done by the creek. Crouch grasped the reins of the right horse and I leaped out of the rig. I was struck by a lash and then shot. I tried to get out my revolver, but before I could do so was shot again. In getting out my revolver I accidentally shot myself in the throat. The women were shot and fell on top of me."

Allen was asked how many times he shot and would hold up his hand with fingers outstretched, meaning that five bullets had pierced his body. After the shooting occurred Allen says he was driven a long distance by Crouch, and afterwards fell out of the buggy. He has now partly recovered, but grave fears are entertained for his recovery. Allen has been keeping company with Miss Daly, and it is said they were to be married tomorrow.

A coroner's jury was empanelled and rendered a verdict to the effect that the two women came to their death by bullet wounds believed to have been administered by Wilbur Crouch. Crouch has been arrested, and is in the county jail in Watertown.

WARNED BY THE QUADRA.

The Complaint Made Against the Canadian Government by the Owner of the U.S. Fishing Steamer Edith.

Tacoma, Wash., April 16.—W. N. Lanier, one of the owners of the American steamer Edith, which fished off the North Pacific halibut banks during the winter, says the officers of the Canadian revenue cutter Quadra warned the vessel not to fish off the coast of British Columbia, under penalty of seizure, although she was several miles beyond the three mile limit. Lanier says that another American fishing vessel has also been warned. He claims to have reported the matter to the United States authorities, and is waiting advices He hesitates, under the conditions, to send the vessel to the banks. The greater part of the Edith's catch was shipped from Tacoma to New York and Boston. The vessel might be sent out from British Columbia ports under the British flag, but the duty charged by the United States on halibut caught by British vessels would make the business of catering to the American trade unprofitable.

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Toronto, April 17.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, called to be held in the Rossin House yesterday afternoon, was so largely attended that they had to adjourn to the Confederation Life Building.

The meeting proved to be the largest in the history of the C.L.A., there being 98 clubs represented. President H. O'Loughlin was in the chair, and after welcoming the delegates, old and new, the various reports were read and adopted. There was a hot discussion between Messrs. Lennox, Rose, Nesbitt and Secretary Vance over the adoption of the auditors' report, which showed a balance on hand of $104 in the Merchants' Bank. This report was finally adopted.

The following officers were elected after a hot fight: Hon. president, H O'Loughlin; president, J J Craig, Fergus (Jackson retired in favor of Lennox); vice-president, J D Bailey, Toronto; second vice-president, J Glanville, Mount Forest; sec.-treas., W J Vance (re-elected); council, R Jackson, J Macdonald, F Nelson, Howard, Clemes, W J Stark, F J Moore, B McMillan, D J Slater, J A Ross, W H Hall.

After the election of officers, the several amendments were adopted.

There are five clubs entering the senior League—Tecumseh, Seaforth, Fergus, Toronto, St. Catharines. Any other clubs wishing to enter can do so within one week. It was moved by D. A. Rose and carried that the association donate a banner to the Toronto Junior Lacrosse League and to any other suitable districts.

Mr. Jackson asked for the next meeting for Seaforth, but it was decided to hold it in Toronto, as the most central place.

Bullet Proof Cloth.

Chicago, April 16.—Casimir Zeigler, a brother of the Order of Resurrectionists, at a cloister connected with the St. Stanislaus Polish Church in Noble-street, has invented a cloth of silk and wool treated chemically which is declared to be bullet proof. In a test made yesterday the piece of cloth which he had woven stopped steel bullets fired into it by a regulation U. S. rifle at a distance of 150 yards. The cloth is half an inch thick. A breastplate made of it would weigh four ounces.

Mr. G. R. Blount, Methodist minister, Dresden, Ont., says: "After a prolonged attack of La Grippe, I was very nervous and weak, and troubled with severe pains. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am perfectly well now." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

THE LOST CHILD.

A winsome child in former years,
Played in her cottage door;
Alas! the tired mother hears
His baby voice no more.

The sunny locks that clustered 'round
His head, ah, where are they?
No child's neglected toys are found
Strewn through the house to-day.

No more the pattering little feet
Are heard upon the floor;
The mother's heart can never beat
With gladness, as of yore.

The child is gone, and in its place
A raw-boned fellow stands,
With reddish whispers on his face
And big sledge hammer hands.

Yes, he's too strong to work, so she Must toil with all her might,
That he may eat, drink, chew and be
At ease from morn till night.

Alas! poor fool! She's crushed with care,
But let her slave away—
He was the child with sunny hair
That 'round her used to play!

Keeping Up Hedge Fences.

Hedges are useful or detrimental according to the way they are kept. A well-trimmed hedge is ornamental and becomes better every year, but if neglected and allowed to grow without attention it is very unsightly. The first year is the most important in managing a hedge, and in three years it should be in a condition to demand but little trimming. A hedge is better than a fence when once established, and can be so managed the first three years as to be impenetrable to small animals.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

IRMA'S BETROTHAL.

In one of the turret rooms of Reitzenberg castle a young girl arrayed in a simple dress and white apron sat sewing industriously. At the sound of footsteps she paused in her work; at the sight of a hussar-officer in uniform she reddened with vexation. Yet there was nothing in Albrecht von Reitzenberg's appearance to annoy her; on the contrary, he was young, very good looking, tall and of dignified bearing.

"Will you allow me to come in?" he asked, standing on the threshold.

The girl took up her work again. "You can come in if you wish," she said indifferently.

"He walked across the room. "I have a proposal to make to you, Baroness Irma. Will you give me your attention for a little while?"

She looked at him indignantly. She had a sweet, oval face, and deep gray eyes.

"I prefer not to listen to you, Count Albrecht."

"I thought that you would say so!" (there was something like a ring of triumph in his voice) "but indeed my proposal is very harmless. Let us come to an understanding."

There was uncertainty, distrust, in her eyes.

"Yes," continued the young officer, "I know that you have every reason to be offended. You have been most unfairly treated."

"I have been invited to this house under false pretences. I came here because I thought that the visit would give pleasure to Frau von Wolde, who fills, or is supposed to fill, the place of my mother. I am sorry to speak disrespectfully of your cousin, but—"

"Not at all. You are perfectly right, and my relative, Frau von Wolde, is in the plot and has been from the beginning. I know all about it now. My old uncle has just enlightened me. I, as the heir of Reitzenberg castle—you will excuse me mentioning my name first—have received orders to offer my hand and my debts in marriage to Baroness Irma von Buchow, who, on attaining her majority, will become possessed of so large a fortune that she could free the Reitzenberg estate with a stroke of her pen. Now, hear me out; this lady was to have been kept in ignorance of the plan, but that her friend and chaperon could not resist the temptation of giving her a hint as to how matters stand after she had become the guest of the castle. Is this so?"

"Yes." She stood by his side now, and the sunlight just touched the coils of her auburn hair. "I have been deceived; cruelly deceived."

"Under the circumstances, nothing remains for me but to give you the opportunity of expressing your opinion as to this tyrannous family compact even more decidedly than you have done already. Baroness Irma of Buchow, will you consent to give me your hand in marriage?"

"Count Albrecht of Reitzenberg, I thank you for the honor which you have shown me. I will not."

They stood facing each other, and as Irma looked at her strange wooer she saw a faint smile in his eyes. Her own anger was beginning to evaporate; he really was behaving well, considering that the Reitzenbergs were renowned for their hasty tempers.

"You admit," she said, after a pause, "that I have been awkwardly placed."

"I admit that you have been inhospitably, abominably treated! I blush to think that a member of our family could have dreamed of such a scheme. In order to show you how penitent I am, now that I have received my dismissal, I will immediately leave this house, and rid you of my presence."

"If you do that Count Albrecht, I shall be worse off than ever. You don't know your cousin, Frau von Wolde. She will insist upon my remaining here for three months, as was arranged, she will reproach me for your absence, she will argue and make me dislike you more than ever, if—"

"If possible?"

His good humor was irresistible; she burst into a merry laugh.

For another half hour her rejected suitor remained in conversation with the heiress, and at the end of that time they, too, had made a plot. Albrecht was to remain at the castle. He and the Baroness Irma were to pretend to be on amicable terms, and the two conspirators (the count and the chaperone) were not to learn until the last day of the visit expired that their hopes had failed.

"I will endeavor to make your visit as little irksome to you as possible," explained the heir of Reitzenberg; "and we can behave as if there were no enmity between us."

"Yes." (and there was still a little doubt in her voice and manner). "I think I can trust you."

"Come," he said, gently, "Baroness Irma, is it a truce between us signed and sealed?"

He took her hand in his, and, bending over it, raised her fingers to his lips.

The master of the castle was the first to begin hostilities. One day, toward the end of the three months' visit, Irma came into the drawing-room to find the whole party awaiting her arrival, and in an instant she perceived that something was wrong. Frau von Wolde had been shedding tears, the old count's brow was clouded with anger, and Albrecht—Irma hardly dared look at him, so changed was his aspect. It was too clear that the termination of the pleasant companionship of the last few weeks was to be war.

"My dear Baroness Irma," said the count, advancing to meet his young guest with ceremonious politeness. "I am exceedingly pleased to see you. Your visit here has given me great satisfaction. You honored this house with your presence, with the full consent of your guardian and my esteemed cousin, Frau von Wolde. I had hoped, not without grounds, that the friendship between you and my heir was gradually ripening into a deeper and more lasting feeling. The alliance is one which must give satisfaction to all interested in our families. Imagine my distress on hearing to-day from my nephew that you have refused his proposal of marriage."

Irma looked toward Count Albrecht; something that she read in his wrathful mien made her hesitate as she answered: "It is quite true; we are friends and nothing more."

"It cannot be, my dear young lady, that so young a maiden should have given away her preference without the consent or knowledge of her guardian? Answer me candidly: Are your affections already engaged?"

The color surged into Irma's cheeks and left them pale again. She glanced at Frau von Wolde. There was no help for her there. "This is a question which you have no right to ask, Count Reitzenberg, and which I refuse to answer. I must beg you to excuse me."

"Baroness Buchow is right!" burst in Albrecht. "She has suffered enough at our hands already. She shall not be thwarted in her will. If she honors me with her friendship I accept it gratefully. Listen to me, my uncle, I refuse to be a party to your scheme."

The forest spread its wide wings even as far as the castle garden. Irma loved the green paths and quiet shades, and here she came with her book the morning after her interview with the count, and pretended to read. But, though she kept her eyes on the pages, she read there only Count Albrecht's parting words—he accepted her offer of friendship gratefully! Driven to bay, as it were, in order to save her, that was what he had said. During the last three months she had come to understand something of his uprightness, his high sense of honor. He would never marry a woman—though she were a princess—to whom he could not give his love.

"It was my fortune," sighed Irma, "that made him nearly hate me at first." Did he hate her now?

She shut her book and wandered still further into the woods, down a hillside covered with fern and moss, toward the stream that ran between high rocks, chattering and foaming on its way. On the further side of the stream was a tract of open country, dotted with clumps of trees and underwood and bright with heather. The stepping-stones were half covered with water to-day, the current was running fiercer than its wont. She bethought herself of a rustic bridge a few yards further down.

The bridge hung high in the air, supported by rough pine stems; it was a picturesque but a fragile affair. Half way across Irma put her hand on the rail—how noisy the stream was!—it snapped off at her touch, one wooden plank tottered under her feet, another fell with a splash into the water below. She had plenty of courage; she was light and active. She knew, moreover, that she could easily leap that formidable looking gap and gain the bank. She was about to make the attempt, when she was stopped by a peremptory shout:

"Gently, gently! Jump from that projecting stem; it is safe!"

She looked up; on the edge of the heather-covered rock stood Albrecht Reitzenberg.

She paused uncertain, half inclined to retrace her steps. Perceiving her hesitation, he raised his voice and shouted still louder above the clamor of the rushing water:

"Can you hear me, Baroness Irma?"

She nodded assent.

"Step there—to the left. Do not look back."

Involuntarily she obeyed. He held out his arms. The gulf yawned between them. He could be of no help.

"The stem will bear your weight. Do not be in too great a hurry."

"Why does he look so grave?" thought Irma. "Is he still angry?"

"I had better return the way I came, Count Albrecht. Do not trouble on my account."

"No; do as I direct you. You see which is the best place to stand? Drop your book—it might be in your way—and jump as far as you can. Now!"

One spring, and Irma was safe on the moss and heather, while the plank on which she had thought to stand slipped slowly but surely into the foaming water. Albrecht held her hands clasped in his.

"Thank heaven that you are safe!" he cried. "Oh, Irma, my Irma, I could not stop you! I came just too late for that. I could only look on in agony. Are you frightened? Are you hurt?"

"I am not hurt. I did not know that it was dangerous. I did not, indeed."

She saw him turn pale at the thought of her peril, and the tears which she had not shed for herself fell fast for his distress.

"The bridge should have been destroyed long ago. I did not dare to join you or to speak to you until you had passed the worst. If you had been killed—eh! I cannot bear to think of it—I should never have known another day's happiness, and it would have been my fault—mine! How could I let you wander about alone when I was longing to be with you? My Irma, my best beloved! Thank heaven that I have you safe at last. Surely we have played at being friends and enemies long enough! Look at me and say that you love me!"

When he had made her an offer of marriage three long months ago she had been ready with her refusal. Now when her whole heart was his, she could find no words amid her tears, except: "I love you! I love you!"

It was enough for him. "My bride, my wife!" he said, and held her in his arms.

The green ferns rustled and whispered, the beeches tossed their boughs in the sunlight, the red squirrels played in the oak trees, the whole wood was full of life and joy at that moment when the lovers plighted their troth.—Woman at Home.

A Practical Point in Dairying.

Turnip flavor in butter may be avoided, as we have often mentioned, by making the butter Devonshire fashion, and we see in the English papers that Mr. James Davies of Shewsbury cures turnip-fed separator cream on the same principle by raising its temperature to from 150 degrees F. to 160 degrees F. The process is conducted on the "bain-marie" plan; two vessels are used; one is in direct contact with the fire and contains boiling water, the vessel containing the cream being placed within it. It is only necessary to keep up the heat for a few minutes, when the high temperature drives out all the unpleasant flavor however strongly the cream may have been flavored by the use of turnips or swedes. After the operation is finished, the cream should be cooled as rapidly as possible. To this we would simply add that turnips should be fed as soon after milking as possible, to give the digestive powers an opportunity of doing their share of the work of freeing the milk from the nauseous flavor.—Ill. Journal of Agriculture.

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Standing of Pupils for Winter Term.

The following is the standing of the pupils in the various forms as indicated by the results of the weekly examinations held during the term.

Some few are low on account of absence from examinations—no credit being given in such cases, as regularity in attendance is essential to progress.

In the case of Form IV. Senior pupils, the recommendations for entrance to High Schools will be largely based on the work during the term, as shown by the following results.

Parents who are intending to send little ones for the first time are requested to do so directly after the Easter vacation so as to avoid inconvenience.

FORM I.

Total number of marks, 460. Leonard Giroux, 443; Otto Storts, 434; Morty Brennan, 423; Omer Giroux, 422; Donat Lalonde, 405; Harry Quinlan, 401; Willie Cahill, 397; S. Sullivan, 390; J. Rural Regiments Will be Recognized

IN THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE PARADE

Major-General Gascoigne Proposes to Reorganize the Canadian Militia, Reducing the Number From 35,000 to 25,000 Who Would be of Service if Needed.

Ottawa, April 18.—(Special.)—The authorities of the Militia Department have been busily engaged since the receipt of the Colonial Secretary's message, making arrangements for sending the troops to England to take part in the Sons of Empire parade on the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee, and on Saturday the Cabinet approved of the scheme of selection. The list of regiments has been carefully gone over, the desire being to make the detachment as representative as possible. It is settled that all arms of the service are to be inspected in battalion, and, in order that the contingent may be an essentially strong one, representatives are to be drawn from every Province. With very few exceptions, the infantry and rifles are to be chosen from the city battalions. The proportion will be about four men from each corps. The three Toronto regiments will each contribute their quota, also the 13th Hamilton, 7th London, the Guards and 43rd Ottawa, 14th Kingston and 38th Brantford. In addition to these, Guelph, Ottawa, Hamilton, Kingston and London Field Batteries will, it is expected, send a small contingent, while the Governor-General's Body Guard and the P.L.D. Guards will assist to form a cavalry representation. Although from two to four men may seem a small portion to be called, yet, as the number for the whole Dominion is fixed at 200, it will be seen that the department has had no easy task before it. However, the red coats and green coats from Ontario, when grouped with their comrades in arms from the other Provinces, will make a respectable showing. As there are only two kilted regiments in the Dominion—the Highlanders and Royal Scots—it is probable these corps will be asked to furnish a few more than other regiments, in order that the "bowlegs" may not be lost sight of altogether. The regimental force of all arms are not to be forgotten on this trip; neither are the Mounted Police. All these different bodies are to be asked to furnish men. Out of compliment to the Minister of Militia, the 68th King's County Battalion, of which Dr. Borden is surgeon-lieutenant-colonel, is to send a contingent. Col. Domville, M.P., has also secured an invitation for his crack cavalry regiment—8th Princess Louise New Brunswick Hussars—to be present.

The annual summer camps will be held this year in June, commencing about the 7th and running along until the end of the month. All those battalions that did not drill last autumn must complete their training before the 30th June. It is not unlikely that autumn camps will be dispensed with hereafter, except for Nova Scotia. The different battalions which go to camp this year will have to be on their best behavior, as it is understood to be the policy of the Government to reduce the force somewhat by wiping out those corps which are not efficient. The existence of some regiments will therefore altogether depend upon the manner in which they acquit themselves during the coming June. It is thought the force of 35,000 on paper can, without detriment to the country's interest, be reduced to 25,000 efficient men. Col. Gascoigne intends to visit as many of the camps as possible, and those that he cannot inspect, the duty will be performed by Col. Lake, quarter-master general, Col. Aylmer, adjutant-general, going to England in command of the Jubilee battalions.

Gen. Gascoigne's desire is that only men who are physically fit for active service should perform annual training, and a general order has been issued providing a standard and physical requirements of non-commissioned officers and men. The age limit is placed between 18 and 45 years. Exceptions may be made in the case of senior non-commissioned officers, whose ages must, however, be not more than 50 years. A minimum chest measurement of 33 inches is required, and the height not less than 5 feet 4 inches for mounted corps and 5 feet 5 inches for dismounted corps. They must have a physical development suitable for their age and be free from symptoms of rheumatic affections and other physical defects, calculated to render them unfit for service, or predisposing them to become non-effective under exposure. They must be free from lameness and be in full possession of senses of speech and hearing. They are not to be flat-footed. When practicable, medical inspection will be made before leaving headquarters for camp; but, if not examined, the inspection must be made immediately on arrival at camp. Those found unfit will be at once returned to their homes, their homes, and the cost of transportation at the rate of 2 cents per mile from local headquarters to camp and return, will be a charge against the pay of the squadron, battery or company officer bringing to camp such as have been found medically unfit for service.

Trade returns for March show a continuance of the rush that is being made to get goods in and duties paid before the changes in the tariff are announced next Thursday. The March exports were $6,453,000 and the imports $11,810,000, making a total trade of $18,263,000. The comparison with the previous year is as follows:

	Total trade.	Duty paid.
March, 1896.....	$14,255,000	$1,900,000
March, 1897.....	18,263,000	2,458,000

There was an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in the trade import of raw sugar alone, showing that refiners are anticipating an increase.

For the nine months ending March 31, the comparison with the corresponding nine months of the previous fiscal year was as follows:

	Exports.	Imports.	Duty paid.
1896....	$82,009,000	$83,834,000	$15,463,000
1897....	99,192,000	85,089,000	15,769,000

The report published in a Toronto paper that Admiral Markham has declined the command of the Hudson's Bay expedition is entirely without foundation. Capt. Walkham was appointed to the command weeks ago, and is making all arrangements for the trip. Admiral Markham, who went to Hudson's Bay with Lieut. Gordon in 1883, promised to go this year, but finds now that he cannot leave his duties in England.

A report was current in the city yesterday that the Canadian Pacific Railway has accepted the proposition of the Government to build the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. The proposition is said to be that the Government give the company $10,000 per mile, and in return for this subsidy the railway will give up certain of its special privileges which it has in its charter, such as control of rates by the Government. Whatever decision the Government may have reached, your correspondent is in a position to state that it has not been formally communicated to the Canadian Pacific authorities.

Mr. Gorrel of Brockville, a well-known mail clerk in this division, and who ran between this city and Brockville, dropped dead in the office of his son, Dr. Gorrel, on Bank-street, on Friday evening. Mr. Gorrel arrived in the city on the Brockville train yesterday at 5 o'clock. During the ride down he complained of feeling unwell, and upon arriving here was driven to his son's residence. He coughed up considerable blood, and a few minutes before 6 o'clock passed away. He leaves a widow and eleven children who reside in Brockville. The remains were taken home yesterday, and the funeral will take place at Brockville to-morrow.

Four officers of Royal Scots waited on Major-General Gascoigne a few days ago, in reference to the Board of Enquiry asked for by the officers for the final settlement of misunderstanding between them and their colonel. As a result of their interview the various papers bearing upon the case were forwarded to Hon. Dr. Borden, and it is expected that the Minister of Militia will at once cause a court of enquiry to be convened to adjudicate upon the dispute.

STILL HOT FIGHTING.

Turks Meet With Defeat at Reveni

AND BEAT RETREAT IN DISORDER

Germany at the Bottom of the Sultan's Action—The Thunderer Says Turkey Had to Resent the Action of Greece—Will the Powers Intervene to Make Peace?

Larissa, April 19, 5 p.m.—The Greeks have defeated the Turks at Reveni, and two Greek brigades have entered Turkish territory in different directions and penetrated to Damasi, northeast of Zarkos. Another division is trying to flank the Turks, who are retreating in disorder.

Heavy fighting is in progress at Gritzovali. It has been going on since noon. The Greeks are trying to recapture the place.

The Crown Prince Constantine has gone to Tyrnavo.

Greek Steamer Athens Sunk.

Salonica, April 19.—A Turkish torpedo boat has sunk the Greek steamer Athens in the Gulf of Salonica. On board were insurgents and members of various secret societies.

A general panic prevails here. All vessels are prohibited from leaving the gulf. The Turks have seized the Greek steamer Kephaleion.

In Suspense at Athens.

London, April 19.—A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Athens, dated midnight, says that General Smolenitz, in command of the Greeks at Reveni, has pushed Edhem Pasha toward Damasi. The suspense here is extreme. Everybody is waiting for the list of killed and wounded. Patriotic bankers and others have offered the Government over £1,000,000.

Has a Massacre Taken Place?

Athens, April 20, 1 a.m.—The Greeks have occupied several strategic positions around Damasi, including Vigla, and 3000 armed peasants have joined the troops. It is alleged that 22,000 Turks attacked Reveni. It is feared that a massacre has taken place at Prevosa during the bombardment.

FOREIGN OFFICE AT WORK.

The Powers May Intervene to Stop Hostilities at This Juncture.

London, April 19.—In spite of the fact that the hostilities on the Greek frontier have caused but little excitement here, communications have been in progress all day between the Foreign Office and Rome, France and Athens.

It is reported to-night that among the matters considered is the expediency of ordering the international fleets to leave Cretan waters and to go in the direction of Salonica and the Dardanelles to watch the fighting, with a view of localising it if necessary by naval intervention. Should this suggestion, which is understood to emanate from the Italian Foreign Office, be acted upon, it is probable that only half the fleet of foreign warships would be withdrawn for such a purpose, the other half remaining to continue the Cretan blockade.

There is said to be a sharp difference of opinion between the military powers, Russia, Austria and Germany, and the maritime powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, as to the most expeditious and least violent methods of compelling a cessation of hostilities should this result not be reached by the exercise of diplomatic pressure at Athens and Constantinople.

It is reported at the Foreign Office that the communications received here to-day from the Marquis of Salisbury, after his interview with Queen Victoria at Nice, support the theory that the British Government is using its utmost energy to persuade both the combatants to make a cessation of the conflict at the stage which it has now reached.

THE STAND GREECE TAKES.

Claims That the Turkish Government Broke Faith on April 16.

Athens, April 19.—The Greek Minister for Foreign Affairs has sent a reply to the note which Assim Bey, the retiring Turkish Minister, handed to M. Skouses. The Turkish note was as follows:

"In consequence of the aggressive attitude of Greece, diplomatic relations between the King of the Hellenes and his Imperial Majesty the Sultan of Turkey and their respective Governments are hereby broken off.

"The Greek Minister at Constantinople and the Greek Consuls have been ordered to quit Turkish territory. For the same reason the Turkish Consuls in Greece have been recalled to Constantinople. Within a fortnight from the date of this announcement all Greek subjects must leave Turkish territory. Ottoman subjects now in Greek territory have been invited to leave within the same period."

M. Skouses in his answer says: "In wishing to make Greece responsible for the rupture of diplomatic relations the Imperial Government appears to lose sight of the fact that Greece, far from proceeding to acts of hostility against Turkey, has had to suffer during the last few days from repeated acts of aggression upon the part of the Turkish army at several points on the frontier. Owing to the conflict at the Prophet Elias on March 28, the Royal Government drew the attention of the Imperial Government to the attitude of the Turkish troops, but instead of yielding to the spirit of moderation dictating this step, the Imperial Government appeared disposed to precipitate events. Thus on Friday, the Turkish army, without provocation, attempted to obtain possession of Analipsis, which was mutually agreed to be neutral territory. It was only on the resistance of the Greeks that this attempt to violate neutral territory failed.

"The Royal Government cannot let pass in silence the fact that before it was officially notified of the rupture of diplomatic relations, and while the King's Minister at Constantinople was only notified at an advanced hour of the night, the forts at Prevosa opened fire at 5 o'clock in the morning on the Hellenic position at Actium and sunk the Greek steamer Macedonia.

"In face of these facts, showing there is little foundation for the assertion of the sublime Porte to the effect that Greece committed acts of hostility, the responsibility for the consequences can in no way rest with the King's Government."

Where France Stands.

Paris, April 19.—At a Cabinet meeting held this morning it was decided not to modify the policy of non-intervention in Graeco-Turkish affairs previously adopted by France. At the request of the Greek Minister at Constantinople, Prince Mavrocordato, the French Embassy there has been authorized to take under its protection the Greek Catholics in Turkey.

At the close of the Cabinet meeting, M. Hanotaux, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, received the Greek Minister to France, M. Delyannis.

Where the Greeks are Short.

St. Petersburg, April 19.—Referring to the formation of an alliance between Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro, it is semi-officially pointed out to-day that the league being formed is not only for their protection against Turkey and Austria but against Pan-Hellenic aspirations in the Balkan Peninsula. Therefore, it is added, Greece is unable to count upon any support from them in the present conflict, and, moreover, the respective Ministers have positively assured Russia that their Governments will maintain strict neutrality.

Powers Against Greece.

London, April 19.—In spite of the fact of its being a holiday here to-day, there was great activity at the Foreign office, where the full staff was at work the whole day long. The Italian, German, Austrian, Swedish, French and Turkish Ministers had a lengthy conference with Sir Thomas H. Sanderson, the Permanent Secretary of the Foreign Office. The latter said to a representative of the Associated Press that the powers had not yet decided to interfere in the war between Greece and Turkey, which, he added, should be sharp and decisive, as the Greeks have little chance of ultimately winning.

Greeks Get Together Again.

Athens, April 19.—In the second engagement at Gritzovali, the Greek brigade commanded by General Mastropas was able to re-form after giving way before the Turkish assault. Another Greek brigade, under the command of General Minopoulos, is hurrying to reinforce General Mastropas.

A despatch from Arta, filed at 11.30 this morning, announced that fighting continues between the Greeks and Turks at the entrance of the Gulf of Arta and elsewhere in that vicinity. The Turkish batteries at Hamidieh and Pantoeratoros are replying feebly.

The crossing of the River Arakphos by the Greek army under Col. Manca, numbering about 25,000 men, was attended by severe figthing, during which the Greek artillery batteries distinguished themselves. This Greek force is now in Epirus.

Despatches from the frontier received here this evening say that the Turks in considerable force have been attacking Reveni, not far from Tyrnavo, northwest of Larissa, which would indicate that the Greeks have not advanced far into the Damasi plain. It is added that the Turks were repulsed at Reveni.

A still later despatch from Gritzovali admits that the Turks have recaptured that place.

GREEKS IN THE STATES

Will Send Reinforcements to Athens to Aid Their Fellow-Countrymen.

New York, April 19.—The Greek restaurants and meeting places in this city were crowded to-day with excited little groups of patriots. Daily labor seemed to be forgotten in the all-absorbing interest of listening to despatches from the seat of war.

"Ista Sunora!" (To the front!) was shouted at frequent intervals during the reading of Grecian triumphs. Not a single Greek seemed to have the least doubt that the Turkish forces would be speedily routed by land and sea.

The enthusiasm among the Greeks has been brought to a head by definite commencement of hostilities, and active preparations are on foot to send reinforcements from the United States to aid the cause of Greece. It is expected that a large contingent of patriots will leave this week for Athens.

WHAT THE THUNDERER SAYS.

Greece Gave Turkey Provocation, But Turkey Will Never Reap Any Benefit.

London, April 19.—The Times in an editorial on the war between Turkey and Greece dwells upon the provocation Turkey has received by Greece invading Crete and remaining there, and then invading Macedonia. The paper asks: "What other power in Europe commanding a fine army would have carried its patience so far as Turkey has done?" It adds: "Of course there are special reasons why she has been slow to respond to the provocation. Turkey is well aware that in no case will she be allowed to gather the fruit of victory over a Christian people.

"The statement in her circular to the powers declaring that she has no idea of conquest and expressing her willingness to withdraw her troops if Greece withdraws hers from the frontier and from Crete was wise, but it was also a somewhat superfluous display of moderation. She prudently renounces what she knows she will not be permitted to have."

Discussing the reports of the fighting The Times says that if the Turks get undisputed possession of Milouna, the plains of Thessaly will be open to them. It concludes:

"Whatever the fortunes of the campaign it must be the general wish that it will be short and decisive.

"It would be idle to deny that a continued struggle would not be a menace to European peace. It is impossible to credit the rumor from Athens that Russia and Germany incited the Porte to hostility."

VIEWED IN THE UNITED STATES.

Progress of Hostilities Watched With Keen Interest—Germany's "Loan" Discussed.

Washington, D.C., April 19.—The President and Secretary Sherman were in consultation several times during the afternoon. It is gathered unofficially that they had under consideration a telegram from Minister Terrell at Constantinople regarding the protection of American interests and the protection of Greek subjects which have been intrusted to the United States Minister to the Porte. Secretary of the Navy Long was also with the President.

The progress of hostilities is being watched with the keenest interest in military circles here. It may be said that, while the sympathies of the army officers lie largely with the Greeks, they fully expect that the Turks will prevail in the end if allowed to wage war untrammeled by the interference of the other powers, and there are signs to indicate that such an arrangement has been reached by the principal military and naval powers of Europe as will make this possible. The War Department experts say that Turkey, on paper at least, has one of the most formidable armies in the world, and although it is generally admitted that its strength may not be anywhere near as large as thus set out, still there actually exists a military force beside which that of Greece is absolutely insignificant in number. In addition to this numerical superiority, the War Department experts say that the Turkish forces for some time past have had the benefit of thorough training by a number of German army officers, the best drill masters in the world. At present the Turkish commander-in-chief, Edhem Pasha, has at his back one of the ablest strategists in all Europe in the person of Lieut.-General Baron Comar von der Goltz, a German officer "loaned" to Turkey by Emperor William. This officer is said to unite in himself all the qualities of a most gifted scholar and an experienced soldier. He participated in the war with Denmark, in the Franco-Prussian war and in the Austro-Prussian war, and, in addition, he is the author of three military books that are regarded almost as text-books in the service. It is reported here that Baron von der Goltz is really the author of the plan of campaign under which the Turkish army is now fighting.

THE BRAVERY OF TURKS.

They Walk Calmly Into the Jaws of Death—Blood-Stained Reports.

Headquarters of the Turkish army in Macedonia, Elassona, April 18, 9 p.m. (delayed in transmission).—After the most fatiguing day with the headquarters staff in the Milouna Pass, the correspondent of the Associated Press has returned here. The battle, resulting in giving the Turks possession of Milouna Pass, was waged with the most admirable courage and determination on both sides. The whole pass rang with the roar of artillery and the rattle of musketry. It was, however, around the two Greek blockhouses that the most furious conflict occurred. They were defended with the utmost valor and tenacity. The correspondent was greatly struck with the coolness and discipline of the Turks. In the midst of the hottest fighting, for instance, four Turkish soldiers, advancing in skirmishing order under a deadly fire, became detached from the main body. Nevertheless they continued to advance with perfect self-possession amid a hail of bullets. One of the men was hit and fell, then the second man was shot and the third received a bullet wound, but the fourth man calmly continued firing without regard for his personal safety until the Greeks retired.

The most important Greek blockhouse named Kritchova, was strongly fortified and defended by earthworks. The Turks mostly attacked in skirmishing order, firing independently. They very seldom fired volleys. The scene while the engagement was at its height was exceedingly picturesque. Edhem Pasha, surrounded by a brilliant staff, was the centre of a striking group, with the constantly going and coming of orderlies carrying reports, instructions, etc.

The ambulance corps was busy in every direction, bringing in the wounded, whose faces were black with powder and covered with blood.

Edhem Pasha gravely followed every phase of the fighting through a field glass, giving orders and receiving reports with imperturbable deliberateness. It was noticed that many of the reports were scribbled on scraps of paper stained with blood.

The officers and men alike were black with the dust of battle and had not slept, shaved or washed for two days and nights.

Riza Pasha, commanding the Turkish artillery, is a man of magnificent presence. He exhibited most masterly skill in placing his batteries and in directing their fire.

It is believed to-morrow's fighting must be decisive. Several additional batteries of artillery and battalions of infantry have arrived to take part in the great combat of to-morrow (Monday).

The hill slopes on the northern side of the pass are strewn with Greek dead, mostly Evzones, splendid men. The faces of many of the dead are as calm as though asleep.

Some of the famous treasure ships which lie at the bottom of the seas include L'Orient, sunk by Nelson at the battle of the Nile, with $3,000,000 aboard; the Latune sunk in the Zuyder Zee, with $7,000,000 in her hold; the De Brake, lost off Delaware Bay, with Spanish bullion, and the ship Golden Gate, which went down off Cape Hatteras while returning from California in the '50's, loaded with gold. Official statistics show that 2000 vessels are sunk annually, the vessels and cargoes valued at $100,000,000. The Atlantic and Pacific coasts are strewn with old and new wrecks, many laden with valuable cargoes.

The iron grasp of scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing dreadful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

HON. MR. HARDY.

The mantle of Sir Oliver Mowat as Premier of Ontario has fallen upon worthy shoulders. Hon. Mr. Hardy has shown himself a completely capable successor of the Premier who for nearly a quarter of a century filled that position. The manner in which he filled it set a standard for statesmanship and party generalship of a very exacting nature, but the success of Hon. Mr. Hardy in his initial session has amply justified the confidence felt in his ability for the position of premier. He has so borne himself that he has retained and amplified the respect and fealty of the Government following developed during his long career as a minister; he has won the respect of the opponents of the government in every case where partisan prejudice has not been permitted to subordinate an appreciation of what is just, fair and courteous in a political opponent and the leader of the Government forces. The duties of his position as premier the first session, have been particularly trying. He has been the object of especial critical vigilance, in view of his promotion, and he has more than justified the warmest expectations of his friends, and correspondingly dismayed his opponents who fancied that the impregnable Sir Oliver's translation would make the task of gaining the citadel an easy one. But the session reveals the fact that the interests of the great Province of Ontario are as safe in the hands of his successor as they were in Sir Oliver's own. Many questions, difficult and delicate have confronted the House, critical situations have developed, but in all cases the firm hand, the honest purpose, the dominant desire for the public good, have enabled Premier Hardy to meet the demand of every emergency.

In spite of the difficulties that beset an incoming premier, in spite of an unusual succession of insistent deputations, and in spite of other causes, the work of legislation was kept moving, and the important interests involved, and there were many of prime importance, secured ample consideration. Both for aggressive and defensive leadership of the Government, Premier Hardy has achieved a success which is as gratifying to his loyal followers as to the country at large. He has taken up with credit the work which Sir Oliver resigned. He has shown that he has profited by the lessons of good government, efficient administration and tactful leadership learned by a dozen years of official association with one of the best premiers Ontario ever had—the other being Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier and Attorney-General of the Province.

Hon. Mr. Hardy's success in his "trial" session is emphasized by the bitterness of the attack of the partisan press, who by their desperate efforts to discredit him betray their fear of his influence and strength. Such a fear is well founded. Hon. Mr. Hardy stands high in the affections of his followers in the House, and in the confidence of the Liberal party, and the country generally, which will, at the approaching general election, show that an administration so ably led by Mr. Hardy, is worthy of being continued in the great trust it has so long enjoyed and so faithfully discharged.

WILL COSTIGAN OUT?

It is Rumoured That he Will Become a Liberal

AND SUPPORT MR. LAURIER.

Said That He has Been Favourable to the Manitoba School Policy

Propounded by the Present Government That he Does not Like the Support of a Large Class of Conservatives in Toronto—An Admirer of Mr. Blair.

(Toronto World.)

Montreal, April 16.—(Special.)—There is the greatest apprehension amongst Hon. John Costigan's political friends in this city, who are startled over the persistent assertions of politicians of both parties to the effect that the leader of the Irish Catholic Conservatives is preparing to throw in his lot with the Laurier Government and abandon forever the Liberal-Conservative party. Those who know or pretend to know whereof they speak, declare that a speech from Hon. Mr. Costigan before the end of the present session will place the ex-Tory Minister squarely within the Liberal fold and that the convert's support will not only be extended to the general policy of the Laurier Government, but to their Manitoba school policy as well.

When Mr. Costigan's transition takes place, a good many will question his motives, but if he gives his adhesion to the Manitoba settlement he will be by all odds the biggest fish that ever swam into the Laurier net, and several things have, it is said, contributed to Hon. Mr. Costigan's walk-out from amongst his life-long political associates, and one of these is without doubt the rather aggressive anti-Catholic sentiment that has laid hold of an influential section of the Liberal-Conservative party, more especially in Ontario, since the death of Sir John Macdonald. Then there is the honourable gentleman's antipathy to Hon. George E. Foster, ex-Minister of Finance, and his high regard for the Hon. A. G. Blair, the present Minister of Railways and Canals. Mr. Costigan was perfectly in the right when he and Sir John Macdonald wanted to appoint Mr. Blair to the Chief Justiceship of New Brunswick, a few years ago. They saw in the then Premier Blair an uncomfortable opponent if he should try his hand in national politics, but, as Hon. Mr. Foster could not see that far ahead, he blocked the scheme, with disastrous results to the Conservative party in New Brunswick. It appears that Mr. Blair and Mr. Costigan understood each other fairly well while the former was leader of the New New Brunswick Government, and it was always noticed that the men in that province who supported Mr. Blair were invariably Mr. Costigan's friends at Ottawa, so it is not improbable that Mr. Blair's presence in the Ottawa Cabinet should have more than a little to do with the Hon. John's change of front.

When You Are Sick

Promptness in Using Paine's Celery Compound Means Quick Restoration to Health.

Get the Genuine "Paine's" At all Times.

Refuse Substitutes and Imitations

If sick people acted with more promptness and decision, suffering and misery would be vastly reduced.

To put off the work of regulating and strengthening the nerves and purifying the blood at this time of the year is a very serious mistake.

Run-down, weak, nervous and diseased men and women cannot with safety refuse to use Paine's Celery Compound, that great vitalizer and health renewer. The onward and triumphant march of the great medicine all over this Canada of ours should be positive proof that it is the right medicine for every man, woman and child who lacks strength, robustness and healthful energy.

It is of the greatest importance that every sick person should get just what they ask for from their dealer. Paine's Celery Compound, so celebrated for its curative qualities, has many imitations. No mistake can be made when you see the name "Paine's" and the stalk of celery on each bottle and wrapper.

FLOODS IN NEW ZEALAND.

Napier Almost Inundated—Twelve Persons Drowned While Trying to Rescue Others Hemmed In.

Wellington, New Zealand, April 13.—The Napier district of Hawkes' Bay, on the east coast of North Island, is suffering from severe floods. Napier itself is almost inundated.

It is estimated that the damage will reach $100,000.

Twelve persons have been drowned while trying to effect the rescue of others hemmed in by the waters.

H. M. S. Talbot at New York.

THE FUTURE OF AUSTRALIA.

The U. S. Consul-General at Melbourne Thinks Confederation Will Come in the Near Future.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—A report upon the political future of Australia has just been sent to the State Department by Consul-General Maratta, stationed at Melbourne, in which he says that the colonies are on the eve of federation. An election is to be held at once to elect delegates to the convention to bring about the union of the colonies. It is proposed to have a Governor-General of the confederation, to be appointed by the Queen, with Lieutenant-Governors for the different colonies, to be chosen by the people of the states.

There is also to be a Senate and House of Representatives, all chosen by the people. There will be intercolonial free trade, and the Congress is to adjust the duties on all foreign imports. Many differences of opinion, the consul reports, exist between the leading Premiers on minor points, but the convention is expected to adjust these. He predicts that in a short time Australia will be under one Government and known to the world as the Australian nation.

JOHN J. FOOTE DEAD.

Proprietor of The Quebec Chronicle Passes Away—Mgr. Del Val's Visit to Toronto—Woman Breaks Her Neck.

Quebec, April 19.—John J. Foote, proprietor of The Morning Chronicle, died here to-day after a short illness. Mr. Foote was born in Tavistock, Devon, England, in 1832. The paper will be continued as usual under the management of Mr. Allison Jackson, business manager, until Mr. Trevor Foote, deceased's youngest son, comes of age, in three years.

Mgr. Mery Del Val attended mass in the Seminary chapel this afternoon. He was tendered a reception at Laval University, when the honorary degree of Doctor of Theology was conferred upon His Excellency and an address was also presented to him. The delegate will leave here Wednesday morning for Valleyfield, where he will spend a few days with Mgr. Emard, proceeding thence to Toronto, where he will be the guest of Archbishop Walsh till Friday of next week.

At Bergerville, a suburban municipality, to-day as Mrs. Auguste Lamontagne was going home across the fields she attempted to cross over a fence, but her dress caught and she fell over on her head. Her neck was broken and death was instantaneous.

The Suicide Identified.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 19.—The man who jumped from the Suspension Bridge last Saturday has been identified as Ernest F. Markham of Boston, a member of The Boston Journal staff. Photographs of Markham received here to-day were at once identified. No reason is known for the fatal jump on Markham's part.

THE DINGLEY BILL.

It is Said That the Retroactive Clause Will Not be in it When it Goes to the Senate.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 19.—A Washington despatch to The Enquirer to-day says: "It can be said on good authority that when the tariff bill is reported to the Senate, the retroactive clause will not be in it. That idea, which originated in the brain of a prominent House Republican, who framed it, has never impressed Senators Aldrich and Allison, and it is understood that they quickly determined to eliminate the clause, on the ground that the courts would not sustain legislation of a retroactive nature.

"It is now said the sub-committee will be ready by Wednesday to report the tariff bill to the full committee, and the calculation is to get it before the Senate by May 1, if possible.

"It is also learned that the bill has been cut to pieces so generally, and such heavy reductions made in the rates of duty that it is problematical whether the bill can pass the Senate in the shape it is expected to assume when reported.

"The chances are the Republican Senators will hold numerous caucuses after the committee finally agree on the schedule. While the members of the sub-committee are extremely secretive, and decline to discuss in detail the results of their labors, enough has leaked out to warrant the statement that the bill has been so hacked to pieces and duties so heavily reduced that certain interests clamoring for high protection will use their influence to prevent the House accepting the Senate bill.

"Senator Aldrich, even, has admitted privately within the past few days that the outlook is not pleasant to contemplate. He, however, is prepared for a long tussle and contends that the bill will eventually pass."

EXCITEMENT IN WHEAT.

New York Brokers Talk Over the War Situation and Then Create a Tumult —Changes at Chicago.

New York, April 19.—The breaking of the war cloud in Southern Europe put the wheat market in a state of fevered excitement this morning. Long before the opening crowds of brokers were on hand discussing the situation. The curb price for May wheat was 82⅝c, or an advance of 3c over Saturday's 1 o'clock figures. As the market opened, the scene in the exchange became one of wild excitement. Amidst the tremendous tumult, May wheat started off at 82¼c, jumped to 83⅛c, reacted a little and then whirled up to 83⅞c, all within the first five minutes, and after that the market pursued an irregular and erratic course under continued great excitement.

At Chicago.

Chicago, April 19.—The war news sent the wheat market skyward to-day. May wheat sold as high as 78c a bushel at the opening of trading on 'Change, an advance of 4¼c over the closing figures of Saturday and 5⅝c over the lowest prices touched that day. Fluctuations were violent, trading at the start being all the way from 77c to 78c at the same time in different parts of the pit. Most of the initial sales were at 77c to 77½c, but for nearly 10 minutes purchases were being recorded at top figures named. Then the market steadied for a moment or two at 77½c. At this point there was a fearfully rapid reaction. The market plunged suddenly downward 2c a bushel, to 75½c, with scarcely a single stop. An equally quick rally followed, prices dashing up to 77⅝c, nearly 2c advance in two minutes. In five minutes afterwards the market was down again almost a cent, and at 10 a.m., half an hour after the opening, was selling at 76½c May. By 10.15 a.m. the price was shooting the chutes again and had touched 75⅝c, but by 10.30 was comparatively steady around 76¼c.

Dollar Wheat at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—For the first time since 1881, cash wheat passed the dollar mark. One car load extra high grade sold for $1.01, and two car loads No. 2 red winter wheat at $1.02¼.

In the U. S. Senate.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The Senate passed the Indian appropriation bill to-day.

Resolutions of enquiry were agreed to, asking the Secretary of State as to the operation of the reciprocity treaties made under the McKinley Act.

Mr. Vest introduced his resolution declaring illegal the recent order of the Secretary of the Treasury relative to imports arriving after April 1. The Senator gave notice of pressing the resolution to-morrow and it may afford another test on the tariff.

After an executive session, the Senate adjourned as a mark of respect to Representative Milliken, deceased.

Robbery in Unionville.

Unionville, April 19.—The postoffice and store of John Davison was broken into Sunday night. The thief got $8 or $10 in money, less than $4 in postage stamps and a lot of silk handkerchiefs, kid gloves, cutlery and plated-ware to the value of $100. Entrance was made by the back door. One door was forced and a panel cut out of another.

A Reprieve for Gentry.

Philadelphia, April 19.—A special despatch to The Evening Telegraph from Harrisburg, Pa., says that James B. Gentry, the murderer of Madge Yorke, has been granted a reprieve by the Board of Pardons.

KELLY WAS CAUGHT

Run to Earth Last Night in Montreal.

CASHIER STICKNEY'S MURDERER

Was Dressed in the Garb of a Woman—Admits to the Detectives That He Planned the Robbery—Bank's Money on Him.

Montreal, April 19.—(Special.)—Joseph B. Kelly, the murderer of Cashier Stickney of the Somersworth, N.H., Bank, is in the hands of the law, being arrested this evening by Chief Detective Carpenter in a house of ill-repute kept by Aggie Ashton of St. Justin-street. Kelly must have been a fool when he committed the foul deed and he has kept up his reputation ever since. It appears that he arrived at St. Justin, up the C.P.R. main line, on Saturday and put up at Berard's Hotel till this afternoon, when he dressed in woman's clothes and took a train for the city.

Arriving at Windsor Depot he employed a carter, who drove the murderer to the residence of the Ashton woman, who had already been notified by the police, and when Kelly arrived she at once recognized him and telephoned to the Central Station.

In less time than it takes to write it Mr. Stickney's assassin was at headquarters smoking his pipe and evidently the least concerned man in the whole party. He admitted that he planned the robbery of the bank, but states that there was a second man in it who killed the ill-fated cashier; yet, of course, this is not believed.

Kelly had $2400 in his possession when arrested, and is evidently the red-handed murderer. He appears, however, to have conceived the idea of giving it out that he had committed suicide, for a letter to a woman named "Olive," and signed "Joe," was found in his possession. Kelly tells her that when she receives the letter he will be cold in death, that he had tried to live right but had failed. He also states in the letter that he did not touch Stickney, but that another man did the deed. "However," he adds," "I planned it all, and you will never see me again."

Another letter was also found addressed to his father, speaking of the bank robbery, but always referring to the second man.

While talking with the chief detective, Kelly admitted all about the robbery, but said he stood outside the bank while the other man did the deed. It goes without saying that this second man is a myth. Kelly will be brought before the Police Magistrate to-morrow.

A BOY'S CONFESSION.

He Put Paris Green in Tea to be Partaken of by His Stepmother, Who Gave Him Fits.

Exeter, N. H., April 19.—Frank Wentworth, the 16-year-old boy who was arrested Saturday and lodged in Exeter jail on the charge of having attempted to poison his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wentworth of Newton, N. H., has made a confession, stating that he put paris green in the tea while getting breakfast. He gives as his excuse for the act that he despised his step-mother on account of her continually "giving him fits," but says that he had no ill-feeling toward his father.

THE ARBITRATION TREATY

Will be Voted Upon by the U. S. Senate on May 5.

Washington, D.C., April 19.—The Senate in executive session to-day decided to vote on the arbitration treaty May 5 at 4 p.m. There was no particular opposition to fixing the time for the vote, although Senator Davis urged an earlier date. His first suggestion was for May 3, and when objection was made, proposed the 4th and then the 5th, which met with no opposition. It is understood that the opponents expect to have all their strength in the Senate on that date.

FIERCE GALES ON LAKE ONTARIO.

A Large Fleet Now Lying in Shelter at Charlotte, N. Y.

Charlotte, N.Y., April 19.—A furious gale arrived early this morning. It is still raging and there are no indications of an abatement. A large fleet of steam and sailing craft en route between American and Canadian ports were driven to shelter, a number arriving during the night and early this morning. This forenoon it was with great difficulty that some of the schooners made port. To-night it is snowing and blowing a gale.

Sank in the St. Lawrence River.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., April 19.—The steamer Massena, Captain Frank Dana, plying between this place and Alexandria Bay, sank to-day near the mainland, about seven miles up the St. Lawrence River from Ogdensburg. She was bound for the Thousand Islands with an all deck load—15 tons of plaster and 8000 feet of lumber—for the New York Casino. A 50-mile an hour northwest gale was blowing and the steamer was obliged to run broadside to the wind for some distance. The windows in the bulwarks were crushed in by the swells, and her cargo shifted.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

A splendid Medicine.

Dear Sirs,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

LIVE MANITOBAN TOPICS.

The Successor of Charlie Mackintosh—Bye-Election Gossip, Floods—Farmers are Happy Over Wheat Prices.

Winnipeg, April 19.—(Special.)—John A. Christie of Brandon is now talked of as the successor to Governor Mackintosh in the Northwest Territories. Mr. Christie has gone to Ottawa. Mr. J. W Sifton, father of the Minister of the Interior, is also mentioned.

The water of Red River at Emerson is now receding and the worst stage has been passed. The water did not reach the mark of 1882 and that being so there is now no danger of any flood at Winnipeg. The traffic bridge over the Red River at Morris has been swept away and not a vestige of it remains. The Northern Pacific bridge there has been damaged and no Northern Pacific trains will be able to run for several days.

All Winnipeg society was interested to-day in the wedding of H. Stobart of England to Miss Bridges of Winnipeg. It took place at All Saints' Church and gave society the opportunity for its first Easter display. Mr. and Mrs. Stobart have left for England.

The rise in the price of wheat owing to war news brings joy to the hearts of the farmers who held last season's crop for higher prices. With the decrease of 25 cents a bushel since last fall they have been very sorrowful, but this unexpected rise has given them hope again.

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchial and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. Millinery Excellence.

The busy days of the past week at our new millinery store is ample proof of the excellence of our millinery stock. Our success encourages us to double our efforts and we assure the ladies that no matter when they come they will always find the latest novelties out in stylish trimmed and untrimmed hats and bonnets, artificial flowers, new millinery ribbons, novelties, &c., and at prices much below the ordinary. d96 THE MISSES CASSIDY.

A Large Offertory.

On Sunday Rev. C. B. Kenrick, rector of St. Mark's, Port Hope, appealed to his congregation for Easter offerings to the amount of one hundred and fifty dollars, in order to meet a deficit in current expenses. In response to this appeal the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars was contributed. Things appear to be prosperous in St. Mark's, for, in addition to the liberality of this offering, there was a large increase in the number of communicants, and very hearty and excellent singing by the large surpliced choir, besides the usual accompaniment of a full church.

Chemong Park Hotel Improvements.

Chemong Park Hotel is undergoing a complete spring over-hauling and improvement. Workmen are engaged in repainting the interior woodwork and decorating the walls and ceilings with new designs of wall paper. A number of other attractions and changes are being effected with a view to putting the hotel in first-class trim for the approaching season. Mr. Fobert is a "pusher" and is determined to keep Chemong Park Hotel up to the mark as a summer resort. Mr. Sidney Martin has the painting and paperhanging well under way and is putting his best skill and experience into the work.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of Several Nuptial Events in the Town and Country.

SIMMONS—JACKSON.

Last evening a very interesting event—a wedding—took place in St. John's church, when Mr. Andrew Jackson and Miss Maud Simmons, daughter of Mr. Chas. Simmons, Aylmer street, where joined together in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. E. V. Stevenson, of St. John's church.

The bride was attired in a becoming dress of gray, trimmed with violet, with hat to match, and was assisted by her two sisters, Misses Minnie and Louisa. The groomsmen were Mr. Archie Jackson, brother of the groom, and Mr. William Simmons, brother of the bride.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and useful presents.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where they partook of the wedding breakfast and received the congratulation of their friends.

DAWSON—HAMILTON.

A very interesting event took place this afternoon, it being the occasion of the marriage of Mr. Robert Logan Hamilton, M. E., of Welland, to Miss Annie Dawson, daughter of Mr. Thos. Dawson, 72 Bonaccord street. The house was elaborately decorated with plants and looked very pretty in its floral beauty.

At 2 o'clock the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, where the groom was in waiting, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson of St. John's, Anglican, church. The bride was attired in a becoming dress of Swiss muslin with chiffon and ribbon trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, and was attended by Miss Ethel Dawson, who was prettily gowned in an organdie muslin with lace and ribbon trimmings and also carried a pretty shower bouquet of cream roses. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Thos. G. Anderson of town. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous dejeuner was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents from England and many other distant points. The happy couple left by the C. P. R. 4.48 express for Toronto, en route for Welland, accompanied by the well wishes of a host of friends.

MACILMOYLE—NICHOLS.

On Wednesday last the wedding took place at the residence of the bride's father of Miss Eliza, daughter of Mr. Wm. M. McIlmoyle, Deputy-reeve of Smith, to Mr. Joseph Nichols, also of Smith.

The event was one which had been anticipated for some time and was attended by a large number of the relatives of the contracting parties.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. McLeod, pastor of the Gilmour Memorial church.

Miss Jennie McIlmoyle, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid and the groomsman was Mr. Nathan Nichols, brother of the groom. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will take up their residence on the Buckhorn Road, where the groom has taken a farm.

LAURIE—CARNEGIE.

The wedding took place on Wednesday last, in Toronto, of Miss Bessie, youngest daughter of Mr. Alexander Laurie, Toronto, to Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., of Indian Point, Coboconk, son of Mr. John Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Milligan, of Old St. Andrew's church.

TO-NIGHT in St. Andrew's School Room, Miss Alexandria Ramsay, in her triumphs of Elocutionary Art and Costume Recitals.

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Cases.

Dr. Ryerson begs to inform the public that he will be at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, April 24th, from 11.30 a.m. to 4 p.m., for consultation in eye, ear, nose and throat cases. dw

CONFLAGRATION IN NORWOOD.

The Village Swept by the Fire Fiend.

TWELVE STORES DESTROYED.

THE FLAMES BROKE OUT IN HENDREN'S BLACKSMITH SHOP.

Some of Norwood's Finest Buildings Destroyed by the Flames, which bid Fair to Sweep the Entire Village, but were Checked after Raging for Nearly Ten Hours—The Telegraph and Telephone Wires and Poles Destroyed.

(Special to the Examiner.)

A fire which proved to be the most disastrous in the history of the town of Norwood, started this morning at about 4.25 o'clock in Hendren's blacksmith shop on Colborne street and fanned by the high wind quickly spread into a large number sheds in the vicinity and from there worked into the rear of Wasson's grocery and spread in both directions on Peterborough street.

The Peterborough brigade went down at half-past six o'clock in response to an urgent call and a special train was provided for them and the engine by the C. P. R.

The announcement was made at 2 o'clock this afternoon that the flames were at last under control. Amongst the stores and buildings destroyed were the following: Tucker's grocery, R. H. Scott's bookstore, J. B. Pearce's general store, post office, the Roxburgh building, Wasson's grocery, Booth's photograph gallery, Mechanics' Institute, Richardson & Co., dry goods; Duffield's jewelry, Stewart's dry goods store, R. W. Waters & Son, general store; Stewart's tin store, Hendren's blacksmith shop, McMaster's dwelling.

The poles and wires of both telegraph companies and the Bell Telephone Company were destroyed in the vicinity, and the only communication by wire that can be established is through the C. P. R. station.

No estimate whatever of the loss can be compiled at present, as the amount of the different stocks which were saved is not known.

The fire was first discovered by the conductor of the C. P. R. express going west. He informed the operator at the C.P.R. station, and the latter gave the alarm at 4.25.

MR. RANTON REVIEWED BY A LADY.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Every parent in this town, who allows his children to dance, or who permits dancing in his house, can not but feel that his position has been assailed of late.

While Mr. Ranton has a perfect right to say in what manner round dances affected him and the class of people with whom he associated. I deny his right or his ability to judge for that other class of people who have mercifully been spared his experiences. The old clause in British law still holds good, that a man must be judged by his peers.

Because a squaw would not be a competent exponent of a millinery opening, does that prove the millinery opening to have been a failure?

Not at all—it merely discloses the lack of appreciative capacity in the squaw. It is the abuse of pleasure, and not the moderate indulgence in it, which constitutes the sin. Does any sane man refuse to drive, on account of the money bet on horse-racing?

Because one child skipped until she dropped dead, is that a sufficient reason why all other children should be debarred from playing?

People will have recreation in one form or another, and dancing in moderation and with respectable partners, is no sin but a graceful amusement.

It is natural for young people to like it because they are happy and the world is lovely and it is not a mark of 19th century degeneration. Dancing has always been a form of enjoyment. The prophet Jeremiah, whom not even Mr. Ranton can accuse of frivolity, says:—"The joy of our heart is ceased—our dance is turned into mourning," while on the other hand David says:—"Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing."

I do not for a moment maintain that these dances were like ours, but merely to show that dancing for centuries has been synonymous with pleasure.

As to the modern form of it one can see no harm in a moderate indulgence therein with, as I said before, respectable partners. Objectionable society is everywhere objectionable, and I neither wish my daughters to dance with a roue, nor to hear how one feels when he is dancing.

At parties I have never heard a vulgar thought given utterance to, but I am only voicing the sentiments of many decent people in asserting that the late sermon has awakened ideas which years of moderate participation in dancing would never have suggested.

One cannot doubt that this evangelist is earnest in thinking that he is doing good in this way. They were probably conscientious, those people who pantomed Galileo for declaring the earth to be round—but they were mistaken, and in the meantime it was hard on Galileo!

The papers show that on Sunday Mr. Ranton demolished card-playing also. All Christian people will surely subscribe to his views on gambling—that it is a sin. But this is a different matter from having a quiet game of cards in one's own house, which is an innocent form of amusement after the worries of the day.

One remark as quoted in yesterday's address I wish to take exception to. The speaker formulated a prayer, the use of which he advocates before card-playing be indulged in. The following is an extract from this prayer:—"Bless Thou this game of cards to our growth in grace, and hasten through it the universal dominion of Thy truth!"

This prayer would be quite as appropriate before a game of cards as before one of crokinole or dominoes, or any other game which might be so fortunate as to meet with the approval of Mr. Ranton. Do people ride, or skate or cycle to the glory of God? (I speak with all reverence.) Certainly not—they do these things for their own exercise and amusement, and there are some who might call it impious to apply to the one terms which properly belong to the other.

A man whose name became the synonym for wisdom, wrote:—"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." There is a time to worship, and a time to recreate, and it is arrant nonsense to confound the two.

Of immoderate dancing, and certainly of gambling, "all the just in all the lands" must disapprove, but extremists seem incapable of exercising discrimination between the use and the abuse of a pleasure.

When the Great Evangelist dwelt with men, He once told His listeners a story wherein He discriminates between dissipation and enjoyment. It was when the wayward son had repented of his excesses, and returned home, that there was rejoicing there; this good father allowed feasting and music and dancing to the outward expression of that joy. In the parable of the prodigal son our Lord draws a distinction between "riotous living" and "being merry,"—a distinction which unfortunately most of our modern evangelists fail to notice.

With many thanks, Mr. Editor, for your kind insertion.

"RELIGION IN SOCIETY"

AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY REV. FATHER McCOLL,

Replete With Sound Arguments and Convincing in its Entirety—A Logical Discourse—The Excellent Musical Programme.

The lecture room of the Catholic Literary Association was filled with a large audience last evening to listen to what proved to be a literary treat of a very high order—the lecture by Rev. Father McColl, of Ennismore, on "Religion in Society." The reverend gentleman showed himself to have a thorough knowledge of the subject and dealt with it in a very able manner. It was indeed an intellectual treat.

Mr. Daniel O'Connor, B.A., made a capital chairman, filling that position in such an able manner as to add considerably to the evening's delightful enjoyment.

The programme opened with a well-executed piano solo by Miss Minnie Begley, which was followed by a sweetly rendered vocal solo, "In the Baggage Coach Ahead," by Mrs. George Ball. Master Rupert Phelan, the clever boy soloist, captured the audience in his vocal numbers. His rendition of "My Mother was a Lady," earned for him a hearty recall, and he responded with a patriotic Irish song. Later on in the programme he sang with great sweetness "Sweet Bunch of Daisies." The talented young singer has a brilliant future in store. Miss Guerin, in her violin number, Scottish airs, proved herself to be a rising artist on this instrument, her number being rendered with excellent taste and expression. The humourous portion of the programme was rendered by the Lakeview octette, an aggregation of aspiring comedians. Their specialties convulsed the audience with laughter.

The following is a summary of the excellent address of Rev. Father McColl, on RELIGION IN SOCIETY.

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, it is with much interest and great pleasure I have followed the workings of this society since I became acquainted with its workings. It is a source of pleasure and instruction to members. Its success to a great extent, the peace, harmony, etc., existing, is due to the fact that the society rests on a religious basis. Therefore I considered "Religion in Society" not inappropriate for this occasion.

By religion we mean a living union between God and man. It is called a living union, because affected by the vital acts of man, i.e. his intelligence, heart and will, his thoughts, desires and actions. This presupposes the existence of God. That He possesses infinite perfection, infinite amiability and infinite beauty, that He is infinitely just and merciful and consequently infinitely worthy of honour. I, suppose man to be created by God, and subject to His will. God being infinitely perfect, just, etc., desires man to act in accordance with these perfections. When man acts in accordance with the perfections of God, when his will is in then his acts are good; when in disaccordance with the perfections of God and opposed to His will, they are evil. From this law follows all virtue, justice, mercy, charity, etc.

HARMONY WITH THE DIVINE WILL,

Society is composed of individuals, who have various and complex relations with each other, and the very life and preservation of society demand that the members of a community discharge these relations with equity and justice. Now, there are no other motives sufficient to maintain justice, charity, etc., among members of society except those furnished by religion, therefore religion is necessary to society, consequently he who destroys religion destroys the foundation of society.

We have two kinds of society, public society and domestic society. Peace, harmony, mutual confidence, and faithfulness were necessary for the peace of families. These can be maintained only by the motives religion furnishes.

Public society is necessary to mankind. Its necessity is quite evident from the circumstances in which man is placed. This proves it is God's will for us to have public society. Public society is those who govern and the governed. The welfare of the community depends upon the justice of the laws and the obedience of the people to the laws. Rulers should rule only for the welfare of the people; the burdens of country equally distributed, public moneys handled with honesty and the laws administered with justice. The only motives sufficient to cause justice in rulers and obedience in subjects are those of religion and conscience. The other motives that might be advanced are natural sense of justice and natural kindness, utility, force and dread of civil punishment, science and education. Natural kindness, justice and sympathy are fruits of religion. Those who do not profess religion and possess these qualities, possess them because they have always been in religious surroundings. You will search in vain for those qualities among people uninfluenced by conscience and religion, e.g. any pagan nation. Utility is not sufficient because relative. What is useful to one is injurious to another, for example: slavery is useful to the master, but injurious to the slave, etc., etc. What is really useful

PEOPLE DO NOT AGREE UPON.

Force and dread of civil punishment are insufficient. If the people do not obey the laws through conscience they can only be enforced by the most despotic measures, which destroys liberty. The administration of law and procuring justice depend upon truth and the oath, which are furnished by religion.

Science and education are not sufficient except they include the education of the heart. The educated Greek or Roman were even less moral than the unlearned Goth. Examine the crimes of the present age—you will find truth in this statement.

The strongest proof of the necessity of religion for the welfare of society is to examine history. Compare the ancient pagan nations whose material civilization was great, with our own; or compare the non-Christian nation of to-day with the Christian. Among the ancient and modern non-Christian nations slavery was prevalent and charity and sacrifice unknown. Nothing like to relieve the sufferings of their fellowmen can be found among these nations. If we have liberty, peace and happiness in this beautiful land of ours it is because we are living in the midst of people influenced by religious motives, who look upon their fellowmen as brothers and children of the same Eternal Father, who will require a strict account of our actions, not only towards Himself, but also towards our neighbour. He is a Judge who requires justice towards everyone in our acts and a Judge whom we know cannot be eluded or deceived.

Everyone should and can in a quiet and modest way produce religion. It is the greatest good for the country at large and each individual of society. Young men should not be ashamed to profess religion and follow its practices. It is the foundation of all that is good and beautiful in their characters, truthfulness, politeness, purity, honesty, charity, mercy and justice.

At the conclusion of Rev. Father McColl's eloquent address, a vote of thanks was tendered him on motion of Messrs. T. J. Begley and Dr. Moher.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey and Mr. Daniel O'Connel added a few words, complimenting the reverend lecturer and referring to the good work done by the Catholic Association. The programme concluded with the National Anthem.

The accompanists of the evening were Misses K. Hurley, M. McCabe and Picard.

ENJOY the treat in store for all lovers of dramatic effects and High-Class Music, in the St. Andrew's School Room To-Night by Miss Alexandria Ramsey, assisted by favourite local talent.

THE MILITARY CONCERT.

It was Well Patronized Last Evening in the Opera House.

The programme which was presented at the non. come. military concert last evening under the patronage of the officers of the 57th, was a most novel and entertaining one.

The numbers given by Sergt.-Major Morgans and Sergt. Instructor Bouteiller, of Kingston, were fraught with deep interest, as their duels with foils, swords, bayonets and quarter-staves were most realistic. The sword feats of Sergt.-Major Morgans, too, were most thrilling, as, for instance, when giving exhibitions of his accuracy in judging distances he cut potatoes in half with a sweep of his sword, when the tuber was lying on the head or back of his companion's neck. His quickness was shown by cutting a string from which a potato was suspended and transfixing the potato before it reached the ground. That his strength is abnormal was proven when, by a blow of his sword, he halved a sheep's carcase suspended in mid-air, and also cut in two a solid inch bar of lead.

Messrs. Adams and Mercer, who have not been seen together for some time, gave several capital musical and song and dance numbers, being encored on every appearance. The pair are a whole show in themselves and can carry the house with them every time.

The squad from the 57th Battalion gave some most creditable numbers, including the bayonet exercise and physical drill. The recruiting scene was admirably put on and the drilling of the awkward squad drove the Sgt.-Major into spasms of rage. The manual exercise by the squad after six months drill, was given with a precision which was most creditable indeed to the participants, as well as to their instructor, Sgt.-Major Peters. The tableau, "True to the Last," was one of the most appreciated numbers of the evening, representing a squad of soldiers with bayonets fixed defending a dying officer. Coloured lights brightened the beautiful effect.

The 57th Battalion Band rendered several selections during the evening in their usual dashing style.

THE COUNTY C. E. CONVENTION MEETS.

THREE SESSIONS HELD YESTERDAY IN THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The Annual Reports of the Officers—Addresses by Prominent Divines—Presentation of the President Elect, Rev. J. G. Potter.

The sixth annual rally of the County Christian Endeavour Union, yesterday, in the George street Methodist church was well attended, several hundred being present, exclusive of the delegates who represented the following societies:—

Keene—Helen Laing, Mary Andrews, Bella M. Howson.

Norwood—Amie Wilson, Mary Peagelly, Alice Squire, B. Roxburgh.

Zion—K. Isabel Duff, Miss Susie Bernell.

Westwood—Mrs. Wright, Katie Sharp.

Selwyn—Nina Roseborough.

Mark Street—Lottie Beer, Minnie Hamilton.

North Monaghan—Katie Fowler, Bella Lillico.

Bethel—Morley Nelson, Nettie Shearer.

Havelock—Harold C. Kindred.

Lakefield—W. F. Stubbs, J. A. McDonald, A. Simpson, Jessie Smith, P. Daff.

Salem—P. G. Wright.

St. Paul's—J. H. Connal.

Gilmour Memorial—C. F. Kevill.

Villiers—C. M. Nelson, A. Bathgate.

Listowell—M. Quinn.

Springville—F. E. Wilson, Libbie Wilson.

Warsaw—Geo. Hamlin, W. C. Soence.

The chair was occupied by Rev. Mr. Liddy, of Keene.

The opening devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., after which short reports were received from the different societies in the county, all of which were most gratifyingly prosperous, both in physical growth and the acquisition of increased membership. This occupied nearly all the morning session. In the afternoon Rev. W. C. Beer conducted the devotional exercises, after which the following reports were received.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

presented their report through Mr. E. George Porter, as follows:

PETERBOROUGH, April 19th, 1897.

To the President and Members of the Christian Endeavour Union of the County of Peterborough:

We beg leave to submit our report of the work done during the past year as follows:

The Executive was called together twice for the transaction of business in connection with the Union. At our meeting in May plans of work were discussed, and Mr. T. H. Martin was chosen as the delegate to the International Convention at Washington.

That convention was very ably represented by Mr. Martin at eight places, viz., Peterborough, Lakefield, Norwood, Keene, Springville, Park street, Gilmour Memorial and Salem.

In our second meeting in February committees were appointed, and arrangements were made for the present convention.

We did not send any delegates to represent the Union at the Inter-Provincial Convention at Ottawa; firstly, because our funds were low, and, secondly, because we thought the tendency was towards too much machinery in our work.

Early in the year we sent to each society in the Union circulars for statistics, and an appeal for financial aid. The result was most discouraging. For some months reports came in one by one, and before half the societies had responded, they suddenly ceased coming altogether. A second appeal was made when sending out announcements with regard to this convention, and we can report more success. The circulars were followed by a letter and a card, or in some cases two cards, and we have now full returns from nearly all the societies. We think the answers were carelessly—rather than wilfully—delayed, and we find that a great many new corresponding secretaries have been appointed during the year.

A word of advice may not be out of place:

1—Keep your corresponding secretary as long as possible; appoint a new one only when you have to.

2—Let the secretaries answer promptly, or they will be sure to forget, needlessly causing much trouble and labour.

At present there are 39 societies in the Union—an increase of two since last year. One, Westwood E. L. of C. E., entered our Union during the year, and the young people of Bethel in the Keene district, organized a strong society of 32 members at Zion. The membership shows no marked difference, there being about 1350 members of senior societies.

We are glad to be able to report better work in the missionary cause. Contributions to that fund amounted to $385.30, an increase of $150.00 over last year. This is encouraging, but there are still some societies who do not report in this line.

The receipts from all sources have been $54.08, the expenditure $43.11, leaving a balance on hand of $12 97.

We believe that this Union is doing a good work. It keeps the societies in touch with one another, and gives us greater interest in the whole cause. We also think that while there is no great increase in numbers, there is spiritual growth. Though the Endeavourers are working quietly, yet they are working; characters are being moulded, and the strong men and women of a few years hence are in their training school and much good is being done.

Then cannot we take fresh courage, and rallying under the banner of this mighty young people's movement join in the march of the millions of youth to the music of "We'll win for Christ."

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. E. PORTER,
Sec.-Treas.

Mr. Alfred Johnston then presented the appended

REPORT OF THE EDITOR:

PETERBOROUGH, April 19th, 1897.

We desire to thank the Holy Spirit who has given to us the privilege of taking charge in this work. We feel that it is indeed a blessed work, and full of many advantages to the cause of Christian Endeavour in this county. By the medium of our weekly Endeavour column each society can feel it has an interest in and fellowship with every other society in the Union.

We have to say once more that the column is not loyally supported in some sections of the country. We never hear from the eastern section and very rarely from the north. This This should not be; the column is for all and if it is to be continued, please let whoever has charge of it hear from your society at least once a month. There is not a live society in the county that can say "We have no items of interest that the others would care about." Think over this, change your ways. Let us hear from your editor or corresponding secretary. Write on one side of the paper and please send two copies every time.

We wish to convey our sincere thanks to the publishers of the Review and EXAMINER for the space so kindly given to us. And we ask that our successors in office be given your hearty support and the loving sympathy of your earnest prayers.

A. J. JOHNSTON.
T. H. MARTIN.

Miss Beatrice Roxburgh, of Norwood, read the following report on the

JUNIOR WORK:

Again we beg leave to submit to you our annual report of the Junior Christian Endeavour of the County of Peterborough.

During the past year we regret to say that there seems to have been a falling off of the interest in the junior work of the county, and the report is not as encouraging as we would like to have it. This report, however, is not a full one, as all but four of our junior superintendents neglected to fill out the circulars that were sent to them, and this hindered the making out of a full and complete report. I may say that this report is just made up at the last moment from such information as could be gathered from the delegates present. We hope that the junior work has not fallen off as much as the report would show, and we would urge the members of the different societies to try and stimulate a deeper interest in junior work. We are sorry that there is no junior rally in connection with this convention, as this would awaken a new interest in our work, but owing to different reasons it was impossible to have one.

We regret not having come in personal contact with more of the societies, but absence from the county hindered this. The report, however, from most of the societies are, on the whole, encouraging, and the juniors in the societies which have reported seem to be active in their work. Almost all the societies report excellent work among their missionary committee, although only two societies have reported the amount of their contributions. These two amounted to $31. Most societies have adopted the systematic plan of giving and we think our juniors are doing their parts in missionary work. Other gifts, such as dolls, book, cards, papers, toys, etc., have been given by the juniors to those without them, and these, we are sure, are as accept able as money.

Not knowing exactly the number of societies in the country, we cannot report the increase in this line, but we know that two new societies have been organized. While we are sorry to say that some societies have fallen off, owing to lack of working material—both leaders and members being lacking.

We have, as far as reported, 372 active members and 120 associate—in all 992 members. Twenty-nine have graduated into the Y. P. S. C. E., and fourteen have united with the church.

Before closing we would beg of our Senior Societies to try and stir up greater interest in junior work. We believe that lack of interest in the juniors among the senior societies is the cause of the falling off of interest in the junior societies. The juniors need encouragement, and they naturally turn to the senior, and when they find here a lack of interest, they become discouraged themselves, and the result is the society dwindles and disappears. We beg for new workers in the junior field, and we feel confident that our request will not be disregarded.

Our earnest desire and prayer is that our work among the children will grow and increase and that God may abundantly bless the junior societies of the County of Peterborough.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. HARRISON,
Superintendent.

Adopted.

The report of the Nominating Committee was submitted and resulted in the election of the following officers for the ensuing year.

THE OFFICERS.

Honorary President—Rev. J. J. Liddy, Keene.

President—Rev. J. G. Potter, Peterborough.

Secretary—Miss Duff, Lakefield.

Treasurer—Mr. R. Burgess, Lakefield.

Editor—Miss Cromie and Mr. B. Gerrans, Peterborough.

Vice Presidents—Town of Peterborough, President of the local Union; Lakefield district, Mr. Jory; Smith, Mr. C. F. Kevill; Monaghan, Mr. R. Simpson; Keene and Otonabee, Miss Reid; Norwood, Mr. Thos. Findlay.

Supt. of junior work—Miss B. Roxburgh, Norwood.

As will be observed the Central District has been abolished, Keene has been attached to Otonabee, and Monaghan created a new district.

REV. J. G. POTTER, of St. Andrew's church, was then called upon for an address on "Can we Support a Denominational Union and also Uphold County and Local Unions?" He delivered his remarks classified under the following heads:

1. What is a Union? It is a representative gathering—not legislative—of young people in sympathy. Bylaws were framed and submitted to the various societies, but were never passed, unless they were thought to be perfectly in accord with the mind of the different churches.

2 The need of a Union.

(a) To fraternize.

(b) To compare notes.

(c) To devise plans for better work.

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 48 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and never dealt in future prospects. His successors rested on a BIG NAME ces and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future.
A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents. It afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. The Roman mother who with her mantle defended the body of her child from the ravenous birds of prey is a perfect type of motherhood in all times and among all people. To protect her offspring from harm is the overwhelming instinct of motherhood.

Modern mothers are coming to understand that the best protection they can give their children against the preying accidents of life is to transmit to them an abundance of natural health and hardihood. But a mother cannot confer health and strength upon her offspring unless she has it in some measure herself.

Prospective mothers should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, which gives perfect health and strength to the special organs concerned in motherhood.

Taken early during the expectant time, it makes the coming of baby entirely safe and nearly painless. It insures cheerfulness and recuperative energy to the mother and constitutional vigor to the child.

It is the only perfect and positive specific for all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism.

Mrs. F. E. Forgey, of Carns, Keyapaha Co., Neb., writes: "I write to you again concerning my daughter, Mrs. D. Billings. She has taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' She thinks the medicine did her a world of good. She was confined the 19th of February. Was sick but a short time and has a 10 pound daughter. Got along nicely afterward. Looks good, complexion looks clear, and she says she never felt so well.

PLEASANT YARNS.

Tales Told by Experts for Our Mutual Edification

"A good story is told of a Toronto merchant," said the ambassador of an Ambitious City mercantile house. "He had to go unexpectedly to Montreal on account of a 'lame duck,' and meeting a drummer from that ambitious and rather gay town, he said:

"'How do you fellows manage to get such cheap fares to distant points? I want to go to Montreal, but the price is rather stiff!'

"'I'll fix that for you,' replied the drummer. 'Give me $5 and I will enroll your name as a member of the T. P. A. Then you can travel wherever you like free.'

"The merchant gladly handed over his $5, with which his friend secretly bought him a ticket to Montreal. He accompanied him to the train. 'Now,' said he, 'when the conductor comes all you have to do is to move your hand across your mouth from right to left and say: "Yuno." He will then know you are a T. P. A. and you will have no further trouble.'

"To the conductor, however, the drummer said: 'That man with side whiskers is a harmless lunatic. Here is his ticket to Montreal. When you come around he will make this motion and say "Yuno." Just pass him and say nothing. He likes to believe that is a mystic pass and which allows him to ride free.'

"The plan worked to a charm and the merchant marveled at the scheme which made travel so easy and cheap.

"On his return from Montreal another conductor asked for his ticket.

"'Yuno,' said the merchant, making the prescribed gesture. The conductor didn't know, however, and after several attempts the merchant had to pay his fare. On his arrival in Toronto he hunted up his friend, the drummer.

"'Say!' he cried, 'what kind of a trick did you play me? Why, the plan didn't work for a cent coming home.'

"'That's strange,' replied the other. 'You must have made some mistake. What did you do coming back?'

"'Why, I made the pass with my hand across my mouth and said "Yuno!"'

"'Did you move your hand from right to left?'

"'Yes, of course.'

"'That's where you made a blunder. You see, you were coming back, and should have passed your hand across your mouth from left to right.'

The Boys Having Fun.

They are a pair of grandfathers with thin, white hair, faces that bear the inevitable marks of time, forms that have lost the erectness of youth and limbs that have lost the roundness of former years; but they are among the post's men who are only boys grown tall.

Just after the first fall of snow they were gingerly picking their way over the smooth walks on Cass avenue. The larger one of the two walked the faster, and, without knowing it, had gained a rod or so on his smaller companion. Then a broad smile appeared on his seamed face, there was the suggestion of a boyish light in his eyes, and he recklessly tucked his cane under his arm, while making a snowball that was much more noticeable for size than for symmetry. Then with a stately motion that was meant to be a run, he advanced upon the unsuspecting big man and landed the ponderous missile just where the coat collar and the straggling back hair met.

"What!" shouted the larger one, "attacking me in the rear? I used to beat you at all the games fifty years ago, Abe, and I'm as handy as ever."

There was a hand-to-hand conflict full of laughter and stiffened activity and creaking joints and flying snow, little Abe standing gallantly against the odds in weight. "Hold on, Jim," he gasped. "There comes Dick. Let's ambush him."

Then the two merry old codgers looked up and down the avenue to see that they were not making an exhibition of themselves and that there was no policeman in sight. Hiding around the corner, they squatted, exchanged cautionary nudges and giggled continuously, despite the necessity of keeping quiet and not alarming the game.

Bent and decrepit, Dick came shuffling along, looking only at the path before him. When he was opposite them Abe and Jim opened fire, feebly yelling and laughing. Dick turned in anger with uplifted stick, but when he saw his assailants took to his heels at the rate of about half a mile an hour. Then the three walked together and lamented that the boys of this day don't know what good, healthy, old-time fun is.—Detroit Free Press.

Hank Simpson's Way.

Hank Simpson is without a rival as the smartest man on a hoss trade or any other kind of a dicker in the whole of Claybrick township. When Hank's 30-year-old mule was killed on the railroad that runs through the edge of his farm he promptly put in a claim for $100. The company curtly offered him $40 and declared that that was twice the value of the old thistle eater.

Hank simply said that he wouldn't come down a cent and went home. Then the troubles of the company began. Its track through Claybrick township was softsoaped two or three nights in the week and the time table became a farce. Trains would be stopped in the woods by a swinging lantern and lose half an hour trying to find out what was the matter. There were half a dozen narrow escapes from collisions and a large reward was offered for the author of these troubles. Hank was suspected, but suspicion couldn't be backed up by the necessary evidence. Finally the company sent him a cheque for $100, but he sent it back with notice that he had lost so much time and worried over the matter so much that he couldn't think of accepting less than $150. The company again got on its high horse, but Hank kept himself busy "worrying" over the mule, and at last he agreed to compromise the matter for $200 and a life pass over the line. The company gladly accepted.

Hank had a meadow so full of stones, stumps and roots that he couldn't break it up. He hired an old fortune teller to whisper it around that a miser who died a few years before had hidden his fortune in that field. Hank was overrun with people wanting to dig and blow out stumps in this new ground. He showed some reluctance, but always consented on condition that he got half of such valuables as might be found. In time that field was dug up like a garden plat and Hank made the dupes haul away the stones as well as burn the stumps. He wasn't going to have his land all torn to pieces for nothing.

ONE OF DEPEW'S BEST.

An Old Schoolmate Calls on Him For a Railroad Pass.

Some of the best stories that are told at Lotos Club dinners reach only the small audience that gathers in the cafe downstairs, after the toasts have been spoken to, for a more informal entertainment as a conclusion. To such an audience a few evenings ago, Dr. Depew, in speaking of the many requests that he received for passes, said: "A man whom I have not seen since we were boys together called on me this morning and introduced himself. He looked rather seedy, and he told me he wasn't prosperous. We talked about the days when we were boys together, and the little red schoolhouse, and how the years had dealt with each of us. 'I am glad to see you are getting along nicely, Chauncey,' he said. 'Thank you,' I replied, 'and how have you prospered?' 'I have not prospered at all,' he said, wiping a tear from the corner of his eye, 'but I am on the eve of success if you'll give me a little aid.' 'What can I do for you?'

"'Well, Chauncey, I want a pass to Wappinger Falls.'

"'What are you going to do there to bring you success?' I asked.

"'I'm going to deliver a lecture. It's a good lecture, and it will bring me fame and money.'

"'And what are you going to lecture about?' I asked.

"'I'll tell you, Chauncey, after I get the pass.'

"I wanted to aid my old friend, and I had a pass made out for him. Giving it to him, I said, with some curiosity:

"'Now, John, what is the subject of this lecture of yours?'

"John braced up, threw back his shoulders, and proudly answered:

"'I am going to lecture on how to make money.'"—New York Sun.

A Tramp in Luck.

Boely is a man who never had to work for a living, but he's always busy pursuing some fad, pushing some line of study, or indulging some caprice. The other night, when friends were helping him fill his library with smoke, he told this one:

"Twenty years ago I read of two rich young Englishmen who had become tramps in order to study the species. It caught my fancy and I undertook the same experiment. A thousand interesting incidents might be recalled, but there was one that changed the whole current of my life.

"One evening about dusk I pounded at the back door of a house and was answered by a stately, noble-looking woman, who recognized me with a gasp, while I felt as though turning to stone at seeing her. You know the mental vacuum that visits a man in time of deep embarrassment? I stuttered and sputtered about in a fruitless effort to explain, while she wore a look of mingled pity and disdain. She was wondering if her refusing me two years before had brought me to such a state, while I was inwardly cursing the earth for not yawning just long enough to swallow me. At last I rallied just sufficiently to make her understand. We had a merry meal together, though the hired girl turned up her nose and refused point blank to wait on 'such a lookin' critter.'

"The face of my hostess beamed because I was not the wreck she had thought me. I caught her on the rebound and was accepted, long hair, unshaven face, disreputable clothing and all. She sweetly admitted that she must have been mistaken in thinking I had no aim in life. I had enterprise she had never suspected in me. Now you know why she often calls me her dear old tramp."

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

PURCHASING BEES.

For the Beginner, Spring Is by All Means the Best Time.

This is one of the puzzles to the beginner, when to buy. A writer in an exchange says: All things considered, I think the spring the best time. In the hands of the master, it might pay to buy in the fall, as they can be bought much cheaper then. But a novice would not know whether they were in proper condition to winter successfully or not, or how to prepare them in case they needed special attention preparatory to going into winter quarters. But by purchasing in the spring, even though they cost a dollar per colony more, there is no risk to run, for with a reasonable season they will pay for themselves, and there will be something left.

I would advise buying as near home as possible, to save express charges, as it is very difficult to ship small lots of bees by local freight. If you feel timid about handling them I should advise buying pure Italians, as they are more quiet than the black or hybrids; but if you are not, I would not pay large prices for any particular strain you may see advertised in the bee journals. The honey gathered by the black and hybrids is just as sweet, and the quantity just as great as that gathered by the high-toned or high-priced races, and no bee on earth builds such delicate combs, or caps its honey with such virgin whiteness as the poor despised black bee.

I would advise, if possible, to buy full, strong colonies, and wherever you may live I would advise having them moved or shipped about the time apple trees bloom. Make your purchase as early as possible, but don't be in a hurry to have them moved; they are much better where they are until settled warm weather has come to stay, and the blossoms are producing nectar. Perhaps some of you don't feel able to buy strong colonies; if not, you can buy two, three or four-frame nuclei for less money and at less cost of transportation. These you can build up during the season, and make good colonies of them by fall, but you could not reasonably expect much increase in number, or much surplus honey, while, one the other hand, with strong colonies you can double your spring count, and with a good season and good management get enough surplus honey to pay for the colonies you buy in the spring. I advise beginners to make haste slowly, and make the bees pay their way every season; then should you meet with winter losses you will be nothing out but your time, and will have your experience, hives and combs left to begin with another spring, all of which you will find valuable.

When you are weak, tired and listless, you need to enrich and purify your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. G. R. Blount, Methodist minister, Dresden, Ont., says: "After a prolonged attack of La Grippe, I was very nervous and weak, and troubled with severe pains. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am perfectly well now." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

URINARY TROUBLES

CURED BY

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

I have been troubled for some years with urinary trouble. I could not hold my urine. Was constantly broken of my rest, as I had to get up six or eight times every night. I tried doctors and many remedies without getting any relief until one of my friends advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I felt relieved from the first box and six boxes completely cured me. I cannot thank you enough for the new lease of life and comfort your Dodd's Kidney Pills has given me.

St. Thomas.

Our reporter visited Miss Bertha Bowman of 41 Yarwood-street, St. Thomas.

Miss Bowman spoke about the nervous troubles and debility from which she had suffered until recently, and said: "I have taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for nervous and general debility. My system was run down, and I felt tired almost all the time until I commenced taking these wonderful pills. They have made my nerves strong, thereby banishing the nervousness and weakness. In addition they have given me a healthy circulation of the blood, which has invigorated my entire system, making me feel well and strong. I can truly say that I never felt better in my life than I do now."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

Chatham.

Mrs. J. Dell of Head-street, Chatham, Ont., talked cheerfully about her experience in the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Said she:

"For two years before I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I never could go to sleep before 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, and even then could not rest. I went around the house in a tired and listless manner.

"I had many attacks of vertigo or dizziness so that I could not see to walk across the room sometimes. I was weak and languid and subject to fainting spells. My heart was very much affected by palpitation, which induced great shortness of breath.

"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have removed the dizziness, restored my heart to healthy action and brought my nervous and physical system to complete health and vigor. They relieve suffering more quickly than any other remedy I ever heard of."

Mrs. L. Tufford has for years been a great sufferer from palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, morbid mental condition, etc. Says Mrs. Tufford: "I thought that everything was going wrong, and was so bad that I could hardly sleep. When I would lie down, I would often gasp for breath, and always thought my time had come when in that condition.

"The doctors that I consulted seemed to be unable to do anything for me, and I was very much frightened, when I providentially heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Soon after I started taking them I noticed a great change for the better, and now am glad to state that a complete cure has been made in my case.

"The palpitation has gone; I can rest and sleep well, and feel entirely built up and full of vigor. The change in me is something marvelous. No one looking at me to-day would think that I had been sick at all, I am so completely restored."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills may be obtained from any druggist, or will be mailed on receipt of price by T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont. Price 50c per box, or three boxes for $1.50.

Toronto.

Mrs. James Smith, wife of the well-known engineer, writes the following convincing letter: "My husband has been suffering for a long time with nervous debility, which seriously affected his general health. The use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which he got from Mr. H. W. Love, the druggist, has been very beneficial to him. They did him more good than anything else he had ever taken before, strengthening his nerves and toning up his entire system. They are the grandest remedy for nervous affections, and, moreover, the best tonic obtainable. They proved so efficacious in my husband's case that I commenced giving them to my daughter for nervousness, with which she has been troubled for some time, and they are already giving satisfactory results."

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. PLANTING OF TREES.

METHODS WHICH WILL INSURE A HEALTHY GROWTH.

The Side That Originally Had a Northern Exposure Must Face the Same Way in the New Location—Hints From an Expert.

VARY so much in shape, each species having its own expressive characteristics, but a finely developed specimen of any species calls for general admiration. It should be the aim of all those who are planting trees to give them such attention when they arrive at maturity they may approach perfection. The classification of the forms of trees is, roughly, as follows: Columnar, or upright, as in the Lombardy poplar; globose, or round-headed, as in the Norway maple; pyramidal, as in the sugar maple and scarlet oak; weeping and drooping trees, as the Camperdown elm and Wiers maple. The coniferoe, or evergreens, are represented by the Irish juniper, the Mugho pine, the Norway spruce and the hemlock spruce.

To have good trees means that there must be a rich and deep soil. It is an utter impossibility to have good lawns or good trees or good vegetables on thin, impoverished soils. The ground must also be well drained, either naturally or artificially. The size of trees to be planted can be determined only after it is decided whether or not an immediate effect is desired. More often, too, it depends upon the amount of money to be spent for the purpose. Trees from ten to twelve inches in diameter at the ground line and twenty to thirty feet high, of such kinds as elms, ash, catalpa poplars, maples, basswoods and willows are successfully removed each season. Nursery-grown trees of from twelve to eighteen feet long and from four to eight inches in diameter of stem at the ground line are recommended as the most certain and satisfactory, and they can be had at comparatively little cost. Nursery-grown stock of all kinds is therefore more desirable than that which is generally got from the woods, the latter frequently having scarcely any roots and very poor heads.

How to Plant Trees.

If a tree is not properly planted success need not be expected. Two thirds of all the trees, two-thirds of all the shrubs and two thirds of all the seeds fail from improper planting. The larger the root surfaces of trees the larger should be the hole where they are to be planted. A safe rule is to make the hole twice the diameter of the roots, and no hole should be less than three feet in diameter. The proper depth can best be determined on the spot. It should not be less, however, than from eighteen inches to three feet deep, depending upon the depth of the ball of roots and the condition of the subsoil. If the subsoil is sand or gravel or hungry clay, it should be dug out and thrown aside; then good soil, such as raises good corn or wheat, with the addition of one-third thoroughly rotted barnyard manure, if it can be had, would make an excellent compost for nearly all kinds of trees and shrubs.

If the soil on the spot is in good condition there need not be any further search, as that can be used with the addition of some good manure. The bottom of the hole should be dug up and thoroughly loosened; then good soil should be thrown in as a cushion for the roots. The depth of this will suggest itself in each case, but it must be borne in mind that the tree must not be planted more than two or three inches deeper than it was before being moved. Many trees are actually strangled and suffocated by deep planting. There are a few exceptions where deep planting does not cause a lasting injury. Such are the poplars and willows, but even they suffer temporarily.

Preliminary Pruning.

Before planting nearly all deciduous trees require a judicious thinning of the branches or a shortening of some strong limbs. This must be done with judgment—not too severely, but enough to balance the loss of roots which necessarily must occur in removal. All bruised or broken roots should be trimmed clean with knife or shears, so that the ends may callous and heal over.

Trees having large balls of earth are expensive to handle and manipulate. Besides, the less handling the less injury will accrue. Avoid wrenching, twisting and lifting as much as possible. To this end, before attempting to lift the tree into position measure the actual depth of the root ball. It may be that one side is deeper than the other or that the center underneath is more shallow than the margins, all of which must be carefully noted and acted upon.

Preserving the Original Exposure.

There is yet another thing which is of importance, and ought to be most carefully observed, and that is to plant the tree so that the side of the tree which was exposed to the north in its original position shall be so placed when it is transplanted. This applies particularly to trees that are thinly clad with foliage, or to trees that are severly pruned, or have been densely shaded. Sun scalding of the stems of trees often would be prevented if the the above hints were acted upon. Of course the bare poles of elms, maples and other trees that have neither roots nor tops, so many of which we see as dead lines in subdivisions or suburban property, could not be saved by any treatment whatsoever. Trees that are grown in nurseries and that have been transplanted frequently do not suffer from being turned from north to south, as in the process of frequent transplantings all parts are pretty generally exposed; yet in the transplanting of choice trees the judicious planter notes the north side.

If the proper depth has been ascertained and the tree is placed in position, then comes the most important work. The finest and driest soil must be carefully sprinkled around the fine roots, not in the bulky shovelfuls, but evenly distributed as thinly as possible. Some old planters maintain that there is a right side and a wrong side to all soils, and that the right side must be in the right place. While we hardly can go so far as that, we know that there is a right and a wrong way of filling in soil around the roots of any plant, whether it be the largest forest tree or the most delicate orchid. Then with a sharp-pointed stake probe the soil carefully among the roots and into all the interstices below the ball, and so continue, layer by layer, until the whole of the surface is covered. Then while the soil is dry tramp firmly, either with a raminer or with the feet, so that there does not appear any perceptible difference between the original ground that has not been removed and the soil in which surrounds the tree itself.

Where a sufficient supply of water is available the whole can be thoroughly saturated and allowed to settle. The finishing touches to the planting can be given before the coming of dry weather. If there is any part of the soil that is uneven or depressed, fill up to a general level, then make a ridge of soil three to four inches wide and as much in height, so as to form a circular dish from one to three feet from the bole of the tree, so that it may hold sufficient water to soak the whole mass. The bigger the tree the bigger the basin ought to be.

Protection from the Wind.

Nearly all trees, unless they have very large balls of earth and small tops, or small trees that are planted in sheltered situations, require to be temporarily held in position, so that they will not be rocked about by the winds. Many trees are ruined by being blown from side to side. When they are about to make their first growth not only are the fragile roots broken off, but air spaces are opened through the cracking of the surface. This always is injurious to root action.

Saplings Braced Against the Wind.

Large trees are best held in position by from three to five strands of telegraph wire. Place around the bole of the tree eight to ten feet from the ground a band of wire inside a section of rubber garden hose. Make it moderately tight; then eight or ten feet away drive down 2 by 2 inch stakes eighteen inches in the ground, leaving about two inches above the surface, one stake for each wire; fasten the wires to the band on the bole; then, after seeing that the tree is upright and in position, tighten the wires on the stakes and make them secure. If the tree starts off vigorously one season will be long enough for the supports to remain.

Trees of smaller size can be supported best by driving a single stake diagonally across the tree on one side. The stake should be of 2 by 2 inch stuff and from four to five feet long. Around the tree wrap some protection, and there is nothing better than old garden hose. Drive in the stake so that it is firm; then tie stake and tree tightly together, as shown in the sketch above.

When to plant trees is a question that can only be decided when all conditions and circumstances are known. The most favorable times in this latitude generally are from Sept 20, to Nov. 1, and from March 20 to May 1. Very large trees are more successfully removed during the winter months. Those who are expert in handling trees have no hesitation in moving trees at any time.

Opposing Influences.

"What nonsense they do print about the nobility of the horse! I never knew a man yet who had much to do with horses who was not made coarser in his manners," said the finical boarder.

"Still," said Asbury Poppers, "you must admit that there is something elevating about a mule."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Secres of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

3. The need of a C. E. Union—Local, township and county.

(a) To meet with those who belong to this society.

(b) To stimulate Christian Endeavour special work.

(c) To help break down the prejudices that have separated the churches in the past and bring them into closer contact.

(d) To unite in bonds of Christian endeavour in behalf of the interests which all our committees stand for.

(e) To produce a deeper sense of our consecration to God.

(f) To help build up a great army pledged to Christ and the church.

4. The need of denominational Unions.

(a) To bring our influences as Christian Endeavourers into the life of the church.

(b) To so cherish and develop to loyalty and devotion to our own branch of the Christian church, the young people.

(c) To bring the best influences to bear on the congregation with which we are connected.

(d) In order to have the authority and guidance and counsel of our different church courts.

5. Can we support county and local unions:

(a) Can we give them the time? Yes, if proper representation is arranged and different delegates elected to go at different times.

(b) Can we give them our energies? Yes, for by the constant change in sending our representatives the strain does not all fall upon one person.

(c) Can we afford them? Yes. It does not cost a great deal as the travelling expenses are all that have to be met and by transferring the place of meeting to the different portions of the county, the trifling expense is equalized to all.

No discussion on the address was invited on account of the small amount of time there was in which to complete the programme.

REV. A. T. DYKEMAN,

of the Murray street Baptist church, then gave an address on "The coming Plebescite campaign; how can we through this medium advance the cause of temperance." In opening, the speaker mentioned the attention which was concentrated upon the troubles in the East, and also the agitation caused by the consideration of the Separate School question and the Crows Nest Pass matter, and other live topics of the day. Yet to him a question greater than any of these or all of them put together, was the rum question. What Canadians wanted was for the Government at Ottawa to enact a law which made it criminal for any man to sell intoxicating liquor to any man as a beverage, and to prohibit its manufacture except for scientific, mechanical or medicinal purposes. Some wished to add "sacramental" to this list, but it brought a blush of shame to the speaker's face to think that so holy an ordinance should find it necessary to use a liquor which was so closely associated with everything that was devilish.

The passage of such an enactment was objected to by many on the grounds that it was prohibitory and would interfere with a man's freedom. So it would and that was just what it was intended to do. A man's freedom should be stopped when it began to infringe on the liberties and rights of others. A man's freedom, it might be said, was interfered with because he was not allowed to ride his bicycle on the sidewalk. In fact every bylaw interfered with the freedom of some one, yet where would the community be without these laws?

Prohibition, said he, is in harmony with the soundest political economy, as it would add to the industrial worth of a country. If the liquor traffic was stopped there would be more money to be put into circulation, more mills established and more work, which would all tend to the upbuilding of nations.

Prohibition was in harmony with the opinion of the most advanced medical authorities of our day, who say that alcholic stimulants are not necessary to the health and the country would be far better without it. In Toronto on the occasion of the visit of the Commission there some years ago, the opinions of 100 doctors were asked for on this question. Ninety responded and of these 83 stated that they believed the country would be more healthy without it.

Prohibition is in harmony with the purest philanthropy of the nineteenth century. It appeals to our finer sensibilities. It appeals to the Christian Endeavourers. "Rum is the implacable foe of purity, morality, Christianity and God, and as Christian Endeavourers we ought to try and do away with it," claimed the speaker. We want a prohibitory law incorporated in the constitution of our country.

The speaker then proceeded to state that at a recent meeting of the Licensed Victuallers held in Montreal, it was resolved to form a guild of all the grocers, tailors, etc., and to ask each for a contribution of $5 to fight the plebiscite. In case of a refusal the merchant was to be boycotted by all the great hotels and liquor party. Through these means hundreds of thousands of dollars would be raised, and the speaker beseought the Christian Endeavourers to use every possible means to raise money before the date of the plebiscite, as temperance literature was needed to meet the arguments advanced by the opposite party. If the temperance party was defeated when the plebiscite was taken, it meant keen disgrace and a setback for years.

At the conclusion of Mr. Dykeman's address, the different denominations were assigned rooms in which to meet by themselves for conference.

EVENING MEETING.

After the song service and devotional exercises had been concluded last evening at the George street church, the "Presentation of President-elect" took place, Rev. Mr. Liddy of Keene, introduced Rev. J. G. Potter to the convention as their president for the ensuing year.

Mr. Potter thanked the convention for the honour it had conferred upon him, and asked for support in his work in the future. Mr. Potter referred to the war which Turkey had just commenced, and asked God to be on the side of the oppressed.

Mr. Rae in opening his address on "The Present Need of Missions," said that truth lies at the foundation of a good religious character. We need truth. Mr. Rae said that some person had stated that there were 15 hundred million people on the face of the earth. He took three hundred out of that as representative persons of some particular nationality or religion. There would be out of these three hundred, 2 Jews, 40 Mohammadans, 98 Christians and 160 heathens, which includes Buddhists, Brahmins, Confuscians and Pagans. Out of this number there would be 200 non-Christians, 98 Christians and 2 Jews. The Christians and Jews constitute one third of the population of the world. Out of the 98 Christians, 45 would be Catholics, 20 Greek and 30 Protestants. Out of each 300 there are only seven workers. Mr. Rae succeeded in showing that the need was more earnestness and sincerity in the work. At the conclusion of his address Miss Emma Mark sang "Thy King," and Mr. J. Miller's excellent voice was heard in the "Resurrection Morn."

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Recipe Book his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

FOUGHT LIKE DEVILS

The Turks Rushed Into the Battle Furiously.

GREEKS MET THEM WITH COURAGE

But Lacked Artillery and Appear to Have Got the Worst of the Encounter—Moslem Religious Fanaticism Appealed to With Quick Result—A Greek Victory.

Athens, April 20.—(6 p.m.)—All the members of the gendarmerie and other police forces, military organized, are now going to the frontier. The citizens have volunteered to guard the town and the same state of affairs prevails in the other towns of Greece. On all sides, there is a firm determination to meet the Turkish invasion, and every man who can be spared and who can bear arms is going to the front. The Athenian ladies, under the patronage of the Queen, have converted the steamer Thessaly into a floating hospital. Three hundred beds for the wounded have been fitted up on board of her and she is now proceeding to Volo.

All Greek Citizens Must Fight.

Headquarters of the Greek Army in Thessaly, Larissa, April 20.—The Mayor of Larissa has issued a proclamation, calling upon all citizens to arm themselves in defence of the country.

VIEWS OF THE BRITISH PRESS.

All Seems to Side With Turkey—What Will the Powers Do?

London, April 20.—The Globe, a consistent Philo-Turkish organ, says that Turkey practised exemplary patience under persistent provocation and affront, and the joint interest of the powers now lies in localising the war.

The Birmingham Post, the organ of the Progressive Unionists, urges Lord Salisbury to depart from the concert of Europe, and declares that the resolution of Turkey to settle her quarrel with Greece by the sword should compel the British Government to reconsider their position of adhesion to the concert of the powers, which was only justified as preserving European peace, wherein it has failed.

The Times, discussing editorially the Greek invitation to the powers to withdraw their forces from Crete, says that if Greece meditates the recall of Col. Vassos, the commander of the Greek army of occupation in Crete, so that he may co-operate in the defence of his country, the powers might doubtless strain a point and let him out, but if this is the object the Greek Government should say so. Until they do, the powers are not in the least likely to modify their action in Crete.

The Greeks report that the Turks lost 7000 killed and wounded at Reveni, but this estimate is probably excessive. The Greek engineers constructed a bridge at Pachystalos to enable their troops to cross the river. It is stated that the Turkish forces attacking Reveni numbered more than 10,000 men.

LOOKS BAD FOR GREECE.

Greeks Lacked Artillery in the Milouna Pass and Turks Were Victors.

Summit of the Milouna Pass, Monday morning, April 19.—The Turkish victory of yesterday in the Milouna Pass was complete. The enemy retired to the Plain of Thessaly, leaving only a rear guard on a hill, from which it was driven later by four battalions of Turkish infantry. The Turks pulled up to the top of the hill three mountain batteries, singing, laughing and weeping with joy like children.

One battery opened fire upon the Greeks, who were retreating on the Plain of Traves, and did terrible execution. The correspondent of the Associated Press saw some of the Turkish shells burst in the middle of a battalion of Greeks, with the result that whole groups were killed or wounded.

Yesterday evening seven new Turkish battalions and several mounted batteries of artillery left for the front and at dawn the latter were trained on the Greek blockhouse on the plain below.

Jusuf Effendi, the Turkish commander, and his men had been 26 hours without food or drink. When they were preparing to capture the Greek blockhouse, Jusuf made a speech to his soldiers, saying: "All those who love God must advance to the assault."

This was enough. Every man, with loud exultant shouts, dashed forward in the direction of the blockhouse. Even the muleteers, who were bringing up the reserve ammunition, joined in the assault on the blockhouse, which was held by the Greeks with magnificent courage. The Turks with splendid dash, charged with the bayonet and eventually leaped over the ramparts with shouts of triumph. The Greeks waited their approach until the Turks were within 30 yards before withdrawing.

In this assault, the Turks had only 16 men killed and 17 wounded. Everywhere was to be seen the effect of the Turkish artillery, their terrible shells bursting just at the calculated moment. The Greeks, on the other hand, appeared to be lacking in artillery.

As the correspondent was writing this despatch, the Greeks attempted to reply to the Turkish artillery, but they were eventually forced to retire.

The correspondent saw numberless Greek bodies stripped of their uniforms by the Greeks, leaving only their shirts and drawers on. Most of the dead, however, were carried off by the Turks, who raised the corpses of the Greeks reverently and placed them beneath the shade of trees. The Turkish losses in the fighting of yesterday were only 50 killed and 150 wounded.

On reaching the summit of the hills above Tyrnavo, the Greek frontier town, situated about ten miles from Larissa, the Turks observed that the Greeks were occupying a small hill, from which they fired but feebly at the Turks. Finally two Turkish mountain batteries were brought up to the summit of the hill occupied by the Turks and from there the Turkish guns began bombarding Tyrnavo. Under cover of this fire, the Turkish infantry advanced and, after capturing a spur opposite the Greek blockhouse, orders were given to the Turks, at 5 o'clock, to take the blockhouse by assault. This movement was brilliantly effected 20 minutes later. The Greek prisoners say that the Greek army has already lost heart.

The situation at present is that the Turks have possession of all the commanding heights between headquarters and the Greek headquarters at Larissa, with the exception of Tyrnavo, which is now commanded by the Turkish batteries. The Turks to-night are camping in the Greek tents, left on the Plain of Thessaly, near the Milouna Pass by the retreating Greek army. The Turks to day only had six men killed and ten wounded.

The death of Rafis Pasha, the Turkish commander, who was killed in the fighting, which took place in the Milouna Pass on Saturday, is greatly lamented. He was 80 years old and while advancing at the head of his troops, was urged to dismount and rest. The old pasha replied: "During the Russian War I never dismounted, and why should I do so now?" Soon afterwards he was wounded in the arm, but he still remained in the saddle. Later a second bullet struck him on the hand. Yet the old warrior refused to retire. Finally a third bullet broke the gallant pasha's spine and he reeled from his saddle, dead.

Greek Position Near Arta.

Athens, April 20.—An official despatch from Arta says that after crossing the Arachthos at Bani, the Greeks occupied the villages of Nicokhori and Sakhikalama, where they strongly entrenched themselves. Col. Manos is now advancing northward in the direction of Paraskevi. The Greeks repulsed an attempt of the Turks to cross the bridge at 5 this morning. A number of Greeks, among them several officers, were killed and others wounded.

GREEKS VICTORIOUS.

Captured and Burned Damasi after a Desperate Struggle.

Athens, April 20, midnight.—News has just reached here that the Greeks, after a desperate battle have captured and burned Damasi. Vigla is still resisting. But another division of the Greek troops, it is reported, has traversed the Reveni Pass and captured three blockhouses. This division has almost reached Damasi, where it will effect a union with the force that captured the town. The 20,000 troops under Col. Smolenits displayed the greatest bravery.

Reveni lies 12 miles northwest of Larissa. Edhem Pasha with a force variously estimated at from 10,000 to 14,000 troops led seven assaults against it yesterday, but all were repelled by the Greeks.

The Crown Prince Constantine has telegraphed here that the Turks at that point were repulsed.

In Athens greater attention has been paid to the operations in the neighborhood of Reveni than to those at Milouna Pass. The theory all along has been that if the Greeks could establish themselves at Damasi, their road would lie open to Elassona.

The exact situation Tyrnavo is somewhat in doubt. The news from that point is conflicting. But there is no confirmation of the rumor that the place has been captured by the Turks. What seems to have happened is that Tyrnavo was evacuated in order to send troops forward.

An Artillery Duel.

A despatch from Arta says that 3000 Greeks have crossed the frontier at Bani and a severe artillery duel has been in progress since Monday. The Greek artillery have silenced the Turkish Imauret fort, commanding the town. Two attempts by the Turks to cross the river were repulsed. There has been brisk firing at Placa, and a heavy infantry along the line for about five miles. Two Greek officers and many Turks have been killed.

Shelling the Town.

Milouna Pass, April 20, evening.—The Turks have just commenced to shell the town of Tyrnavo. All the roads leading to Larissa are crowded with fugitives, shouting "Reserves, don't try conclusions with the Turks." The Greek villages in the plain are completely deserted.

A MISTAKEN ORDER

Gave the Turks a Chance to Advance—3000 Greeks Killed and Wounded.

Athens, April 20.—There was renewed fighting between the Turks and Greeks in the Milouna Pass yesterday. It was of the most severe description, but full details are not obtainable here. The firing ceased at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The total Greek loss in the various engagements in the Milouna Pass is estimated here at 1000 killed and wounded.

Over 200 wounded soldiers and officers of the Greek army have arrived at Larissa, Tyrnavo and Volo.

The losses of the Turks are declared to be much greater than those of the Greeks.

Prince Constantine has returned to Larissa from Gritsovali, where he witnessed some severe fighting. The Greek reverse at that place was due to the fact that General Mastropas, who is in command of the Greek artillery, misunderstood Prince Constantine's orders and ordered a retreat

The Turks thereupon advanced and soon occupied Gritzovali, pursuing the retreating Greeks, killing a few and wounding two hundred of them.

General Mastropas' brigade later rallied and made a stand. In the meantime Prince Constantine hurried reinforcements forward to the assistance of General Mastropas and General Smolenits, formerly Greek Minister for War, succeeded in forcing the enemy back.

Prince Constantine has severely censured General Mastropas for his blunder.

A despatch received here from Cairo, Egypt, says that at the request of the Turkish Government the Egyptian Government has handed the Greek diplomatic agent, M. J. Gryparis, his passports, and has ordered all Greeks to leave Egypt within a fortnight.

THE TURKS ADVANCING.

They Were Only About Ten Miles From Greek Headquarters Yesterday.

Headquarters of the Turkish army in Macedonia, Elassona, April 19, night.—The Turkish artillery this afternoon began cannonading Tyrnavo, the Greek town to the northwest of Larissa, and only about ten miles from the Greek headquarters, the Greeks having fallen back upon Tyrnavo.

The whole chain of mountains from Tchalissa to the Milouna Pass is now in possession of the Turks.

The last brush on the hills was very brief, the Greeks making but little resistance.

The Turks have captured several prisoners, including an Italian volunteer.

The dash of the Turks is irresistible, and it is expected that a general advance of the Turkish army will take place to-morrow (Tuesday) morning.

A Big Battle in Progress.

Athens, April 20.—Fighting between the Greeks and Turks was resumed this morning at Reveni, not far from Tyrnavo, northwest of Larissa. A big battle is in progress. The Turks are attacking in still greater force than yesterday, but the Greeks are making a stubborn resistance.

THE JUBILEE BATTALION

Will be Composed of a Representation From Each Branch of the Military Service.

Ottawa, April 20.—(Special.)—The official list of corps invited to send men to England as members of the Jubilee Battalion varies somewhat from that published on Monday. It has been finally approved by the Government, and is as follows; the figures after the name of each corps indicating the number of representatives they will send:

Cavalry—N.W. Mounted Police, 24 men; Governor-General's Body Guard, Toronto, P.L.D.G., Ottawa; King's, (N. S.), Canadian Hussars; Queen's Own Canadian Hussars; 1st Hussars, London; 4th Hussars, Kingston; 3rd Dragoons, Peterboro; Manitoba Dragoons; Portage la Prairie; 6th Hussars, Montreal; 8th Hussars, Kings, N.B.—four men each.

Field Artillery—1st Brigade, Guelph; 1st Regiment, Quebec; 2nd, Ottawa; 4th, Hamilton; 9th, Toronto; 12th, King's, N.B.; 13th, Winnipeg; 15th, Shefford—1 man each.

Garrison Artillery—1st Regiment, Halifax; 3rd, St. John, N.B.; 4th, Charlottetown; 5th, British Columbia—3 men each.

Infantry—Governor-General's Foot Guards; 2nd, Q.O.R., Toronto; 3rd, Victorias, Montreal; 9th, Royal Scots; 9th, Voltigeurs, Quebec; 10th, Royal Grenadiers, Toronto; 13th, Hamilton; 14th, Kingston; 48th Highlanders, Toronto; 62nd, St John Fusiliers; 63rd, Halifax Rifles; 65th Battalion, Montreal; 68th, King's, N.S.; 82nd, Queen's County, P. E.I.—4 men each.

The permanent corps will send eight men each for the cavalry, artillery and infantry.

The instructions to commanding officers are that men to be selected must be either non-commissioned officers or privates who possess certificates of qualification from one of the schools. Commissioned officers will not be allowed to go in the ranks. Col. Aylmer, Adjutant-General, will command the contingent, but his staff has yet to be chosen.

T. G. Shaughnessy, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was in town all day, and together with Messrs F. L. Beique, Q.C., and Joseph Brunet of Montreal had an important conference to-night with several Ministers respecting the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. It is expected a formal anouncement will be made in a few days as to the conditions upon which the company will build the road.

Further papers regarding the Manitoba school settlement were brought down to-day. They include protests from the Catholics of six municipalities in Manitoba against the school settlement, and from two places, Deleau and Saskatchewan, in favor of it. The Deleau communication says: "We are of opinion that all men not influenced by party spirit will accept this agreement as being the best obtainable under the circumstances if carried out honestly by the local authorities." Mr. Tarte is thanked for his efforts to secure education for the French Catholic children on an equal footing with English children. The communication concludes with the expression of a fervent hope that Mr. Laurier will long be spared to hold the Premiership. It is signed by 42 electors.

The Saskatchewan document is signed by 101 Roman Catholic electors, and congratulates the Government on the successful issue of the negotiations in settling the vexed question which at one time threatened to destroy the harmony and good fellowship in Canada.

Mr. E. B. Eddy, the well-known manufacturer, has a strong letter in the papers regarding an export duty on pulp wood, of which he is a strong advocate. He points out that the consumption of the United States is about 4,000,000 tons of mechanical ground wood pulp annually, and of this quantity not less than 2½ per cent. of this pulp comes from wood, the growth of this country. In the past year about 600,000 cords of pulp wood have been exported to the United States, besides which a quantity of the pulp has been ground here, principally in Nova Scotia. The cost of conversion of these 600,000 cords of wood into pulp, with the freight from the mills to the border, will amount to about $5 per cord, thus depriving us of the circulation of money in labor and freights of some $3,000,000 in the past year.

An export duty on pulp wood of at least $4 per cord, if not $5, would compel the manufacture of pulp in our own country.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

'TWAS A CLEAN SWEEP

Nova Scotia Conservatives Almost Annihilated

IN YESTERDAY'S LOCAL ELECTIONS

Only Four of Them Returned, and One in Doubtful—Opposition Leader Stuart Snowed Under in Halifax by a Large Majority—Both Parties Claim Colchester.

Halifax, April 20.—General Provincial elections took place in Nova Scotia to-day, and a contest in Colchester County for the Dominion Commons. The result of the provincial contests was an overwhelming triumph for the Liberal party. The Conservatives number not more than four men, and perhaps only three, to the Assembly, which consists of 38 members. Every member of the Provincial Government who offered for re-election was returned. Premier Murray in Victoria, Attorney-General Longley in Annapolis and Commissioner of Works Church in Lunenburg all have handsome majorities. For first time in seven years Halifax elected a full Liberal ticket. The returns in this county are : Liberals—Macpherson 4903, Mitchell 4907, Wallace 4895. Conservatives—Stairs 4131, Foster 4313, Walsh 3901. The Dominion election is claimed by the Conservatives, and returns, which are reported complete, give Candidate Muir a majority of two votes over McClure (Lib.). The Liberals, however, claim a majority for McClare of 10.

The Results.

The names of the successful candidates in the Provincial elections are :

Annapolis—Longley and Bancroft (Lib.).
Antigonish—McGillivray and Chisholm (L.)
Cape Breton—Kendall and Johnston (L.).
Colchester—Laurence (L.), McMullin (C.).
Cumberland—Black and Fraser (Lib.).
Digby—Comeau and Gibney (Lib.).
Guysboro'—Sinclair and Ferguson (Lib.).
Halifax—Mitchell, McPherson and Wallace (Lib.).
Hants—Drysdale (Lib.), Wilcox (Con.).
Inverness—McDonald and Doucett (Lib.).
King's—Wickwire and Dodge (Lib.).
Lunenburg—Church and Sperry (Lib.).
Pictou—McDonald and McGregor (Lib), and Tanner (Con.).
Queen's—Farrel (Lib.); second seat in doubt between Keil (Lib.) and Millard (C.).
Richmond—Joice and Finlayson (Lib.).
Shelburne—Johnston and Robertson (Lib.).
By acclamation.
Victoria—Premier Murray and Morrison (Lib.).
Yarmouth—Law and Leblanc (Lib.).

A DANGEROUS SEASON.

NATURE REQUIRES AID IN THROWING OFF THE POISONS OF WINTER.

Close Confinement Leaves Old and Young Weak, Nervous and Often Despondent—Dr. Williams' Pills the Only Reliable Tonic.

At this season of the year young and old feel the need of some assistance from the medical world to help nature in her work of renewing and rebuilding the system after the trying months of winter. Teachers and students especially feel the effects of long months of mental toil that have been rendered more dangerous to health by hours of study in close, ill-ventilated rooms, and exposure to cold and storm, and chills from wet and bedraggled skirts. The following letter from a well known lady teacher in the west tells how she made use of one of the most wonderful medical discoveries of the age, with happy results.

"Every spring for the last eight years I have suffered from attacks of what the doctors called nervous prostration. The attacks were generally heralded by nervous headaches which lasted three or four days, causing untold agony, palpitation and pain at the heart, the loss of appetite and a general feeling that life is not worth living. Only those who have suffered in this way can imagine what I endured or how great has been my joy to find that I have learned of means of escape from all those horrors. This wondrous medicine, which doctors acknowledge to be a good tonic and of great benefit to weak people, was brought to my attention by a niece who had herself been cured of a dangerous malady by this remedy. She had become weak and unable to continue her studies, her blood turned to water and her face lost every trace of its once fresh healthy colour, and a general "breaking up" of her system caused her friends to fear that she was in the first stages of consumption. She became tired of hearing thoughtless people tell her how pale she looked, and seeing an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People she brought some in the hope that they might restore a little colour to her cheeks. She was surprised and delighted to find that after using them for a few weeks her face regained its healthy colour, and her strength and vitality also returned, and to-day she is perfectly strong and healthy. Knowing how I had suffered she strongly advised me to try them. I did so and instead of feeling "worn out" as usual at this season I feel stronger and better in every way than I have done for years. Those dreadful headaches and other distressing symptoms have entirely disappeared and I feel years younger than I did a year ago, and my friends say I look ten years younger. I feel so happy that I can perform my duties with zeal and pleasure that I wish to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all teachers and students who wish to escape what I have suffered.

"Gratefully yours,
"H. S. KEE."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

THE ONLY ONE.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Where all Other Remedies Fail.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE NOT INCURABLE

But There's Only One Cure in the World, and That we Have Named—Hundreds Testify to Cures—Never a Failure Recorded.

It used to be said, "If you have Bright's Disease, it won't be long before people are walking slow behind you."

Bright's Disease affects brainy men particularly. The brainier and more active a man, the more liable he is to Bright's Disease. Bright's Disease is a disease of the Kidneys. It is the name given to the fatty degeneration of those organs. It is caused by excessive use of alcoholic drinks. It is caused by excessive eating of rich food. It may be caused by exposure to cold and moisture. It may be caused by improper living.

But it's not with the CAUSE we have to deal. It is with the CURE.

It used to be thought that Bright's Disease was incurable. We know better now. Restore the Kidneys to health, and you may eat what you like, drink what you like, work as hard or be as active as you like, and bid defiance to death-dealing Bright's Disease.

But woe to the man who does't take care of his Kidneys! When they cease to filter the blood, the blood reeks with poison. Urine actually flows in the veins. You die a lingering death. The spine and extremities first; the brain last. Dying at the bottom while living at the top!

Bright's Disease may be cured by DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS, which restore the Kidneys, making them filter the blood properly. DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS are the only specific for Bright' Disease. They were compounded just for that purpose. They have cured hundreds of cases. They will cure your Kidneys. Try them. Fifty cents a box. For sale at all druggists.

WM. G. WADE, 940 Queen East, Toronto, says:—"I have used thirty-six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am cured of Bright's Disease after all else had failed."

T. E. CRAIG, 769 Queen East, Toronto, says:—"Never expecting a cure of Bright's Disease I have been agreeably disappointed by a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MISS MAUDE COTTERELL, Belleville, Ont. says:—"I have used two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have been cured of what the doctor said was Bright's Disease."

MR. JAMES WENT, Orillia, Ont., says:—"I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills about six weeks ago, have taken three boxes which have cured me perfectly of Bright's Disease.

Crouch and His Victim.

Watertown, N. Y., April 20.—A special to The Standard from Sackett's Harbor, this afternoon, says that Allen, the soldier, who was one of the persons shot in the horrible double murder, and whose death has been momentarily expected, will recover. To-day he called for and was given food and drink. Crouch, the accused man, was interviewed in his cell to-day. He is somewhat unnerved, but is still confident that he will soon be free.

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

TEACHERS GATHERED

In Annual Convention at Toronto Yesterday.

READ AND DISCUSSED PAPERS.

Pedagogues of All Grades Were There From Different Parts of the Province—Some of the Educational Big Guns Were at the Evening Meeting.

Toronto, April 20.

The representatives of the profession whose duty it is to teach the young idea how to shoot came to this city in unprecedented force yesterday. It was the occasion of the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association, and all manner of pedagogues, from the University professor to the teacher in the side-line little red school house, assembled together at the Normal School to explain to one another what methods of imparting knowledge had met with the best results in their own experience. The day was taken up with the reading of admirably-written papers on various literary, historical and general educational topics, and in the evening a grand reception in the school theatre was addressed by the Minister of Education and others. The session continues to-day and to-morrow.

Miss E. J. Preston of Ottawa read the first paper entitled, "The Criminal and His Recruiting Grounds." Crime, she held, was coeval with man, but expanded and developed as he advanced in civilization. In the past it had been studied from the points of sentiment or revenge. Criminology, seeking the source on purely scientific grounds, claims that it is due in a great measure to heredity, atavism, a perverted moral nature or some physical cause. A certain relation existed between alcoholism, epilepsy, insanity and crime, and all showed signs of a degenerating organism. The children of elderly fathers are frequently criminals. Every age and every society breeds its own classes of crime. Some crime-producing causes being neonatal are not preventible, but amongst those which are preventible we find alcoholism, the uncertainty of punishment caused by the complication of our laws, the growing laxity of parental responsibility and control, the restlessness of the age and desire for wealth being so great that, "The end justifies the means." While crimes against the person are decreasing, crimes against property and other dishonest acts are increasing in Canada. The demoralising influence of a vast number of papers and magazines brought into Canada is another preventible crime.

The artisan and manual labor class show the smallest criminal percentage. Are our people being trained to manual labor? she asks. Then again, she observes that a belief in and reverence for a Supreme Being lies at the root of good citizenship. Are we in danger of gradually losing this belief and reverence? Is our educational system at fault? Has not the "head been educated at the expense of the hands and the heart"?

Mr. F. F. Manley presided over the Mathematical and Physical Association and read an address in which he recommended that fees in secondary education be graduated according to the ability of the pupils. Promising students, he held, should be charged a small fee, while pupils whose progress was slow, and who consequently retarded the work of the teacher, should pay an additional fee for the trouble so caused.

This proposition met with strong opposition and was followed by a paper on "Elementary Geometry as a Preparation for Honor Mathematical Work."

A discussion on this paper led to the appointment of a committee, composed of Messrs. McDougall, McKenzie, De Lary and Glasham, to recommend any changes in the present system of teaching of geometry, if such were deemed necessary.

In the commercial section, the morning session was taken up with a discussion on "Commercial Work and Drawing in Our High Schools and Collegiate Institutes." Resolutions were passed recommending that the name "Public School leaving examination" be changed to "High School first form and Public School leaving examination," and also that candidates should not be allowed to bring ruled paper with them to the bookkeeping examinations. A committee was appointed to make out a list of drawing models, the present list being deemed too expensive.

The president, Mr. Fletcher's, paper on "Practical Penmanship" provoked lively discussion on account of its many radical statements. It said that practical penmanship was not being taught to any great extent in our Public Schools, for the reason that teachers were not trained to practical teaching of writing, finger movement was almost exclusively used, teachers dislike to spoil the display of pupils' writing by introducing practical movement, and copy-books were used in senior classes. Them were condemned as not training and as unfitting for business.

At the Inspector's section, Mr. James L. Hughes' paper on "Manual Training" came up first. He advocated manual training for educational, not economic, reasons, and showed that manual training does not mean teaching trades, or even improving the child's chances of making a living by industrial work, but the development of the physical, mental and moral nature.

To the lot of Inspector D. Fotheringham of South York it fell to handle at this meeting the time-worn but none the less vital subject of "Moral Training in Public Schools." He took occasion to observe that there was no religious instruction given with any regularity at the Public Schools, and that the provisions for such instruction were either impracticable or out of touch with public opinion. The reasons assigned for this state of affairs are the great difficulties surrounding the question from a practical standpoint. These difficulties had been solved in England and Germany, and why not in Canada? Public opinion in favor of one Public School system is growing stronger every year, and if our legislators could lay aside all desire for party advantage, and unite on the subject, as the English parties did in 1870, a non-sectarian but thoroughly Christian system of religious instruction could be inaugurated to meet the wishes of all denominations.

Continuing, the author suggested the appointment of a representative commission to investigate the bearings of the question and prepare an outline of Christian principles, to which all churches could assent. Such a text-book was now in use in Pittsburg, Pa., and elsewhere in mixed schools. Only 50 per cent. of our school population were now receiving religious instruct on in Sunday Schools and churches, so that at least 300,000 of our youth were growing up without deriving any moral advantages in education.

At the meeting of the Historical Association, President William Houston, M.A., in dealing with "History As a Culture Subject," made a strong plea for the study of original documents, such as copies of Magna Charta, etc., which should be on the walls of every school room. The biographical side of history was the one which should be mainly presented to children. Historical documents should be taken up backwards, the later ones coming first, or from that which to some extent is best known to that which is unknown. Thus, in Canadian history, the order would be: B.N.A. Act, 1867; Union Act, 1841; Constitutional Act, 1791; Quebec Act, 1774; Governor Murray's Convention, 1764, and so on, back to the first known records. Certain United States documents should also be taken up, and, if possible, documents pertaining to other countries.

President Wright was in the chair at the Modern Language Association meeting, and presented an able paper on "The Jew in English Literature."

Owing to his reputation for rapacity and exclusiveness, said the author, to the vindictiveness of Christians for his share in the crucifixion, and to other causes, the Jew has long been treated with contumely and oppression. The opinion of the populace has been reflected in literature. In the early ballad literature of England we find stories of the Wandering Jew, and of the avaricious, cruel Jew. Marlowe's "Jew of Malta" is a monster. Shakespeare's Shylock is really a most complex character, but in popular regard he is looked on with disfavor. Scott's Isaac in "Ivanhoe" is the product of a sympathetic hand, but is in several respects a caricature. Dickens' Fagin is altogether detestable. These are examples of the unfair treatment which has been meted out to the Jews in English literature. It is only within the last century that we have had the other side. Cumberland's Sheva, Scott's Rebecca, Disraeli's Sidonia, Eva and David Alroy, Dickens' Mr. Riah and George Eliot's Daniel Deronda, Mirah and Mordecai, show the Jews in a brighter light, and indicate the great advance which has been made as to the toleration of the Peculiar People.

Mr. A. W. Burt, B.A., of Brantford, in his remarks on "Phonetics," urged the need of more careful attention to the subject of right pronunciation in our schools. Most of our High School graduates, he claimed, could not utter a sentence without proclaiming their lack of refinement in this respect. He laid the blame of this defect to the all-engrossing claims of "examination" subjects. A knowledge of the mechanism of sound production, i.e., of a knowledge of phonetics, was essential to their correction. He recommended the adoption of the principles of instruction laid down in "Le Maitre Phonetique," the organ of the International Phonetic Association.

As to the teaching of foreign languages, Mr. Burt recommended entirely oral instruction for the first few months. After that time he suggested the study of texts written in phonetic characters, and, after the first year, he would permit the introduction of the conventional spelling, the study of word forms, the inductive study of grammar and the translation of English into the foreign tongue. Such a course, he believed, would cause our pupils to enter into the spirit of the foreign language, and thus imbibe culture.

A large gathering of friends of education assembled at the reception in the theatre of the Normal School. Mr. John Dearness, the association president, was in the chair, and had with him on the platform: Hon. G. W. Ross, President Loudon, Chancellor Burwash, Rev. Dr. Dewart and Ald. John Hallam, the latter of whom represented the Mayor.

Hon. Dr. Ross delivered an admirable address, in which he spoke of the evolution of the old log schools to the present magnificent, commodious structures. He welcomed the assembled pedagogues as the men and women who formed the groundwork of the nation. He hoped they would derive benefit from this visit. He desired to make the Normal School, re-fitted, as it now was, on its fiftieth anniversary, the Mecca of the teachers of the Province.

Mr. John Dearness, president of the Association, replied to the welcome of the civic and Government authorities.

A letter was read from Mr. J. H. Yewdall, secretary of the English Teachers' Union, now in session in Wales, conveying fraternal greetings.

The meeting concluded with the singing of the National and New Jubilee Anthems, and, upon invitation of the Minister of Education, another hour was spent by the visitors in inspecting the art and educational exhibits of the Educational building.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

MACDONALD AND WINNIPEG.

Rutherford and McKenzie in the Former and Jameson and Taylor in the Latter Will Fight It Out.

Winnipeg April, 20.—(Special.)—Nominations for the vacancies in the Dominion Parliament for Macdonald and Winnipeg took place to-day. In Macdonald, Dr. Rutherford, Government, and Kenneth McKenzie, Patron, were placed in the field.

In Winnipeg the nominations were ex-Mayor R. W. Jameson, Government, and Edwin Taylor, Independent. Taylor's friends hope to poll a good vote, but Jameson's election is conceded. Leading Conservatives decline to take any part in the contest, and most of them will not vote at all.

The water in Red River at Winnipeg is still high, but it is believed all danger of a flood has passed. Several Northern Pacific bridges have been washed away and traffic on the Northern Pacific between Winnipeg and Dakota is suspended.

THE "BIG" FOUR.

A Quartette of Remedies that are Effecting Wonderful Cures.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newcomb Mills. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since, I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. Four pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until at a cost of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Potts, of Meyersburg. "He was often unable to work. Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 60 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry R. Nicholls of 176 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

Chase's remedies at all dealers. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manfrs., Toronto.

Greatest in the World.

Loran E. Adams, Deep Brook, N. S., says, "I have taken Norway Pine Syrup with grand results. I had a very bad cough for five weeks and could get no relief, but after taking one box of Norway Pine Syrup I was entirely cured. It is the greatest cough medicine in the world."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. Grasshoppers Congealed.

The severe frost of Monday and Tuesday nights seems to have been a blessing to the farmers of Harvey, who suffered so severely from the grasshopper pest last summer. A gentleman was in town yesterday who stated that the farmers of that township were greatly alarmed at the danger of another visitation of grasshoppers. The few warm days had caused the eggs to hatch and the baby grasshoppers were coming out in great force. It is expected that the severe frost will kill the young hoppers and also the eggs.

How They Stick to Him.

A man never knows the comfort and pleasure there can be put into a good-fitting suit of clothes until some tailor "gets onto his shape" and gives him exactly what he wants. After that the tailor is sure of his trade, and distance won't prevent him getting the next suit from the same hands. The fact is exemplified in the case of many of Pete Simons' customers who have removed thousands of miles away from Peterborough, and who continue sending their orders to him for new garments. These facts speak for themselves. To-day Mr. Simons shipped the following orders to remote corners of the globe:—Four fine suits to Keewatin, away up in the North-west, altogether out of reach of telephone connection; two suits and an overcoat across the continent to Fort Steele, British Columbia; and a suit and an overcoat to Rock Island, in the Lower Provinces. To these customers Pete Simons is style dictator, and they always rely implicitly in going by his judgment. 1d1w

TWENTY-FOUR CONTAGIOUS DISEASES CASES SINCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR.

The Members Desire to Put a Stop to the Public Expectorating on the Street Corners and Public Places.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon in the town clerk's office with the following members present:—Messrs. B. Shortly, chairman, Dr. Burnham, Mayor Yelland and Henry Deane.

Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, read the following letter from Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, in reply to the annual report which was recently sent in:

Replying to your letter of the 27th inst. I note what you state with regard to the high death rate from tuberculosis, and assume that what you assign as a cause of the high death rate may play some slight part in accounting for the mortality. It is not, however, in my opinion a factor which would in any degree explain the unfortunately high mortality. It would be of interest to your own and to other boards, if you would have your secretary go back over the returns for ten years of the deaths in Peterborough and take out the names and residences of all the persons who have died of consumption. If this is done I have no doubt you will so readily connect successive cases in a house or family with previous cases that you will consider that the infection has been communicated in a very large proportion of cases by direct contagion in sickness or through breathing the air in infected houses. Of course you will find a certain number of hospital cases and isolated cases, but if you will study the tables published in the Annual Report of 1892 you will see how over a large area the personal element plays so large a part. Please let me hear from you so soon as these statistics are worked over, what your conclusions are.

Mr. Armstrong reported that it would be impossible to comply with Dr. Bryce's request, as the residences were not mentioned in the returns until two years ago, and anyway all the returns were in the hands of Dr. Bryce, being sent to him every six months. Dr. Clarke brought up the matter of spitting on the street corners and in the cars, stating that through this medium consumption and other contageous diseases were spread.

Dr. Burnham pointed out that in a number of small towns on the other side of the line, bylaws had been passed prohibiting expectorating in public places. In New York this was not allowed on the street cars. He called the attention of the police to the loafers who congregate on the corner of George and McDonel streets, as well as other corners, and cover the sidewalk with filth.

Dr. Clarke notified the Board that the Fire Department stables were carelessly looked after and as a result a bad odor was prevalent on the premises.

The mayor stated that this matter had already been attended to by one of the council committees.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Deane it was resolved "that the Board of Health issue notices to the effect that all yards must be cleaned previous to May 15th and in cases of omission prosecutions will be instituted.

The Medical Health officer stated that since the first of the year there had been reported to him 7 cases of diphtheria, 14 of scarlet fever and 3 of typhoid.

Dr. Burnham and Mr. Harry Deane, moved that the inspectors be authorized to inspect the local bakeries and see that the sanitary conditions and water were in accordance with the act.

The Board then adjourned.

OBITUARY.

The Late James Ellis.

Mr. James Ellis, a native of Verulam, County of Victoria, died at 814 Water street, Peterborough, on Tuesday of consumption, aged 52 years. He was a member of the Murray street Baptist church, a loving husband and father, and fell asleep in Jesus in sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection.

Gone where no sorrow or trouble can reach thee—
Gone where thy loved ones with Jesus will meet thee—
Gone where Heaven's glories forever shall greet thee,
To the beautiful home of the blest.—COM.

CONCERT AND PLAY.

A Delightful Evening at St. John's Mission.

A highly successful entertainment was held in St. John's Mission building last evening. There was a large attendance and a fine double programme was presented. The first part consisted of a concert of vocal and instrumental music: pianoforte duets by Misses K. Hurley and Pearl Lundy, Mr. F. J. Ball and Miss Florence Bell; vocal solos by Miss Sherwood, Mrs. Stapleton and Mr. G. K. Martin; recitations by Miss Lois Ostrom and Master Holden Blackwell. The second part consisted of the excellent presentation of Beauty and the Beast, under the management of Mrs. D. J. Lundy.

Those taking part were Misses Mary Sawers, Florence and Josie Bell and Lily Rush, and Clarence Bell and Charles and Roy Stone. The affair was well put on and well played. Incidental to it was a beautiful fan drill by eight little girls—Misses Mulholland, Misses Latimer, and Misses Gilbert, McFadden and McClelland.

The proceeds of the affair, devoted to the church extension fund, was about $35.

The piano used for the occasion was a splendid new Karn, kindly loaned by the local agent, Mr. T. Dunn, to whom the committee is very grateful.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. L. H. Keogh and Miss Lizzie Mahoney.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, at 8 o'clock, when Ven. Archdeacon Casey performed the solemn ceremony that united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. L. H. Keogh, principal of the Murray street Separate school and Miss Lizzie Mahoney, third daughter of Mr. Thomas Mahoney, Downie street.

The bride, who was charming in a travelling costume of fawn and brown, with a beautiful picture hat trimmed with white and pink roses, and carrying also a shower bouquet of splendid Marechal Neil roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Minnie Ryan, of Elmira, N.Y., who was attired in brown ladies' cloth costume, trimmed with white chiffon, wore a white French chip tarban trimmed with violets, and carried a shower bouquet of Marechal Neil roses. Incidental to the wedding mass the choir, of which the bride had been a member, sang special musical selections, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ball sang a beautiful duet. Miss Hurley presided at the organ and performed Mendelssohns wedding march as the brial party was leaving the church.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests, to the number of 25, which included persons from Toronto, Belleville, Elmira and Buffalo, N. Y., sat down to a recherche wedding breakfast at the residence of the father of the bride. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents, and the special presents were a fine rocking chair from the choir, and a splendid silver fruit epergne, the gift of the employees of Miss Radkin's millinery establishment. The happy pair left on the mid-day C.P.R. on a two weeks' honeymoon tour which will include Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec and Prince Edward Island. Both Mr. and Mrs. Keogh are very popular, and are followed by the cordial good wishes of a host of friends.

A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Provided by Miss Alexandrina Ramsay at St. Andrew's School Room Last Night.

There was a fair sized audience assembled at St. Andrew's school room last night, to meet Miss Ramsay, vocalist and elocutionist. The audience was far too small for the merits of the entertainment, which was among the best of the kind ever presentad in the town. Some may have thought that Miss Ramsay's gifts were rather extravagantly heralded, but all that was said in her praise before her coming was more than realized by her presence.

She has a grand personal presence and is especially well equipped both as a vocalist and an elocutionist. But perhaps her vocal work was the best and won the highest favour. Her deep, rich, round and full contralto voice was heard to splendid advantage in "Cem' ye by Athol." The easy execution, artistic method and liquid richness of voice invested this grand song with unusual capabilities of enjoyment. In "Caller Herrin," though not so well adapted to her voice, Miss Ramsay gave great delight, as she did with her pathetically sweet singing of the Gailic song "Fhir a Bhata." Miss Ramsay's readings were magnificent exhibitions of the elocutionary art, and it would be difficult to say that she has had a superior in this line in Peterborough. Her costumes were appropriate to her selections. With her stately physique and striking Greek profile, Miss Ramsay, as Vashti, looked really regal in her magnificent robe of purple relieved with dream. Her hunting costume in "Lady Gay Spanker," fitted her to perfection, and the charm of it was that she not only looked, but lived for the moment, the character she personated, so realistic and true to life were her presentations. Space will not permit of particularisation, but in her more serious, as well as her lighter selections, she was equally at home—having a fine command of both the Scotch and Irish 'brogue." Altogether Miss Ramsay gave splendid satisfaction, and as an individual entertainer cannot be surpassed. It is no wonder, therefore, that the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church, under whose auspices she appeared last night, will arrange for her return to Peterborough after her forthcoming European tour.

During the evening she was assisted by Miss Grant, who played a beautiful selection of Scottish airs, by Miss Alice Roger, who gave an artistic rendering of a Raff rigadoon, and by Mrs. Mein and Miss Montgomery, who gave a vocal duet. The Ladies' Aid Society deserve credit for providing so excellent an entertainment.

A LIVELY CHASE.

A Prisoner Tries to Escape From Officer McGinty.

Policeman McGinty had a great race yesterday, and he is jubilant this morning on account of having once more made a running capture.

He had arrested a young fellow for vagrancy and walked him to the cells, but walked him to the cells, but just as they reached the door the lad made a break for liberty. As he was a cripple and used a cane the officer was taken completely by surprise and the tramp was a score of feet away before McGinty dashed his helmet to the ground and gave chase.

The fugitive made the best of his start, but was captured just as he reached the C.P.R. station, after running down Water street and crossing over to George. A couple of other tramps were captured at the same time.

This morning the young fellow was allowed to go, but his companions are remanded until Monday.

PERSONAL.

Miss Kate Robinson, of Buffalo, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Hunter street.

Miss Amy Pope, of Hamilton, is the guest of Mrs. Edward Cookson, 508 Aylmer street.

The popular Comedian, Mr. Dan Simons, arrived home last night to spend a few weeks holidays.

Mrs. (Dr.) McNaughton and little Master Tom, of Westwood, spent a few days in town with the doctor's sister, Mrs. G. Learmouth.

Mr. Frank Turner, who is employed with the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co., leaves to-morrow for a trip to the Old Country, where he will visit his parents.

Mr. Thos. Dunn was in Port Hope for Sunday, and sang in St. John's church. The Port Hope Times speaks as follows concerning him: "During the offertory our ears were charmed by the solo sung by Mr. Dunn, namely, 'Fear not, ye, O Israel,' by Dudley Buck. The song opens with a recitative declamando, which was attacked and rendered in a grand manner. It was followed by an adante movement which worked up to an allegro vivace, closing with another andante. The above song is one of the most beautiful sacred songs ever composed, and is hard in the extreme. Mr. Dunn is endowed with a voice, which is veritably a gift of God, and a most precious gift, too. It is impossible for us to tell what this song made us all feel, especially when rendered by such a voice, such richness and grandeur. It is conceded by all that Mr. Dunn would be an immense success in oratorio, for in such work he would shine to the very best advantage."

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE DISASTER.

The Buildings Burned and the Losses Sustained—A Record of the Insurance on the Burned Buildings and Stocks—Complete Destruction of the Village Narrowly Averted.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Norwood, April 21—The fire yesterday was dicovered by Mr. Fred Code, of the Union Bank, who got off the early morning train from Ottawa. It originated in an ash house in the rear of the Roxburgh block, on the north side of Colborne street, and fanned by a high wind, speedily spread to buildings adjacent. In a short time the whole of the fine brick buildings were a mass of flame, which the inadequate fire appliances of the village were powerless to restrain. The destruction of the entire village, or at least the business portion, was imminent, and an appeal for help was flashed over the railway wires of the C.P.R. to Peterborough, and although the steam fire engine was got ready, and the brigade assembled, some delay occurred before a train could be secured to transport the equipment to the scene of the conflagration. When the steamer arrived at 6 30 all the fire had been got under control, but not before all the buildings from Peterborough street on the north side of Colborne street east to the town hall, as well as several buildings on the east side of Peterborough street north from Colborne street, had been destroyed.

The insurance is placed as follows:—Phoenix of Hartford, J. B. Pearce $2000; W. H. Tucker $450; Miss Stephenson $400; Mrs. Wasson, household effects and groceries $1150; Liverpool, London and Globe, R. W. Waters & Son $1500 on stock; J. B. Pearce, $2000, stock and and building. Commercial Union, Geo. Duffield, jeweller, $600 on stock. Royal, R. Stewart, druggist $1200 on stock; J. B. Pearce $2000 on stock and building; W. H. Tucker, on building occupied by R. H. Scott $200. Lancashire, R. W. Waters & Son, $1000 on stock. Norwich Union, Wm. Eaton, tailor, $200 on stock, Richardson & Co, general store, $1 500 on stock, Guardian; W. H. Tucker & Bro., $1200 on stock; R. W. Waters & Son, $1600 on stock; R. H. Scott, bookseller, $900 on stock; Public Library, $400, Gore; R. W. Waters & Son, $2000 on stock; Duffield & Co., $500 on stock, Western; Oddfellows, $375; Charles O'Reilly, agricultural implements, no insurance; Hendren, blacksmith, no insurance; R. J. Stewart's stock of stoves and tinware, no insurance; Booth, photographer, no insurance. The plate glass windows in the P. W. Reynolds block across the street were totally destroyed, no insurance.

The front of the Clancy House is charred and blackened. It was on fire many times, and how it escaped is a miracle. The places which were burned were razed to the ground, not a wall remained upright. They were as follows: The Roxborough Block, occupied in part by Watters & Son as a general store; R. Stewart, druggist and G. N. W. telegraph office; R. J. Stewart, stoves and tinware; Oddfellows' and Foresters' Halls in the upper flat; Geo. J. Sherry's law office, Miss Stevenson, milliner; W. A. Eaton, merchant tailor; Richardson & Co., general merchants; G. Duffield, jeweller; D. H. Booth, photographer; W. E. Roxborough, broker's office; public library; Fred Wasson, grocer and butcher; J. B. Pearce, general store and post office; Hendren, blacksmith shop; C. O'Reilly, farm implements; Jas. McNicoll, blacksmith shop; E. H. Scott, bookstore; — Tucker, baker and grocer; and W. Rogers, butcher, on Peterborough street. The upper flats of the buildings were occupied either as offices or dwellings, and although the salvage was considerable, what was saved was more or less damaged.

The fronts of the buildings on the south side of Colborne street were considerably damaged by the intense heat, and nearly all the plate glass window were broken from the same cause.

The village had a narrow escape from complete annihilation; for, had the flames obtained a footing on the south side, the business portion of the village would have been wiped out. As it is the village will take years to recover from the loss of Tuesday morning's conflagration.

The Roxburgh building was valued at $15,000, and was insured as follows: Alliance, $450; Phoenix, of Brooklin, $5,100; Guardian, $800. Total, $6,350.

INTERESTING TO TOWN AND COUNTRY BUYERS.

Friday and Saturday Bargain Days at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Peterborough Bookstore has grown to be the centre for bargains in wall papers, window blinds, cornice poles, room mouldings, and all allied furnishings for wall and window decorations. The public have also come to learn that this store is pledged to give the best service in baby carriages, boys' bicycles, girls' tricycles, children's waggons and all children's wheeled rigs. The sporting fraternity, too, at this season of the year, likewise depend on us to gather the best supplies for the season's sports and games. Such a confidence is worth valuing highly, and we intend that the public will have good reason to keep on believing that this store sells at all seasons the best and cheapest kinds of merchandise in every line it carries.

Friday and Saturday we will set apart for special bargains in all the seasonable goods above enumerated. Shoppers can come here and have the pick of our big stocks in these prominent lines at special prices each day; and it will be worth while to come and compare if for no other object than to know what the goods look like and what they cost.

For the benefit of the babies, we give a special discount of 10 per cent. off on already low prices. $5 00 will buy a good serviceable carriage of the Gendron make; $8.25 a neatly upholstered carriage; and $10, a handsome carriage with reed body and American plush and silk upholsterings. Parasols, wheels, springs and all other parts the newest and best we could buy.

In Wall Papers we wouldn't be doing such a business if our prices were wrong, but we will do even better on Friday and Saturday. Come and make your selections at 5, 6, 8, 10, 15 and 20c. Such prices as these will surely be sufficient inducement right at the commencement of the wall paper season.

In window blinds we carry every line you need—with or without dado, and with or without fringe or lace. Expect such prices as these for any colour of blind you want, mounted on rollers—19c., 24c., 25c., 35c., 45c.

EASTER VESTRY MEETINGS.

The Annual Business Meetings of St. John's, St. Luke's, and the Mission—Financial Statements Presented—Officials Elected.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

There was a good attendance at the Easter meeting of the Vestry of St. John's in the school house Monday evening. In the absence of the Rector, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, Curate-in-charge, presided. After prayers and the reading of minutes of previous meetings.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, Rector's Church Warden, presented the financial statement, which made a very favourable showing. While there was a falling off in some sources of revenue, there had been more than compensations in other directions. The result is that with certain improvements made to the church, over $100 paid for three years insurance, and all obligations met there is a comfortable surplus, a very gratifying condition of affairs, considering the financial stringency that has affected all other interests of the community.

After favourable discussion of the report it was adopted with some slight amendment involving a question of procedure, but not affecting the financial integrity of the statement.

On motion of Mr. P. Campbell, Mr. A. N. Clark was appointed vestry clerk.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

When the order of the election of church wardens came up Mr. Dennistoun, who has with great efficiency and acceptability performed the duties of Rector's churchwarden for two years, stated that it was his wish to be retired in order that he might give more attention to the Sunday school department of church work. He had received a letter from the Rector asking the Vestry to select a churchwarden for him.

On motion of Dr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. R. Fair, Mr. J. E. Belcher, C. E., was elected Rector's churchwarden.

On motion of Mr. R. Pearse, seconded by Dr. Burnham, Mr. Harry Long was appointed people's churchwarden for the third consecutive term—a compliment of which he is well-deserving, as shown by the enthusiasm with which his appointment was made.

The sidesmen re-elected were: Messrs. Macfarlane Wilson, R. H. Kells, W. Hinscholiffe, Fred Foote, Joseph Mills and J. Mulholland.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the churchwardens to purchase any freehold pews that may be available for purchase.

Mr. R. Pearse moved a cordial vote of commendation and appreciation of the services of the curates, Rev. E. V. Stevenson and W. L. Armitage, who have so ably and faithfully looked after the interest of the parish during the five months' absence of the rector.

Mr. Peacocke, in seconding the motion, heartily endorsed its sentiments and felt certain that it voiced the feeling of the entire congregation of St. John's.

The motion was very cordially adopted.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson, in a few brief words of reply, expressed the pleasure he had taken in the work and frankly expressed the appreciation they felt of the sympathy and encouragement of the people. The friendly and flattering sentiments of the resolution were most thoroughly appreciated. Even without the formal expression of the resolution he would have felt from what he had experienced that the people felt the kindest sympathy with the curate in the work which, with the assistances and co-operation of the people, he hoped had been accomplished. The hearty applause that greeted the conclusion of Mr. Stevenson's remarks showed how highly he and Mr. Armitage are "esteemed in love for their work's sake."

A motion of thanks to the retiring church warden, Mr. Dennistoun, drew a few remarks of acknowledgment from that gentleman, in the course of which he spoke most appreciatively of the important services rendered by Mr. Long, whose services the Vestry very wisely retained. He (Mr. Dennistoun) had looked after the clerical work, but Mr. Long had gone in and out among the people and had really done the lion's share of the work. A tribute was also paid to the kindness of Mr. Harry Rush, who had looked after the envelope contributions in a most careful, painstaking and self-sacrificing way.

A cordial vote of thanks was also tendered the organist and choir for their effective service.

The meeting adjourned for two weeks. Immediately after adjournment the election of Lay Delegates to Synod took place, resulting in the selection by ballot of Messrs. Peter Campbell, F. R. Yokome and Dr. Burnham.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

St. Luke's Ashburnham.

The annual Easter vestry meeting of St. Luke's church was held Monday night in the school house, the Rector, Rev. H. Symonds, presiding.

The Churchwardens' report set forth that "the collections for the year amounted to $1,364 69, an average per Sunday of $25 27, compared with $23 20 for the previous year. The balance due the Churchwardens is $104.56.

During the year the electric light has been installed in the schoolhouse at a cost of $34 50, and the insurance premiums for three years, amounting to $107.30, have been paid. These are the only extraordinary expenditures that have been made during the year which will account, to a certain extent, for the adverse balance. Contributions were asked for the purpose of placing a tablet, and renovating the interior of the church as a memorial to the first rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, and as a result $127 was obtained. A tablet has been placed in the church at a cost of $75, and the balance of $52 is on hand for the purpose of renovation.

The Churchwardens cannot let this occasion pass without referring to the untimely death of the first Rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw. They have held office since the foundation of the parish, and they can say that the success the church attained and the progress made were, under God, due to the energy and great ability of Mr. Bradshaw during the fourteen years he was Rector. The Churchwardens well know the early difficulties which beset the Parish, and are satisfied that the energy and determination of the deceased Rector carried us successfully through the difficulties and established the parish as it now is, with Church, Schoolroom and Parsonage."

During the year $141.95 has been contributed to the Rectory Enlargement fund, and $37 to the mortgage debt, making a total of $135 in hand. The mortgagees will not accept a smaller installment than $200.

The total amount of income from all sources, exclusive of the Poor Fund, and the missionary collections of the W. A., is $2,466.57.

Messrs. H. Adams and E. A. Peck audited the accounts and reported them correct.

Mr. H. T. Strickland was re-elected people's warden, and the Rector nominated Mr. John Burnham. Messrs. F. Adams and E. A. Peck were elected assistant wardens. The following were elected sidesmen: Messrs. H. Adams, W. Manlece, R. Turner, S. Adams, Geoff Prattley, C. Macfadden, A. Sedgwick, H. Everett and David Curtis.

The following Finance Committee was elected: Mesdames J. Heap, Nimmo, Edgn, H. Adams, Sedgwick, the Misses Mills and Denne, and Messrs. Jameson, F. Adams, R. B. Rogers, H. Nesbitt, E. A. Peck, D. Spence, H. J. Grassett, J. J. Howden and A. Dawson.

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the organist, the choir, the sidesmen, the Sexton, the Ladies' Aid, the W. A., and the several Chapters of the Guild, the churchwardens and the officers and teachers of the Sunday school.

On motion of Mr. John Burnham, seconded by Mr. Strickland, a special vote of thanks was tendered to the EXAMINER and the Review, for their courtesy in publishing full reports of the Parochial proceedings, which were read with great interest by members of the congregation.

The following resolution speaks for itself:

Moved by Mr. E. A. Peck, seconded by Mr. H. T. Strickland, and unanimously carried, "That whereas Messrs. John Burnham and H. T. Strickland have completed twenty-one years as churchwardens of St. Luke's church, the members of the congregation at their annual vestry meeting do hereby tender them their hearty congratulations. The handsome and complete church buildings, including church, school house and rectory, almost entirely free of debt bear the strongest testimony to the zeal and ability with which they have conducted the business of the congregation, and as a very slight memento of so many years of unremunerated work we request them to accept the accompanying Prayer-books."

The rector then presented a handsomely bound Prayer-book to each of the wardens, who reserved their addresses until Tuesday evening's congregational meeting. The Rector's Report was also deferred until that occasion. Upon the adjournment of the vestry meeting a second meeting was held, when Messrs. John Burnham, F. J. Jamieson and H. C. Rogers were elected lay-representatives to the Synod.

St. John's South Ward Mission.

The annual vestry meeting was held on Monday evening, Rev. M. L. Armitage, the Curate, presided, this being the first Easter meeting since his coming to the parish.

The financial statement was presented, and on motion adopted. It was of a satisfactory nature, and had the good quality of a fair balance on the credit side of the ledger.

Mr. Bamford was re-appointed the people's Warden, and Rev. Mr. Armitage named Mr. McFadden as the Rector's Warden.

Mr. Bamford was also appointed as the delegate to represent the congregation on the Town Charity Board.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Rubidge for her valuable services as treasurer, also to Mr. G. A. Smith for his services in auditing the accounts for several years; to F. E. Bell, for his services in connection with the choir; also to Mr. Lachaur, the sexton.

A SPECIAL VOTE OF THANKS.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

That having heard with much pleasure Rev. Mr. Clementi's address to the congregation on Sunday evening, offering a further subscription to the building fund, this meeting pledges itself to continue their efforts in pushing forward the work of the chancel extension, and wish to put on record their high appreciation of Rev. Mr. Clementi's kind and liberal offer.

The address referred to was made by Rev. Mr. Clementi at the close of the evening service on Sunday, in which on condition of the work of chancel extension being pushed vigorously, he offered to supplement his already large contribution to the building fund with a similar contribution.

Dr Chase Cures Backache.

Kidney trouble generally begins with a single pain in the back, and in time developes into Bright's Disease. People troubled with stricture, impediments, stoppage of water, or a frequent desire to urinate at night, will find Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills a blessing. Read the wonderful cures in another column. One pill a dose, and if taken every other night will positively cure kidney troubles.

Steel and Brass Beds

Are among the newest and nicest things in furniture. You can see in Clegg's show window two beds of very neat design, finished in white; other tinted colours can be had to order. Having secured the agency for this class of beds from the only firm manufacturing them in Canada, you can encourage home industry, and at the same time save yourself money by buying at Clegg's. They quote the lowest prices for steel and brass, and all-brass bedsteads. Clegg's Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George street.

LICENSES GRANTED FOR WEST RIDING.

TWO REDUCTIONS OF LICENSES MADE UNDER THE AMENDED ACT.

List of Licenses Recommended to Issue in Peterborough, Ashburnham and Other Parts of the District—Summary of Provisions of the Amended Act.

The License Commissioners, Messrs. Wm. Graham, Robt. Walton, M. Halpin, and Geo. Cochrane, inspector, of West Peterborough met this morning at 10 o'clock, in the office of the Inspector on Water street and granted the following licenses:

Oriental Hotel—Geo. Graham,
Grand Central—Geo. Gobell.
Snowden House—Wm. Snowden.
Huffman House—Allan Huffman.
Phelan House—E. Phelan.
Morgan House—A. P. Morgan.
Croft House—Wm. Croft.
Peterborough House—John Clancy.
American Hotel—Philip Crough.
Carew House—Jeremiah Carew,
City Hotel—James Dolan.
Palace Hotel—C. LeBrun.
Montreal House—J. B. Laroque.
White House—Robert White.
Queen's Hotel—P. J. Clunao.
C. P. R. Hotel—W. J. Overend.
Commercial House—Mrs. J. O'Shea.
Little Windsor—M. Jamieson.
Southern Hotel—Stephen Holland.
Bowman House—Margaret Bowman.
Royal Oak—Arthur Rountree.

The following saloon license was granted:

Bodega—Joseph Armstrong.

The following were granted permits or extended licenses for three months to permit of clearing out stock and closing their premises at the end of that time:

The Hub—Martin Connors.
The Pullman Hotel—P. Carrol.

RURAL LICENSES.

LAKEFIELD:

The Queen's Hotel—R. J. Munro.
The American Hotel—Wm. Leany.
The Tremont Hotel—John Craig.

ASHBURNHAM:

Maple Leaf—Geo. Lipsett.
The Albion—Patrick Hogan.
Beer and Wine License—Mrs. Swanson.
Brewer's License—H. Calcutt.

SMITH:

Buckhorn House—Thos. Eastwood.
Chemong Park Hotel—L. G. Febert.
Young's Point—Wm. McFarlane and James Kearney, hotels.

SHOP LICENSES.

Ashburnham—Wm. Collins and J. C. Sullivan.
Peterborough—E. Brown & Co., Alex. Elliott, Miles Henry and F. J. Mitchell.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Moved by Mr. Graham and carried that the petition of Edward Fulton for a beer and wine license, signed by Wm. Croft, S. Campbell, Geo. Schneider and John Elliott, be not entertained.

Moved by Mr. Halpin and carried that the application of P. J. Galvin for a six months' tavern license for Jacob's Island be not entertained as he has no building.

Moved by Mr. Graham and carried, that all license fees must be deposited in the Ontario Bank on or before 1st day of May.

From the above list it will be seen that the commissioners have reduced the number of licenses in Peterborough by two, cutting off two where the number can be reduced, and at the same time protecting those who have good accomodation.

Next year the further reduction of two licenses required by the amended license law will be made, thus within two years reducing the licenses by four, leaving three to be cut off the following year in compliance with the law.

This mode of systematic and gradual reduction of the number of licenses seems to meet with the approval of the general public. Farmers are however, complaining that when the full reduction of licenses is made there will be a greater scarcity than at present of shed accommodation, and they claim arrangements will have to be made to see that the shed accommodation of existing licensees is increased to compensate for those cut off, or provision otherwise made.

SUMMARY OF THE AMENDED LAW.

The provisions of the bill of special interest to the public, are as follows:

1. The number of licenses can in no way be increased.
2. No saloon license can be granted after two years from this date.
3. The limit of the number of licenses to be issued under a special census by the municipality, shall be according to limitations fixed by the amended bill.
4. Druggists are prohibited from selling liquor except for medicinal purposes, and then only on the bona fide prescription of a duly qualified physician.
5. No physician, being a druggist, is allowed to issue a prescription and fill it himself when there is another medical practitioner in a village.
6. The amended act limits the hours of sale in townships to 10 o'clock at night, and not before 6 a.m.
7. Any licensed person who allows to be supplied in his premises, by purchase or otherwise, any description of liquor whatever, to any person of either sex, apparently or to the knowledge of the licensed person or of the person supplying such liquor, under the age of twenty-one years, shall, as well as the person who actually gives or supplies the liquor, be liable to a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $20, besides costs, for every such offence. This subsection shall not apply when such liquor is supplied to a person under twenty-one years of age upon the written order of his parent, guardian or master.
8. No liquor shall be sold by any society, association or club or by any other club, corporation or association which sells or supplies liquors solely to the members thereof, nor by any member officer or servant of any such society, club, corporation or association, nor by any person resorting thereto, to any person of either sex, apparently or to the knowledge of the person supplying such liquor, under the age of twenty-one years, and any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $50, besides costs, for every such offence.
9. The provisions shall apply to every such society, club, corporation or association, whether the same is authorized or entitled by its Act of incorporation or charter, or otherwise to sell and dispense liquors or to traffic in the same solely with its own members or otherwise.
10. Any licensed person, who, without proper cause, suffers or permits any person of either sex, apparently or to the knowledge of such licensed person under the age of twenty-one years, unaccompanied by his or her parent or guardian, and not being a resident on the premises of such licensed person or a bona fide lodger or boarder, without good and sufficient reason, to linger or loiter in or about any bar-room or other room on such premises in which liquor is dispensed, shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty of not less than $5 and not exceeding $10, besides costs, and any such person so lingering or loitering as aforesaid without good and sufficient cause, and who is not a resident on the premises or a bona fide lodger or boarder, or who is not accompanied by his or her parent or guardian, shall also be liable to a penalty of not less than $5 and not more than $10, besides costs.
11. In every case of a conviction for an offence against the Act, if upon the evidence the convicting magistrate, or in case an appeal is had, the judge by whom the case is finally disposed of, shall find that the holder of a license issued under the said Act was personally a party or privy to the offence, or connived thereat, the magistrate or court, as the case may be, shall certify such finding in writing to the Board of License Commissioners; and after three several convictions for an offence against section 34 of Liquor Act or 9 of the new Act within a period of two years, whether the offence in respect of which the said convictions were made, were the same or different in character, so long as the convictions were for informations laid and offences committed on different days, and certificates as aforesaid are given with respect to the same licensee holder, the Board of License Commissioners shall by resolution declare that the license held by him is cancelled and revoked, and thereupon such license shall become inoperative and void, and the licensee shall thereafter for the full period of three years be disqualified from obtaining or holding any further or other license under the said Act. Provided that nothing in this section contained shall affect the liability to forfeiture of a license in any other case provided for by the said Act, nor relieve the offender from any other penalty imposed by the said Act.
12. No penalty shall be incurred by the heirs, executors or assigns, of any licensed person who dies before the expiration of his license, or by the trustee of any licensed person who is insolvent, or whose affairs are in process of liquidation, during the currency of his license, in respect of the sale or exposure for sale of any intoxicating liquors covered by his license, so that such sale or exposure for sale be made in the premises specified in such license and in the quantities therein authorized pending proceedings to have the business sold or wound up.
13. No new license can be issued within 300 feet of a church or school.

The above provisions do not go into force till July 1st.

RE REV. MR. RANTON.

Letters Referring to his Sermon on Dancing.

MR. RANTON CHAMPIONED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—After reading the letters which appeared Monday evening in your paper regarding Mr. Ranton and his sermon on dancing I beg leave to say a few words on the subject through the columns of your valuable paper.

I do not wish to enter into any discussion with those who have failed to sign their names to what they call their convictions in the matter.

I have known Mr. Ranton for some years. During the summer of '93 while a student with Mr. Moody in Chicago I first met him. We all as students regarded him a Christian gentleman and as a preacher that summer he took his place among the famous band of evangelists who worked with Mr. Moody, viz., McNeil, Mills, Gordon, Wharton, Dixon and others. Since that time his work has been wonderfully blessed of God.

In conversation with a Christian gentleman yesterday from Toronto he told me that Mr. Ranton's work there had been a glorious success.

Mr. Ranton has come us as a stranger with no other desire but that of doing good and why should we lay a straw in his way? He has been very fair I think and if those who oppose him are not satisfied, why not have the matter settled? "Why halt ye between two opinions?" If Mr. Ranton be right, honour him; if those who oppose him be right, come next Sunday to the Opera House and on the public platform prove it.

My conviction is that the watchman has but done his duty and I wish him God speed.

Yours very truly,
H. D. KENNEDY.

Y. M. C. A., April 20th.

ENDORSES MR. RANTON.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In reply to the letter in last evening's issue of your paper signed "Common Sense," I would like to call attention to a few facts in justice to Mr. Ranton. "Common Sense" brings forth the objection that the offensive phrases fell alike on the ears of the innocent young girl and the hardened sinner. Allow me to call attention to the fact that Mr. Ranton particularly requested all under 15 to remain at home, and furthermore warned the parents what they would hear were they present. Now I think that when a young girl has reached the age of 15, it is not much too soon for her eyes to be opened to the evils of the modern dance. I for one know of several young ladies who have now forsworn dancing entirely, and their great regret is that they were not enlightened sooner. I feel that the thanks of the community are due to Mr. Ranton for performing what I feel was a very unpleasant duty. Thanking you for your kindness, I am,

Yours sincerely,
CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOURER.

Peterborough, April 20th.

APPRECIATES THE EVANGELIST.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The very ones that are strongest in their denunciation of Mr. Ranton's sermon on dancing are either those who have not heard it, or those who have been hit, and, of course, resent it. I do not see how anyone, looking into his frank, earnest countenance, could for a moment think his motives other than to do good.

If the hitherto innocent minds of the youths of this community are never corrupted otherwise we will have, indeed, an atmosphere of social purity.

Mr. Ranton has, doubtless, done more good in an hour than "Moderation" has done in his life. The latter was clearly ashamed to own his sentiments publicly, and I consider it a very ungentlemanly proceeding to attack the character of a man, and especially one who worked so earnestly as Mr. Ranton did.

Yours, etc.,
APPRECIATION.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....
Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 58 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.
A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,600 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 86 or $2,670 on 10,000 bushels. Now I advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.45; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. ENTERTAINMENT IN Y. M. C. A. INTERESTS.

Held Last Night in the George Street Methodist Church.

A successful entertainment was held in the lecture room of the George street Methodist church last night. Mr. Armstrong, Superintendent of the Sunday school, in a few preliminary remarks, said that the members of Mrs. Speer's Young Men's Bible class, who had given that entertainment for the purpose of raising sufficient funds for the purpose of securing furniture for the new Y. M. C. A. reading room, were to be congratulated on the excellence of the programme which they had arranged; and with one exception was carried out to the letter. The programme is as follows:

Recitation	Miss L Pascoe
Solo	Mrs Seward
Duet	Misses McGuire
Recitation	Miss Wynn
Solo	Mr Chambers
Recitation	Miss Edna Armstrong
Violin duet (encored)	Misses Fox and Mand
Recitation (encored)	Miss Ethel Bradburn
Solo	Mr Wesley
Quartette	Misses A and V Bellegham and Messrs J Miller and W Wesley
Recitation (encored)	Mrs Christie
Solo, "Vesper Hymn"	Mrs Seward, with echo by quartette
Solo	Mr Chambers
Recitation	Miss Sadie Rutherford
Duet, with autoharp accompaniment	Misses Edna and Lillian Hill

Many of the numbers on the programme, as will be noticed, were encored and most graciously responded to. It is understood that over fifty dollars, sufficient to secure the furniture, has been raised. Taken as a whole the entertainment was a grand success.

The Astronomy of Life.

When an astronomer foretells the exact minute at which two planets will cross each other, we know there is no magic about it. The whole universe is governed by laws. A man who studies these laws of nature carefully and reduces them to a science, can count on exact results every time.

A doctor knows that certain remedies affect certain diseases.

When a disease seems to have no remedy, the doctors pronounce it incurable. All the time Nature may have the remedy right at hand, but it will only be discovered by the doctor who has studied longer and deeper than others into this particular disease.

Consumption seemed for a long time without a remedy, until Dr. Pierce made his wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" 30 years ago. It has proved to be a marvelous and almost unfailing specific for consumption and all forms of lung, bronchial and throat difficulties.

Its effects seem almost magical but its operation is based upon simple natural laws. It has the peculiar property of enabling the blood-making glands to manufacture healthy, red blood and pour it abundantly into the circulation. This nourishing, vitalizing effect is rapidly manifested in the lungs and bronchial tubes where it stops the wasting process and builds up healthy tissue.

It is readily assimilated by stomachs which are too weak to digest cod liver oil, and it is far superior to malt-extracts as a permanent and scientific flesh-builder in all wasting diseases.

"Twenty-five years ago eight different doctors told me that I would live but a short time, that I had consumption and must die," writes Geo. R. Coope, Esq., of Myers Valley, Pottawatomie Co., Kans. "I finally commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and am still on the land and among the living. I have faith to believe that it has lengthened my life for the last twenty-five years, and I have so much faith in all of your medicines that I want one of your 'Common Sense Medical Advisers.'"

Dr. Pierce's medicines are recognized as standard remedies throughout the world. His "Pleasant Pellets" cure constipation.

BROOD MARES.

A Thoughtful Article Upon Their Proper Winter Care.

At this season of the year, especially where the breeder is cramped for room, and in inclement weather, when we do not wish to turn our idle brood mares out in the barnyard, some provision for exercise is quite desirable, and, in fact, in some cases, decidedly necessary. It is a well-established fact that if a mare does not receive sufficient exercise the foal is liable in his movements in the womb to become abnormally placed, and any man who has found it necessary to have a colt taken from a mare can readily understand and appreciate what that means, for it is next to impossible to save a colt after several hours' labor, and if the mare escapes with her life she is most dangerously exposed to metritis (inflammation of the womb), as well as several other conditions undesirable. Yet exercise is not all a brood mare needs in the winter, but if it is possible to furnish every mare in foal with a large, roomy box-stall, well ventilated and sufficiently lighted, it will pay good interest on the investment every time.

Some—yes, a great deal—attention is also necessary in feeding such animals. Too rich and stimulating food produces great damage, as does entire liberty at foods of coarse quality. Too much rich food produces too great plethora, which renders any animal more susceptible to febrile conditions, consequently more dangerously exposed to metritis, mammitis, peritonitis, laminitis at parturition, and a host of less important maladies; and after the foal is born the result upon it is anything but beneficial, providing it escapes that fatal form of indigestion peculiar to young colts—the direct result of too rich milk, traced back to the mare's abundant supply of rich, heating grain; or, if it escapes this, the bowels become overtaxed, and either diarrhoea or constipation results, either of which is very fatal.

Again, on the other hand, too much coarse food, such as straw, chaff, peastraw, too many roots, etc., have their bad effect, producing indigestion (acute or chronic), colic, lymphangitis, constipation—any of which are sufficient to produce abortion, especially so from a sympathetic, spasmodic contraction of the womb, or from pressure upon it from the distended bowel, from generation of gasses; and here let me say that mares in foal are peculiarly susceptible to conditions of indigestion when closely approaching parturition, which may terminate in enteritis, constipation and death; or anæmia may result, as shown in the swellings in the in the legs and most dependent portion of the abdomen.

Too much clover hay has been known to produce very bad results in mares far advanced in foal, bringing about a premature secretion of milk, which appears to have a very weakening influence on the colt, I presume from the fact that nature intended only to supply the young from one source, and when the milk is secreted long before the little animal is born the umbilical supply is modified or diverted, both supplies not being kept up, and in such a case the colt, if not born dead, is so weakly that he soon dies. Therefore it pays to avoid extremes in feeding mares from which we expect good returns, and I would suggest that as a diet a modern allowance (not abundance) of good, clean, well-cured hay, sufficient oats and bran to maintain a strong, healthy condition; occasional bran mashes, containing a regular allowance of salt, or a mess of boiled oats and bran every other or even every night, with a comfortable, roomy, well-ventilated box, and plenty of exercise, or, better still, moderate work in careful hands, avoiding extremes of pulling and backing, especially the latter, and never allowing full liberty to ice cod water in winter. When the country was new and farmers had to work their mares right through the year, very rarely any of the difficulties with which we have to contend presented themselves, and many a mare had to be unhitched from the plow to foal, usually resting only a few days.—London Farmers' Advocate.

IN HONOR OF CABOT

Geographical Society Will Send a Delegate

TO ATTEND THE CELEBRATION.

The Minister of Marine Finds Capt. Kemp of the Steamer Warwick Guilty of Culpable Negligence—Too Many Officials in the Indian Department—Ottawa Gossip.

Ottawa, April 19.—In addition to the delegation from the historic city of Bristol, there will be probably a representative sent by the Royal Geographical Society of London to the Cabot celebration of the Royal Society of Canada at Halifax on June 24. The distinguished President of the Geographical Society, Sir Clements R. Markham, writes to Dr. Bourinot: "I would certainly come to Halifax myself, if it was possible; but I am obliged to be in London in those days of June. I think the Royal Society of Canada has adopted a very wise course in avoiding debatable ground and adopting a mode of commemoration which will unite all who take an interest in the subject. I feel sure that the gathering will be worthy of the occasion, and I wish the Royal Society of Canada all success in the laudable and patriotic course it has adopted."

All the indications go to show that Sir Clement Markham's hopes will be verified. The Governor-General will unveil the tablet on the 24th of June, the day of Cabot's landing on the coast of northeastern America.

Hon. Clifford Sifton goes to Winnipeg to-morrow. He will be away for about two weeks. If there is any contest in Winnipeg he will no doubt take a hand in the fight before he comes back. There will in all likelihood be a contest in Macdonald.

Further changes will be announced shortly in connection with the Indian Department. The office at Regina is to be abolished as most of the officials there are to be retired. Of nineteen officials only three will be kept. The office in the West will in future be at Winnipeg, where Mr. Forget, the Indian Commissioner, will be located.

The Minister of Marine has gone over the report of Captain Smith, R.N., in the matter of the Warwick inquiry and opinions given by the assessors. Mr. Davies has prepared a somewhat elaborate judgment, in which he discusses all the points involved, closing with a decision completely reversing that of Commissioner Smith and finding Capt. Kemp and the second officer guilty of culpable negligence. The Minister suspends Captain Kemp's certificate for six months and the second officer's for three months.

Captain the Hon. E. G. Bourke of the Royal Navy will accompany the Government expedition to Hudson Bay. He was nominated by Admiral Markham for the post.

The Government has decided to put an amount in the estimates to pay the outstanding debts in connection with the Regina Industrial Exhibition. They amount in all to about $14,000. Messrs. Haultain and Ross, members of the Northwest Executive, are here looking after the matter.

This being Easter Monday and a public holiday, all the departments are closed, but the Ministers are hard at work. They went into council at 10 o'clock and continued in session all day.

The Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen leave for Montreal on Wednesday morning in order that Her Excellency may be present at the meeting called for 4 o'clock in the afternoon to explain the scheme for the establishment of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

To-morrow is a Government day in the Commons. The franchise bill will again be under consideration.

The Cabinet to-day passed an order-in-Council making the 22nd of June the date for the Diamond Jubilee celebration all over the Dominion.

Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways, left for Montreal to-day.

THE UNITED STATES AND TURKEY.

Dr. J. B. Angell of Ann Arbor Will Force the Claims of U. S. Missionaries.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 19.—Several facts have been developed here since Dr. J. B. Angell's appointment and his departure for the South, which make it evident that his mission to Turkey is of a special nature, similar to that which he executed in China in 1880, and particularly in the interest of American missionaries, who have been persecuted under the Turkish Government. It has become known that Mr. Angell first received an offer of appointment of regular Minister to Turkey for four years, and that he declined. He did not wish to be that long away from the university. Later he was asked to go to force a settlement of the claims of American missionaries against the Turkish Government, and accepted. When that work is done his mission will have been performed, and he will return to this country.

Dr. Angell's selection for this post is particularly gratifying to the foreign missionary organizations in the United States, which are said to have exercised all the influence they could bring to bear to secure his appointment.

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

Sackett's Harbor Tragedy.

Sackett's Harbor, N.Y., April 19.—The double tragedy is still shrouded in mystery. Private Allen lies in a precarious condition and hopes for his recovery are nearly despaired of. The funeral of Mrs. Crouch was held yesterday and the church was packed and the streets were crowded. Thousands visited the scene of the murder yesterday.

Canning's Big Bluff.

Paterson, N.J., April 19.—Elisha Canning was arrested last night for drinking rum in church. He walked down the main aisle of Cross-st. Methodist Church during the Easter services, faced the assembled congregation, and, producing a bottle from his pocket, drank its health. The sermon of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wiggs, came to a sudden stop. The deacons protested, and several stifled feminine screams were heard. Someone summoned a patrolman named O'Brien, who arrested Canning.

Four New Cardinals.

Rome, April 19.—The secret consistory today was largely attended. The Pope elevated the Archbishops of Lyons, Rennes, Rouen and Santiago de Compostela to the cardinalate and formally proclaimed the previously-named Bishops of Buffalo, Cheyenne, Wilmington and Mobile.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. OVER "RUBBER" ICE.

Such a snowstorm Lakeview had never experienced. For two days and as many nights it had raged continuously. Everything was buried in a blanket of white several feet deep, except the lake. Its glassy surface had been kept free by the sweep of the wind: but it had not been very cold, and, except along shore, the ice was not thick.

Bert Hill lived on the shore of the lake on the outskirts of Lakeview. He was a stockily built lad of about 15, and very fond of outdoor sports. When not in school he was nearly always, during daylight, rowing, fishing, swimming or skating, as the season permitted. His great ambition was to become a newspaper man. There was a village paper in Lakeview, The Courier, but it was only a weekly, and Bert's ideas ranged above this.

What he had in mind was a place on the staff of some big city daily. He felt that if he could only have a start, he was bound to succeed. The previous spring he had graduated from the village school with honors; during the summer he had done some odd jobs; but there was no place for him in Lakeview which promised promotion in his chosen line.

It was in the early part of the evening on the second day of the storm that Bert heard of a bad accident that had occurred on the railroad line, two miles out of Lakeview. The express, going west, had encountered a snowslide in a gorge and been thrown from the track. Several people had been killed and many others seriously hurt. An engine, which happened to be on a siding at Lakeview, was at once despatched to the place of the disaster with doctors on board. And now, as he heard, they were bringing the dead and the injured into the village on a couple of flat cars.

Bert dashed off to the station. Sure enough, there they were, the injured being made as comfortable as possible at houses nearby, the dead entrusted to the undertaker's care, while the remaining passengers were slowly being accommodated with shelter and food by the village folks. Bert was very much interested, and stood listening eagerly to the stories told by the passengers. A stranger was talking to the telegraph operator.

"Can't you get a word through?" he was asking.

"Not a word," the operator answered. "Why, the railroad people would do anything to send a message to the city, but the wires are down. The connection was broken half an hour before the accident occurred."

"When will it be fixed?"

"Not before morning at the earliest, and perhaps not then. It's 40 miles to the city, and the line runs through a lot of cuts in which the snow is deep. We'll be lucky if the wires are working by noon."

The stranger uttered an exclamation of anger and disgust. "And there's no chance of getting a message through in any other way?"

The operator smiled. "You see the condition of things," he said. "How many people do you think would try driving or tramping through this snow? Berton is the nearest town, and it's eight miles away."

The stranger turned away, lit a cigar and began to smoke savagely. Bert approached the operator, who smiled knowingly as the boy came up.

"There, Bert," he said, "there's one of your profession, and he's in a bad fix. He has an account of a railroad accident and he can't get it through to the city. He's a member of The Globe staff and was on the train that was wrecked."

Bert was all excitement at once, and he regarded the stranger with curiosity mixed with awe. He felt a great sympathy for the man, too, and by and by, plucking up courage, he walked over and spoke to him.

"It's hard luck you can't get your account through," he said.

"Yes," answered the other, moodily. "It's a splendid 'story.' I wouldn't miss making a 'scoop' on it for $20. But it must be in the office by 1.30 to-night, or the chance is gone."

Bert did not reply, but sat down on the short bench beside the man and cudgeled his brains for a way out of the difficulty. If he could only devise some plan to help The Globe reporter! All at once he jumped to his feet. "I'll take that message for you and telegraph it to the city," he said.

The man looked at him keenly. "You will?" he said. "How?"

"I'll take it down and cross the lake on my skates—or at least I'll try. I can telegraph it from Pine Bluffs if the wires to the city aren't down there, too."

The man slapped him on the back. "You're a trump, youngster," he exclaimed. "I'll have the story ready in 15 minutes. How soon can you start?"

"As soon as I can get home and back. That will be about half an hour. It'll take an hour to get to the Bluffs, for I'll probably have to skate around a lot of thin ice. It's 8 o'clock now. I'll be in the Bluffs by 9.30."

"You won't lose by it, if you put the story through for me," said The Globe man, emphatically. "I'll wait for you here."

But Bert thought little of what return he might get for the task. The idea that he was enlisted in the service of The Globe—the biggest of the city papers—was reward enough for him. The thought of the possible danger ahead never entered his mind, either. Full of his project he made his arangements and came back without stopping to explain to anybody, but when he had received the bundle of written sheets from The Globe man and was leaving, a sudden thought that he could not possibly return till late made him call to the telegraph operator to send word to his father where he had gone.

Final instructions were given him by the newspaper man, also a card to show the operator at the Bluffs in default of money to pay for the telegram. Ten minutes later he had clamped on his skates and was off.

The breeze blew directly across the lake from the northeast. It struck him on his right side, and while it did not actually impede him, made breathing no easy task. But the ice was firm and green and as smooth as could be, and he swung along at a smart pace, for there was not a better skater in Lakeview. Five miles were covered in short order. Then he slackened his speed and began to consider what course he should adopt.

If he went all the way down the lake to a point opposite Pine Bluffs and cut straight across to the town it would be safest, for he would have thick, smooth ice for the whole distance; but it would also take him longer than to strike diagonally across the lake from where he then was. The latter plan would take him over a couple of miles of ice of which he would not be sure, but he would thereby save nearly half an hour of valuable time provided the ice held.

A couple of minutes of debate decided him. The Globe needed the "story," as the man had called it, as soon as possible. He had undertaken to see that it got through quickly. He felt that if a regular member of the staff of that paper had the matter in hand he would not weigh his convenience, or even some danger, against doing the service speedily.

He swung around, and started out on a straight course for the town. The wind was on his back, and if he had skated fast before, he now was ringing along at a pace which made his earlier efforts seem slow. In five minutes he was entirely without the shelter of the high ground.

The ice was still firm but almost transparent under the light which the moon occasionally gave, as it struggled from between clouds. It had stopped snowing, but little whirlwinds of light, powdery flakes now and then scurried across his path.

For some reason, which he could not at first explain, Bert began to grow uneasy. He strove in vain to drive the fear from his mind. The ice looked no thinner; there was no break in it; apparently it was firm and capable of bearing his weight. But somehow the "feel" of it told him that he was in danger. As he swept forward he seemed to be rising and falling with each stroke. He had been on such ice before. It bent under him in waves, and he knew that if there had been more light, by looking over his shoulder he would have seen it undulating in long swells, just like the water of the lake on a calm day.

The ice was too thin to bear his weight if he stood still for an instant. The skimming speed of his flight alone kept him from crashing through it. Would it grow thinner? If it did there was little chance of his ever getting safely to land. He was nearly in the middle of the lake, and there, presumably, the ice was weakest. He knew it was a race for life.

Suddenly, back of him the panting boy heard an ominous crack. It did not need a glance behind to tell him what had happened. The ice had broken there, as it rose, released from his weight. A chill struck through him; but the fear merely made him increase his efforts. He knew that he was going at a tremendous rate, yet it seemed as if the dangerous space would never be passed.

But now, through the darkness, the lights of Pine Bluffs began to twinkle, only a few miles away. Bert no longer felt that terrifying rise and fall of the ice beneath him, and skated with new confidence. Tired though he was, his speed did not slacken. He had reached safety at last.

He struck the shore near the steamboat wharf, and it was only a minute's work to pull off his skates. Then, swinging them over his shoulder by a strap, he waded through the snow to the path, which had been partially shoveled clear. Five minutes later he was at the telegraph office.

"Are the wires working?" he asked, breathlessly.

"All open," returned the official.

"Thank goodness!" ejaculated Bert. For a moment he had thought of the awful possibility of being stopped here after all his work and danger. He unbuttoned his coat and pulled out the precious manuscript. "Send that through to The Globe as fast as you can, please," he said, handing it to the operator. "And here's my card."

The operator glanced at the bit of pasteboard and then looked curiously at the boy. "Are you one of The Globe men?" he asked.

"I am to-night," Bert answered promptly. "I brought that message across the lake."

The man uttered an ejaculation. "Well, you newspaper fellows beat all."

Soon the message was speeding over the wires, and to Bert the clicking of the instrument was the sweetest sort of music. He leaned on the sill of the office counter and eagerly listened until the last word had been transmitted. Then he suddenly realized that he had to return that night, and that he should be starting, for he would have to go back by the longer way.

As he reached the door of the room the telegraph instrument again began to click, and the operator sang out to him: "Here! hold on there, Globe; they're sending a message to you from the city office." And Bert halted in surprise.

After a minute the operator said: "They say send 500 words on your trip across the lake."

"How'd they know anything about that?" asked Bert, in wonderment.

"It was in your account here at the end," explained the operator. "Don't you remember?" Bert did not remember, but he understood. The Globe man had added a line explanatory of how his "story" was to be put on the wires. For a moment the young aspirant for newspaper honors did not know just what to do. Here was his chance, but it was so unexpected that the surprise of it bewildered him. But he managed to answer: "All right. Tell them they shall have it at once."

The experience he had so recently been through was still vividly clear to his mind's eye, and he gave it in a straightforward, simple story. The 500 words were quickly written and dispatched, signed with his name. Then Bert, with a good night to the operator, trudged with a light heart down to the frozen lake.

It was a long, hard pull back, for he had to make a big detour to avoid the thin ice, and it was 12 o'clock when he reached home. His father was waiting for him; so was The Globe man, and many were the words of praise he got for his pluck.

But happy as these made Bert feel, it was a letter which came a week later that made his joy the greatest. It was from the managing editor of The Globe, and it offered him a chance to work for the paper with the promise, if he did well, that he would be regularly enrolled on the staff.

Of course, Bert wrote a prompt acceptance, with his father's approval, and how much he made of this opportunity is shown by the fact that he now has a responsible place on The Globe force, and is one of that paper's most trusted workers.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

CONGREGATIONAL REUNION AT ST. LUKE'S.

Celebration of the Twenty-First Year of the United Churchwardenship of Messrs. Burnham and Strickland.

St. Luke's school room last night was the scene of one of the pleasantest of many pleasant congregational gathering, which fittingly rounded off the festival of Easter. The bright services of Easter day are followed by the business of Easter Monday, and it is the intention to have on Easter Tuesday an annual gathering of the parishioners, to enjoy friendly intercourse and to hear of the work of the parish during the past year.

The schoolhouse was prettily decorated at one end with pot flowers, and at the other end the W.A. had a well arranged table for refreshments. The evening was opened with a well-rendered duet by Mrs. Peck and Miss Hetty Burnham, after which the Rector read his annual report, in which he referred to the statistics for the year, the excellent work of the numerous parochial organizations, of which the latest is the new country branch of the W.A., which adding its quota of members to the village branch, brings the total membership of the parish up to 48. The changes by removal from or arrival to the parish were enumerated, reference was made to the Lent lectures on Unity, and the Rector earnestly solicited the co-operation of his parishioners in all good works. He had been greatly encouraged by the large number of communicants and the offertory of $221 on Easter day, represented real self-denial on the part of the congregation. He trusted that all their work would be to the glory of God.

Miss Burnham and Miss Phillips then sang the duet, "Oh, hush thee my baby," in good voice and style.

A feature of the annual re-union is to be the discussion of

to the congregation. Last night the first subject was "How can we increase the sociableness of members of the congregation." Excellent papers were read on this subject by Mrs. Warde and Mr. E. A. Peck, which will be published in full in the Parish Magazine. Mrs. Warde pointed out that we are by nature social individuals and quoted Lord Bacon's saying, "Religion is the chief bond of human society." The necessity of all members of the congregation taking an interest in strangers was emphasized. The work should not be left to the few. What should we think of a home to which we were welcomed by only one member of the household, while we were treated by the others, if not with actual coldness and neglect, at least with indifference? The practical suggestion was made that those who can do so should resolve to make two church visits during each month.

Mr. Peck said all agreed upon the importance of the problem suggested. Sociableness is a very comprehensive word. In its full sense it is the old-fashioned word "love," writ large. It includes kind words and thoughts for each other, kind acts, mutual sympathy and assistance, all most important in the work of the congregation. In friendly societies, the doctrine of fraternity is is always impressed, how much more should it exist amongst those united for infinitely more important aims than merely material ones. Some of the difficulties in the way of the growth of sociableness were touched upon, and the good results won by the congregational societies were mentioned. Both of these papers elicited loud applause.

At this juncture refreshments were served by the W. A. and the Y.W.C., after which Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., enlivened and amused the gathering with two humorous songs in character, which brought down the house. Then followed two able papers on the work of the W.A. by Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Phillips, in which the objects, methods and results of the formation of the W. A. were plainly set forth, both in relation to the parish and the mission field.

The rector then referred to the long term of Messrs. Burnham and Strickland, and called upon them to reply to the congratulatory resolution passed at the vestry meeting on the previous evening.

OF UNITED CHURCHWARDENSHIP

Mr. Strickland referred to the harmonious relations that had always existed between his co-warden and himself. He was deeply affected by the expressions of congratulation which had been passed at the vestry meeting. (Applause.)

Mr. Burnham reviewed at some length the history of the foundation of the parish and the work of its first rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw. He said that his father, Rev. Mark Burnham, had a great desire towards the close of his life to do something for the extension of the work of the church in this locality. His first idea was to found a church at Keene, but ultimately it was decided, after the necessary steps had been taken, to build in Ashburnham.

The original school house was built in 1876, and when the Bishop sent Mr. Bradshaw to them, the congregation soon grew too large for it. In 1877 the present church was erected, and afterwards enlarged. Then the present complete and commodious school house was raised, the rectory built, and it too had been recently enlarged. Altogether some $17,000 had been expended, and he paid a high tribute to the liberality of the parishioners. The church was free to all and the seats unappropriated. In fact the land had been conveyed to the church on these conditions. Mr. Burnham said the church needed renovation and he thought this would be a suitable way of marking the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. He thanked them all very heartily for the resolution. (Loud applause.)

The whole congregation then lined round the room in a double circle, and very heartily sang "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot," after which three cheers were given for the Rector and the Churchwardens.

The National Anthem terminated a very enjoyable and social evening.

A special Easter brewing is now ready. Kept by all the leading grocers. 6d66

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Geo. Metcalfe went to Norwood Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. T. McMillan, Norwood, were visiting friends in the village.

Mr. T. Blezard, M. P. P., is home from the Legislature.

Messrs. T. Buck and Geo. McMillen, of Norwood, were in town on Good Friday.

We are glad to see Mrs. J. McMillen looking so well after her prolonged visit to Havelock and vicinity.

Miss Edith Stewart was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Sargent Good Friday.

Mr. Charles Blake left for his home in the Northwest on Thursday last.

Our school is closed for the Easter vacation and our teacher is at his home in Norwood.

Now that sugar-making is a thing of the past, we could not let the season pass without thanking our genial friends, Messrs. T. H. Nelson and G. Humphrey, for their kindness and hospitality in providing such an unlimited amount of the "sweet and sticky." Indeed the pleasure of visiting such an establishment as either this or Mr. Graham's will repay the trouble of walking there. But, of course, the party had gone there with hungry mouths and you may be sure many physical capacities were tested. The only sad truth we learned was that "there was a friend that stuck closer than a brother."

We hear it rumoured that a concert is to be held soon. One poor brother is afraid to go for fear he will be, as he calls it, "jigmatized."

On Saturday evening a meeting was held for the purpose of re-organizing the Football Association. The officers elected are:—

T Blezard, M.P.P.	Hon President
P McNaughton, M.D.	President
R Lancaster	1st Vice-President
T Evans	2nd Vice-President
D M Hunter	Captain
H T Breckenridge	Vice Captain
J A Graham	Sec'y-Treasurer
E McMillen	Curator
D M Hunter, J A Graham, H Breckenridge and J Brecken idge	Executive

The success of this team in the two preceding years has only heightened the anxiety of the boys to be at it again, and Westwood is not going to be one whit behind what it has been in the past. Challenges will be accepted with pleasure from any non-professional team in the Midland district.

Fathers or Mothers.

Treat your boys to a new Easter suit. Teach them taste and economy by fitting them out for the season at the City Clothing Store. You can have your pick from a heaping stock of dressy new suits at special Easter prices. Bright new outfits for boys and youths is what we take pride in selling. Juvenile suits that last longer, fit neater, and look better than the general run. Our special Easter prices for two-piece suits are $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, and are well worth your quick investigation. For three-piece suits for youths, the prices are $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 and up to $7.00. We like mothers to visit our store and do their buying personally. Fair, square prices for reliable children's and youths' clothing can be counted on every time you buy here. We ask the men to see our large assortment of popular selections in spring tweed and cloths for ordered suits and spring overcoats. We turn out the finest and lowest-priced spring clothing for men that ever left the tailors' lap. You also find every good kind of ready-to-wear clothing in spring suits and overcoats. Stacks of them to select from that will please and fit you, made by men that knew how. Men's serge suits as low as $3, $4, $5 and up to $8. Tweed suits as low as $3.50, $4, $5 and up to $10. Fine black worsted suits at $8, $10 and $12. See our attractive window display of handsome Easter neckwear and furnishings—the latest out—right in style and the "top-notch" novelties of the day. Here's a snap—500 pairs of all-wool tweed pants, well made, strong working pants, for only $1.25 a pair—the best value we ever offered.—H. LeBrun & Co., City Clothing Store, George street. dw

You Never Miss the Water Till the Well Runs Dry."

My baby had Eczema in its worst form. The top of her head was as raw as a piece of beef, the hair eaten down to the scalp by applying tar poultices, and I thought if she ever got well she would be bald. The best physician in the city attended her, but she continued to get worse all the time, and he finally admitted "it was the most obstinate case he had ever seen," and that he was "at his wits' end." Some one suggested Cuticura Remedies, which I purchased and tried. In a few days I noticed a great change. She continued to improve, and to-day is entirely cured, has a nice head of hair, is lively and hearty, and the disease shows no signs of returning. I send you her photograph to show her as she is to-day.

THE YUKON COMPANY

Seeking Incorporation From the Government.

MEMBERS OF BRITISH NOBILITY

Are Among the Petitioners, as Well as Half a Hundred Members of the British House of Commons—Departmental and General Notes From Ottawa.

Ottawa, April 21.—(Special.)—An important petition was presented to Parliament to-day for incorporation of what is to be known as the British Yukon Chartered Company. It is important on account of the influential character of the signatures. Chief among them is his Serene Highness the Duke of Teck, son-in-law to Her Majesty. The petitioners also include 51 members of the British House of Commons, among whom are: A. Dincher, R. B. Martin, H. S. Samuel, Major Dalbiac, Hon. H. V. Duncombe, H. H. Marks, E. Flower, Major Jones, W. J. Howell, Thomas Richardson, H. C Richards and others, and many leading bankers and merchants in London. The company is asking the Canadian Government for a guarantee of 3 per cent. interest on a bond issue of a million and a quarter dollars, to enable them to build a railway from the head of the Lynn Canal over the White Mountain Pass to the head waters of navigation on the Yukon River, thereby tapping 9000 miles of navigable water and enabling the company's proposed fleet of steamers to serve the great gold-bearing districts. The company offer to administer the territory subject to conditions to be prescribed by the Government.

As apparently there is no immediate prospect for a seat in the Commons being procured for Hon. Peter White, it is suggested that the honorable gentleman should be induced to enter the Provincial contest with Hr. Whitney, and strong efforts will be made to carry out this proposition.

There is an awful lot of kicking over one of the conditions governing the selection of men to form Jubilee regiments, viz.: That which says the individual chosen must be in possession of a certificate from a royal school of military instruction. It is claimed that if this provision be enforced it will shut out some of the best men, although probably not 2 per cent. of those in the city corps have qualified from one of the schools.

There was a regular flood of petitions to-day in favor of Mr. Casey's bill to compel railway companies to carry bicycles free as travelers' luggage. Mr. Lount had one signed by 2500, Mr. Charlse's was headed by Mayor Fleming and signed by 1184 Mr. Ross Robertson's had 1018 signatures, and there were other petitions to like effect from Athens, Brampton and Morrisburg.

Mayor Bingham has received a request to call a public meeting on Saturday, April 24, in the Normal School in order to give Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen an opportunity of conferring with the public respecting the Victorian Order of Home Nurses.

Negotiations have been in progress for some time to establish a large Danish settlement on the Upper Gatineau. Advertisements have been inserted in all the country papers asking for farms that were for sale up the Gatineau Valley. Many replies have been received and offers made. Nearly 900 farms have been placed upon the market at prices varying from $300 up to $1000, and in size from 150 to 300 acres. The residents of these districts have been paying much attention to lumbering and have neglected their farms. As a consequence, they have become good lumbermen, but poor farmers, and are now willing to dispose of their partially cleared farms at very low prices.

Mr. Rosseman of the Gatineau Valley Railway, in conjunction with the Danish and Swedish consuls in Ottawa and Montreal, has been investigating the various farms that are offered with a view to bringing in a large number of Danish and Swedish immigrants to form a settlement in this district, and steps will be taken to get settlers out from Scandinavia to locate there.

Dr. H. Walton Jones of Montreal has been appointed Commissioner for Canada to the exhibition in Stockholm, which opens next month. Dr. Jones lived in Sweden for some years and speaks the language perfectly. He will afterwards act as emigration agent for Canada in Scandinavian countries.

DULL DAY IN THE HOUSE.

The Only Fun Was a Spat Between Messrs. Davin and Oliver.

Ottawa, April 21.—(Special.)—Exceptionally dull were the proceedings in the House to-day. The only relief to the monotony of the afternoon was a spat between Messrs. Davin and Oliver, which led to the interference of Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Blair informed Mr. Clancy that the departmental rule governing deposits with tenders for public works was 10 per cent. when the work did not exceed a quarter of a million dollars, and 5 per cent. when it was over that amount.

Mr. Laurier told Mr. Wood that it was not the intention to sell any islands in the Upper St. Lawrence this year, nor was it the intention to introduce the metrical system of weights and measures.

Mr. Davin moved for papers received by the Government with reference to enlarging the powers of the executive of the Northwest Territories and to increase the subsidy to the Territories. Mr. Davin made an able speech in advocacy of an extension of the powers of the Northwest executive. In place of the present annual subsidy, about half a million dollars ought to be voted. He claimed the present Government should deal generously with the Northwest.

Mr. Oliver agreed with the contention put forth by Mr. Davin, but spoke in somewhat bitter terms with regard to some of the observations of Mr. Davin. He resented what he considered a mean insinuation by that gentleman against representatives of the Northwest Government now in town.

Mr. Davin proceeded to score Mr. Oliver for the peculiar tone in which he had spoken. That gentleman evidently very reluctantly agreed with the stand he (Mr. Davin) had taken.

A reference to the "miserable insect spirit" shown by Mr. Oliver brought Mr. Speaker to his feet with the statement that he thought both gentlemen had gone far enough. Both had used language which he hardly thought proper in the House.

Mr. Davin wanted to know if the expression "miserable insect spirit" was unparliamentary. Was that to be the understanding hereafter?

Mr. Speaker said the language which one gentleman would not use to another in private should not be uttered in the House.

Mr. Davin: Shades of Disraeli! Shades of Gladstone! What would these great statesmen have thought if they had sat under a Speaker who would set up such a high standard? The rule just laid down would certainly have astonished those gentlemen.

Mr. Speaker said it was not proper for any member to discuss his ruling. There was only one alternative if a member disagreed with him, namely, to appeal to the House.

Mr. Davin said he would loyally bow to the Speaker's ruling and passed on to discuss the question again, urging the importance of an independent audit, such as Sir John Macdonald considered to be an assistance to the Government.

Mr. Davies, replying, gave credit to Mr. Oliver for having brought the matter up before, supported by Mr. Davin. Besides, there was a memorial from the Northwest Legislature to the same effect. As to the audit of Northwest expenditures, it was exhaustively done by Dominion and Territorial audit. He promised on the part of the Government the most favorable consideration of the matter.

Mr. Davin moved that the services of Wood Mountain scouts during the Rebellion should be settled by an issue of scrip.

After observations by Mr. Oliver and Mr. Sproule, the debate was adjourned on Mr. Davies' motion.

Mr. Martin, on a motion for correspondence, drew attention to the wholesale dismissals of P. E. I. officials, especially of postmasters and others receiving small salaries. The present Government, he said, professed to be Liberals of the English school, but they were proving themselves Democrats of the Yankee school by introducing the spoils system.

Mr. Mulock replied, denying that any dismissals have taken place in the Postoffice Department without sufficient cause.

On the House resuming after dinner W. F. Maclean moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Railway Act. He explained that the bill sought to compel all railway companies to keep the upper berths in all sleeping cars closed when not in use. He said this would prove a great boon to the traveling community, and he had received many letters approving of the proposal. It had been tried with great success in several States of the Union. The second clause seeks to compel railway companies to furnish to the Government annually a return showing the names of the parties to whom free trips had been given during the year, as well as preferential rates given to certain classes in the country. Mr. Maclean considered that the three cents a mile rate now levied was too high, and believed that its continuance is due to the excessive number of free passes issued by the railway companies. With this information the Government would be better able to deal with the transportation problem.

The bill was read a second time and referred to the Railway Committee.

Mr. Charlton moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Criminal Code for the better protection of young girls, to increase the age of consent from 16 to 18, to make a male responsible for seduction under promise of marriage of any girl when he is 18 years of age, instead of 21. Mr. Charlton dwelt upon the urgency for protection to the young women of the country.

Mr. Craig supported the proposed raising of the age of consent, but could not accept the proposition to reduce the age of responsibility in the case of young men from 21 to 18. Young men needed protection as much as young women.

Mr. Laurier concurred in the observations of Mr. Craig. He thought it would be unwise to reduce the age of responsibility in males. Under the civil law of Quebec no man under 21 could contract a marriage without the consent of his parents. The enactment of such a clause would not be conducive to morality, but the very reverse. It would lead to blackmail in many cases and to boys being entrapped. If a girl wanted to accept a promise of marriage, she should accept the promise of a man, and not that of a boy.

The bill was read a second time.

GREEKS AND TURKS.

Heavy Fighting Took Place Between Them Yesterday.

CRUELTY ON THE PART OF TURKS

Wounded Greeks Who Fell Into Their Hands Roasted to Death—Edhem Pasha, the Turkish Commander, Keeping the Movements of His Army Secret.

Larissa, April 21.—The first seriously-planned battle commenced to-day. Early this morning Edhem Pasha's advance guard, under Generals Mavromichali and Macris advanced against the Greeks in force from Reveni, Boughazi and Stelias. The fighting was greatly extended and the battle raged till late this afternoon with varying fortune. The Greeks were assisted by thousands of irregulars, who harassed the Turkish outposts and wings, as well as participated in the general engagement. The Turks had an overwhelming superiority in numbers. They had constructed earthworks and trenches everywhere, and in and behind these awaited the attacks of the Greeks.

On the whole they clung tenaciously to their defences, while the Greeks attacked these again and again with the most desperate bravery. In spite of the furious attacks still made upon them, the Greeks continue to hold the Reveni and Negeros Passes. At 3 o'clock this afternoon it is practically a drawn battle.

The Crown Prince Constantine is hurrying reinforcements to the front.

LAST HEIGHT CAPTURED.

And the Turks Will Descend Into the Thessalian Plain.

Foot of Milouna Pass, April 20 (afternoon).—The last height commanding Tyrnavo has just been captured by the Turks. The infantry advance was supported by cavalry, the soldiers cheering lustily as they began the attack.

Mendous Pasha has prepared to descend at 9 a.m. to-morrow into the Thessalian plain. Taking the road to the left, which skirts along the base of the foothills, large bodies of cavalry will push forward to the front, while the infantry takes possession of the buildings which the Greeks have left in their hurried retreat.

It was the task of Nechat Pasha to attack the Losphaki heights, the last Greek stronghold commanding Tyrnavo. The Turkish batteries, each gun dragged by fifty men, pushed forward and bombarded the Greek position. A deep ravine lay between the infantry forces and the two armies. It was strewn with heavy rocks and loose boulders.

After sharp fighting the Greek batteries withdrew, but the Greek infantry continued to defend the position until compelled to retire.

Heavy firing has been heard from the direction of Zarkos throughout the afternoon and the struggle at Karya still continues, each side in turn advancing and retreating across the frontier.

Reinforcements were sent from this point last night (Monday) to Hamdi Pasha at Karya. When they arrive there it is expected the Greeks will be finally repulsed.

The Greeks are now strongly entrenched on the plain north and west of Larissa. Edhem Pasha is acting with the greatest caution and deliberation.

The Turks Advance.

Night.—The Greek posts at Milouna and Tyrnavo were captured at noon to-day. The Turkish headquarters have been removed from Elassona to Milouna.

It is estimated that the Greek forces now in the Thessalian plain in front of Edhem Pasha and between this point and Larissa number at least 60,000, but the Greek prisoners say that their reserves are exhausted.

A military telegraphic line has been extended to Milouna, but as yet there is no postal service. From the heights can be seen huge clouds of dust in the distance, which indicate that large bodies of Greek infantry are en route from Larissa to defend the heights not yet captured at Tyrnavo, but they will probably be too late. The coolness and courage of the Turks in attack are beyond praise.

GREEKS HAVE PREVESA.

But Cannot Spare the Forces to Occupy the Town.

Athens, April 21.—The Crown Prince has sent several regiments to relieve those who have been fighting at Reveni, but the latter refuse to leave the scene, although they have been actively engaged almost without cessation for nearly 50 hours.

Telegrams from Prevesa say that the town would have been occupied by the Greeks, but it was impossible to spare the men.

Major Ansolinos, who gave the order for the abandonment of Gritsovali, has been replaced by Col. Papastavre. Col. Manos is meeting with but little opposition. The Turks are collecting at Pentepigravia, 20 miles south of Janina, where a decisive battle is expected which will settle the fate of Janina.

Midnight.—An official despatch from Larissa says that the Greeks continue to defend the Mati Pass. Tyrnavo has been completely abandoned by its inhabitants.

M. Delyannis has received telegrams from Greek deputies at Larissa, who declare that according to the opinion of the officers, the situation is not yet compromised, as the positions occupied by the Turks are of secondary importance.

A despatch from Arta says that the Greeks have captured the villages of Aghia, Tsaprasli, Paraskevi, Kirnikala, Alimbei and Jenicari, all of which have been abandoned by the Turks.

A despatch received from Commodore Kriezis, in command of the Greek squadron which bombarded Platomona, says that 500 Turks were wounded during the bombardment, but the Greeks sustained no losses. The squadron has started for Katerina.

The Government has received a despatch from Larissa which says the exact situation at Domoki is not known

THE DEATH BLOW.

The result of the general provincial elections in Nova Scotia gives the coup de grace—administers the death blow to Tupperism and the allied old school of bludgeon Conservatism. The Cumberland war horse is hamstrung on his native heath. Sir Charles, with splendid cheek, went down to Nova Scotia and deposed one Opposition leader and set up another—Mr. Stairs, who was bowled over the first ball—or rather ballot. His modest son, Sir Hibbert, also went down and—briefly—went down again. The people resented, in no mistaken manner, this interference with their domestic affairs, and this resentment, combined with the growing popularity of Liberal principles, as synonymous with provincial integrity, honest administration and the popular good the first consideration, led to the most crushing collapse that the forces of Conservatism ever experienced. In a House of 38, the Liberals control 32 seats in Nova Scotia. This seems to be more than enough, for a good strong Opposition has its uses in stimulating activity and putting fight into the administrative ranks.

The Tuppers are not wholly responsible for the result, but they helped it greatly. The Liberals would have won in any case, but the interference of the Dictators emphasized the defeat of the Opposition.

THE Conservatives of Nova Scotia failed to climb into office by the Stairs that Sir Charles Tupper set up.

COLCHESTER, Nova Scotia, has gone Liberal by a small majority—another addition to the long list of Liberal by-election victories. The majority may be small, but the victory is a great one when we remember that Colchester has been Conservative for years, giving a Conservative majority of 303 in 1891, which was reduced to 177 in 1896, and at the by-election more than wiped out altogether.

THE WORK OF THE SESSION.

CHANGES MADE IN THE STATUTES OF ONTARIO.

The Work, and the Nature of it, that has been Done at the Late Session—The Principal Changes and Amendments Specified and Explained.

The following concise summary of legislative changes is taken from the admirable file compiled by the Globe:

"The new bills of the late session of the Legislature were unusually numerous and some of them very heavy. The Attorney-General's bill relating to the Court of Appeal, reconstituted the Court with five Judges instead of four as heretofore. All appeals from a single Judge may be heard by a court of three Judges. Appeals from the Divisional Court and from the decision of Judges in election trials, and some others, may only be heard by the full court. The three Judges may transfer any appeal coming before them to the full court.

The bill respecting Queen's counsel limits the number to be appointed to twenty during any four years. This, however, does not prevent the appointment also of any additional Queen's counsel who may be appointed for the Federal courts by the Government at Ottawa.

The act relating to arbitrations has been entirely re-enacted, and now includes many of the provisions of the Imperial act. Other amendments of importance have also been made, and points upon which these were conflicting decisions have been made clear.

The Will's Act provides that marriage shall not revoke a will except under special circumstances mentioned in the bill, and the Married Woman's Property Act provides that the contract of a married woman shall bind her, whether she has separate property or not.

Protection to landlords for rent due has also been given, and clerks are made responsible for payment over to bailiffs of their fees.

County councils are given power to authorize the warden, mayor or treasurer to inspect the registrar's books, with a view to testing the accuracy of the returns of fees and to ascertain the amount properly payable to the county.

The law as to Coroners has been modified, and the County Crown Attorney, when directed by the Attorney-General, is entitled to conduct the examination before the Coroner.

Sections relating to criminal justice authorize the Auditors of County Council accounts, where they are of opinion that unnecessary arrests of tramps or vagrants have been made, to refuse to certify the accounts of constables in whole or in part, or they may refer them to the County Council for consideration.

The payment of witnesses in criminal cases attending on behalf of the Crown has been extended to witnesses attending before Police Magistrates or courts which may summarily try indictable offences.

As between landlord and tenant, the short forms of leases act has been amended so as to provide that the tenant shall not be liable for the payment of local improvement taxes unless he specially covenants for their payment.

The devolution of estates act has been amended so as to enable the executor, upon summary application to a Judge of the High Court, to obtain authority to sell the lands of the estate free from dower.

The act further provides for a somewhat different distribution of the real and personal property of a married woman who dies intestate. And, further, that a married woman, for the purposes of recovery from her husband, shall be deemed to have been deserted when she is living apart from her husband because of repeated acts of cruelty, or because of his refusal or neglect, without cause, to supply her with the necessaries of life when able to do so.

Provision is made for an appeal from the re-count of votes by the County Judge in Provincial elections to a Judge of the Court of Appeal. The appeal may be against the entire recount or against certain specified ballots. The proceedings are to be summary and without delay.

Amendments have been made to the manhood suffrage registration of voters act, which applies to all cities and to county towns, except where the county town is a village. It is declared that the act shall not apply to district county towns.

A number of provisions relate to the machinery of the act, and the Town of Niagara Falls is added to the towns to which the act applies. Specific provision is made for the registration of votes in county towns.

New provisions are substituted for the acts of 1895 and 1896 as to the appointment of junior judges. Hereafter no junior County Court Judge shall be appointed where the population of the county does not exceed 50,000. The act of 1896 did not specify the time when nor the standard by which the population was to be ascertained. The present act provides that the population is to be that of the county at the time of the death or resignation of a Judge, that is to say, the time when the vacancy occurs. The section does not, however, apply to any county in which is situate a city, and for which county a junior Judge had been heretofore appointed, nor to the counties of Grey, Renfrew, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, Ontario, Bruce, Simcoe, Huron, Victoria and Haliburton, these being large counties or covering large areas of territory.

The Board of Management of a Public Library may, with the approval of the municipal Council, establish art schools within a city.

The clause requiring both parties to the marriage to attend before the issuer of marriage licenses upon obtaining a marriage license has been repealed and the old law is restored. Either one may now apply for and obtain a marriage license.

The Educational Council for the purpose of conducting examinations prescribed by Education Department and the annual examination for matriculation at the University of Toronto shall hereafter be composed of twelve persons. The Senate of the University shall nominate six and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the other six. The council shall, subject to the regulations of the Education Department, appoint all examiners required for preparing, reading and valuing examination papers of candidates.

The clause in the act of 1896 relating to the inspection of milk, which has recently caused so much commotion amongst the suppliers of milk to Toronto, has been suspended for a year.

Notaries public are not required to affix their seals of office to affidavits taken by them.

Goods and chattels sold under hire receipts which may become affixed to any realty are, notwithstanding, to remain subject to the hire receipt, and the mortgagee or purchaser of the realty shall be entitled to take them only upon payment of the amount due upon the purchase receipt.

Street cars, tramways or electric railway companies, except where it shall be necessary for the purpose of keeping the track clear of snow or ice, or for other acts of necessity or charity, shall not run upon Sundays; but this shall not affect the right of the Toronto Railway Company, or any other company which has heretofore run cars upon Sunday, or which is entitled to run cars upon Sunday by its charter or by any special act. The act comes into force forthwith, except as to three sections.

The foregoing does not include the amendments to the statute law made for the express purpose of the revision of the statutes, nor those of several other acts relating to the amendments of the law.

WHEN PHYSICIANS FAIL

TO EFFECT A CURE IN CASES OF ECZEMA TRY RYCKMAN'S KOOTENAY CURE. IT HAS A RECORD OF CURES UNEQUALLED IN THE HISTORY OF ANY REMEDY.

There is no escaping the fact that Eczema is one of the most intractable of diseases. Its symptoms are so severe and the irritation it causes so great that a sufferer would gladly give anything, do anything, to get relief.

Physicians are often at their wit's end to know what to do with cases of this nature, and in all kindness we would advise them to prescribe for their patients Ryckman's Kootenay Cure. So far we know of ten medical men who have either used it or recommended it.

In the city of London, Ont., at 440 Park Ave., there lives Mrs. Burdick, who is to-day a grateful woman for having been cured by Kootenay of an Eczema of five years' standing. The disease had spread all over her body and was a constant source of irritation, so much so that she was unable to obtain more than one hour's sleep at a time. She had three physicians in attendance and took many patent medicines, but none of them cured her.

After taking eight bottles of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure her blood became pure and she has not the slightest sign of Eczema or any other eruption on her body.

Another lady, Mrs. Richards, living at 28 Aikman Ave., Hamilton, had a somewhat similar experience. For two months she was unable to rest night or day with the awful itching and pain. Medical men failed to cure her, but four bottles of Kootenay did, and she now says the Eczema has entirely disappeared and she feels like another person.

We could multiply instances like the above, and if you are desirous of further indisputable proof of Kootenay's Kingship over disease, send your name to the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont. Phrenological chart book sent free to any address.

One bottle lasts over a month.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

Held Three Sessions Yesterday in Toronto.

VIEWS ON EDUCATIONAL TOPICS

Papers and Discussions as to the Best Methods for Instructing the Young—High Schools Defended—The Present System of Religious Instruction Upheld.

Toronto, April 22.

The session of the Ontario Educational Association continued in the Normal School yesterday. According to the report of the general secretary, the attendance this year is larger than ever before. The papers are increasing in public interest and a large number were read yesterday. The address of the retiring president, delivered at the evening session, was of unusual importance. The proceedings conclude this evening.

Mr. W. E. Groves, Toronto, in the Public school department, gave an address on "The Influence of the Public School Department: How to Extend It." The lack of interest, he charged, among other things, to the lack of permanency in the personnel of the corps of Public school teachers, the lack of security in the tenure of the teacher's office, the non-representative character of the department, lack of permanency in the membership of the department and the further fact that the department was not in close touch with the training department and the inspectors' department.

Among the remedies suggested were an increase in the age limit, for a license to teach, a lengthening of the Model school term, the formation of a provincial protective association which would provide sick benefits and a small retiring pension, the necessity of county institutes sending a duly accredited representative, with the extension of his term of representation to two or three years, and, finally, a close unity of interest between the various departments interested in Public school work.

Mr. C. Ferrier, Mimico, read a paper on "The Aims and Methods of an Industrial School." The purpose of such an institution, he said, was to prevent crime by drying up its source. He refuted the idea that the school was in any way a prison. He explained at length the methods in vogue in the Mimico school. They had 50 acres of land, an orchard, six cottages, school house, workshops, etc. After eight months of general work, a boy was allowed a choice of employment.

Mr. William Scott, Guelph, in a paper on "The Public School Leaving Examination," advocated more advanced education in the Public schools, because 65 per cent. of the population never went any further. He thought that the entrance examination should be dropped and the Public school leaving take its place. He advocated also the adoption of agriculture and elementary physics as compulsory subjects in the Public schools.

Mr. H. I. Strang, Goderich defended the High school system from recent attacks. He said these complainers sought to make it appear that there was widespread discontent among the farming and laboring classes with the system, that they wanted the Public schools made more efficient, and higher education left to those who were able to pay for it. In his experience he had never found a farmer who did not commend the High schools. He had found that the schools were condemned mostly by those who had no children and professional men, while they were supported by the industrial classes. Who was to say in this democratic country what was the proper sphere for any boy? He had no objection to scholarships, but the scholarship system, proposing to enable the bright boys to get ahead, would be limiting the possibilities of the great majority, instead of letting all have a fair chance.

Mr. J. H. Barrie, Pembroke, recommended with regard to religion in the schools that the laws remain as they are now. He claimed that the state exists for one thing, religion for another; that religion pertains to the hereafter; the state's functions are confined to this planet; that their aims are diverse and contradictory; that morality can be taught apart from religious dogma, and is fully provided for in our school law; that the school curriculum is now more than full of the absolute essentials, and if religious instruction is to be forced in something essential will be forced out, the result being that the children are imperfectly equipped for the battle here and very questionably prepared for their journey in the other world.

On motion, the Minister of Education will be memorialized by the Trustee Department to leave the law regarding religious instruction in schools as it is.

Inspector Morgan, in an address on "What Method of Inspection Would Secure the Best Results," advised the inspectors to show themselves the true friends of teachers and pupils.

Mr. Locheed, M. A., principal of Caledonia High School, sang the praises of a system involving phonetic vertical script, with a complete consistent phonetic alphabet, with every vowel sound and consonant function represented. His paper was entitled "Phonetic Script as an Aid to the Teaching of Reading, Writing and Spelling." He argued from the standpoint, not of a spelling reformer, but of a teacher who finds that much time and energy are wasted in the way of a child first grappling with reading and spelling under the present traditional and much-involved system. His idea is to supplement the present phonic system by making the elements of English words visible as well as audible.

"The Ideal Teacher," according to Mr. R. W. Murray, Toronto Provincial Model School, should be in the prime of life, in good health and should have natural governing powers. Among his acquired qualifications should be the very best literary training and a knowledge of psychology.

"The Women in Canadian Literature" was the title of an essay by Miss Janet Carnochan, Niagara. The subject matter was not Canadian authors, but female characters in Canadian literature. The writer deplored the tendency lately shown to decry Canadian poetry. She quoted such writers as Kirby, Miss Curron, Robert Margery, Wilfrid Campbell, Isabella V. Crawford, Charles Mair, Miss Machar, Dr. O'Hagan, "Seranus," P. McArthur, Jean Blewett and others to show that the women depicted in their works were noble, unselfish, patriotic, tender and true, willing and daring.

"Cabot and His Times," a paper of special interest on this, the 400th anniversary of the explorer's great discovery, was read by Mrs. S. A. Curzon, Toronto. She dealt with the impulsiveness which characterised the literature, religion and traveling activity, and which originated with the renaissance period. This accounted for the utopian dreams of More, the religious ideals of Colet, the intellectual vigor of Erasmus and the daring of such seamen as Columbus and Cabot.

At the training department Mr. T. R. Stewart, Stratford, quoted several instances of incompetency on the part of members of county boards of examiners who examine Model school students. He advocated the appointment of a central board of examiners, his paper being on "Examinations of Model school students."

The Trustees' Department was much interested in the paper on the vital subject of "Manual Training in the Public Schools," read by Mr. George C. Chown, Kingston. He dealt principally with the physiological side of the subject, maintaining that the development of the brain cells, which generate nerve energy, could only take place in compatibility with the corresponding development of the right and left sides of the body, with which the right and left sides of the brain were inversely connected. Consequently brain development depended to a great extent on physical exercise.

Dr. Loudon delivered an address on "The Interference of Sound" before the Mathematical and Physical Association. He illustrated his remarks with the acoustical apparatus of the University and the condensations and rarefactions due to sound waves were made visible to the eye by Koenig's manometric flame apparatus.

A meeting of the Normal School Alumni was held in the principal's lecture room, Hon. Dr. Ross presiding. The object of the meeting was to formulate some plan of celebrating the jubilee of the Normal School on Nov. 1 next. Addresses were delivered by the chairman, Inspectors Kelly, Fotheringham, Brown, Glashan and others. The following committee was appointed to make the arrangements: Hon. Dr. Ross, the principal, vice-principal and teachers of the Normal School, Dr. McLellan and Inspectors Kelly, Fotheringham, Hughes, Chapman, Deacon, Smith, Glashan, Principals Doan, Baxter and Elliott.

In his valedictory address President Desrosiers regretted that the Technical schools and School of Practical Science were not represented in the association. All things considered, Ontario had the finest system of education today.

The Minister of Education smiled and blushed.

"But we are here," the president went on, "to find out the evils and remedy them." Lessons could be learned in school sanitation from Great Britain, the teaching of elementary sciences from Nova Scotia, technical school instruction from France, and various other improvements in different countries. He advised that sanitation should be enforced upon peril of the refusal of Government grant. He was confident that the study of the science of agriculture would soon find a place in the Public school curriculum. It was not the secondary education that took the boys off the farm, but it was the years of town boarding that was most responsible for this tendency. He ridiculed the over-attention paid to spelling in the schools, to the neglect of writing. He had never seen a letter in which the spelling was so bad that he lost much time in reading it, but there were few persons who had not met with letters in which the writing forbade deciphering."

The president concluded with a reference to the teaching of religion in schools. Occasionally from certain clergymen there arose a clamor for formal religious instruction in schools by the regular teachers. This agitation would be dangerous to the harmony and success of the schools only that nobody else than the agitators seemed to be excited by it. Some of these good people would lay burdens on the teachers that they didn't seem willing to touch, although the school law offered them every reasonable opportunity. One reverend member of a deputation to the Government, who came from his own county, was reported as bewailing the disuse of the Bible in the schools and deploring their growing godlessness. At that very time the Scriptures were daily read in the school of his own district, which he was never known to visit in school hours while he resided there.

"In view of these recurring criticisms," said the speaker, "and such an utterance as that by a judge at the Wentworth Assizes last year, it behooves us who know the truth to proclaim from time to time that our schools are religious and Christian. This association stands not only against those who would make catechists of the teachers, but also against those secularists who would not permit us to invoke the Divine blessing on our daily labors. Our free schools are the staunchest bulwark of our national morality and permanence. May they never suffer an invasion of either a sectarianism or a secularism which would disturb their harmony and destroy their usefulness."

The officers of the General Association were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mr. John Muara, Ottawa; secretary, Mr. R. W. Doan, Toronto; treasurer, Mr. W. J. Shandry, Toronto.

"Gold! Gold! Gold!"

A RICH STRIKE

Mr. Alexander Lawrence, cook at Barr's Camp, Donald, B.C., made a rich find a short time ago. This is his description of it:

"Some two years ago I commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters for dyspepsia, and before taking three bottles was completely cured. My work is, I think, the hardest a man can do, namely, cooking in a camp. I rise at 3.30 in the morning, and it is 10 at night before I can get to bed. I have, on an average, 60 or 70 men to cook for. So you see it requires a healthy man to stand the work.

"Before taking B.B.B. I felt tired and played out in the morning, and at night was still worse, but after taking the first bottle I felt such a change that it was a pleasure for me to rise early. I recommend it to every person in the camp as a sure cure for that tired feeling. It was a lucky strike when I struck B.B.B.

19 "(Signed), ALEXANDER LAWRENCE."

The Town Housecleaning.

Street Inspector Ranney is rushing the town housecleaning along at a great rate. To-day sixty-five men and twenty-five teams were engaged in scraping and carrying away the refuse off Charlotte and other streets.

The Mud Lake Bridge.

The storm of Monday played havoc with the floating bridge. It is in three pieces now, the longest piece turned down the lake, towards the sawmill, and the other fragments hanging on to the anchors. This is a most unsatisfactory bridge and besides is a constant bill of expense.

Queen's Birthday Celebration.

The joint committee of the 57th Battalion and Veterans will meet with the committee appointed to draft the programme of sports for the Queen's Birthday, in the drill shed on Thursday evening, the 22nd inst, at 8 o'clock. All members of the above committees are requested to be present.

Town Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the town council will be called for next Monday evening in order to clear the books of quite a lot of business which has accumulated. The tenders for the street watering are now in, and as the streets are becoming dusty it is thought advisable to hold a meeting of the council and award the contracts as soon as possible.

Millinery Excellence.

The busy days of the past week at our new millinery store is ample proof of the excellence of our millinery stock. Our success encourages us to double our efforts and we assure the ladies that no matter when they come they will always find the latest novelties out in stylish trimmed and untrimmed hats and bonnets, artificial flowers, new millinery ribbons, novelties, &c., and at prices much below the ordinary.

Jubilee Demonstration.

At a meeting of the Jubilee Celebration Committee the other evening, it was decided to hold a parade of the military, civic bodies and local societies on the morning of June 22nd, and leave the afternoon open to the citizens to enjoy themselves as they deemed fit, though possibly sports may yet be held. Arrangements will probably be made for an exhibition of fireworks, and the Town Council asked to assist with a grant.

The Late Geo. Fitzgerald.

The funeral of the late George Fitzgerald, son of Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, was very largely attended this morning showing in what high respect this fine young man and his family are held by the community. A solemn requiem high mass was sung at the cathedral by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The pall bearers were Mr. Walter Phelan, Dr. McGrath, Messrs. John McGrath, Fred Morrow, Thos. Henry and Joseph Cahill.

Card to the Public.

Mr. R. M. Roy takes pleasure in announcing to his many friends and the public that on Tuesday evening, April 27, he will present in the Opera House his scenes of 75 stereopticon views of the Jameison Raid in South Africa. The views have just arrived from London, England, and are the only set brought to this country. They are taken from illustrations got from the London Illustrated News and have been secured at great cost. The subject is new and interesting, and also instructive. The prices have been made low enough, so that all have the opportunity of seeing these views. For the benefit of children a funny set will be presented. Remember, they are new. Prices 25c. and 35c., children 15cc. Seats now on sale at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. 1d

ACT OF VANDALS.

The F. A. A. A. Grounds Denuded of Seating—The Fence Down.

During the winter the P. A. A. A., or more properly speaking the Lacrosse Club Grounds, in Ashburnham, have been raided for firewood to such an extent that a large amount of the fencing has been torn down and carried off. Not only this but the grand stand has almost entirely disappeared and the roof and sides of the dressing room for the bath house have vanished, as well as the partitions and lockers under the ladies' stand.

The Lacrosse Club will be put to great expense in fitting up the grounds again, but after this the premises will be looked after in such a manner as to bring all trespassers up with a round turn.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

The School Grounds are Being Beautified—Other News.

Some fine young trees have been planted around the school grounds. These, together with those previously planted, will add very much to the good appearance of the grounds in a few years. This is but one of the many ways in which the members of the Ashburnham School Board manifest their interest in the school.

School re-opens (D. V.) on Monday, April 26th, when it is earnestly hoped that all pupils will be in attendance. It is especially requested that all new pupils, especially for the first book classes be sent by their parents or guardians on April 26, to prevent unnecessary inconvenience in the classes. Pupils who do not attend regularly, or who are careless in their work, need not expect promotion at the June examinations, which will begin about June 23rd—in less than two months from the re-opening of the school.

WAS A VOLUNTEER IN '66.

But is now a Homeless Vagrant—He is Sent on to Cobourg.

John Smith, of Baltimore, who it will be remembered came in from Lakefield about a month ago suffering from a sprained knee, and obtained entrance into the hospital, was before the magistrate this morning charged with vagrancy. He stated that he had lived in Peterborough forty years ago and had assisted in erecting the Presbyterian church and Inverlea House. He had been a volunteer from here during the Fenian raid, and was a member of Capt. Kennedy's company. On the strength of these statements the prisoner was given a ticket to Cobourg and warned to keep clear of Peterborough in the future. This is the second time he has been arrested lately on the same charge.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The Bible Class in Y. M. C. A. will not meet to-night.

—The market square is being cleaned up for the season.

—A meeting of the Finance Committee is called for this evening.

—The high wind makes bicycling very disagreeable, but it is drying up the roads fast.

—The water cart was out yesterday on the business streets. Tenders have been asked for watering the residental portion of the town.

—In the shaded fence corners and in many places along the edge of woods, ice still remains as an evidence that it was only a little while ago that winter was here.

—Belleville has changed the name of its prettiest residental street from Hotel street to Victoria Avenue, in commemoration of the Jubilee year. Something of the kind might be done here.

—A fine of a dollar and costs amounting to $3.45, was imposed on a young man in the police court this morning, for using insulting language within the hearing of Charles Pogue.

—All the soft maples, willows, elms, tag alder, and other early trees are showing growth in the bursting bud and opening blade. All nature is about to live again in its handsomest fashion of one colour, of which the eye never become weary.

—The Lindsay Post says,—Three car loads of iron scrap from the ruins of the Howry mills at Fenelon Falls passed through this morning to the Peter Hamilton foundry at Peterborough, where some of the machinery will be re-dressed preparatory to being replaced in the new mill now being erected.

—The Colborne Enterprise says: Last week Mr. R. Coyle finished his apple business for the season. The last consignment consisted of 1000 barrels and on the previous week a similar quantity was sent out. Altogether Mr. Coyle has shipped during the present season 32,000 barrels of apples. This is probably the largest amount sent out by any individual shipper in the province.

DEAR SIR,—For years I have used many pounds of soda to remove heartburn caused by dyspepsia and sour stomach. Hearing that your porter was beneficial for this, I tried one dozen, and can say that I have never been troubled since.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

The Audience Thoroughly Delighted With the Programme Furnished.

One of Peterborough's most cultured audiences assembled in the Opera House last evening, it being the occasion of a recital given by R. Watkin-Mills, England's great baritone-basso, and George Fox, the Canadian violin virtuoso. The reception with which their efforts were received must have been very gratifying to the artists, although the audience was disappointingly small. Of Watkin-Mills, it may be said that his is the sweetest voice which has yet been heard in Peterborough. Not a harsh note was apparent during the entire evening, and although some of the heavier numbers were changed on the programme to simpler melodies, yet the audience was delighted with the finished execution and rounded notes of the great baritone. Amongst his numbers were "She alone charmeth my sadness," Gounod; "Hear me ye winds and waves," Handel; "The Lone Roamer," Mendelssohn; "When Valiant Ammon," Battishill; "Ave Maria," Luigi Luzzi; "Honour and Arms," Handel; "Sirs, your Toast," (Carmen) Bizet; "O that we two were Maying," Gounod; "A Bedouin Love Song," Pinsuti, "Maid of Athens Ere we Part,"—Gounod, "Bandolero," "I would I were a King,"—Sullivan, "The Wedding of Shan McLean,"—Hatton, "Learning yet Loving,"—Marziale, and "The Little Plaid Shawl."

Since his last appearance in Peterborough, Mr. Fox's style has gained much in brilliancy and technique, and his many local admirers were greatly pleased with his selections last evening, many of which were exceedingly difficult of interpretation, and the recognised masterpieces of the classic composers. Probably his most popular number was "Walther's Preisleid,"—Wagner-Wilhelmj. It was rapturously encored and the young artist gracefully responded with a sympathetic arrangement of "Home Sweet Home." His other numbers were "Zigeunerweisen," (Gipsy Dances) — Sarsate, "Legende,"— Wieniawski, Andante-Allegro Molto Vivace—Mendelssohn, Valse Capriccio, Wieniawski, Adagio Pathetique,—Godard, and Annie Laurie.

On account of the limited attendance the opera house management will be considerably out of pocket, and Mr. Bradburn is to be condoled with over the fact, that although continually calling for high-class entertainments the Peterborough public will not patronize them at the prices which have to be asked if the venture is to pay for itself.

MR. DAN SIMONS.

He is Home Again After a Successful Season.

Mr. Dan Simons has just returned to town after spending the past theatrical season on the road with the Mora Dramatic Company. He is looking as well as ever and is being welcomed back by his many friends. "Danny" has been persuaded by his admirers to give an entertainment in the Opera House, and the announcement is made that he will appear there in all his newest dances sometime next month. He has a lot of new steps at his fingers', or rather his toes' end, and will work them all in when giving his exhibition of jigs, reels, buck and wing dancing. The details of the programme will be announced later.

TROUT FISHING.

Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald Receives an Invitation to go to Uxbridge.

Trout fishing opens on the 3rd of May this year. The second day of the month falls on Sunday.

Mr. "Tobe" Fitzgerald is already getting his tackle in shape. He has received an invitation to fish in the private ponds at Uxbridge from Dr. Ross, the Toronto specialist, who has an interest in them.

Last summer when Dr. Ross was in Peterborough performing an operation Mr. Fitzgerald took him out fishing when through and although they did not leave town until four o'clock they caught 41 bass between here and Lakefield before dark. Unknowingly, Mr. Fitzgerald was casting bread upon the waters, as the doctor was so pleased with his luck that he extended the above mentioned invitation.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Cresswell is Allowed Another Chance to Live an Honest Life.

Albert Cresswell, the lad who rifled Mr. Jas. McGill's trunk at the Huffman House about a year ago, and who subsequently fled the country, but who was arrested a few days ago, when he re-crossed the frontier from the United States, was up for sentence this morning before Magistrate Dumble.

The prisoner formerly lived in Whitby and His Honour Judge Dartnell of that place was present to bear witness to the good character formerly borne by him. A number of testimonials were also submitted from citizens of Whitby by whom Cresswell was previously employed.

Mr. L. M. Hayes represented the prisoner, and Mr. R. E. Wood, County Attorney, appeared for the Crown.

Mr. McGill expressed his willingness to drop the prosecution and Cresswell was allowed to go on suspended sentence, having entered a plea of guilty at his former hearing, and agreeing to pay the costs, amounting to $47.80.

In allowing the prisoner to go, and thus exercising the authority vested in him in such matters, the magistrate impressed on the young man the necessity of turning over a new leaf, which he was given a chance to do, and the warning was given together with some sound advice.

PERSONAL.

Judge Dartnell, of Whitby, was in town to-day.

Mr. A. H. Melville was in Port Hope yesterday.

Mrs. R. J. Waller has returned from Campbellford.

Mr. A. E. Fish, of Belleville, is up on a business trip.

Mr. S. Powers is visiting Mr. P. Powers, in Hastings.

Mr. J. H. McClelland is visiting friends in Hastings.

Miss Pearl Hamilton is the guest of Mrs. T. Gilchrist in Hastings.

Mr. Alex. Elliott was in Belleville on a business trip yesterday.

Miss Bella Menzies has been spending the Easter holidays in Campbellford.

Mrs. W. Geer, who has been visiting friends in Hastings, has returned home.

Messrs. John E. Belcher and Fred. Bartlett were down in Norwood yesterday.

Mr. W. H. Law, of the Central Bridge Works, has returned from a business trip east.

Miss Grace Londerville is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Londerville, in Hastings, for a few days.

James Barker, Campbellford, brother of Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, is spending his Easter holidays with his sister.

Judge Weller was in Norwood yesterday holding Division court. Mr. W. A. Stratton, of town, was in attendance.

Messrs. James and M. Hamilton, sons of Mr. Peter Hamilton, are home from McGill University, for their holidays. Their next term does not begin until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Warrington have returned from England and will take up their residence again in town. Like many other exiles, they thought they would like to return and live in their native country, but like others they made the discovery that after all there was no country like the land of the maple leaf.

The Millbrook correspondent of the Port Hope Guide says :—"While spending Sunday in Peterborough we had the pleasure of hearing Miss Hendren, of Lakefield, sing in the Charlotte street church. Miss Hendren has a deep, rich, melodious voice, and puts a large amount of soul into her song. In the evening she sang just before Mr. Ranton commenced his address, and after he closed it, which helped to make his address more impressive, and the solemn words in the chorus of the last piece came with great force, "What shall it profit you if you gain the whole world and at last lose your own soul."

Mr. F. J. Bell to-day received a cablegram from his son, (Dr. T. H. Bell, "Herb,") London, where he has been taking a post graduate course for the London degrees. He has successfully passed the two subjects—surgery and midwifery—for which he was under examination. These are the heaviest subjects and the examinations are very exacting. The fact that Dr. Bell has passed these makes it certain that he will be successful in passing the third and easier subject upon which he will write in July. Dr. Bell has been in the old country since August last. He passed some time in study at Edinburgh, going to London on the 3rd of November. Dr. Bell, as well as his father, is to be congratulated upon his great success and from the brilliant manner in which he has succeeded in his studies so far, a very promising future is before him.

INTERESTING TO TOWN AND COUNTRY BUYERS.

Friday and Saturday Bargain Days at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Peterborough Bookstore has grown to be the centre for bargains in wall papers, window blinds, cornice poles, room mouldings, and all allied furnishings for wall and window decorations. The public have also come to learn that this store is pledged to give the best service in baby carriages, boys' bicycles, girls tricycles, children's waggons and all children's wheeled rigs. The sporting fraternity, too, at this season of the year, likewise depend on us to gather the best supplies for the season's sports and games. Such a confidence is worth valuing highly, and we intend that the public will have good reason to keep on believing that this store sells at all seasons the best and cheapest kinds of merchandise in every line it carries.

Friday and Saturday we will set apart for special bargains in all the seasonable goods above enumerated. Shoppers can come here and have the pick of our big stocks in these prominent lines at special prices each day; and it will be worth while to come and compare if for no other object than to know what the goods look like and what they cost.

For the benefit of the babies, we give a special discount of 10 per cent. off on already low prices. $5 00 will buy a good serviceable carriage of the Gendron make; $8.25 a neatly upholstered carriage; and $10, a handsome carriage with reed body and American plush and silk upholsterings. Parasols, wheels, springs and all other parts the newest and best we could buy.

In Wall Papers we wouldn't be doing such a business if our prices were wrong, but we will do even better on Friday and Saturday. Come and make your selections at 5, 6, 8, 10, 15 and 20c. Such prices as these will surely be sufficient inducement right at the commencement of the wall paper season.

In window blinds we carry every line you need—with or without dado, and with or without fringe or lace. Expect such prices as these for any colour of blind you want, mounted on rollers—19c., 24c., 25c., 35c., 45c.

Cornice Poles and Brass Trimmings—A complete curtain pole includes one five-foot pole, two ends, two brackets, ten rings, ten pins. The nobbiest sets to choose from, and the prices to guide you—17c., 25c., 35c., 45c.

Room mouldings at 2c., 3c. and 4c.

Pictures, framed and ready to hang up, for 75c., 99c. and $1.40.

Base balls, masks, clubs, mitts, etc.

Lacrosse sticks and balls—the choicest ever shown in town.

Croquet, tennis and golf—the very best manufactured—all at a special reduction of 10 per cent. for these two bargain days only.

Bicycles on the Walks.

Parties who place glass and other obstructions on the sidewalks for the purpose of injuring bicycles, should be careful, as they can be prosecuted for damaging the wheel. The proper course to pursue is to prosecute the riders for using the sidewalk, but not take the law in your own hands. The law will protect the wheels and citizens may make the owners keep the law.

The Spread of English.

Of all places for the question of general spelling reform to come in, one would imagine a manufacturers' convention the most unlikely. Literary men, orophilologists, or book publishers or press associations might naturally be expected to take an active interest in spelling, but that manufacturer's should concern themselves with it, not as regards mere industrial nomenclature, but as a matter of general public importance, is quite surprising. Yet that is what has happened in the past few days. The U. S. National Association of Manufacturers, meeting at Philadelphia, devoted some time to the subject.

A Charming Lecture.

Reference to advertisement in another column shows that Mr. C. T. Longley Taylor will deliver a lecture in St. John's School House on Monday evening, April 26th, in aid of the funds of the South Ballegh and Buckhorn Mission. Mr. Taylor comes highly recommended, especially by the Bishop of Toronto, who refers in the highest terms of praise to Mr. Taylor's lecture delivered in the Crypt of St. Albans' Cathedral, Toronto. His style is highly felicitous, and the subject of his lecture—a popular and instructive narrative entitled, "A Deep Sea Voyage and Across Australia," abounds with refined humour and is delivered with great impressiveness and histrionic power. He will be assisted by musical and other talent.

Fathers or Mothers.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. W. R. Tiffin, district superintendent, Allandale, Mr. Arthur White, district freight agent, Toronto, and Mr. W. T. Chapman, assistant engineer, Allandale, passed through town last evening to Lindsay and spent the night there. This morning they left for a trip over the Whitby division, and will return this evening. We understand they are giving particular attention to the condition of the stations along the line, and that all will be repainted in the near future, and the surroundings greatly improved.

The 8.45 train from Toronto ran over an indiscreet member of the family Mephitis Americana last Saturday evening near Manilla station. Several lady passengers fainted, to the great embarrassment of Conductor White, who emptied the water tank in his efforts to restore them to consciousness. The odor was so overpowering that even the drummers in the smoking car were compelled to give up playing pedro and resort to a bottle of anti-toxine one of the number happened to have in his grip.

The new management of the Grand Trunk are attentive to small details as well as to those affecting the revenue. Station agents all along the line have received instructions to leave nothing undone to improve the appearance of the surroundings, and Supt. Tiffin, of Allandale, has notified Station-master Sandy to put an end to the distribution of advertising matter on the company's property here. Hereafter merchants employing boys for this purpose should instruct them to the above effect, as the rule will be strictly enforced.

A RICH FIND IN CHANDOS.

Gold and Copper Yielding Quartz Said to Exist.

Although the parties interested are very reticent, it has been learned that a rich find has been made in the Township of Chandos, Peterborough County.

From the depth of two or three feet some of the rock was taken from a wide vein, and sent to a noted assayer in Toronto, who reports the yield to be $33 per ton in gold and $17 in copper to the ton.

The owners of the property are residents of Toronto and Belleville.

FROST DOES DAMAGE.

A Large Amount of Wheat Said to Have Been Killed Out.

It is feared that a large amount of wheat has been killed by the cold spell on Monday, and the very severe frost at night.

The plant looked thrifty and promising last week, and farmers were beginning to feel satisfied that their crop had wintered in a very fair condition. The bursting buds on fruit trees and even the grass which had just started into new life have been injured, some, perhaps, beyond recovery. Its visitation in so severe a form, is a surprise to gardeners who have commenced making beds and putting in the seed.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

In the Charlotte street Methodist Church—They will Close on Monday Next.

Evangelist Ranton gave the first of two sermons on "Ups and Downs" last evening in the Charlotte street Methodist church, speaking from a portion of St. Mark xvi, 7th verse, "And Peter."

He enlarged on the fact that the Saviour when upon earth continually called upon the services of the forgiven to assist him in His work. The conditions in the present day were practically the same, the evangelist urged, and those who had been saved should bend every energy to rescuing others.

During the evening he referred to the letters which had been published in criticism of his sermons, and stated that if the age had been sufficiently advanced doubtless letters would have been published in the "Jerusalem Daily Examiner" by "Moderation" and "Whist Player," condemning Peter for going too far and making too direct references to existing evils.

This evening Mr. Ranton will deliver his second sermon on "Ups and Downs." The evangelistic services will close on Monday evening next.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE AND DAIRY SCHOOL.

Local Students who Have Passed the Easter Examinations.

The EXAMINER has received the results of the Easter examinations at the Ontario Agricultural College and of the Dairy School in connection. Unfortunately Peterborough county does not furnish any names to the lists. Either we do not appreciate the benefits of attendance at the institution, or are so well versed in practical dairying that there is not so much necessity of special instruction. There are students at the College from all the surrounding counties. For instance, the first year's examinations at the College have been successfully passed by G. H. Murdoch, Bobcaygeon, Victoria; F. R. Mallory, Frankford, Hastings; R. H. Reid, Roaboro, Victoria; and D. A. Robertson, Dunsford, Victoria. Mr. W. T. Lucas, of Baillieboro, Northumberland, successfully passed the second year examinations. Full term Dairy School certificates were granted to E. Andrus, Castleton, Northumberland, and to J. Thomas, Woodville, Victoria. Thus while it is seen that Peterborough county is not represented in either examinations, Victoria leads the list. There will be some who will be inclined to jocularly say that the proportion is all right and that our sister county needs instruction in dairying matters especially cheese making and cheese board management. That would be well enough for a joke, but if Victoria's citizens show the enterprise of equipping themselves fully for the dairying business, the time may come, if the people of Peterborough stand still in this respect, when the laugh may be on Victoria's side. At any rate the advantages of the college and especially the dairying school, are too important and valuable to be ignored.

HARVEY

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Sore eyes have become epidemic in this neighbourhood; nearly everyone has them or is just getting over them, both children and adults. In some cases it is accompanied by a kind of low fever. No. 2 school has been closed for the past week owing to the teacher, Miss Strachan, being laid up with sore eyes, but school will be open this week to make up for it, as the children will have had their holidays.

Owing to the unsettled state of the weather for the past week seeding has not started yet, but with the return of settled weather everything will soon be in full blast. Fall rye is all right, but wheat does not look very healthy. However, farmers going to wait for some warm days to see what it will do before plowing it up, as most of them believe that a half crop would pay better than putting in another as it saves a lot of labour.

Kennedy Davis & Sons' drive of logs has got drawn as far as Nogie's Creek bridge. It will only take a short time now to get to the mill.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 14th inst, a very interesting event took place at the Presbyterian manse, Bobcaygeon, when Martha, daughter of Daniel Adams, of Harvey, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Fletcher, also of Harvey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bryce Innis, B. A.. In the presence of a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was assisted by Miss Ruby Ingram and Thomas Adams, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. The happy couple will start housekeeping at once on the farm lately purchased by Mr. Fletcher on the Galway road. We all wish them success and happiness.

We have also to chronicle another event of the same kind on the 14th at the residence of Mrs. Hugh Sanderson, of Verulam, when Maggie, her second daughter, was united in marriage to Mr. John Beatty, of Harvey. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Innis, B. A., at the hour of 8 o'clock p. m. Miss Maggie Crowe was bridesmaid and John Anderson brother of the bride, assisted the groom. A large number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties graced the occasion with their presence, and a very happy and enjoyable time was spent until a very late hour, when the company broke up, wishing the happy couple much joy. The happy pair were the recipients of a number of beautiful presents. They will reside in Harvey.

It looks now as if marriage was epidemic as well as sore eyes. Who will be the next?

The tea and entertainment held in the Methodist church on Thursday evening last was quite a success, the admission being only 14 cents. A very good programme was rendered, which is here appended:

Opening—"Cast Thy Bread Upon the Water"..
Address	Rev Mr Sheir
Anthem—"Oh be Joyful"
Duet	Misses Rogers
Recitation	Ethel Ventress
Song and chorus—"The Man Behind the Plough"
Singing	The Children
Song and chorus—"The Water Drinker"
Intermission,
Quartette—"Ding Dong Bell"
Recitation—"Prayer and Potatoes"	Mrs Jas [Beatty
Singing	Misses Harris and G H Bramwell
Song and chorus—"Daisy May"
Reading	Mrs G H Bramwell
Quartette—"The Cuckoo"
Recitation	Ruth Tate
Trio—"King Alcohol"
Recitation	Miss B Young
Song and chorus—"Cradle's Empty Baby's [Grave,"
Recitation	Miss Ventress

Miss Strachan, teacher of No. 2, gave an excellent exhibition of club swinging, which was well received.

Thanks are tendered to those who took part in the entertainment. The proceeds amounted to $18. After singing "God be with you till we meet again," the gathering dispersed.

NORTH HARVEY SCHOOL QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR,—In replying to "Justice" I may be permitted to use the feminine gender as the term implies, though I am indelicately referred to as "he, she, or it." I would not retort in kind. "Justice" is not a trustee. They are, however, fortunate in employing so zealous an advocate. I will pass over her historical reference to the stealing of the crown jewels or the great seal, with a simple remark that she is unable to discern between treason and theft. "Justice" says she will not attempt to reply to my letter. Certainly she has not successfully done so. She says she knows what she is talking about (information from the trustees, of course,) and "the trustees are not culpable in the sense hinted at" by me, admitting a culpability somewhere. Pray be honest. I hinted at nothing. My allegations were plainly given. It is usual when an affirmation is made in public something more than a simple negative is required to refute it for public satisfaction, particularly when it is done by proxy; and more particularly in this case, when the past record of the trustees is considered. "Justice" also says that notwithstanding my "mighty" displeasure, "this school and trustees will manage to live somehow." Somehow, truly! "Somehow" there has been no school kept this week; excuse—the teacher's illness. But "somehow" she has driven some six miles to, presumably shop. "Somehow" she has travelled ten miles over bad roads to participate in the wedding festivities of friends another day. On Friday, "somehow" she could swing the clubs on a public platform for the delectation of the audience. "Somehow" it is held by a good many that a teacher who can go through this routine of amusement should be quite equal to teaching a decimated school. It is reported this last time will be made up in summer holidays. Well, we'll see what we'll see "This school does live somehow," as "Justice" says. Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

Yours truly,
J. B.

"The meanest man on earth" has cropped up again—this time in Lindsay. A short time ago a citizen whom we shall designate as A., promised his friend B., of the south ward, a setting of game eggs, but when B. went to get them, A. had repented of his liberality, yet not liking to back out of it entirely, he thoroughly shook up each egg—making, in fact, 13 portions of egg nogg. For the last few days B. has been wondering why no chickens hatched out; an examination of the eggs last night revealed the reason.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....
Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 43 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.
A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents. It afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 85 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 35 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $8. NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE OF

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

A PRACTICAL WAY WITH CHICKS.

How a Little Foresight With the Hatchers Will Pay.

I always sit three or more hens at one time. The hens are allowed to sit on the nest four or five days before removing to the hatching room, where good nests are provided in boxes closed on all sides but one. The hens are removed thither at dusk and quietly put in the nest boxes, which are placed with the open side against the side of the hatching room, thus confining them on the nests. They are left in that position till dark the evening following, when the boxes are quietly turned around, care being taken not to disturb the hens. On the following morning they wake up to find themselves in new quarters quite as good as the old ones, and almost invariably settle down to a three weeks' siege. A few china eggs are put in each nest as an inducement for them to go back after coming off the first time. After they have come off and gone back a few times the eggs (13 to 15) are put under them. If the nests are on a board floor the eggs should be sprayed a few days before hatching time with warm water. Corn, water, fresh every day, and oyster shells are kept constantly in the pens. I prefer to have the chicks all out by May 10.

The chicks are removed from the nests as soon as dry and strong enough, and kept in the house till all are hatched. The hens are then given their liberty for several hours to take a dust bath, pick up gravel, and grass, etc., when the more gentle ones are again confined in coops. Our coops are made with sharp roofs and broad bottoms closed on all sides but one, which has a slide door made of laths, one-half of which is covered with wire netting of one-inch mesh. The lath end is kept down in the day time to allow the chicks their liberty, and the netting end at night to confine them and give them air.

From 14 to 20 chicks to a brood are found to work all right, thus allowing perhaps half the sitters to take care of all the chicks. Cracker crumbs are given the first few days for food, then one part fine feed, one part meal and two parts sifted oat feed moistened with milk for 8 or 10 days, when an occasional feed of the finer particles of cracked corn is given, and a supply of the finest particles of oyster shells is given daily. The chicks should be fed five times a day until three weeks old; then three times. Whole grain, wheat, buckwheat, oats and corn may be given for the evening meal as soon as they can eat it. Fresh water is to be constantly supplied in dishes not exposed to the hot sun. Clean the coops almost daily. The mother hens may be removed as soon as the chicks are well started to feather. When full feathered larger and well-ventilated flat houses with roosting poles must be provided and plenty of green food supplied, if they have exhausted their supply in the yards. Males should be sold off or separated as soon as they begin to mature. Give good care and a plenty and a great variety of food, and the worst of raising is done.—J. H. Orndoff, in Farm and Home.

[Ed. Note.—Our readers will find better success attend their efforts if, instead of sprinkling the eggs in the emergency mentioned, they induce moisture by evaporation. This may be done by sprinkling boiling water near the nest or seeing that the hen begins to steam after being through wet grass or water.]

A man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure PERMANENTLY.

NICHOLAS FLOOD DAVIN

Tried to Get Up a Fuss in the House Over Alleged Corruption in the Northwest.

Ottawa, April 20.—(Special.)—Mr. Devin was instrumental this afternoon in exploiting what he characterized as the alarming and disgraceful state of things in Northwest constituencies, especially mentioning that of Saskatchewan, in which more than one Minister of the Crown was implicated. In June last Mr. Laurier was elected by a small majority there. There was evidence enough to upset the election, but the Conservatives decided not to disturb him in his seat. When Mr. Laurier decided not to sit for the constituency a fierce fight arose. Mr. Sifton, brother of the Minister of Interior, was sent to act as peacemaker, and did it so well as to make the strife worse than ever. A leading official of the Indian Department was sent up by Mr. Laurier (talk of political partisanship) to induce the Liberals to accept Mr. Newland, but this official so mixed matters up as to make them worse. Then came the split, and the contest between the two Liberals, resulting in the return of Mr. Davis. A petition was filed against his return with sufficient evidence to unseat him, but Mr. McPhail received a telegram from the Finance Minister to come to Ottawa. He did so and the outcome was a corrupt arrangement with the Ministers, as a result of which McPhail goes back, and with lightning-like rapidity withdraws his petition.

Sir Charles Tupper, speaking to the point of order, ventured to express the hope that Mr. Speaker would not formally rule in accordance with his observation. The invariable practice, he said, was that an hon. member should be allowed from his place in the House to draw attention to any matter affecting the Government or any member of the House. This would allow the Government or the member to make such an explanation perhaps as would settle the whole subject.

Mr. Laurier said that charges were never made against any hon. member of the House except upon the personal responsibility of the member making them who was bound to pledge his honor that he believed them to be true, and ask to have them referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. When Mr. Davin was prepared to take that course the Government would act, but it would not act upon references to the mere gossip of scurrilous newspapers.

The motion to adjourn the House was lost.

Sir Charles Tupper, resuming the discussion on the franchise bill, said, in view of the announcement made by the Finance Minister that the tariff would be brought down on Thursday, he would not advance any arguments in support of the amendment now before the House. As regards the bill itself, he had still hopes that the Government would not press it this session, but that during recess a serious attempt would be made to devise a more practical measure.

Sir Charles Tupper, continuing, after recess, characterized as extraordinary and undesirable the provision which called upon a judge to decide a question of moral culpability, or whether a certain act affected the result of an election. The whole tendency of the bill was to open the door to irregularity and corruption. The best The Globe itself could say for the new Act was that it would be no more objectionable than the present system. The trend of public opinion was towards manhood suffrage and one-man-one-vote. That was the law in Nova Scotia in 1859. The electorate of Canada was sufficiently intelligent to be entrusted with manhood suffrage. He would recommend some such simple and uniform system. It was base ingratitude of the Liberals to quarrel with the present law. Under the provincial franchise they had been beaten seven times, while out of three elections held under the Dominion franchise they had won one without a policy, without principles, with nothing but the prestige of their leader, although he admitted that was a good deal. [Mr. Laurier bowed.] The Liberals went to the country and came back to place and power. [Laughter and cheers.]

Mr. Davies rose in high spirits to reply. He congratulated Sir Charles upon the progressive mildness of his speech, and accounted for it upon the hypothesis that the Opposition leader had been receiving discouraging news from Nova Scotia. And then Mr. Davies announced that Nova Scotia had gone Liberal by 32 out of 38 seats, and that Colchester had gone Government—[Liberal cheers]—and that, despite the fact that the Conservative leader opposite had sent to help the Tory cause the brightest of his lieutenants [Sir Charles smiled.] Mr. Davies claimed that Parliament was not parting with its control of the Federal franchise.

Dr. Roche spoke on the workings of the Manitoba franchise, which was administered to the advantage of the Liberal party. Until such time as the Conservatives of the province got fair play under the local Franchise Act they should be exempted from the provisions of the measure before the House. Amid Conservative cheers he revised Mr. Davies' figures of the result of the Colchester election.

Mr. Richardson of Selkirk followed in a brief defence of the Manitoba Franchise Act.

At 10 minutes to 11 the debate was adjourned on Mr. McMillan's motion, and the House has heard the last of this bill for some weeks and probably for this year.

LINDSAY GIRL GONE CRAZY.

Annie May Roberts Became Demented in Buffalo and Was Taken Care Of.

Buffalo, April 20.—Annie May Roberts, a domestic, aged 22, who came here from Lindsay, Ont., about a year ago, has been arrested on a charge of insanity. Her father is dead, and it is said that her mother is in an insane asylum in Toronto. She has been acting strangely for some time. She became infatuated with a young man at sight, and has several times said that she had dreamed that she was married to him. Last Tuesday she waited on the breakfast table wearing a white gown, white shoes and white gloves. It was soon seen that the unfortunate girl was demented. She was examined by Police Surgeon Fowler, who pronounced her insane, and she was sent to the Buffalo State Hospital to-day.

very plainly marked; moderately firm; of excellent quality. Professor W. S. Green of the Ohio Experimental Station, July 24, 1896, says King Raspberry is fine, indeed; large, firm, beautiful color, and prolific, and at the station is far ahead of Loudon or Miller. J. T. Lovett says he believes it the most valuable red raspberry that has yet appeared, and it is exceptionally firm, making a good shipper. It is probably the brightest red in the market.

Keep the Layers Young.

It is from young fowls that most eggs come and most profit is made. Pullets of last year's growth will lay more the coming six months than in any other equal length of time during their lives. It is true that the two-year-old hens will produce eggs best for breeding, but beyond this age, except with the very choicest fowls, there is greater profit to dispose of them and replace with pullets. There is some doubt whether the very old fowl kept because choice bred will produce as good pullets for laying as they would from eggs laid when at their best for egg production.

A Great Aid to Farmers.

A map of the farm, with each field numbered, and its size, quality of soil, etc., specified, will be a great aid in keeping track of the year's transactions. How few really know the expense of each growing crop the past year, what their cows, pigs, sheep and chickens have paid, etc? This is an important matter and should not be neglected. It is a poor business man that does not know what he raises at a profit, and what at a loss.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. The Boundary Line.

When a young girl steps from girlhood into womanhood, she enters a new and strange country. A land of promise and hope, yet full of hidden dangers. Whether she will find happiness or misery depends largely upon the health and condition of the delicate, special organism which is the source and centre of her womanhood.

The lives of young women are often wrecked because of a mistaken sense of modesty, which leads them to neglect the earlier symptoms of feminine weakness.

These troubles unless corrected, develop into serious chronic difficulties which become a dragging burden, ruining life's best opportunities and blighting all possibility of happy wifehood and motherhood.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints needs the health-giving power of Dr [illegible] Prescription. It heals and strengthens the womanly organs; stops weakening drains; gives vitality to the nerve-centres, and restores perfect organic soundness and constitutional energy. It is the only medicine devised for this purpose by a skilled and experienced specialist in diseases of the feminine organism.

Mrs. W. B. Duncan, of Arlington, Mo., writes: "I have used your 'Favorite Prescription' and am never tired of sounding its praise. When my lady friends complain, I say 'Why don't you take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription?' I told an anxious mother, whose daughter (18 years old) had not been right for five months, about the medicine, and after the young lady had taken two-thirds of a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' she was all right. She had been treated by two of our best doctors."

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" sent, paper-bound, on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Or, a handsome cloth-bound copy for 50 stamps. Address, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A TRANSFORMATION.

They were a pair of lovers, respectively 6 and 10 years old. The feminine budget who acted the part of sweetheart in this drama of extreme youth was a plump but agile little miss whose cheeks were like rose-tinted velvet, and were hung about with heavy curls, the color of burnished gold; and whose long, dark lashes fringed a pair of big brown eyes that could sparkle with childish anger or melt as by their own fire into languid, irresistible looks of love and tenderness.

Mena—for that was her name—had left the nursery on the pretext of going to play in her doll house on the lawn. It was a pretentious affair of several rooms, built by a real carpenter, and furnished as completely as the paternal mansion. The playhouse stood at the rear of the yard, very near to the high board fence that marked off the lawn from the back street. Mena went through the house and out of the back door as quickly as possible. Then she pecked through a hole in the fence that had been made by punching out a knot in a board. But as this mock telescope was not an adjustable affair, her range of vision was limited, and she resorted to other means of communication. Just inside the door of her playhouse there was an apple twig, on which was tied a long, red ribbon; it was kept there for the purpose of signaling. She pushed it through the hole, and wound it around violently. It was soon seen and instantly answered, for a pair of rough-shod but eager feet hastened to the spot.

"Hello, Mena," said Jimmy, pulling out the twig, and softening his voice to the most gracious tones of gallantry.

"Hello, Jimmy."

There was a silence for a moment. An embryo gust of lovers' modesty seemed to embarrass conversation. Then Mena resumed:

"Are you there, Jimmy?"

"Yes, I'm here."

"Well, I thought if you'd help me over the fence, mebbe I'd come over to play with you."

Jimmy was delighted, and hastened to unprop a board which he had lately loosened for just such occasions. Jimmy's yard was in sad contrast to that of his little butterfly playmate. The West family lived in a small frame house that spoke principally in the language of neglect and decay. The father of the family was a shiftless man, who eked out a living for himself by odd jobs, and left the main support of the family to a hard-working wife. In his miserable surroundings, Jimmy was like a fine variety of hot house plant that had accidentally come up in an uncared for garden of coarse vegetable growth. He was fine featured, well mannered, sensitive and proud. But he was only a child, and few people had occasion to consider him very deeply, and these commendable traits were obliged to wait for recognition till maturity should bring them to prominence.

The playhouse on Jimmy's side of the fence was a very crude affair. The rooms were laid off by pieces of stone and broken brick—and there was no such thing as a wall or covering. Chunks of wood and small boxes served for chairs, and the cupboard was filled with bits of broken dishes, pieces of tin bent up at the corners, and glass goblets with the standards knocked off. But to Mena's childish fancy it was like a palace of the gods. There, she and Jimmy kept house, and there never was known such ideal domestic concord as was preserved by usage in this small, make-believe household.

Mena went into raptures over the new way of getting through the fence. Now she could step through comfortably without tearing the embroidery off her frock—an accident that used invariably to accompany the route over the fence. But Mena's fortune seemed to be counterbalanced by Jimmy's ill-luck in getting the board back in its place.

"Oh, Jimmy, you've smashed your finger!" cried Mena in much distress at seeing a few drops of blood. "Does it hurt awful? Come here, and let's tie it up." Whereupon she drew out a tiny point lace handkerchief (one of her mother's she had [illegible] mistake), and with a doleful look tied it around the injured member.

Jimmy stood speechless during the operation, and when Mena said, "There, now, it's all right," there was no further question about it in Jimmy's mind.

"See, I brought my bank," she said, seating herself on a long slab supported by bricks at the ends, and that was supposed to be the sofa in the parlor of their house.

Jimmy sat down with her and together they spread the coin along the board. There were nickels and quarters to the amount of several dollars and several pieces of gold. Jimmy thought of his own bank in its distressing state of insolvency—not a copper in it—and its doors closed even to its owner, for the key was lost, and he was very pensive while looking at the plentiful spread of coins before him. It seemed wonderful to have so many! His eyes rested for some time on a small gold piece, and picking it up, he said:

"I know what I'd do with that if I had it."

"What would you, Jimmy?"

"Oh, I'd buy a gun there is down town."

"Would you, really, Jimmy?"

"Yes," he said, nonchalantly, "you could shoot anything with it!"

"Could you, really, Jimmy?" queried the little maid, who never failed to vibrate in sympathy with all his wishes.

"Then you can have it, and get the gun, Jimmy," said she, pushing the coin toward him.

Just then some one was heard calling Mena's name, and hastily putting the coins back, all except the gold one she left for him, the two sat like bank robbers on the alert for detectives. In a moment the nurse was peering over the fence, and in angry voice commanded Mena to go home. After severely scolding her for disobeying her mother's command not to go into the West yard again—much to Jimmy's pain and embarrassment, but none the less to his sympathetic little admirer's—Mena was lifted over the fence and out of sight.

Jimmy stood motionless for a moment; his grief had not yet come to the surface. Suddenly, he turned and ran toward the house and up the narrow, uncarpeted stairs to his own little bedroom, where, after shutting the door quickly behind him, he cried till the tears refused longer to flow. He was kneeling with his elbow leaning on the window sill, looking toward the playhouse—his trembling little frame spasmodically yielding convulsive sobs—when he saw to his astonishment that Mena was trying to attract his attention through the hole in the fence by means of the ribbon signal. He rushed down and was at his post in an instant.

"Hello, Mena, is that you?"

"Yes, it's me, Jimmy—I got an awful tipping. Here, Jimmy, take this. Good bye." She hurriedly thrust something through the hole and was gone instantly.

Jimmy picked it up. It was the little gold locket that had hung on her neck. It had always been, in Jimmy's eyes, the most beautiful thing in the world, for in the center it had a real ruby that sparkled; and then, too, it opened and on the inside there was a tiny miniature in water color—of Mena.

The next day Mena's family went to the seashore for the summer, and when they returned the West family had moved to another town.

About twelve years after the parting of these childish lovers Mena was made suddenly aware of the fact that through a chain of misfortunes the family exchequer was so reduced that she was obliged to earn her own living immediately. Her education had been carefully directed and had opportunities been at her command, she could easily have made herself independent. But accomplishments cannot always be turned into money at will, so she was obliged to look for immediate employment of whatsoever description, so long as it would bring immediate pay.

It is an unspeakable shock to a sensitive girl to be thus forced to grapple with the sordid business of life, but Mena was built of strong moral material and braced herself accordingly for the misfortune. Her family had lately removed to a large city, a considerable distance from her old home, and that, at least, seemed something of a relief, for among strangers her change of fortune was not quite so hard to bear.

By accident she heard of a wealthy commission merchant who wished the help of a young lady for light office-work, and knowing that no especial experience was necessary, Mena resolved to try for it. Her misfortune was not yet enough to betray itself in her wardrobe and when she presented herself at the office of Beck & Co. no one would have suspected by her appearance that she was in need of employment. On the contrary, she caused quite a flutter of curiosity, prompted by admiration, as she passed through the main room into the private office. The senior member of the firm, Mr. Beck, was not in, but she was met by a fine looking, dignified young man who introduced himself as the junior member of the firm and who said he could act for Mr. Beck in his absence.

Mena was seated and then began to inquire about the nature of the position. After considerable interrogation from the young man she told him something of her circumstances.

During the conversation her eyes had rested on a small gold locket that hung from his watch chain.

"Pardon me," she said, looking up and smiling, "for staring so at your locket. It looks so much like one I used to have."

"Does it, indeed?" said he quietly. "It is one I have had many years." He stopped a moment, as if to give his thoughts time to go back to his childhood, then looking up half sadly, he said:

"When I was a child I was very poor, but one of my playmates was a little girl whose father was wealthy, and whose mother was a haughty woman, who forbade her coming to play with me, because we were poor and had no social position. But she used to run away and come, even though she was scolded, whipped, and even locked up for it. I remember how it hurt me to think she was punished on my account, but I loved her all the more for it. She was an idol to my childish heart, and I loved that child as I shall never love any living creature again. We were finally separated, and I have never seen her from that day to this; but she has always been a kind guardian angel to me, and I have never loved a woman because I could never find one who equaled the sweetheart of my childhood. This is her picture," said he, opening the locket.

But Mena scarcely needed to look.

"Is this really you, Jimmy?" she said eagerly, her hands stretching out involuntarily toward him.

"Yes, Mena—didn't you know me?" His eyes were shining amid the sparkle of tears—partly from wantonness of joy at seeing her and partly, perhaps, because of the pathetic reversion of their circumstances.

"Mena, do you remember the last day you came to see me—the day you brought your bank?" said he, crossing the room, and opening the heavy doors of a large safe. "You remember, I didn't have a bank in those days. I have never forgotten that day, Mena; it was the happiest and the saddest of my life."

He had taken a jewel box from one of the drawers of the safe, and took from it a dainty handkerchief of fine old lace.

"Do you recognize that, Mena?" he asked, holding it up.

"And here is the little gold dollar you gave me to buy the gun with. Do you remember that? I wouldn't have spent it for forty guns—not after that day! I wanted to keep everything you had given me. They have always been my most valuable possessions."

Mena began to laugh and talk about their housekeeping days, and all the good times they used to have, utterly forgetting her present self. But finally she remembered where she was, and, becoming suddenly serious, she said coldly: "But those days are over now, and you remember I came here on business."

"But I cannot realize it so," said Jimmy. "I cannot set down the greatest pleasure I could have hoped for—that of finding you—in the cold category of business."

He looked at her a moment, hesitated, and then said, slowly: "Mena, when we were children, you could have given me all you had in the world. Now, may not I do the same for you?"

During the next few minutes there were refusals and entreaties, tears and smiles, all sweetly blended in the conversation of two lovers; and when the senior member of the firm came into the room, he was formally introduced to the charming fiancee of his business partner, Mr. James West.—Florence Bowers, in Detroit Free Press.

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

TOO LATE.

He was my friend—but I was busy,
Yes, I was panting at my gold toil!
The days whirled by till they made me dizzy,
And all around me I piled their spoil.

He was my friend—we were boys together;
I meant to remind him of this some day;
After the stress of my heavy weather
Meant to ask him, quite out of my way.

He was my friend—a dart struck through me—
"He is dead!" came the sudden call!
He is dead!—and he never knew me—
Never knew of my love at all!

He was my friend—I thought about him,
But gave up myself to fortune's toss,
Now to my death I must do without him,
Now I am seeing I know my loss.

That Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and relieves a vast amount of suffering is not a theory but a well known fact.

A splendid Medicine.

DEAR SIRS,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Are Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

Miss A. Young has again resumed her duties in Peterborough after spending her Easter holidays at her home here.

We are glad to see Mr. W. J. Young able to be around again who for the past two weeks has been confined to his bed suffering from a severe attack of la grippe.

Mr. C. Young's mills caught fire the other day by some unknown cause. Mr. Young and the villagers got the flames extinguished before much harm was done.

Some of the farmers have commenced ploughing and cultivating the land this week.

A pleasant assembly was held at the Lakeview House, Monday evening last, everything being up to the mark, including music, dancing and luncheon. Scrimgar's orchestra furnished music for the occasion, while Mr. W. Brooks was master of ceremonies.

On Easter Sunday the music in St. Mary's church here were especially fine. The choir has been long practising and deserve much credit, the music being far superior to anything that has been heard before. The principal solos were taken by Miss Minnie Young, Misses Ida and Maggie Kearney, and Miss P. P. Young. Miss Jennie and Lottie Kearney gave a selection on their violins, which was considered excellent, while Miss Maggie Kearney ably presided at the organ.

The local trappers are busy for some time past. They report game plentiful. Some of the more successful ones have secure over two hundred muskrat skins already.

Bicycles have again made their appearance, although the roads are none too good yet for wheeling. A few of the early birds have been trying their muscle by taking a short spin.

The streets have been very muddy lately. The council should appoint a committee to build sidewalks, especially in the business portion of the town.

By the way, when is our telephone to be put up? The poles have been in place for nearly four months and about half the wire strung. It will soon be time for the campers, and a telephone or some other means of communication has been a long felt want, so the sooner it is put in the better it will be for those interested.

Would not a lamp at the church door be a very useful article, especially on a dark night, when the weekly League meetings are in progress?

GREEKS AND TURKS.

there, but that the rumor of its capture by the Turks is inaccurate.

IS RUSSIA IN IT NOW?

Czar Asks Permission for Black Sea Fleet to Pass the Dardanelles.

Berlin, April 21.—It is reported here to-night in well-informed circles that the Russian Government has asked permission of the Sultan for the Russian Black Sea fleet to pass through the Dardanelles. The Baltic fleet is also ready to start under sealed orders.

All Greeks Called Out.

Athens, April 21, 6 p.m.—The Turks to-day tried to capture the post of the Prophet Eli on the road to Tyrnavo, but they were repulsed.

The last series of the Greek reserves has now been called out, and fresh troops have been sent to the frontier.

The bombardment of Prevosa, at the entrance of the Gulf of Arta, has been very heavy since early to-day. The Turkish garrison there has been completely isolated by the advance of the Greek troops.

The report that the Greek fleet today bombarded Platomona on the west shore of the Gulf of Salonica, is confirmed. The Greek fleet also bombarded the town of Lepthekarya, adjoining Platomona. The powder magazine of the Turks at Platomona was exploded by a Greek shell, causing much damage and loss of life to the enemy.

Fighting has been renewed at Damasi, which is being cannonaded by a Greek brigade advancing from Boughasi. The Turks have occupied the posts of Ligaria and Karatzo, which are strategically unimportant, while the Greeks have advanced and occupied the Slati hill.

A despatch from Arta says that the Turks have abandoned Strevina, beyond Filippiada, after burning it. The bombardment of Prevosa continues with increasing damage to the forts.

After bombarding Platomona, the squadron will proceed to Katerina.

Troops for Crete.

Naples, April 21.—The steamers Independence and Arno and the cruiser Ligurdia have started with troops for Crete.

Hoists the Greek Flag.

Athens, April 21, 5 p.m.—Col. Manos, in command of the Greek army operating against the Turks in Epirus, telegraphs that he had destroyed Imaret fort and has advanced without opposition to Filippiada, which place the Turks abandoned after burning it. Colonel Manos has hoisted the Greek flag over Filippiada.

Assuring News for King George.

Athens, April 21, midnight.—The Crown Prince Constantine telegraphs from Larissa, the headquarters of the Greek forces in Thessaly: "We have kept all our positions and the situation to-day is excellent. Every road by which the Turks can descend into the Thessalian plain has been secured by the concentration of our troops. I canot wire at greater length now. I am fighting myself. So is Prince Nicholas."

SUPPRESSION BY THE TURKS.

Edhem Pasha Won't Permit News to be Sent From Elassona.

London, April 21.—Commenting on the absence of definite news to-day from Elassona, the headquarters of the Turkish troops in Macedonia, The Daily Mail says it has received a private telegram from one of its correspondents on the scene of hostilities indicating that Edhem Pasha is suppressing all despatches.

This correspondent adds: "The whole situation appears changed by the tenacity with which the Greeks are holding Reveni Pass, whereby they may possibly turn Edhem Pasha's position and cut off his communications with Elassona."

SUSPENSE AT ATHENS.

Nerves are Strained Owing to the Lack of Definite News.

Athens, April 21.—The public suspense here to night is terrible owing to the lack of definite news. The Government has received telegrams from Larissa throughout the day, urging the prompt despatch of reinforcements to that point, as the Greek troops are being exhausted by the incessant Turkish attacks.

All the shops were closed to-day while prayers were being offered in the churches for the success of the Greek troops. Every nerve is being strained to send all available men to the front. The palace guard and the gendarmerie will go to-morrow. Volunteer bands are organizing everywhere throughout the country. In Thessaly the whole population is being armed and made ready. Next week thousands will start for the frontier from the provinces long famous for the fine quality of their fighting men.

REINFORCEMENTS CALLED FOR.

Edhem Pasha Has Asked for 40,000 More Men at Once.

Constantinople, April 21.—The sitting of the military commission has been continuous since yesterday at the Yildiz Kiosk. It is reported that Edhem Pasha has asked for 40,000 reinforcements, and that orders have been sent to Salonica to hasten the despatch of the reserves to the frontier. The mobilisation of 40 additional battalions has been decided upon, and the enrollment of volunteers is being considered.

The sturdy resistance offered by the Greeks was wholly unexpected and the idea that the forces of Edhem Pasha would have a military promenade to Larissa has already been abandoned.

Telegrams received by the Porte from the far western provinces show that the Albanian irregulars are devastating the country in many localities, and especially along the line of route between Prevosa and Janina. The local authorities are powerless to restrain them.

An Imperial irade has been issued ordering the Turkish fleet to avoid a battle at sea and to remain under the protection of the fortifications.

THE DEVILISH TURKS

Built Fires Around the Wounded Greeks and Roasted Them Alive.

London, April 21.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle telegraphs that he has had an interview with Crown Princess Sophia, who returned to-night from Larissa. She says she found that there had been much improvement in the hospitals there since her previous visit to the place. She also says that while she was in the hospital she heard wounded Greeks tell how the Turks treated the wounded who fell into their hands. They built fires around some of them and roasted them to death, and inflicted horrible tortures upon others of their prisoners before despatching them.

A Revolution in Athens.

London, April 21.—The Rome correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette telegraphed to his paper this afternoon saying a despatch had been received there from Athens expressing fear that if the Greeks suffer further reverses and the Turks occupy Larissa, a revolution will break out at Athens.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

THE LIBERAL TARIFF

A Great Speech by the Minister of Finance.

UNJUST FEATURES WIPED OUT.

Large Additions Made to the Free List—Free Corn, a Reduction on Coal Oil and on Wire Fencing—Duty on Spirits and Tobacco Increased

Ottawa, April 22.—(Special.)—The clock in the Commons Chamber registered half-past 3 o'clock before Mr. Speaker called the members to prayer. When the doors were opened the galleries filled up quickly, although it was the subject of remark that there have been occasional "Budget Days" in the past when a bigger crowd was present. Among those observable in the galleries were well-known manufacturers and importers from all parts of the country, anxious to know their fate. There were also old-time Liberals keen to learn how the great Liberal party proposed to live up to the Ottawa platform of 1893, when tariff for revenue became the party watchword. Lady Aberdeen occupied a seat to the right of Mr. Speaker. Routine business took over an hour to dispose of, but nobody seemed to pay much attention to it.

Mr. Fielding entered at 4.25, and was greeted with Liberal cheers. By arrangement, he took Sir Richard Cartwright's chair in order to give him the use of both desks for his papers. The fateful tariff reposed in a basket until the proper time to unfold it. The Minister looked pale and somewhat nervous. No doubt he has been working under high pressure for some weeks. He sported in his button hole some Nova Scotia Mayflowers.

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

Mr. Fielding Figures on a Deficit This Year of a Million

Mr. Fielding arose amid loud Ministerial cheers. He asked the generous indulgence of the House in his task. He paid a tribute to the long line of able men who had preceded him in this particular duty. First of all he devoted himself to the financial returns of last year, explaining the increases in customs, excise and miscellaneous. The total revenue was $36,618,590, as against $33,978,129 the previous year, an increase of $2,640,421. The expenditure amounted to $36,949,142, or within $50,000 of Mr. Foster's estimate. The deficit for the year amounted to $330,551, due to revenue not coming up to Mr. Foster's expectations. Moving to this year's figures, the revenue up to April 20th (last Tuesday) amounted to $20,284,403. Add to this for the purpose of the year's estimate the actual receipts between April 20 and June 30 last year of $7,893,252, the probable receipts this year might be considered as $28,146,655. But this, he considered, was beyond the mark, for the reason that the excise income this year was unduly swollen by reason of duties paid last month, and that would necessarily affect the revenue for the balance of the year. The customs also had been unduly increased in anticipation of tariff changes. A safe and reasonable estimated deduction from income mentioned was $850,000, leaving the probable income for the year $27,300,000. The expenditure to April 20 was $25,463,832, and from that date to the end of June last year $12,393,949, or an estimated total of $37,857,779. The estimated deficit this year might be $800,000, but probably that was too sanguine. He thought the Government would come through the year with a deficit well within a million dollars, but it might not exceed $900,00. This deficit was the result of legacies left by the late Government.

He held that not until the obligations left by the last Government had been wiped out could the financial policy of the present Government be fairly criticized. In place of the present Government having had to borrow $10,000,000 as a temporary loan predicted by Mr. Foster last session they had only borrowed £600,000 sterling to meet all services. [Liberal cheers.] After referring to the capital expenditure of last year he said the result would be a net increase in the debt of $1,750,000. The expenditure for next year he estimated at $38,250,000. The revenue on the basis of the present tariff would amount to $37,500,000, leaving a deficit of three-quarters of a million. The increase in the net debt of the year would amount to about $2,750,000.

Then, preliminary to announcing the new tariff, the Minister proceeded to criticise the National Policy. He contended that the adoption of that policy was not on account of a principle with Conservatives. They adopted it in a time of depression, when people were looking for relief. This policy was the growth of political difficulties, in which the leaders of the Conservative party erroneously permitted themselves to be led away from the old faith.

Mr. Foster: No cheers for that sentiment.

Mr. Lister: The cheers will come later.

Mr. Foster: Yes, when we get to the oil duties. [Laughter.]

Mr. Fielding, continuing, said the contention put forth in favor of the National Policy was that with two or three years of protection the infant industries could stand alone. But what was the contention to-day? Take the nursing bottle away from them and they would immediately perish off the face of the earth. Then it was contended that a high tariff would secure reciprocity with our neighbors in two years. But how had that prediction been fulfilled? The country was no nearer reciprocity to-day than in 1878. He read a string of census figures to show how, in his judgment, the National Policy had failed to come up to the expectations of its progenitors. In the past decade the increase in population was only 509,000 souls, whereas, acording to the natural rate of increase, plus the immigrants among it, should have been 1,241,000 people more. The National Policy, instead of keeping our people at home, had driven them away. He recited a conversation he had had with a prominent Conservative manufacturer, who said if the next census returns did not make a better showing he would lose all faith in the future of his country.

The present Government hoped by a change in policy and after ten years of rule to show far better results, so as not to induce Conservative manufacturers to lose faith in their country. Then he read the tariff platform adopted by the Liberal Convention in Ottawa in 1893. On that policy the country gave its verdict last June, and, subject to such changes as varying circumstances might require and on which he would have something to say later, the Government accepted that platform as a delaration of principles which they were bound to follow in their tariff. [Liberal cheers.]

At a quarter to 6 the Speaker left the chair, and the House rose for dinner.

Mr. Fielding, after recess, continued his denunciation of the National Policy. He contrasted the present era of bonus hunting and tariff protection with the good old policy of industries running along on their own merits. He argued that the National Policy had injured rather than helped the manufacturer. Then came the stage of the combine, the wealthy capitalist stepping in and buying up all the small establishments. Far more benefit accrued to the country by a moderate tariff than by a protective one. He urged that manufacturers should not be led away by the cry that their successes were identified with the protective policy. He referred to the statements made to the Tariff Commission that the people would not buy Canadian made goods, but preferred foreign ones. He was loth to believe that, but doubtless it was correct. Certainly it was a startling result of the National Policy. Coercion had evidently failed where conciliation would succeed.

Now the time had arrived to let in the free air of competition, and so he would say to the manufacturers of Canada that they had much to hope from the new tariff. The Government had been importuned to bring free trade principles into operation at once. But no reasonable man could expect that. A writer in The London Times, after the Liberal triumph of last June, had pointed out that the change in Canada would have to be gradual. Lord Farrer, a great free trade writer, was even more pronounced in his declaration on that point.

Continuing, he demurred to the contention that the manufacturer had vested rights in the National Policy. There was a good deal of the speculative element in that policy. Men who played the game and gathered in the winnings when the turn of trade came should pay the losses. [Liberal cheers.] If we struck out of the tariff every vestige of protection they should take the risk and abide by the consequences. While it would be but stern justice there was no such disposition on the part of this Government. [Loud Conservative applause.]

Mr. Foster: Scoundrels great and scoundrels small. [Conservative cheers and laughter.]

Mr. Fielding: There is no disposition on the part of this Government to deal with the protected classes in that spirit, although he submitted if it suited the will of the people of Canada to establish free trade, while it would be a dangerous thing to do, so far as the protected classes are concerned they would have no reason to complain. But they were dealing with more than the protected interests. The evil of protection was widespread; it had become so interwoven with the business of Canada that if we attempted to strike it down it would do harm to other interests which are not directly connected with the protected interests. The interests of labor had to be considered, and the banking interests were closely bound up with this question. Some gentlemen said they ought to make a clean sweep now, but intelligent men would not say so. [Liberal cheers.]

Mr. Foster: Come to the point, you make us tired.

Mr. Fielding said the hon. gentleman would be more tired before he had done. Referring to the circumstances under which the Ottawa platform was adopted he said there was every indication then in the United States of a more liberal tariff policy. But to-day everything was changed, a protective policy had been adopted by that country, and if the Dingley bill became law it would undoubtedly affect the trade relations between the two countries. The Government was justified in stopping to think what would be the effect of its policy if, on the eve of negotiations for reciprocity, it should in advance revise the tariff down to the lowest figures. [Conservative cheers.] While some would urge that Canada should mete out an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth

THE TURKS WORSTED

According to the Reports From the War Yesterday.

CIVIL WAR RAGING AT PREVESA

News is Meagre and Conflicting, But the Greeks Appear to Have Had the Best of It—Turks Returning to Elassona By the Milouna Pass —The Latest War News.

Headquarters of the Greek Army, Larissa, April 22.—The latest advices as to the situation at Damasi show that on Sunday the Turks made a sortie from the town and attacked the Greek position at Boughasi Pass and Sideropouli. After severe fighting, the Greeks drove the Turks back across the frontier, with a loss of five guns.

The Turks have descended from Milouna Pass on Kurtivali. The result is not yet known here.

Four hundred members of the Foreign Legion, including 25 Englishmen, under Captain Birch, arrived here on Tuesday. They were received with a great demonstration, which was repeated on their departure for the front in the evening. Intense enthusiasm was caused among the Greeks when the Englishmen sang the Greek National war song.

The Greek Evzones and a mountain battery, having ascended the mountains east of the St. George Monastery, were taken by the Turks on the flank. After a severe fight, lasting many hours, the Turks, who on Monday had driven the Greeks from Mati and Ligaria brought 200 Circassian cavalry from Elassona. This was on Tuesday. The Circassians began to extend into the plain, but being raked by the Greek Colonel Mastropas battery and by the Evzones, they were compelled to turn back to Ligaria with great loss.

A portion of the fleeing Turks have re-crossed the Milouna Pass towards Elassona. The Greek infantry, extending in a semi-circle from Tyrnavo to Karavali, was supported by artillery, all well handled, after a hard day's fighting, drove back the Turks upon Ligaria. It is understood that the latter are retreating in force towards Elassona.

The estimation in which the Turks are held is shown by the stampede of the whole population on the frontier. The villages and roads to Larissa are literally blocked with fugitives, herds of cattle, horses and donkeys, women and children on foot; old women carrying chairs, beds and household gear on their backs, on donkeys, in ox-wagons and in every conceivable sort of vehicle. The scene is heart-rending and reminds one of Pliny's description of the flight from Pompeii after the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

Larissa is overcrowded. Food is scarce; the hospitals are full and there is an urgent appeal for nurses and surgical operations. The wounded are arriving hourly and all the surgical operations must be performed without chloroform, as there is none to be had.

The Raiders Returned.

Larissa, April 22, 6 p.m.—Chief Davellis and the survivors of his band of irregulars have returned here from their raid into Macedonia.

Athens, April 23, 5.30 p.m.—Prince Constantine, the Greek commander in chief, a despatch from Larissa announces, has been present at the scene of the military operations against the Turks since early this morning.

Prayers were offered up in the churches of every town of Greece today for the success of the Greek army.

A Capture Denied.

Constantinople, April 22.—The Turkish Government denies that the Greeks have captured the islands of Mitylene and Scio, off the west coast of Asia Minor.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

Greece Sends a Mission to St. Petersburg to Interview the Czar.

Odessa, April 22.—A special mission from the Greek Government passed through this city yesterday en route to St. Petersburg.

Greece Holds Its Own.

London, April 22.—A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Athens says that the Greeks have held their own positions and destroyed the Turkish cavalry at Mati. German officers were seen fighting with the Turks in German uniforms.

Civil War at Prevesa.

London, April 22.—A despatch to The Morning Post, from Karvessara, says it is reported that civil war has broken out among the Turks in Prevesa and that the surrender of the town is expected hourly.

Great Loss to Turks.

London, April 22.—The Standard's Athens' correspondent says that the Greeks at Mati repulsed a charge of 3000 Turkish cavalry with great loss to the Turks. The Crown Prince, Constantine was present.

Gritsovali Recaptured.

Larissa, April 22.—The latest news from the district of Kurtiscovali (probably identical with Gritsovali) is that the place has been recaptured by the Greeks.

The News is Meagre

London, April 22.—The war news received from the special correspondent of the London morning papers for publication to-morrow is meagre and somewhat conflicting. The only certainty seems to be that Tyrnavo has not yet fallen, but Nezeros is in the hands of the Turks.

Looks Bad for the Greeks.

Paris, April 22.—The situation on the Thessalian frontier, according to a despatch from Athens to-day, is considered to be highly critical. It is feared the Greek troops, exhausted by three days' hard fighting, will be unable to resist much longer the furious attacks of the Turks.

Greek Citizens Massacred.

London, April 22.—According to a special despatch from Athens massacres of Greek citizens have occurred near Prevesa, the Turkish town at the entrance of the Gulf of Arta. The Greek troops, it is added, have stormed five villages occupied by the Turks.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine."

GREECE AND TURKEY.

It is generally felt that pincky little Greece stands no chance of winning against Turkey in the present war. But the disproportion in population is not so great after all. According to the latest figures, the population of Turkey is 4,700,000, and the population of Greece is 2,187,000, about the population of Ontario. Two to one is not very great odds, especially when the one has a good cause behind. If Great Britain would only lend Greece its fleet for a few days, the place that now knows Turkey would know it no more for ever. The present war, whatever its outcome, will not save Turkey from the carving for which she has been hasting for eighty years. The "assassin" has been growing groggy and weak on his pins all this time. For instance, in 1817 the area of Turkey was 218,600 square miles, and the population 19,600,000; in 1857, after the Treaty of Paris, the area was reduced by 95,000 square miles and the population was reduced by two millions. In 1878, after the Treaty of Berlin, the spread of the Turkey's tail was reduced to 129,500 square miles, and the population was nearly cut in half—reduced to 9,600,000. The present area of Turkey proper is only 87,000 square miles and the population is put at 4,700,000. Thus in eighty years Turkey has lost more than two thirds of her territory and more than two-thirds of her population. These figures apply only to European Turkey, but the Asiatic section cannot be very largely counted on. Disaffection is so rife that the people are more likely to fly at the Sultan's throat than help him fight against Greece. It is very natural that the sympathies of civilization are with the Greeks. The Greeks are Christians, and the government of the country is modeled in that of Great Britain, while Turkey is worse than heathen in its sanguinary and lustful creed and more than barbarous in its form of government, held together by the cohesive bond of blood and rapine. We are proud of Great Britain and British connection in almost every aspect, but we have no reason to take any particular pride when she holds aloof and permits the atrocious Turk, abetted by tyrannic Russia, to wage war on the plucky Greeks, and practically endorses a bloody despotism that all the interests of civilization demands should be swept from the seats of power, and its country from the map of the world.

THE IRON INDUSTRY.

A Smelter to Treat the Iron Ores of Hastings a Probability of the Near Future.

Mr. Chas. J. Pusey, President of the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway, was in Toronto Wednesday, and in conversation with a Globe representative said that the prospects of an iron smelter being built to treat the iron ores of Hastings County were now exceedingly bright. For some time past, he said, the editor of the Bancroft Times had been strongly advocating the passing of an $80,000 bonus to be paid by the townships of Faraday, Dungannon, Herschel, Monteagle, Carlaw, Mayo, Hangor, Wicklow and McClure, in the County of Hastings, and by the Townships of Cardiff, Monmouth and Glamorgan, in Haliburton County, and now preparations are being made for the taking of the vote. Presiding the bonus is placed Mr. [illegible] of the Canadian Mining Review, is prepared to [illegible] the erection of a [illegible] to cost about $200,000 in the vicinity of some of the mines along the route of the I. B. & O. Railway.

The settlers, in the townships named, he says, are taking the matter up in earnest. They now realize that the operation of an industry such as is proposed would mean the expenditure of over $200,000 yearly right in their midst. It would provide work for hundreds of settlers in the cutting of charcoal alone, and a [illegible] ing industry is now a thing [illegible] such a means of making a little ready money would be an important factor in the farther settlement of the district.

Mr. Pusey has made application to have a diamond drill sent to Bancroft, where he has a good reason to believe there are immense deposits of iron ore, immediately after the passing of the bonus. He is also making arrangements to ship five or six car loads of ore a day to the Hamilton smelter from the Imperial mine, which he has had developed during the winter. He has already several hundreds of tons of ore on the dump at a couple of mines in [illegible]ton County, and providing the assistance asked for is given, he will be prepared to deliver all the ore required at the smelter as soon as it is completed which would be in about six months' time. Mr. Gordon is expected to visit the district during the first week in May, when he will lay his plans before the township authorities.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION CLOSED.

The Pedagogues Have Had a Good Time—Some Criticism of the Education Department.

Toronto, April 22.

The annual convention of the Ontario Educational [illegible] which closed last night, proved highly successful and instructive. There was a wide range of topics discussed and some severe criticisms of details in the educational system of the Province. On all hands it was conceded that good will result from the discussions and that the educators themselves will profit greatly from this their thirty-sixth annual conference.

In the Trustees' Section, Dr. McGillivray, Whitby, read a paper on examinations, and announced that there were too many and they cost too much. In addition to this, it was the practice of the Minister of Education to saddle High Schools with the cost of maintaining a lot of useless officials, who received their positions as party rewards. Whenever a teacher raised his voice in protest, said Dr. McGillivray, the Minister of Education closed his mouth by giving him a text-book to write, or some other job.

Hon. G. W. Ross quoted figures to show that the cost was less than in any other country where a like efficiency was maintained.

As to the charge of jobbery, the Minister said it was a base insinuation against the teachers of the Province, which would not be heeded by any right-thinking man.

Dr. B. A. Hinsdale of Ann Arbor, Mich., lectured on the psychological aspects of education and pointed out that moral teaching must be done incidentally. Intellectual training could be given by a direct appeal to the intelligence, but moral teaching was successful only so far as it appealed to the sympathies of the pupil. Direct teaching of this character only aroused the combative and argumentative spirit.

The Committee on High School Entrance Examinations presented, through Dr. Barwash, the following report: 1. The division of the High Schools into two distinct classes, the one literary and classical, preparing for university and higher professional courses; the other, English and scientific, preparing for agriculture and other industrial pursuits.

2. The entrance to the first division should be such as to enable pupils to enter not later than 12 years of age, so that they can advantageously begin their language studies, while the entrance to the second division might be placed at a more advanced stage of the Public School program and thus tend to raise the character of the Public Schools.

3. In the selection of examiners for entrance to the schools of the first division, representatives of High Schools of this class or of the universities should have a controlling place. For entrance to those of the second division, representatives of the Public Schools and of the second division of the High Schools should have prominence.

The jubilee resolution, as drafted by the sub-committee, was read to the association and contained the usual congratulatory expression of loyalty to Her Majesty. The resolution will be engrossed, signed by the president, president-elect and secretary and sent to the Queen.

The Minister of Education, who has been in great demand throughout the meeting, gave an able address on "Citizenship and Higher Education." One of the main points which Dr. Ross strove to make was that whatever the state might spend in aid of university education would be amply repaid by the indirect benefits she would derive from the useful experimental works and resulting inventions of the scientific and otherwise learned men turned out by the university would carry out. Political economists should step into politics and throw some light on such topics as the tariff. Up to this time each man held just such views as, if carried out, would most benefit himself. Turning to the question of the neglect of art and literature and the failure to patronize learning and learned men in proportion to their merit, he stated that there could be found no more of the artistic in Toronto to-day than could be found in the Indian villages discovered by La Salle 300 years ago. Though eonstitutionally Canadians are empowered to govern half the continent, yet the country is dominated by provincial ideas. Thus, in choosing the Government, the Premier of the Dominion had to choose representatives from each of the Provinces. The same might be said in regard to creeds. A Government should have representatives of so many Catholics, so many Protestants, so many lawyers and so many farmers. We allowed local interests to dominate our actions and larger conceptions of citizenship were unknown. It was the duty of higher education to remove this drawback. Religious intolerance, though largely wiped away in the past four hundred years, still existed. People still sneered at other mortals because they chose to prostrate themselves before their Maker in some different way to what they took themselves. The churches were human. They loved power and sought the protection of the throne, and not the left, but the right side of the throne at that. [Laughter.] The Minister concluded with an appeal to the members to repay to their country the services they had received from it in the shape of an almost entirely free education.

This closed the convention.

THE LIBERAL TARIFF.

If was not the policy of the Government to adopt that course. But if events justified the Government in withholding action with regard to the States that was no reason why it should not proceed to deal with tariff reform in relation to those countries which are prepared to deal with us. [Liberal cheers.] We are prepared, he said, to declare to the world that we are willing to trade with those countries which are prepared to deal with us. If the United States frames its policy for itself, we have a right to frame our policy with a single eye to Canadian interests. [Cheers.] While we will not yield to the spirit of retaliation which is in the air, and for which there is perhaps considerable justification, while the fence would not be put up three or four strands higher, there was no particular reason for taking it down to-day.

This led to the conclusion that there must be one tariff for countries willing to trade with us, and a different tariff for countries that are not prepared to deal with us. So far as regards the countries not willing to trade with us there are articles which we want, and therefore in regard to these articles the tariff could not be reduced. It was not the intention, speaking generally, to propose any great reduction in the tariff as applied to those countries which are not disposed to trade with us. We propose, therefore, to have a general tariff, and that to a large extent will be the tariff of to-day. [Prolonged Conservative cheers and counter cheers.] It would be the tariff of to-day freed from some of its enormities—[Liberal cheers]—freed from the injustices of which the people complained; free from specific duties—[Liberal cheers]—free from the annoyance and irritation which have created friction between importers and the Department—the tariff of to-day, with those changes. [Hear, hear.] The preferential tariff which would be submitted would give preference above all others to products of Great Britain. [Liberal cheers.]

Were they beginning de novo, the Government could have made an entirely new tariff arrangement, but they had to take matters as they found them, or, as a new chapter trenchantly put it, to build upon an old foundation. So the best the Government could do, seeing they couldn't reduce the number of items, was to make the rate of duty more uniform.

Mr. Fielding then went on to detail the changes in the tariff. The chief of these was, he said, that in the duty on spirits, which had been raised 15c per gallon; the duty on flour reduced from 75c to 60c per barrel; the duty on coal oil, refined, from 6c per gallon to 5c, and on crude petroleum from 3c per gallon to 2 1-2c. The Finance Minister added that it was proposed to change the regulations so as to admit coal oil in tanks.

An Opposition Member: So they have been bought with 1c per gallon. [Laughter.]

Mr. Fielding went on to deal with the question of coal. There is to be no reduction, he said, in the duty upon coal. [Cries of "Oh, oh."] The Finance Minister repudiated, amidst renewed merriment on Mr. Speaker's left, the assertion that the retention of the coal duty had anything to do with the Nova Scotia elections. The Congress of the United States, he said, was reconsidering the question of the duty on coal, and he hoped that the Dingley bill proposal of 75 cents would be reduced to 40 cents per ton, as it was now. When that had been done Canada would reduce her coal duty to 40c a ton also. But as the Government could not act on supposition now it was thought better to wait and see what the Congress of the United States would really do.

Major Hughes: Why did you not hold the corn duties as an offset against the American duty?

Mr. Fielding replied that that matter would doubtless be explained in due time.

Sir Charles Tupper decided not to follow the statement as to the coal duties to go as an indefinite announcement. In case the United States tariff should remain at 75c per ton, he asked, will the hon. gentleman say that he intends to carry out his declaration at Montreal, not only to retain the present duty of 50c on bituminous, but to impose a duty on anthracite coal as well?

Mr. Fielding: Yes, and impose a duty on anthracite coal as well.

At this point, Mr. Fielding, whose endurance had evidently been overtaxed, begged the House to excuse him from further effort and allow the Controller of Customs to proceed with the tariff explanations.

Mr. Paterson accordingly continued. He went on to explain that on the whole class of agricultural and dairy products which we largely import from the United States the Government have decided not to change, in view of negotiations with that country. Indian corn, now rateable at 7 1-2c per bushel, the Government proposed to make free except to distillers, who shall pay the present duty. Flour was reduced from 75c to 60c per barrel, and the duty on cornmeal retained at 40c a barrel, but the provision was abolished in regard to the granting of corn in bond for human food. Uncleaned rice it was proposed to increase frim 3-10c per lb. to 2-4c per lb., while the duty on cleaned rice would remain at 1 1-4c.

Books were changed from 6c per lb. to 20 per cent. ad valorem, and advertising pamphlets, show cards, etc., now 6c per lb. and 20 per cent., would be 25 per cent. ad valorem. Wall paper and paper sacks, now dutiable at 25c and 25 per cent. respectively, were both to be 25 per cent. Muriatic and all mixed acids, sulphuric ether, etc., were grouped under a uniform duty of 25 per cent., while medical and medicinal preparations of all sorts were reduced from 50 to 35 per cent.

The duty on earthenware jugs, etc., was made uniform at 35 per cent. ad valorem, and in the matter of cement, now 40c per barrel, it was decided, because of difference in the weights of barrels, to make it uniform at 13 1-2c per cwt., including the weight of packing.

Rough blocks, or slabs of marble, now 10 per cent., are increased to 20 per cent. to be uniform with the duty on flagstones, granite, etc., while finished marble goods are increased from 30 to 35 per cent.

Leather board was increased from 20 to 25 per cent., and ordinary leather, now 15 per cent., and patent leather, now 22 1-2 per cent., were made uniform at the increased duty of 25 per cent.

Belting of all kinds, leather and rubber, was made dutiable at 20 per cent., and the duty on india rubber boots, etc., was reduced from 30 to 25 per cent.

Mr. Paterson, in coming to the iron duties, the schedule of metal and metal manufactures, regretted that the Finance Minister had not been able to make the explanation himself. He went on to say, however, that the policy of the Government to-day is, that pig, wrought and scrap iron and steel, being the basis of so many industries, the duty upon them should be reduced, notwithstanding the admitted fact that most of this material came to us from across the line. Yet the Government had taken steps to provide that the present iron industry should not thereby be crushed, but should be compensated for the loss of this protection by an increase of bounties. [Conservative cheers and laughter.] The duty on scrap iron and steel it is proposed to reduce from $4 to $1.50 per ton, and the duty on pig iron, kentledge, etc., from $4 to $2.50 per ton, while iron and steel blooms, slabs and billets, and puddled bars are to be reduced from $6 to $4 per ton.

The announcement that barbed fencing would be free after Jan. 1 next was received with loud applause from the Liberals.

Several increases to 35 per cent. provoked great cheering from the Opposition.

Mr. Fielding announced that the binder twine duty would be immediately reduced from 12 1-2 to 10 per cent., and that after Jan. 1 next it would be free, and all articles entering into the manufactures of binder twine would get on the free list.

It was not proposed to make any change in the duty on tea. In place of increasing the duty on sugar, as anticipated, it was proposed practically to reduce it. The duty on raw sugar would remain as it is, 1-2c a pound, but the duty on refined sugar, which governed the price of the article to the consumer, would be reduced 14-1000c per pound.

The free list remains practically the same.

Then, taking up the proposed preferential schedule, he explained that where countries gave favorable treatment to Canada it was proposed to accord favorable treatment to it. From now until June 30 on importations from Great Britain and countries which favored Canada, the reduction would be one-eighth on the general tariff, while after that date the reductions of duty would be one-fourth, but this would not apply to ales, beer, wines or liquors, sugar, molasses or syrups, tobaccos, cigars and cigarets. The Minister explained that it was proposed to strike out the combines by authorizing the placing of articles on the free list where a combine was formed to increase the price.

With regard to revenue gains and losses from these changes on iron the Government might lose $215,000; on woolens, $275,000; on cottons, $46,000; corn, $147,000, or a gross amount of probably $700,000.

It was proposed to increase the excise duty on spirits from $1.70 per proof gallon to $1.90, to reduce duty on vinegars and increase it on acetic acid. It was proposed also to charge a duty on raw leaf tobacco of 10c a pound. This would give nearly $1,600,000; spirits, $5,000,000; cigarets, $100,000; customs duties on spirits, etc., $173,000. In this way he hoped to haul out about square at the end of the year.

He proceeded to explain the bounty on iron, but said this would be on iron for home consumption only. The Government reserved to itself the right to impose a duty on iron for export.

Sir Charles Tupper asked how the Government proposed to get over the Belgian and German treaties, which prohibited discrimination by colonies of Great Britain against these countries.

Mr. Fielding said while these treaties forbade any concession of a preferential character being made with Great Britain, the proposal before the House would apply to every country which was willing to establish fair and reasonable trade relations with Canada.

Sir Charles Tupper: The hon. gentleman's proposal is entirely delusive, and will have no effect whatever.

Major Hughes asked if it was proposed to impose an export duty on logs or pulpwood.

Mr. Fielding said the Government had no proposal at this time, but reserved its judgment until a later stage of the session.

In conclusion, Mr. Fielding said: We present to this House a tariff which has the advantage of being simpler than the one that now exists, and I feel assured that it will to a considerable extent put an end to that friction that has so long existed between the merchants of the country and the Custom Houses. We submit a tariff which largely unburdens the specific duties, which have been so unjust to the poorer classes. We submit a tariff in which the larger free list is no practically disturbed, but has large additions made to it. We give to the country the great boon of free coal, which will have an important effect on the development of our farming interests, and particularly the dairying interest, to which we must look in a very large degree for the prosperity of our farmers and the increase of our exports. We give to the country a reduction of the duty on coal oil and the removal of the burdensome restrictions respecting the sale of coal oil. We give to the country a reduction of the duty on coal oil and the removal of the burdensome restrictions respecting the sale of coal oil. We give to the farmer his fence wire at a low rate of duty for the present year, and place it on the free list from the 1st Jan. next. We give him his binder twine on the same terms, a lower rate of duty for the present, and make it free from the 1st day of January next.

We give the medical and dental professions a boon which the younger and less wealthy members of the profession will appreciate, when we put all surgical and dental instruments on the free list.

We recognize the great mining industry of the country by placing on the free list all machinery exclusively used in mining enterprises. [Ministerial cheers.] We do not confine it to mining machinery made in Canada, but we say it is more important to develop the mining interests of Canada than even to make a few machines in Canada, and so we put mining machinery exclusively used for the purposes of mining enterprises on the free list. We give the people the benefit of reductions on breadstuffs, flour, wheat and cornmeal. We give the manufacturers the benefit of cheaper iron, and much complaint has been made in the past of the burdens imposed upon them by the iron duthy. We revise the duties on rice in such a maner that they will not add a cent to the cost to the consumer and will add materially to the public revenue. We give the people a reduction almost all along the line. We provide the necessary revenue to meet the great needs of the country by increased taxes on articles of luxury, such as spirits, tobacco and cigars, without any increased taxation on the necessaries of life. [Liberal cheers.] Hon. gentlemen opposite have ever had the free breakfast they talk about; we make it freer to-day by reducing the duty on sugar from $1.14 per 100 lbs. to $1, which is a material reduction; and last, but not least, we give to the people the benefits of preferential trade with the Mother Country. [Great Ministerial cheering.] This question of preferential trade has been mentioned in the House in times past. Leading public men have advocated preferential trade, but always annexing to their suggestions demands for England's action, with which it was well known England could not comply. The advocates of preferential trade, at all events all who have taken an active part in that movement, have assumed that as the first step England must consent to put a duty on corn. We know that England does not view that project with favor. We know that no more unpopular project can be offered the English people than to ask them to put a duty on breadstuffs. It may be that as time rolls along at an early day they may change their views. It may be that they may see it in their interests to make this distinction, and they may offer some preferential rate to the grain of Canada. If they can be induced to do that by fair argument, I have no doubt it will be a good thing for Canada. But why should we wait for England to take action? England has dealt generously with us in the past. [Cheers.] England has given us a larger degree of liberty perhaps than is possessed by any other country on the face of the earth. She has given us liberty to tax her wares even when she admits our goods free, and we have taxed them to an enormous degree. Why should we wait for England to do more? Somebody must make a move in this matter, and we propose that Canada shall lead the way. The leader of the Opposition says that our project of freer trade with England is a delusive one.

Mr. Fielding concluded his speech at midnight after speaking five hours, with some assistance from Mr. Paterson.

Mr. Foster moved the adjournment of the debate.

The House rose forthwith, both sides rising and joining in singing the National Anthem.

Chase's Ointment Cures All Skin Irritations.

GRACIE AITON.

Of the many skin diseases, eczema is one of the worst and most common. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. Mr. Andrew Aiton, of Hartland, N.B., says: "My little daughter, Grace Ella, aged three and a half, was a dreadful sufferer from eczema for three years. We tried a number of alleged cures and several doctors, but all without effect. Her's was indeed a bad case. Her little body was entirely covered with rash. One day our local druggist, Mr. Wm. B. Thistle, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I did so, and four boxes effected a complete cure and saved our child."

Dr Chase's Ointment is just as effective for piles, salt rheum and sores of all descriptions. For sale by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto; price 60 cents.

There is nothing to equal Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for severe colds and lung troubles. Large bottle 25 cents.

A splendid Medicine.

Dear Sirs,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

Nearly every British subject has been more or less interested in the doings of this now well known man and his followers, and as most people are anxious to see these views an opportunity will be offered next Tuesday. The prices of admission have been made low enough so as to be in the reach of all. Don't miss this treat as it will be the only one offered. Seats now on sale at Ormond & Walsh's Drug store. Prices, 25 and 35c, children 15c.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

There Will be no Meeting in the Opera House on Sunday Afternoon.

The Charlotte street Methodist church was filled to its utmost capacity again last night with persons who were anxious to hear Evangelist A. H. Ranton deliver his second address on "Ups and Downs." Some one asked "Will there be a meeting in the Opera House next Sunday afternoon?" and Mr. Ranton replied that there would be no meeting, as the rooster, which he had mentioned the previous evening, had not crowed since.

Miss Headren's beautiful voice was heard with fine effect in the solo "Keep a light in the Window for Me."

Mr. Ranton took as his text Mark xii., 34:—"And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, He said unto him, Thou art not far from the kindom of God." He pointed out that sometimes the soul is much nearer the kingdom of heaven than it is at others. When a person begins to reflect seriously on his condition, spiritually, he is not far from the kingdom.

He then pointed out the "too-willingness" of some persons to voice their opinions whenever they were spoken to concerning the welfare of their soul's salvation. They will begin talking about something which has no connection with the subject at all. They will not frankly say that they have sinned, as all have done, and come short of the glory of God. Again, some people will not for any length of time give the thought consideration. This sin of non-consideration is a great one. In your business, you will ponder and consider things for a day, a week, a week or a month, perhaps, and rightly so, but when it comes down to the great question of your soul's salvation you will not hear of such a thing. There are three questions which you should consider, namely:

"Who am I?"
The Bible answers this question.
"Where am I?"
The good Book says we are here to-day and away to-morrow, and finally you have to consider the question—
"Where am I going?"
Again the Bible tells us that we shall all appear befor the judgment bar of God. "If one would only act up to one's conviction in this matter," said Mr. Ranton, "one would soon be converted."

DR. KEMPT'S FUNERAL.

The Remains Will be Interred in Norwood This Afternoon.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

LITTLE ELIZA JANE MURRAY THE FIRST VICTIM OF THE SEASON.

A Brave Effort to Save the Child's Life Made by Mr. Edw. Cassidy, but Unfortunately the Water was so Cold as to Give Him Cramps and Frustrated the Attempt.

The first drowning accident of the season took place yesterday afternoon, when little Eliza Jane Murray, the seven year-old daughter of Mr. Michael Murray, Reid street, met her death in the treacherous Otonabee.

The little girl with two companions was playing around the C. P. R. bridge all afternoon. Shortly after four o'clock she got into into a large nineteen foot canoe, which was hauled up on the shore just above the bridge. While she was in the canoe one of her companions pushed it out into the water. Becoming frightened at being afloat, the child sprang out of the canoe in an endeavour to reach the shore, but the water was too deep for her and she was rapidly carried away by the current. The outcry of the other two little girls attracted the attention of Messrs. Edw. Cassidy and Bert Guy and a number of other young men, who were just below the bridge, and as the little girl floated on top of the water for about one hundred yards she was in plain view from the shore. They immediately put off to the rescue in a punt, and when near the child Cassidy sprang into the water and attempted to swim to her, but unfortunately took cramps through the coldness of the water and had to abandon the rescue. He was saved himself with difficulty. In the meantime the punt, which was a leaky old affair, filled with water and its occupants had to exert all their efforts in getting back to the shore in safety.

By the time the wharf was reached again the little girl had entirely disappeared from view and all attempts to rescue her had to be abandoned.

The father of the child, with a large number of his friends, were endeavouring to find the body by dragging with grappling hooks during the evening, but without any results. It is held by many that, as the water is three and a half feet above its normal level and the current very swift, the body will not rest on the bottom for some time and may possibly be far down below the locks at the present moment. Others again think that the remains will be found not a hundred yards from where the child was last seen.

The brave effort of young Cassidy to save the little one's life is deserving of the greatest praise. Without a thought of the great danger he was incurring by entering the icy water he sprang boldly to the rescue and only desisted just in time to save his own life as, though a powerful swimmer, he was completely exhausted when he reached the shore. This is not the first time this young man has imperilled his life to save that of another, many a lad having been rescued by him in the vicinity of Burnham's Point, which is patronized by the youngsters as a swimming ground.

When seen at her residence on Reid street, near Sherbrooke, this morning by an EXAMINER reporter, Mrs. Murray, who is heartbroken over the accident, stated that her little one left the house shortly after three o'clock with Annie Gardon, a neighbour's child, who stated that she had to go down town for a parcel. The next thing that she heard was that the little girl had been drowned.

The family only moved in from Ennismore last July, where Mr. Murray was the township clerk. They resided on the shore of Chemong Lake for years, but this is the first accident of the kind to be recorded in the family.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Mary Hunt, of Warkworth, and Mr. D. H. Booth, of Norwood.

A happy event took place Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Booth, near Warkworth, when Mr. D. H. Booth, photographer, of Norwood, claimed as his bride Miss Mary Hunt, youngest daughter of Edward H. Hunt, Esq., of Alresford House, Shirley, England, retired barrister.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Sutherland, pastor of the Presbyterian church. It was a very quiet affair, only a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties being present.

After the ceremony the company sat down to a well appointed wedding dinner to which ample justice was done, and early in the evening the young couple took their departure for Norwood. The groom is a very popular young man and holds several very important positions, being treasurer of Norwood and secretary-treasurer of the Public Library. We join with Mr. Booth's many friends in this community in extending to him and his estimable lady our best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.—Register.

A WHEAT-STEALING CASE.

John Wilson and his Son Committed for Trial on Wednesday.

(Special to the Examiner.)

MILLBROOK, April 21st.

Great excitement has prevailed in and around Millbrook for the last few days over the arrest of Mr. John Wilson and his son, a young man about twenty-five years of age, charged with stealing a quantity of wheat from the barn of Mr. C. Winslow, who lives on the 11th concession of the township of Cavan.

Previous to this the Wilsons, who are neighbours of the Winslows, have borne a good character, and their arrest, which took place on Saturday night, caused no little excitement. The old man was bailed out on Sunday morning, but the son remained locked up until after the preliminary investigation, when he also was released on bail.

The preliminary investigation commenced on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and continued until 10 o'clock on Wednesday night, making the necessary adjournment only for lunch, and also from 10 o'clock Tuesday night until ten next morning.

Mr. F. D. Kerr of Peterborough represented the crown, and Mr. R. Ruddy appeared for the defendants.

The Crown's case in brief was that there was undoubtedly wheat stolen from Mr. Winslow's barn; that waggon tracks had been traced from that same barn to that of the prisoners; that a piece of wood had been placed on the road, where the waggon had apparently come in contact with a stump at the side of the road; and the same piece of wood fitted exactly in a place where a piece had been freshly broken out on Wilson's waggon, that the measurement of Wilson's horses feet tallied exactly with the measurement of the prints of the horses feet they had tracked from barn to barn, that the samples of wheat were the same.

The defence went on to show that young Wilson had on the same morning, and before Constable Nattrass had arrived to work up the case, driven out of his yard to an adjoining farm and back again, which accounted for the tracks. That it was impossible to trace waggon tracks one mile and a half the day after they were made, and that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant their being sent down for trial.

The magistrate thought differently however, and committed them both for trial at Cobourg. They were immediately released on bail. During the trial the Crown witnesses were put through a severe cross-examination by Mr. Ruddy, that of the younger Winslow lasting from two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon until six in the evening, and that of Winslow senior from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. The court room was crowded throughout the whole trial and the greatest excitement prevailed.

INTERESTING TO TOWN AND COUNTRY BUYERS.

Friday and Saturday Bargain Days at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Peterborough Bookstore has grown to be the centre for bargains in wall papers, window blinds, cornice poles, room mouldings, and all allied furnishings for wall and window decorations. The public have also come to learn that this store is pledged to give the best service in baby carriages, boys' bicycles, girls tricycles, children's waggons and all children's wheeled rigs. The sporting fraternity, too, at this season of the year, likewise depend on us to gather the best supplies for the season's sports and games. Such a confidence is worth valuing highly, and we intend that the public will have good reason to keep on believing that this store sells at all seasons the best and cheapest kinds of merchandise in every line it carries.

Friday and Saterday we will set apart for special bargains in all the seasonable goods above enumerated. Shoppers can come here and have the pick of our big stocks in these prominent lines at special prices each day; and it will be worth while to come and compare if for no other object than to know what the goods look like and what they cost.

For the benefit of the babies, we give a special discount of 10 per cent. off on already low prices. $5 00 will buy a good serviceable carriage of the Gendron make; $8.25 a neatly upholstered carriage; and $10, a handsome carriage with reed body and American plush and silk upholsterings. Parasols, wheels, springs and all other parts the newest and best we could buy.

In Wall Papers we wouldn't be doing such a business if our prices were wrong, but we will do even better on Friday and Saturday. Come and make your selections at 5, 6, 8, 10, 15 and 20c. Such prices as these will surely be sufficient inducement right at the commencement of the wall paper season.

In window blinds we carry every line you need—with or without dado, and with or without fringe or lace. Expect such prices as these for any colour of blind you want, mounted on rollers—19c., 24c., 25c., 35c., 45c.

Cornice Poles and Brass Trimmings—A complete curtain pole includes one five-foot pole, two ends, two brackets, ten rings, ten pins. The nobbiest sets to choose from, and the prices to guide you—17c., 25c., 35c., 45c.

Room mouldings at 2c., 3c. and 4c.

Pictures, framed and ready to hang up, for 75c., 89c. and $1.40.

Base balls, masks, clubs, mitts, etc.

Lacrosse sticks and balls—the choicest ever shown in town.

Nuptials of Mr. Edgar Wood and Miss Aggie Lang.

On Thursday evening, 15th inst, the residence of Mr. John Lang, M. P., was the scene of one of those happy events which are always interesting to the contracting parties and their friends. This occasion the Rev. Mr. Andrews, of Keene, united in marriage Mr. Lang's eldest daughter, Aggie, to Mr. Edgar Wood. The bride was beautifully and becomingly dressed; the wedding breakfast was served in Mr. and Mrs. Lang's well known hospitable manner. The presents were both numerous, useful and beautiful and testified to the high regard the bride was held by her friends. The gathering, which was confined to the relatives of the contracting parties, was large and a most pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent by those favoured ones who were present. Mr. and Mrs. Wood have taken up their residence at Cavanville and their numerous friends wish them many years of happiness and prosperity.

Art of Advertising.

The best advertising medium is the daily paper. The best advertisement is the one that tells what you want to say in the fewest and plainest words. So word your advertisement that it will be understood. So display it that it will catch the eye. Insert it in the best daily paper—mind you, the best. If the advertisement is as good as it should be, and the display is as good as it can be, one insertion ought to do; change it. To do more business, prepare a new advertisement and use more daily papers.

MILITARY CELEBRATE THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

TO BE COMMEMORATED BY GETTING A NEW STAND OF COLOURS.

A List of Sports Drawn up in Which the Infantry, Cavalry, Artillery, Veterans, and Boys' Brigades Can Participate—Queen's Birthday Celebration.

The Queen's Birthday celebration committee, composed of representatives from the 57th Battalion, Veterans, Artillery and Cavalry, met last evening in the drill shed with Lt.-Col. Bell in the chair, and drew up the following list of sports which will take place on the afternoon of the 24th of May in the Agricultural Grounds:

THE PROGRAMME.

1. Heads and posts for the Cavalry.
2. Tilting at the ring for the Cavalry.
3. Wrestling on horseback for the Cavalry.
4. Saddling picketed horses and riding to a given point by the Cavalry.
5. Menagerie race—Non-com. officers.
6. Bayonet exercise and physical drill.
7. Pick-a-back race.
8. Wheelbarrow race.
9. Sack race.
10. Marching race in sections of eight with commander.
11. Ambulance and bandaging competition.
12. Boot race for members of the Boys' Brigades.
13. Tug-of-war between teams of ten men from any battery, troop, company or the Veterans.
14. Marching competition in line, fours, files and front formations, between companies of not less than twenty from the Boys' Brigades.
15. 100 yard race—Boys of the Brigade under fourteen.
16. 100 yard race—Boys of the Brigade over fourteen.
17. Veterans' race—Three mile (with a turn).
18. Bicycle races.
19. Buglers' competition.
20. Company race—not less than twenty men to a company.

AS WILL BE OBSERVED

the programme will have to be readjusted, but it is thought that every man connected with the organizations interested in the celebration will have a chance to compete in some of them.

A committee composed of Capt. Mason, Mr. Dennistoun and Mr. T. A. S. Hay was appointed to number the different events on the programme and make arrangements for the prizes, which will consist of cups, medals and other trophies.

At the opening of the meeting Mr. T. A. S. Hay suggested that, instead of the funds being handed over to the 57th, they be devoted to the purchase of a new stand of colours for the battalion. He explained that the set would be and although this amount would hardly be raised still the receipts of the day would form the nucleus of a fund to be devoted to the purpose mentioned. The ladies had several times announced their intention of presenting the Battalion with a new set of colours, but his suggestion would not in any way interfere with them as it would simply lessen the amount to be raised. He stated further that the present colours were presented by the ladies, Mrs. Gilmour taking the matter in hand in 1866.

Mr. A. P. Poussette thought the Jubilee year could be made a memorial one by following out the suggestion.

Lt.-Col. Bell endorsed the idea as a good one, stating that the celebration would doubtless be better supported if the funds were to be devoted to some such definite object.

It was resolved, therefore, that the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee year be commemorated by the procuring of a new stand of colours for the Battalion.

The old set were shown to be in a very dilapidated condition indeed, and the object therefore to which the funds will be donated is a laudable one.

THE NEW TARIFF.

The new tariff for which the country has been somewhat anxiously waiting, was brought down yesterday evening; it was the more anxiously expected towards the last from the fact that the Government in the name of fair play, so that one industrial interest should not have the advantage of another, took possession of the telegraph lines and would not allow anything to be sent out till the conclusion of the Budget speech. The public curiosity was further stimulated by the fact that this new tariff was to be the concrete expression of the policy of a new government which had antagonized the principle of the tariff in force since 1878. The result shows that the Government has met the conditions which the party set forth in its declaration of principles at the Ottawa convention of 1893 as desirable to be brought into action. In the spirit of the assurance of the Liberal leaders that there would be no violent or injurious interference with the present tariff, the new tariff is largely the first step in the modification of the present tariff, freed from the injustices and enormities of the old schedule. The most important feature of the new tariff, though that fact is not expressed in so many words, is that it gives preference above all the products of other countries to the products of Great Britain, a circumstance that constitutes an expression of practical loyalty to the dear old land, far beyond, in weight and value, all the flag-flaunting and lip loyalty (in the face of actual discrimination) indulged in by the party that was so long in power. While there is no jingoism in the new tariff, Mr. Fielding's declaration in the budget speech that he proposed, in effect, to meet the United States duty with a similar impost, awoke the enthusiasm of both sides of the House. It is impossible to summarize comprehensively the features of the new tariff, but it may be briefly stated that its leading features are freer trade with Great Britain, a double schedule of duties, one for the Mother Land and one for high tariff countries, in the former of which the Old Country is distinctly favoured; the combines and the evils which they foster have received vigorous and hostile attention, and in fine that, while existing industrial interests have not been ignored, a step has been made in the direction of freer trade, and the beginning of a new era of prosperity.

THE JUBILEE BATTALION.

A specimen brick of the Canadian volunteer militia force is to be sent to London to take part in the Diamond Jubilee festivities. This is a most commendable move, both as an exhibition of loyal interest in a notable event, and also as serving to show what material the Canadians are made of. While none will dispute the desirability of such a contingent being sent, it will be demanded that the force sent should be as representative as possible, not only of the different arms of the service, but of the chief battalions of the country as well. No province or prominent battalion should be neglected. According to the latest published programme this representative character is not being fully provided for. As regards the infantry, the arrangements are to select four men each from fourteen specified battalions. These are all "city" battalions. Now it is in order to inquire why the Adjutant-General or the Deputy Adjutant-General has ignored several other city battalions, including the 57th Rangers, Peterborough; the 90th Battalion, Winnipeg, the 53rd Sherbrooke, P.Q., the 38th Dufferin Rifles, Brantford, the 7th Fusiliers, London, and the 15th Argyle Light Infantry, Belleville. Why are these battalions left out? One object of the Jubilee Battalion is to exhibit to our British cousins the flower of the Canadian militia. Now, the 57th Battalion Peterborough, is equal to and ahead of many of the fortunate battalions from which men are to be selected. For years it has headed the list for efficiency and soldierly qualities in the 3rd and 4th Military districts, and it has taken a creditable position among the entire infantry force of the Dominion. It is one of the oldest battalions in the volunteer militia; though it is numbered high—57—yet its number would probably have been in single figures had it not been for some absurd red tapeism, or something worse, in gazetting. There is no earthly reason, it seems to us, why the gallant Rangers should be overlooked in the selection of a battalion to visit London. The people's money is to be used to send the force, and the people should be recognised as fully as possible. Of course the militia officials, not having a directly representative capacity, cannot be expected to be moved by public considerations as readily as the Minister of Militia, the representative of the people. No time should be lost in pressing Peterborough's claims to recognition. There is, it would seem, plenty of time to recast the drafting, for the men selected will be practically perfect in drill and manœuvre, and very little drill of the completed battalion would be required to bring it to A 1 efficiency. By all means include all the city battalions, especially the 57th. Reduce the number to be selected from each corps from four to three and if, as would be the case, that would interfere with existing arrangements, take only two from some battalions. The object is not so much the numerical representation of the city battalions, as the recognition of their existence and importance. It is suggested that steps be at once taken, backed by all possible local influence, to bring the matter to the attention of Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, or rather Sir Richard Cartwright, acting minister. It is to be regretted that in strict truth the blame cannot be entirely placed upon the military authorities. If the local officers and the representatives of the East and West Ridings, the latter especially, had acted more promptly it is probable that that Peterborough's justifiable complaint as to being ignored would have had no foundation. And it may not yet be too late to take action. But sharp's the word and in the military sense of sharpness, too. We bespeak prompt action on behalf of the credit of the town and the Rangers.

A WOMEN'S FAMINE FUND.

The women in a number of places have taken up this most charitable work, and it is to be hoped that the women of Peterborough will not be behind in doing their share towards relieving the great suffering of their fellow-beings in the plague-infected districts of India.

Miss Caroline Macklem writes to the women of Toronto, through the Globe as follows:

May I once more, my dear fellow-readers, call your attention to our "woman's fund for the India famine," which now through its seven branches reaches the sum of over $100. At the same time the names are but few on the list, and I feel sure that there are many in Toronto and elsewhere who, if they have not already given, but feel they can, would be glad in spite of so many very pressing home needs, to help our good missionaries of India to feed and succour these poor starving people, who come to them for pastor, and in fact for life. Such heart-breaking accounts have reached us of children hidden about the verandahs of these homes, because they could not be taken in; children ready to perish for want of food. Can we not and shall we not do our very best to help our good Samaritans, the Christian missionaries, to put food into these hungry mouths and perhaps light and love into those sad and darkened hearts? Help through our missionaries goes out with double blessing, and we may be very sure they are most careful and wise in dispensing what funds are at their disposal. Alas, we little realize what it must be to see the condition of these half-starved people, and not be able to feed them. Will you not all do what you can? Shall we not count every cent we can spare for them a joy and a privilege to give? There are many months yet in which to care for and cure our sick "Lazaruses," and we want to be able to say to our missionaries, "What thou spendest more—we will repay thee." How gladly would these good men and women who have gone forth in Christ's name to heal bodies and souls of men bear all expenses themselves if they could.

May God give many hearts a strong desire and loving will to help this work.

Contributions will be acknowledged from time to time through the daily papers, and will be sent to Toronto to be forwarded with the Toronto women's offering. The following have kindly consented to receive subscriptions: Messrs. R. Fair, J. C. Turnbull, W. Hamilton, Metropolitan Grocery, E. Brown & Co., Peter Connal & Co.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 43 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 65 cts. It has since sold at 85 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.45; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. Railroad stocks and bonds bought on the New York Stock Exchange for investment or on liberal margins. UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

AN EXCELLENT TRELLIS.

Things to Be Considered in a Support for Sweet Peas.

Grow them at their best and provide for both height and strength. Then allow for their loose branching habit, and give them width enough to ramble. While a six-foot single trellis of poultry-wire running between the double rows is passably good, it cramps the vines, and I would prefer to plant the seed in a triple row. If they grow above that, a few strands of wire will give the top something to cling to. The illustration shows a trellis of this kind. If you still prefer to use a single support of six-foot poultry wire, frame it up well, and tack on the posts short crosspieces, from the ends of which stretch wires to hold the vines well up to the poultry-wire. In regard to amount of seed to be sown, an ounce to every ten feet of trellis would be about right. A trellis such as here illustrated could also be used to show off a row of tomatoes to best advantage.

Japanese Self-Sacrifice.

On board the Matsushima, one man, who had been shot in the abdomen, and whose intestines were protruding from the gaping wounds, refused to be carried to the surgeon's ward, because, he said, he did not want to take any of the fighters from their work to carry him below. Another, after having had his body burnt out of all recognition in attempting to extinguish a fire, stood by helping all he could till the flames were put out, when he died. A third, mortally wounded, man, whose every gasp brought forth a gush of blood, would not close his eyes until he had told a comrade where the key of an important locker was and what the locker contained. A chief gunner, whose underjaw had been shot away, and who, of course, could not utter a word, signed to a subordinate with a nod to take his place, and fell dead after he had placed the handle of the gun lever in his subordinate's hand.—Heroic Japan.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness or tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. No one in a thousand does it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them in nutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases: and all disease are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

GIRL WORTH HAVING.

"Your father is better now, Miss Marcia, and I'm going to let you sit with him a little while, so that your mother can rest. But be careful that you don't let him talk too much, won't you?"

"Yes, doctor. But do you think papa will ever be well again, just as well as he used to be?"

"It will be a long time before he will be, and he may never be, but I hope he may be quite strong, and able to get much enjoyment out of life even if he must spend the rest of his days as a cripple."

Marcia winced a little at that word, and the tears filled her eyes, but she bravely forced him back. She did not intend that the doctor should see her crying; she was afraid he would think she was not womanly enough to help take care of her father.

"It will be hard for him to be a cripple, and hard for us to see him helpless, but it is so much better than for us not to have him at all, that I can't feel an other way than thankful about it." Even as Marcia spoke, her voice trembled with suppressed feeling, but her lips smiled as pleasantly as usual, and that was very pleasant.

"Papa," she said, cheerily, a minute later, "I've beaten them all; they just had to let me take care of you. They couldn't hatch up another excuse to prevent it. That's what comes of persistence. The doctor said you mustn't talk, but he didn't say I mustn't; neither did he forbid my kissing you, just once. There!"

"She'll do," said the doctor to himself, as he started off. He had been playing eavesdropper, to find out if it were really safe to leave a 16-year-old girl in charge of his very sick patient. Marcia had only seen her father once before since he had fallen from the high building on which he was helping to build a chimney, and she had been hastily summoned from school, because they thought he was dying. The old doctor had feared that she would "make a scene," when she did see him. But the wife was tired, the sick man would have no strange nurse, and he had been calling for Marcia, so it had been thought best to try her.

"If that bright-eyed girl had only been a boy, there would be a little brighter outlook for poor Morris," mused the doctor, as he rode towards the next patient's house, "for then there would be a prospect of help at some future time; but now it certainly looks very dark for him."

It surely did look dark, and the sick man in spite of the repeated injunction not to worry, could not help wondering over and over again what was to become of them all, and how they were to keep out of the poorhouse. A workingman, with a family to feed and clothe and educate, and who has only his own hands to depend on, can generally manage to lay up but little for the proverbial "rainy day." But when the rainy day has not only put in its appearance, but has rendered the head of the house forever unfit for labor, the outlook is far from pleasant. The Morris family were fortunate in having their little home all paid for, and enough money to help them through the first weeks of their great trouble; but, in the eyes of their neighbors, they were unfortunate in having no boys in the wamily. "If Marcia had only been a boy, and could go to work!" had been said in her presence over and over again, when sympathetic friends had dropped in with well-meant advice and suggestions as to the best way for the troubled family to earn their daily bread.

"Why can't I work, if I'm not a boy?" demanded Marcia.

"Why, you can, of course," was the answer, "but what will it amount to? Girls get so little for their work; but with a boy it is different. A boy of 16 is capable of earning very good wages."

"Never mind, girls," Marcia would say, turning to her three younger sisters, "we won't cry because we're girls till we're very sure that girls are no good, will we? I believe we can help papa and mamma just as much as if we were boys."

"So do I," answered each one of the sisters, who always believed everything Marcia said.

But let us go back to the sick room and see how Marcia is getting along in her new role of nurse.

"As I said before, papa," you mustn't talk, but there is no reason why you shouldn't listen. At least the doctor didn't say you shouldn't. I've been thinking of something for two or three days, and now my mind is made up to try it, if you are willing. That is one reason why I was so determined to take care of you all by myself. I haven't said a word about it to mamma yet, for she is so perfectly distracted that she can't think of anything else but just you. But I'm ore heartless, thank fortune! I speculated on what you were thinking about, and was sure it was money. You've been worrying about how we were going to live, haven't you? Wink your eyes fast, this way, if I've guessed right. There, I knew it all the time. Are you tired? Just shake our head, but don't speak. Oh, papa, don't laugh! Don't, for anything! for that will excite you, and then I'll get scolded, and they won't let me see you again!"

"You're most too careful," said the sick man. "I have been allowed to talk a little all along, and I guess it won't hurt me to say yes and no now."

"Oh, won't it?" I'm awfully glad, for it was almost too much for my gravity to see you lying there, blinking like a sleepy owl. But I know you mustn't talk much, or the doctor wouldn't have laid such fearful commands on me. Well, what I wanted to say is this: I believe I've thought of something I can do to help support the family. I'm going to be traveling saleswoman for a grocery store."

Mr. Morris looked at his daughter in amazement and opened his mouth to echo her last remarkable statement, but a plump hand instantly covered it and a merry laugh sounded in his ear.

"Oh, papa, don't speak, please don't! I suspect I have spoiled everything by giggling out in that way, but you did look so funny! Actually, papa, you did look too horrified for anything. Do you suppose anyone heard me laughing? I hope not, for I haven't got half through with you yet. Now be patient, and I'll explain. I was thinking how easily Mr. Bailey made a living. You know he is traveling salesman for a grocery store; and I came pretty near wishing that I was a boy so that I could go and do likewise. Guess I should have wished it, if I hadn't been taken with the idea that I could do it anyway, so I called on Mr. Allen at once—your look of horror grows more intense, but don't you dare utter a syllable—and laid the plan before him with many misgivings, much trembling, and a few tears on my stubby eyelashes. Honestly, papa, I was pretty nearly frightened to death; but Mr. Allen says he will give me ten per cent. commission on all the groceries I can sell, and I am to deliver everything but flour and heavy things of that sort. I thought if I could make Dobbin useful, then we shouldn't be obliged to sell him, and you will need him when you are able to ride out. There's a great many people in this city, and it seems as if I could persuade a few of them to buy their groceries of me, doesn't it? What do you think of the plan? Are you willing I should try?"

Mr. Morris nodded his assent. There was no need this time for his daughter to warn him not to speak, for he couldn't have said a word had he tried.

"All right, papa," resumed Marcia, "I'll begin to-morrow, and, oh, how I do hope I shall succeed! I might go out as a child-nurse or housework girl, but I couldn't earn much, and I don't want to go away from home. I want to earn just as much money as a boy would, and stay at home, too. And, you see, if I can work up in this, Gertie can help me after awhile."

Mamma came in just then, and was informed that papa was much better, for he had been receiving treatment from an excellent mind-cure physician, whose services he wouldn't exchange for a dozen Mr. Wilsons.

Marcia went at her new work energetically, just as she did everything else. She found many disagreeable things about it, and met many impolite people, and experienced not a few discouragements, but she would not give up, and she finally succeeded in earning a very good living for her family. Every forenoon is spent in taking orders for groceries; every afternoon in delivering them. She is prompt, businesslike and pleasant, and is welcomed in many homes where a man would not be tolerated. As fast as she got regular customers whose patronage she was sure of, she put them on her list to be visited on certain days of the week, and gradually Gertie was brought to be of use in taking their orders, while Marcia went into new quarters to "drum up new trade," as she delighted in calling it.

Mr. Morris is not able to work, and never will be again, but their pretty little home has not been mortgaged, as the neighbors said it would have to be; the horse and buggy have not been sold, the family is not in debt, nor do they depend on their neighbors for help, and everyone is obliged to confess that they get along quite as well as they could have had Marcia been a boy.

The Ladies of Constantinople.

It was amusing to see negresses with the thickest of lips veiled. All the pretty faces were more or less painted and the eyelids and eyebrows pencilled. The quality of the paint showed the quality of the lady. Poor women daub themselves with horrid pigments. No Turkish gentleman goes out to walk with his wife; to do so would be counted in the highest degree absurd. At most she is followed by a slave. But wrapped up in the ugly black silk feridje, she can go where she pleases and alone. No man would dream of looking at a veiled lady in a feridje. Were a Galour to scan her face he would run a risk of being massacred. Snopping is a feminine pastime; another is holding receptions, which, of course, ladies only attend. Munching sweetmeats renders Constantinople belles grossly fat while still young, and rather spoils their teeth. All over the East teeth are even, white, and of medium size, and mouths well-shaped. They are mouths made for laughter, gourmandise, and sensual love. Eastern women are far better looking in youth than Western. Those of Stamboul are the least graceful. They are seldom neat about the ankles. Their stockings are not well drawn up, their shoes are a world too big, and their gait is heavy and shuffling.—London Truth.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills FOR WEAK PEOPLE

Having Heart or Nerve Troubles such as Palpitation, Throbbing or Irregular Beating of the Heart, Dizziness, Shortness of Breath, Distress After Exertion, Smothering Feeling, Spasms or Pain Through the Breast and Heart, Morbid Condition of the Mind, Feeling of Anxiety, Etc. These Pills are invaluable for Weak and Nervous People troubled with Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Anæmia, General Debility, After Effect of Grippe, Loss of Appetite, Etc.

Here is Proof

Mr. Thomas Unwin was thrown from a trolley car about seven months ago and sustained severe injuries to his head, being carried home insensible. He has since been a great sufferer from pains in the head, smothering of the heart. He could not sleep or eat well, and found life a perpetual misery. His feet and limbs were swollen three times their natural size, and his nervous system was shattered. The doctor called three times a day for many days, but could do nothing for him.

Mr. Unwin says: They had given me up to die, when I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and thought I would try them.

My wife got a box at John A. Barr's drug store and I began their use. In a very short time I got better.

The swelling has left my feet and limbs and they are now of normal size. I sleep well and eat well. The pains in my head have gone away, and I feel better in every particular. Mrs. Unwin thought so much of the pills that she walked three miles through a snow storm to get them for me, and they were well worth the trouble.

(Signed) THOMAS UNWIN.

More Proof Still

READ THIS LETTER:

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—I have been physically weak for over two years, my blood very thin and seeming to lack vitality. I felt weary and unrested nearly all the time and suffered greatly from complete nervous prostration. My nervous troubles brought on palpitation and irregular action of the heart, and I suffered greatly from coldness of the hands and feet. Sometimes my hands and feet felt as if they were frozen. Nervous headaches and dizziness also caused me great distress. Seven weeks ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills from Mr. E. C. Harvey's drug store, and since taking them have gained steadily in strength. My blood has become richer and circulates more freely. These pills have strengthened my heart and nervous system and banished the ills from which I suffered. I feel completely invigorated and built up, and can say that in my case they have acted as a splendid restorative, so much so that I can recommend them to any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble as I did. (Sgd.) MRS M. PIERCE,
28 Wilson-avenue,
St. Thomas, Ont.

IT IS THE TRUTH.

A Brantford Lady Tells How She Was Cured.

Mrs. George Lemon, 131 Erie-avenue, Brantford, Ont., says: For a number of years I was greatly troubled with what the doctors called spasms of the heart. In fact I was in a terrible state. My heart pained me greatly, and fluttered continually. I could hardly get my breath at times.

As a consequence I lost weight, and had no appetite. However, as soon as I started using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I experienced prompt relief, and am now better than I have been for years.

When I commenced taking these wonderful pills I weighed only 125 pounds; now I weigh 149 pounds. I can heartily recommend the pills to all who suffer from any heart or nerve trouble, for they have cured me of all the distressing complaints from which I suffered for such a long time.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills may be obtained from any druggist. Price 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.50.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. The Mother's Pay Day.

What pay does a hard-working mother of a family receive for her labor at the end of a week? The husband may bring home his regular wages. Some of the children may be old enough to earn theirs. But the mother, what is her pay for her days of toil and often nights of anxiety? Well, she is either paid in love or she isn't paid at all.

The majority of mothers are perfectly satisfied with the simple recompense of loving appreciation. If any mother doesn't receive that much, it's an awful pity.

It's a sad thing when the mother comes down sick with overwork or worry, or because some little weakness or disease has been neglected until it gets to be alarming.

It should never be allowed to get to this point. She ought to be looked after right away. She needs the help of common sense medical treatment. Of course no one medicine will cure everything. A medicine must be specially adapted to its particular purpose.

If the digestive organs or the liver are out of order Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a perfect and scientific remedy. His "Favorite Prescription" is specially devised for weaknesses and diseases of the womanly organs; and it is the most potent remedy for these troubles which has ever been invented.

Where both these conditions exist these two medicines taken alternately constitute a thoroughly scientific course of treatment, which has been marvelously successful with thousands of dyspeptic, debilitated and nervous women.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,'" writes Mrs. Jed Lawrence, South Hero, Grand Isle Co., Vt. "My trouble was female weakness, kidney disease, neuralgia, change of life and bad flowing spells. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, seven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery, and seven small vials of 'Pellets.' The doctors did not help me any. I could not sleep night nor day. I suffered everything before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. When I began to use them I weighed 100 pounds. Now I weigh 145 pounds. I can now do all my work."

GARDEN AND ORCHARD

THE FARMER'S FRONT YARD.

Something About Appearances and Their Value to the Farm's Owner.

In riding by rail or by carriage, or by bike, through various parts of the country one thing is often very apparent and that is the carelessness and disregard of beauty, and often of neatness also, that characterizes the farmer's surroundings. Not all, but very many, need to "turn over a new leaf," and "brace up" round the house and barns.

With the laudable intention of saving travel and keeping his possessions under his watchful eye, the farmer is apt to locate his barns too near his house. He sacrifices suitability and sometimes health to convenience. Barns and stables and sheep sheds are not picturesque, though to the complacent owner's eye they are agreeable, representing as they do his industry and labor and the security and comfort of his stock. But—wouldn't these conditions be just as pleasant if, instead of making them prominent features, he relegated them to the background a little; didn't establish them under his own nose so closely, so to speak? There are sights and sounds—and smells, unavoidable and well enough in their way, which after all we don't care to keep too near us. The same farmer who puts his barnyard or perhaps his pig pen within forty feet of his house wouldn't buy or rent a house in town with a livery stable next door or across the street. He doesn't think anything about it when the stable is his own and on his own premises.

A man's barns are often not of his own locating, however, and must remain where some former occupant of the premises placed them. But his front yard! There's no evading his personal responsibility for that. Very often it does not enhance the attractiveness of his premises, and sometimes it seems to be the backyard slipped around to the front—when plows and harrows and wagon-box and hay-rack litter the roadside and the drive leading to the side door. The yard itself is turned out to commons, and bears wheelmarks and hoofprints when it has been driven over while soft from thaw or rain. A disconsolate lilac or a discouraged syringa and an air of neglect are its chief adornments, its tangled grass never having felt a lawn-mower; it is innocent of shrub or flower, and you half think a thrifty potato patch would be more agreeable than its desolation. To save fencing, or the trouble of maintaining a fence, a man will often remove all barriers and put his dooryard at the mercy of any wandering stock, while he smilingly declares he is "following city fashions." But I for one like best to see the farmer's yard inclosed in a neat paling that divides it from the highway and conveys an idea of private ownership. In towns where houses are close together and near the sidewalk, and the little strip of lawn is continuous and well cared for, the conditions and the effect are different.

Farmers often fail to understand the value of beautifying their premises. They consider it a waste of time and trouble, labor that gives no financial return, and say they are too busy doing the work that is absolutely essential. But the minute a man wants to sell his place, attractiveness has a pecuniary value. Neatness and tastefulness, and trees, both orchard and ornamental, have a direct influence on price and on the puchaser's eagerness to buy. So well is this understood that one large builder in this city who buys lots, puts up residences and then sells them, makes it an invariable rule never to set a price on a place until the sidewalks are laid, the lot leveled and sodded and a few trees planted. He has learned he can ask and obtain a higher price under such circumstances and makes it a point to establish them. Appearances count for a good deal in this world.

It would be so easy this spring to set a few trees and shrubs, to fix up the fence and rehang the sagging gate, to make the flower border the wife has begged for, or perhaps even to plow and harrow the yard, roll it and make the beginning of a lawn by sowing a mixture of lawn grass seeds. Two or three seasons and a lawn mower might make that barren waste of weeds and dead grass a smooth green carpet—something to catch the eye and hold it by its neatness and finish. Then, the cost of a rustic screen to shut off from view whatever is unsightly in the way of out-buildings that cannot be removed is next to nothing, with posts and hickory poles to be had for the cutting in the woods, while the lovely prairie rose, the clematis, even the plebeian but pretty hop vine will gladly avail themselves of its aid to climb skyward, and that which was unpleasing is shut from sight and that which shuts it away made ornamental—a positive beauty.

Attractive Roadside Watering Place.

A community is "sized up," not only by the character of the farm buildings along the way, but by the character of the public highway as well, and one of the necessary adjuncts of a good highway is wayside watering places. If an effort is made to have these attractive, so much the better for the reputation of the community where they are situated. It is easy to make an atractive watering place, for one can call in the aid of vines and shrubs. A simple plan is shown in the illustration. A hogshead contains the water that is brought to it by a pipe. The sides and top are boxed in, and a roof carried up over the whole. Over this, vines are trained until the little building is fairly hidden by them. It may be thought that this is considerable trouble to take for a watering place, but everything that enhances the beauty of a roadside enhances the value of the property adjacent to it, and increases the respect of travelers for those who live adjacent. Well constructed roads, well kept roadsides, attractive watering places and properly marked guideposts indicate the vicinity of cultured, thrifty, up-to-date residents.—Country Gentleman.

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

TOMATOES.

A Thoroughly Practical Man Writes of Their Culture Manuring.

The mechanical preparation of land to be devoted to growing tomatoes should consist of thorough plowing and fitting; the soil, if in a good state of cultivation and fertility, would preferably be a somewhat light, sandy one, though excellent crops are raised on almost any soil where proper treatment is given. Plants from seeds sown in hotbeds the first week in March will be ready for setting by the middle of May, before which time it is rarely safe in this section (latitude 43 degrees) to reckon upon planting; many growers, however, contract for plants, as raising them involves considerable time and expense. Time was when barnyard manure was thought indispensible for the successful growing of tomatoes, but now green manuring and commercial fertilizers have greatly superseded it.

The following formula of a complete fertilizer for tomatoes can be relied on: 800 lb. nitrate of soda, 1000 lb. superphosphate, 300 lb. muriate of potash, making 1 ton of material, of which 500 to 800 lb. per acre should be used, it being worked well into the soil previous to setting of plants. As it has been shown by carefully conducted experiments and the success of practical growers that nitrate of soda increases maturity and yield, a second application of it broadcast, say 100 lb. per acre, two or three weeks later, or when the plants are growing nicely, could advantageously be made.

The usual distance apart for setting is 4 1-2 by 4 1-2 feet, giving 2150 plants to the acre; where, however, varieties with vines or medium or small size are planted 3 by 5 feet (2900 plants), is sufficient; in the latter case, the cultivator could be run both ways as long as practical, when the cultivating ould be continued in the 5-feet rows; besides giving more plants to the acre, the greater width ensures greater convenience in picking and transportation from the field.

The varieties planted are numerous, but Livingston's Favorite, Ignotum and Potomac are much in use, the first-named especially; Dwarf Champion, were it not for its tendency to rot in some localities, could hardly be excelled, owing to its compactness of growth (it could be planted 3 by 3 feet) and largeness and eveness of crop; but for its habit of maturing rather later than other varieties Livingston's Beauty would be the choice of the writer. There are few varieties but have a drawback of some sort, so the would-be grower should be guided in his selection by observing the kinds most successful in his vicinity.

The yield, too, varies greatly, but a fair one would be 6 to 8 tons per acre. Canning factories have multiplied enormously of late years, many of them having only an ephemeral existence, so that great care should be exercised in selecting one for patronage and still more when it comes to investing in its shares of stock. It should also be remembered that growing tomatoes requires aptitude, that the crop is a highly perishable one that is very dependent upon the season for a successful yield.

The tomato has two very active enemies, the potato-beetle and the tomato-worm, though both are amenable to spraying with paris green; but the rot, when discovered, can not often be controlled in time to save the crop. There should be a thoughtful consideration of plans before going into tomato-raising with its risks as to yield and disposal of crop.—Country Gentleman.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is known to be an honest medicine, and it actually cures when all others fail. Take it now.

Shakespeare's Hamlet.

The history of Hamlet is found in the Danish historian, Saxo Grammaticus, who died about 1204. His works are in Latin, and in Shakespeare's time had not been translated into any modern language. The story is to be found in Belleforest's ecollection of novels, begun in 1564, and an English translation of the story was published entitled "The Hystorie of Hamblet, Prince of Denmarke," Horvendile, in the novel, is the name of Hamlet's father, Fengon that of his uncle, and Geruth that of his mother. Fengon traitorously slays Horvendile and marries his brother's wife. In the second chapter Hamlet counterfeits the madman to escape the tyranny of his uncle. Through the machinations of his uncle he is tempted by a woman, the uncle thinking thereby to undermine the prince and find out whether madness is counterfeited or not. In the third chapter Fengon, the uncle, tries a second time to entrap Hamlet in politic madness and causes one of his councillors to be secretly hidden in the queen's chamber behind the curtains, to hear what speeches pass between Hamlet and the queen. Hamlet kills him and thus escapes danger. In the fourth chapter Hamlet is sent to England by Fengon with secret letters to have him put to death. While his companions sleep, Hamlet counterfeits the letters "willing the King of England to put the two messengers to death." Here ends the resemblance between the history and the play. The Hamlet of the history returns to Denmark, slays his uncle, burns his palace, makes an oration to the Danes and is elected king. He goes back to England, kills the king of that country, returns to Denmark with two English wives, and finally falls through the treachery of one of these ladies. This is the supposed source of the plot of Shakespeare's Hamlet.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.

James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches

A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

ENDORSING REV. MR. RANTON.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It has always been a great mystery to me why the forces that are working towards right and truth, or that seem to be doing so, should so often be at contrary purposes. There must be a mistake made about the direction of some of our efforts or we would work more in union and with better effect. The river of time is flowing swiftly towards the ocean of eternity and many are drifting out on its current to be lost forever. But yonder comes the Gospel ship and with it the the life-boat of salvation; the crews are singing joyfully and the oars flash in the water as they are pulled by the sturdy rowers up the mighty stream. But let us examine the crew more carefully. This is a life-boat and all in it are supposed to working for the common good; but whence come those fair maidens who flit gaily from side to side and glance with longing eyes across the dancing waters? They are some of the crew. But they are not rowing? How is this? Well, they have been but a little while in the life-boat and at first they rowed steadily, but they became weary and, looking across the waters they saw the fragrant white lilies of the world's pleasures and are anxious to grasp them. Look yet closer and you will see young and old man and some old women, who are also longing for the dazzling white cups as they float on the water and for the airy green rushes of rest and the purple cup of frail iris and in their eagerness to grasp the objects of their ambition they retard the rowers. And now they see gleaming on the water the golden loti of card playing. They reach over and grasp the flowers, how beautiful they looked in the river, but now they are brown and wilted; their thick green stalks seem to have the slime of serpents over them and their rich odor is sickening. But look yonder one of the maidens in her efforts to reach one of the white lilies loses her balance and is gone; the others frightened at her accident, make strenuous efforts to throw the life line to her, but in vain; their arms have grown weak from disuse and they cannot reach her. An oarsman drops his oars and hurries to her rescue, but too late. She is gone. The boat has been retarded by the roots of these flowers, which grow strong and sturdy beneath the water.

But look again at those frail pleasure boats gliding down the stream filled with our loved ones. Come into the life boat, the rowers cry, or you will be lost. Oh, no, we can reach the flowers easier from these boats; and on they go to destruction. The question is not, are these pleasures wrong, but we should all ask ourselves do they retard the progress of the Life Boat of Salvation? And if they do, and if we belong to the life-saving crew, we must do without garlands for the pall of our worldly hopes, and keep our strength for the rowing and the throwing of the life line. See that rower down in the stern of the vessel he is pulling with might and main, but one of the crew is steering into the weeds again. There is a white hand lifted from amongst the golden loti,—a splash of the water, and all is still, and now in front of the life boat a pleasure boat is wrecked, but the fragrant white lilies have choked up the river, and we must let the fair young lives come to naught. Oh woman, I would say to you that we cannot be too careful, lest sometime when we fain would throw out the life line, we find our hands hindered by the wreaths of dead blossoms that we have gathered for our own selfish pleasure. We have now in our midst a member of the life saving crew in the person of Mr. A. H. Ranton, and even though he may not have learned the particular college stroke which we are proud to call our own we fain would blend the stroke of our oar with the force of superior numbers and float out on the river free from all hindrance. Let us look to it that while yet we may, we go out and pull for the heavenly shore, where all slight differences of opinion are over, and we shall be satisfied.

Yours truly,
A PRESBYTERIAN WOMAN.

Dr Chase Cures Backache.

Kidney trouble generally begins with a single pain in the back, and in time develops into Bright's Disease. People troubled with stricture, impediments, stoppage of water, or a frequent desire to urinate at night, will find Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills a blessing. Read the wonderful cures in another column. One pill is a dose, and if taken every other night will positively cure kidney troubles.

THE CHOOSING OF MEATS.

Here Are Some Rules That Will Pay for Remembrance.

The oyster should be used as soon as opened—the sooner the better. When an oyster is not firm, when it has a cloudy or milky appearance, avoid it. This usually occurs during warm weather.

To buy fish, make sure that the flesh is firm, not flabby. The skin will be clear and the scales bright, the eyes full and the fins stiff.

In purchasing your chicken, select one that is plump and firm, the breast full and broad—except in the case of spring chickens, upon which little fat is found. The lean meat should be white, the fat a pale yellow, the skin will be fine grained, the legs smooth, the breastbone soft, and the toes easily broken by bending back. Many cooks consider a "dry-picked" chicken the best for culinary purposes. A "scalded" fowl may be easily detected by the skin. This will appear smooth and stretched tightly across the bone. In buying young fowls to broil choose those with yellow legs and firm, white skin.

A turkey, when good, has most of the points given above for chicken buying. The tip of the breastbone should be soft, the meat clear and firm. In purchasing chickens and turkeys, be careful to watch the liver, intestines, etc. See that these are of a healthy, normal color.

In buying other birds, as woodcock, quail, etc., do not worry over the gamey smell; this is not taint. All game of the kind has this odor. It is entirely different from that of decomposition.

As to venison—care is necessary with this also. It should show a good bit of fat. The fat should be white and the lean a dark red.

A good tongue may be discovered by certain points. It should be solid and thick. The under side should show a good deal of fat.

In sausages, pick out such as are firm and solid, being somewhat dry upon the outside.

In selecting pork, the main object is to secure such as comes from a young animal. The flesh should be firm and of a pale red color, the fat white, the skin white and clear. A poor quality of pork is shown by the fact that the flesh is soft and the fat yellow. When the pork has been salted, good pork will take on a pale pink shade. Nothing is more dangerous than pork which is unsound or from an unhealthy animal. The rind will be thin in the proper article, the grain will be fine, and the skin cold.

Good veal has several points by which it may be known. It should not be purchased when having a bluish tinge and a flabby feeling to the touch. This means that the animal was too young. The fat in the proper thing will be white and firm. Never buy veal in which the flesh is very white. This shows that the animal was bled before being killed. Veal, newly slain, changes color very rapidly.

In choosing lamb, select meat with red bones, with hard, white fat.

For mutton, take that which has fat hard and white. Meat of a fine grain, firm, dark red in color and juicy in appearance.

In beef, look for the following points: Good, young beef, whether of steer or heifer, is fine in grain, is firm and solid, with yellowish white fat. When first cut, it is dark red in color, which changes rapidly to light red as the air reaches it. It will contain much juice. The suet in good beef is dry. It is easily crumbled and is almost without fiber. The flesh of ox and cow is considerably darker in color than that of the young animals. It will appear rather dry. The grain will be coarser.

All fresh meat, to be sound and good, should be firm when tried by the fingers. It should show clearly the veins and branches. A pink hue in some cases warns one of disease. A deep purple suggests that the death was a natural one. No disagreeable odor should be noticed when the meat is cut before cooking. The fat should be white and suety. Moist and flabby fat shows poor meat.—Philadelphia press.

THE FRESHET IN MANITOBA.

Winnipeg is Not Distressed, But Emerson People Have to Live in the Upper Storeys of Their Houses.

Winnipeg, April 22.—(Special.)—The Red River at Winnipeg continues to rise slowly, but thus far no inconvenience has been caused here and there is believed to be no danger of a flood. At Emerson, Morris and other points down the river, where the land lies much lower and the river is much narrower, a serious state of affairs exists, the country being inundated and most people being compelled to live in the upper storeys of their houses. It is reported that along the Red River between Winnipeg and Emerson many settlers are suffering distress and want as a result of the flood. The Government is taking steps to find out if such reports are true, and will dispatch a steamer down the river to relieve any distress that may be found to exist. Despatches from Emerson tonight say the water is slowly receding, and it is now believed the worst stage has been passed.

The high water has caused more inconvenience than loss at Winnipeg. The water now stands 21 feet 10 inches above the ordinary low water mark. It is only two feet below the power house of the Electric Light Companies, but is not expected to reach them.

THEY CAUSED A SENSATION.

Eight British War Vessels Turned Up at Lorenzo Marquez and the Inhabitants Got Excited About It.

Lorenzo Marquise, Delagoa Bay, April 22.—A squadron of eight British warships arrived here yesterday evening. The advent of the squadron caused much excitement here. Six of the warships have entered the river and two others remain in the bay. A French warship has also arrived here.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

Large Increase in the Reserve and a Decrease in Circulation

London, April 22.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England, issued to-day, shows the following changes as compared with the previous account:

Total reserve increased £443,000, circulations decreased £549,000, bullion decreased £105,765, other securities increased £250,000, other deposits increased £38,000, public deposits increased £712,000, notes reserved increased £561,000, Government securities unchanged.

The proportion of the Bank of England's reserve to liability, which last week was 50.75 per cent., is now 50.91 per cent. The bank rate of discount remains unchanged at 2 1-2 per cent.

Fighting the Departmental Stores.

In attempting to fight the big department stores Chicago merchants are simply butting against an inexorable law of economics. The men who are crowded to the wall in the fierce struggle of business competition are deserving of all sympathy. They are wrecks from the cyclone of our competitive system. The conflict, however, is inevitable. It is one phase of the larger warfare which is changing the entire face of the Nation's industries. The department store and the trust spring from common soil. The movement of concentration comes in obedience to the relentless law of supply and demand. The department store, by concentrating its forces, can deliver goods cheaper than the individual merchant. Hamper its working, forbid its very existence, and this modern labor-saver yet will find means to obey the inexorable demands of social economy.—Illustrated American.

TURKS IN TROUBLE.

A Feeling of Depression at Constantinople.

FIFTY THOUSAND MORE TROOPS

Ordered to the Front—Osman Pasha, the Hero of Plevna, Takes Command and Edhem Pasha Retires—Several Victories Gained by King George's Troops.

London, April 23.—The Times' correspondent at Canea says that to-day the insurgents are attacking Fort Isseddin, which is occupied by the international troops in addition to the Turkish garrison. Three war ships have left Suda and anchored opposite the fort. The admirals have gone to reconnoitre in a torpedo boat. Col. Vassos has written to the admirals to ask whether the powers are in alliance with Turkey. The object of this inquiry is obvious.

The Athens correspondent of The Times says: Those in authority here regard the situation as highly critical, despite the favorable news from Epirus. Fighting continues at Mati. The Queen Regent since Constantine has ordered the army to maintain a strictly defensive attitude. A portion of the western squadron has been detached to bombard the fortress Parga, opposite Pax Island. The Turks have suffered unexpectedly severe reverses.

A despatch to The Standard from Constantinople says: The Russian Government has sharply ordered Bulgaria to keep quiet, yet Bulgaria has given the Porte notice that she will mobilize her troops to-morrow (Saturday) unless the Berats (the warrants for five more Bulgarian bishops in Macedonia) and the appointments of Bulgarian commercial agents at Uskub and Monastir are granted.

The correspondent of The Daily News at Constantinople says: It is reported that all telegraphic communication with Constantinople is now cut off, except by way of Odessa. I am assured that Isset Bey has been received again into the favor of the Sultan.

A despatch to The Daily News from Canea says that Col. Vassos has notified the admirals that he has been ordered to attack the Turks.

The Times correspondent at Canea says it is reported there that Col. Vassos has received this order.

A despatch to The Daily News from Larissa, dated Wednesday, says that the Greeks are about to assume the offensive against Vigla and Salonica and that the Greeks have occupied Karya.

The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says that the Crown Prince Constantine has wired to King George as follows:

"The Turks are quiet to-day, owing to our success yesterday (Thursday). We have destroyed the Turkish battery at Ligaria. The Turks have retired from Neseros and Rapsani. The action of our fleet at Katerina was excellent."

The Chronicle's correspondent at Athens says:

"The Turks are greatly dismayed by the destruction of their stores at Katerina and at Litochorion. Commodore Sachtouris destroyed the stores from the coast to the foot of Mount Olympus. Nothing remains, therefore, for Edhem Pasha to carry away but hunger. The coast road being barred, the only remaining road from Salonica is the Verria road, eight days from Elassona. The reports of the injury to the railway line by the blowing up of bridges and a tunnel are confirmed. It is reported here (Athens) that the Turkish troops will be withdrawn from Crete.

More Wounded Greeks Roasted.

Athens, April 23.—Among the wounded who arrived here are several who state that a number of the Greek wounded at Gritzovali, unable to follow the Greek retreat, were shut up in a small church by the Turks, who set fire to the buildings and burned them to death.

General Militia Called Out.

Athens, April 23.—It has been decided to call out several classes of the Landwehr, or militia. In Greece, all able-bodied males from 21 years of age and upwards are liable to be called upon for military service. The total service is for 19 years, of which two years with considerable terms of leave of absence, must be passed with the color. Eight and seven years are then passed in the reserve and the remainder of the total term of 19 years is passed in the militia, or Landwehr.

Montenegrins Ready to Fight.

Cettinje, Montenegro, April 23.—The Crown Prince Danilo, in an address to the Montenegrin troops to-day, said:

"We sincerely hope this conflict (the war between Turkey and Greece), will Greek Fleet Bombarding.

Corfu, April 23.—The western Greek squadron is bombarding Santi Quaranta and doing great damage to the town. All the Government and private buildings have been destroyed, with the exception of the Austrian agency. All the stores and merchandise on the quays have been burned.

Want to Shake Off the Yoke

Paris, April 23.—The Politique Coloniale publishes telegrams from the Sporades and the Island of Samos, off the coast of Asia Minor, declaring that the inhabitants are impatiently awaiting the arrival of the Greek fleet as a signal to shake off the Turkish yoke.

A Greek Victory.

Salonica, April 23.—The news is received here that on Tuesday, after a fierce battle, the Greeks occupied Karya. Fighting continues all along the line.

OSMAN TAKES COMMAND.

Edhem Pasha Supplanted by the Old Hero of Plevna.

Constantinople, April 23, afternoon.—An additional force of Redifs or army reserves has been called out to reinforce the Turkish troops operating against the Greeks. They consist of the Konieh Brigade, from Cesaere, a division from Smyrna belonging to the third army corps; three brigades from the fourth army corps and a division of the fifth army corps. These men will total up 72 additional battalions of troops, numbering 54,400 men.

It is now definitely announced that Osman Pasha, the hero of Plevna, has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Turkish army, having its headquarters at Elassona. Edhem Pasha has been recalled. In addition, Said Edhem Pasha has been appointed to command the Turkish army, having its headquarters at Janina, replacing Ahmed Hafiz Pasha, who is recalled.

The new Turkish commanders start for their posts this evening.

STOPPED BY FLOODS.

Turkish Troops Halted and Pontoons Sent for—Greeks Blew Up the Bridge.

Constantinople, April 22 (delayed in transmission.)—It is stated here that one of the Turkish brigades which was pushed forward on the plain of Larissa has been unable to advance further owing to floods caused by rains and the consequent rise of the River Salambria.

Edhem Pasha has telegraphed, asking for the immediate despatch of pontoons to enable the troops to cross the river, the Greeks having blown up the bridge.

These reports have had a very depressing effect here when taken in conjunction with the formidable resistance which the Turks have met with around Tyrnavo, and it is stated that Osman Pasha, the hero of Plevna, is to be sent to the seat of war in order to direct the military operations against the Greeks. This report has since been confirmed, apparently, by the statement that Osman Pasha, who, for some time past has had the honor of being selected to taste all the dishes served to the Sultan, and to see that they are safely conveyed untouched from the kitchen to His Majesty, has actually been ordered to the front.

In addition, the Turkish military authorities are considering the despatch of considerable reinforcements to the frontier, but, in spite of the difficulties encountered, no doubt is felt among the Turkish military men here that the Turks will ultimately occupy Larissa, though it is admitted the task will be harder than was imagined, the Government having confidently expected to capture the Greek headquarters by Tuesday morning last. A despatch from Salonica admits that the Greek forces have been successful in their operations against a Turkish division near Louros, Epirus, and another message from the same place announces that a squadron of Greek warships is bombarding Fort Karaburun, on the Gulf of Salonica.

THE POWERS WILL INTERVENE.

That is Provided the Participants in the Struggle Ask Them to.

Brussels, April 23.—Le Nord to-day announces that all the powers have given their assent to the note of the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, Count Mouravieff, assuring the Greeks and Turks of the friendly interference of the powers in the present struggle as soon as asked for by either side.

Turks Fled Hastily.

Arta, April 23 (delayed in transmission), 6 p.m.—The Turks have abandoned Kiafa and Kosnitzadenon, on the left bank of the Acacophos. The inhabitants fled precipitately, leaving their belongings. All along the route to Fort Imaret (captured by the Greeks), there were evidences of the hasty flight of the Turkish households. The belongings of the Turks were everywhere scattered about.

The prefect of Arta has reached Filipiada. He was received with acclamation by the population. A number of Greek wounded have been brought to Filipiada. The dead were left unburied all along the route. The headquarters of Col. Manos, the commander of the Greek forces in Epirus, are at Stina.

A lively fusilade continues between the Greek and Turkish outposts around Arta. In the villages abandoned by the Turks the Greeks found a considerable quantity of ammunition.

Even Women are Arming

Athens, April 23.—The excitement here continues to be most intense. Advices received here to-day from Volo say that even the women are arming themselves to do battle with the Turks.

Prevesa Citadel Still Held.

Berlin, April 23.—A telegram received here from Constantinople says that while it is true that the town of Prevesa has been partly destroyed by the guns of the Greek warship and those of a battery which the Greeks erected, the Citadel of Prevesa is not damaged and is still held by the Turks.

FIGHTING IN CRETE.

Battles Taking Place Almost Daily in the Vicinity of Candia.

London, April 23.—A despatch to The Times from Canea says that fighting is going on almost daily in the vicinity of Candia, where there are 5000 insurgents, including 500 cavalry, together with a considerable body of Greek troops and four heavy guns.

The Governor expresses a fear lest the insurgents may attack the town en masse. The Turks there have no field guns.

The Chronicle's Athens correspondent says that the Greeks have retreated from Sfakli.

According to the Times correspondent at Athens the result of the fighting which was raging furiously at Mati yesterday would decide the fate of Larissa; if the Turks capture Mati, Tyrnavo must fall, and Larissa follow.

A telegram from Larissa, dated 5 o'clock last evening, says that 10,000 Turks are engaged and that Crown Prince Constantine has arrived on the scene of action. The Greeks are maintaining their positions. All the despatches from Athens admit that the situation is extremely grave. Fighting appears to be going on along the whole frontier line. It is rumored there that the King will start for Larissa on Monday next.

The western division of the Greek fleet has sailed from Leucas for the coast of Epirus with the design of fomenting a revolt among the Albanians.

Turkish Fleet is Useless.

It is said that Hafe Pasha will resign the command of the Turkish fleet if it is ordered to leave the Dardanelles. He is said to have declared the vessels "quite unfit for active operations."

The Standard's correspondent at Constantinople describes the Turkish fleet and characterises its appearance as ridiculous. He says that six inch guns are the heaviest carried.

The captains of all the war vessels in the Dardanelles, including the torpedo boats, sent a round robin to Hafe Pasha declaring the fleet unfit for sea. The vessels have, therefore, been ordered to return; but singly, so as not to attract public attention.

It is reported that the plan of campaign approved by the Sultan, to take effect after the capture of Larissa, is to divide the army into two corps, one of which is to march by way of Volo and the other by a westerly route, and the two to unite at Athens, which is to be occupied and held until heavy indemnity is paid.

Calculating as to the Sway.

The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "I learn on good authority that the powers are already assuming that Turkey will be victorious, and are discussing ways and means of settling matters after the war is ended. One dictatorial power proposes that Greek dominions shall be curtailed, the said power retaining one district as a bond for the payment of Greece's debt to it."

A special despatch from Athens says that offers of help are reaching the Greek Government from all quarters, and the military authorities expect to have 40,000 volunteers enrolled under the Greek flag before the beginning of next week.

The Epirotes at Athens are preparing to leave that city in order to assist the Greeks in capturing Epirus, as far as the Berlin treaty line.

The National League of Greece (Ethnike Hetaireia), has advanced the passage money for a thousand Garibaldians, who are expected at the Piraeus immediately.

The Pan-Hellenic steamer Albania is on her way to Rimini to embark 3000 Italians, who, the Greek Minister at Rome telegraphs, are ready to fight for Greece.

French Volunteers for Greece.

Paris, April 23.—There was a great stir outside of the offices of the Greek Legation yesterday afternoon, the crowd clamoring to be sent, as volunteers to Greece. The embassy replies to all such requests that it has received no instructions from the Greek Government on this subject and is, therefore, not empowered to send volunteers forward to the scene of hostilities.

FROM GREEK SOURCES.

An Advance Made Into Turkish Territory by King George's Army.

London, April 23.—The Greek Charge d'Affaires here has received a despatch, dated from Athens to day, giving the exact situation on the Thessalian frontier from the Greek standpoint. It is as follows:

In Thessaly, in the direction of Reveni and Boughazi, our forces have penetrated into Turkish territory and have advanced toward Damasi.

All the attacks of the enemy have been repulsed in the direction of Gritzovali. Our army has occupied a strong position at Mati, where there has been fighting since yesterday. The Turkish attacks have been repulsed.

The Greeks had to retire from Neseros, falling back on the bank of the Dorchi, a strong position, which they are now defending.

In Epirus, our army is advancing and has captured Fort Imaret, Filipiada and several villages.

The Greeks have also occupied Salapora, capturing three cannon, a number of guns and a quantity of ammunition and provisions.

Athens, April 24.—1 a.m.—The Ministers held a prolonged conference at the War Office yesterday and then went to the Royal Palace for a council, at which King George presided. It is said that very important decisions were taken.

The Eastern squadron has bombarded Katerina and destroyed the custom house and other public buildings. The Western squadron has bombarded Mourto, north of Prevesa, and captured a Turkish steamer.

A despatch from Larissa says that the Greek artillery at Revent was reinforced and reduced Vigla to silence. This will enable the brigades of Col. Smolenitis and Col. Dimopoulos to unite in a movement toward Damasi.

A severe struggle continues at Bougfasi, where Col. Dimopoulos is and fate reports from Mati confirm the news of the retreat of the Greeks from Neseros with considerable losses. They have fallen back to Mavrychori, which is well fortified.

Fighting in the Olive Groves.

Athens, April 23.—Fighting has occurred in the olive groves near Prevesa, between the Turks and native Christians. Greek forces while on their way to Filipiada passed a number of charred corpses.

The inhabitants of Lefka and Samarina have risen against the Turks and have welcomed the Greeks with enthusiasm.

They Have Let Up on Prevesa.

Corfu, April 23.—The western Greek squadron of warships has suspended the bombardment of Prevesa, the Turkish position north of the entrance of the Gulf of Arta, and this morning left for Santi Quaranta: On arrival there the war vessels began bombarding the Turkish blockhouse.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

THE "LIBERAL TARIFF."

The Opinion of the Toronto World on the Subject.

The Toronto World, one of the most pronounced protectionist organs, thus gives its opinion of the new tariff, brought down by Mr. Fielding on Thursday:

It will take days for the changes to be explained and the results ascertained, but among the significant points may be mentioned this, that the protectionist features in the late tariff, as simplified in specific duties, have been nearly all wiped out. Now, the duties on tobacco and spices have been increased. The iron duties have been reduced, and a bounty on Canadian made iron substituted. Coal oil is reduced and sugar is reduced. Tea is left free. The duty on soft coal will be retained and one on hard coal will be added later on if the Americans maintain the Dingley coal duties. The farmer will get cheaper corn for feeding, cheaper barb wire, cheaper binder twine, and some of his tools cheaper. Manufacturers will get cheaper iron. As for the great bulk of dry goods and other imports from England, the duties are, as a matter of fact, increased, but to this there is a set-off in the plan for reciprocal trade, which Mr. Fielding presented. He proposes that any country that treats Canada fairly in the matter of trade, will sooner or later have the Canadian duties levied on her goods reduced by one-fourth. This is the new idea that the Government have adopted for carrying out reciprocal trade with England. The new duties on English goods will be immediately reduced one-eighth and later on another eighth, and in thus English competition will be much keener, as against Canadian goods. How severe this competition will be, time and investigation alone can tell.

But to repeat what we said at the start, the tariff changes have so many details that it is impossible at this hour of the night to reach any clear ideas other than those above set out. They will bear much investigation. But this at least can be said, that the new tariff will be acclaimed in England and Mr. Laurier will go to the Jubilee riding on a fine white horse.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XCVII.

A Creed for Christian Socialists—No. 2.

"The Christian Church is bound following the teaching of Her Master, to rid every wise endeavour which has for its object the material and moral welfare of the poor. Her Master taught her that all men are brethren, not because they share the same blood, but because they have a common heavenly Father. He further taught her, that if any member of this spiritual family were greater, richer or better than the rest they were bound to use their special means or ability in the service of the whole. It will contribute no little to draw together the various classes of society, if the clergy endeavour in sermons and lectures to set forth the true principle of society, showing how property is a trust to be administered for the good of humanity, and how much of what is good and true in Socialism is found in the precepts of Christ." (The Encyclical of the Anglican Bishops at the Lambeth Conference, 1897.) We hope that some of our readers carefully examined that part of the Christian Socialist's creed which we published last week. Fortified with the above words emanating from such an august source as the Pan-Anglican Synod of Bishops, who probably represent a greater bulk of capital and its interests than any other Christian body, we proceed to enumerate some more articles of this Creed, which we venture to hope will commend themselves to the sanctified common-sense of all serious minded, and benevolent people.

"We believe that high civilization is not [illegible] that the [illegible] poor are as happy as the rich." Probably in many cases they are, but not the very poor. The unhappiness of the rich often springs from ignorance of the true source of happiness. Simplicity, work, labour for others, with moderation in luxuries, holidays, recreation, these are the true secrets of happiness.

If some imagine that the Christian socialist's creed is unjust and unfair to one side in the struggle between Labour and Capital, we ask their careful attention to the following:

"We believe that justice is not always on the weaker side, and that never does organized oppression wear so ugly a look as when it is practised by those who "Liberty" and "Fraternity" upon their banner, and that never does the contemptible cry "Every man for himself" sound so forbiddingly as when it is uttered by those who have not hesitated to infringe personal liberty and to imperil social order."

The next article, brief as it is, is a whole creed in itself.

"We believe that society exists not for the sake of private property, but private property for the sake of society." We believe that the right use of property must be invested upon as a religious duty, so in justice it should be made to minister to common wants."

Here is another gem: "We believe that it is not the equalization of capital that is needed but its moralization."

We believe that life, laborious life, self-denying life, must be graced with beauty and filled with many pleasures, but that the highest pleasure is the pleasure of the helpful life itself, the joy of love, of fellow-help in comradeship, and that therefore no luxury, in fact, is culpable, no wealth is wasted, which serves to make its consumer a more useful, a more loving, a more helpful member of the community.

The Dean of Ely applies the foregoing principles to civic life. He is not afraid to claim as Christian all municipal efforts for the welfare of the people. "We believe," he cries, "that as all life is of the kingdom of God, and the Church of Christ is concerned in the way of His disciples, however secular they may seem to be, it is the duty of the Christian citizen to build up as far as his influence extends, the life of the great civic brotherhood to which he belongs, and of every spere of action it contains, in justice, righteousness and the fear of God."

Firstly, "we believe that Christ's whole earthly life is a direct command to His Church to spend a large part of her time and energy in fighting against all circumstances and conditions of living which foster disease and hinder health, in delivering people from evil environment and fatal heredity; that, in fact, the whole secular history of the Church should be an endeavour to realise in act the daily petition of her dominical prayer.

"Father! Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth." "When the great Pacific Railroad was completed across America, the event was made memorable by driving a spike of gold where the last rail joined the track, which had approached from either side of the continent. The evolution of humanity has been marked at well-defined points of progress by similar golden spikes".

Strike the golden spike, Master Workman, on the way.
Humanity is travelling with the travelling of the day.
Strike the spike of gold, as struck primeval man,
When a highway Godward to travel he began;
When with celt of unhewn stone he scored the birth of mind,
And the first milestone was set that left the brute behind.
Strike! Strike! Master workman, on the road to kingdier men;
Scarce the spike is driven ere thou must strike again;
For the road thou buildest is a road without an end.
Leading where with human effort, hope and reason blend.
Through the heart of elder evil, the love of brutish strife,
Drive the spike of human progress and a lottier, truer life
Gird the world—The nations blend. Peace and love proclaim;
To evolve a nobler man is the world's predestined aim."

ARE YOU A VICTIM

Of Terrible Kidney Troubles?

Or Have You Any Symptoms of the Disease?

Paine's Celery Compound Will Quickly Banish Them.

The Only True Cure For the Awful Affliction.

This most insidious and deceptive of all diseases is on the increase, and is cutting down its thousands every year. It works for many months on its victims before they are aware of their true condition. Then there is fear and dread alarm, and some physician is hurriedly consulted. Experimenting on the suffering one is then proceeded with, but soon—too soon—the verdict of "incurable" is rendered, and the victim is left to die.

Medical science, up to the present, can boast of but one positive cure for kidney ailments such as Bright's Disease and Diabetes; it is Paine's Celery Compound, a medicine that goes right to the seat of the awful and dreaded malady.

After a short trial of Paine's Celery Compound the sufferer from kidney troubles gets rid of backache, headache, constipation, bloating, and that constant call to urinate. The wonderful Compound acts gently on the kidneys, the liver, the stomach, and all the organs of digestion, and brings them into perfect and harmonious relationship with each other.

Paine's Celery Compound will surely cure you, as it has cured others; no case is too difficult for its life-giving virtues. If you desire a cure and freedom from all fatal results, put your trust at once in Paine's Celery Compound, the only reliable kidney cure in the world. Avoid all substitutes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Where all Other Remedies Fail.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE NOT INCURABLE

But There's Only One Cure in the World, and That we Have Named—Hundreds Testify to Cures—Never a Failure Recorded.

It used to be said, "If you have Bright's Disease, it won't be long before people are walking slow behind you."

Bright's Disease affects brainy men particularly. The brainier and more active a man, the more liable he is to Bright's Disease. Bright's Disease is a disease of the Kidneys. It is the name given to the fatty degeneration of those organs. It is caused by excessive use of alcoholic drinks. It is caused by excessive eating of rich food. It may be caused by exposure to cold and moisture. It may be caused by improper living.

But it's not with the CAUSE we have to deal. It is with the CURE.

It used to be thought that Bright's Disease was incurable. We know better now. Restore the Kidneys to health, and you may eat what you like, drink what you like, work as hard or be as active as you like, and bid defiance to death-dealing Bright's Disease.

But woe to the man who don't take care of his Kidneys! When they cease to filter the blood, the blood reeks with poison. Urine actually flows in the veins. You die a lingering death. The spine and extremities first; the brain last. Dying at the bottom while living at the top!

Bright's Disease may be cured by DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS, which restore the Kidneys, making them filter the blood properly. DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS are the only specific for Bright's Disease. They were compounded just for that purpose. They have cured hundreds of cases. They will cure your Kidneys. Try them. Fifty cents a box. For sale at all druggists.

WM. G. WADE, 940 Queen East, Toronto, says:—"I have used thirty-six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am cured of Bright's Disease after all else had failed."

T. E. CRAIG, 769 Queen East, Toronto, says:—"Never expecting a cure of Bright's Disease I have been agreeably disappointed by a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MISS MAUDE COTTERELL, Belleville, Ont. says:—"I have used two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have been cured of what the doctor said was Bright's Disease."

MR. JAMES WENT, Orillia, Ont., says:—"I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills about six weeks ago, have taken three boxes which have cured me perfectly of Bright's Disease.

THE TARIFF DEBATE

Mr. Foster's Criticism of the Budget Speech.

HE TAKES CREDIT TO HIMSELF

And Claims That Mr. Fielding Has Practically Adopted the Conservative Tariff as Well as the Preferential Trade Ideas Which Sir Chas. Tupper Advanced.

Ottawa, April 23.—(Special.)—Hon. G. E. Foster this afternoon took up the budget. He began by regretting the temporary absence of the Finance Minister and Controller of Customs, observing that it was at least a satisfaction to have present the Finance Minister in esse. [Sir Richard smiled.]

As to the Budget Speech, which lasted from 4.30 until midnight, nobody could tell one moment what was coming next; it was a series of kaleidoscopic changes and varieties. Nor had anyone yet been able to ascertain just what is this new tariff, or what the real effect of the tariff is intended to be. And in this connection Mr. Foster complained that, contrary to all practice, the Opposition had not been furnished with a copy of the resolutions, and, contrary to all procedure, the tariff items were not even read over by the Minister of Finance. His own criticism would, therefore, have to be general upon the Budget Speech.

As there was no room for speculation, all the financial figures relating to 1896-6 having been brought down, he had no fault to find with Mr. Fielding's presentation of the facts under that head. But as if to pick himself up before knocking himself down, the Finance Minister entered upon a long abuse of the National Policy, in advance of his statement of the last year of Conservative rule, which turned out to be the most satisfactory tribute to its policy. Mr. Fielding had shown that in 1895-6 the expenditure was $900,000 less than his (Mr. Foster's) estimate, and less by $1,200,000 than the expenditure of the previous year. But the record was excellent, as regards the trade, which last year had reached a gain of thirteen millions—high-water mark. The taxation of 1895-6 was 18 per cent. on an average, and the customs tax per capita was $3.94, against a per capita tax of $3.96 in 1878.

The fact that the agricultural schedule has been left without change was a splendid vindication of the Conservative policy in protecting that industry against the abuse of the honorable gentlemen opposite, and, further, under that policy the exports of agricultural produce, as of manufactured goods, had largely increased. [Cheers.]

Then Mr. Fielding had estimated for the year 1896 a revenue of $37,296,665; but he forgot ethat if he made his Budget Speech in March he would have had to report a decline of $700,000, and still, yesterday he was ahead of last year in receipts; because in six weeks his revenue had jumped up $2,228,000. To that extent he had borrowed from the future, so that instead of $37,296,665, he would have a revenue, according to Mr. Foster's estimate, of but $30,600,000; and an expenditure of not $37,800,000, but of $39,600,000; therefore, Mr. Fielding's estimated deficit of half a million, which he was good enough to say might be doubled, would really amount at the end of the year to $2,000,000. And instead of adding but $1,750,000, Mr. Fielding would add $4,000,000 to the debt.

Continuing, Mr. Foster cited the convention speech of the Premier, who denounced protection as a fraud, delusion and robbery. These embodied the Liberal policy up to the general elections of last year, when the Government began to look around. Evidences of shakiness became apparent. The Government refused to defend the principle upon which they would ultimately base their tariff. Then came the Tariff Commission. For 17 years they knew all about it, but suddenly the change came.

Adverting to the Finance Minister's contention that the indisposition of the United States to a reciprocal tariff was one of the reasons which led to the present tariff, he (Mr. Foster) declared that at no time during the past 17 years had there been any positive prospect of reciprocity. Three points had been mentioned by Mr. Fielding as helpful to the trade of the country: they were commonsense, transport and patriotism. That reference to protection was an unfortunate one, for had not Mr. Laurier at Boston declared it was a fatal mistake to suppose that British allegiance was the basis of trade? Had he not said that he would prefer an American quarter as readily as an English sixpence? [Laughter.]

When, after recess, the House met again, some time was taken up with private bills, so it was 2.30 when Mr. Foster resumed. He did so by stating that the tariff showed, first, that the Liberal party had adopted the principle of protection, in some cases lightening the duties, in others adding to the protective duties. Therefore there could now be no difference as to the acceptance of protection as the guiding principle of this country.

Then Mr. Foster went on to say that in Opposition Mr. Mulock had introduced a bill to prevent a member taking an office within several months after resigning from the House. Yet the first act of the Government was to appoint a member (Mr. Devlin) to office, to buy off his bounden opposition to the Government on the Manitoba school question. Both the Postmaster-General and Sir Richard subscribed to the Patrons' platform, which, among other things, denounced railway passes to members, and asked that cottons should be made free, but the passes remain and the duty on cottons is increased.

Sir Richard denied it.

Mr. Foster replied that the duty on cottons, white and grey, such as went into general use, had been increased from 22 1-2 per cent. to 25 per cent. He knew his hon. friend was sore.

Mr. McMullen: So're you.

The House passed from the momentary enjoyment of Mr. McMullen's pun to the ex-Finance Minister's speech.

Mr. Foster went on to read from the Patron platform the demands for free tweeds and woolens. These, said Mr. Foster, had been reduced, but still Mr. Fielding kept upon them what he called the highest figure of his tariff, namely, 35 per cent. Then the duty on cement had been increased by 20 per cent. True, barbed wire had been made free.

A Conservative Member: Not till the Grit speculators have unloaded.

"Exactly," said Mr. Foster, "and the same with binder twine, which is only to become free next January.

The Government had reduced the duty on iron, but contrary to proclaimed Liberal principles had made it up to the manufacturer by bounties. [Hear, hear.] Corn had been made free, which would please some farmers and disappoint others who relied on the consumption of our coarse grains. The Patrons asked for free coal oil and Mr. Davies had stumped the country on a free coal oil cry. The new tariff reduced the duty 1 cent per gallon. [Laughter.] The Patrons asked for a tariff for revenue only; the answer of the Government was a protective tariff as high as and higher than the tariff of the Conservative party.

Turning to the increase of duties on liquors, tobacco and cigarets, he maintained that these would not lead to more revenue. On the contrary they would lead to smuggling and to a larger expenditure in watching the border than when more reasonable and really revenue-producing duties were imposed by the tariff.

Turning to the woolen duties, he predicted that the changes made in connection with them would ruin the woolen mills now in operation all over Canada. The tariff would also ruin the business of building buggies and pleasure vehicles, and lead to the mere assembling in the factories of this country, of parts imported from abroad.

Why, Mr. Foster next asked, had the 60 cents duty on coal not been taken off, as had been promised by the Premier in a speech he had made at Montreal, and which had been condemned in the House by the present Minister of Trade and Commerce? It had not only not been taken off, but a duty was threatened on anthracite coal, which was paid almost entirely by the people of Ontario. Mr. Foster also complained that there had been no reduction in the duty on cleaned rice, in accordance with the promises of the Liberals when in Opposition, to cheapen the food of the people.

As to the provision in the tariff bill for breaking down trusts by placing articles monopolized by trusts on the free list, Mr. Foster declared that was a power which no Government ought to ask. In its own interest, in the interest of clean and pure government, in the interest of satisfactory justice in this country, no government ought to possess such powers.

Mr. Foster complained that the Government was keeping the House in the dark as to the workings of the new tariff, except upon spirits and tobaccos. He called upon the Premier to tell Parliament and the country whether the Government was willing to extend the trade advantages proposed to Great Britain to Belgium and the German zollverein.

Mr. Laurier: If the honorable gentleman wants my answer, I say no, decidedly no, to Belgium and Germany.

Mr. Foster replied that in that event the Government was acting illegally. Had an Order-in-Council to that effect been passed upon recommendation of the Controller of Customs?

Mr. Laurier replied that the usual course was followed, that which Mr. Foster had often adopted, of laying the tariff resolutions upon the table, when it was understood they went immediately into effect.

Mr. Foster added that the preferential clauses were no part of the tariff proper. To that extent the Government had certainly acted illegally. He concluded by announcing that, having to catch the train for Toronto, he would be deprived of hearing Sir Richard Cartwright's speech in reply.

Sir Richard said that, rather than deprive his honorable friend of that pleasure, he himself would defer his remarks until the next sitting of the House, and, accordingly moved the adjournment of the debate.

The House adjourned at 12.12 p.m.

Militia General Orders.

A militia general order was issued to-day, but the changes are unimportant. Among them are the following: 8th Kingston Field Battery, Major William Melleville Dreaman is granted the brevet rank of Lieut.-Colonel.

30th Wellington Battalion—Surgeon Captain John George Mennie, having left the limits, his name is removed from the list of officers; to be surgeon: Lieutenant Gerald O'Reilly, M. D., vice Mennie, retired.

31st Grey Battalion—No. 4 company, Capt. Samuel J. McGirr resigns his commission, and to retain the rank of captain on retirement; to be captain, 2nd Lieut. Harry Alexander Hunter, vice McGirr, retired.

33rd Huron Battalion—No. 7 company, to be 2nd Lieutenant provisionally, Andrew Wells Forrester, vice Beacon, retired.

34th Ontario Battalion—No. 5 company, Provisional 2nd Lieut. Eli Baird retired.

2[illegible] Peel Battalion—No. 2 company, to be Lieutenant, 2nd Lieut. Frederick John Hulton, vice Chadwick, transferred.

45th Northumberland Battalion—No. 9 company, Provisional 2nd Lieut. Nelson William Maggey.

49th Hastings Battalion—No. 2 company, Provisional 2nd Lieut. John W. Kingston.

The crusade in favor of compelling the railways to carry bicycles free as baggage continues. Mr. Lount to-day presented a petition in favor of the reform from 117 Torontonians, Mr. Gibson one from St. Catharines with over 400 signatures, Mr. Wood one from Brockville with 63 names, and Mr. Kendry one from Peterboro with 66 signatures.

Correspondence in connection with the removal of the law business of the Dominion in England from the office of Bompas, Bischoff & Co. to that of Day, Russell & Brougham has been presented to the House. The first letter, dated Dec. 2, is from the Deputy Minister of Justice of Canada to Bompas, Bischoff & Co., advising them of the transfer, and adding that "the change does not arise from any dissatisfaction with your services, the Government being quite satisfied that you have managed all their business heretofore committed to your charge with diligence, discretion and efficiency." The second letter is to Day, Russell & Brougham, conveying formal notice of their appointment, and the last of the series is from Bompas, Bischoff & Co., expressing regret at the severance of a connection dating from a time prior to the establishment of the Dominion.

A meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council was held this morning. Messrs. Blair, Tarte and Dobell were present. An application from the Central Counties' Railway, the Canada Atlantic Railway and the Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway, asking for permission not to fill up the frogs in these roads during the winter months, as they would be filled by the snow, was granted.

A number of the residents of Richmond, Que., are agitating for the repeal of the Dunkin Act, which is now in force in the County of Richmond, but the temperance people of the town contend that it would be illegal to take such a step without a vote of the whole county. The dispute has reached that stage where it has come before the Deputy Minister of Justice. Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Q. C., of Toronto represented the temperance people, whilst Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, Q. C., appeared on behalf of those who desire the repeal of the act. No decision was reached.

Lieut.-Col. Domville, M.P., has been invited by Premier Laurier to accompany him to England on his visit to the Jubilee festivities.

C. P. R. Spur Line.

The work of repairing the spur line of the C.P.R. with Georgia pine sleepers has been completed, and more room is now left beneath for the steam launches to pass under as the structure is about a foot higher. Over that portion used by the launches and canoes in passing from the boat houses to the lake a steel bridge is to be constructed in order that the span may be wider.

Should be Kept Away.

Something should be done to keep the children away from the water, if more drowning fatalities are to be avoided. A whole squad of youngsters make the C. P. R. spur line their play ground, and residents along the river bank are in constant terror lest one of them fall in. Warnings appear to have no effect, but the sudden appearance of a policeman on the scene would doubtless cause a stampede.

It is expected that everything will be in readiness by the end of this week, so that operations can be commenced next week on the new mill which, it is expected, will be finished in about three months. The new mill will be furnished with two bandsaws, trimmers, edger, a lathe machine and three shingle machines. The capacity will be 150,000 feet in twenty-four hours, and it will run day and night.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

They are Drawing to a Close—Monday Evening is the Last.

A good attendance was present in the Charlotte street church last night to hear Rev. Mr. Ranton. Miss Hendren sang a solo at the opening. The evangelist took as his text II Corinthians. 3 18: "But we all with open face beholding, as in a glass, the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord." In the 16th verse of the same chapter it says: "Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away."

The Jews, the speaker said did not believe in the cross. Some Jews in New New York in raising money to build a synagogue, asked a Methodist minister to assist him. The minister replied: "We have a fine, large church in which I preach and why not worship in it on Saturdays?" That would do very well," the Jew replied, "but you have a cross in front of your pulpit, and we do not believe in the cross." "It is only tacked on," the minister answered," and we can easily remove it for your service on Saturday, and replace it again Sunday." The cross was removed and the church accepted. You will thus see, the speaker said, that the veil of bigotry is being quickly removed.

Mr. Ranton speaks to-morrow evening in the same church on "Happy on the way."

OBITUARY.

Death of Thomas Hastie, of Allandale, Yesterday.

The death occurred last evening of Thomas Hastie, aged 28 years and 11 months, second son of William Hastie of Allandale. The deceased had been ill for over a year with consumption, but his relatives did not anticipate that the end was so near. He had been in his usual health during the day, and had driven over to his sisters, a distance of four miles. He returned during the evening and retired at 9 o'clock. At about 10 he began to cough and sank very rapidly, dying shortly afterwards. The deceased was a general favourite in the vicinity of Allandale.

A FINE SUCCESS.

The Horse Show—Every Class Well Filled.

The spring stallion show this afternoon under the auspices of the Peterborough Agricultural Society proved a great success, each of the six classes being well represented. The judges were Mr. John Douglass of Warkworth for light horses, and Mr. Geo. Gray of Newcastle for heavy horses. Great interest was manifested in the close competition. A report of the prize winners will appear in Monday's EXAMINER.

A SHOP-LIFTING CASE.

The Prisoner Belongs to a Most Respectable Family in the Country.

The Chief of Police made an arrest last evening in a shop-lifting case which created quite a sensation when the facts became noised abroad.

It seems that for a number of weeks past goods have been mysteriously disappearing from the counters of Turnbull & Co's drygoods store. The presence of a lady with a large bag was soon connected with the disappearance of the goods, as it was noticed that every time she came into the store something was missed. The disappearance of two dress lengths of costly black lustre finally induced Mr. Turnbull to speak to the police about the matter, when he was advised to watch closely and endeavour to detect the thief in the act. On several occasions suspicion was directed towards the lady in question, as articles were missed from the counters at which she had been standing. On Saturday last a pair of patent folding curling tongs were thought to have been taken by her, several of the clerks being positive that she had taken them up and had not replaced them, although no one had seen what was done with them.

Yesterday when the suspect entered the store every clerk was on the qui vivi and half a dozen pair of eyes followed her every movement. Mr. Turnbull states that she was detected placing a pair of kid gloves in her bag as well as a pound of tea, which was done up in a parcel at the end of the counter.

The police were notified and the chief was quickly in the store and called the suspect into the office, when a pair of gloves and a parcel of tea, as well as a pair of stockings, unwrapped, were found on her person. Her arrest followed and in a hearing during the evening the case was enlarged until Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock and the prisoner released on bail.

Mr. Turnbull states that his suspicions were first directed towards the prisoner through the fact that he heard she had been seen on occasions putting dress goods into her cutter without there being any paper wrapped around them.

A search warrant being issued the house of the prisoner was searched, but none of missing articles were found with the exception of a pair of curling tongs, corresponding in pattern to those of which the accused was suspected of taking from Turnbull's.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., was in town to-day.

Mrs. Fox is visiting her sister, Mrs. W Cox, Lakefield.

Miss Mabel Routley is the guest of Miss Ida Bell in Lakefield.

TOSSED BY A BULL.

A Narrow Escape From Being Badly Gored—A Dog Diverts the Bull's Attention.

Yesterday afternoon the five year old son of Mr. Zotique Desautel had a narrow escape from being gored to death by a bull which was being driven along the street and suddenly turned into a yard, where a number of small children were playing.

The bull singled out young Desautel and catching him on his horns, tossed him twelve or fifteen feet into the air, the other children scattering to the right and left. Before the bull had opportunity to renew the assault a dog rushed to the rescue and by dashing in front of it in all probability saved the child's life. The butchers who were driving the animal came up a few minutes later and drove it out of the yard.

The child was badly bruised by the fall, although by a miracle the bull's horns did not inflict any injury. Another of the children is still confined to her bed from the fright occasioned by the bull's mad rush.

The residents of the town complain of the danger to their children occasioned by the driving of cattle through the streets without a rope or any means of checking a propensity to do mischief.

Yesterday's accident might have resulted in an awful fatality, and as it was the child's body is black and blue from the fall and his face is badly cut and bruised.

A DOURO WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Minnie Jory and Mr. James Miller.

On Wednesday evening of last week the residence of Mr. James Jory, of Douro, was the scene of an interesting event, his daughter, Miss Minnie, being united in marriage to Mr. Jas. Miller, of the township of Smith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. J. Edmison, B.A., of Lakefield, in the presence of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was very becomingly attired in a costume of cream henrietta, with lace and ribbon trimmings, was assisted by Miss Aggie Miller, sister of the groom, who was attired in a becoming dress of cream cashmere, with lace and satin trimmings. The groomsman was assisted by Mr. S. Jory, brother of the bride. After the ceremony the guests assembled sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents, testifying to the esteem in which she was held by her many friend. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Smith.

Is your Name Written There?

Every young man who is of the requisite age, should see that his name is on the municipal assessment rolls, as these will be the basis for the next Dominion and Provincial elections. Is your name there? If not, make a personal application to the assessor, and thus secure your birthright as a citizen. Young men ought not to be indifferent about this matter. He who does not think it worth his while to vote is not worthy a vote. The qualifications are that he be (a) a British subject, (b) 21 years old, (c) a nine months' resident of the Province, and (d) a resident of the municipality since the 15th of February. If, on election day, you find yourself disfranchised blame not the committee but yourself.—Exchange.

CRICKET.

The cricketers are very anxious to have a meeting called for organization as soon as possible in order to settle the question of what grounds will be used this season. The outlook for a successful season was never brighter, but the officers are slow in calling the members together.

A communication has already been received from the Royal Military College, Kingston, in which the secretary states that the cadets are very anxious to come to Peterborough for a game.

Clubs are being organized in every town and village in the district and it certainly would be a shame if Peterborough, with its great record to look back upon, was to allow the season to pass without organizing. A good live secretary with an acquaintance amongst the cricketers of the district could arrange many interesting matches in the course of the season.

LACROSSE.

Mr. W. Salisbury comes forward with a good idea. He suggests that in the matter of players certificates the photograph of the player be pasted on his certificate. This, he thinks, would prove a far surer means of identification than the signature. The scheme is a capital one and well worthy of consideration at the next meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association. Players are generally young, with no set style of signature, and consequently impersonation is easy. The photograph would do away with all this.

Mr. Jim McCabe writes that he may be expected home any day now from Perth. It is to be hoped that he arrives in time to get into shape for the first game.

BASEBALL.

At a meeting of the baseball club last night it was decided to order new suits of white with dark trimmings. The Park Nine will play on the P.A.A.A. grounds this year, having made satisfactory arrangements to this end with the lacrosse club. An invitation to play in Campbellford on May 24th was accepted, providing sufficient inducements is offered. A committee composed of B. Dolan, C. Graham and R. Thorne will sell season tickets at a dollar each, and will start on their rounds on Monday.

THE WHEEL.

Some good advice on how to clean a chain is as follows: Procure a can about an inch wider than the diameter of the chain when coiled up. Get a piece of galvanized wire cloth, with ½ or ¼ inch mesh, and have it cut into circular form about one inch wider than the diameter of the can. Make a number of cuts half an inch deep around the edge and bend the wire down, making a continuous shoulder, and set in the can, thus making a raised false bottom. Coil up the chain on it and pour in benzine till it is covered to the depth of half an inch. In a couple of minutes agitate it by pushing it from side to side of the can. Then let it stand quietly for several minutes till the loosened grit and grease have settled to the bottom, when you can lift your chain perfectly clean out of the clear benzine about the wire. Pinch the edge of the can to form a spout, so you may, if economically minded, pour off the clear benzine to be used again.

Henry Ward Beecher once informed a man who came to him complaining of gloomy and despondent feelings, that what he most needed was a good cathartic, meaning of course, such a medicine as Ayer's Cathartic Pills, every dose being effective.

FROM THE BACK COUNTRY.

The Drives Will be Along About the Last of June.

Mr. Frank Golden, of Campbellford, passed through town the other day from the Rathbun Co's limits in the back country of North Hastings and Peterborough, where with a party of eight or ten, he has been engaged settling up the winter's jobbing. It will take another week or two to complete the settlement.

From the limits on the Belleville and Trent waters the above company will deliver large drives of logs for the Gilmour & Co. in Trenton this year in addition to their own drives. Present prospects show that The Rathbun Co. will have a busy season. The drives are expected to reach Peterborough during the latter part of June. Speaking of the mining boom in North Hastings and Peterborough Mr. Golden says it is surprising the hold that this boom has upon the people. Everyone is talking gold and pieces of quartz may be seen in every house, shop or office you may enter. He claims there is no humbug about these mines but that they are actual facts. On Tuesday last a palace car of capitalists from Toronto visited the Craig mine in Tudor, five miles from Bannockburn, and on Wednesday a party of seventeen from the same city came down to inspect the Bannockburn mine where rich ore was struck lately and returned highly pleased with their visit.

AN IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT.

The New Provincial Municipal Auditor.

At a meeting of the Provincial Cabinet Council held Thursday Mr. John B. Laing was appointed Provincial Municipal Auditor at a salary of $2,000.

Mr. Laing, who has resided in Toronto for a number of years, was formerly a resident of London, where he was a partner in the wholesale dry goods trade with the late John Birrell.

He has had a large experience as an accountant. For the last six or seven years he has been employed by the Government whenever a special audit was required, and his services have always been most satisfactory to all concerned. He was also selected as the expert accountant in connection with the Connolly and McGreevy charges, where he again distinguished himself. Amongst his wide circle of friends his appointment to a position of so much importance will no doubt be a source of much gratification. He is the father of Mr. Jack Laing, the well-known Canadian cricketer.

KIDNEY GRIND.

South American Kidney Cure the Only Specific for Kidney Disease—A Liquid and Solvent—Never Fails.

Medical science has proved beyond a doubt that the solid particles which pass through the kidneys in the ordinary course of circulation—and which in time so grind and wear these organs that they become diseased and will not perform the functions for which they are created—require a solvent to dissolve and eradicate from the system these foreign substances and the great South American Kidney Cure has proven to be the best and most scientific specific remedy for such, and the testimony of thousands who have been cured by it when pill doses have failed is the best demonstration of the fact that a solvent must be administered. If in despair use this remedy. Sole by H. S. Macdonald.

THE LATE GEORGE FITZGERALD.

An Account of His Last Illness and a Tribute to His Worth.

From the "Bitter Root Times," Hamilton, Montana, is taken the following in reference to Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, whose death and funeral have been noted in these columns with regret:—

A SUDDEN DEATH.

GEORGE FITZGERALD, AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS, SUCCUMBS TO THE INEVITABLE.

Last Wednesday, at 1.30 a.m., the grim monster, Death, claimed one of the most popular and promising young men in the whole Bitter Root—George Fitzgerald.

Last Thursday afternoon George retired to his room in the Ravalli hotel, with what was supposed to be an attack of the grip, but which turned out to be that life-destroying disease, pneumonia, which resulted in death scarcely five days after.

Little did he or his many warm friends dream that last Thursday evening when George retired to his room that it would be the last time that he would be seen on the streets of Hamilton in life.

Death is sad under all circumstances, but in this case it is extremely sad. George was just budding into manhood, being but 22 years of age; his future was bright, and its brightness was of his own making, having struggled from the bottom to a position that would have done honour to a man twice his age. He was loved, respected and admired by every person with whom he came in contact, and his acquaintance extended throughout the valley. His genial manner, good habits, kind, sympathetic and unassuming nature at once won friends among men in every station in life, and his loss is keenly felt by the entire community.

Although far from home or relatives, at his death bed he was surrounded by friends who were willing and anxious to do all that was within human power to relieve his pain, but to no avail.

The deceased was 22 years of age and was born and raised in Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, where he resided with his father up to some four years ago, when, accompanied by Dr. George McGrath, he came to Hamilton, where he first secured employment with the Bitter Root Development company at the mill. He later occupied a position in the office of the A. C. M. Co., and by his sterling qualities and close attention to business he advanced several steps until he left the company, something over a year ago, to accept the position of assistant cashier in the Ravalli County bank under W. W. McCrackin, which important position he was filling at the time of death. His life in Hamilton has been an exemplary one, and by shrewd business men he was considered a young man who would make his mark in the business world, and undoubtedly would have were it not for his untimely demise.

Evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held is the fact that the Ravalli Bank, with which Mr. Fitzgerald was connected, closed its doors on Wednesday out of respect to his memory, and Rev. Father Guidi held services over his remains on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock after which they were conducted to the depot, followed by a large concourse of the deceased's friends.

D. J. Fitzgerald, general manager of the B. C. Smelting and Refining Company, a brother of the deceased, will arrive here to-night, and to morrow morning the remains will be forwarded to the home of his childhood. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church to-morrow morning to the train. The many friends of the deceased can look for the last time upon all that is mortal of our friend and townsmen at the Catholic church to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, as service will be held at that time. Dr. George McGrath will accompany the body east. Although forever gone from among us his memory will ever be cherished by his many Hamilton friends.

JUBILEE POINT ITEMS.

That favourite summer resort, Jubilee Point, is being refitted and put into fine shape for the season. The new attractions consist of a new one-third of a mile bicycle track, the soil being splendidly adapted for making a first-class road bed. The track will skirt the park and not interfere with the inside, which will be left for baseball, foot ball, etc.

A small steam yacht will this season be attached to the park for the benefit of the residents.

Several excursions to Jubilee are billed already—Canadian Order of Foresters, July 1st; Sons of Scotland, Warkworth, June 26th; United Farmers' Institute picnic about 10th of June.

The steamer City of Peterborough will begin her trips about May 15th. She will make a trip twice a week to Hastings and advertisements will give fuller details. The "City" is being repainted and put in first-class shape for the season. Capt. Clare Calcutt, associated with the old reliable Sam Lombard, Engineer John Byers, and Jas. Drain, purser, will manage her.

MINING IN EASTERN ONTARIO.

Mr. John Wood, of L'Amable, is the happy owner of a mine of gold and copper. He is having it assayed, and the first test showed a good percentage of these metals. The specimens are, of course, of the surface ore. Development will be proceeded with as soon as practicable.

The second assay, says the Bancroft Times, of ore from R. A. Jackson's mine, near Ormsby, at a depth of four feet, gave $3.70 a ton of silver and a large percentage of nickel. Mr. Walter Whitefoot has just laid on our table some very fine specimens from his graphite bed and also from an adjoining deposit of copper and nickel.

Havelock Standard: We hear of a find in Belmont of a gold bearing vein on lot 9, con. 5, the property of Mr. P. McIntosh. Experts who have visited the place have pronounced it a rich find.

Dr Chase Cures Backache.

Kidney trouble generally begins with a single pain in the back, and in time developes into Bright's Disease. People troubled with stricture, impediments, stoppage of water, or a frequent desire to urinate at night, will find Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills a blessing. Read the wonderful cures in another column. One pill is a dose, and if taken every other night will positively cure kidney troubles.

THE FALL OF PREVESA.

In 1798 the Turks, under the command Ali Pasha, "the tyrant of Janina," captured from the Greeks and the French the stronghold which the Greeks are bombarding to-day. A frightful massacre followed and the men, women and children were put to the sword indiscriminately. In one of the stanzas of "Childe Harold" Lord Byron speaks of the slaughter in satirical verse:

Remember the moment when Prevesa fell,
The abbieks of the conquered, the conqueror's yell;
The foods that were fired and the plunder we shared,
The wealthy we slaughtered, the lovely we spared.

I talk not of mercy, I talk not of fear;
He neither must know who would serve the Vizier;
Since the days of our Prophet the Crescent ne'er saw
A chief ever glorious like Ali Pasha.

Dark Mouktar his son to the Danube is sped,
Let the yellow-haired Giaours view his horse tail with dread;
When his Delhis come dashing in blood o'er the bank,
How few shall escape from the Moslemite ranks!

Selictar! unsheath, then, our chief's scrimitar:
Tambourgi! thy 'larum gives promise of war.
Ye mountains, that see us descend to the shore,
Shall view us as victors or view us no more.

FOR THE GENERAL GOOD

And not for a Special Favoured Few—Conservative Approval of the "Manly Policy."

Ottawa Free Press.

"Those who read the items in the tariff schedules will see that the household, the poor farmer, the consumer, the miner, and those generally whose needs are great and many, and whose pockets are not deep, are one and all benefited. The revisers of the tariff have not had the interests of the gentlemen of the Red Parlour in their mind's eye in their work, but the good of the community generally."

(Montreal Star.)

Whatever else may be said of Mr. Fielding's tariff, it must gain the warm approval of the great majority of our people by its courageous enactment of preferential trade with Britain—for that is what we understand the minimum duty clause to mean. It should brought into force at once, and English goods given the benefit of this favoured treatment. Such a practical display of friendship toward the Mother Land in this year of the Diamond Jubilee, must convince "Britishers" of all classes that Canada is in love with the "closer union" idea and that the task of the Imperial statesman is not now to arouse sentiment but to direct and lead it. Then, too, this clause serves distinct notice on the United States that it can only secure friendly treatment from us by proffering friendly treatment in return. It is a flash of the "manly policy"; and the country will be glad of it.

LA GRIPPE SCOURGE.

Who has not Been a Victim?—Who has not had Just the Experience of Mr. Curtis?—Who may not Have the Relief South American Nervine Afforded Him?

"As a result of a severe attack of la grippe I suffered greatly from weakness and loss of appetite. I saw testimonials of the curative powers of South American Nervine and determined to give it a trial for my case. Purchased it, and almost immediately began to improve. My strength returned to me very rapidly. When I had taken three bottles I had developed a voracious appetite. I am as well to-day as ever I was, and am safe in saying that I can attribute it to South American Nervine, and no words of mine in recommending it could be too strong." C. J. Curtis, Windsor, Ont. FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 30 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 30 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents. It afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 98 or $20,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $8. UNTOLD MISERY FROM

RHEUMATISM

G. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

PRONOUNCED INCURABLE.

No Case of Catarrh Too Acute or of Too Long Standing but Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder Can Allay and Cure—When All Else Fails it Cures—Try it First and Save Experimenting.

"Five years ago my little daughter was attacked with catarrh of a very severe type. We used all known Catarrh cures, and treated with most skilful physicians for over three years, and her case was pronounced chronic and incurable. Last winter we heard of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Power. A bottle was procured, and I here state for the benefit and encouragement of all sufferers from this dreadful malady that after using two bottles my child was completely cured, and I consider it my duty to give my testimony for the benefit of like sufferers." Mrs. Geo. Graves, Ingersoll, Ont. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A Poultry House Device.

Where fowls are kept in confinement whether the season be summer or winter they must be furnished green food in the form of cabbage, turnips, beets or cut clover. These should not be thrown loosely into the pen to become quickly soiled, but put into a rack with sloping sides, like that shown in the sketch. The hens reach through the slats and eat what they desire. The top slopes so that they cannot roost upon it. If filled with cabbages, etc., they will come down to the hens as fast as eaten.—American Agriculturist.

The Children's Enemy.

Scrofula often shows itself in early life and is characterized by swellings, abscesses, hip diseases, etc. Consumption is scrofula of the lungs. In this class of diseases Scott's Emulsion is unquestionably the most reliable medicine.

Feed for Young Chicks.

Chickens raised for broilers should be fed the same as for any purpose. Keep them growing. To do this begin with corn bread, two parts corn meal and one part ground oats (sifted, as the hull ought to be out), mixed up with buttermilk, a little soda and salt to season it. Feed this for a week or ten days, baking it fresh as needed, then feed cracked corn half of the time, and in 20 days begin to feed whole wheat once a day, but keep the main feed or the bulk of it corn, in some form, while a little green feed twice a week, and meat or fresh ground bone twice a week. Keep them scratching, make plenty of exercise, give a variety of feed and you can almost see them grow. It is the sloppy, sour feed laying by them that kills the youngsters off. Keep grit, sand or gravel in some form that they can get it when they want it and fresh water the same. Keep the different sizes in separate coops, buildings or yards, feed them separately and do not under any circumstances allow large and small chickens to rub together or roost together. The whole secret in the chicken business is feeding a variety of proper feed, plenty of exercise, cleanliness, and keep them scattered or colonized.—Farm and Home.

Without a Peer—Works Miracles.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is without a peer. This great remedy relieves instantly the most aggravating and distressing forms of heart disease. It is the surest and quickest acting formula for heart trouble known to medical science, and thousands of times has the hand of the grim destroyer being stayed by its use. If there is palpitation, shortness of breath, pain in left side, smothering sensations—don't delay, or you may be counted in the long list of those who have gone over to the great majority, because the best remedy in the world was not promptly used. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

EGGS AND FERTILITY.

WHY HEN FRUIT IS ONE OF THE MOST PROFITABLE CROPS.

What Chemical Analysis Shows as to the Fertility Removed From the Soil by Various Crops—A Profitable Form of Water.

Chemists have figured out the amount of fertility taken away from the soil in different crops. Thus, one thousand pounds or six hundred and sixty-six dozen of hens' eggs, shells included, contain about the following quantities:

	Pounds.
Nitrogen	20.
Potash	1.75
Lime	60.82
Phosphoric acid	4.22

Now we see that eight thousand eggs, worth at least $160, takes only about $3.56 worth of fertility from the farm. Let us contrast this with other crops sold off the farm, $160 worth of each:

Eggs	$ 3.56
Wheat	42.23
Milk	14.28
Cheese	11.04
Live Cattle	18.38
Timothy hay	95.84

If we sell $160 worth of wheat, $42.23 worth of fertility goes off the farm. If we feed this to the hens and sell off the same amount of eggs only $3.56 worth of fertility goes. When we sell eggs, we sell largely water.

It is also stated that "a good cow may produce in a year six times her weight in milk, with a calf in addition. If we take the cow as weighing one thousand pounds we have in the salable product about eight hundred pounds of dry matter containing 36.8 pounds of nitrogen. Hens of good laying breeds, weighing one thousand pounds will yield in the same time six thousand punds of eggs, the contents of which will include one thousand four hundred and four pounds of dry matter, containing one hundred and twenty pounds of nitrogen. It has been pointed out that since cows' milk is much richer in nitrogen than the carcass of an animal, so the food supplied to cows in full milk should be of a specially nitrogenous character. The argument has still greater weight in the case of the hen, as we have just seen that her produce, in the same time, from the same body weight, contains three and one-quarter times as much nitrogen as that of the cow. The albuminoid ratio of eggs is indeed as high as 1, 1.32. Under natural conditions, a fowl's diet is in the summer time of a decided nitrogenous character, the feed consisting largely of grass, insects, worms, etc. The advantage of giving hens a good "run" is well known; this is partly due to the active exercise obtained, which is essential for the continuance of the egg laying conditions; but is also in part owing to the supply of insect food which the hens thus obtain."

It will be seen in the above that the old-fashioned way of feeding hens on grain alone must be discontinued if we wish to make our poultry pay, and meat and bone must be supplied, especially in winter.

The Complete Chicken Coop.

I have used the following design of coup with best results, for a number of years, in my yards. In construction

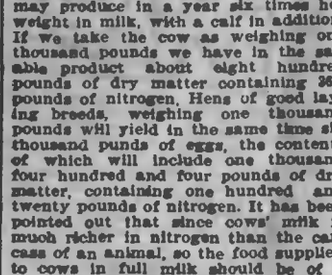

Fig. 1.

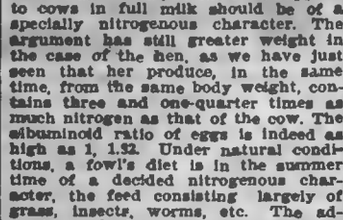

Fig. 2.

COMPLETE CHICKEN COOP.

I consider it complete. If properly built it is absolutely storm and vermin proof. Fig. 1 shows coop closed in front; dotted lines representing position taken by door in front, when turned upon roof. Fig. 2 shows coop open in front, and also small door at side. Roller on which front door turns 2 feet 4 inches long, 3 inches square, and requires holes 1 inch in diameter, in side strips. This coop is positively second to none.—H. Galeau Rineer, in Practical Farmer.

Value of Early Laying Pullets.

Of late there is more discussion than usual as to the real value of early laying pullets. There are numbers who are questioning the advisability of such forcing, with meat and other stimulants, as is now becoming rather common. One authority says regarding this, "We want to see birds that will average 200 eggs apiece within a year of laying maturity." Someone asks if there is any reason for forcing a pullet to early laying, except to catch the higher autumn prices, and is assured that in addition to present profit, the habit of early maturing and early laying will be transmitted to the progeny of such fowls. The idea has plenty of support from well-known facts concerning such fowls. They are more surely creatures of habit than almost all other domestic stock. Man has been able to change their habits almost at will, as regards feathering, size, sitting propensities, prolificacy, etc. It seems pretty certain that he will get what he aims at, in time, whatever by the direction of his ambition for his fowls.—V. Cranford, in American Agriculturist.

Where the Egg Comes From.

Did you ever think about how much material it takes to make an egg? If you think about it once you would readily see that a single egg contains all the elements necessary to animal life, for at the end of the period of incubation out steps a chick, equipped with bone and muscle, a little fat perhaps, blood, and feathers a-sprouting, in short, everything that goes to make a fowl, was contained inside the egg shell.

How did they get there? The hen that laid that egg did not evolve its elements from her "internal arrangements;" there was no spontaneous growth about it. "Nothing comes from nothing," as Shakespeare said long ago. That egg was fed into the hen. It is requiring "bricks" without straw," when we demand that our hens shall lay eggs and give them nothing with which to manufacture them.

People buy Hood's Sarsaparilla year after year because it does them good. It will do you good to take it now.

The Thoroughbred Potato.

Since the recent description of the thoroughbred potato appeared, with Mr. T. B. Terry's great record, we have been the recipient of some other records made last year, which put Mr. Terry's experience somewhat in the shade.

Mr. W. J. Kemish of 333 Sorauren avenue, Toronto, the noted Canadian writer for Farm and Fireside, had a most unusual experience while on his Indian road place last year. His barrel of Maule thoroughbred potato seed was frosted in coming to Canada, so much so that when it arrived the thaw made the floor run with water. He thought they were goners, but concluded to plant them. He did so, and the result was so astonishing that all the market gardeners in that neighborhood wasted some time in coming to see them. He is enthusiastic in praise of this new potato, and says he never saw in all his long experience anything to equal it.

The Co-operative Farmer reports that Mr. King of Sussex County, New Brunswick, planted one pound of early thoroughbred potatoes, cutting them up small and planting each piece three feet apart. He dug 569 pounds as the crop from this one pound.

Mr. Sword, of Beatrice, Muskoka, who takes so many potato prizes at the Toronto Industrial every year, fared equally as well. He planted last year one tuber of early thoroughbred and dug in the fall as its product one full barrel.

This potato seems to be the coming murphy.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no whakness or tendancy to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. No one in a thousand does it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them in nutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases: and all disease sare blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

The Number of Roosters.

Dealing with averages, we would suggest that for fowls kept in moderate sized yards the following number of hens to each cock would be found suitable: Asiatics, seven or eight; Americans, nine or ten; Mediterraneans, 12 or 15. Or if free range can be given them we would suggest the following: Asiatics, 12 to 15; Americans, 15 to 20; Mediterraneans, 20 to 30. In both of the above instances we have presumed that the fowls will be well fed. Indeed, we might have made feeding an essential point, for a cock properly fed will fertilize more eggs, and the chickens hatched from them will be stronger than one which is underfed or overfed or fed upon articles of wrong diet.

Fertilizers for Raising Potatoes.

The use of 1000 pounds of fertiliser an acre produced an increased yield of marketable potatoes, which, at 50 cents a bushel, made a net gain of $27.58 in income during the two years. The use of 2000 pounds of fertiliser yielded in net increase of income during the two years $7.12 less than did the application of 1000 pounds.

In using 1000 pounds of fertiliser there were added to an acre of soil, on an average, 36.4 pounds of nitrogen, 78.9 pounds of available phosproric acid, and 90.6 pounds of potash; and twice these amounts in using 2000 pounds of fertiliser. Adding to these the amount of plant food already known to be present in the soil and then deducting the quantities removed by the two crops grown, we find that excessive amounts of nitrogen, potash and particularly phosphoric acid, were left unused when 2000 pound of fertiliser were applied.—New York Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

In New York a short while ago a baby was born in jail. Its mother was being tried for murder. Every womanly heart gives a throb of sympathy at thought of the blight upon the poor little baby's life. But a baby need not be born in jail to be unfortunate. Any baby which is not welcomed into this world with loving hearts and ready hands is unfortunate. Any mother who is physically weak and incapable of bestowing a healthy constitution upon her baby may darken its future with weakness and disease.

A prospective mother ought to insure her baby's welfare by every means that Nature and science afford to keep her physical powers up to the very highest point.

Every expectant mother ought to know and avail herself of the strengthening and re-enforcing properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives health and endurance to the delicate organs concerned in motherhood. Taken early during the period of expectancy, it makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and comparatively easy. It makes the mother strong and cheerful, and gives health and natural vigor to the child.

It is the only medicine of its kind devised for weak and delicate women by an educated, experienced physician.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains advice which every woman ought to read. A paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound for 50 stamps.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

In my double pen breeding house, says the big fancier, M. L. Edson, of Jacksonville, Ill., I have a double-deck platform with roosts placed eighteen inches above, which brings the roosts at an elevation of about four and one-half feet from the floor proper of house. Thus, when the fowls are at roost they are in the highest and warmest part of house—combining the essential points of both a low, warm house, and roosts near the floor, a point where many make a mistake. They get the right idea of having roosts on a level, but think that to have roosts raised only one foot or two from floor necessarily means the main floor of house, which is incorrect, as they are thus confined during the long winter nights in the coldest, dampest air and in contact with any poisonous gases that may be lurking in the house. Such people then wonder how they can utilize the waste room above, unless it should be a low-roofed house, which is always cramped and inconvenient. All fowls know better than to select a low-down roost if there is anything possible to get on higher up.

Regarding nests, mine are placed in two tiers, one above the other, under the droppings platform, and are accessible for attendant's hand from the outside of building, through a four-inch flap door, which opens outward and upward on hinges, running the full length of platform in each pen. The hens enter each laying apartment from the opposite or inner end through a trap door that swings in and upward.

The sides of these nests (see illustration), are made of four-inch yellow pine flooring, three and one-half feet long. The ends and bottoms are made of light, half-inch material, and on the top edge of the long side (at opposite end from the nests) are placed in the groove short pieces of flooring, which can be slid back or forward to regulate the balance, as the tilt is formed by a horizontal wire passing through the slatted partition, six inches above each department floor and close to inner end of nests (which, by the way, are fourteen inches square), and attached to same by a loop of wire passing over the horizontal wire with a short crook, two inches below, which can pass through holes in side pieces just outside of the nests. Thus by slipping these looped wires out of said holes, the nests can be taken out for cleaning, smoking or painting, as by removing a half dozen screws the front of these apartments can be removed, thus giving easy access for cleaning, etc.

Mind you, although the sides of these nests are long, there are no bottoms excepting immediately under the nests proper. Thus there is nothing to interfere with the working of the 10-inch trap door, which swings in and out of the way and is held in position by a chalk line (stout string) attached to a staple driven in floor above at a point just past the intersection of the two staples when door is raised; thence on through another staple driven about over the center of the nest and terminating with a toggle, the short end of which butts up against a slot or block on the inside of the outer wall of the house, the longer end bearing against the nest near the top edge. Thus the least tilt of the nest by the weight of the hen releases the toggle and lets the door fall into position.

Thus biddie is made a prisoner, subject to the will of the attendant who may release her when she has laid and he is sure he has made the right record. By pulling the chalk line he can then reset the nest-trap without entering the house or disturbing the other hens.

In the house between the trap doors are nailed, perpendicularly, pieces of fence plank three feet long and about eleven inches apart. Lath are nailed on the inside top end. Also seventeen inches from bottom end, being immediately under each platform, on the outside, are strips one inch square, running horizontally, also, the top edge of inner strips.

No small objection which young folks had to the old-time spring-medicines was their nauseousness. In our day, this objection is removed and Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful and popular of blood-purifiers, is as pleasant to the palate as a cordial.

Starting Plants in Sods.

Lima beans, squashes and melons do nicely by starting them in sods. Take some close cropped turf from a rich pasture, cut it to fit a strawberry basket and reversing it, place it in the basket, and, loosening up the soil, mix in some superphosphate of rich compost and sow the seed. The seed should be sown about six weeks before it will be safe to place the plants in the open ground. The hardening off, that is, inuring to outdoor conditions, is a very important part of spring plant management. Two weeks before the time to finally transplant, place the plants in a shallow trench out of doors, having a rim of boards high enough to secure head room for the plants. The soil taken from the trench should be banked around the rim. A tight board covering at night will protect from frost, and such a cover may be cheaply made by taking dry goods boxes, cleating sides and top and bottom, so they will not fall to pieces, and sawing them off close to each end. This will give six covers which will serve for a cold frame 28 inches wide and 16 to 20 feet long, according to the size of the box, and a box will not cost more than 40 or 50 cents. In nights when there is no probability of frost, the covers may be left off.

Thrifty growth, frequent transplanting and careful but thorough hardening are the secrets of strong, early, tough vegetable plants. It is always desirable to put in plenty of seed, as they seem to come up much better than when sown thinly. A certain amount of heat is engendered in sprinting, which helps the temperature of the soil, and the plants are of mutual benefit in cracking the soil, just as many hands at the raising of a building makes light work for all. The most advanced plant growers do not now water upon the surface, but have a shallow tank in which the flat box of plants is set until the soil is thoroughly saturated. This prevents baking and washing of the surface.—American Agriculturist.

A Point To Remember

If you wish to purify your blood you should take a medicine which cures blood diseases. The record of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this is the best medicine for the blood ever produced. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the most stubborn cases and it is the medicine for you to take if your blood is impure.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

The Vegetable Garden.

The garden is the most productive acre of the farm. If it is not, it should be made so. It is the most indispensable part of farm life. Half of our living should come from our garden in summer. Not one-half the country people make an effort to have a garden. There are some that start out well in the spring, sow an abundance of seed and never look to the garden until they think it is time they should have results. They take a look and cannot find any, for the weeds have covered the little plants. Then they come to the conclusion that the seed did not grow. They say all sorts of things, about the seedmen and mow off the weeds and wait until another spring, when they go through the same process. Now this is all wrong. To keep the garden clean we should begin early and continue the cultivation until fall.—Mrs. Ferres, Quebec, in Farm and Home.

Those Worrying Piles.

One application of Dr. Agnew's Ointment will give you comfort. Applied every night for three to six nights and a cure is effected in the most stubborn cases of blind, bleeding or itching piles. Dr. Agnew's Ointment cures eczema, and all itching and burning diseases. Its acts like magic. 35c. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Rich and Red.

Rich red blood means strong vigorous health. Burdock Blood Bitters enriches the blood, strengthens the system, regulates the bowels, liver, kidneys and stomach, and cures dyspepsia, biliousness, bad blood, sick headache, etc. One cent a dose and every dose helps the cure.

report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Cameron of chronic cough in short and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McComber of a long-standing cough.

Mr. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist,
528 Yonge St., Toronto, writes:
"As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It gives the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

THE CUP OF TEARS.

"The cup which my father hath given me, shall I not drink it?"
No letter lay beside it, no messenger did say
Who sent the sombre token that on my threshold lay.
A cypress wreath drooped from it, my soul
grew sick with fears,
For well I knew its meaning, it was the cup of tears.

I gazed into the chalice, and saw, with lips of snow,
As in a prophet's vision, the sad years
come and go;
I felt the thirst and longing, and the burning pain that scars
The eyelids of those mortals who drink the cup of tears.

I stooped and read each symbol etched on its heavy brim;
I scanned the thorny pattern that wreathed
the cruel rim;
There was the torch inverted, and there the lonely years
Were carved in gloomy pictures upon my cup of tears.

I pushed the goblet from me, and in my anguish said,
"I cannot drink the potion, Oh, give me back my dead!
Thou art all compassion, whose name
my soul reveres,
Give back the eyes I long for, and take this cup of tears!"

Then spake a voice beside me, "My child!
it may not be.
Canst thou not trust thy Father to pour a draught for thee?
Believe that all is wisdom which mystery appears,
And drink with lifted forehead thy sacred
cup of tears."

And then the Presence vanished, without adieu or sign,
To carry cups of sorrow to other lives like mine.
O God, be very pitiful to whom this Presence nears
And help us to be loving who drink the cup of tears.

A CRIPPLE FOR LIFE.

SO DOCTORS SAID, CONCERNING RICHARD B. COLLINS.

pital Without any Benefit—Pink He Spent Months in the Toronto Hos- Pills Cure Him After all Other Treatment Failed.

From the Echo, Wiarton, Ont.

The Echo presents to its readers the following plain statement of fact, with the simple comment that a medicine that can perform so remarkable a cure is simply invaluable, and it is no wonder that the aggregate of its sales throughout the country is enormous.

I, Richard B. Collins, hereby make the following statement, which can be confirmed by any number of witnesses in this section of the country: "I first began to complain about five years ago. I had then been working in a fish shanty, and was wet almost the whole time, summer and winter. I was then confined to the house for three months. This was my first attack and on getting better I commenced work again the first of the following February and continued it until the next January, when I took a much worse attack. The doctors pronounced it rheumatism and after treating me for that disease until the first of May, they discovered that my trouble was disease of the hip joint, and advised me to go to an hospital. I went to Toronto and stayed in the hospital five weeks and then returned home. I, however, did not recover, and was compelled during the following summer to go back to the hospital where I remained three months, getting worse all the time. I was told I could not be cured and when I left I was only able to walk by the aid of crutches. I then came home and was not there long before I was taken to bed. I continued in this state until January following, when I was advised by several friends to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took their advice and before I had finished the fifth box I began to improve, and by the time I had completed a dozen boxes I was able to walk without crutches, and have never used them since. I was able to do light work in a short time, and in January last (1897) I commenced working in the woods and have no trouble from the hip unless over-exerted. During the last three years I have spent $300.00 in doctors' bills and medicines, trying everything recommended, but without any good results, until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, to which I owe my restored condition, as the doctors gave up all hope of ever seeing me out of bed alive and well. I may say that before I began taking Pink Pills during my last attack I put in many a night so bad that I never expected to be alive in the morning."

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration, and diseases depending upon humours in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and build up and renew the entire system. Sold by all dealers, and postpaid at 50c a box or six boxes or $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not be persuaded to take some substitute.

A splendid Medicine.

DEAR SIRS,—I hope that this letter will be of some use to those who suffer from headache and have not yet heard of B.B.B. Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to one bottle and a half of Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a splendid medicine and I recommend it to all sufferers from headache or pain in the back.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

MR. RANTON'S METHODS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—After so many letters having appeared in your valuable paper on the Ranton meetings, it seems superfluous on my part to add to the number. In this evening's issue I was rather surprised that after two such crowded Sunday afternoon meetings that Mr. Ranton should fail to hold one next Sabbath on such a frivolous pretence. There seems to be some dissatisfaction that some of the writers of these letters have not given their names. For my part I do not care so much if the proper arguments are used, so that we can fight them, not the author. It may satisfy the curious to know the writer. I thought the letters contained sufficiently fair arguments on the subject being discussed and did not in any way call for those scurrilous remarks on the part of Mr. Ranton. I am not disappointed in "Moderation" remaining silent. Is it true that the present age is greatly in advance of the time when the "Jerusalem Daily Examiner" was in being? I know that in a very early stage of the world's existence it was determined that dust should be the serpent's meat. But if Mr. Ranton has such relish and can feast on such discourses on the past two Sabbaths—on the depraved conditions of his fellow-mortals—I must say that I have no desire to join him in the mess.

The question arose in my mind, Is the present age so much in advance of that nearly two thousand years ago? I began to look for some proof. Where could I find it? Well, I thought of the children at that time (it might be in Jerusalem) sitting in the markets and calling to their fellows, saying: "We have piped unto you and ye have not danced," etc. Those Jewish children had seen their parents and friends at their festivals and weddings. Some playing upon their pipes and others dancing to their children, mimicked the same in their diversion and also having observed at funerals the mourning women making their doleful ditties and others adswering to them, acted the the part of these persons expecting their fellows would make their responses but did not. Hence, the complaint, "we have mourned unto you and ye have not lamented." Now this must have been a failure. I suppose they never had a training. But in the present age there is a great advance which we will have an opportunity of witnessing when parliament opens in Peterborough I believe some time in May. This is not to be children, but ladies, hence the difference in the age in which we are.

I hope there will be a strong opposition, that there will be no failure on the part of anyone to join in the debates under the instructions of our professional M. P. P. The citizens of our town may expect a treat. I never had the privilege of being in the House when in session, and now not able to hear the speeches it would be no pleasure to be there, but if this notice should be the means of attracting a larger audience my presence will not be missed. I would like to have said a word on the coming Jubilee, but this would be too long: short letters are liked best, unless those we get from friends. Asking you for a small space with thanks, as Ever yours,

JOHN BABB.

Peterborough, April 23rd.

MR. RANTON AND HIS WORK.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—That Mr. Ranton's ministrations have attracted universal attention is undeniable. A variety of opinions have been expressed as to the secret of this unusual popularity. Some account for it in one way and some in another. We venture to say that the true secret is to be found in the thoroughly evangelical character of his ministrations. It is true he has many natural advantages, a fine person, a ready wit and strong sense of humour. He has also originality; for what is originality, but the observing eye? And then he has that mysterious inexplicable something called personal magnetism. And yet we have known men possessed of all these qualities and yet who failed to reach the spiritual consciousness of men as he has done. Christ Jesus and Him crucified is the central point around which all else revolves—standing out prominently in connection with his marked individuality and occasional startling utterances is a powerful impression of genuine reality, and of ennobled consecration to the loftiest of all aims. The glory of God in the salvation of the human race. There is another element of power in Mr. Ranton to which reference has not been made; his preaching his pre-eminently human. His mind is of the concrete order. He sees the form, the colour, the voice of things. After all it is the preaching of the Gospel, by men who have themselves believed, that draws and holds the crowd. The attraction of the cross will never cease.

Men never tire of the crocus of spring, the rose of summer, the sear and yellow leaf of autumn, and they never tire of the old, old story. Age cannot wither it, nor custom stale its infinite variety. Why? Because it is the very counterpart and complement of the human soul.

R. CRAGG.

DIVINE GUIDANCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR READERS—We were called of God to attend a very important meeting of the Christian Association at Galt. Three sessions were held daily in the parlours of Mr. J. K. Cranston's residence and a few outsiders attended. The discussions were just right, coming to a climax in reference to the financial situation. Success in business was found to be the certain outcome of obedience to every word God speaks from moment to moment, and every act of life is right when it is the result of walking and talking with God without ceasing by the year.

The work in Galt is promising, and the different centres, Peterborough included, from which persons came to the convention, also tell of satisfactory development and the general prospect of the universal propagation of divine guidance on the earth is as certain as that there is a terrestrial for habitation. Absolute harmony prevails not only between individual members of the Association and God, but the voice of God is synonymous with the corporate call of the Association.

Mr. Thos. Bonsfield, of Galt, who was here in company with others several years ago, is coming again in a few days to make permanent home with us to proclaim the Gospel of divine guidance.

Yours sincerely,
W. M. EADIE.

BUTCHERS' COMBINE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In last night's EXAMINER I noticed an advertisement of John Conroy, butcher, headed "The Butcher's Combine Broken." In the first place we have no combine, and in the second place Mr. Conroy could not break something he never agreed to. All first-class shops in the town found it necessary to raise the price of their best cuts at Easter, as usual, and as far as can be seen will have to hold them for some time yet. But if any other shop wishes to serve the public with a poor class of meat or suffers loss at this time of the year they are welcome to do so.

TORONTOS WIN A GAME.

Five Earned Runs in the Eighth and Ninth Defeated Reading.

Philadelphia, April 23.—After winning twelve straight games, Reading was defeated by Toronto to-day, 5 to 4. The game was well played by both teams, Toronto winning out in the eighth and ninth innings, earning five runs, the winning run being made with only one out. Freeman's hit and McHale's two-bagger settled the game, a two-bagger by McHale, singles by White and McGean, and Wagner's home run earning four in the eighth. Score:

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Afflicting a Whole Family. Speedily Cured by CUTICURA.

Statements Sworn to Before the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

My wife had appear on her limbs, just above the ankles, five small pimples that began to enlarge, and soon developed into eating ulcers of the indolent type, which, despite all remedies and our efforts to cure them, grew worse and worse, and at the end of three months had become very bad, two of them having eaten to the bone. At that time we began to use CUTICURA remedies, and with two bottles of RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, they were cured sound and well in about two months. The scars are there to-day as living witnesses of the severity and extent of the ulcers.

I also was afflicted the same winter with papular rash, from which I could not rest day or night. My skin became in a very bad fix when I began using CUTICURA remedies. I used them for about one month and was cured.

My little baby girl, when about ten months old, was afflicted with Eczema, her limbs from her knees down were one solid sore from which she suffered greatly. We tried several remedies which only aggravated them, before we began the use of the CUTICURA remedies, in which case there was a complete cure with no return of the disease.

THE FALL OF LARISSA

Turkish Troops Gained an Important Victory

AND THERE IS GLOOM IN ATHENS

Nevertheless the Greeks Propose to Continue the Fight—Opinions in Some Quarters That the War Will End This Week With the Intervention of the Powers.

Athens, April 24, 6.30 p.m.—Larissa has been completely evacuated by the Greeks, who spiked their guns in position and carried away all of the moveable cannon and munitions of war. The wounded remain at Larissa under the protection of the Red Cross flag.

Ricciotti Garibaldi visited the Students' Club, where he received the Municipal Council. An address which he made created intense enthusiasm. He was followed to his hotel by thousands of people.

Midnight.—Special despatches received from the frontier assert that the Turks attacking Metsi were repulsed seven times yesterday. At 6 o'clock in the evening the Greek forces were obliged to give way. The Greeks retreated in good order on Karaclas, where they are entrenched. From Arta the Greeks occupied the heights of Pentesigadia. It is believed that the military operations in Epirus will soon be terminated.

The Sad News.

Athens, April 25, 2.15 a.m.—Saturday's papers counsel the people of Athens to receive the sad news with patience and sang froid considering that the army fought courageously in defence of the national honor, paying the price by heavy sacrifices

Italy Interferes.

Rome, April 24.—The departure of volunteers for Greece is being prevented by the police of the various towns.

To Assist Wounded Greeks.

Aarau, Switzerland, April 24.—The Red Cross Society is organising ambulance corps for the purpose of assisting the Greek wounded.

Will the Powers Intervene?

London, April 24.—A despatch to The Observer from Rome says that the Cabinet is of the opinion that after the first pitched battle between the Greeks and Turks in which large forces are engaged the powers will intervene and secure an armistice.

Bombardment of Defenceless Towns.

Constantinople, April 24.—The bombardment of defenceless towns like Santi Quaranta has excited much adverse comment here. Similar criticism has been made concerning the bombardment of Prevesa, which was destroyed, although the fire on the Greek fleet was from the forts.

An extra session of the Cabinet is being held at the Yildiz Kiosk. The French military attache has gone to the front for the purpose of reporting the progress of the war to his Government.

Latest From Arta.

Athens, April 25.—A despatch from Arta reports that the Greeks have captured Plaket. Another despatch says that Plaket and Pentepigadia have been occupied by the Greeks after being abandoned by the Turks, who have also abandoned Kaletsia. Col. Manos in force has advanced beyond Pentepigadia en route to Janina. It is reported at Arta that a rising has occurred in the interior of Epirus.

Larissa's Fall.

Athens, April 25, 4 p.m.—About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the official in charge of the telegraph office at Larissa, observing a cloud of dust raised by the advancing cavalry of the Turks, asked leave to dynamite the office. He was directed to leave it. Since 3.30 p.m. (Saturday) the Larissa office has made no response to calls from Athens.

Edhem Pasha's Blow.

Athens, April 25.—A despatch from Revend says that Edhem Pasha, on learning that the Greeks had been ordered to fall back, attempted to deliver a crushing blow with a considerable force which had been resting 24 hours, and succeeded in breaking through the Greek lines in several places.

Osman Pasha at Work.

Salonica, April 25.—Osman Pasha arrived here last evening and was received with great enthusiasm. He went forward at once to the scene of conflict. Greek subjects here, on agreeing to place themselves under the Turkish authorities upon certain conditions, will be allowed to remain.

Greeks Will Fight it Out.

Athens, April 25, 5 a.m.—The Greek Government has decided to persevere in the struggle, and to resist the further advance of the Turks with greater energy than has hitherto been displayed. It is officially declared that the new line of defence is far stronger than the frontier where the Turks gained their advantage in consequence of the superiority of their positions.

IS THIS THE LAST WEEK?

The European Powers Said to be Taking Steps for Peace.

London, April 25.—What seems likely to be the last week of war is entered upon to-day. It is difficult from the tangle of conflicting telegrams to understand the exact position of affairs.

Following the Greek defeat at Larissa London opinion to-day is almost unanimous that the end is in sight; and this view is probably shared by the powers, as they are already moving to intervene.

It is believed that intervention will first take the form of a suggestion of armistice, to which the combatants would no doubt agree. Since yesterday the British Foreign Office has been in close communication with the other members of the European concert, Great Britain suggesting that the time has now arrived for them to act. The French, the German and the Italian Governments have already responded, offering to agree, though the German Government adds as a condition that it will be necessary first to exact a pledge from Greece to obey the mandate of Europe when this mandate is again given. The British Foreign Office believes Greece will give this undertaking, as the disasters which have overtaken her have demonstrated that Turkey still possesses a formidable fighting machine, a fact which must have a sobering effect upon the popular demand for war at Athens, and which will permit the Greek nation to climb down without disgrace, after a superb vindication of personal courage of the Greek troops and a gratifying demonstration of Hellenic patriotism. If the Greeks listen to reason and the arguments which will be pressed by England at Athens and by Russia at Constantinople, it is not improbable that a decision will be reached by Tuesday, before which it is not supposed here that Edhem Pasha or Osman Pasha will have time to do more than to appear at Pharsala.

GLOOM IN ATHENS.

There are Still Many Who Want to Continue the Fight.

Athens, April 25, noon.—It is useless to deny that a very gloomy view of war prospects is taken here by the better informed. There are, however, no signs of a panic. The city exhibits an aptitude of dignified endurance, while many still show an unabated enthusiasm for fight. This symptom is particularly noticeable among the wounded now in Athens. Their one desire seems to be to be healed in order that they may rejoin the colors. Naturally this is much fostered by the confirmation of the reports that the Turks have burned the Greek wounded in a church at Kurtzlovali. The Turks lighted fires on the bodies of the wounded. Many of the Greek wounded implored their comrades to kill them; others committed suicide. Although it is said that the Greeks carried off all of their guns from Tyrnavo and Larissa, and also destroyed all the provisions at both places, they could not transport the guns to Pharsala.

It is reluctantly believed by some in Athenian circles that the retreat was somewhat disorderly, and that some of the guns were abandoned with but feeble defence. It seems probable, however, that in the main the retreat was in good order.

This morning the word goes forth here that the Government will persevere in the struggle with greater determination. The report, however, has not served to allay the growing irritation at the belief that, even if Greece could not hold her own, the non-offensive policy manifested in the orders of the Crown Prince not to attack was idiotic and un-Grecian. The retreat to Pharsala is considered a poor response to the fiery speeches of Crown Prince Constantin to his troops.

Naturally all sorts of reasons are advanced as to why the Greeks retreated, the more candid admitting that the Turks were too strong. It is also pointed out that the Turkish cavalry did much to turn the scale in favor of Edhem Pasha's movements.

The Greek fleet is also the subject of many curious reports, one of which asserts that the eastern squadron has bombarded Dedeagatch. It is known that the Turks yesterday ordered that all the lanterns in the lighthouses in the Gulf of Salonica should remain unlit. Five ironclads and four torpedo boats are operating along the coast between Platamona and Katerina. The British and French subjects residing at Volo have wired to their respective envoys here begging for the despatch of warships to Volo to protect them. The envoys have wired to their Governments and to the admirals at Canea, but at Athens it is considered unnecessary to comply with the request, as an attack upon Volo is no part of the Turkish program.

Despatches from Arta somewhat modify yesterday's reports and tone down the glowing prospects, although the Athenians are still hoping that the capture of Janina may come as an offset to the retreat from Thessaly. There is no confirmation of the report that a white flag has been seen flying over Prevesa citadel, and Pentepigadia has not yet been captured.

Col. Coumanouros, with a battalion of 1200, engaged 2000 Turks at 3.30 p.m. yesterday (Saturday) on the plain in front of Pentepigadia. The battle lasted until 7.30 in the evening. The result is not yet known here, though it is understood that the Greeks lost 180 killed and wounded. Col. Coumanouros had no artillery.

Col. Manos has returned to Arta with the third division. The second brigade, under Col. Bosmes, is 20 kilometres from Arta. Its forward movement is reported interrupted.

SATISFACTION AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Because the Ottoman Troops are in Possession of Larissa.

Constantinople, April 25.—The triumphant success of the Turkish arms has caused the liveliest satisfaction here. The following telegram from Edhem Pasha is posted everywhere: "Larissa was occupied to-day by the cavalry of the Imperial army. The Hellenic troops fled in disorder, abandoning a large quantity of arms and ammunition."

This has been put up as a bulletin in many places, while the people are also reading Edhem Pasha's despatch announcing his possession of a strategic position in front of Tyrnavo, which runs as follows: "The hill of Lesdaki, the most important dominant point to the north of Larissa, was taken by the Ottoman troops Friday. Hamid Pasha's division, having left Kastani (Karyai), effected a juncture with the other Imperial troops at Milkoria. The town of Tyrnavo, which is situated two hours from Larissa, was occupied to-day by the Hamoua army corps. The Ottoman troops continue to advance toward the plain of Larissa.

Osman Pasha has been given secret instructions. A despatch from Smyrna says that the Redifs, who were called out yesterday, are intended for the towns of Smyrna, Vurla and Scalanova, in order to prevent disturbances by the Greeks residing there. A meeting of the Council of Ministers on Saturday considered the expulsion of Hellenic subjects from Turkey. Marked irritation is displayed in official circles at the intervention of the foreign embassies on this subject, as it is feared that some trouble might arise from the ships of the powers sent to protect foreigners at Salonica. The consuls at Janina telegraphed the ambassadors here last Friday that the Albanian battalions had mutinied and were refusing to march, as well as threatening to attack the town. The Mussulman population, according to these advices, had quitted Janina en masse, some fleeing into the country and others taking refuge in the fortress. The consuls described their own position and that of the Christian element at Janina as most critical, the Vali having refused to distribute arms and ammunition to enable the inhabitants to defend Janina against the Albanians. The envoys called the attention of Tewfik Pasha to the matter and demanded the adoption of effective measures to protect the inhabitants. These representations have been renewed to the Porte to-day.

Mark Honors for Edhem

Constantinople, April 25.—The Sultan has conferred high decorations upon Edhem Pasha and upon the commanders of the six divisions of the army engaged in Grecian territory.

PRINCE CHIMAY IN A DUEL.

M. Clemenceau Was His Antagonist, and Both Were Wounded Simultaneously, Clemenceau the Worst.

Paris, April 25.—The outcome of an article of Clemenceau's in The Echo de Paris was a duel with swords this morning between M. Clemenceau and Prince Caraman de Chimay. Both were wounded simultaneously. Clemenceau received a gash in the right arm and the Prince a slight scratch on the shoulder.

M. Clemenceau's article in The Echo de Paris characterised the interference with the right of the Princess de Chimay to appear at the Folies Bergeres as shameful. The writer said her fortune was entirely spent before she was divorced, and that the $80 per night for which she had been engaged, would help to keep her not only from descending lower, but also in clothes, fod and other comforts of life. "What business," said the writer, "had the Prefect of Paris, or any higher personage, to prevent her from going upon the stage of the Folies Bergeres? What was the honor of the Chimay family to them?" The Prince de Chimay sent a challenge to M. Clemenceau by Sobege, the well-known fencing master, and M. de Borda, M. Clemenceau's second, were M. George Perin and M. Banc. The Prince de Chimay refused to allow the matter to be referred to an arbitrator and insisted upon an apology or a duel. M. Clemenceau declined to apologise. The Prince de Chimay chose swords and the fight was very lively, the Prince ripping a severe wound in the shoulder of his antagonist betwen the great pectoral muscle and the deltoid. The flesh was torn off on the point of the sword, but no serious consequence are expected by the surgeons.

The Princess De Chimay is pictorially represented al lover Paris in poses plastiques, in every variety of dress and undress. Crowds gather around the pictures.

DR. PETERS DECAPITATED.

The German African Commissioner Dismissed From the Service and Mulcted in the Costs.

Berlin, April 24.—(Special Cable Letter.)—The indictment of Dr. Peters, the German African Commissioner, whose trial on charges of ill-treating African natives has taken place in private, before the Disciplinary Court for German Protectorates, charged him firstly, with arbitrarily hanging a negro boy in 1891 and with hanging a girl in 1892; secondly, with unjustly making war upon Chief Mailalia in November, 1891, and thirdly, with furnishing incorrect reports to the superior authorities.

Dr. Peters protested that he was not guilty and affirmed he believed he had the power of life or death over all the blacks on the station, except those who were members of the German colonial force. He admitted having undertaken extensive campaigns against his instructions, but, he contended, the situation was then dangerous, as an attack on the part of the Warongos was feared, and he claimed he was obliged to inflict the death penalty in order to save German prestige when the station house was broken into, because he had previously announced that the penalty of death would be the punishment for so doing, the question of sex being quite subordinate. Dr. Peters admitted he had flogged three negresses, but he denied he had executed his concubine for adultery, explaining that she was hanged for conspiracy with a native chief against the expedition.

Lieuts. Pachman and Jancke testified in support of Dr. Peters.

Dr. Peters was sentenced to-day to dismissal from the Imperial service and to pay the costs of the trial.

The principal innovation which Germany will propose at the international postal congress in Washington will be the raising of the letter weight from 15 to 20 grammes. This is supported by France and Belgium, they being the two main transit countries who would lose largely thereby, as the fees would not be increased with the increased weight and increased work. In fact, Germany proposes to remit entirely the transit fees hitherto paid to those countries. On the other hand, the proposals to raise postal money orders up to 1000 francs ($200) and to reduce the fees therefor, as well as to increase postal packages to 5 kilos are looked upon as certain to be accepted.

German emigration for the month of March has again diminished, being only 1938 persons, as compared with 2129 persons during March, 1896.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

TARIFF NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Fielding's Resume of his Budget Speech—Opinions on the Subject.

In concluding his budget speech Mr. Fielding spoke thus with respect to the benefits of the tariff:

We present to this House a tariff which has the advantage of being simpler than the one that now exists, and I feel assured that it will, to a considerable extent, put an end to that friction that has so long existed between the merchants of the country and the customs houses.

We submit a tariff which largely abandons the specific duties that have been so unjust to the poorer classes.

We submit a tariff in which the large free list is not practically disturbed, but has large additions made to it.

We give to the country the great boon of free corn, which will have an important effect on the development of our farming interests, and particularly of the dairying interest, to which we must look in a very large degree for the prosperity of our farmers and the increase of our exports.

We give to the country a reduction of the duty on coal oil, and the removal of the burdensome restrictions respecting the sale of coal oil.

We give to the farmer his fence wire at a low rate of duty for the present year, and place it on the free list from the 1st of January next.

We give him his binder twine on the same terms, a lower rate of duty for the present, and make it free from the 1st of January next.

We give the medical and dental professions a boon which the younger and less wealthy members of the professions will appreciate, when we put all surgical and dental instruments on the free list.

We recognise the great mining industry of the country by placing on the free list all machinery exclusively used in mining enterprises. We do not confine it to mining machinery made in Canada, but we say it is more important to develop the mining interests of Canada than even to make a few machines in Canada, and so we put mining machinery exclusively used for the purpose of mining enterprises on the free list.

We give the people the benefit of reductions on breadstuffs, flour, wheat and cornmeal.

We give the manufacturers the benefit of cheaper iron; and much complaint has been made in the past of the burdens imposed upon them by the iron duty.

We revise the duties on rice in such a manner that they will not add a cent to the cost to the consumer and will add materially to the public revenue.

We give the people a reduction almost all along the line. We provide the necessary revenue, but expect to meet the great needs of the country by increased taxes on articles of luxury, such as spirits, tobacco and cigars, and without any increased taxation on the necessaries of life.

If the hon. gentlemen opposite have ever had the free breakfast table they talk about, we make it freer to-day by reducing the duty on sugar that goes on the breakfast table from $1.14 per 100 lbs. to $1, which is a material reduction.

And last, but not least, we give to the people the benefits of preferential trade with the mother country. (Loud cheers.)

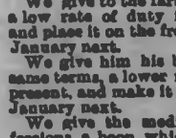
SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE'S OPINION.

Sir Wm. Van Horne, on being seen, said: "I have only had time to glance over the new tariff, but in nearly all the cases the changes seem to be in the direction of wisdom, and I feel sure that as a whole it will give general satisfaction and promote the business of the country. There are several things I would like to see changed, but of course it is impossible to make a tariff that will please everybody."

NO FAULT ON THE WHOLE.

Mr. Robt. Meighen, President of the Lake-of-the-Woods Milling Company, was satisfied with the new tariff in the main.

WOOD'S PHOSPHODINE.
The Great English Remedy.



Before and After.

While he had not had time to acquaint himself with all the details, it seemed to him that the Government had framed it upon a new and somewhat extended policy. With one or two exceptions, where, he thought, the Government had approached very near to, or beyond, the danger line, he had no fault to find, and he believed that the country as a whole, outside of those who wished a change for personal interests, irrespective of the dangerous effect it would have upon large industries, would be well satisfied.

AS TO CIGARETTES.

Under the new tariff the Canadian cigarette manufacturers are undoubtedly hard hit. Mr. J. M. Fortier, it was said, left for Ottawa this morning, and Mr. Maurice Davis, President of the American Tobacco Co. of Canada, would not discuss the matter. It was obvious, however, that he was far from pleased. "He had not," he said, "gone into the matter sufficiently to express an opinion. The doubling up of the tax from $1.50 to $3 per thousand on domestic manufacture will make many radical changes. The cigarette which has previously sold at five cents for a package of ten will disappear entirely, and those that before retailed for ten cents for a package of ten will hereafter be sold at two packages for 25c, or 15c a package. The same rule will apply throughout the list." Cigarettes are a luxury, specially adapted to bear a heavy taxation. The general public will not regard an addition to the price an evil by any means.

QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

Fortunes are being made by the fortunate possessors of London houses on the route of the Diamond Jubilee procession. Rich Americans are buying up all the choice locations. A London correspondent says:—

"Long ago the windows and seats in St. Paul's churchyard were bought up by speculators, who have formed a 'corner,' of course. Last week a powerful syndicate, with a capital of £10,000, set out to secure a few favourable positions, but found that they had all been secured. A single seat already commands £50, and it is said that £100 will be offered long before the day. This applies, at present, only to the area of St. Paul's churchyard, whence the ceremony of thanksgiving can actually be seen. Only about 400 windows command a view, while about 200 persons can be accommodated on the few near-by roofs. Only a very small number will be allowed to stand in the streets, owing to the narrowness of the neighboring thoroughfares, and the room required for the troops. The lucky spectators who will see the pageant in this way will probably have to take up their positions over night."

OTONABEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Meeting of Otonabee council—all the members present. John Johnston was granted until required for road purposes the use of the road allowance, opposite part lot 21, on the 14th concession line. On motion of Messrs. Lancaster and Doyell, the east half of lot 28, concession 10, was detached from road division No. 70, and attached to road division No. 28. The town hall seating committee were again present, stating that the cost of the seats would be about $90 instead of $75, as stated at the last meeting of council and they had raised $33 at a concert and if the council would grant $40, they would endeavour to raise the balance at a concert to be held on May 24th. If the council would give the above grant they would agree to raise the balance. On motion, the resolution passed at the last meeting of council granting the proceeds of the hall for the last two years, after deducting the expenses, was amended, granting the proceeds without any deduction, amounting to $31.20, and an addition sum of $8.80, in all $40. Mrs. C. Heffernan applied to have the taxes against lot 21, con. 6, remitted. On motion no action was taken. The clerk was instructed to notify the following persons to remove their fences from off the road allowance: R. W. Eason, 5th con. line, opposite lot 23; David Armstrong, 5th line, opposite lot 23; James Devlin, 2nd line, opposite lot 30; W. R. Borland, 2nd line, opposite E. ½ lot 29. The sum of $1250 was voted to be expended on roads, partly in large sums, under commissioners as last year. On motion the first sitting of the Court of Revision will be held on Thursday, the 27th day of May, to be advertised in the Peterborough Review and EXAMINER. The clerk was instructed in reply to a resolution passed by the Hiawatha Indians for an appropriation for their roads, to say that a number of years ago a large amount was expended in cutting the hill south of Merriam's corner, and two or three years ago $57.00 was expended on the boundary line north of the reserve and the greater portion of the statute labour in Wm. Thomson's beat is performed in the reserve. The council thinks that ample justice has been done in maintaining roads in the reserve. The following accounts were passed:—A. Bryce, repairing sidewalks and moving culverts from edge of the river to prevent them from being washed away, $1.25; John Wood, cedar, $8.00.

The Beginning of Diaz.

In the revolution which ended in the expulsion of that strange cross of ass and wolf, whom one of the most naive of Mexican folk-songs celebrates in "La pata de Saint' Anna," young Diaz became Jefe Politico (Mayor) of Ixtlan. In this hamlet was the first fair scope for the military bent which had been visible even in his childhood. He drilled the half-naked Indians of his jefature on Sundays, holding them by dances, a gymnasium, and the like artifices until he had really valuable militia. When Garcia "pronounced" in Oaxaca, the boy Mayor of Ixtlan marched on that capital with his aborigines and induced the usurper to "take it back"; and upon Garcia's renewal of the pronounciamento, Diaz returned and took the city and the small despot fled. For this service Diaz refused the pay proffered him. A little later he resigned his post as Mayor to become captain in the National Guard at less than half the pay, and won his first laurels in crushing the rebellion of Jamiltepec. Badly wounded, he saw the weak point in the insurgent lines, and won the day. It was a week before he reached the doctor, and he carried the bullet more than a year.—Harper's Magazine.

POISONED BLOOD.

Dreadful Death-Brought Comes from Diseased Kidneys

When Uric Acid Flows in the Veins, Life looks out of Darkened Windows, expecting soon the Close of Day.

The fashionable Italian poison of the XVI. century was Aqua Tofana. It was used by the Medicis and all the first families of Rome, Genoa and Naples. In five years historians tell us, over 600 wives used it to make widows of themselves.

In these modern days a more terrible and more prevalent poison is decimating the human family, and men have asked in vain for an antidote. It is the uræmic poisoning of the blood, caused by diseased kidneys. The poison which these useful organs should filter from the blood, is allowed to remain in the circulation and courses through the body, like

"Accursed Hebenon . . whose effect
Holds such an enmity with the blood of man,
That with a sudden vigor it doth posset
And curd
Like eager droppings into milk,
The thin and wholesome blood."

To-day there is a remedy. Science has discovered a sure cure. All may have and apply it. It is sold under the name of DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

It is a specific for all Kidney ailments. It cures by restoring the Kidneys, so that they properly perform their natural functions. It is the only known cure for Diabetes, and Bright's Disease. For sale by druggists everywhere, and the Dodd's Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Mr. VERNON BROMLEY, Trenton, Ont., says: "For a number of years have suffered severely from Rheumatism and Sciatica. Was induced to procure a half dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I have used, and from being a cripple I am a well man."

Mr. THOS. HARRISON, St. Mary's, N.B, says: "In spite of all other treatment I suffered for nearly a year with Stone of the Bladder. I was relieved by passing the same, after using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and completely cured by a few boxes."

Mr. WM. MCEVELA, 275 Friel street, Ottawa, says: "Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have worked a wonderful cure in my case. Had been laid up with kidney trouble for months."

G. B. COMBS, Orillia, Ont., says: "I most cheerfully testify that five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured me of Diabetes from which I suffered two years."

For Weak People.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for weak people having heart or nerve troubles, such palpitation, throbbing, spasms, dizziness, shortness of breath, smothering feeling, pain in the breast, etc., are an invaluable medicine as hundreds of certified cures bear witness. For anæmia, debility, after effects of Grippe and loss of appetite, they are a specific.

The best cough cure is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures coughs and colds

Shiloh's Cure

Is sold on a guarantee, it cures Incipient Consumption. It is the best Cough Cure. Only one cent a dose. 25 cts., 50 cts., and $1.00. Sold by John Nugent, 289 George street.

CANADA IS FISCALLY INDEPENDENT

At Least That is the Stand Taken by the Government—Mr. Laurier Receives a Message of Congratulation From The London Times on the Tariff.

Ottawa, April 25.—(Special.)—The Premier's declaration on Friday evening that Germany and Belgium will, under existing circumstances, not participate in the benefits of the new tariff, while to a certain extent relieving the tension of the public mind, has mystified the politicians, who are anxious to know how it is proposed to overcome the most favored nation clause. All documentary evidence on this point is against the Government, and yet when Mr. Laurier says that Germany is not to enjoy the benefits of the reciprocal clause, it is evident there is something more behind all this than is yet apparent. Either there will be a prompt repudiation by Mr. Chamberlain of the Premier's announcement or the reverse will be the case—the Imperial Government will accept the situation and sustain the action of the Dominion on this point. The Ministers are not very communicative on the point. Possibly they are reserving their ammunition, and to-morrow Sir Richard may fire some of it off. Although the contention has not yet been publicly announced, it will be found that the Government takes the view that by special Act of the Imperial Parliament, viz., the B.N.A. Act, Canada is fiscally independent of the Mother Country. Should Great Britain accede to this view, then it follows as a matter of course that the Canadian Government is well within its right in excluding Germany and other countries from the operation of the reciprocal clause until they give us a fair equivalent.

There is this to be said of the situation as it exists to-day: It is a fair inference that the Government cannot have acted as it has without some sort of understanding with the Home Government. Indeed, it is stated that while ostensibly Mr. Dobell went to England a month ago regarding the fast Atlantic steamship question, his real object was to see Mr. Chamberlain and explain to him the nature of the reciprocal proposals of the Government. On this particular mission Mr. Dobell has manifested a commendable degree of reticence, not usually attributable to him. If Mr. Chamberlain accepts Mr. Laurier's view as the correct one, then an important point has been gained.

It will be remembered that it was a Liberal Ministry in England which refused to accede to Canada's request for denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties. Some politicians here hold that possibly Mr. Chamberlain thinks the time has arrived, and especially since the tremendous outcry in England against goods "made in Germany," to accede to Canada's request, and may have decided to do what his predecessors in office declined to do. But, after all, public sentiment in England is opposed to the abrogation of the German treaty, and when the full facts are known, it will be found that our Government relies, as justification for its action, not on the possible denunciation of the existing treaties by Great Britain, but on the contention that Canada is fiscally independent and can do just as she pleases in tariff matters. A moment's reflection will show that no other colony of the Empire is in the same position as the Dominion, no other colony possessing an Imperial charter. The Government has consulted many eminent authorities on the point, and will hold to this view.

English press comments on the tariff received here, show that the action of the Government regarding trade preferences for the Mother Country is evidently gratifying to the English people. It is questionable whether any colonial Premier has ever received such an honor as that which came to Mr. Laurier yesterday, when the great organ of the Empire, The London Times, telegraphed its hearty congratulations to the Premier on his tariff.

The Government has decided upon a line of policy with regard to the Royal Military College, which must commend itself to the community generally. There was a good deal of kicking a few years ago when the fees for cadets at the Royal Military College were increased from $100 to $200, as it was felt this was legislation in favor of the classes as against the masses. Col. Kitson, the new commandant, was in town yesterday, and was notified by the Government that his recommendation for popularizing the college and making education thereat more accessible to sons of the middle and working classes, had been acceded to. The annual fee has been reduced from $200 to $100 and the course of instruction from four years to three years. Hitherto the total cost for the education of a young man at Kingston has averaged $1400 for a four years' course. Now, with a three years' course and the reduction of the annual fixed charge, the total will not exceed $750. Under the new arrangement, more attention will be paid to instruction in mathematics and civil engineering, and the time thus devoted to these subjects will be taken from the present military training and free-hand drawing. The latter will no longer be a compulsory subject. It is hoped by this change that parents who hitherto have been debarred from sending their sons to the college on account of the expense, will now avail themselves of it. While the cost is to be reduced, there will be no diminution in the efficiency of the college work to enable graduates to obtain appointments in after life. It is proposed to hold out inducements to cadets to enter the college by reserving certain appointments in the public service of Canada of a military nature for graduates, but these will not exceed 50 per cent. of the total number of the graduates, and no such appointment will be given to any graduate unless he comes within the first half of the honor list. In order to give parents an opportunity of thinking the matter over, it has been decided to receive applications for permission to take part in the next matriculation examination up to Aug. 1 next, instead of May 15. The next matriculation examination will be held at the several headquarters military districts about Aug. 15.

Mgr. Mery Del Val arrived quietly in the city on Friday, the fact being unknown to nearly everyone in town. He was driven to Bank Cottage on O'Connor street the city residence of Sir Donald Smith, and he will remain there during his stay in the Capital. His Grace Archbishop Duhamel was informed of his arrival and called at the house in the afternoon. Yesterday the ablegate had a large number of callers, chiefly clergymen. Among the many who paid their respects was Bishop Laurin of Pembroke, who was with His Excellency for some time. Mgr. Del Val's stay in town will extend at least two weeks, before his departure for Manitoba.

The Ottawa and Gatineau and the Pontiac and Pacific Junction Railway Companies are desirous of extending their lines into and through the city of Hull to the bank of the Ottawa River, to erect a commodious station at the junction of the railways, and to build a workshop for the use of both roads. An application has been made to the Hull City Council, asking the council to grant these rights.

A meeting of the executive of the local Council of Women was held yesterday. Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen presided. The business for the annual meeting, June 14-19, in Halifax, was discussed. Among other things on the programme for this meeting is a reception to be given by Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Aberdeen.

Ottawa people are greatly annoyed because their crack corps, the 43rd, has not been invited to send representatives with the Jubilee Battalion to England. For two years the 43rd Rifles stood first in the general efficiency competitions of the infantry militia, so that practically it has proved itself during two years past the foremost organization of the entire infantry. Under the circumstances it is thought only fair that the corps should have been asked to participate.

A case of great interest to stenographers was heard in the Exchequer Court, G. B. Bradley, chief of The Hansard staff, suing the Crown for $7000 said to be owing to plaintiff for shorthand work in connection with the prohibition commission. The point at issue is whether 30 cents a folio is a fair charge for ten copies of the evidence. The Department of Finance holds the price is too high and thinks, in view of the fact that Hansard men receive salaries of $2000 each, 25 cents per folio for 10 copies should be sufficient.

The Speaker of the Senate and Mme. Pelletier gave an at home in the Chambers in the Senate wing last evening. There was a large and fashionable attendance.

RHODES' GAME WITH KRUGER.

The Ex-Premier of Cape Colony Having Things Pretty Much His Own Way at Cape Town Again.

London, April 24.—A sudden revival of interest in the Transvaal is noticeable here. Lord Rosemead, the retiring Governor of Cape Colony and High Commissioner in British South Africa, has left Cape Town for England, and Cecil Rhodes is taking full advantage of his absence. Yesterday in a speech replying to an address welcoming him back to Cape Town Mr. Rhodes described his conflict with President Kruger of the Transvaal Republic as a game of cards that had been quite fairly played.

Sir Alfred Milner, the new Governor and British High Commissioner, who sailed from England a few days ago, has not arrived in Cape Town, and there is consequently nobody there to watch and control Mr. Rhodes.

The return of Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to London yesterday from his Easter holidays, and the appearance of a British squadron in Delagoa Bay are associated with the South African complications. It is thought here, that Mr. Rhodes is prepared to resume his game of cards, playing his hand independently of the British Government.

Intriguing Against Britain.

London, April 25.—The Times' correspondent at Paris has been informed that the object of Prince Hohenlohe's visit to M. Hanotaux, the French Foreign Minister, was to discuss the situation in the Transvaal, and to persuade France, and through her Russia, to support Germany in resisting Great Britain's imperious attitude towards the Boers, in exchange for Germany's support of France in the Egyptian question.

SEWED UP A MAN'S HEART.

A Wonderful Surgical Operation Which a German Doctor Claims to Have Performed.

Berlin, April 24.—At a meeting here of the surgical congress, Dr. Rehe of Frankfort reported a successful operation upon the human heart, the first case of the kind in the history of surgery. The account of the case as given by Dr. Rehe caused a sensation among the assembled savans, who listened eagerly as the doctor gave the details of the operation. Interest was added to the description by the introduction of the patient to the congress.

In telling of the case Dr. Rehe said that the man had been stabbed in the heart. In the ordinary course his death would have been certain in a very short time. He was, however, hurriedly conveyed to the hospital, where Dr. Rehe was in attendance. The doctor had him at once taken to the operating room, where he laid bare the heart and found that there was a wound on the right side of the organ. He sewed up the orifice made by the stabber, and then applied general treatment for arresting the hemorrhage. The heart worked violently during the operation, but despite the commotion of the organ the patient made good progress and soon recovered.

SERIOUS FLOOD AT MORRIS, MAN.

People Living in Barns and the Upper Storeys of Their Houses—Rowboats Have to Be Used to Get About.

Winnipeg, April 25.—(special.)—The flood situation at Morris and settlements along Red River, between there and Winnipeg, is now reported to be very serious. The Red River has risen to a higher point than in 30 years, and the whole town of Morris is under water. The water is up to the tops of desks in the schools, and to the tops of store counters. People are living in barns and upper storeys of their houses and can only move about in rowboats. The Manitoba Government sent a steamer from Winnipeg to relieve any distress that might exist, but the people were all found well supplied with provisions, though, of course, suffering many discomforts. The high water may last a couple of days longer and then Winnipeg will get it. However, Winnipeg's location is high, and beyond the flooding of the electric power houses and putting the city in darkness, it can do little harm.

LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Linseed and Turpentine is not only a popular remedy, but the best known to medical science for the treatment of nervous membranes of respiratory organs.

DR. CHASE compounded this valuable syrup so as to take away the unpleasant taste of the turpentine and linseed. It was the Doctor's last and greatest remedy, and more of it is sold in Canada than all other cough medicines combined.

A Banker's Experience

HEREAFTER HE INTENDS TO .... BE HIS OWN FAMILY DOCTOR

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. Mr. John Hetherington Sustains Serious Injuries.

This morning, while standing on top of a six-foot step-ladder, sweeping some cobwebs from the ceiling of his shop, at No. 523 George street, Mr. George Hetherington suddenly grew dizzy and fell to the floor.

The injuries sustained were serious, as a deep cut was inflicted over the left eye, whilst the cheek-bone just beneath the same organ is very badly swollen and discoloured. Portions of the skin have been scraped off the same side of the face. The tendons in the back of the left hand have been so badly wrenched as to swell up that member considerably. Mr. Hetherington also complains of a strained shoulder, and states that the cords in his neck have been so wrenched as to make eating impossible at present. He suffered a number of ugly-looking bruises on the legs as well as those enumerated.

THE ODD-FELLOWS ATTENDED SERVICE

REV. A. T. DYKEMAN PREACHED IN THE MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

One of the Best Sermons, from a Society Standpoint, Ever Delivered in Peterborough—Friendship, Love and Truth, the Three Links in the Chain of Odd-fellowship.

The members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges of Odd-fellows attended service in a body yesterday afternoon, at the Murray Street Baptist Church, where Rev. A. T. Dykeman, the pastor, preached to them their annual sermon. The attendance was immensely large, although the weather was most unpleasant, about two hundred of the brethern being in the procession.

As the text for his sermon Mr. Dykeman took the words "And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was upon him and gave it to David, and his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.—I Samuel xviii. ch. 4th ver.

In opening his address the speaker expressed his pleasure at knowing that as in Nova Scotia, he was to be privileged to preach to his brethren, the Odd-fellows. It was with a feeling of both pride and pleasure that he had agreed to address them. Beneficence, he urged, was one of the noblest traits of the human character; associated with it were the excellency of all the virtues and the beauty of all the graces. Beneficence, as in was as as the tree, the roots of which were the three graces and the branches and fruit the virtues. The beneficence shown in the text was very conspicuous and worthy of our emulation.

Friendship was the first link in the chain of Oddfellowship. Friendship was defined by Webster as being an attachment to a person proceeding from intimate acquaintance. It was the result of a pleasant relationship, a mutually pleasant relationship. It exhibited itself in solicitude for the welfare of others. It had no fellowship with selfishness. The two could not exist together. Selfishness was not only the death of friendship, but the death of self at the same time. In the study of ancient mythology a little narrative was told concerning the origin of the Narcissus. It was said that a young man existed who was very beautiful and who became wrapt up in himself through being told of his beauty. He used to gaze at his image mirrored in the water and long for a closer acquaintance with himself. He pined so over this that he gradually faded away and the gods converted his soul into the Narcissus.

Selfishness, as in the narrative, caused a person to become so wrapt up in themselves that they gradually grew into something apart from the rest of the world.

True friendship, on the contrary, manifests itself in kindness and benevolence as in the case of Jonathan giving away almost everything of which he was the owner.

Friendship, therefore, you see is helpful—it helps others. Life is a great battlefield. We need help—we need assistance. It is therefore necessary that of friendship should exist as with the Oddfellows. When Saul sought David, Jonathan directed an arrow close to where he was to warn him of his danger. The fraternal feeling of friendship prompted the act. In the present day a warning such as this may often be extended when such a feeling exists.

This friendship of our Order, continued Mr. Dykeman, is not spasmodic. Preparation for kindly acts is always made in advance, and when assistance is needed it is ready. In true friendship there is strength and in union there is strength. Where one individual might not be able to stand alone, the strength of others is there ready to assist. A three-fold cord is not easily sundered. We hear the voice of the Jehovah pealing forth the mandate to our order, "Bear ye one another's burdens."

We can see a little more than friendship between Jonathan and David. There is love—love the second link of our chain.

Love is a more abiding affection than friendship. Friendship may exist in the animal part of our nature, while love pertains more nearly to the spiritual portion. Friendship can exist amongst horses and dogs, but there is no such thing as love amongst the animal creation. It comes from God and is His divine gift to mankind alone. He places certain faculties in man to make him love. He puts man in a position to obey the mandate: "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself." Solomon says: "Love is as strong as death."

WHAT THE ATTRACTION

of gravitation is to the particles of this earth, and the centripetal power connecting the earth with the sun—that, and much more, is love to humanity, to the home, to society, to fraternal organizations, to the world.

As in the case of Eleanor sucking the poison from the wound in the hand of Edward I. made with a poisoned Mohammedan dagger, so love goes down the ages sucking the poison from the wounds of life.

Love removes obstacles out of the way of men and prevents them stumbling. As the pioneer woodsman goes forth with his axe over his shoulder to cut a track through the pathless forests for later generations, so love goes forth with its axe and smooths the way for those who must travel over the rough pathways of this life.

Love beams down and looks into the Ark of God, and it sees the decalogue there, and where there is true love for God there is a disposition to acquiesce in the plans of God as written there on the tables of stone.

A man is not a good Oddfellow unless he looks into the Ark of God at times, and can put his hand on his breast and say—"Thou God seest me."

Love is a refining and reforming power. Take an individual who is and let the sensation of love enter into his heart, and a radical change will take place.

This leads one on, continued the speaker, to say that the basis of true friendship and true love is truth, the third link of the Oddfellows.

Jesus Christ is the embodiment of truth. Love that is not based on truth is unreal. Truth is to friendship and love, what the pivot is to the needle of a compass. Our friendship and our love must turn on the pivot of truth. If the pivot is not properly poised then irregular and untrue action will follow. Love separated from truth is the source of much villainy. Where there is true love there is a reality beneath it, but there is also a love like the upas tree which only attracts to kill.

We need, brother Oddfellows, to familiarize ourselves with the Bible—the Book of truth, if we would have our friendship and love based on reality. Truth coming from heaven to us through the Bible enters our soul and takes us back with it to its source above.

Life is but a limited time of probation upon earth. We are dying, hourly. Our days as the sands in a sand glass are surely passing. The hour of death draws near, brothers, and you will be lifeless in a coffin. The dust will return to the earth and the soul to the God who made it. Fear, ye, then God and keep His commandments for in this the whole duty of man.

SOUVENIRS PRESENTED.

A Presentation to Mr. H. S. McEachren on Saturday Evening.

Mr. Howard S. McEachren left last evening for Chatham, New Brunswick, to enter upon his duties there in connection with the Bank of Montreal.

On Saturday evening those who sat at the same table with him in the Oriental Hotel dining room presented him with a very handsome set of gold sleeve links and shirt studs.

The gentlemen arranging for the gift were Messrs. W. D. Parker, H. M. Allen, W. J. Montgomery, W. L. Allen, E. A. McNee, F. J. Lefevre and F. Hollingshead.

"Mac" goes to accept his new position accompanied by the good wishes of all who came in contact with him during his residence in Peterborough for the past several years, as junior and afterwards as ledger keeper of the Montreal Bank.

PERSONAL.

Miss Blanchard, of Toronto, is the guest of Miss Belcher.

Mis Lilly Fitzgerald spent the school holidays with Miss Wallace at Lakefield.

Miss Annie Wood left to resume her studies at the Toronto Normal this morning.

Mrs. Wm. Scott, Ashburnham, who has been visiting with friends in Galt and other places in the west, returned home on Saturday.

Mr. Lay Dunsford has been very ill in Campbellford for the last few weeks. He has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia, but is now on the mend.

Miss Bolster, Lady Superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital, has just returned from Toronto, where she visited St. Michael's, St. John's and the Toronto General Hospital, witnessing two operations performed in the latter.

Dr. M. A. Morrison, dentist, has received notice to the effect that he has had the degree of Master of Dental Surgery conferred upon him. The necessary examinations cannot be written upon until five years after the applicant has been a licentiate of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons, and Dr. Morrison is to be congratulated on being successful in taking so high a degree.

The following paragraph in the Globe, concerning Mr. Arthur Ardagh will be read with interest, as he is a well known summer visitor at Burleigh Falls: Alderman John Irwin on Saturday evening received a cablegram stating that an operation had been successfully performed upon Mr. Arthur Ardagh of the Toronto Construction and Paving Co., by which a cancer had been removed from his throat. Mr. Ardagh is undergoing treatment by specialists in London, England.

REV. A. H. RANTON'S CLOSING SERVICES

THE SERIES OF SPECIAL SERVICES WILL END THIS EVENING.

The George Street Methodist Church will be Utilized for the Occasion—A Large Congregation Assembled in the Charlotte Street Church Last Night—All the Seats Occupied at Half-past Six O'clock.

Evangelist Ranton has just reason to congratulate himself on the immense gatherings he has attracted to his meeting, either by his personal magnetism or the powerful way he preaches of Christ crucified and Him only, or both. Yesterday in Charlotte street Methodist Church, at about half-past six, all the pews in the church were full and the draw-seats were brought into requisition shortly afterwards. At all of Mr. Ranton's meetings since he came here—five weeks ago—the majority of his meetings were attended by large crowds. Mr. Ranton very seldom fails to keep the attention of his audience upon the subject he is discussing.

In the evening he took for his subject "Spiritual Dynamics" and his text was found in Romans 1. and 16: "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also the Greek." Mr. Ranton, in the first place, pointed out the reason why Paul of the gospel of Christ. "For it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. If we look at Christ from the human standpoint, He is a failure. Imagine Mary coming to the inn in Bethlehem. The inn is crowded with well-to-do patrons. The condition in which she was, was enough to make the landlord tell her that he didn't want her around there. As he will not admit her into the inn, he tells her that she may go to the stable, which she does. No matter in what light one views the birth of Christ: one has to admit that it was a miracle, or if you fail to regard it as a miracle, then it is one of the most stupendous impositions which has been committed.

Thus, we see, the birth of Christ was of the humblest origin. Look also for a moment at how He underwent that most degrading punishment, death on the cross, and under very humiliating surroundings. Here is Christ on the central cross, and on either side is a thief. While Christ was on earth He aimed at the very root of all the false religions and established a new religion—the belief in the Lord Jesus Christ. Christ came to this earth—gathered a few fishermen or tax gatherers and men who were generally very poor as far as this world's goods are concerned, for His disciples and began to preach. Sometimes Christ was very popular and at other times he met with much disfavour in the eyes of the people. Just imagine, to die as a common murderer and was crucified between two thieves at the time when the words of my text—"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth; to the Jews first and also to the Greek," were spoken. Paul was in Rome—that great cosmopolitan city, which can be prepared to the present great cities of to-day.

HE WAS CONDEMNED

"Some people," the speaker said, "have the idea that Christ crucified forms the central and most important theme of the Bible. This is not so. Christ resurrected is the principal theme. This is what Paul preached. Had Christ not risen from the dead, the whole plan laid out by God for the world's redemption would have been a failure. Paul was human like ourselves, as was also God. People give as a reason for not belonging to some church, that it seemed too much like being bound down by a very strict code of rules, and that a church member had not that about them which he otherwise would have were he not a church member.

The truth only can set you free, and when you believe the truths of the Bible you will be free indeed. Paul did his duty. He led a quiet Christ-like life and was a father of men's souls. He was intensely stirred to action in this matter by divine power, as much so as he could possibly be.

Again, the gospel of Jesus Christ revealed to the world and the Apostle Paul the fatherhood of God. He is a God of power. Some people imagine God as a God of stern justice and many other absurd things, such as He is a God who will destroy their enemies. He is also a God of mercy. God reveals Himself through Christ Jesus. The conception of God in the Old Testament is not nearly as good as that in the New Testament. The apostles of old had the grandest conception of Him in the body, but we have a grand conception of Him spiritually. We believe in the words of that grand old hymn,—

"My God is reconciled.
His pardoning voice I hear;
He owns me for his child,
I shall no longer fear.
With confidence I now draw nigh
And "Abba, Abba, Father," cry.

Again, Paul was not ashamed of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, because it brought to him the hope of his deliverance from sin by

THE POWER OF GOD.

"If you can give me a practical demonstration of what God's power can do for a person, you are sure to be on the safe side," said the speaker. The person to whom the demonstration is made will say "Well, if it can do such wonders for so-and-so, I guess it can do the same for me; and he says: "I will accept Christ for my Saviour." All the preaching of any number of ministers, may not do any good to a certain class of people, who think, perhaps, that it is all "professionalism." A man loses nothing by coming to Christ. In fact he gains lots of things. Sometimes it may be position, good character, etc. Religion also enlarges one's horizon; deepens our ideas and is a general blessing in every sense of the term.

Lady Henry Somerset was one day in her park, and she thought she heard some one say, "Act as if I were and know that I am," and she became converted and is now leading others to Christ. Frances Willard is another example of God's saving power. Religion teaches one to be unselfish and gives a sense of liberty. Previous to Paul's conversion he was a narrow-minded, bigoted Pharisee. Paul told the people that the gospel of Christ was available to everybody. "He told them, as I tell you," said Mr. Ranton, "that religion cannot be purchased with money or by any good deeds, done in our own strength. Good credentials, moral character, etc., will not admit you into heaven. You have to ask God from the very depth of your heart, to have compassion on you and save you." Christ said, "Suffer the little ones to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." "Come as little children," urged Mr. Ranton, in conclusion "and God will forgive you."

Mr. Ranton speaks to-night on "Happy on the Way," in George Street Methodist Church, and there will be a grand union meeting, which all are cordially invited to attend.

NEW GREENHOUSES.

A Fine Lot of Healthy Young Plants for Bedding Out, Etc.

Mr. Lewis Croly announces that his greenhouses are now open to the public and he is prepared to supply any quantity of young plants for bedding out, vases, baskets and cemetery work of all kinds. An unusually large amount of bloom may be expected during the summer from plants procured from Mr. Croly in consequence of the fact that he has not forced them at all during the winter, wishing to preserve the strength for the summer bloom. Every variety is included in the greenhouse collection, including geraniums, fuschias, astors, pansies, petunias and all well known annuals, as well as such house plants as ferns, begonias and palms.

During the summer months a large amount of cut bloom will be always kept on hand and designs can be gotten up on the shortest notice.

Mr. Croly also has on hand a large number of garden plants, and is prepared to furnish tomatoes, cabbages and cauliflowers for setting out whenever called for.

In orders for the filling of vases and baskets, these will be called for and returned.

Mr. Croly's seeds have come in so rapidly that he is greatly pressed for room and a large number of small hot beds have been constructed in order to allow him to thin out his stock in the greenhouse. Greenhouses, just north of east side of the Smith street bridge.

COURT HOUSE PARK.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR—As this is a time of many suggestions, I would offer one to the Directors of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, that should there be no legal objection to prevent, the name of their Court House Park should be changed to that of "Victoria Park." The directors may probably be meeting before long, and I hope this may be brought before them. Yours truly, CITIZEN.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Last evening in the Charlotte street Methodist church the choir sang the anthem, Shelly's "The King of Love my Shepherd is."

The evening anthem in St. Paul's church last evening was entitled "Praise the Lord." The obligate solo was taken by Miss Mary Patterson.

A quartette composed of Misses V. Bellegham and M. Stephens and Messrs. A. L. Davis and W. J. Squires, sang "Let the Saviour in" the Charlotte street church last evening with good effect.

Mr. A. L. Davis sang "The old, old story is true" in excellent voice in the Charlotte street church last evening as a solo. Miss Headren's renditions of "Ninety and Nine" was also greatly appreciated.

Owing to the renovation in St. Peter's Cathedral three masses will be said each Sunday in the future. A mass will be celebrated at 9.15 a. m. for the children. During the month of May no devotions will be held in the evenings as was customary.

THE HORSE SHOW
A GREAT SUCCESS.

NINETEEN ENTRIES WERE RECEIVED—SIX CLASSES.

The Result of the Experiment of Attempting to Revive the Spring Stallion Show Should Make it a Permanency Again.

The management of the Peterborough Agricultural Society have every reason to be gratified at the success which attended the revival of the Spring Stallion Show. Although the show has not been held for a number of years and the interest in it had naturally died out to a great degree, yet on Saturday nineteen entries were received and the Oriental Hotel yards were well patronized by the lovers of horseflesh in the district during the afternoon.

The judges were Mr. John Douglas, of Warkworth, on light horses, and Mr. Geo. Gray, of Newcastle, on the heavy grades. Both gentlemen are known throughout the province as being competent men for the position of judges; but their task on Saturday was a difficult one, as in several of the classes shown the competition was very keen. This was noticeably the case with the Roadsters and the imported Clydes or draft horses. In the former class there were such horses exhibited as Boston Wilkes, Keepsake, Rosewood, Tom Rogers, Harold Hartwood and Elm City.

The five imported Clydes were a grand looking lot of animals and it took Mr. Gray almost an hour to pick the three prize winners. Those exhibited were Craikmore Darnley, Gay Prince, Lewis Gordon, Erskine McGregor, and McClaw's

The agricultural or Canadian bred Clyde class had but a single representative, as did the hackney class, and it is to be hoped that next year both of these classes will be well filled. Three thoroughbreds were entered and the admirers of the bang tails found much to admire in those shown, which were Tyrone, Rampart II., and Terror. The coach class also had three representatives on the ground and much interest was taken in Warley Toff, Ludwick and Chineau, all being imported to meet the demand for the high-stepping carriage horse. All three were fine specimens, being larger than the hackney.

All the horses shown were in the pink of condition, and their glossy coats bore evidence to the care which had been bestowed upon them during the winter.

The entries were as follows:

1. Dr. Poole, "Warley Toff," bay colour, coach class.
2. M. O'Brien, "Goodenough," roan colour, agricultural class.
3. Shearer & Elmhirst, "Craikmore Darnley," bay colour, heavy draught.
4. Ira Natrass, "Boston Wilkes," bay colour, roadster class.
5. R. Gray, "Tyrone," brown colour, thoroughbred class.
6. Geo. Cockburn, "Gay Prince," brown colour, heavy draught class.
7. Geo. Cockburn, "Ludwick," bay colour, coach class.
8. T. Johnston, "Tom Rodgers," black colour, roadster class.
9. T. Johnston, "Rosewood," brown colour, roadster class.
10. R. Wood, "Lewis Gordon," brown colour, heavy draught class.
11. Levi S. Bowles, "Erskine McGregor," bay colour, heavy draught class.
12. Bowles & Nesbitt, "Holderness II," brown colour, hackney class.
13. J. L. Patterson, "Rampart II," chestnut colour, thoroughbred class.
14. J. L. Patterson, "Chineau," bay colour, coach class.
15. T. Johnston, "Keepsake," bay colour, roadster class.
16. Dundas & Grandy, "McClaws," brown colour, heavy draught.
17. Jas. Elmhirst, "Terror," bay colour, thoroughbred class.
18. Alex. Patterson, "Harold Hartwood," bay colour, roadster class.
19. Jas. Elmhirst, "Elm City," brown colour, roadster class.

Prizes were awarded as appended:

Thoroughbreds:—1, Tyrone, R. Gray; 2, Rampart II, J. L. Patterson; 3, Terror, Jas. Elmhirst.

Coach or Carriage:—1, Ludwick, Geo. Cockburn; 2, Chineau, J. L. Patterson; 3, Warley Toff, Dr. Poole.

Roadster—Boston Wilkes, Ira Nattrass; 2, Tom Rogers, T. Johnston; 3, Elm City, Jas. Elmhirst.

Hackney:—1, Holderness II, Bowles & Nesbitt.

Imported Clydes:—1, Erskine McGregor, Levi S. Bowles; 2, Lewis Gordon, R. Wood; 3, Craikmore Darnley, Shearer & Elmhirst.

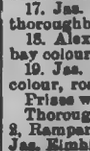
Agricultural:—1, Goodenough, M. O'Brien.

THE FRENCH PEA.

A Lively Specimen of This Grain Placed in the Market.

A man with headquarters in Peterborough, has been selling considerable quantities of a new pea called the "French pea," to the farmers of the vicinity. The French are credited with being a lively people, and the pea in question is worthy of this reputation. The "French pea" is the liveliest specimen that one could expect to see. An Otonabee gentleman who purchased fifty bushels of the new pea, brought a few to the EXAMINER office on Saturday. Every pea presents a little black spot, and when it is opened, out comes a very lively black fly or bug that scurries across a sheet of paper in a most lively manner. This particular brand of French pea is altogether too lively to suit the average easy-going farmer. The farmer prefers to raise meat in the old way. Farmers know better than they can be told how unprofitable it is to buy peas that have live bugs inside them,—live enough to almost fly the moment they are liberated.

Fathers or Mothers.



Treat your boys to a new Easter suit. Teach them taste and economy by fitting them out for the season at the City Clothing Store. You can have your pick from a heaping stock of dressy new suits at special Easter prices. Bright new outfits for boys and youths is what we take pride in selling. Here's a snap—500 pairs of all-wool tweed pants, well made, strong working pants, for only $1.25 a pair—the best value we ever offered.—H. LEBRUN & Co., City Clothing Store, George street. dw

A PLEASANT PRESENTATION.

A Venerable Nonagenarian Handsomely Remembered — A Great Family Gathering — Mr. Isaac Garbutt Presented with a Dutiful Address and a Fine Easy Chair on the Occasion of his Reaching his 90th Birthday.

The Lakefield News has the following interesting paragraph referring to one of the oldest and most respected residents of this county, Mr. Isaac Garbutt, sr. The News says:

On Monday evening last the residence of Mr. Isaac Garbutt, Sr., was the scene of a gathering which is of unusual occurrence. The gathering was composed of Mr. Garbutt's sons, daughters, and sons-in-law, who assembled to celebrate his 90th birthday. It falls to the lot of very few to reach this advanced age, and Mr. Garbutt is still possessed of all his faculties, and able to be around, and is more lively than many a man younger than he is. During the evening many pleasant memories of olden times were recalled, and a very pleasant time was spent. Among those present were Mr. John Garbutt of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Garbutt, of Douro; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Garbutt, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garbutt, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Garbutt; Mr. and Mrs. S. McKibbin, of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mann, of Smith; and Mr. G. J. Galvin of Douro. The following address was read:—

Lakefield, April 19th, 1897.

Dear Father,—It is with much pleasure that we meet you once more, on this the evening of your 90th birthday. It affords us real pleasure to know that you are still enjoying life well for your great age and in possession of all your faculties. The time is surely opportune, and we now present you with this easy chair, not however as the measure of our affection to you but in the hope of the knowledge of having received it from your devoted family will give you some pleasing reflections. It is also with real pleasure that we present Aunt with this rocker. We are not forgetful of the fact that she has contributed for many years to your comfort. Hoping that you may continue to enjoy life in the future as you have done in the past.

We remain, your affectionately,

John Garbutt,	Isaac Garbutt, jr.,
H. C. Garbutt,	Robert Garbutt,
Wm. Garbutt,	Mrs. J. H. Mann.
Mrs. S. McKibbin,	G. J. Galvin,
S. McKibbin,	J. H. Mann.

The EXAMINER heartily joins with Mr. Garbutt's hosts of friends throughout the county in most cordial congratulations upon his having reached in sound health of mind and body so advanced an age. He is full of years and honours. He is most widely known, and wherever known very highly respected and revered. At every exhibition of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society, for whose formation Mr. Garbutt was mainly, if not wholly responsible, his well preserved presence is a conspicuous feature. At an age beyond that at which most men find the chimney corner the most welcome place, Mr. Garbutt is found driving about the grounds, actively and intelligently exhibiting his interest in the occasion. He well deserves the title of Lakefield's "Grand Old Man."

Mrs. S. Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of itching piles which she has been troubled with for years.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 33 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 96 or $2,000 on 100 bales. Now I advise the purchase of Corn around 44 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $6.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $8. UNTOLD MISERY
FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

The Poet of the Sierras.

Joaquin Miller was, among other things in his adventurous youth, a pioneer of California in '49; and his home to-day, is on the heights of Oakland, in that State, overlooking the Golden Gate. The famous bard returned there in 1890, after a long exile in the civilization of the effete east, and acquired 1000 acres in the then barren foot-hills for a mere song—that is to say, for about the price of one of his own virile "Songs of the Sierras." He set about reclaiming this upland desert, and today it literally blossoms like the rose. Of late he has cultivated Japanese poets and olive trees. In his orchards he has planted whole rows and thickets of violets and La France roses, so that the place is a wilderness of bloom. When Ellen Terry and Henry Irving visited Miller at his home last year he had the whole pathway by which the actress approached the house from the gate strewn with roses.

Copious springs of the purest water in the world have been struck on the heights since they came into Joaquin Miller's possession, and the property would easily sell for $75,000 to-day, were he minded so to dispose of it. He is not. He intends to live and eventually die there; for, as he has truly said, "It is a life among the solitudes that tinges a man's aims with sentiment and gives to his soul a light that sordid ambition either drives away or makes impossible."—Leslie's Weekly.

A Great Scholar.

Antonio Mabliabechi, the famous Florentine scholar, was remarkable not only for the amount and variety of his knowledge, for he knew accurately sixty different languages, but also for his incessant labors as a student and librarian. "He usually passed the whole night in study, and when exhausted nature demanded rest a straw chair served for a couch and an old threadbare cloak for a coverlet."

THE BOERS TO BLAME

If War Breaks Out in South Africa.

GREAT BRITAIN IN FAVOR OF PEACE

But the Provisions of the London Treaty Must be Maintained—To Secure Peace the Grievances of the Uitlanders Must be Redressed —A Critical Situation.

Cape Town, April 21.—In the Cape Parliament to-day the debate on the so-called "peace motion," adjourned on April 16, was resumed. The motion referred to urged the adoption of a policy of moderation and conciliation in the settlement of differences in the interpretation of treaties and conventions. An amendment was introduced to the effect that the ends desired would be best attained by a strict observance of the London Convention, and by the redress of the genuine grievances of the Uitlanders. Sir J. Gordon Sprigg, the Premier, to-day said the way for the Transvaal Republic to subdue the excitement was to redress the grievances of the Uitlanders. He did not believe there would be war, because he could not see how it was going to arise, though he explained that building of forts and the importing of ammunition and guns was no way to secure peace. Continuing, the premier asserted that the last thing the Imperial Government desired was war, and if war occurred it would be the fault of the Transvaal. Great Britain was determined to maintain the London Convention and her position as the paramount power in Africa. The Transvaal autonomy, he asserted, was not worth a year's purchase without the protection of Great Britain.

Mr. Sauer condemned the attitude of the Premier, and suggested that it Great Britain used force it would mean civil war.

Mr. M. P. Schreiner, the former Premier of Cape Colony, said he did not agree with the martial utterance of the Premier. Continuing, Mr. Schreiner remarked that the situation was full of ominous clouds, and he expressed the hope that the lightning would not strike.

Humors, pimples, boils, are very annoying. They quickly disappear when the blood is purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A BETTING EXPERIMENT.

Every Man Who Lays a Wager on a Horse Should Read This.

The thought of getting money without work is so generally attractive, and betting on a horse-race seems such an easy way of accomplishing it, that thousands of readers study the morning papers for "tips" on races—in other words, for advice as to the best horse on which to bet.

The New York morning dailies devote more attention to this feature and spend more money in the effort to get "reliable tips" than the papers of any other American city, for there are more race-tracks near New York, and presumably, more of those people who recklessly part with their money.

These papers employ reporters who spend nearly all their time at the race-tracks, or in the company of grooms, jockeys, trainers and horse-owners. These reporters know the pedigree of every horse "on the turf." They keep, from year to year, books of careful memoranda, in which is recorded the performance of each animal; and from this wide experience and this store of information they compile their "tips," or advice to bettors It may be supposed then that these turf reporters are able to show their readers with much certainty how to "pick a winner."

But, oddly enough the turf reporters do not agree! The horses named as "probable winners" by the eight New York morning papers of any given date are never the same

The New York Evening Sun, at the opening of the racing season last spring, began a systematic study of "tips," with a view of finding out how much they were to be relied upon. The plan adopted was this:

A series of tables were made, one for each of the eight morning papers which printed "tips." In each table were set down every day the names of the horses selected by the corresponding paper as "probable winners" in that day's races. Every evening, when the races were finished, an entry was made on each table of the gain or loss a reader would have sustained if he had bet fifteen dollars on each horse advocated by the paper which that table represented.

These tables were accurately kept for three months. When the racing season ended and the sheets were balanced, an interesting discovery came to light.

It is not necessary to name here the papers from which the "tips" were taken. They may be called The Star, The Galaxy, The Probe, The Dial, The Messenger, The Augur, The Morning Trumpet and The Daily Drool. But every one of these names represents an actual paper, and everything here related is fact.

The Evening Sun found that if a reader had bet fifteen dollars every day for three months on each horse advocated by The Star, he would have lost nine hundred and thirty-three dollars. By following the advice of The Galaxy he would have lost seven hundred and fifty-one dollars: by The Probe five hundred and ninety-seven dollars: The Dial, five hundred and ninety-one dollars: The Messenger, four hundred and forty-two dollars; The Augur, four hundred and ninety-six dollars; The Morning Trumpet, seven hundred and thirty-eight dollars, and The Daily Drool one hundred and eighty-three dollars.

Could the folly of betting be more clearly demonstrated? Not a single paper was able to give such advice as would save a reader from loss who followed that advice. Leaving morals out of the question and looking at betting from the selfishly practical point of view, what inducements does it offer?

If the turf reporters who have studied horses for years and know every animal, and who haunt the track by day, and herd with jockeys and stable-boys at night, for the sake of getting the most reliable information—if these men are unable to "pick winners," what is likely to be the fate of the inexperienced young clerk or salesman who risks his hard-earned money in the attempt to get something for nothing?

Doan's Kidney Pills act on the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs only. They cure backaches, weak back, rheumatism, diabetes, congestion, inflammation, gravel, Bright's disease and all other diseases arising from wrong action of the kidneys and bladder.

EQUALITY.

All men are equal in God's sight;
There is no black and there is no white;
There is no high and there is no low;
There is no friend and there is no foe;
And earthly passion and earthly pride
The glance of the Godhead cannot abide.
The petty distinction of rank and caste
Are shrivelled and shrunk in the furnace blast
Of God's great love when the angel Death
Has stilled the heart beats and stopped the breath;
And the gates of heaven as wide do swing
For the lowliest peasant or the lordliest king,
And the fires of hell burn just as bright
For the rich or poor, for the black or white.

Orchard and Garden.

Any soil that is too damp naturally to produce healthy trees should be avoided.

Vacant places in a young orchard can be filled with trees, but not so with an old one.

Early potatoes, pease, onions and lettuce are the first crops to be put into the ground.

If only well-rotted and thoroughly-fined manure is used the garden can hardly be made too rich.

Lime is one of the best materials to apply to get rid of the white grub in the strawberry beds.

Wood ashes and poultry manure make the best fertilizers for onins. They can both be used as top dressing.

It is a good plan as well as an interesting experiment to try a few new varieties every year on a small scale.

When onions are to be raised from seed all reasonable care should be taken to sow the seed at the first opportunity.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no whakness or tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. No one in a thousand does it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them in nutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases: and all disease save blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

Palace Grocery. George Street. - Sole Agent for Peterborough

"The enemy is coming: To the fort for your lives!" When a wise man receives a plain warning of danger, he does not wait to let it overtake him; he seeks every reasonable means to fight it off.

Disease would almost never get the best of the average man if he was prepared to resist it, and took the natural precautions dictated by common sense.

When a man's stomach and liver get upset and fail to do their regular work, he can be certain that something worse is bound to follow, if he doesn't look out for himself. Headaches, indigestion, biliousness and constipation are simply Nature's warnings that the enemy of serious disease is coming to attack him.

The sensible thing to do is to immediately fortify the system with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It vitalizes and invigorates the entire constitution. It helps the liver to filter out all bilious impurities.

It gives the digestive and nutritive organs power to extract nourishment from the food and turn it into rich, red, healthy blood. It creates appetite, good digestion, and solid, muscular strength.

It is far superior to the mere temporary stimulus of malt-extracts. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions because it is assimilated by the weakest stomach.

"About fifteen years ago" writes Mr. John McMichael, editor of the Plattsburg, (Mo.) Leader, "I was in very poor health, had no appetite, was sluggish, and so listless it seemed impossible for me to do anything that required effort. Every fall and spring this ill-health seemed to affect me particularly. A friend advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery asserting that it would restore me to perfect health, and make 'a new man' of me. Finally he induced me to try the medicine. I weighed at the time about 125 lbs. I used several bottles, and upon quitting it weighed 175 lbs. Since that time my weight has varied from this to 195 pounds."

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

THE WIDOW'S ERROR.

"If you please, mum, Mr. Marlowe's compliments, and he'd like a few words with you on very especial business."

Jemima, the maid of all work, was breathless with the haste she had made and her round eyes glistened like pale blue marbles. The Widow Purvey took her hands out of the batch of biscuits she was kneading up and hurriedly shook the flour off her arms.

"What is it, Mimy?" said she. "Anything wrong about his room?"

"The Lord only knows," said Jemima, evidently much excited.

"Where is he?"

"A-walkin' up and down the best back parlor like a wild beast, ma'am, at a show!"

"Bless my soul!" panted Mrs. Purvey; "what can have happened?"

And hastily straightening her cap ribbons and tying on a ruffled black silk apron the Widow Purvey made haste to give audience to her best boarder.

The Widow Purvey was fat, fair and 50, with a little capital, which she had invested in furniture for a boarding house, and very fairly she succeeded, on the whole, especially since Mr. Marlowe, a whimsical old bachelor engaged in the China tea trade, had taken her best front room at her own price.

"Gents are always better than ladies," said Mrs. Purvey to her intimate friend, Miss Larkspur, the milliner. "Mrs. Hyde is the only lady in my establishment now, and although she's quite genteel—French teacher in a young ladies' school—I shall give her a month's notice the very minute I hear of an eligible single gentleman to take her place."

"Ain't she reg'lar pay?" asked Miss Larkspur, snipping off bias pieces of silk.

"Oh, yes, reg'lar enough, but I never did fancy these pale, stuck-up chits that have seen better days and wear turned silk and dyed gloves! She ain't a bit better than I am, and yet she always has that patronising way with her that you'd think she was a princess and we her hired maids."

And thus matters stood on the October morning when the Widow Purvey hurried up to the back parlor where Mr. Geoffrey Marlowe, a fine-looking gentleman with a healthy, fresh color and iron-gray whiskers, was walking up and down with his hands in his pockets.

"You've been a long time coming, Mrs. Purvey," said he, a little imperiously.

"I' sorry to keep you waiting, sir," said the widow, all in a flutter.

"Sit down," said Mr. Marlowe, motioning her towards a chair. "I have something of great importance to say to you."

"Now, he is going to tell me that the place don't suit, and he's going to change his boarding house," said Mrs. Purvey to herself, feeling her heart beat within her; but she only smiled faintly and said: "Indeed!"

"It's a little embarrassing," said Mrs. Marlowe, feeling his whiskers dubiously.

"Don't mind me, sir," said Mrs. Purvey.

"The fact is," said Mr. Marlowe, "I'm thinking of making a change."

"I'm sorry the place don't suit you, sir," faltered the widow.

"But it does," said Mr. Marlowe. "I shall not leave you, Mrs. Purvey. Your mugulatawney soup suits me exactly, and you've caught my precise ideas on salad dressing and curry sauce. No, The change of which I speak refers to —ahem!—another thing, Mrs. Purvey."

"La, sir," said Mrs. Purvey, simpering.

"You and I aren't feather-headed young people, Mrs. Puvey, to play mock modest, are we?" said the bachelor. "So I may as well be frank. I am thinking of marrying, Mrs. Purvey!"

"Dear me!" said the landlady, looking down at the patterns of the carpet.

"And I dare say you can guess to whom," said Mr. Marlowe, in high good humor.

Mrs. Purvey twisted her black silk apron string around and around, hardly able to believe her own ears.

"La, sir," faltered she, "I'm sure I never thought of such a thing."

"I rather expected to surprize you," said Mr. Marlowe. "But don't you see, after all, it's the most natural thing in the world? Here I am settled down in a place that exactly suits me; why should I leave it? Here I am, a blunt old bachelor of 50—why shouldn't I marry a widow who, like myself, has seen something of the world?"

A widow! That settled the question. "Sure enough, sir," said Mrs. Purvey, feeling as if she were soaring up into a world of white satin and tulle, orange-blossoms and wedding cake.

"What do you say to a month from Monday next?" demanded Mr. Marlowe.

"La, sir—since you're so set upon it—"

"Can you have things ready?"

"I'll do my best, sir," fluttered the widow.

"And one thing, remember—I don't want this matter talked about."

"No, to be sure not," said Mrs. Purvey, accustomed to defer in all things to the whims of her lodger.

"Let affairs go on just exactly as if nothing was about to happen until the very wedding day," insisted Mr. Marlowe.

"Certainly, sir," said Mrs. Purvey.

"That'll do," said Mr. Marlowe. "We understand each other, don't we?"

Mrs. Purvey nodded and giggled.

"Then I won't detain you any longer!" said Mr. Marlowe, deliberately walking back into his own room.

"Well!" said Mrs. Purvey, drawing a long breath. "I never was courted that way before. But he's eccentric, and always was, poor dear, and he's yet to be a husband. He might have just asked me for a kiss, though, and he might have called me 'Mavina' instead of Mrs. Purvey! But everyone has their whims, and Mr. Marlowe is as chuck full of 'em as an egg is of meat! What will Letitia Larkspur say? And that stuck-up Mrs. Hyde! I'll give her a week's warning at once, for it don't stand to nature as I shall keep on taking boarders after I'm Mrs. Marlowe. I wonder shall I wear white silk or dove color? I suppose it will be a church wedding! A month's a dreadful short time to get ready in, but I can hire what sewing I want done, and it won't do to disappoint Mr. Marlowe!"

Little miss Hyde, engaged in correcting French copy books in her room was surprised at the lack of ceremony with which Mrs. Purvey let her know that her room would be wanted that day week!

"It will inconvenience me considerably," she said, hesitatingly.

"I can't help that," said Mrs. Purvey, with a toss of the head.

The weeks passed away. Widow Purvey thought it rather strange that her bridegroom-elect should be so undemonstrative, and that all his tete-a-tetes should be confined to the subjects of pudding sauce and shirt buttons. But then, as Miss Larkspur said, there never was any accounting for the freaks of an old bachelor; and when the bridal eve came and Mr. Marlowe condescended to express approval of the wedding breakfast as set out in the dining-room over night Mrs. Purvey shed tears.

"What are you crying about. I hate to see women cry," said Mr. Marlowe, sharply.

"I can't help it. Such a change for me!" whimpered the widow.

"Oh, pshaw!" said Mr. Marlowe, irritably. "Change? It's no change at all. Here we are just as we always have been. I don't see anything to cry about. Remember the carriages are to be at the door at 12 precisely."

"I'll be ready," said Mrs. Purvey, swallowing a sob.

And she was ready—dove-colored silk, dress-hat and all—for, according to the advice of Miss Letitia Larkspur, she had abandoned the idea of white satin and tulle veil as rather inappropriate to her age and condition of widowhood.

"Please, ma'am," said Jemima, bursting, red-faced and panting, into the room, "the carriage has been waitin' this ever so long!"

"But where's Mr. Marlowe?" demanded the bride-expectant.

"Please, ma'am, he went half an hour ago," said Jemima.

"Oh!" said Mrs. Purvey, "I suppose it's etiquette to go in separate carriages, but it ain't the way me and Purvey managed it. Give me my fan, Mimy—and my bouquet—and don't forget the smelling bottle. Now I'm ready."

"Please, ma'am, bawled Jemima, who had rushed to the window on hearing the sound of carriage wheels, "they've come back! And Mr. Marlowe, he's a-handin' a lady dressed in brown silk, with a bird of paradise in her hat, out of the front carriage."

"Dear me," said Mrs. Purvey, hurrying downstairs. "What can it all mean?"

And she hastened into the presence of Mr. Marlowe, who stood in the best parlor, with Miss Hyde leaning on his arm.

"You're too late to witness the ceremony," chuckled the quondam old bachelor. "We're married."

"Who are married?" shrieked Mrs. Purvey, growing pallid under her rouge.

"Bessie Hyde, ma'am, and your humble servant. Why, whom did you suppose?" demanded Mr. Marlowe, opening his eyes very wide.

"Lawk-a-massy!" cried Jemima, rushing forward to support the widow's swooning form, "Missus s'posed you was goin' to marry her!"

"Then she was a fool!" said Mr. Marlowe, briskly. "Come, Bessie, my dear, we have no time to lose if we are to catch the three o'clock train."

Mrs. Purvey came out of her swoon and into her senses with commendable alacrity. If she had lost a bridegroom that was no reason why she should also lose a first-class pair of boarders. She tied an apron over her dun-colored silk, and hurried to help serve the breakfast.

"It was an awkward mistake," said she to Letitia Larkspur, "but life is full of mistakes. And perhaps I'm better off just as I am."

"No doubt, no doubt," said Miss Larkspur, whose theory was based upon that of the fabled fox who once lost his caudal appendage. "Matrimony's dreadful uncertain."

"Even at the last moment," said Mrs. Purvey, with an involuntary groan.—New York Ledger.

THE CHARM.

Slight is the thing it needs to wake
The embers that have slumbered long
Within the poet's heart, and make Them burn again with song.

A rose, a star, a voice, a glance,
Echo or glimpse—it is the same,
Some mystery of time or chance
That finds the hidden flame.

Embers of song and song's desire,
Hushed in the singer's heart they lie,
And softly kindle into fire,
If but a dream go by.

And none may say, since none can know,
Whence comes the vivifying spark
That sends a transitory glow
Of song across the dark.

It is a secret summons, such
As comes unto the spray when spring
Wakens the blossoms with a touch
That bids the poet sing.

The People Are Convinced

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

The Bravest of the Brave.

Holding the baby in his left arm while he grasped his sabre with the right, Capt. Higbuchi marched to the capture of the next fort, receiving at one time a bullet through his cap. The fort was taken in gallant style, the baby, meanwhile looking on in wondering surprise at the din and uproar of the battle, perfectly content to rest on the kind-hearted captain's shoulders. When all was over this gallant officer gave his tiny charge to some of his troopers, who bore the child in safety to a Chinese house in a village hard by.—Heroic Japan.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

ENGLAND IS PLEASED

With the Tariff Policy of the Canadian Government.

LONDON PAPERS WARMLY APPROVE

Of the Utterances of Mr. Fielding, and Correspondents Say the English People are Enthusiastic in Praise of the Preferential Trade Clause of the Measure.

London, April 24.—(Special Cable Letter.)—The newspapers here hail the Canadian tariff with delight. The St. James' Gazette regards it as the most important news of the day and as presenting most agreeable prospects to Great Britain.

The Globe says, referring to the recent speech of Mr. Fielding: "Mr. Fielding's speech will cause a thrill of patriotic enthusiasm in a million hearts."

The Globe says: "Canada leads the way in her thank offering for the blessings of liberty and security which she enjoys under British rule. Her action will not be in vain. The Dominion Parliament yesterday witnessed a volte face unparalleled since the days of Peel."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Dingley threatened Canada and this is Canada's reply."

Has Captured the English Heart.

New York, April 25.—The London correspondent of The Times says: "For the first time in my experience England and the English are regarding Canadians and the Dominion with affectionate enthusiasm. When the net benefits to England of Premier Laurier's tariff come to be figured up, I do not know that they will bulk very large, but the spirit of preference for the Mother Country appeals directly to the imagination here. Englishmen have always been peculiarly sore on this point of her colonies rearing protection walls against British trade, and nobody can blame them for it. This change, therefore, will make Mr. Laurier, when he comes here in June, far and away the most conspicuous and popular of all the visiting Premiers of the Empire."

UNCLE SAM'S COVERT THREAT.

New York Tribune Insinuates That the Bonding Privilege May be Cut Off.

New York, April 25.—The Tribune today discusses editorially at considerable length the new Canadian tariff. The article concludes as follows: "The discrimination may help British interests as to the textile goods and some other miscellaneous manufactures, and it will not be overlooked at Washington that the deliberate intention of his tariff is to restrict trade with this country and bring in British goods. That fact may perhaps have some influence when the question arises whether this country should continue the bonded privilege by which Canadian railroads are enabled to haul a great quantity of freight from this country."

Maddocies at sea;
On the billows sinking, lifting,
But who cares for thee?
Filled with hopes that are deceiving,
Gone all chance of time's retrieving,
And my soul sits grieving, grieving,
At its destiny.

Floating on it goes forever
At the wild waves' will,
Tossed and battered, peaceful never,
Past my own weak skill;
All its timbers creaking, groaning,
Ghostly echoes round it moaning,
Ever fearful of the gloaming,
Where it shall be still.

I can see about it lying
Wrecks of life and time;
Some are dead and some are dying,
Piloted by crime.
Yet, beneath the stormy ocean,
Yet, above a world's commotion,
I've a fancy, I've a notion—
God is there sublime.

For at times a vessel gleaming,
Laden down with light,
From a rifted heaven streaming,
Glorifies the night.
On its sails, though worn and olden,
To the fates no more beholden,
Passing through the westering, golden
Sky line of my sight.

Then, my pilot soul grown weary
With its weight of care,
Shifts its helm, and, sad and dreary,
Folds its hands in prayer,
Then, from out the vasts descending,
To my soul on God depending,
Comes a voice of love unending,
Filling all the air.

Softly, sweetly saying, saying:
"Look up; see my star;
Angels at my feet are praying
For thee at the bar.
And thy ship is sailing, sailing,
Only to the sunset's paling,
Where is no more weeping, wailing,
To my gates ajar."

THE QUEEN LOVES HUSBANDRY.

HER MAJESTY'S FARM A SOURCE OF GENEROUS RIVALRY.

Wherein It Has Done Much to Improve the Breeder's Condition—Some Recent Progress in Shorthorn Improvement Due to Its Work.

It is recorded in holy writ that the good King Uzziah "had much cattle, both in the low country and in the plains. . . for he loved husbandry." In that, as in many other respects, the present sovereign of Great Britain resembles the ancient King of Judah, says George A. Martin, in The American Agriculturist. The Queen also loves husbandry, and her royal farm at Windsor is at once a source of pride and of generous rivalry to her subjects. The cattle bred and reared there are of such a quality as to win the highest prizes when they meet in fair and open competition with those of the most noted breeders of the United Kingdom. To remove a possible source of dissatisfaction, a royal order was issued several years ago that no animal from the Windsor farm should be entered for competitive exhibition unless it had been bred and reared there. Since that order went into effect the success of the Queen's exhibits has been even greater than before. None of these successes was more striking than that of the Shorthorn heifer, Frederica, whose portrait is given herewith. This heifer was bred by the Queen at the Shaw farm, Windsor, and is descended from the Scottish strain of Shorthorns. The sire of Frederica is Volunteer (63501), dam Fragrant 9th by Lord Violet, bred by Mr. Duthie of Collynie, Scotland. Cumberland, the great grandsire of Frederica, was one of the bulls that gave renown to the Collynie herd. Frederica was first exhibited as a two-year-old at the annual show of the Royal Agricultural Society at Darlington, in the summer of 1895, where she took the first prize of her class, and was reserved for the championship there as the best female. Her next appearance in the show ring was at the Birmingham fat stock show the first week of December. She was then 26 months and 17 days old, and weighed 1802 pounds. She was awarded, without question, the highest honors of the show. These were, the first prize of her class; the champion prize as the best Shorthorn; the president's prize for best animal bred by the exhibitor; the Elkington, the Thorley and the Webb challenge cups, valued at a hundred guineas each, the total cash value of her winnings amounting to about $3000. She also won highest honors the next week at Smithfield fat-stock show. The dressed carcass weighed 1392 pounds, which was 71.2 per cent. of the live weight, and was of the finest quality of beef, proving on the block the judge's verdict.

MANY BASEBALL GAMES.

SATURDAY IN THE NATIONAL.

At Washington—Norton was able to keep the visitors' hits scattered with the exception of in the third innings. This, together with the loose fielding of the Brooklyns, gave Washington the game. Norton's batting also aided the Senators. Attendance 2500. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Washington	1	0	0	0	3	2	1	1	0—8	11	4
Brooklyn	0	0	3	1	1	0	1	0	0—6	15	5

Batteries—Norton and McGuire; Kennedy and A. Smith.

At Philadelphia—The Phillies whaled Jouett Meekin mightily, and defeated New York hands down. Their record was 17 hits with a total of 26. The game was an ordinary one and outside of the local club's hitting the only noteworthy feature was Lajoie's individual batting. He had two singles, a double and two triples. Carsey pitched a good game, the visitors' hits being scattered. Attendance 12,762. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia ..	2	1	2	2	0	2	0	3	0—12	17	0
New York	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	2	0— 4	9	4

Batteries—Carsey and Clements; Meekin and Wilson.

At Cincinnati—Good fielding and timely batting won the game for the Reds. The Colts again started off as sure winners, but finished weak. Not an error was made by either team. Roger Denser was in the box for the Chicagos and pitched a good game, as did also Dammon, the new left-hander of the Reds. Attendance 5000. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	2	*—4	8	0
Chicago	1	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	0—3	8	0

Batteries—Dammon and Peits; Denser and Kittridge.

At Louisville—The Indians were defeated again in a slow but interesting game. The score was close until the ninth inning, when the Colonels batted out four runs and clinched the victory. Burkett was put out of the game in the first inning, and O'Connor in the ninth inning by Umpire McDermott for abusive language. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Louisville	2	0	1	0	0	2	0	4	—9	9	2
Cleveland	1	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	—3	4	3

Batteries—Hill and Dexter; Cuppy, Zimmer and O'Connor.

At St. Louis—Unfavorable weather kept down attendance; the game was called in the first half of the sixth inning on account of rain. Hawley's wild pitching, giving eight men first base, and the Browns five hits, out of which they scored five runs, won them the game. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	3	0	0	1	1	—	—	—	5	5	1
Pittsburg	0	0	1	0	0	—	—	—	1	5	2

Batteries—Hart and McFarland; Hawley and Merritt.

At Baltimore, the Champions succeeded in making it three straights from Boston. It was clearly a pitchers' battle until the seventh innings, when Klobedans gave out, and allowed two singles, a double and two triples, netting five runs. Duffy's running catch of Robinson's long fly to left in the eighth was a feature of the game. Attendance, 5000. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	0	0	1	0	0	0	5	1	*—7	10	3
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—1	8	2

Batteries—Corbett and Robinson; Klobedans and Yeager.

TORONTO WON AND LOST.

Newark, April 25.—Toronto lost on Saturday, 9—2, and to-day won by 7—4. In the first game the home team batted Toronto's pitchers hard and won easily. Wittrock kept the hits well scattered. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Newark	0	2	1	0	2	0	0	0	2—9	16	1
Toronto	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—2	12	2

Batteries—Wittrock and Hedge; Staley and Baker, McGinnis and Casey.

About 5000 people witnessed the Sunday game, which Toronto won by batching 11th late in the contest. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
Toronto ...	0	0	0	0	0	4	1	2	*—7	9	0
Newark	0	1	0	0	0	0	5	0	0—6	11	2

LATEST WAR NEWS.

Detailed Description of the Battle of Mati.

STUBBORN FIGHT LASTING ALL DAY

The Galling Fire of the Greek Infantry Was Too Much for the Turks, But They Were Reinforced and Rallied Again—Greeks Entrenched at Pharsalos.

Headquarters of the Greek Army, Larissa, April 26.—(Night, delayed in transmission.)—The development of the Greek position in front of Tyrnavo continues. Col. Audonopulis, with a brigade of the second division, arrived from the west yesterday evening and took up a position south of Deliler, with the right wing, which is now 3000 strong and commanded by General Mavro Michaelis. The left wing is under the command of General Matropas, and is composed of 5000 infantry and six batteries of artillery, 36 guns. It occupies a position from the Mati road to Deliler. On the extreme right is the cavalry brigade, composed of five squadrons. The plan of the Greek commander is evidently not to press attacks until reinforcements arrive from Athens.

The Turks have no less than 9000 infantry, three squadrons of cavalry and 22 guns.

During Thursday night a battalion of Evsones was entrenched on a hill in the centre of the Greek position, and the whole of the Greek line has been advanced. The foreign legion was held in reserve.

From dawn until 10 o'clock a fierce artillery battle raged, and then a battalion of Greek infantry and a mountain battery open from the left of Mati on the Turkish line along the ridge above Mati and the mouth of the pass. The Turks retired under a galling fire, and for a time the Turkish artillery poured in shells, but they were harmless, bursting too high.

At mid-day firing ceased until 1 o'clock, when the Turks made a furious assault upon the Greeks with three battalions of infantry, supported by two batteries of artillery, pushing forward from Gritsovali toward Kutavi, which was held by Mavro Michaelis' infantry and the mountain batteries. The latter poured a hot fire on the advancing Turks, while both attacking and defending infantry engaged in rapid fire.

Then the Turks again tried shells, but without avail. Reinforcements soon came to the aid of the Greeks and the engagement was continued until nightfall, the Greeks stubbornly contesting the Turkish advance, though the Turks succeeded in gaining two kilometres during the course of the day.

Although four desperate attacks were made upon the Greek left by the Turkish batteries, the Greek cannon thundered fast and furious, while the Greek infantry, extended on the mountain side, poured rapid volleys into the Turkish lines, repelled each advance, and at nightfall the Greek left had gained ground.

It Was a Disorderly Retreat.

London, April 26.—A special despatch from the headquarters of the Turkish army, near Tyrnavo, Thessaly, published to-day, says: "I have just received from Edhem Pasha confirmation of the disorderly retreat of the Greeks." Seated in a captured Greek tent he said to me in French:

"It is finished. No one, however, understands why the Greeks abandoned a position naturally strong and well fortified.'

"Edhem Pasha believed the Turks would have speedily crushed the Greeks, but it is said that the Greek commander was warned of the arrival of the Turks by a priest, belonging to a Greek village, who heard the Albanian soldiers singing. The Greeks fled southward, destroying bridges and leaving vast quantities of stores of barley, maize and sardines, and, above all, brandy. A Turkish officer jokingly remarked to me: 'The Greek officers must live on brandy.'

"At Tyrnavo the shops were found to be empty and the population had entirely disappeared.

"Edhem Pasha is maintaining strict order, has posted sentinels at the doors of all the churches, and all the prisoners are treated humanely."

LATEST WAR DESPATCHES.

Trikhala Said to Have Been Evacuated—The Occupation of Larissa.

Athens, April 27.—It is reported here that Trikhala has been evacuated and that the Turks are constructing temporary forts at Larissa.

The latest despatches from Epirus show that the Greeks have occupied all the positions around Pentepigudia. Col. Manos has asked for reinforcements in order to ensure his advance to Janina. Col. Deiraktaris has this forenoon started with 2000 men to assist him. The report that Col. Manos has been ordered to retire is unfounded.

The Proi, in a special edition this evening, announces that Gen. Smolenski has been appointed chief of staff of the army in Thessaly, with the power to choose the members of his staff. Gen. Smolenski is 45 years old and is very popular with the troops.

The dispositions of Greek auxiliary for the defence of Pharsala have been carefully studied by the general staff and the Minister of War, and orders have been given for the occupation of the heights at Velegetino and Pitsaleopi by independent brigades.

It is stated that Admiral Sakmatellos will be appointed to the chief command of the eastern squadron.

The Asty publishes the following official note this evening: "After the recent events, which have materially excited public opinion, M. Delyannis to-day had a long interview with King George, who again assured the Premier that he was prepared to approve any decision the Government might reach with a view to the improvement of the situation. After the audience a Cabinet Council was held at 2 o'clock and is still sitting at 5. It is expected energetic decisions will be arrived at, but all reports as to the recalling of staff officers are premature."

Turks Blaming Greeks.

Constantinople, April 26.—It is officially declared here that the Greeks before evacuating Larissa released all persons confined in the local jails, and that it was the latter who destroyed and pillaged the houses. According to the same statement, the Turkish troops were received with enthusiasm by such inhabitants as remained in town.

The Occupation of Larissa.

London, April 26.—The correspondent of The Times at Larissa, telegraphing from that point Sunday evening, says:

"The town was occupied by the Turkish cavalry at 6 this morning after a short skirmish. The Greek troops fled in a panic and most of the civilians abandoned their residences. The Turks captured six large guns in the fort and a mountain battery with several prisoners, among whom were officers and all the military stores. Edhem Pasha prohibited any pillaging, and there have been neither massacres nor outrages, though some of the Greeks burned their houses. The dead are not numerous. The Turks maintain excellent discipline. The Greek army fled to the mountain sides. Many of the inhabitants are already returning.

"At this moment, 6 p.m., the Ottoman troops are entering the town in triumph, trumpets playing and banners waving. Mustapha Matik Bey has been constituted commandant of the town. He has taken possession of the bank with the money it contains. The town will be held by a small garrison. Military operations in this quarter are for the time concluded. The cautious policy of Edhem Pasha is fully justified; and he deserves every congratulation as a skilful and humane general."

Osman to the Front.

Salonica, April 26.—Osman Pasha has left for Elassona to take command of the Turkish army.

What's Up Now?

Canea, Island of Crete, April 26.—The French cruiser Tronde and the Italian warship Sardegna have hurriedly sailed from Cretan waters for the Gulf of Salonica.

Greece's Dearly Bought Victory

Athens, April 26.—A telegram from Arta, dated 4 p.m. Sunday, says that at 9 that morning fighting was resumed at Pentepigadia and raged fiercely for several hours. The Greeks were compelled to withdraw, but, on being reinforced, re-attacked the fort and finally captured it, the Turks retiring without offering much resistance. The Greeks suffered severely.

NOT SO DESPERATE.

Premier Delyannis Talks More Hopefully of the Situation in Thessaly.

London, April 26.—The Times to-day publishes a despatch from Athens, dated Saturday night, giving an account of an interview between The Times correspondent there and the Greek Premier, M. Delyannis. The latter is quoted as saying that neither the King nor the Government had received any information that day from the Greek army in Thessaly beyond the announcement that the Greek forces had been successfully concentrated at Pharsala, to which place they had retreated in good order, saving all their artillery except the siege guns, which they had been forced to abandon.

Gen. Smolenski's column, concerning which the greatest anxiety was felt, has reached Pharsala safely, and the Premier added, 40,000 Greek troops are now concentrated at Pharsala, which is a place of considerable strength, the advisability of occupying it in case of retreat having long been under consideration by the Government.

M. Delyannis said there was much needless alarm regarding the safety of Volo, adding there was no reason to fear the Turks would attempt to occupy it.

The successes of the Greek troops in Epirus, M. Delyannis pointed out, were a counterpoise to the reverses in Thessaly, and, according to unofficial information, the Greeks expected to arrive at Janina on Saturday night. The Premier was convinced Athens would remain quiet, asserted that the people had complete confidence in the King and the Government, and assured The Times correspondent that there was no reason to fear any disturbance. The Times correspondent adds, in spite of his age and severe anxieties, M. Delyannis appeared to be in the best of health and spirits.

Interviews with the Ministers of Marine and War were also obtained by The Times correspondent. The former stated he had not received confirmation of the rumor that Dodecanesia had been bombarded by the Greek fleet. After the destruction of Platamona and Katerina, the Minister of Marine added, the eastern squadron had been expected to find and engage the Turkish fleet and the present location of the squadron was not known.

The Minister of Marine did not think it necessary for the Greek warships to return to protect Volo.

The Minister of War, The Times correspondent reports, said on Saturday there were 25,000 Greek troops concentrated at Pharsala, and that every effort was being made to reinforce them. Two thousand five hundred pioneers and engineers were then leaving Athens for Volo.

REPLY TO MR. FOSTER

Sir Richard Cartwright Speaks on the Budget.

SOME FACETIOUS REFERENCES

Which Made the Members Laugh—Then the Minister of Trade and Commerce Went on Seriously to Defend the Position of the Government on the Tariff.

Ottawa, April 26.—(Special.)—Amid rousing Liberal cheers, Sir Richard Cartwright rose to reply to Mr. Foster on the Budget. He commenced by a joking reference to Mr. Foster on his return from Toronto, and characterized his speech is clever, but disingenuous. He urged Sir Charles Tupper to take care of his friend, as Cassius was a lean and hungry man. To hear Mr. Foster talk about Ministerial lack of loyalty and consistency reminded him of Satan reproving Sin. The sight was one calculated not merely to make angels, but even jackasses, weep. [Laughter.] He claimed that the Government could not violently disturb existing interests, but it was not possible to wipe away the abuses of 18 years with one stroke of the pen. He was not particularly anxious to defend this tariff in the abstract. He did not pretend to say it was a perfectly ideal tariff, but under existing circumstances it was a fairly good one and redeemed the pledges which the Government had made to the country. If the Government had made a mistake in that tariff they would not be too proud to correct the error and remedy any injustice—[hear, hear]—but he would say to the Opposition that they would not find many mistakes. [Laughter and cheers.] When the Liberals took office they found the ship of state waterlogged and dismantled; it was drifting on the rocks, while the crew were in almost open mutiny. [Hear, hear.] Well, the ship now was in better hands, the mutineers were under the hatches, where they would be kept—[laughter]—and to his free trade friends he would say the ship's head was now turned in the right direction and towards the open sea. [Hear, hear.] The late tariff had been purged from any monstrous iniquities; the duties of 50, 60 or 70 per cent., disguised under the mask of specific and ad valorem duties, had been got rid of.

A substantial advantage had been given to England and to English trade the burdens of the people had been measurably lightened, and in those respects the Government was consistent with its former position in the House. Mr. Foster had characterised this new tariff as a protective one and then in the next breath spoke of the industries which had been destroyed. No matter what view Mr. Foster might take of this tariff, free trade England, with six to ten points in her favor, should be able to drive American cotton manufacturers out of this market.

Dr. Sproule: Yes, and Canadian, too.

Sir Richard, continuing, asked what had the National Policy done for Canada? It had increased the expenditure in 17 years by $15,000,000 a year, although the population had only increased 40,000 a year. The average expenditure for the last three years of Conservative rule was $39,150,000. Complaint had been made by Mr. Foster that Mr. Blair had asked for double the amount for his department than had Mr Haggart. Instead of dallying over this work for ten years, as seemed to be the policy of the late Government, Mr. Blair proposed to press this work forward, so that within two years full advantage could be taken of the splendid system of inland navigation.

Dealing with the tariff itself, he said he had no reason to apologise for the position which he was taking, although Mr. Foster had read some of his past statements to the House. Protection, he still maintained, had been the curse of this country, and he for one would take all lawful means to extirpate it. To do that he was willing to accept a revenue tariff, a reciprocity treaty, or give preferential treatment to the Mother Country. He broke no seal of secrecy when he said that the tariff was substantially the one which he had intended bringing down under the administration of Mr. Mackenzie in 1876, had not political exigencies, to the great injury of the Reform party, prevented him. He recognised fully that the question of the most favored nation clauses was a complicated one. It dealt with the mixed issue of law and fact. Quoting from Wharton's International Law Digest, the first thing he found this definition:

> A covenant to give privileges granted to the "most favored nation" only refers to gratuitous privileges, and does not cover privileges granted on the condition of a reciprocal advantage.

Now, that was plain and straightforward. It was further fortified—and this was rather a remarkable clause—by a despatch addressed by the American Secretary of State in 1824 on the same subject, which reads as follows:

> Your despatch of the 8th ultimo has been received. You report that Mr. Carter, the special envoy from Hawaii to England and Germany, had succeeded in inducing the German Government to yield the point assumed by those Governments, that the most favored nation clause in their treaties with Hawaii entitled them to equal privileges in regard to imports with those obtained by the United States by the reciprocity with the same country, and that no definite understanding had been reached with England, although it was probable that the proposition made by that Government would be accepted.

If that statement is correct—and he saw no reason to doubt it—it would follow that under closely analogous circumstances the German Government, having a favored nation clause, withdrew their claim after a remonstrance from the American authorities. If Great Britain in 1862-65 made treaties with Belgium and Germany, it was in his opinion intended that those treaties should only apply to colonies which had not been conceded

THE SITUATION.

The Globe concludes an able and comprehensive article on the new tariff with this significant paragraph:—

"Our face is set toward freedom. Henceforth no special tariff privileges will be for sale. The Government of Canada has ceased to be an interested partner in the private enterprises of a select few of the taxpayers, or rather of the tax-receivers. We shall move steadily onward to free trade and not backward to protection, and notwithstanding the unpropitious outlook for the moment we must hope that our great neighbour to the south, with whom we so sincerely desire commercial good neighbourhood, will yet turn its back upon its idols and move with us towards sane and sound commercial conditions. But if we cannot enlarge the free-trade area on this continent then we may enlarge the the free-trade area within the British Empire and build up here a new and prosperous British commonwealth in close and sympathetic alliance with the old chief of the nation:

"Who says that we shall pass or the fame of us fade and die
While the living stars fulfil their rounds in the living sky?
For the sire lives in his sons and they pay their father's debt.
And the Hon has left a whelp wherever his claw was set."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A MONTREAL dealer in tobacco heartily approves of the increased duty on cigarettes, which he declares is a "national evil," and anything that will discourage the use of the cigarette would be a good thing.

DEVOTEES of the weed naturally claim that the increased tariff on tobacco puts a higher price on their comfort. After all the new Canadian tariff is not as high as the tax imposed upon the filling of the Britisher's pipe. No matter how high the price the smoker will always "have tobacco to burn."

MR. FOSTER may be the bright and shining star of the Opposition constellation in the House of Commons, but he is by no means a pet in England. The London Times, which cables its congratulations to Premier Laurier, says:—"The presentation of the Canadian tariff is, beyond doubt, the most remarkable step yet made towards fiscal federation in the British Empire. We much regret to see the attitude. Mr. Foster has taken toward it."

THE British press shows a proper appreciation of the action of the Liberal Government in relation to the tariff. The London Globe says: "Canada leads the way in her thank offering for the blessings of liberty and security which she enjoys under British rule. Her action will not be in vain. The Dominion Parliament yesterday witnessed a volte face unparallelled since the days of Peel." And the Pall Mall Gazette says:—"Dingley threatened Canada and this is Canada's reply." The Liberal administration has placed Canada in a new light before the world. They have done her more good at the sitting of Parliament on Thursday than she has received for many a long year, and an epoch is marked in her history.

The Conservative party lauded Hardy who resigned in a highly loyal manner [illegible] The Liberal Government has passed not a resolution, but a tariff. It has practiced instead of merely preaching. As the Toronto World, an extreme Protectionist journal, puts it: "It is certain that they have adopted the Conservative idea of preferential trade with England. Only they have gone the Conservatives one better, and actually embodied the idea in a statute. This move we consider both a clever one, and what is more to the point at the present time, a highly picturesque one. Canada holding out an olive branch to the Motherland in the Jubilee year will loom up largely in the world's eye. And it has all the possibilities of developing into something both splendid and far-reaching."

THE Globe in recalling a speech of Hon. Mr. Foster, ex-Minister of Finance, made in 1892, shows how that gentleman and his party confined their loyalty to theorizing. While Mr. Foster and his party preached loyalty, Mr. Laurier and his party practice loyalty. In the speech mentioned Mr. Foster acknowledged the obligations of Canada towards the Mother Country—"to extend a helping hand to those to help us." Yet four budget speeches were subsequently delivered by Mr. Foster, and not one effort was therein indicated of Mr. Foster or his party putting into practice the flag-waving policy they so glibly preached in season and out of season. Yet Mr. Laurier, who was bound by no record of assumption of possession of all the Canadian loyalty extant, the very first opportunity that presented, showed, in the most practical manner, the loyalty of himself and his party to the Motherland. Mr. Foster's preaching was strong, and his practice weak; Mr. Laurier's preaching and practice were confined to acts.

THE FAVOURED NATION CLAUSE OF THE TARIFF.

Canada Being Self-Governing, the Special Treaty Provisions do Not Apply.

The Montreal Herald has the following to say on this subject: The reply to this is that the "most favoured nation" clause does not apply to a self-governing colony, but only to Britain's Crown Colonies. Canada is a fiscally independent part of the Empire, her tariff-making independence has been conceded to her. It was conceded before the treaties in question were made. It is inconceivable, therefore, that Britain, whose whole policy towards her colonies these hundreds years past has been of an opposite character, should, in the making of these treaties, have withdrawn the tariff-making power from Canada without our consent, without even consulting us. There is, therefore, highly presumptive evidence—if indeed a stronger word may not be used—that Canada was not, under these circumstances, included in these treaties.

On the other hand, the presumption is altogether with the conclusion that the term "colonies" which appears in the treaties should be taken as meaning only the Crown Colonies. The Crown Colonies have neither fiscal independence nor tariff-making self-government. Their fiscal policy is made in England. It was therefore a most natural thing that in making treaties the Imperial Parliament should include them along with all the other domain for which as a Parliament it makes trade bargains and tariff regulations.

Looking at these two sides of the question, there is no one in Canada we believe who will not take the position which the Laurier Government has assumed.

And who is there in England who, when that position is made known over there, will be found denying to this great self-governing daughter the right—in the exercise of her unquestioned tariff-making power—to give to the Motherland a preference which will build up new interests between them and strengthen the bonds which connect them practically, and, we trust, indissolubly.

Another point which bears upon the question is the fact that in sanctioning a somewhat recent charter for one of the Australian colonies the Imperial Parliament inserted a clause the effect of which is to extend these treaties to the colonies in question. The insertion of such a clause into the charter carries with it the conclusion that the Imperial Parliament considered it necessary. It need only be added that there is no similar limitation or stipulation in the British North America Act.

TARIFF NOTES.

Speaking of the tariff the Ottawa Journal (Independent Conservative) says: "One fact is palpable and remarkable. There is hardly a word of dissatisfaction much less anger. One or two faint noises of protest at the unconstitutionality alleged to be created by the preferential clause are heard from Conservative papers, while several Liberal papers intimate that the new policy should be only preliminary to a more resolute move in the direction of free trade."

After referring to the woollen duties the Journal adds: "Apart from that quarter, the comments of the press so far seem to show that the Liberal leaders have made a remarkable hit with their tariff, that they have pleased the vast majority of their friends, and have cut the fighting ground largely from under the feet of their opponents."

A Tribute of Praise That Should Cheer the Sick and Suffering.

Another Victory in the City of Montreal.

Mr. Alfred Ducharme, 317 Beaudry street, Montreal, is now a happy and contented man, and his desire is that the sick and suffering should know how he was enabled to cast off the burdens of debility, weakness and rheumatism, that his doctors had failed to grapple with. His experience with Paine's Celery Compound bears out in every particular the immense mass of testimony given [illegible] in the past, that Paine's Celery Compound cures and makes people well. Mr. Ducharme says:

"Having a desire to benefit others, I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the use of your well-known Paine's Celery Compound.

"For a long time I was subject to spells of weakness that rendered me quite unfit for work. At such times my nervous condition was very alarming, and I felt as if my life was coming to an end.

"My sufferings were increased owing to violent attacks of rheumatism, and altogether I was as helpless as a child. Friends strongly advised me to use Paine's Celery Compound, as they had seen such grand results from its use. I used the Compound and the results were astonishing and happy.

"Paine's Celery Compound has done for me what the doctors failed to do. It has made me active and strong, able to work every day, and has given me a new lease of life.

"Every sick, weak and broken-down man and woman should use Paine's Celery Compound; there is nothing like it in the world."

REPLY TO MR. FOSTER.

self-governing powers and the right of regulating their own fiscal policy. In his judgment that would be the fair construction to put upon it.

But with regard to the offer which the Government now made, it was not a preferential offer at all in the true legal sense of the word. That offer was open to all the world; it was open to Americans, to Germans, to Belgians, to the whole world, if they could avail themselves of it. Legally, Mr. Foster might be correct, but, in fact, England was the only country which admitted articles on these terms. Now, the question had been put to the Government as to what they were going to do if the British Government did not see the thing in the same light as Canada. Well, he would reply that they meant to fight this point legally and constitutionally; that was the only way to get a decision upon it. If the decision went against Canada, then they would appeal to the British Government and to the British nation to repeal those clauses, which should not have been enacted to our detriment.

Dr. Sproule: It would have been better to have found that out first.

Sir Richard Cartwright: "We were not born yesterday; we know what we are doing." [Ministerial cheers and laughter.] He quoted from a recent statement of Lord Salisbury, which indicated that the day was not far distant when these "two unlucky treaties" must be got rid of. Mr. Foster feared that Canada would be beaten on this legal question; that German goods must come in on the same terms as British. If Great Britain did insist upon this course, then it would simply mean that Canada must give way, and the Canadian consumer would get his goods half a million dollars cheaper per annum, unless Mr. Foster was prepared to head a rebellion on this issue. [Laughter.]

But how would these proposals be received in England? He proceeded to read an editorial from The London Times of to-day, which had evidently been specially cabled to the Government, which said that this new departure on the part of Canada was most gratifying to all who desired to see the Empire knit more closely together. The editorial went on to say that the earliest opportunity should be taken to get rid of the "favored nation clause." "We regret," continued the editorial, "to see the attitude of Mr. Foster. [Laughter and cheers.] It is unfair to attempt to discredit the proposals as a refusal to be bound by Imperial treaties. We cannot believe that the other followers of Sir John Macdonald will, on merely partisan grounds, endeavor to obstruct the adoption of this plan for closer commercial union with Great Britain. [Liberal cheers.]

The editorial closed with a tribute to Mr. Laurier. "Of no little significance," it said, "is the fact that it is by the first French-Canadian statesman, the Liberal and Catholic Prime Minister of the Dominion, that it has been brought about." [Cheers.]

Sir Charles Tupper: May I ask Sir Richard Cartwright, in order to give the House the benefit of being able to form an estimate of what he has just read from The London Times, if he will be kind enough to favor the House with a transcript of the communication to The London Times or The London Press on which that was based.

Sir Richard: I am not aware what communications passed, but I take it for granted that The London Times is tolerably well advised.

Mr. Laurier: I beg to say, on behalf of the Government, that no transcript whatever went from the Government to the press.

Some Honorable Members: Hear, hear.

Sir Charles Tupper: Gentlemen opposite seem to be very anxious to prevent any light being thrown upon this important question. I did not assume that the Government had sent any transcript. But, if the information forwarded to The London Times by its correspondent here on that question is as inaccurate as on other important questions, it is impossible for us to form a judgment on that question without having it before us.

Sir Richard: I think I can relieve the honorable gentleman's mind. I think he will find that the opinion of The Times is pretty unanimously echoed by the English press.

Sir Charles Tupper: I do not confine it to The Times. I assume that what went to one newspaper went to the other. But, to know the value of any statement of the London press, we must know on what it is based.

Sir Richard: I assume that it was based on the resolution introduced in this House.

He proceeded to read the statements of The London Daily News and other English papers.

Dealing with the disabilities under which Canada was alleged to remain as regards the making of preferential trade arrangements, Sir Richard contended that Canada's grave and peculiar position on the continent conferred corresponding advantages and privileges with regard to her freedom in trade matters. As to the United States, he favored the most friendly treatment of that country by our Government and press, but if the United States would not make trade arrangements with us, Canada had no recourse but to make her own tariff, just as the United States were making theirs, and no blame to them either. But the preferential offer was equally open to the States. Britain would be appealed to in this matter, he said. If Britain responded, well and good; if not, still well, for Canada had at least shown her good disposition and the Government was not going to be frightened out of it by the spectre of a deluge of Belgian and German goods, which, after all, would for a while but give the Canadian consumer his supplies a little cheaper. The Government was advocating only what was just and advantageous to the whole Empire, and hoped to succeed in a policy which would tend to make the Empire a reality and not merely a name. The effort was bound to succeed, so that great and important issues depend upon the action of last week.

Mr. McNeill arose as Sir Richard concluded and remarked that, as Sir Richard had mentioned his name as one who might be led to vote against life-long professions for the sake of party, he would like to ask him if this was an offer of preferential trade to England.

Sir Richard replied that it was an offer of preferential trade to all countries, but was in fact an offer of preferential trade to England, because England would be the most likely to profit by it, and it was certainly more preferential towards England than the National Policy, which had largely reduced our imports from the Old Country.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER REPLIES.

Sir Charles Tupper began his reply after recess amid Opposition cheers. He condemned the proposals brought forward as being illegal and unconstitutional. Of course nobody knew from the budget speech just what the fiscal policy of the country was to be. Still it was evident that these so-called preferential clauses were held out as a sop to the Liberals to mollify them for the abandonment of free trade tendencies. Mr. Foster's criticism was based upon this phase of the subject, and was perfectly justifiable. The Globe itself admitted that at the close of the speech nobody was able to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion as to what was intended. The same dense indefiniteness seemed to pursue the Liberal leaders. Mr. Fielding set out with a condemnation of protection, which vied with Sir Richard's blue ruin speeches of other days. Nor was Mr. Tions, when he held up to the admirations, when he held up to the admiration of the House Mr. Mackenzie's fortitude in refusing protection to the manufacturers. What did that hon gentleman now think of his argument, in view of the statement made but an hour or two ago by Sir Richard Cartwright, that the tariff now before the House was the one he himself wanted to introduce in 1876, but was prevented from bringing in by political exigencies? [Cheers.]

Sir Charles then recounted the circumstances under which the National Policy was introduced, after the incapacity of the Liberals had driven them from power. And when the National Policy was submitted to the House the Opposition did the Conservative Government the justice to say that they had honorably redeemed their promises.

Turning to the resolution which Mr. Fielding claimed to be a preferential offer to Great Britain, Sir Charles read it and characterized the whole as a jumble of incomprehensible terms, meaning nothing, but capable of being read to mean anything. It was this, though, that the Finance Minister trumpeted aloud as a measure of preference towards the Mother Country, knowing full well that the Imperial treaties forbade it. There existed among both parties, and generally throughout Canada, a feeling of loyal satisfaction with every movement calculated to draw Canada and the Mother Country closer together. [Cheers.] But that feeling has been played upon, has been abused by hon. gentlemen opposite, when they make such a proposal in the face of the law and constitution. The Globe wanted to know if Sir Charles Tupper supposed England was going to send out troops to prevent Canada opening her Custom Houses to British goods on preferential terms; or if an order from Downing-street regarding our customs would be worth anything unless countersigned by Controller Paterson? With all his high appreciation of the Controller, Sir Charles would answer that it was placing Mr. Paterson in a most remarkable position to authorize him to defy the constitution and flaunt the Imperial treaties of Great Britain, which he would be doing if he ordered the admission of British goods at a lower rate of duty than was collected upon goods from countries having favored nation treaties with Great Britain.

This setting at defiance of all the solemn treaties of Great Britain was but an idle boast. It was calculated to involve this country not only in disgrace but most serious loss. If the Government dared to carry out this wild project of instructing their customs officers to collect a higher rate on goods from Germany and Belgium than from England, the Government would have to make good all the embarrassment of trade, all the loss, all the trouble and inconvenience to trade that must follow as a matter of course. After all the uncertainty that Canada had suffered, after the longing desire of the country to know what the fiscal policy of the Government was to be, it was a high crime on the part of this Government to continue to prolong that uncertainty and perpetuate such loss and injury to the people of Canada. [Cheers.]

Referring to Mr. Fielding's famous interview with the coal mine owners he said that no Finance Minister had ever betrayed his position as had that hon. gentleman in divulging to the gentlemen who interviewed him what the coal tariff was to be. The Nova Scotia provincial elections had been sprung on the Province, and the result would be that the country would have to pay a million and a quarter for it, Premier Murray having announced that he had reason to believe that outstanding provincial claims on account of money spent on the Eastern Extension Railway after it was taken over by the Government would be paid by the present Ministry.

In conclusion he said: "Are we to be lectured on the subject of loyalty by gentlemen who, five years ago, roamed through this country endeavoring to strike down British interests and to establish continental free trade at the cost of every sentiment of British loyalty? No, sir; we stand ready to do everything that man can do to uphold and support any and every measure calculated to draw the great parent stock and this country more closely together. Proud of our connection, loyal as we have been from the first hour of our existence down to the present hour, devoted to the Crown and to British institutions, we stand to-day where we have always stood, ready to do battle as best we can in behalf and for the benefit of the enduring industries of Canada. [Cheers.] But if the bonds of connection and mutual trade is to be fought over again, whether that number be large or small, we are not afraid to do battle under that banner which carried us to victory before, and under which the great Liberal-Conservative party made Canada what it is to-day." [Cheers.] Under that banner, after having won the victory, we used that victory to lift this country out of a condition of depression and despondency such as Canada had never known before. We raised it step by step until, regarding everything that indicates the greatness and prosperity of the country, we occupied the highest and proudest position that any party could ever occupy."

The House adjourned at 11.30 p.m.

BAD MAN AND WOMAN.

Their Were Guilty of One of the Meanest Crimes Known to the Law The Woman Was From Berlin, Ont.

Buffalo, April 26.—Henry Lockman, alias Edward Mack, and wife were sentenced to-day to four years ten months and three years respectively in Auburn, N. Y., State Prison for abducting two girls of tender years for immoral purposes, and living upon the profits of their shame. When arraigned, Mrs. Mack said her real name was Mary Elizabeth Lockman, that she was 23 years old and a native of Berlin, Ont. She had been religiously educated in the Presbyterian church at that town. Edward Mack said he was born in Cincinnati. The judge severely rebuked both in pronouncing sentence.

AT STITTSVILLE!

The Town's Leading Merchant Laid Up

Rheumatism in various forms is one of the most common diseases there is. It arises generally from impure blood and a broken down system. In the limbs it is painful; in most of the internal organs dangerous, and in the heart usually fatal.

The experience of Mr. S. Mann, the well known general merchant of Stittsville, is interesting:

"Last winter I was badly afflicted with rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Pills. To my surprise, I got immediate relief, and before I had used one box my affliction was gone.

"I was also troubled with biliousness for years, and at intervals of three or four weeks would be laid up with a severe headache and sick stomach. Since using Chase's Pills I have not had an attack of either.

"I may add that Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles and skin diseases is just as effective as Dr. Chase's Pills for blood troubles. I have a clerk who suffered terribly from bleeding piles. He tried Chase's Ointment and in a few days was completely cured."

Eternal Life.

Man's spirit was not made to live a terrestrial slave imprisoned, and then to be utterly quenched like a candle at night. God must see that it would not prove worth while to make me for only that end. If for this life merely, the spirit infused with the breath of God and made a living soul is vastly too precious and complicated for its sphere. It is fitted for something infinitely better. And to that higher life it must attain, else God created vast powers for little accomplishment. So as I sit and muse, the spirit of eternal life burns within me. I believe in Easter. I sun my soul in immortality. Because He lives I shall live also. Bring your choicest flowers, sweet prophecies of eternal spring-time. Give us your choicest music, echoes escaping through the Easter gates ajar. It shall be with us as if a window of heaven were lifted and we permitted a glance within.—Dr. Taylor.

"Half a span of angry steel" will produce no more fatal results than a neglected cold or cough. For all throat and lung diseases, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best remedy. It is invaluable in cases of croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and la grippe.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANO

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. Steps should be taken to stop the practice of shooting robins and other spring birds that are coming to us. A QUARTETTE OF CATHEDRAL WEDDINGS.

There Were Four of Them Celebrated This Morning.

The clergy at St. Peter's Cathedral were very busy this morning, as no less than four weddings took place as enumerated below:

DELANEY—DWYER.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick celebrated the nuptials of Mr. Wilfrid Dwyer and Miss Ellen Delaney, of Douro. The bride was assisted by Miss Nellie Condon, and the groomsman was Mr. Wilfrid Griedale.

MURPHY—LAROCQUE.

The wedding of Mr. Archibald Larocque and Miss Catharine Murphy, daughter of Mr. C. Murphy, was also solemnized by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The bridesmaid was Miss Maggie Murphy, and the groom was supported by Mr. Eccs. Mayette.

WELSH—LEAHY.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey performed the marriage ceremony between Mr. P. Leahy and Miss Ellen Welsh, daughter of Mr. Martin Welsh, of Auburn, the bride being assisted by Miss Josie Firman and the groom by Mr. E. J. Holland.

HEFFERNAN—FITZGERALD.

The wedding of Mr. Jeremiah Fitzgerald, of Otonabee, and Miss Annie Heffernan, daughter of Thos. Heffernan, of the same township, was solemnized by Rev. Father Scanlan. Miss Ellen Fitzgerald was the bridesmaid, and Mr. John Heffernan the groomsman.

STREET REPAIRS, ETC.

The Annual Inspection Made by the Street and Bridge Committee.

Yesterday the Street and Bridge Committee of the Town Council made their annual tour of inspection. Their report be presented to the Town Council tonight, and it is expected that it will recommend that Water street, which was put into bad shape by sewerage operations, will be macadamized from the Huffman House to Brock street.

It is also expected that large repairs to sidewalks will be recommended, and that several streets will be graded.

The bridge on Donegal street across the creek being in a failing condition, will probably be ordered to be re-built.

As to to the George street bridge it is somewhat of a puzzle. Until lower water permits of a more thorough inspection it is uncertain whether the north pier will have to be rebuilt or not.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. and Master Maitland Roy have returned from a visit to Belleville.

Miss Beatrice Brown, of Lindsay, has been visiting friends in town for the past few days.

THE SHOP-LIFTING CASE DISMISSED.

THE CHARGE VENTILATED IN THE POLICE COURT.

The Diseased Condition of the Accused an Element in Leading the Magistrate to Dismiss the Charge.

The shop-lifting case which occurred in the store of Mr. J. G. Turnbull on Friday last, was taken up by the Police Magistrate this morning. Mr. Dennistoun represented the defence, and Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the Crown.

Mr. Turnbull was the first witness. He stated that tea was kept in packages on his store counters. The prisoner was in his store on Friday last. Through previous occurrences the clerks had been warned to watch her when she came in. The clerks who saw her Friday were Miss Best, Miss McDonald and Wm. Turnbull. She came into the staple department. Wm. Turnbull waited on her and sold her some cotton. She afterwards walked about the store. Shortly afterwards Miss Best reported that the prisoner had taken something. He then went for the Chief of Police. Mr. Turnbull and the chief then went to the woman. Witness told her that she was suspected of having on her at the time a pound of tea and a pair of kid gloves. This she denied. Witness told her it was no and asked her to step into the office. Arrived there prisoner produced the gloves and the tea, which he identified as produced in the court. A pair of stockings fell to the floor at the time and prisoner remarked "I didn't have them too, did I?" Mr. Turnbull told her she did.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dennistoun, witness stated that the prisoner had been a customer of his for years. He had given her credit. Her credit was good. There was never any trouble in collecting the money. He had seen ladies in his store take up gloves and carry them to a clerk to get the price, etc. He would not suspect a person doing this. He would not suspect anyone unless they attempted to leave the store. The prisoner had not attempted to leave the store. She had stood at the door. She might have been waiting for the weather to clear up.

Witness admitted having told Mr. Dennistoun previously that the prisoner had never denied having the tea. When he said this he overlooked the conversation which took place at the door. It was raining hard at the time.

The Chief of Police in his evidence stated that he had been seen twice by Mr. Turnbull during the afternoon. First Mr. Turnbull told him that the woman had a package of tea. He came again and said she had a pair of gloves. The witness then said there was no use waiting until she took the whole store, so both went into the store. The woman was at the front door where she was accused of the theft by Mr. Turnbull. She denied the charge. On going into the office the chief told her to hand out everything belonging to Mr. Tunbull. A pair of gloves and the tea were handed out. She pleaded not to allow the matter to go any further, but Mr. Turnbull said it had gone to far already. Witness had said there was nothing to do, but bring the case before the magistrate. He had then brought her over to the police station and locked her up.

Cross-examined the Chief stated that he had gone to the prisoner's house with a search warrant but had found nothing except a pair of curling tongs, which were mentioned in the warrant. There was nothing suspicious in finding a pair of curling tongs in a lady's house. It was raining at the time the arrest was made.

Miss Elva Best, one of the clerks in the store, testified to having seen the prisoner take the pound of tea. She had picked up the parcel, held it up in her hand openly, then placed it on her arm, her cloak, which she was carrying, was then placed over the parcel. From there the prisoner walked to the cretonne counter and sat down. Shortly afterwards she took the parcel from under the cloak and placed it in the shopping bag. There was no one behind the tea counter. Witness was nearest clerk to the prisoner—about thirty feet away. She had reported to Mr. Turnbull what she saw.

Miss Ada McDonald, another clerk, stated she saw the accused take the gloves in question. At first the accused was sitting in front of the cretonne counter. She got up and moved to the counter where the gloves were lying. She looked up and down the store. No one was in sight but Mr. Grover, who was at the door, and the witness. Prisoner picked up the gloves off the counter, folded them up and put them in her pocket. Witness then mentioned the matter to Mr. Turnbull.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dennistoun, witness stated that she did not think prisoner looked around to be sure she was not seen when she took the gloves. Thought it was just the contrary. Ladies had come to her on occasions and said "I have something here I wish to pay for.

The County Crown Attorney rested his case at this point.

Mr. Dennistoun called Dr. Carmichael. Witness gave evidence as to the comfortable circumstances of the family. He had treated the prisoner for myxœdema. This disease affected the mind. The symptoms were that the patient became absent-minded, the nose widened, the skin dry and hard, and face swollen; the speech also became peculiar. At the time he began to treat the prisoner two years ago, there were only 70 cases known to exist. The thyroid gland was affected. This naturally would affect the mind. Treating the patient she had come to his office and had through absent-mindedness walked out on several occasions without paying. The disease certainly affected the mind. The actions of the patient in this case could not, in his opinion, be said to be based on a criminal desire for theft. The disease ran for a course of 10 or 15 years. He had examined the prisoner yesterday. Evidence of the disease was still apparent. Kleptomania was a disease of the mind. The propensities were to commit theft. It affected women more than men. When cases of myxœdema were not treated constantly it would finally lead to a condition of dementia. The hair and eye-brows fell out of those affected. When he began treating the patient she had no eyebrows and her hair was falling out.

Cross-examined by Mr. Wood, witness stated the disease was such that if there was evil in the mind before, the disease would aggravate it. Evil would not develop unless it was there before.

Re-examined, witness stated the symptoms went further than mere absentmindness—insanity invariably resulted unless treated.

The husband of the prisoner stated that he was in comfortable circumstances. His wife had all the necessaries and luxuries of life, she managed all his business affairs for eight years and raised the family as well, while he was away on other business. He had not considered her fit to do this for some time. She had money of her own in the Ontario Bank. The symptoms he had noticed were a gradual weakening of the face, the eyes had a vacant expression. She frequently laid away things, and forgot that she had done so afterwards, scolding daughters for mislaying them. She had concealed articles belonging to herself. When advised against her course of action, she seemed to think she was doing all right. She had lost her judgment. During the last two years the shopping for the house had been taken away from her. He was uneasy when she was away, but she was so gloomy and morose about the house that she was allowed to go. She was afraid something would happen. She did not know right from wrong. She took the arrest cooler than anyone in the family.

The daughter of the prisoner testified as to her mother's peculiarities when she went to see her some two years ago. When she left a number of handkerchiefs and some spools of silk disappeared. The latter were afterwards seen at the homestead. On Easter Sunday all the silver spoons had disappeared, but had been found hidden away. The mother confidentially told the witness that she had hidden the silver. When the Chief went to the house with a search warrant the prisoner said afterwards that he must have taken ten dollars which were missed, but the money was recovered where prisoner had evidently hid it in one of her own boxes.

Rev. H. Symonds stated that he was asked to go and see the prisoner some two years ago when she was ill. He understood it was mental trouble. He noticed the peculiarities in her manner. She was a regular attendant at church. Her character was good; she was a communicant.

In giving judgment the magistrate stated that an unnatural act such as was committed here should be attributed to a different cause than of the wish to commit a crime. The effects of diseases were sometimes subtle. If the explanation of Dr. Carmichael would meet the requirements he would accept it and would not assume that it had not left a wandering of the mind and that it had not destroyed the appreciation of right and wrong. The act of lifting up the tea and looking at it confirmed the argument that her mind was weak, and that nice delicacy of conduct is gone, by reason of the frailty of her mind. No person in the full possession of her senses would have done such a thing.

A judgment of acquittal was then entered.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Cobourg has decided on a $200 license fee for transient traders.

—A bicyclist was up in the police court this morning, charged with riding on the sidewalk. The case was enlarged for a week.

—A couple of tramps were before the Magistrate yesterday. One was discharged and the other sentenced to two months in gaol.

—It is expected that the summer time table will provide for faster running on this division, and that the time between Lindsay and Toronto will be reduced by half-an-hour at least.

—The price of eggs has declined earlier this year than usual, a comparatively mild March having contributed to the supply. More eggs should be eaten in every family as there is no better food for children.

—Four young men were up in the police court this morning charged with being disorderly on the market square on Saturday night. A fine of $2 and costs, amounting to over $6, was imposed on three of them.

—We are informed that all the cheese factories in Seymour township, and a number in Percy have contracted for all their product up to the 5th of May at 9⅝ and 9¾ cents. Present prospects for a brisk business this year, are assuring.—Cobourg Post.

—There is a paragraph going the rounds of the papers to the effect that the new license law forbids licenses to taverns within three hundred yards of a church. It simply means that no licenses shall be granted for new houses within the distance, and does not apply to those already open and licensed.

SENATOR SANFORD'S NEW MUNIFICENCE.

Using His Means to Alleviate Suffering —A Noble Benefaction.

Hon. Senator Sanford, who is locally associated with Peterborough through "Oak Hall" has been giving Hamilton another taste of his munificence. He and his estimable wife have come forward with a proposition, which will, when carried out, serve as a lasting memorial of their kind heartedness and regard for a suffering and needy humanity. Hon. Mr. Sanford submits this proposition: If I place the home (Elsenore, delightfully situated on Hamilton Beach), suitably furnished, in charge of a competent matron with an efficient staff of servants, engaging to give plain, wholesome food, suitable for convalescents, without charge, do you feel that you can keep the home filled during the summer term, opening say June 15 and closing Sept. 15, convalescents being from among the worthy poor, they to remain say from one to two weeks and then giving place to others? The conditions would be that the candidate would be convalescent, able to attend to herself, not helpless and whose circumstances will not allow of the expense of a change.

The citizens of Hamilton will gratefully acknowledge the Senator's munificence, and co-operate with him.

A LOCAL CAUSE CELEBRE IS SETTLED.

Dwyer v. Payne—An order was made in this action by Judge Weller last week dismissing the action with costs for want of prosecution. Some of the readers of the EXAMINER may remember that last fall, when the action was begun, a statement was published in one of the local papers purporting to give the facts of the case, and therein rather severely reflecting upon Mr. R. G. Payne. Mr. Payne promptly took proceedings against the publisher of the paper for criminal libel, and the statements were withdrawn and an apology published, and the costs of the proceedings paid. The plaintiff in the above action did not venture to proceed with it at either the Fall or Spring Assizes, and in consequence the action has been dismissed with costs, thus fully vindicating Mr. Payne from the aspersions sought to be cast upon him.

The best Remedy for Corns

Is Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Rapid, painless, its action is a marvel to all who have tried it. Fancy getting rid of Painful corns in twenty-four hours. "Putnam's" does it.

New Temperance Lodge in Ashburnham

Mr. H. Calcutt has just completed a new lager brewery in Ashburnham that will do more to help temperance than all the lodges in the country. Do away with whisky, encourage people to use a light drink that will not intoxicate, and you will accomplish one great step in temperance. 6d35
